Athletics Referendum, Senate Balloting Today

Students will go to the polls at the University Center, Morris Library, University Park and Thompson Point today to vote in a referendum on the University's athletics program. It does not have student members.

The Faculty Senate has recommended that the football program not be dropped. The Senate's report, along with the referendum results will go to the University Council in its meeting Feb. 7. The University Council is the highest advisory group in the University. It does not have student members.

On Feb. 16, the SIU Board of Trustees is scheduled to make a decision on the future of athletics. It will probably receive recommendations from President Deloye W. Morris, who is due back today from a world tour scheduled to make a decision on the future of athletics. It will probably receive recommendations from President Deloye W. Carbondale Park Board officials urged the City Council Tuesday night "not to sell future generations short" by allowing housing development on the city property at reservoir lake.

Instead, board chairman Herbert Settle asked the Council to grant the board a 99-year non-cancellable lease on the land so that it could be developed into an "outstanding" community recreation area.

"I'd hate to see the land taken out of public use," Settle said, referring to City Planning Director John Quinn's proposal to use the property for a lake-from-home development.

Settle argued against Quinn's plans by pointing out the many costs of such a project and the lack of success of other lake developments in the area.

If the city would transfer the property to the park board, Settle contends that the area could be transformed into the "Green mountain park in Illinois."

The park board currently has a 35-year cancellable lease with the city on a 14-acre tract adjacent to the reservoir. This area, which was recently named Evergreen Park, contains ball fields, picnic shelters and tables, and a boat dock.

The city council was receptive to the plans for a community park, but questioned the need for a non-cancellable 99-year lease.

"If we should grant the lease, how can the city guarantee that the park will be developed properly?" Councilman Randall Nelson asked.

Councilman Frank Kirk also expressed concern over the non-cancellable clause, which would take any control of the land out of the hands of the city since the park board is an independent governmental agency.

Kirk said plans for a community park should be overseen by the city Planning Commission so that the development would coincide with the city's plans and needs.

Settle agreed to Kirk's suggestions and said that the board's plans would be presented to city planners for study.

A heavy "yes" vote today on the issues of expanding SIU's athletic program would be a rewarding endorsement of the results of last year's student questionnaire. Not everyone believes that student opinion is being ignored; perhaps, students are being asked again, "Are you sure you are willing to pay for such an expansion?"

This school does not have adequate sports and recreation facilities for its present size and the problem will get worse if we do not have a big time sports program to help pay for more such facilities.

Anyone who doubts the worth of sports as a unifying force for students, faculty and staff evidently was not here when 300 fans met our NIT champs at the airport. This crowd came out at 11 p.m. during a vacation.

Pacifism Leads to Destruction

To the Daily Egyptian:

Since the inception of the undeclared war in Vietnam, "pacifism" has been confused with a preference for love, which, in turn, has inundated the academic community with protests and demonstrations.

In consequence, some chaos has been created within the student body by their anti-war position, which leads ultimately to another Dunkirk.

In particular, last week a graduate of the famous General Studies Institute at SIU, tried with passionate effort to end the Vietnam War by individualistic pacifism.

The discourse was occasioned by the current draft law, requiring military duty in the army—the instrument for the common defense sanctioned by the Constitution of the United States.

Like the individualistic pacifist in 1914-1918, the General Studies graduate calls for the annulment of life by the state for any purpose in peace or in war and denies the right of government to force him to fight or do anything else contrary to his own conscience.

Moreover, the draft is viewed as the antithesis of the democratic way of life. Conscription is regarded as a flat contradiction of all the cherished ideals of individual freedom, democratic liberty, and Christian teaching.

To him, induction or any other form of participation in the war effort is contrary to his conscience. Conscription is interpreted as a dangerous threat where the state forces the individual to participate in battle.

Discipline, according to the individualistic pacifist, violates conscience, a region of human life where directives of the state do not hold.

The process of the individualistic objector hurls a serious challenge that cannot be dismissed summarily. It is a serious pro-vocation against the militaristic regimination of life in a country long boastful of its civil and political freedom.

Individualistic pacifism resorts, like philosophical anarchism, upon an exaggerated conception of the nature of personality and individual rights. It fails to recognize, however, that the physical existence as well as the ethical, spiritual, and intellectual life of the individual, is a product of the group and of society (Aristotle, "Nicomachean Ethics").

Consequently, the interest of the individual must be subordinate to the collective interest of society for the fundamental liberty of the Republic cannot be preserved when the draft law is disobeyed when

Tell It Like It Is

"I have no excuse whatsoever for being a criminal act as my ship intruded deep into the territorial waters of the Democratic People's Republic of North Korea and was captured by the naval patrol craft of the Korean People's Navy in their self-defense action while conducting the criminal espionage activity." This fractured English, North Korea's official news agency says with a straight face, is a direct quotation from the confession of Capt. Lloyd M. Bucher (University of Missouri '52), captain of the American intelligence vessel, that was seized by the Koreans off Wonsan.

"Whatever the facts in the Peenoe Incident—and they are still by no means clear—these are obviously not the words of an American, nor is it the kind of statement an American naval officer would sign of his own free will. To possible piracy charges against the North Koreans, must be added grave questions about their treatment of a prisoner of war. The "Confession" is either a product of coercion or a rational fabrication."

Vote to Improve Athletics

To the Daily Egyptian:

Today serves as an important date in student opinion at SIU. Will the student body support an increase in activity fees for an improved athletic program or will they support the Faculty and Graduate Council reports that call for no improvement of our athletic program?

Will the students go along with two archaic and outdated opinions which contend that our athletic needs are currently being met, and that any improvement in our scholarship program would spell danger to SIU's academic status? Let's hope not.

I don't think the students of this University are going to be taken by these blatant untruths. The facts speak for themselves. Major colleges like the University of Illinois, Michigan State, UCLA, and countless others have excelled athletic programs, yet they also retain an equally good academic standing.

Intercolligate athletics has been and again shown itself to be a necessary and vital part of all university curriculums. Why, then, should we as students be forced to accept a second-rate program because of a few opinionated and narrow-minded faculty members?

We must realize and use the voting power that we as students have. We must realize that no improvement in our athletic program will mean weaker teams in the future.

For a college team to continue a winning tradition, it must have a program which allows it to recruit the best talent available. Let's vote to improve our athletic program and then sit back with a prayer on our lips and hope that for once in this school's history student opinion will be approved and carried out by the administration.

Fidel Castro, reacting to challenges within his Communist Party by instituting a broad purge, seems bent on turning Cuba into another little China within the Red World, at the risk of severely straining already-aggravated relations with the Soviet Union.

The announcement of a trial for nine "old" Communists, meaning those following Moscow's line, is likely to be received with anger in the Kremlin, whose economic and military aid support the Castro regime.

Behind Castro's crackdown are six years of discontent even before the missile crisis of 1962 left Castro bitter against his Soviet benefactors, because they agreed to withdraw offensive rockets from Cuba.

Castro evidently feels he can play with this political dynamite on the assumption that Moscow has no option except to continue supporting his regime as the only island of communism in the Western Hemisphere.

Cuba depends upon the Soviet Union and Communist nations as markets for agricultural products and as sources of military aid. It relies on Russia and the Communist bloc for oil and oil products, raw materials, semimanufactured products, metals, fertilizers, cement, rubber, chemical products, and even foods and medicines. There is no precise figure on what aid to Cuba costs the Russians, but it must be well in excess of $1 million a day.

The five years Moscow has displayed irritation at the state of the Cuban economy, the way economic aid was used and the effects of Castro's expensive adventures in subversion abroad.

Moscow has been advising Cuba's Communists to "build socialism first", with an eye on getting oil and other aid to Cuba.

The announcement of the purges is likely to be received with anger in the Kremlin, whose economic and military aid support the Castro regime.

Johnson Holds Off Asian Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President administration held in reserve Wednesday a broad response to the Red terror attacks throughout South Viet nam pending more information on the outcome of the Communist assaults.

The White House disclosed President Warner on Wednesday night with members of the Senate and House Armed Services and Appropriations committees.

Press secretary George Christian said the President was concerned about the incredible leaders of both parties that the Asian crisis might require him to propose special measures which he hopes would be considered in a nonparisan atmosphere.

However the presidential spokesmen as Secretary of State had been under way since January 27, last year.

Mondale declined to say whether a new military retaliation must have well been planned in advance. At the State Department, press officer Robert J. McCloskey announced that the major target cities have been under way since Hanoi announced a month ago that it will enter into talks if the bombing of North Vietnam is halted. McCloskey declined to say whether any military retaliation is planned against the Red for its wave of attacks on U.S. installations and population center in South Vietnam.

Washington strategists were still scanning reports of continued guerrilla assaults during the declared lunar new year cease-fire and keeping an eye out for domestic reaction in the United States.

President Warner on Wednesday that 24-hour fighting in the Saigon area but outside Saigon itself.

The two police stations in Cholon were attacked within 30 minutes of each other with 12 to 50 Viet Cong blasting away with small arms and machine guns.

There were several minor attacks on U.S. installations in Saigon, where at least 12 U.S. soldiers and Marines were killed in fending off a guerrilla onslaught at the U.S. Embassy and other installations Wednesday.

The U.S. Command announced that 45 U.S. soldiers had been killed and six wounded in the last 24 hours of fighting in the Saigon area but outside Saigon itself.

The U.S. Air Force has said it would attack the Viet Cong headquarters and the 25th Vietnamese Division.

"It is felt that we now have the initiative and that we are no longer reacting to enemy-initiated actions but are seeking out the enemy," the U.S. Command said at 12:30 a.m.

But small-arms fire still sounded, there were fires in the outskirt, and parachute flares lit the night sky, where revuing fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships chased at the enemy.

Communist mortars lobbed the big U.S. airfield, the 1st Field Force Artillery headquarters and the 5th Special Forces headquarters at Nha Trang, on the coast 190 miles northeast of Saigon. In another phase of a Red drive launched Tuesday at the outset of the greatest of the Vietnamese holidays, the lunar new year Tet.

Pursuing Saigon area operations that included a final crashed attack on the U.S. Embassy, the Viet Cong opened up with machine-guns and small-arms fire against another of the U.S. military billets that were among their major targets Wednesday. Two Claymore-type mines also were set off in the area. Spokesmen said there were no casualties or damage.

Blame for Gemini Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — A year-long Senate inquiry into the fiery death of three astronauts brought a conclusion Wednesday that "no single policy or system was found to be responsible for the Apollo 204 accident." "Over-confidence and complacency" resulted from a prior successful series of massed flights in the earlier Mercury and Gemini projects, said the Senate Space Committee.

But the usually unanimous panel, which supervises the multibillion dollar space program, differed sharply in the degree of reprimands for top officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the prime contractors. The three astronauts died in a lunar landing project,

North American Aviation, Inc.

Mondale said the lunar project "was in deep and perilous trouble" before the accident and Congress was unaware of that fact.

When Congress learned about a critical NASA report on North American through outside sources, Mondale said, there were "deliberate efforts to mislead committee members and prevent an inquiry into congressional inquiries during an investigation of this nation's worst space tragedy.

NASA's performance — the evasiveness, the lack of candor, the patronizing attitude exhibited toward the Congress, the refusal to respond fully and forthrightly to legitimate congressional inquiries, and the solicitous concerns for corporate sensitiveness at a time of national tragedy — only produces a loss of congressional and public confidence in NASA programs," Mondale wrote.

"It is felt that we now have the initiative and that we are no longer reacting to enemy-initiated actions but are seeking out the enemy," the U.S. Command said at 12:30 a.m.

SEUL (AP) - A Communist North Korea leader hinted Wednesday that the crew of the Pueblo might be released after days of negotiations. He said further developments in the Korean crisis lie in the hands of the United States.

The radio at Pyongyang, the capital of North Korea, said Kim Kwang Hyup, secretary of the Central Committee of the North Korean Workers Communist party, mentioned the possibility of a parley and a subsequent meeting at a reception for a Russian Communist party delegation.

"It is a misattribution if the U.S. imperialists think that they can solve the incident of the Pueblo with the intrusion of the imperialists of our country by military threats or by the method of the aggressive war or through illegal discussion at the United Nations," the official Korean news agency editorialized.

Kim did not say what he meant by previous practices. But on the receipt of U.S. Army two crewmen of a U.S. Army helicopter shot down by North Korea over North Korea were released May 17. This, however, was a year after their capture.

In Tokyo, an official of a pro-North Korean organization said he believed the crew would be released if the United States admitted it violated the territorial waters of North Korea and promised not to repeat the incident.

The official, Paik Hang-ki, deputy chief of the foreign affairs section of the Federation of Korean Residents in Japan, said his view was unorthodox since he noted that Pyongyang had demanded a U.S. apology. He said the federation maintains contacts with North Korea's united front.

In Seoul, Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah indicated his government was displeased with the handling of the Korean crisis by the United States.

He said more attention should be paid to the North Korean attempt to assassinate President Chung Hee Park Jan. 21 than to the seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship. His government will object to any direct talks between the United States and North Korea on any proposal to exchange the Pueblo crew for North Korean infiltrators, he declared at a news conference.

Intelligence sources reported 68 North Korean infiltrators were captured last year and 11 surrendered.

A basic assessment of the current crisis lies in taking firm measures to assure the security of the Republic of Korea and prevent recurrence of any provocative acts by the North Korean regime," Choi said.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Some 7,300 low-income workers will add $2.3 billion to their pay today as the second stage of a five-year increase in federal wage minimums to $1.40 an hour.

Workers engaged in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for interstate commerce or employed in establishments that have direct or indirect effects on interstate commerce will receive their increased wages from $1.00 an hour to $1.60 an hour, depending on their state of residence.

Some 33 million workers - mainly in manufacturing, transportation, wholesale trade, retail trade, finance, and insurance and real estate - will benefit directly.

Reality only some 6 million will get an increase in pay. They include some of the lowest-paid workers even below the minimum.

According to 6.1 million workers - those employed in the service industries such as hospitals, nursing homes, smaller retail stores, laundries, restaurants, hotels and on large farms - will be affected by an increase in their minimum wage from $1.10 an hour to $1.60 an hour, a rise of one-third.

The minimums for those workers will increase by 15 cents every year until $1.60 an hour is reached on Feb. 1, 1971. The first step in the big minimum wage increase in history went into effect last Feb. 1 when the hourly rate was increased from $1.25 to $1.40. It also brought 8 million additional workers up to the law but below the lower minimum of $1 an hour.

Workers in public schools, hospitals and other state institutions are covered by the Supreme Court rule in a test case, He & Sons v. Texas, 4th U.S., speaking also for 36 other states, challenged the extension of federal minimum wage and hour standards to state employees.

The latest increases again brought some protests of higher costs and smaller work forces but many manufacturers for the industries affected said they already were meeting the minimums. The Labor Department tended to agree with the latter group.

In Chicago, a spokesman for Michael Reese Hospital and Medical Center said: "When labor costs rise there is only one place the hospital can get additional income - from the patients."

In the five-year program to set federal minimums, the move to cleanse the nation's labor market from the evils of the black market and to give all workers a uniform wage and employment rates is estimated it would take six years to complete.

One member of the Prison Board, Thomas Johnson, who led authorities in the capture of the Pueblo, said he believed that two more years would be needed to bring the USS Pueblo back from North Korea.

He asked the state around him to like to set uniform criteria on water quality and to agree on control measures at the national level.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., one of the prime movers of the get-tough, expressed disappointment "with the administration's failure last June to take some $122 million for fiscal 1969 for the federal share of construction of sewage treatment works."

He said, billions had been spent for the interstate highway system - which, he said, was no more important than the move to cleanse the nation's labor market. The statement drew a burst of applause from men of government and industry, club women and others in the ballroom.

Every organization, corporation and governmental agency involved, he said, must join in remedial action. But it is not up to any of us to sit on the sidelines," he said.

Many Linear Descendants Eligible

Numerous unclaimed scholarships and grants are available to SIU students who may be linear descendants of French Huguenots or Civil War veterans or to members of the Air National Guard, according to Charles E. Gray, assistant coordinator of scholarships.

Gray said the National Huguenot Society annually makes available $1,000 to American boys and girls who can prove that they are linear descendants of the Huguenots who settled in what is now the United States on or before Nov. 20, 1787.

Linear descendants of Civil War veterans of both the Union and Confederate armies may still make claims to scholarships that were established immediately after the war by such organizations as the United Daughters of the Confederacy, according to Gray.

A member of the Air National Guard, according to Gray, may receive the $500 balance of a United States Air Force scholarship that originally was for $1000. Gray said the original recipient of the scholarship remained at SIU for only one quarter and that stipulations in the scholarship state that any funds remaining be given to a member of the Air National Guard.

Gray said these scholarships and others were discovered during an evaluation process by the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance in an attempt to make certain that all available scholarships are granted.

Some of the other scholarships mentioned by Gray were:

- A $250 scholarship for a child of a faculty member who is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, a scholarship from the Jewish Vocational Service to an applicant of the Jewish faith from Cook County, Illinois, who has established a feasible career goal; and a scholarship offered by the American Legion to the child of a veteran of World War I with a monthly payment adjusted to the student's needs.

Writer-Lecturer To Address Agriculture Banquet Feb. 9

John Strohm, former editor, world traveler, foreign correspondent and public relations consultant, will speak at the All-Agriculture Banquet and Awards program at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 9 in the University Community Center.

The banquet, open to all interested persons, is sponsored by the Agricultural Student Advisory Council. Dinner reservations may be made with members of the council or at the Dean's Office in the Agriculture Building.

Strohm received the SDX Distinguished Foreign Correspondence Award in 1946 for his Russian reports and in 1958 for his Korean reports.

Musical to be Staged
In Shryock Auditorium

The Broadway musical "On a Clear Day You Can See Forever" will come to SIU Friday as the first of Celebrity Series presentations this quarter.

Starring Carla Alberghetti and Bill Hayes, the enchanting musical by Alan Jay Lerner will be staged at 3:30 and 8 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium.

Tickets are on sale at the University Center Information Desk.

"On a Clear Day You Can See Forever," reported the Herald Tribune, "has not only the nerve to come up with a completely original musical comedy book, it has also had the jauntiness to tackle a pleasantly tricky, and certainly contemporary subject."

Miss Alberghetti plays a kooky girl named Daisy who stumbles upon a class in hypnosis conducted by a young psychiatrist named Mark, played by Bill Hayes.

The versatile Bill Hayes, portrayed by Bill Hayes, meets his patient, Daisy Gamble, played by Carla Alberghetti. Dr. Bruckner learns that she is addicted to cigarettes. The Broadway musical "On a Clear Day You Can See Forever" will open at SIU Friday afternoon.

Lecture on Leisure Scheduled Thursday

Lawrence Suhm, Director of the Center for Leisure Resources Development at the University of Wisconsin, will speak on some recent findings on leisure at the Home Economics Lounge at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Suhm is sponsored by the Department of Recreation, with the assistance of the Coordinator of Special Programs at SIU. The public is invited.

Businessmen Attend Class; Begin Friday

Veteran businessmen coming the School of Business Advisory Council at SIU will attend classroom sessions of their own choosing when they hold their quarterly meeting Friday on the SIU campus.

The members, polled on their choices, have named 10 classes in business subjects they want to attend. Top vote-getters were titled "Responsibility of Management in Society," "Quantitative Methods for Decision Making," and "Administrative Management."

The advisory council is composed of 19 school of Business alumni and other executives who represent many types of business. They are from Illinois, Missouri and Indiana. The group was initiated by the SIU School of Business to let the school administrators learn from businessmen what they are seeking in the business school graduate and to serve as a sounding board for ideas and methods launched in the school.

Miler Ryun Leads Kansas Against Salukis

SU's indoor track team will try to avenge a 9-29 drubbing it suffered last year at the hands of the University of Kansas when the Salukis meet the Jayhawks tonight at Lawrence, Kan.

Four of SUU's standout meets at last year's meet are gone. They are Al ackman, Bill Cornelli, Jim Dupree and Oscar Moore. Cornelli and Dupree have graduated, and Oscar Moore is scholastically ineligible this term.

Southern did win three events at Lawrence last February. Moore won the two-mile. Jeff duplex won the 1,000-yard run and Mitch Livington won the high jump.

Duxbury and Livingston are back and should be able to pull their share of the load. Also present for SUU will be Ross MacKenzie, the Salukis' outstanding quarter miler.

The University of Kansas throws only one big name at you. But what a name. Jim Ryun, who seems to set a mile record every time he runs, will be ready to go at full gallepy for Kansas.

Ryun holds the world mile record at 3:51.1, which he set in Winnipeg, Canada, this summer. Duxbury will probably be the chief threat for Ryun from SUU.

Kansas Track Coach Bob Timmons has called Ryun one of the best milers of all time. Ryun, a senior, is an almost certain U.S. representative in the summer Olympics at Mexico City.

Ryun was a participant in the 1964 Olympics after he had just graduated from high school.

SIU Track Mentor Lou Hartzog is obviously impressed by Ryun's credentials. "Ryun may be the greatest trackman who ever lived," Hartzog proclaimed. "He's a fantastic player, fantastic personality and a great competitor."

Hartzog is hoping that the long trip to Lawrence will not tire his runners. The team left the Carbondale campus at 9 a.m. and is expected to arrive there at 3 p.m.

"Our triple jumpers will have to dress in the bus and be ready for competition by 5:30," Hartzog noted. "It sure would be nice if we could fly but our budget doesn't permit it."

Ryun may be the only big name that Kansas puts on the track tonight, but SUU will feature one of the most respected triple jumpers in the nation, John Vernon.

Vernon, a native of England, was hampered earlier this year by a leg injury but should be in good form at Kansas.

Duxbury was also injured earlier in the year, which hampered him during the cross country season this fall, but he has had ample time to recover and should also be in top form.

Also competing for SUU will be Rich Ellison, from Berwyn, Ill., pole vaulter; Dale Gardner, middle distance runner from Dewey, Okla., and hurdler Herman Gary from St. Louis.

WORLD'S FASTEST—SUU's track team will meet one of the fastest runners in the history of the sport when it meets Kansas' Jim Ryun tonight at Lawrence. He currently holds the world mile record with an impressive 3:51.1 time.

Matmen in Action Against Iowa State

The SIU wrestling squad will be in action tonight as they travel to Iowa State. The matmen will be out to improve on their 1-3 record in dual competition.

"From the Bloomsburg meet, the one thing we learned was that we need to work on our falls. We are not getting the five points," Coach Bud Wilkinson said.

Wilkinson referred to the Bloomsburg (Pa.) State meet earlier in the week which SUU dropped, 15-14.

Arizona to Test Saluki Gymnasts

Arizona, defending champion of the Western Athletic Conference, will test SUU's gymnasts at 2 p.m. Saturday in the arena.

The Salukis, undefeated in six dual meets this season, will attempt to pick up their sixth consecutive dual meet win.

Arizona, this year's host for the national competition, won its fifth consecutive WAC title last season and is expected to be as capable as this season.

The Wildcats have eight returning lettermen from the team that last season that finished third in the national competition.

Skating Trip Set

The Recreation Committee of Activities Programming Board is sponsoring a "Skating by Starlight" roller skating trip to Poe's Skate, Inc., Marion, Ill., Friday from 9:30 p.m. until midnight. Buses will leave the University Center at 9 p.m. and return at 12:30 a.m.
Frosh Coach LaRue Gives Resignation

Another member of Football Coach Dick Tower's staff, LaRue, resigned in favor of a major university with a big football program.

Freshman Football Coach Jim LaRue has announced that he is leaving the job of defensive coach at a big football program.

LaRue was head coach at the University of Arizona for eight years before coming to Southern.

"I don't think I could have worked for a finer young head coach than Dick Tower, who has a great deal more profession," said LaRue.

"The University has as fine a coach as one could expect to see anywhere for all sports," LaRue said he decided to change jobs because he can advance from the freshman ranks to top assistantship with a major university.

GRENoble, France (AP) - Bob Breithaupt, who never has ducked controversies during his five years as U.S. ski coach, tried to avoid one from starting Wednesday.

The bland boast of America's ski program, which is reportedly considering stepping down Resignation in the wake of this season, denied there is anything serious in his dropping of Penny McGee of Bishop, Calif., from the Olympic team.

"In the first place," he said, "the racers who were selected last April following the final trials at Alpine Meadows simply formed the basic squad from which the final team would be named.

"And secondly, there is no hard and fast rule that the team can't change later. Our sole aim is to put our best chance at the Olympics, regardless of who they are or what they've done in previous years."

Penny was perhaps the No. 1 U.S. female skier in 1966, and for part of 1967. But, Beattie explained:

"Five of the eight girls we picked last April were injured at the time, and Penny was one of them. She suffered a serious back injury following the Wild West Classic at Jackson Hole but didn't tell us anything about it until later. And the injury turned out to be more serious than we thought."

Coaches Want Expansion Now

By Charles Springer

University officials should begin to take immediate steps to expand the athletic program if a heavy favorable vote is reached in today's referendum, according to all of SIU's head coaches questioned Wednesday.

The referendum, conducted "by Student Government officials, is the latest of a long line of attempts to see how students, faculty and alumni feel on the athletics question.

"I would hope that our student body would vote favorably upon expanding our department of athletics," said Basketball Coach Jack Hartman, "just as other areas of our institution," he added.

"Otherwise, I don't feel we would have a really competitive program," said Tennis Coach Dick LeFevre.

"There are many advantages for SIU to have a really strong athletic program," said Football Coach Joe Lutz, "I am hopeful that today's referendum will have more effect than previous referendums have had.

"I'm just hoping that we'll have as many students voting as possible," Boyston stated. "Unless there is a really heavy turnout, it could be the same old story that there isn't a real indication of student opinion.

Saluki Cagers Lose 3rd in Row

By Dave Palermo

The game between Southwestern Missouri State and SIU to celebrate the Arena's 50th anniversary was a do-or-die affair for both teams to be quite a mess for the Salukis as they fell, 67-62, Wednesday night.

The mess was created by a Bear guard who goes by the same name, Greg Mess. His six consecutive free throws in the final nine seconds were a pivotal point of the game and ran SIU's losing streak to three.

With 3:31 left to play in the game and SIU behind 57-56, Jack Hartman called a time out right there.

The Bear guard was one of two players left on the court when SIU was down, 57-60, with but two minutes remaining.

Saluki called a time out and when the two teams broke their respective huddles, the shots began. Bobby Johnson fouled the 5-11 guard and he canned both charity tosses to make it 58-60, with the Bears on top.

The situation repeated itself. Few seconds later when Jackson was again charged with a foul and Mess, in turn, went to the line.

He made both on 60 with but two minutes remaining.

Just seven seconds left and when the two teams broke their respective huddles, the shots began. Jackson fouled the 5-11 guard and he canned both charity tosses to make it 58-60, with the Bears on top.

The situation repeated itself. Few seconds later when Jackson was again charged with a foul and Mess, in turn, went to the line.

He made both on 60 with but two minutes remaining.

The game, which had been a good one for both teams, was over.

New Football Program Won't Be Big Time

By Dave Cooper

The football program under the plan advocated by the Study Commission on Athletics is not "big time" football, according to the head of intercollegiate athletics and the three members who served on the Study Commission.

The members of the Study Commission were Donald N. Boyston, athletic director; John Voight, dean of general studies; and Robert Steinke, associate professor of education at the Edwardsville campus.

"The commission report contends that football will not come in the "big time" category because the main use of the increased funds recommended for intercollegiate athletics is to provide scholarships. At SIU, any increase in funds would be in operating funds for any sport.

"In all circumstances we will $100,000 to $150,000 be available for recruiting in football. Furthermore, there is no plan for scheduling football games against Big Ten, Big Eight, Southeastern or Southeastern Conference teams, the commission stated.

Also, there will be no "entertainment" fund, no bonuses for winning coaches or wholesale expenditures for publicity, the report continued.

The operating budget for SIU football this year is less than $70,000. At any institution operating on a "big time" basis, the total would be twice as much that amount, the commission stated.

However, the report stated there would be a small increase in the operating budget to purchase better athletic equipment, to increase the food allowance for athletes on trips, and hopefully to provide more air travel which would mean fewer days missed from classes.
