Drill Team Becomes Queen's Guard

AF ROTC Cadets Dave Boyce and Wallace Bismar stand guard at the guest register book at the Squadrig Center Thursday.

GADETS Jim Walkerc and Donald Williams serve Ida Mae Schellhardt, AF ROTC Queen, and her escort Charles Weiss, at the mixer which was titled "Parade Rest."

The new Queen's Guard seventy-five man precision unit is now in full operation on the campus of Southern Illinois University. The Guard operates under the auspices of the AF ROTC detachment at SIU and is directed by an advanced cadet officer.

"To my knowledge, the Queen's Guard is the largest precision drill unit in the United States," stated Cadet 2nd Lieutenant Gary F. Hodson, captain of the Guard. The Guard was organized at the beginning of the fall term, and has grown rapidly since then.

Thirty-four AF ROTC cadets are members of the Guard Chorus which is now rehearsing for its first public appearance which is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 5.

Intricate drill maneuvers will highlight the Precision Guard. Members of this component concentrate on minute marching details, which they execute to silent commands.

The Air Force is a group of 34 men trained in the use of the rifle, who will police the AF ROTC program on campus.

Queen's Jesters is the council drill unit included in the Queen's Guard. The members of Queen's Jesters use pantomime and other humorous maneuvers in their exhibitions.

All of the above units are capable of giving exhibitions to individual groups at the combined Queen's Guard. Each member of the Guard is provided with white gloves, white helmets, white leggings, and white four-button, which add distinction when worn with the Air Force blue uniform.

Organization and precision are the key words in the Queen's Guard. The unit is organized so as to give each member leadership training. Cadet drill activities, supply officers, artists, and public relations men are just a few of the cadet positions of responsibility in the Guard. Full dress practices are held each Tuesday and Thursday with added practices on Saturday when necessary.

The first public appearance of the Queen's Guard will take place early in the Spring term.

Magazine Opens Contest to Bands

Student band leaders on Southern Illinois University's campus have a chance to win a recording tape with the recent magazine, along with the record company sponsoring a nationwide contest to determine the best college band in the country.

Social Senate Plans Dance

The Social Senate will give an all-school dance Feb. 27 according to Paul Morris, president of the Senate. The dance will be held at the local home of the season, Southern vs. Indiana State College.

Newman Club Elects Pat Neagu President

The Newman Club held election officers at a business meeting last Wednesday. For the first time in the history of the SIU Newman Club, a girl president was elected. Pat Neagu, junior from Madison, was elected by the group to be president for the coming year.

At the meeting Father J. Busch discussed and explained to the group the new rules concerning the Fraternity Law.

Sergeant Snyder To Sponsor New Queen's Guard

A man of many jobs is Master Sergeant Robert W. Snyder, sponsor of the Queen's Guard precision drill team.

Specifically, his duties here include Detachment First Sergeant, Training Aids NCO, NCO in charge of the Queen's Guard, Sergeant's new precision drill team, which is one of the biggest drill teams in the country.

His activities before coming to Southern were just as varied. Sergeant Snyder was born and raised in Chicago, where he attended Stretz High School. When he was eighteen, he decided to enlist in the Illinois National Guard.

He was assigned to a coast artillery unit in Quantico, Virginia. While there, when the Guard was inducted into federal service to help correct the unpleasant international situation created by Messrs. Hitler, Tojo, and Mussolini, Sgt. Snyder became employed by Lucke Sam. He continued to serve with the coast artillery until 1944.

At that time, he was re-assigned to an infantry replacement center. His various duties gave him experience in operating machine guns, engineering paratroops, and many other different military units. He served in the replacement center until he received his discharge in 1945.

After a breathing spell as a civilian, he entered military service enlisting in the Air Force. Since then, Sgt. Snyder has served in Greenland and at San Antonio, Texas, where he was attached to the Inspector General's Department.

He was promoted to sergeant and joined the staff here at SIU in March, 1952. Sgt. Snyder is kept busy in his off-duty hours also. He is the proud father of three children, one boy and two girls.

Placements Lists New Job Openings

Dr. Royce Bryant, director of the Placement Service, has announced that an student who has not registered with his office and desires to do so, should register immediately before March 1. In order to complete the registration process, pictures must be obtained and recommendations must be secured.

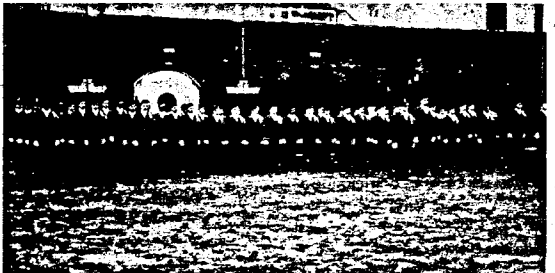

DR. BRYANT also announced that Clyde Blocker, personnel manager of the General American Life Insurance Co. will visit the Placement office Feb. 6 in order to interview candidates for sales positions. Any student who is interested in having an appointment with him should call the Placement Service.

Group Completes Tecine Booklet

Members of Kappa Omicron Phi, honorary home economics fraternity, have compiled a recipe booklet entitled, "Some of the Favorite Recipes of the SIU Faculty." The book was undertaken as a money making project by the fraternity earlier in the year.

Student Center 'Furnishings' Already Selected

By Don Prims

It won't be the same as the Waldorf-Astoria lounge, but for comfort and utility the new wing of the Student Center is going to be hard to beat. It is expected to be completed in approximately three months.

A main feature of design is a corrugated metal partition, rust colored, which will be used as a backdrop for a bandstand. The furniture can be easily and quickly moved for a dance.

There will be six different grouping areas where students can gather. Furniture will include four bar stools and two six foot coffee tables. Lighting will be indirect.

"Sack" type chairs, such as those used in the Allen building, will be used in the grouping areas as will be molded plastic chairs colored with light assortments of chrome, gray and red. The coaches will be the conventional interspersing sofa type with foam rubber cushions and covered with checked material.

Two conference rooms, outfitted with a large table and chairs, are intended to give ample meeting space for 20 to 30 people, and will be located in the side part of the building. In the recreation area there will be ping pong tables and possible a billiard table.

The tables and chairs from the present Center will be placed in the center area, along with a soda fountain, coffee, sandwiches, and fountain products will probably be served, but there will be no cooking in the area.

Hardwood floors will be used in the new wing, and the walls will be painted terra cotta, white, deep brown, and parchment.

Debaters To Attend Meets

SIU To Participate in Decision, Novice Debates

Seventeen SIU debaters will be on the road Feb. 7, journeying to the Illinois annual debate tournament at Charleston, and the sixth annual novice debate meet at Lafayette, Indiana.

Dr. Albert J. Croft, debate coach, stated that more than 40 colleges from Illinois and surrounding states will participate in the meet at Charleston, and that Southern will be represented in the tournament by one of the four two-member teams. Members of the team will debate at Charleston are Carl Wall Boyles, Du Quoin; Sam Benton; Gene Penland, Smith; Tucker, and Carolyn Reed, Carbondale; Sue Alice Martin, Jonesboro; James Gibbons, Mason; and Phyllis Wise, Newton.

This tournament is for the more experienced debaters, and a decision will be handed down determining the winners. Dr. Croft and Dr. Max Turner of the government department will accompany the group on the trip.

The second team which will debate in the novice meet is made up of Sharon Talley, Carbondale; Richard Stone, Collinsville; Helen Connors, East St. Louis; Barbara Trest, Herrin; Roberta Reznick, Mt. Vernon; George Kolm, Okawville; Paul and Douglas, St. Louis; and Bernard Crawford, Vandalia. These debaters, although they may be in their first year of debate, this is the first year that makes the tour.

Dr. W. A. Thalmann, director of the Child Guidance Clinic at Southern Illinois University, is conducting a clinic to be held at Carbondale, Feb. 4 and 5.

Thalman To Hold Guidance Clinic

The schedule calls for the training of twelve children during the two days. Faculty and school principals of these cases have already been received by the clinic. These are being studied now to determine the particular techniques to be used in the diagnosis of these children. The ages of the cases to be studied will range from six to sixteen.

Dr. Thalmann will be assisted by Mrs. Marilyn Quinn and William VanMarlen, graduate assistants in the Child Guidance Clinic, and by Dr. Stapler Quinn, graduate assistant in the Department of Guidance and Special Education.

FTA To Meet Tonight At University School

The Egyptian Chapter No. 1 of the Future Teachers of America will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Studio Theater of the University school, according to Eva Garrison, secretary.

Work on Pinning Nets Wrestlers 30-5 Win

By Don Duffy
A week's work on pinning combinations paid off for Coach Jim Wilkinson and his wrestlers as they trounced Western Illinois here Friday night, 30-5. Five of the Salukis' six victories were by falls.

The first four Western wrestlers to step on the new yellow and red mat ended flat on their backs. The Leathernecks were shut-out of team points until the last two matches. A draw in the 177 pound contest awarded each team two points. Coach Harold Aves' Westerners earned three more points with a heavyweight victory.

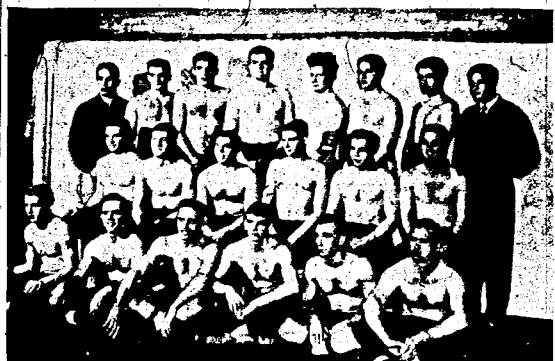

WHALEN WINS AGAIN
Bob Whalen, undefeated 123 pounder, was the aggressor from the start when he opened the meet against Jim O'Brien. The Chicago letterman chalked up his sixth victory with a pinning hold in 1:50 of the first period.

From there, the Salukis went out to three more victories by falls and a 20-0 lead. Marshall Riggan, Southern's 130 pound entrant, pinned Charlie Stralow in 4:15. Jack Szulc, ranked up his second pinning victory in four seasons when he flattened Roseberry in 7:35 of the first 137 pound match. Joe Fedora, still hampered some by a shoulder injury, surprised Ken Keko of Western and the several hundred spectators when he plunked Keko over the mat in 7:05. Fedora was leading but tiring fast when he gained the fall in a burst of aggression.

NICK GETS FIRST WIN
The 177 pound match between Southern's Nick Veremis and Western's Bill Mullens got off to a slow start, but the match ended in perhaps the most spectacular climax of the evening. Working against the clock, Veremis scored a take-down and went for a fall. Less than 30 seconds remained on the score-board when referee Lawrence McCauley pounded the mat, signifying a fall. This was Veremis' first victory in four seasons of college wrestling.

WESTERN TAKES ONE
The Westerners scored their only victory in the heavyweight match when Bill DeTave outpointed Southern's Kent Werner, 17-12. The decision gave the Leathernecks three team points. The final score 30-5, Southern.

Wilkinson and Assistant Coach Russ Bush awarded the team a week-end off for their performance Friday night. Practices will resume Monday in preparation for two matches next week-end. The matmen journey northward next Thursday to face the Northern Illinois Huskies in DeKalb near Friday evening. Saturday, they move eastward to Great Lakes Naval Training Center to take on the Bluejackets. Wilkinson's men will be in search of their third and fourth victories. They've lost four.

Work on pinning holds paid off for the Salukis' wrestlers, as they trounced Western Illinois Friday night, 30-5. Five of the six matches that Southern scored were through falls. The team now has a record of two wins and four losses. Bottom row: Dick Weiss, Chicago; Danny Cox, Marion; Joe Fedora, Granite City; Marshall Riggan, Belleville; Bob Whalen, Chicago; Art Hargis, Granite City. Second row: Bob Grimes, Murphysboro; Bob Zdenec, LaGrange; Bill Mayr, Belleville; Captain Jack Stoudt, Chicago; Dick Erickson, Chicago. Dave Gray, Carlini. Top row: Coach Jim Wilkinson; Nick Veremis, Chicago; Joe Husick, Chicago; Kent Werner, Belleville; Dan Halloran, Wood River; Bill Barnhart, Granite City; Don Duffy, Chicago; and Assistant Coach Russ Bush.

Aces Trump SIU 72-64, 'Rip' Has An Off-Night

By Sherman Bolen
Southern's Salukis found out how much they have depended on the scoring of Ray Rippelmeier last Thursday when they dropped a 72-64 decision at Evansville, Ind.

Rippelmeier had an off night, hitting only 10 per cent of his shots. Two baskets in 20 attempts. He also got five free throws for a game total of nine points.

Rippelmeier's ineffectiveness was not the only factor in Southern's defeat. The Purple Aces turned on a fast break that finally wore down the Salukis in the last quarter and enabled them to move ahead in what had previously been a close game.

SOUTHERN DEFEAT
provided revenge for the Evansville cagers who lost a 66-60 contest here in Southern's opening.

Bob Nickolaus, who has averaged 18 points in his last five games, was high point man with 19. The Aces coming on eight baskets and three free throws. Harvey Welch improved on his shooting percentage, six baskets in 14 shots plus three free throws for 15 points.

The host took a 13-11 lead in the first quarter and were on top 29-28 at halftime.

Southern knotted the score at 33 and 33 at the third period got underway. Then Evansville scored seven straight points before Southern came back and did the same thing to make the score 40-40 with 2:30 left. At the end of the quarter Evansville led 45-44.

THE ACES stretched their lead to a 49-43 with in the fourth before the Salukis tied it up 49-49 with 5:40 left in the game.

Three straight baskets by Guard Dave Crumaker pushed Evansville in front 51-49. The Salukis responded as Evansville stemmed to a 57-point lead. 69-54, with 2:30 remaining.

Southern managed to cut the margin to 49 points and Jack Benfro scored on a jump shot at the gun sounded to make it 72-64.

Southern made five baskets in 21 shots the first quarter, seven of which were in the second and six of 19 in the coming on eight baskets and three free throws. Evansville hit six out of 24 in the first period, six of 18 in the second and three of 16 in the third.

BUT IN THE fourth quarter, Saluki shooting fell off to only four baskets in 23 attempts while the Aces shot an even .500 with nine baskets in 18 shots.

The defeat trimmed SIU's work record to 10-5 and broke a five-game winning streak. The Salukis renew IAC competition Friday at Michigan Normal and move over to Central Michigan Saturday.

Theta Xi's Use Variety Show Fund To Buy Uniforms for SIU Cagers

Basketball coach Lynn Holder of the Southern Salukis announced this week that Southern's cage squad had been presented with new uniforms from last year's proceeds of the Theta Xi All-School Variety Show. Commenting on the fraternity's gift, Holder said, "It's the first time Southern's athletic department has received such a gift, and we're both fortunate and pleased."

Holder said the fraternity sold him of their decision about six weeks ago, after voting on it as a body. "Naturally, I was astonished, and it was something we really needed," he added.

The uniforms are to be worn by the team before games when they leave warm-up, and consist of long pants and heavy jackets. They were ordered from a Chicago sporting goods firm, and are 100 per cent wool.

Carroll Cox, president of Theta Xi said the fraternity decided to buy the uniforms after several students remarked that the SIU basketball team had no warm-up uniforms. He did most of the team they competed against.

The uniforms are to be delivered this week and the team plans to wear them at their next home game. They are white, with maroon and blue trim.

Each year proceeds from the Variety Show are given to the University in the form of some improvement. Proceeds from shows of '50 and '51 were donated to the Student Center to alleviate construction costs.

Sigma Pi's Gain on Chi Delta Chi's, Pi Kaps Cinch Women's Crown

Sigma Pi fraternity moved to within three games and two points of the league leading Chi Delta Chi in the Hellenic Bowling League last Thursday. A series sweep against Pi Kappa Sigma sorority, while the Chi Deltas were winning two games against third place Sigma Tau Gamma, boosted the Sigma Pi's to within reaching distance of the loop top spot.

Gene Graves, with a 532 series, paced the Sigma Pi's in their triple victory. Chosen the Pi Kaps came in last of the contests, yet a distant 37 pins. Mary Ann Klingenberg, with a 436 effort, led the leaders in the women's division.

ALTHOUGH THE Chi Deltas fell far behind, they managed to take two from Sigma Tau Gamma. In the second Chi Delta victory, only two pins separated the teams from tie. Bob Conroy, with a 155 average, posted high series for the victors with 402. Earl Edwards' 442 was the best Sigma Tau Gamma could come up with.

The Tau Kappa Epsilon quintet elevated themselves into a fourth place tie with the Theta Xi's by winning two games in their match with Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. George Kuhn, currently setting the pins on fire, blasted out the night's high series of 540 for the TKE's. Connie Connors got back in top form with a 461 series for the looping Tri-Sigs.

THETA XI fraternity, although also off form, took two games from the hapless last place Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority. The Theta Xi's got off on the right foot by competing the first scrap with just three pins to spare. Lead-off man Bill Evans set the pace with a 475 series. Libby Mars topped the cellar dwellers with 408.

With only two more sessions left on the calendar, the crown in Sigma men's division easily remains a toss-up between any of the five fraternities.

THE STANDINGS: W. L. Pts.
Chi Delta Chi 25 11 33
Sigma Pi 23 14 31
Sigma Tau Gamma 20 16 28

Theta Xi 21 15 27
Pi Kappa Sigma 18 18 25
Sigma Sigma Sigma 10 26 13
Delta Sigma Epsilon 9 28 9

In the women's division it's a different story. Pi Kappa Sigma sorority has the title clinched. With only six more games to be bowled, the Pi Kaps enjoy an eight game and a 12 point lead over their nearest competitors, the Sigma Sigma Sigma quintet.

Wrestler Breaks Arm in 'Light' Work-Out
—Since it was the day before a meet, Coach Wilkinson advised his wrestlers to work up a sweat in last Thursday's practice session, and then shower and get some rest.

But Earl Coen, East St. Louis freshman, managed to break an arm in doing so. With his left arm now in a cast, Coen will have the remainder of the season to rest.

Captain Bill Hunt of the Sigma Pi fraternity gets his signals on overtake the league leading Chi Delta Chi. With only two more weeks left in the Hellenic league, the Sigma Pi's will have to set a fast pace. The Chi Delta,
