GREAT CASE AT LAW

People versus: G. Fishel, E. Crandle, Marie Waller and Alice Grant. Tried before Judge McAndrews.

Monday evening, January 28, the Agora-Illinae held their annual mock trial. The people of the State of Illinois, with E. Schuette, Ethel Parr and Carl Smith as attorneys, brought suit against Glen Fishel, Ellis Crandle, Marie Waller and Alice Grant for possessing and selling intoxicating liquor. John Hunsaker, Dortha Metz, Samuel Howell and Alma Fullenwider were attorneys for the defense.

The case was heard by Judge McAndrews. Nell Munal acted as court stenographer and Lulu Owen as clerk. The following jury was empanelled: Victor Goings, Earl Kennedy, Thelma Hartwell, Fred Miller, Asa McClrath, Sylvia Chamness, Lorraine Huck, Mina Slimpert Adelia Felber, Chester Gillet, Lester Buford, W. J. Zahn.

Witnesses with quite convincing arguments were brought up on both sides of the case. First for prosecution was Sheriff Fegley, who testified that he had raided Sunshine Parlor, Saturday, January 12, and found liquor which he produced in court. He also testified that a number of intoxicated men were present and had been arrested and these were produced as witnesses.

Next was Professor Scott, chemist, who analyzed the booze and found 50 per cent alcohol. Then the drunkards were produced—Charles Neely, J. Bair, Warren C'ow and Robert Busbee, who sanctioned the story of drunkenness told by the sheriff. Then Mrs. Busbee told the pathetic story of Robert's downfall, how he had been dragged down to ruin by said defendants and also implicated one Armentrout. Frank Clow testified that he had been attracted to the place by the drunken brawl but when he saw his own twin brother with "more than he could carry," he turned away in shame and left the joint before the arrests were made. Ray Harper—a basketball man with a dry throat—also told of obtaining some firewater on this fateful morning. He gave us the definition of intoxication "as a funny feeling one can't describe."

Each of the four defendants then testified in their own behalf. Mr. Fishel declared he sold no intoxicating liquor but had only sold

Varsity Five Trimmed by Two Up. State Teams, Charleston, Sparks

Eastern Contemporaries Win 26 to 11 and Sparks 26 to 12. Carbondale Outplayed in Both Games With the Handicaps of Being On Strange Floors.

The Maroons on an upstate trip the end of last week lost two games—one to Charleston 26 to 11, and one to Sparks College 22 to 12. The Charleston boys clearly outplayed the locals and well deserved to win. This was not true at Sparks. Locals blew chance after chance nearly under the basket—while all the baskets made by the Shelbyville boys were from well out in the floor. In the Charleston game the Maroons shot 46 times and the upstaters 60 times. The locals made one field goal while the Carbondaleites caged 3 goals out of 44 chances while the Shelby lads caged seven out of 43 shots. The first half of the game at Charleston ended eleven to two. But in the second half there was nothing but Charleston. The roney lads from the Eastern Normal began to hit and the stuff was off. Despite the fact they led all the way the game was interesting because the Maroons never let up and continually kept bringing the ball down the floor for tries at the goal but inability to hit gave them no chance to stay in range of the lanky blue clad boys.

The game at Sparks was 12 to 7 at the end of the first half, with both teams playing a good floor game—and the Maroons missing opportunity after opportunity to score, from comparatively close range. With eight minutes to go in the last half the score was 14 to 9 against the Normal. At this point a Shelby player stepped on Allens toe while the little guard was going fast. The consequent fall sprained an ankle that compelled his retirement from the game. That seemed to weaken the defense and the opponents ran up there total to 22 before the end of the game.

The Maroons made the trip without Jones the forward who has been sick for ten days. Purnell, who missed the trip to Cape on account of a bad knee was back and played a good game considering his condition. Both games were clean, free from any roughness or ill feeling—and the refereeing was first class.

"Mountain Dew," a soft drink which was very delicious. That these said toppers had had "more than a man can well carry" when they came to his place of business and it was "Stumble Inn" booze that had caused the drunkenness. Alice Grant alias Mrs. Fishel, pled in behalf of her self and her husband and declared they sold nothing but popcorn, peanuts and soft drinks. Ellis Crandle, the bootblack, declared that he knew nothing about it if Fishel sold intoxicating liquor. Marie Waller, sweetheart of Mr. Crandle, testified that she had no connection with the firm but was a frequent visitor of the bootblacks.

Joek Kayser next testified that he had sold these drunkards the booze on that fateful Saturday morning but when cross examined he did not know his street address, his telephone number, just how long he had owned his establishment, or in fact, any thing about it except that he sold "White Mule."

Julia Mike, his assistant, backed up his statements, even the ignorance concerning his address. When

COMING, A BIG CIRCUS ON THIS VERY CAMPUS

The Y. W. C. A. is planning for a big circus in the gymnasium. Some of the big features of the evening will be a trip around the world, just think you will be able to go around the world in a half hour while it takes an aeroplane weeks. Don't miss this opportunity. There is going to be a wonderful juggler from the East, who will amuse you in different ways. Also many wild animals you have never seen or may never have such a chance to see again. What is a circus without something to eat? There will be plenty of eats to satisfy your appetite.

Plan to come and bring your many friends and enjoy a big laugh and good time with all the rest.

Watch for the later announcement of the date.

MISS WALLER ENTERTAINS

Miss Marie Waller entertained a group of friends with a dinner party Sunday at Anthony Hall. The guests were Medrith Smith, Lucile Coulter, Vera Adams, Alice Barrow, Pauline Gregory, Ethel Parr; William Keith, Carl Smith, Henry Marcus, Fred Miller, Dilla Hall, Erwin Kelley and Gilbert Waller, of Centralia, Ill.

Be one of the four thousand in Sunday school Sunday.

Julia was asked how long these toppers stayed at Stumble Inn she answered "Till They Left."

Howard Hands M. D. had the time all worked out brilliantly that it takes alcoholic liquors to act on the nervous system and his story just gave Stumble Inn beverage time to act when the drunkards diluted it by adding Mountain Dew in the Sunshine Parlor. Schroeder got his location mixed and called the establishment Sun Kiss.

This law was pointed out by Elmer Schuette, attorney for state. The jury being instructed and Earl Kennedy appointed foreman, retired from the court room, deliberated for ten minutes and rendered a verdict of "Guilty."

The prisoners were released waiting the leisure of the judge to pass sentence.

Poems Worth Remembering

SIR GALAHAD

My good blade carves the casques of men,
My tough lance thrusteth sure,
My strength is as the strength of ten,
Because my heart is pure.
The shattering trumpet shrilleth high,
The hard brands shiver on the steel,
The splinter'd spear-shafts crack and fly,
The horse and rider reel:
They reel, they roll in clanging lists,
And when the tide of combat stands,
Perfume and flowers fall in showers,
That lightly rain from ladies' hands.

How sweet are looks that ladies bend
On whom their favors fall!
For them I battle till the end,
To save from shame and thrall:
But all my heart is drawn above,
My knees are bow'd in crypt and shrine;
I never felt the kiss of love,
Nor maiden's hand in mine.
More bounteous aspects on me beam,
Me mightier transports move and thrill;
So keep I fair thro' faith and prayer
A virgin heart in work and will.

When down the stormy crescent goes,
A light before me swims,
Between dark stems the forest glows,
I hear a noise of hymns:
Then by some secret shrine I ride;
I hear a voice but none are there;
The stalls are void, the doors are wide,
The tapers burning fair.
Fair gleams the snowy altar-cloth,
The silver vessels sparkle clean,
The shrill be'l rings, the censer swings,
And solemn chants resound between.

Sometimes on lonely mountain-meres
I find a magic bark;
I leap on board: no helmsman steers:
I float till all is dark.
A gentle sound, an awful light!
Three angels bear the Holy Grail:
With folded feet, in stoles of white,
On sleeping wings they sail.
Ah, blessed vision, blood of God,
My spirit beats her mortal bars,
As down dark tides the glory slides,
And star-like mingles with the stars.

When on my goodly charger borne
Thro' dreaming towns I go,
The cock crows ere the Christmas morn,
The streets are dumb with snow.
The tempest crackles on the leads,
And, ringing, springs from brand and mall;
But o'er the dark a glory spreads,
And glides the driving hail.
I leave the plain, I climb the height;
No branchy thicket shelter yields;
But blessed forms in whistling storms
Fly o'er wate fens and windy fields.

A maiden knight—to me is given
Such hope, I know not fear;
I yearn to breathe the airs of heaven
That often meet me here.
I muse on joy that will not cease,
Pure spaces clothed in living beams,
Pure filices of eternal peace,
Whose odours haunt my dreams;
And, stricken by an angel's hand,
This mortal armour that I wear,
This weight and size, this heart and eyes,
Are touched, are turn'd to finest air.

The clouds are broken in the sky,
And thro' the mountain-walls
A rolling organ-harmony
Swells up, and shakes and falls.
Then move the trees, the copses nod,
Wings flutter, voices hover clear:
'O just and faithful knight of God,
Ride on, the prize is near.'
So pass I hostel, hall, and grange;
By bridge and ford, by park and pale,
All-arm'd I ride, what e'er betide,
Until I find the Holy Grail.

School Gossip

Herschel Harper has been out of school for a week. He spent the time at home with the mumps.

Harley Mowery has been out of school for several days because of sickness.

Miss Flora Clark, of Christopher, visited friends here last week-end.

Hilda Stein, who is teaching at Waterloo this year, visited in Carbondale Saturday and Sunday, January 26 and 27.

Quite a number of former students and graduates attended the Elks' Leap Year Dance January 26. They were: Bertha Cape, Hilda Stein, Clyde Brooks, Glenn Fowler, Mae Dav's, Virginia Minor, Janet Burr and Coleta O'Sullivan.

Mary Lingle, a former S. I. N. U. student who is teaching in Jonesboro, was in Carbondale January 23.

Two more girls have succumbed to the lure of bobbed hair and have cut theirs. Bonnie Batson and Ana Huffman are the latest victims. It will soon be a novelty to see a girl with long hair.

John Page Wham, Clyde Brooks, Bob Walters and Burnett Shryock visited school last week. They are home for their vacation between semesters.

Alge Foster, of Fairfield, went home Thursday because of illness. She will not be able to finish out the rest of the term.

Messrs. Cecil Miller and Tom Walsh, students of the James Millikan University, visited the former's sister, Berna Miller between semesters last week-end. Mr. Miller is one of the basketball five at the University.

The smallpox scare has come but not gone. It will leave its mark on many of us for no one can enter this campus who has not been vaccinated. So far no case of smallpox has been reported among the students, but from the pained expressions on some of faces seen around the Normal halls, one would think they had had a case of it or something just as bad.

DOES EDUCATION PAY?

Billings, Montana, has a firm of public spirited business men who paid for the printing of a sufficient number of the little list of questions prepared by Superintendent Ward H. Nye to supply every pupil in the Billings schools. The list of questions goes to the fundamentals of the value of education. The little slip containing the questions is headed, "Does It Pay?" and is as follows:

"Does Education pay?" What a question!

Does it pay to plane and sandpaper the board before putting it into the piece of furniture?

Does it pay to sharpen the tools before working with them?

Does it pay to know things rather than live in ignorance?

Does it pay to have a mind rather than be a mere animal, and be directed by those who have minds?

Does it pay to think, and if so, to think with a trained mind rather than with an untrained one?

Does it pay to be leader rather than a follower?

Does it pay to make the most of the faculties God has endowed one with, or to let them lie dormant?

Does it pay to be one of the capable of the human race or one of the inferior?

Does it pay to prepare one's self to do large things, or to remain satisfied to do small things and let others take the advanced positions?

Does it pay to take advantage of opportunity and make the most possible of ones self?

Does it pay to get an education? Only the lazy and ignorant say "No." Pay? Surely it pays—many fold. There can be no better investment nor one anywhere near as good.

Let no youth be deceived. Ask those who are educated. Ask the wise of any generation. Be sensible. Get the education while you have the chance. Prepare to live a happy and a prosperous and useful life."

Dear Kewpie—I am deeply in love with a girl but she tells me I am not fit to tie her shoestring. What shall I do?

Answer—Get a job as shoe salesman and qualify.
Ted Ragsdale.

Dear Miss Kewpie—Kindly inform me as to the definition of a "rainbow kiss."

Answer—That grand old man Noel Webster gives me the info that a "rainbow kiss" is one that follows a storm. Is he correct?

Dear Kewpie—I am in a very serious predicament. I simply can't get away from the girls. Every where I go I am followed by half dozen or so. They simply won't leave me alone. I don't mind two or three but when it comes to a whole harem I quit. What would you suggest? Also there is a girl (several in fact) that persist in pestering me. What would you do if she said you were cute but didn't have a hick of sense?

Dwight L. Kerley '25.

Answer—I believe you are the gentleman who is known as "Cairo" and "Weenie." It must be awful provoking to be so popular. However, your clinging "harem" is easily accounted for—this is leap year. I suggest that for protection you carry concealed weapons (put your hands in your pockets). To prove that girl that you do possess sense I suggest that you equip yourself with mechanical stilts, grow a French mustache, use rouge, etc., and wear the latest style "dapper" hat. That will bring the right result for all Jelly Beans are considered (by the girl) to be walking dictionaries. I agree with the girl—you are extremely cute.

Dear Miss Kewpie—Why do big women marry little men?

Hershel Harper.

Answer—For the same reason that little women marry big men—to secure a meal ticket for life.

FORMER S. I. N. U. GRADUATE WEDS

At 5:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, at the First Presbyterian Church of St. Louis, Miss Ruby Keen became the bride of Herman Tolbert, of Wayne City. The ring ceremony was used. Miss Gladys Hickey '24, was maid of honor and the groom was attended by Walter Williams, of St. Louis. Dr. Jenny officiated.

The bride was a graduate of S. I. N. U. in the class of '21. She was a prominent young lady and has many friends here.

Mr. Tolbert has been in business with his father in Wayne City for several years but will be in the wholesale business in Detroit, Michigan, where they will make their home.

THE PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST

Arrangements are nearly completed for prizes in the local competition. It is expected that three prizes will be offered for the best essays on each of the six topics. The winners in each subject will be given a certificate of merit and will represent the school in the State contest.

The National judges have been announced and consist of such persons as Herbert Hoover, Jane Addams, George Eastman, R. A. Milligan and Ida Tarbell. Every one of the seventeen members of the Committee is known all over this nation. The State Judges will be named later. Begin at once getting your material ready. You have only four weeks in which to hand in your essay.

BOYS RESCUE EACH OTHER; ICE BROKE

(From Free Press)

Two boys pranking with melting ice at the edge of the lake at the Normal yesterday resulted in, to say the least, a chilly ducking for the boys, not to say no little excitement. John Lewis, son of Dr. and Mrs. Rasco Lewis went in after Shelby Lewis, son of Mrs. Grace Lewis, and then Louis Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rasco Taylor and about Warren, son of Prof. and Mrs. F. G. Warren, had to go in and get the first two out. None of the group was injured and the water was not over their heads. The incident occurred in the lake on the Normal campus.

WHY DO WE DO THINGS?

The very fact that we never think why we do some things suggests one answer to our question. We have formed the habit of doing them. Perhaps in early childhood we were taught politeness. If so, we have probably accustomed ourselves to civility and decorum. We practice it ourselves and expect it from others. Sometimes we inherit certain traits and mannerisms; sometimes we deliberately learn to do something in a certain way and keep on doing it. It is far easier to form a habit than to break one. The importance, then, of forming habits of doing right is obvious. For some people "it goes against the grain" as much to perform an undesirable act as it would for others to refrain from doing it.

Our social environment explains many of our actions. Some people refrain from because the law commands it. Community custom makes us feel out of place if we act differently from the rest. "What will people say?" is a question that may gain the power of a tyrant over us and keep us in the rut. "When in Rome do as the Romans do," is a saying that explains much of our conduct, though it cannot always justify it.

Imitation, conscious or unconsciously, is often the reason for what we do. If "they" are wearing furs on the Fourth of July some of us will do so. The fact that "they" have a certain method of doing things is not necessarily a criterion that they could not be done better.

Then there is the controlling motive we call self-interest. What some people like or what will profit them, they do—and little else. If no one else is benefitted this becomes the most disgusting kind of selfishness.

One other impelling motive for what we do needs to be mentioned—service or usefulness. We are going to say just one thing about it; we need more of it.

MISS BERNA MILLER ENTERTAINS

Saturday evening, January 26, Miss Berna Miller entertained with a six o'clock dinner in honor of her brother, Cecil Miller and his friend, Tom Walsh from Decatur, who were here from Decatur between semesters and spent the week-end.

After a short time spent in music and dancing, they spent the rest of the evening at a theater party.

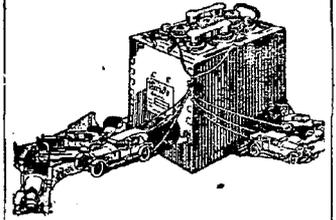

Those present were—Bessie Harris, Virginia Neftzger, Aline Neftzger, Berna Miller, Tom Walsh, Cecil Miller, Eugene Armentrout and Earl Kennedy.

CHANGE IN DIPLOMAS

Many colleges throughout the Middle West are making a change in the style of diplomas that they are issuing to the members of the senior class. They are in the main following the example set by Leland Stanford university ten years ago. This new type of diploma is six inches by eight inches in size, inclosed in a portfolio of Morocco grained leather and lined with silk. Its distinctiveness and attractiveness as well as its durability, claims preference over the old "wall type" diplomas which has been standard for many years.

NORMAL AVENUE TO BE A BOULEVARD?

The students of the S. I. N. U. have joined the ranks of many citizens of the city of Carbondale and seek to have Normal and Illinois Avenues made into Boulevards. The fact that more dangerous crossings exist on these two streets than on any others in town and many accidents have occurred here deems it necessary to improve the condition. These two streets are used more by the students than any others in the town and are perhaps used more by them than the town folks themselves. So greater effort should be made to aid the cream of the young people of Southern Illinois who flock here each year for the educational advantages that the city offers them.

Mr. Hotten, on his talk in chapel, stated that he had seen no less than four accidents on the intersection of Cherry and Normal Avenue since the time that it was paved about a year ago. Mr. Hotten gave several good points to the students on how to protect themselves from accidents on these corners. But merely these precautions on the protection of ones self are not enough. Danger signs should be installed without delay or further still make Boulevard stops at these dangerous crossings.

We are glad to hear that the city council are working now on plans that will perhaps be put in force in a few weeks.

LOMBARD AND KNOX HAVE THE REAL GAME

The fact that Lombard beat Knox in basketball this year by an 11 to 1 score does not in itself mean so much to us. But the method of play that was used by these two teams is indeed worthy of mention. Perhaps it never before had its equal. During the entire game the ball was in play for less than fifteen minutes.

Lombard started with a rush and soon amassed a five point lead. Then for five minutes Lombard held the ball without making a single move. Knox refused to come after the ball and Lombard seemed to be satisfied not to take any chances. The Knox Captain, jeered by the crowd, finally rushed the ball. This was followed by two more baskets by Lombard—with three minutes of the half remaining the two teams again resumes their statuesque poses, and held them until the gun cracked.

The second half saw even less action than the first. For about five minutes a clever exhibition of basketball was shown while the rest of the half was in interesting exhibition of pantomime.

For fifteen minutes, while the band of the two schools played the players stood or sat in more or less graceful positions.

We will not comment on the game as we suppose that there was plenty of that done in Galesburg.

TO QUOTE FROM HENRY ESMOND

"Since my Lady Mary Wortley Montagu brought home the custom of inoculation from Turkey (a previous practice many deem it, and only a useless rushing into the jaws of danger), I think the severity of the small-pox, that dreadful scourge of the world, has somewhat been abated in our part of it; and remember in my time hundreds of the young and beautiful who have been carried to the grave, or have only risen from their pillows frightfully scarred and disfigured by this malady. Many a sweet face hath left its roses on the bed, on which this dreadful and withering blight has laid them. In my early days this pestilence would enter a village and destroy half its inhabitants: at its approach it may well be imagined not only that the beautiful but the strongest were alarmed, and those fled who could."

SOPHOMORE CLASS MEETING

The Sophomore Class had its most interesting meeting of the year up to date today at chapel hour. The meeting was called somewhat late as a result of who was to act as president. Mr. Pe Hot was called to act in absence of the regular president.

When the house was called to order only two were present they were Walter Pe Hot and Shackleton but the two present decided that quantity did not make quality and I think that in this particular case we were right do you not think so to. Well, Kelly and Hails the faithful soon appeared on the scene. At this time Hails was elected doorkeeper but refused to act in that capacity so he was elected dog catcher. Kelly was made Hails assistant. To give all a job Shackleton was made secretary after the meeting. A motion was made and seconded that Kelly get up the acting press. Geom for him it carried but was cancelled on account of lack of time.

There were at the meeting three visitors two wall flowers and Larry Harper. They were not special guests as you may be led to believe by them but were there because we couldn't run them out. The beauty of the wall flowers intoxicated the members so that the usual business of the class could not be carried out. Kelly is to act as president next time but don't you come as you are not wanted. The song decided upon as class song was Hails, Hails, the Gangs Not Here.

Young Men's Outfitter

Last week's Egyptian failed to print the fact that the football letter men recieved their sweaters at last. They came the first of last week and are so good looking, they were worth waiting so long for. They are maroon coat sweaters with a large "N" on the front of the sweater and a white strip on the right sleeve for every year the owner has played football at the Normal. Those who received sweaters are:

- Ralph Warren.
- Asa McIlrath.
- Kenneth Pyatt.

The Way We Feel About It

TEN COMMANDMENT FOR HUSBANDS

1. Thou shalt love thy wife with all thy heart, all thy might and with all thy strength.
2. Thou shalt have no other idols before her, whether aeroplanes, clubs or newspapers.
3. Thou shalt not steal softly into bed in the wee small hours of the night.
4. Thou shalt not covet thy wife's pin money.
5. Remember thy hose to keep them whole.
6. Thou shalt not lie in bed 'til breakfast.
7. Thou shalt not kill thy wife's affections by making harsh remarks to her.
8. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor's wife. (unless your wife should ask: "Heavens am I as fat as she?")
9. Love thy neighbor as thyself, but love thy wife more than either and let his wife alone.
10. Honor thy mother-in-law that thy days may be long on earth.
 Amen!

THE STUDENTS' CREED

I will blot out of my life the failure that come from wasted hours, and write into it the successes that come from time well spent. I will keep life's page clean, and fill it with the record of knowledge gained.
 I will fix my eyes on the goal of my ambition, and hold my hand to its task.
 I will work hard, hope high, and give up to the best that is in me; then I can write at the end, "well done."

S. I. N. U. GIRLS' DIS- APPOINTED THIS YEAR

The girls who engage in athletics are very much disappointed this year. No, not because of any poor prospects for Leap Year, because those said prospects seem highly satisfactory. All this disappointment is the result of the announcement that the girls won't get to play basketball this year.

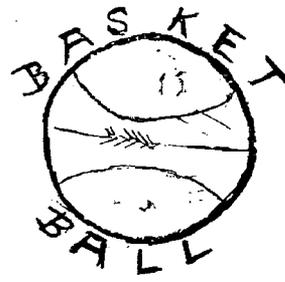

Our present gym was built some thirty years ago and has long since outgrown its original purpose and will now scarcely accommodate the gym classes. As a result, the gym is greatly in demand—even in the evenings the boys' class teams may be seen practicing. The varsity team uses the gym every day after school and so the girls were deprived of the privilege to play basketball—all because of the size of the gym.

The girls feel that this is almost an injustice, and that it is not fair. To many it is a disappointment hard to bear. We feel exactly like the child who has been deprived of a stick of candy or like a person who has failed in the accomplishment of a given goal. Several Juniors and Seniors can recall just a few years ago the pleasant friendships and the jolly good times we use to have in the gym playing basketball. But today we must sit idly by and be reminded that these days is gone forever. It is not altogether the happiest recollections of the "gym" that the Senior girls will carry away with them this year. But we who will be back next year at S. I. N. U. certainly hope that the State will have completed a new gym by that time and that our disappointment of 1924 will not be repeated.

DESK IN THE EGYPTIAN OFFICE

This desk is really a nice desk but appears to be treated rather badly. On one corner are two books, one bulging with notes, belonging to Editor Buford. Going on around to the left we find an exchange paper badly cut up, next comes a marked up S. I. N. U. schedule for 1924. Then follows a dilapidated ruler. Then gracefully thrown from the corner to the middle of the desk is a grey coat. Following that is a box of fudge cakes without the cakes. Behold the dictionary thrown wildly open as if somebody had had a spasmodic fit of energy to acquire some knowledge. The eye then meets a joke book, pencil, a bottle of ink with a gold bracelet hugging the neck, as if some one had been playing horse-shoes, a book, some more exchange papers, a compact, a paper weight, a cap, a paper clip, a G. A. A. membership letter, besides a few particles of dust. So is it a wonder that the Egyptian is such a remarkable paper.

STRUT AND FRET

Strut and Fret entertained the married faculty members and their wives last Monday night in Socratic Hall. The occasion was the presentation of the play "Everybody's Husband." The play was one of this year's comedies written for Little Theater acting. Each married man in the audience saw himself in the role of the leading man, and each married lady agreed with the great grandmother in the play that "They are all alike—alike as two buttons on a coat—everybody's husband is the same."

Misses Alice Barrow and Roberta McCracken sang a duet just before the rise of the curtain, and later Miss Lydia Davis gave a humorous reading.

Following the play, tea and wafers were served. The favors for the occasion were tiny rolling pins for the men, and candy kisses for the women.

"Indifference to others, carelessness to suffering, ignorance of the gathering forces of destruction, always precede destruction. If you are intent only on what you yourself are doing; if you cease to wonder enough at the marvels in the world to study them, you will soon bankrupt your powers and be at the mercy of the intelligent people about you. Continue to wonder and you will continue to study and think. Continue to study and think and you will continue to learn and grow. And only by learning and by growth can you retain even a comfortable place in this world."

THIRST

Thirst is a condition of the human throat caused by the lack of lubrication. The most pernicious form was known in the pre-prohibition days.

The most popular thirst known to us is the thirst for knowledge which drives thousands of young people to college every year with parched intellects and tennis rackets. When a young man becomes so thirsty for knowledge that he is willing to rise at four every morning or to peel potatoes for it the chances are about fifteen to two that he will absorb and retain more knowledge than the boy that sleeps in silk pajamas and does not peel anything except Dad's bank account. The kind of thirst that keeps a good father back home with night work, making money to send the boy, that knows more about the leather pill than he does about physics, is poorly awarded with track honors and charley horses.

One of the most depressing forms of thirst is the deadly thirst for music which has attack the vocal chords of the willing and the unsubdued amateur. Perhaps the most terrifying sight to the student public is, that of a self possessed male vocalist with an unquenchable thirst for jazz music who camps in front of the piano and throws huge chunks of nasal resonance at an innocent and unwilling audience.

The thirst for travel is a very commendable variety, and enables even the wealthy to part with their incomes in a scientific manner. There is nothing that will make a stout red-cheeked pocket-book blue about the mouth quicker than a long stretch of travel, unless it is starting a weekly newspaper in a bi-monthly college.

AND NOW WE HAVE A BACHELOR OF NOISE DEGREES?

Yell leading has been made a subject in the curriculum in Stanford University and credit will be given to Sophomores trying out for assistant yell leaders who register in the course.

"Bleacher Psychology," "the correct use of the voice," "development of stage appearance," and "what a coach expects of a yell leader" will be topics of lectures by members of the faculty and Andrew Kerr, the football coach.

rate has been secured for all fares amounting to $1.00 or more for the round trip. The "identification certificate" plan will be used as last year. Tickets will be sent to the County Superintendents in due time.

Advance enrollment will be insisted upon and percentages recorded in the order of application.

SOCRATIC SOCIETY

The program for January 25 was a good one. Anna Lawin opened the program with an especially enjoyable piano solo.

Those who had been impatiently waiting the play by the Anthony Hall girls were certainly rewarded. The girls displayed their talent as well as their courage in "The House in Laurel Lane."

The orchestra entertained the audience with charming music between acts.

Celeste White closed the program with a piano solo rendered with great skill.

The next program will be—
Reading—Ruth Fairchild.
Piano Duet—Luella and Evelyn Williams.

Play—Ioris Comes to Town.
Music—Orchestra.

Louis Ed Williams is directing the play. The program is one of the best yet. Don't miss it.

Don't give the excuse for not writing home that you "didn't have any stamps." Use the machine in the registrar's office.

Go to Church and Sunday School Sunday. Be one of the five thousand.

GET YOUR MIND ON STRAIGHT!

Every misfortune is part of your future good fortune. Every catastrophe that hits you today should help you tomorrow.

A calamity this morning will furnish you tomorrow morning with an opportunity to laugh.

Mistakes make you wiser, cares make you more careful and blunders show you the way.

Immediate troubles are very humiliating, but mighty helpful a little later.

Discouragement is discipline. Obstacles are opportunities in disguise.

Anything that can be accomplished without meeting obstacles is a thing anybody can do, and such a thing is not worth the salt you try to sprinkle on its feather-blade.

There are times when your Faith is about paralyzed, times when your Hope becomes hypnotized, and times when your Charity toward others gets cramped, but this is the hour when you can call on your Courage, and you must have this Courage or you will sink from sight.

Every man gets into a pretty discouraging situation several times in life. It is the fate of all, but the man who has courage wins.

While the tide is against you, remember the tide must turn.

Get your mind on straight. You cannot think constructively with a panicky, pessimistic mind.

Let me tell you what I think is the matter with a lot of us: We entertain the idea that we are having all the troubles. We feel sorry of ourselves. We see others playing while we are working. We seem to see so many others making a success while we are only striving, but we do not know of the thousands who are fighting a brave fight while losing.

You have probably had about half the troubles your neighbor has had, if the real truth were known.

Troubles bring out the truth as night shows the stars.

A cheerful, hopeful flow of spirits follows the reaction of troubles, for Hope eternally springs.

I never see a man who is all upset over his troubles that I do not think of the fellow who had dropped his medicine bottle and broken it. Picking up the sharp pieces, he put them in his bosom where they were perpetually cutting him.

—The Silent Partner.
