SIU Studies Speedup in Registering

A study is under way to determine how registrations can be handled faster and how to reduce the number of continuing students who do not preregister and the number of program changes, Robert A. McGrath, registrar, said.

McGrath said it is important that these numbers be reduced because the present registration and advisement system is based upon continuing student preregistration, so that the first days of a quarter can be devoted to registering new students and making necessary program changes.

The large number of continuing students attempting to register and the large number of unnecessary program changes are helping create an increasingly difficult situation during the first week of a quarter, he said.

The first step to speeding up registration is being taken by the Sectioning Center. Effective immediately and through Feb. 19, students will be urged to leave their cards at the center to be sectioned later, rather than have the student remain at sectioning while his schedule is prepared.

The procedure followed by the student will be the same in either case up to reporting to the Sectioning Center. The student electing to leave his cards must present written confirmation for request to have some hours free of classes for a work block.

A student who clears his fees under Code 88 (Athletic Scholarships) or 99 (Miscellaneous Scholarships) will need to present written clearance showing his entitlement to use these codes. He will also be asked to leave an address where he may be

Meeting Is Set For Probationers

The Academic Advisement Center has planned meetings for students on probation, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Wednesday in Morris Library Auditorium.

The meetings are for students who went on probation after fall quarter and those who entered this term on probation. Attendance will be checked at the meetings.

Such matters as study hints, note taking, and time organization will be covered in the meetings.

Mercury Dips to Record Low for Sunday; Snowfall Hampers Traffic in Entire State

The unpredictable thermometer cooled to a record-setting low for Carbondale Sunday, dropping to a minus five degrees.

Previously, the record low for the date was a minus three degrees in 1936. On the cheerful side, on Jan. 31, 1917, the temperature was a roasting 73.

The low Monday morning was 19, and it climbed to about 26 before the 8 a.m. traffic began.

The next lowest temperature recorded in Illinois was a three-degree reading in Moline.

Other lows around the state were Chicago Midway, 14 degrees; Rockford, 7; Peoria, 10; Springfield, 12; and Vandalia, 14.

No more heavy snow is expected for several days, although snow flurries are possible said Floyd F. Cunningham, director of the Climatology Laboratories.

"However, with the snow cover," he said, "we can expect temperatures colder than normal, because the energy of the sun will be used to evaporate the snow instead of to warm the ground."

The weather conditions slowed and halted much traffic on Illinois highways, but Carbondale seemed to be digging itself out fairly well.

No accidental injuries had been reported either to the Health Service, Doctor's Hospital or the Security Office by mid-morning Monday.

Despite weekend hazardous driving conditions, Carbondale police reported only two auto accidents involving SIU students.

Shortly after 10 a.m. Monday, Carbondale and University police investigated a minor crash on Campus Drive near the Communications Building. No one was injured.

Pamela Kidd Crowned Queen Of This Year's Military Ball

Pamela Kidd, a sophomore elementary education major, reigned as queen of the annual Military Ball Saturday evening.

Miss Kidd was crowned by the 1964 queen, Kathy Jones, as several hundred students looked on.

The new queen is from Metropolis, an SIU majorette and Miss Woody Hall. She was also an attendant in the 1963 Homecoming Court.

The other contestants for the formal event were Arlette Alexander, Martha Edmison, Judy McDonald, Stoney Ludwig and Velda Smith.

Ruffner Wants 'Working Paper'

A committee of the University Student Council has been informed that it will be responsible for drawing up a "working paper" which is to serve as the basis for student government at SIU.

The announcement was made Saturday at a meeting on the Carbondale campus, by Ralph W. Ruffner, vice president for area and student services.

The presentation of the formal, organized plan to be used in setting up student government under the new University Statutes has transformed an ad hoc committee into what Pat Micken, president of the student body, has termed "an action group."

Ruffner, who until Saturday was chairman of the committee, explained that the working paper process is being utilized by all University departments to fit them within the structure of the new statutes.

(Working papers are defined in the statutes as papers covering operating structures, principles and procedures, which originate with the membership concerned.)

The plan also outlined the channels to be utilized in soliciting student ideas and opinion. Ideas of individual students, organizations and councils are to be submitted either to their campus student council or directly to the University Student Council.

These proposals then will be considered by the ad hoc committee for implementation into the final working paper.

The completed working paper then will be forwarded to Charles D. Tenney, vice president for planning and review, for approval.

Saturday's meeting helped to remove an atmosphere of suspicion arising from the student body president's State of the Campus message.

Chem Seminars Begin Today; Will Continue Through Friday

The Department of Chemistry will hold a series of five Seminars this week in Parkinson Laboratory.

John W. Connolly of Marietta College will speak on "Some Organosilicon Studies" at 10 a.m. in Room 204, today.

J.H. Boyer, assistant program administrator, of the Petroleum Research Fund of the American Chemical Society, will visit the department Wednesday morning.

A seminar will be presented by John S. Thayer of the Illinois Institute of Technology on Thursday, at 10 a.m. in Room 111. He will discuss the recent advances in inorganic pseudohalogen chemistry.

Two seminars will be held on Friday afternoon. Houshang Torabi, a graduate student in chemistry, will speak on "Optical Rotatory Dispersion" at 3 in Room 111.

Robert E. Singler, a graduate student in chemistry, will conduct a combined organic and biochemistry seminar on "Boron Transfer Reactions" at 4 in Room 111.

In addition, an analytical seminar will be held Friday, at 10 a.m. in Main 313.

International Night Set Feb. 13 14

SIU will hold its annual International Night program two nights this year, Feb. 13-14, according to John Wilhelm, co-chairman of the steering committee.

The event features a program of songs, dances and rituals to be performed by SIU international and American students. Crafts, handicrafts, and articles representative of several countries will be on display at the University Center, Wilhelm said. A "coffee house" will serve coffees from different parts of the world.

Members of the International Night Steering Committee include:

Diana Batma, co-chairman. William Carroll, talent show.

Martha Ramage, talent show.

Jacquelyn Watkins. Jeanette Uhrig, publicity. Frances Studenroth, talent show.

Varel and Bailly's have appeared throughout Europe and in the United States, including performances on the Ed Sullivan, Patrice Munsel and Gary Moore TV shows.

They are said to be one of France's top song writing teams, and their songs have been sung by such world famous entertainers as Edith Piaf, Genevieve, Lena Horne and many others.

Tickets to the show are free to students at the University Center information desk upon presentation of an activity card.

5 Communication Workshops For High School Students Set

A chance for precollege students to get a taste of campus life for four weeks this summer will be provided by the ninth annual High School Communications Workshops at SIU.

Marion Kleinau of the SIU Department of Speech, workshops coordinator, said Speech, Oral Interpretation, Drama, Photography, and Journalism Workshops will be offered to high school juniors and seniors July 5-31.

"We feel this is an exceptional opportunity for young people to spend a month on a college campus studying in their chosen field of interest," Mrs. Kleinau said. "In addition, we have planned a social and cultural program which should enhance its benefit."

Beside classroom instruction, the workshops will consist of field trips, a trip to the Municipal Opera in St. Louis, and a wide variety of social activities including swimming, dancing, horseback riding, wiener roasts, picnics, and attendance at productions of the Southern Players drama group.

Total expense, including room, board, and tuition for the full four weeks, will be $100. One scholarship will be awarded in each workshop division to an outstanding participant.

This is the first year for the Oral Interpretation Workshop, designed to give students experience and instruction in reading prose, poetry, and drama. Mrs. Kleinau, an expert in this area, will be its director.

Other workshop directors: Theater, Charles Zoeckler; speech, C. F. Harrison; photography, C. William Horrell; and journalism, W. Manion Rice. Related to the Journalism Workshop, divided into newspaper and yearbook sections, will be the fourth annual High School Journalism Clinic for Teachers July 12-24.

Fast Exit: Life Line in Fire

(Second of Two Articles)

In the booklet "Building Exits Code," which the state of Illinois uses in establishing fire regulations, and which Carbondale recently adopted, taverns and lounges are listed as Places of Assembly, Class C.

The code says "Every Class C place of assembly shall have at least two means of exit consisting of separate exits or doors leading to a corridor or other spaces giving access to two separate and independent exits in different directions."

These exits must be maintained free of all obstructions, locks, curtains, mirrors or other decorations.

The width of exits shall be measured in units representing the space necessary for the free passage of one file of persons.

One unit of exit width is 22 inches, subject to minor deductions in certain cases of revolving doors and slide escapes.

The rated capacity in rate of travel through level exits leading directly outside the building at grade shall be 60 persons per minute per unit of exit width (22 inches). The rate down or up stairs is 45 persons per unit of exit width.

No doorway shall be less than 30 inches wide, and shall be increased according to the population or capacity of the building.

The width of these exits shall be measured in the clear at their narrowest points, except that railings may project of each side, distance not to exceed 3 1/2 inches inside the measured width, and that door jams may project not more than two inches for each 22 inch unit of exit width.

And, if there is a passageway that leads to the exit, it must be at least equal to the required width of the exit. In other words, if you are taking a break somewhere, and there are quite a few other sociables standing elbow-to-elbow in a very limited space, you had better keep close to the exit.

The fire code has established the rated capacity for existing buildings after years of study and accumulated knowledge.

The next time you're belled-up to a bar across the room from an exit, take time to try to visualize 60 people going through each 22 inch unit of the door in one minute.

Remember, as you visualize, that when a fire breaks out the probable panic and rush for the exit will be comparable to turning a container of something upside down to get it all out at once.

The weekend you have the date you've anticipated for a whole quarter, and you want to find the darkest, most remote corner of some place of public assembly, try to realize, as you plow through the other occupants, how long or how difficult it will be to get out of that corner in case it gets too hot (and I don't mean hot goody-goody).

It's extremely easy to get into a place that doesn't meet fire code requirements, but exceptionally hard to get the hell out when everybody is in a hurry.

Therefore, unless you might possibly want to be the cinders sprinkled on the streets this winter, exhibit some caution as to where you spend your free time.

Maybe the time and space used for this explanation has been wasted on many. But if only one student begins to notice lousy fire conditions, this report will not have been in vain.

Action on Bill Puts ROTC in Spotlight

I read your editorial of Jan. 26, 1965, (Compulsory ROTC to Go?) with great interest and satisfaction. Most students probably remember the protest conducted by a segment of the student body at SIU last year against the compulsory AFROTC program. In the height of the protest movement last year, one of the top administrators at SIU announced that the University would not consider a voluntary program until the United States Congress passed a bill concerning ROTC at colleges and universities. This bill had failed to pass in several previous attempts, but to the surprise of many (including the administration at Southern) it passed in the last session of Congress. However, nothing has been done about compulsory AFROTC at Southern.

The passage of this bill once again puts the issue of compulsory AFROTC in the spotlight, and yet the administration has failed to live up to its promise. This is nothing new. The student body of the University has been deceived and abused by top administrators before. Such action as the elimination of finals week, the elimination of Student Council, the Slater Food Service monopoly, compulsory ROTC, and the proposed abandonment of spring vacation (starting in the spring of 1966) are programs which directly affect the student body, and yet the students have had no voice in the enactment of these programs.

It is unfortunate indeed that the student body in general is too apathetic to protest actions such as these. Students at other universities have shown that combined action by all segments of the student body can be effective. It is time for the student body at SIU to realize that the University exists to provide educational opportunities for it and that the students should be allowed an active voice in the functioning of this institution.

Bill V. Moore

Party School Rumor Denied by 'Playboy'

Since my high school days I have heard the rumor that Southern had been rated by "Playboy" magazine as the No. 2 party school in the nation. Last quarter while walking through the University Center I overheard one faculty member telling another faculty member this same rumor. Last week your editorial, "Rules for Students," again suggested such a poll.

At last, I wrote to "Playboy" to see if the rumor had any truth. Their reply said, "The rumor you heard is still just a rumor. We have never done anything on party schools and have no plans to do so in the future. We prefer to rate our schools scholastically rather than alcoholically."

I hope this will settle the controversy once and for all as to whether Southern, or any school, has been rated a party school by "Playboy."

Daniel Frank Elam

University Should Encourage Independent Decision-Making

I could not help wondering what John Epperheimer's concept of education was in his recent editorial. I always thought the purpose of education and learning rested with the basic concept that the function of education was to promote free individual thought. I don't believe this concept can be promoted to the fullest extent if a student is constantly governed by a myriad of rules—such as, no beer on the Illinois Central and harsh rules for girls who live in dorms.

Students in college are supposed to be trained to act and think on their own, not like a machine which is governed by a select few. This period of education should be a trial period for the student to make as many decisions as possible. Of course he's going to make mistakes, but at least he'll learn without a great loss to society.

We are all too well aware of how harmful an over-protecting mother can be to her children. I believe this is also true to an over-protected student. Granted there are ways a student can avoid University policy, but why should one have to look away from the University in order to make his own decisions? A university should encourage independent decision-making, not hamper it.

Another point John Epperheimer implied was that a more lenient policy might do more damage to SIU's existing reputation. It is illogical to assume if relaxed conditions came about, SIU's reputation would suffer. Just look at the prestige of schools like Harvard, Yale, and the University of California. These schools obtained their prestige not by "soft" rules, but by setting high academic standards. If John Epperheimer wants SIU to grow as "a center of learning, not a center of fun," he should advocate and fight for higher academic standards. I believe that if this is achieved, the lazy "playboys" will eventually be weeded out.

Ron L. Hansing

One of the primary functions of education is indeed to promote free individual thought. But the atmosphere in which this free thought takes place must be regulated to some extent; by no means should there be completely free action. (Incidentally, we do not mind if the Illinois Central serves beer on its trains.) And we strongly advocate a stiffening of academic standards. In fact, as the editorial in question has stated, "...Our fast-growing reputation as a center of learning would be damaged by liberalizing these rules." But until our academic standards are much higher, we don't feel the university can afford to be lenient in the conduct it allows.

John Epperheimer

Students Should Have Voice

A joint SIU-Carbondale planning staff was one part of a five-step workable program for community improvements agreed upon by the Carbondale's Citizens Advisory Committee last week.

The purpose of this planning staff is to provide technical information and to work as a service arm for the Carbondale Plan Commission.

Presently, the city does not have a staff of its own to study problems and finds it necessary to hire consultants.

A permanent planning staff, such as the one approved, would answer Plan Commission questions on problems such as land use, zoning and future plans of business districts and establishments.

It would seem advisable that a city such as Carbondale, which derives a great deal of its life from University students, deem the students' suggestions helpful in any future planning.

There are 29 University and city personnel who are on the advisory committee. Chairman of the group is Frank A. Kirk, a coordinator in the President's Office.

According to Kirk, the meetings of the committee are open to the public, and if anyone has something important to say relative to what the group is discussing, he will be recognized.

However, many times students are not sure how they will be received at such meetings.

Therefore, because SIU students are a vital part of Carbondale's future and because students are many times better acquainted with housing, transportation and other living problems than non-students, it is our feeling that the Carbondale Citizens Advisory Committee extend an invitation to students so that they might possibly offer helpful information.

'Leaden Generosity' On Dimes 'Praised'

Reading in the Jan. 26 edition of your paper that the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity collected a grand total of $719.53 for the March of Dimes. I felt proud. The average student does care for the well-being of those other than himself and his intimate circle of acquaintances. Another article in the paper announced the total student population of SIU. Excluding faculty and staff members, this wonderful generous student body on the Carbondale campus contributed approximately 4.3 cents each, a somewhat astounding figure. Apparently, the quality of students' caring is relative. How much more noble to make sure the proprietor of the local barley, malt, and hops emporium isn't among those members of America's poverty stricken. Even more noble is to keep one's self natively dressed and shod.

I must congratulate the SIU student for giving up one half cup of coffee, or three cigarettes, or a mouthful of beer at the club. The SIU population has done well in its efforts to make its leaden generosity glow through the foliage of apathy and indifference.

Native of Australia Selected As Lecturer at Baptist Series

John Drakeford, professor of psychology and counseling at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex., will deliver the W.P. Throgmorton Lectures at SIU April 12 to 15.

A.C. Queen, director of the Student Ministries Department of the Baptist Student Center, announced the selection.

Drakeford is also director of the Marriage and Family Counseling Center there.

He will present chapel lectures at 7 p.m. each day and address other groups on campus during the week.

The purpose of the lectures is to bring to SIU Christian leaders who are authorities in the academic fields. The lectures will be delivered in the chapel of the Baptist Foundation Building.

A native of Australia, Drakeford is a graduate of the University of Sydney and New South Wales Baptist Seminary.

From 1942 to 1945 he served as chaplain in the Australian Army and was assigned to duty in the largest psychiatric hospital in the country. While there, he became interested in counseling.

He came to the United States in 1954 and has continued his education at Texas Christian University, Brite College of Bible and Southwestern Seminary.

He is author of "Psychology in Search of a Soul," an analysis of the background of psychological research, basic concepts of psychology and religion, and the soul in search of individual discovery.

Drakeford believes, "The study of psychology of religion is the distinctive American contribution to the body of theological knowledge." His book takes a definite step in that direction.

This will be the third year of Throgmorton lectures at SIU. Earlier series were given by Ross Coggins in 1963 and George Schweitzer in 1964.

Moore Appointed To English Post

Harry T. Moore, research professor of English, has been appointed to the Commission on Literature of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Moore will serve as permanent representative of the College English Association, an organization of which he is past national president.

The commission includes 15 prominent teachers, scholars, editors and critics from throughout the nation. Commission head is Arlin Turner, chairman of the Duke University English department.

Moore said the next meeting of the commission, to be held at Boston Feb. 26-27, will be devoted to discussion of the teaching of literature, English and liberal arts in general.

Plant Industries Faculty Publishes Peach Bud Articles

Three articles by members of the SIU plant industries faculty have been published in the new edition of the American Society of Horticultural Science.

The third article, "Influence of Winter Applied Pre-emergence Herbicides on Weed Growth Among Wood Ornamental Plants" is by Lloyd V. Sherwood, plant industries professor and pesticide specialist, and by H.R. Kennermerer, assistant professor of horticulture, University of Illinois.

Kelley to Evaluate Fellowship Entries

Noble H. Kelley, research professor of psychology, has been invited by the American Association for the Advancement of Science to assist in evaluating applicants for a fellowship program sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Fellowships for summer graduate study are offered teachers of science, including the social sciences and mathematics, who have had a minimum of three years' experience at the secondary school level and who plan to continue teaching in these areas, Kelley said. Fellowships, once awarded, are continued for three successive summers.

Purpose of the program is to improve competencies of teachers of science in secondary schools.

MacVicar Appointed Chairman Of Federal Advisory Committee

Robert W. MacVicar, vice president for academic affairs, has been named chairman of a biological sciences and agriculture advisory committee to the U.S. Office of Education.

The committee, which is concerned with the graduate facilities program of Title II, Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963, is composed of scientists and scholars in the agricultural and biological sciences fields.

One of five such groups in five different areas of study, the committee will serve as a consultant to the education office on problems connected with evaluation of research proposals.

MacVicar, who came to SIU last fall from Oklahoma State University, holds a Ph. D. degree in biochemistry and is active in a number of national educational and scientific organizations. In addition to the U.S. Office of Education, he has served as consultant

Faculty Member Edits New Book

Boyd G. Carter, professor of romance languages, is editor of a 321-page "German Review Grammar" just published by the Ronald Press.

This is the second in a series of Ronald Press review grammars in which Carter has served or will serve as co-author, editor, or author. He is co-author of a "French Review Grammar" first published by Ronald in 1948 and revised in 1956.

He is author or co-author of a dozen books including two about the distinguished Mexican poet, Manuel Gutierrez Najera.

A native of Duffield, Va., Carter, who has his Ph. D. from the University of Illinois, came to Southern in 1939. He formerly was chairman of the Department of Romance Languages at the University of Nebraska and earlier taught German at the University of Wyoming.

SIU Faculty Members, Students To Present Papers in Dallas

SIU faculty members and students will present seven scientific papers at the 62nd annual meeting of Association of Southern Agricultural Workers that opened Monday in Dallas, Tex.

Five SIU papers to be given during the three-day meeting will be before the plant physiology section, the others before the section on plant pathology.

Both plant pathology papers were coauthored by A.J. Pappelis, assistant professor of botany, and L.V. Boone, area agronomist for the University of Illinois extension service.

Writing or contributing to one or more plant physiology section reports were Pappelis; Joseph P. Vavra, professor of plant industries; Walter E. Schmid, assistant professor of botany; Jacob Verduin, professor of botany, and graduate students Gene P. Offermann, Fuhs; Larry Hawt, Mount Carmel, and Si-meon K. Imbamba, Maragoli, Kenya.

$15,534 Grant

Set for 3 Trainees

SIU has received a $15,534 grant from the National Science Foundation to provide three graduate traineeships.

In awarding the grant, the foundation stipulated that funds be used to support research by one graduate student in mathematics and two in the areas of engineering, mathematical or physical sciences.

The grant will be administered by David T. Kenney, acting dean of the Graduate School.

King, 300 Negroes Arrested In 'Bama City Demonstration

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — The largest civil rights demonstration in a two week campaign in Selma sent Martin Luther King Jr. and about 300 other Negroes to jail Monday and brought hundreds of Negro students parading through the streets in protest.

King was arrested by city police while leading a march to the Dallas County Courthouse where other Negroes tried again to register as voters as they have for the past two weeks.

Arrested with the 1964 Nobel Peace prize winner was one of his top aides, the Rev. Ralph Abernathy. King, Abernathy and their followers were charged with parading without a permit after disregarding a warning from Selma's public safety director.

While the integration leader and the others were being booked at the city jail, Negro students by the hundreds began picketing the courthouse where the voter registration board was in session.

Approximately 30 Negroes were arrested for contempt of court by sheriff's deputies because, Sheriff James G. Clark said, they were interfering with a session of state court.

Judge James A. Hare, who was presiding over the court, fined the Negroes $50 and sentenced them to five days in jail for contempt after they refused to disperse when the sheriff ordered them to cease the picketing.

After the first group of 15 pickets marched in front of the courthouse and ultimately

Johnson Asks Dockers To Go Back to Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson appealed Monday for a quick end to the 22-day dock strike that has tied up shipping along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts at an estimated cost of $60 million a day.

Union officials said any back-to-work order must come from Thomas W. Gleason, president of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association in New York.

were arrested, Negro students began walking past the building carry freedom signs.

They were put aboard school buses to be turned over to the city truant officer.

Meanwhile, at Marion, Ala., in neighboring Perry County, several hundred Negroes lined up to register as voters at the courthouse. There were no incidents.

Groups of high school pupils, organized before the registration began, stated tests of several eating places and were served without incident.

King's arrest came as he led a group of about 300 adult Negroes from a church toward the courthouse to dramatize again their demands for speedier and more lenient voter registration.

The city safety director, speaking in a voice hoarse from laryngitis, stopped the procession and told the Negroes, "This is a deliberate attempt to violate the city's parade ordinance." He told them they would have to break up into smaller groups.

Sukarno Hits American Policy, Demands 'Leave Asia Alone'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indonesian President Sukarno says he is not alone when he complains of American policy in the Far East.

He said America's best move would be "to leave us alone," and if U.S. forces would leave South Viet Nam "the South Vietnamese would love America." The United States has been supporting South Vietnamese efforts to defeat Communist guerrillas.

Appearing on the CBS radio and television show "Face the Nation," Sukarno said the "leave us alone" attitude is widespread in the Far East, citing the Philippines as another example. In that island nation there have been demonstrations over the shooting of Filipino intruders on American military bases.

Laotian Loyalists Suppress Uprising

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) Loyalists quietly suppressed Monday an uprising by a group of young officers who said they wanted to reform the army high command. Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma called the incident a misunderstanding.

There was no bloodshed. Plans of the young officers, headed by Col. Bounlert Sy-cossie, faded under the combined pressure of a government show of force and a two-hour conference at the royal palace with Souvanna and his generals.

It looked like a family tiff within the rightist-neutralist forces fighting as allies against the pro-Communist Path Lao, the third faction of this unstable jungle kingdom. Rightists are dominant in the armed forces of Souvanna, who is himself a neutralist.

Rightist Gen. Kouprasith Abhay headed troops, guns and armored cars to recover the capital from a battalion of soldiers supporting the attempted coup.

Though the rebels had set up four roadblocks, they chose not to fight. Wearing blue kerchiefs for identification, they gave way before the loyalists, in orange scarves.

The rebels seized the Vientiane radio station Sunday night. They broadcast a communique saying they wanted to reform the army's leadership, take military control out of the hands of cliques, and insure justice.

Soviets Make Major Move In Quarrel

By George Syvertsen

MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev paid a secret, three-day visit to Hungary last week and there were hints Monday in Moscow that Premier Alexei N. Kosygin would make his trip to North Viet Nam in the next few days.

Behind these developments were indications that the two new Kremlin leaders may be on the verge of making a major Soviet move in the Soviet-Chinese ideological dispute.

Brezhnev, leader of the Soviet Communist party, went to Budapest Friday for talks with the Hungarian party chief, Janos Kadar.

Brezhnev had met Kadar last month in Poland at a Soviet bloc summit conference.

The main topic believed on the agenda when he met with Kadar in Budapest was the Kremlin's call for a meeting of Communist officials from 26 nations in Moscow March 1 to prepare for a full Communist meeting later on the dispute with the Red Chinese.

With Brezhnev on the Hungarian trip was Nikolai V. Podgorny, a member of the Soviet party Presidium.

The Tass announcement of the visit gave no details of the talks and said only that they were held "in a heartfelt and comradely atmosphere."

Kadar has upped the Soviet call for a meeting on the Moscow-Peking split but he has cautioned against any further action that might widen it.

Since Nikita Khrushchev was ousted in October by leaders who were said to have feared that his attitude toward Peking might make the crisis irreparable, Brezhnev and Kosygin have been reported sounding out their allies as to future strategy.

The hint that Kosygin might be taking off for Hanoi in a few days appeared in a dispatch to the government paper Izvestia from the North Vietnamese capital. It quoted a Vietnamese official as saying the government was happy that Kosygin would come during the lunar new year holidays. They began Monday and continue for a week.

Apart from the Warsaw conference, Brezhnev up to now has had meetings with the Communist leaders of Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary since taking over.

Bundy Being Sent On Viet Mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is sending his White House adviser on international security affairs, McGeorge Bundy, to Viet Nam today for consultation on recent events and conditions.

In announcing the mission for Bundy, the White House disclosed the President held one high-level meeting Monday at which the Vietnamese situation was a prime topic, and had scheduled another with the National Security Council for 6:30 p.m. EST.

Press Secretary George Reedy said the decision to send Bundy to Saigon was not a matter of crisis. Rather, he said, it is to take the place of periodic trips Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor has been making to Washington about every two months.

Legislators' Terms to Be Cut; High Court Nods Remap Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld Monday the broad power of lower courts to reduce the normal terms of legislators in New York and Virginia during reapportionment of their districts.

The court thereby took another step to buttress the effect of its decision last June that state legislatures must be aligned on a "one-man, one-vote" formula.

Johnson Keeping Hourly Check on Vice President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is keeping what amounts to an almost hourly check on the whereabouts of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey while he shifts some of his tasks to his second man.

Johnson personally has instructed Humphrey not to leave town without detailing to him his itinerary so that the chief executive will know at any given moment where to locate him.

Recently when he spoke in Arizona, the White House called Humphrey to find out exactly how he planned to return and when he would arrive in Washington.

This unusual check on the movements of a subordinate is attributed by Humphrey's friends to the fact that Johnson has called on the vice president — particularly during the President's recent bout with a cold — to take care of executive matters he ordinarily would handle himself.

During last week, Humphrey met with several ambassadors for brief foreign policy discussions, checked over the antipoverty and civil rights programs and lobbied his former Senate colleagues to soften the House-passed ban on further shipment of agricultural commodities to Egypt.

This activity is one reason Johnson didn't name Humphrey to head the U.S. delegation to Sir Winston Churchill's funeral in London.

While there has been a great deal of discussion about Johnson's bypassing of Humphrey in this instance, the President never has mentioned the matter to the vice president in their frequent telephone conversations.

Monday's 7-2 decision upheld action by a three-judge U.S. District Court in New York City last July 27 and by a similar special court in Alexandria, Va., Sept. 18.

The court in Alexandria ruled that Virginia's state senators elected in 1963 under an invalidated apportionment plan could serve only two years of their four-year terms — until next November — and directed that the General Assembly be reapportioned by then.

The court in New York City ruled last summer that legislators in the state could be elected in November as scheduled under an invalidated apportionment but for one-year terms, instead of the normal two.

It decreed also that an election be held next November under a valid apportionment plan to be drawn up by next April 1, would limit the terms again to one year.

Faith Reaffirmed

Academy Neighbors Rallying in Support

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — Friends are rallying in support of cadets and faculty at the Air Force Academy, battered by a classroom cheating scandal that has caused 93 cadet resignations. More are expected.

Business leaders in Colorado Springs, 12 miles south of here, declared in full-page advertisements in the city's two newspapers Sunday:

"The people of Colorado Springs reaffirm their faith in the great majority of cadets who have always maintained the highest standards of moral integrity. The cadet wing, faculty and staff are valued neighbors in our community."

The academy had 2,567 cadets enrolled Jan. 15 before the scandal broke. Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert said he expected about 100 resignations for violation of the cadet honor code and among them would be about 30 of the 40 varsity football players.

The 93 resignations already eclipsed the 90 cadets who quit the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1951 in a similar cribbing affair.

Senate Approves Anti-Poverty Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed Monday the billion-dollar Appalachia bill designed to produce jobs and raise living standards in the depressed mountain country of 11 states.

President Johnson hailed the 62-22 vote approval as providing "real encouragement to that region."

House hearings on the $1,092,400,000 measure begin Wednesday and leaders there predict quick approval to make this one of the first major bills to go to the White House this year.

The bill is backed strongly by the President in his avowed drive to eliminate poverty.

The Senate outcome was a victory for Sens. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., and John S. Cooper, R-Ky., cosponsors and floor managers of the bill.

Their states will be among the chief beneficiaries in the 165,000-square mile region where more than 15 million persons live.

Bulk of the federal aid funds in the bill, $840 million, would go for 3,350 miles of highway construction.

Wednesday, he is scheduled to address a music student convocation at 10 a.m. in Furr Auditorium, University School, on the topic, "The Realization of Your Goals," and to give a public lecture, "The Arts in a Changing World," at 8 p.m. in Muckelroy Auditorium, Agriculture Building.

On Thursday, he will have informal visits with music and sociology faculty members and graduate students. He will be at SIU's Alton campus on Friday.

reached. If any sectioning difficulties develop he will be contacted and asked to report to Sectioning in order to resolve the problem. This system is planned to reduce the time spent by the student and should affect his schedule only slightly if at all.

In addition to the above step, all current students planning to attend school during the spring quarter are urged to register during the advance registration period which ends March 10.

While no definite plans have yet been made there will undoubtedly be some system established for use in the coming Spring quarter whereby students will not be able to freely elect to wait until the third day of the Spring quarter to register. This may take the form of requiring the student to receive prior permission to do so or, perhaps a larger financial penalty, although it is hoped that this latter method will be a last resort only.

Sears to Begin Botany Lectures

The Department of Botany has released the seminar schedule for the rest of the quarter.

Meetings will be at 4 p.m. each Wednesday in Room 323 of the Life Science Building. The speaker will be Paul B. Sears, visiting professor of botany.

Sears, distinguished as an author, educator, conservationist and ecologist, as well as a botanist, will speak on the following topics: Feb. 3, "The Grassland Province," Feb. 10, "Water," Feb. 17, "Darwin Among the Machines," Feb. 24, "Prelude to Utopia," March 3, "The Human Avalanche," March 10, "The Desert Peninsula."

Swine Research Grant Awarded

Joseph E. Burnside Jr., professor of animal industries, has been awarded a $2,000 grant by Merck and Company, Rahway, N.J., to continue a special swine-nutrition research project.

Burnside is a specialist on swine nutrition.

Ruffner Asks Committee; Student Council To Draft Working Paper on SIU Government

after the November meeting that there was no assurance the committee's plan would be accepted, said in his recent message to the Carbondale council:
"There is a distinct possibility, in my mind, that the ad hoc committee may turn out to be a sham and a hoax."
Ruffner said Saturday that: "Anyone is stupid, in my opinion, to assume that this (plan for student government) is all figured out...that it's fixed. We're all stumbling together."

Asked after the meeting if he had changed his mind about the committee, Micken said: "I am satisfied, at the present time, that it is not a sham and a hoax. It gives every appearance of being a student-controlled, action group whose decisions will be accepted."
Micken's reference to a "student-controlled" group was obviously the result of Ruffner's earlier decision to step down and relinquish the chairmanship to William H.

Murphy, chairman of the University Student Council.

Ruffner explained the reason for his giving up the chairmanship by saying, "I don't want students to feel that the administration is going to do it (the working paper). I hope this will reassure them."

Ruffner also said he felt that he had accomplished his original purpose in getting the committee established and organized and seeing that its members knew what it was all about.

After he had presented his plan to the committee, Ruffner suggested it might want to ask President Morris for permission to operate under the present system for another year, to give the committee more time to come up with a workable program.

The suggestion met immediate objection. Representatives from both the Carbondale campus and the University Student Council expressed opposition because of what they said would be a psychological effect on the students if elections were postponed.

The committee immediately went to work to set deadlines so that the work could be done in time to hold elections at the usual time (in May).

The following deadlines were set:

Students and organizations wishing to have their proposals considered by the campus student council must submit them by Feb. 17. Otherwise, plans may be submitted to the University Student Council for consideration by the ad hoc committee, by March 1.

The committee also set March 7 as the date of its next meeting. Additionally, plans were made to hold a retreat at Little Grassy April 2-4 to consider all proposals and to draft the final working paper.

Ad Hoc Is Mum On Earlier Plans

No mention was made at Saturday's meeting of the University Student Council's ad hoc committee of the proposals submitted by representatives from the Carbondale campus at the November meeting.

Pat Micken, sponsor of the proposals, told the Daily Egyptian that he thought it would be premature to bring them up, in light of what happened at the meeting.

He said, however, that he planned to use them in a re-evaluation of the position of the Carbondale campus student council. He indicated they would be revised to meet recent changes and that they would likely be submitted, along with additional proposals, at the next meeting.

Southern Leasing Land to U.S. For Forest Center Expansion

SIU has completed documents leasing two tracts of land to the federal government for 99 years for a proposed expansion of the Carbondale Forest Research Center facilities, according to Robert Merz, project leader for the Center.

One tract, about 98 by 200 feet, and a connecting driveway is on the Carbondale campus between Thompson Woods and Campus Drive a short distance southeast of the Agriculture Building. Merz says the U.S. Forest Service is planning an office and laboratory building for the site.

The other tract of about 40 acres is on University Experimental Farm land west of the Federal Small Fruits Research Center two miles west of the campus. This area will be used for greenhouses, a pond and planting area for forestry research. Merz says plans already are being drawn for constructing the pond. A $50,000 appropriation for architectural fees and planning has been approved by Congress.

Cowboy Matmen Score 64th Victory

Oklahoma State's defeat of the Saluki wrestlers was their 64th straight victory. The winning streak strung started in 1959, after a late season loss to the University of Oklahoma.

This total is still far from the Cowboys' all-time record of 76 in a row, compiled between 1938 and 1951.

Oklahoma State's 44-year wrestling statistics show 293 victories against only 15 losses. During that time they claimed 24 NCAA wrestling championships.

One reason both Oklahoma

State and the University of Oklahoma are such strong wrestling powers is that competitive wrestling starts in the second grade in Oklahoma elementary schools.

The attendance at the SIU-Oklahoma State meet was announced at 4,800—a small crowd by their standards. Their meet against arch-rival Oklahoma on Feb. 13 is already a sell-out. State's field house, Gallagher Hall, holds 8,000. In addition, this match, like all home matches, will be broadcast.

The crowds at Oklahoma State are spirited to say the least. Cheerleaders are present, but are not really needed. In addition, the mascot, Pistol Pete, comes to the meet armed with his two six-guns, which he fires when the cowboys take the mat.

Wrestler Dave Pfforr of Southern had at least one member of his fan club down there. It seems one of his high school friends (the opposite sex) gave him a personal call wishing him good luck.

takedown, lost to State's Roy Brewer, 4-1.

The SIU wrestlers found out why Oklahoma State University has the No. 1 ranked wrestling team in the country, as the Salukis were convincingly defeated by the Cowboys.

Although the final score, 25-5, appears one-sided, the meet was far from easy for the Cowboys.

Besides the lone Southern victory, scored by George McCreery, coach Jim Wilkinson received good but losing performances from Larry Baron, 130 pounds, Dave Pfforr, 137 pounds, and Antone Kusmanoff, 157 pounds.

McCreery pinned his opponent Eric Lynn with a little more than a minute gone in the second period. Teammate Baron led most of the way in his match against the Cowboys' Grady Sells, but a last-minute reversal by Sells defeated him 7-6.

Pfforr stayed close to the Cowboys' Gene Davis, a sophomore, for two periods, but finally lost 10-4. Davis was undefeated in high school competition.

Kusmanoff, in a defensive struggle which saw but one

In other matches Southern's Don Devine, 123 pounds, lost to Dennis Dutsch 4-0. Devine's bad period was the second, in which he was put on the defensive the entire period.

Bob Herkert, at 177 pounds, was completely out-matched by State's Bill Harlow. Harlow had pinned 4 of 7 victims he had faced this season before facing Herkert.

Oklahoma State's Jack Brisco earned State's only fall as he pinned Dan Gesky at 1:51 of the second period.

Wilkinson was forced to forfeit the 147 pound class because of Dan DiVito's injured knee.

The victory was Oklahoma State's sixth straight of the year without a loss and left the Salukis dual meet record at 1-2.

The Salukis will next be in action Feb. 12 when they travel to Detroit for the Hazelpark, Mich., Invitational wrestling tournament.

The Salukis next home meet will be Feb. 24 when Indiana State University pays a visit to the Arena.

Chicago High Team Beats

SIU's Freshman Swimmers

Powerful Fenwick High School, which has produced such swimming greats as Olympic gold medal winner Kenny Sitzberger, handed SIU's freshman swimming team its second setback of the season with a lopsided 65-29 victory Saturday at the University School Pool.

The win was the eighth straight of the season for the Chicago team which Friday night splashed by the Sheridan Swim Club of Quincy, 84-11.

The victory also avenged a 49-46 defeat the Salukis pinned on the Friars last year. That loss was the first dual defeat the history-rich swim school had suffered in 14 years.

Despite Saturday's loss Coach Ralph Casey got outstanding performances from freestylers Ed Mossotti and Mike Miles and diver Loren Walker.

Mossotti, the high school All-American from St. Louis, continued his assault on the freshmen record book. He broke one mark and just missed another.

The 6-2, 195 pounder erased his own 100-yard free style record with a winning 49.0 clocking which was .3 of a second below his old standard.

The near-record breaking performance came in the shorter 50-yard event where the former Missouri state prep champ clipped off a 22.4 to just miss his 22.1 record.

Miles, the brother of varsity butterflyer Kimo, won his first race as a Saluki in the 200 free style with a 1:56.8 clocking, although he had to stop Fenwick's outstanding Mike Naber to do it.

Naber, Friar captain George Wendt and star backstroker Bob McMahon all qualified for the Olympic trials in New York last summer.

Wendt and Naber placed one-two in the 500 free style with Miles third with a 5:35.5 time compared to Wendt's winning 5:15.8.

Walker won the diving with 172.3 points to Bruce Manaman's 164.7.

The freshmen will not face competition until late this month when they enter the UNC Freshman Invitational.

Schmitz, Judy Wills Win World Titles

Take Events in Tumbling, Trampoline at London Meet

SIU's Frank Schmitz and Judy Wills each became World Champions in their respective divisions at the second annual World Trampoline Championships, which were held over the weekend in London.

Gym Clock Helps Stretch Cage Jinx

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) The time is back in joint now in the James Wood High School gymnasium after eight basketball games that really added up to almost nine. Foes of James Wood have been losing regularly in the gym and so, it turns out, has the time clock. A check Friday night before a game with Poquoson showed that it took the clock 74 seconds to tick off a 60-second minute. They got another clock for the Poquoson game. Lucky for Poquoson, too, for even a genuine 32 minutes seemed interminable to the visitors. James Wood won 103-38.

SIU Gymnasts Win 31st and 32nd Victories, Defeating Mankato State and Minnesota U.

The Southern men's gymnastic team scored its 31st and 32nd consecutive victories by defeating Mankato State and the University of Minnesota over the weekend. Southern's 69-51 victory over Mankato was closer than expected, due to some questionable judging, that benefited the home team. In this meet all-around performer Larry Lindauer, Tom Cook, Mike Boegler and Brent Williams were the big point men for the Salukis. Lindauer had two first in the long horse and parallel bar events and a third in both the rings and the side horse.

17 Air Cadets Are Pledged by Arnold Society

Seventeen new pledges have been accepted by Arnold Air Society for the winter quarter. They are Howard F. Benson, John A. Caputo, Steve B. Cothorn, Dan DeClue, Frank G. Duda, Paul E. Gerson, Donald E. Harper, Larry D. Harr, Charles A. Jurjevich, Daniel L. McLane, Lawrence J. McWard, Melvin E. Mueller, Larry E. Nuhn, Raymond L. Reed, John H. Slaughter, Warren F. Stewart, and James P. White. The new members will be initiated at a banquet later this quarter.

ship in tumbling and finished second to teammate Gary Erwin of the University of Michigan in the trampoline championships.

Miss Wills, currently a senior at University School, won her second consecutive World Trampoline Championship, finishing ahead of the AAU's Betty Avery and Nancy Smith, her teammate at SIU.

In addition to the trampoline crown Miss Wills won the women's tumbling championship.

Since she was 8, Miss Wills has thrived on competition. At that early age she was already a good ground tumbler, regularly doing "swingtime full twister" with the best.

In 1963 she won both the women's tumbling and trampoline crowns at the National AAU Championships. She repeated her feat in 1964.

Also in 1964 she won the North American Trampoline Championships.

Miss Wills is already planning on attending Southern, where she hopes to add to her ever-growing collection of gymnastic championships.

Schmitz is no stranger to SIU gymnastic fans either. As a member of Bill Meade's men's team, the sophomore currently leads his team in scoring, having won the free exercise and trampoline events in the three dual meets he has competed in.

At the United States Gymnastic Federation Trials he finished second to Erwin.

JUDY WILLS

Although he loves gymnastics, Schmitz doesn't want to coach it. As a gymnastics performer Schmitz hopes to become a stunt man.

NANCY SMITH

Cook and Boegler both had firsts in their specialties, the rings and side horse respectively.

Williams, who was counted on to pick up some of the slack left by Frank Schmitz, who was in London competing in the World Trampoline Championships, finished first on the trampoline, second in free exercise and third on the long horse.

In the all-around event Southern's Lindauer edged Mankato's Leonard Thompson 511 1/2-507 1/2.

The meet at the University of Minnesota was much easier for the Salukis, as the gymnasts piled up a 68-44 score. The score would have been much more one-sided had coach Bill Meade counted Lindauer's victory in the all-around category.

In this meet Southern finished first in six of the seven events losing only on the side horse.

Lindauer was once again the big man, but he received help from Bill Wolf and Williams.

Lindauer won free exercise, the long horse and the parallel bar events while teammate Wolf scored victories on the high bar and the rings and added a third on the parallel bars.

Williams again finished first on the trampoline as he tied with Minnesota's Dave Naftalin in that event.

Williams also had a third and a fourth in free exercise and on the long horse respectively.

Meade was again pleased with his team's performance, since it was the team's first dual meets of the season away from home.

He also thinks a couple of his performers, Williams and Lindauer in particular, are coming into their own.

It also appears that Cook and Wolf are having a personal dual on the rings, with both scoring victories in that event in the two meets.

The Saluki gymnasts will now be idle until Feb. 13, when the team visits Ohio State University.

Comeback in 2nd Half

Saluki Cagers Cop Third Road Victory

Sparked by the second half performance of George McNeil, Randy Goin and Joe Ramsey, the Salukis overcame a two-point half-time deficit to edge the Central Missouri State University Mules 71-68.

Southern trailed at the end of the first half 41-39, mainly due to the tremendous shooting of the Mules. The Mules shot 65 per cent from the field, and only Southern's 46 per cent shooting kept the Salukis in the game.

The lead changed hands eight times and the score was tied nine times in the first half. Boyd O'Neal was the high point man for the Salukis as he pumped in 13 points.

Walt Frazier, having a sub-par night, scored eight points and sat out the last three minutes of the half with three personal fouls.

The biggest lead for the Salukis in the opening half was three points, while the Mules built up a four-point margin only to see Dave Lee cut it to two at the half on a 23-foot jump shot.

The second half started out much like the first for the Salukis as they were unable to control the shooting of Cozell Walker, who scored 24 points in the game.

With 17:20 remaining in the game the Salukis trailed by five points, 46-41.

At that point O'Neal scored

two quick baskets to bring the Salukis within one point of the Mules. The Mules stretched the lead to four points, 49-45, with 13:30 remaining. McNeil, Goin, and Ramsey took charge from there. The trio helped build Southern's biggest lead of the night to 71-64 with two minutes remaining.

The Mules tried to make a frantic comeback, but could only cut the Salukis' lead to three points at the end.

McNeil scored 14 of his 18 points in the second half, while teammates Goin and Ramsey each added six.

SIU May Be in Final Year Of Small College Basketball

Southern this year may be completing its final year as a small college basketball school.

Donald N. Boydston, Southern's athletic director, announced recently that the school plans to ask for major college status in basketball for next season.

Boydston cited the school's large enrollment as the contributing reason for the switch.

with eight major college opponents.

Next year Southern plans to play the University of Wichita home and away and has scheduled a game at the University of Washington, Seattle.

Two more major college opponents must be picked if Southern is to have half its schedule in the major college classification.

Coach, Player Get Fines for Hassle

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold (Red) Auerbach of the Boston Celtics was fined $500 and Coach Harry Gallatin of the New York Knicks $100 Monday as a result of their run-in during the Celtics-Knicks game at Boston Garden Sunday.

During Boston's 123-95 victory Auerbach drew two technical fouls.

Auerbach became so angry that officials ejected him from the game but not before Gallatin had walked out onto the playing floor.

In order to be recognized officially as a major college, Southern must schedule half its games against major college opponents. This year the Salukis have games scheduled

McAneney Sets Three Records In Leading Salukis to Victory

Thom McAneney gave notice to the swimming world Saturday that he's back in shape and ready to take on all comers.

The tall junior kingpin of Coach Ralph Casey's swimming squad kept what could have been a dull night from being just that at University School Pool Saturday.

Enjoying the confines of their water home just about as much as Coach Jack Hartman's basketball Salukis like the Arena, Casey's mermen had little trouble making North Central College their fifth straight victim of the season, 63-30.

But it was McAneney who stirred the crowd of about 200 to the edge of their seats. The big Miami, Fla., free stylist broke two pool records and set one school mark as he flashed the form that last year won him a third and fourth in the national championships.

In the 200-yard free style he reeled off a 1:45.7 to finish just shy of 14 seconds ahead of teammate Marco Bonne, who was second. McAneney's time was a whole second better than his pool and school record which he set in February last year.

The time is also believed to be the second best in the nation for the 200 this season; only Ken Walsh of Michigan State has a better clocking.

Walsh splashed off a 1:45.2 earlier last week as his Michigan State Spartans fell before powerful Michigan, 63-41 in a dual encounter.

Walsh also turned in a superb 500-yard clocking of 4:51.2 in the same meet which some of the glitter off McAneney's 500-yard effort Saturday night. The Saluki ace went 4:56.7 in the longer free style as he broke the five minute mark for only the second time this season.

The first sub-five minute performance came against none other than Walsh when the two tangled in the Big Ten Relays, each anchoring his 2000-yard relay teams. The Michigan State veteran won the dual with a 4:55 clocking to McAneney's 4:57.7.

McAneney's time Saturday night was .7 of a second better than the pool record he set last year and the second best of his career. His only better time was recorded in a preliminary heat in last year's nationals when he went 4:53.7.

Besides McAneney's sterling performances, Bob O'Callaghan, Rich Evertz and Andy Stody all turned in some fine marks of their own.

All had the best times of their careers except Stody. Evertz won the individual medley in 2:07.5, and Stody edged O'Callaghan in the 200-yard backstroke with a 2:08.8 time to O'Callaghan's 2:09.0.

Evertz win ended a long dry spell for him. The sophomore from St. Louis hadn't beaten teammate Don Shaffer since the two tangled in the Missouri High School State Tournament two years ago.

The Salukis won 8 of the 11 events during the evening. The visitors, now 2-3 for the year, won only the diving, 200-yard backstroke and the 400-yard freestyle relay.

The results: —

400 medley relay—SIU (O'Callaghan, Pearson, Miles, Westenrieder). Time—3:42.7.

200 freestyle—McAneney S, Bonne S, Kolstad N. Time—1:45.7

50 freestyle—Green S, Roberts S, Thompson N. Time—23.0

Diving—Lightell N, Hitchens S.

200 butterfly—Miles S, Kolstad N, Evertz S. Time—2:00

100 freestyle—Sickler S, Schmidt N, Hardley S. Time—52.0

200 backstroke—Hartzell N, O'Callaghan S, Stody S. Time—2:04.1

500 freestyle—McAneney S, Soper N, Cimberg S. Time—4:56.7

200 breaststroke—Petras S, Harris S, Sologa N. Time—2:23.5

400 freestyle relay—North Central (Thompson, Schmidt, Leckband, Roach). Time—3:48.4.
