Third SIU Military Ball Set For Jan. 16

The Third Annual Military Ball will be presented in the Carbondale National Guard Armory Jan. 16. The Ball, open to Southern's AFROTC cadets and other military personnel in the Carbondale area, will feature Stan Daugherty and his KMOX orchestra.

Army Awards SIU Research Contract

The U. S. Army's Office of Ordnance Research has awarded a contract to SIU for cosmic ray research, it was announced recently. Dr. Otis B. Young, director of the Atomic and Capacitor Research Program at Southern, said the Army office had agreed to finance part of a study Southern began in cooperation with the University of Chicago early this year.

The cosmic ray research at SIU, already receiving financial aid from the Research Corporation, is conducted in newly-completed quarters in the basement of Parkinson Laboratory.

Graduate and undergraduate majors in physics working under Young are studying photographic emulsion plates which have been exposed at high altitudes to record nuclear disintegration caused by high energy bombardment. The new contract will enable Young to hire at least two more part-time assistants, he said.

A program of cosmic ray research was started at the University of Chicago in 1947 under a contract from the U. S. Office of Naval Research. Southern joined the program last March to study heavy nuclei and other particles produced by cosmic rays at very high altitudes.

The contract with the Research Corporation and the new one-year agreement with the Office of Naval Research provide funds to carry on this particular phase of the program, Young explained.

The research project offers opportunities for course work for advanced undergraduates and material for graduate students seeking master's degrees, Young said.

Annual Variety Show Slated For Feb. 12

Feb. 12 has been set as the date for the annual Theta Xi All-School Variety Show, featuring the Service to Southern Awards.

Rasmussen provided a narrative sprinkled with humor, drama, and pathos as he showed, on 16 millimeter film, what life is like in Canada's Caribou Eskimo country.

Rasmussen, a native of Kenosha county, Wis., spent several years in the frozen northlands of Canada, studying and photographing the story of life on the barren plains. He was accompanied on those trips by his wife Betty, who is equally capable in the fields of geology, ornithology, botany, ethnology and mammalogy.

Featured in yesterday's program were film sequences showing the Eskimo drum dance of Stone Age Eskimos, families of lemmings at work in their natural habitat, and studies of nesting Arctic terns, which migrate twice annually over thousands of miles of land. Rasmussen explained that although willow shrub is the region only wood vegetation, there are many varieties of flowers, such as cotton plant, shoreline, and rhododendron.

Carbondale Store Items To Anear In SIU Exhibit

Kitchen utensils, chairs, lamps, fabric, machinery and other items from Carbondale stores will be exhibited in the Allyn Art Gallery from Jan. 17 to Feb. 12.

Planned to show examples of good design in everyday objects, the exhibit is entitled "Good Design from Carbondale Stores." Items in the show will be picked for their function, beauty, and eye appeal.

Carlton S. Ball, associate professor of Art, is chairman of the committee planning the event. Kenneth Rrin, assistant professor of Art, has charge of displaying the items. All members of the art department are co-operating in selecting and arranging the show.

Ball has served as a juror in the Good Design Competition sponsored by the Museum of Modern Art in New York City and the Merchandise Mart in Chicago.

Dr. Johnson Seriously Injured In Accident

Dr. Joseph K. Johnson, chairman of the sociology department, and his wife were seriously injured in an automobile collision near Port Arthur, Tex., Wednesday, Dec. 30.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnson has been visiting their son, Dr. Kay Johnson, a surgeon in Galveston, during the Christmas holidays and had started their return trip to Carbondale when the accident occurred.

It was reported to have been on the inter-coastal highway near Port Arthur and happened early in the morning during a heavy fog.

Mrs. Johnson suffered a skull fracture and a crushed shoulder while her husband received a fractured left hand and right arm, and an injury near the left eye. They were taken to St. Mary's hospital in Port Arthur where they will remain until they are able to resume their holiday home.

No other holiday accidents involving University faculty or students have been reported.

Seniors May Still Order Class Jewelry

Senior class jewelry may still be ordered from the Higgins Jewelry store according to Richard Coleman, senior class president. Orders have been taken since August, according to the store manager. The first shipment of rings is expected to be in soon.

The gold ring is the only one that has Southern's crest on it, plus the engraving around the edge. "Southern Illinois University, charter 1859." The rings are ten karat gold with the student's initials engraved on the inside of the band.

A deposit of $4 is required for each piece ordered. Four pieces of one style must be ordered or a service charge of $2 will be charged.

Spring Registration Begins Monday

All students are urged by the SIU advisement center staff to check schedule change bulletins before beginning pre-registration for the spring quarter. The pre-advisement period began this Monday and pre-registration begins Monday, Jan. 11. Class schedule sheets are now available at the Registrar's Office. To insure enrollment in desired courses, students currently enrolled can take advantage of the pre-registration period which ends Feb. 26. Appointments may be made at the Office of Students Affairs for pre-advisement from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 8:30 a. m. to noon Saturday.

SIU Debaters, Orators At Normal Tournament

Debaters and orators will attend the 22nd Annual Invitational Debate Tournament today and tomorrow at Illinois State Normal University at Bloomington.

SIU will be represented in all three divisions at the tournament. In the cross-question division will be Richard Rieck and Charles Dykhouse, both of Carbondale, on the affirmative and Phyllis Wise, Toledo, Ill., and Donna McLurray, Du Quoin, on the negative.

Carolyn Reed, Carbondale, and Sue Alice Martin, Jonesboro, will be on the affirmative in Division I. George Kuhn, Olivet, and Kenneth Dean, Carterville, are also on the affirmative in this division, and both of them will give original orations at the tourney as well.

Two teams which will be on the negative in Division I are Charles Fucker, and Gene Penland, both of Carbondale and Tom Still, Carbondale, and Richard Crawford, Vandalia. Division I is for experienced debaters and decisions will be given on debates.

Four teams will be in Division II for inexperienced debaters and will not receive decisions. On the affirmative will be Joan Vigeant, Kalamazoo, Mich., Betty Betts, Carlinville, Dorothy Love, St. Louis, Marjorie Rector, Harrisburg, and Betty Seip, Thebes.

On the negative in Division II will be Dorothy Beck, Roodhouse, and Mary Ann Bass, Pinckney.

Grabel, called a Fabulous Illusionist by Art Baker of "You Asked For It," is also appearing at the freshmen assembly program Thursday morning. His two-hour night performance will be a new show featuring his most famous acts—such as the floating piano.

Tickets go on sale Wednesday and Thursday at the cross halls of Old Main. They will also be sold outside the door of Shroyok after the program Thursday. Carbondale school offices are selling tickets to the students there. All school and college students will be admitted for 50 cents. Adult tickets are 75 cents. There are no reserved seats, and tickets will be available at the door.

Pi Kappa Delta, honorary forensic organization, is sponsoring the show in order to raise money for debate trips yet this season.

"The Actor" theatrical, made the Division of Fine Arts Adviser for the most novel and successful stage review touring America today, is John Hosner.

Student Union Board Plans Tournament Week For Jan. 25-29

"The Student Union Board is again making plans for its annual Tournament Week to be held the last week in January, beginning Jan. 25 and ending Jan. 29," according to Miss Betty Greenleaf of the Office of Student Affairs.

Chess, checkers, table tennis, pocket billiards, pinocle, and bridge make up the scheduled events.

ALL FULL TIME students at Southern Illinois University are eligible to compete in the tournaments.

The events will be on an individual basis except bridge and pinocle where couples may enter.

SUE ALICE MARTIN, journalism major from Jonesboro, looks through a huge pile of papers thrown away by the journalism department in their move from the upstairs of the building at the corner of Harwood and Thompson. The department has been transferred to the speech barracks on Thompson Ave. The Egyptian office, located across the hall from the vacated journalism department office, is expected to be moved sometime next week. The move is only temporary until permanent quarters can be found, according to Dr. Howard Long, head of the journalism department.

will be open from 1 p. m. to 4:30 Monday through Friday during the week of Jan. 11-15. Thereafter, the center will open on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons.

Students desiring appointments with their advisors may contact the Advisement Center secretary. Upon arrival for appointment, it is customary to check with the secretary, who will arrange for students to meet with their advisors as quickly as possible.

All students who participate in pre-registration will receive their fee statements by mail from the Registrar's Office. They are required to pay their fees by March 12 or have their registration suspended and become subject to a late fee payment.

There will be two rounds of debate this afternoon and one round tonight after dinner. In the morning there will be two more rounds.

Illusionist To Give Two Shows Here Thursday

A girl will be shot from a cannon; an old pianist will float in the air and together with the piano turn a complete summersault in the air without any visible means of support; and a pin-up girl will come to life when Lee Grabel performs in Shroyok Auditorium Thursday, Jan. 14, 10 A. M. and P. M.

Grabel, called a Fabulous Illusionist by Art Baker of "You Asked For It," is also appearing at the freshmen assembly program Thursday morning. His two-hour night performance will be a new show featuring his most famous acts—such as the floating piano.

After Careful Thought

On Tuesday afternoon, a campus group requested and received permission to write a regular Egyptian column about their activities.

It was agreed that the group would submit articles for each Friday issue of the Egyptian.

Although this part of the report on their activities might be considered journalistically poor, it was agreed that this method might be a satisfactory publicity method for the group.

The deadline for today's issue came and went. No copy for the issue was submitted by the group.

The name of the group isn't important for our purposes, for we don't intend to "shame" them, even by inference. They may have had a very good reason for not producing their first column according to schedule.

The incident itself is important, however, because it is typical of many groups whose dissatisfaction culminates in their asking, belatedly, why their group "can't get more publicity in the campus newspaper."

We must always reply that almost any group on campus accepting subsidies, of course, may receive its share of publicity.

To make a desirable change requires perhaps a minute of consultation with the editor, 15 minutes of preparation, and a modicum of co-operation. Planning and co-operation are the keys to almost any successful campus publicity program.

The simple fact is that "How about a big story on such-and-such?" does not constitute a well organized, properly conducted publicity program.

The sad fact is that many publicists on campus do not seem to realize this. Neither do they seem to realize that we cannot give their pet projects a big play in the paper unless we have more than a smattering of the facts.

With each issue we dedicate ourselves, through no formal effort, to reporting as many campus activities as possible. It would be insane to attempt to cover every event on campus. We haven't yet acquired a staff which can track down every potential interviewee and pump information from each of the hundreds of publicity chairmen on campus.

The logical solution, then, is for publicity chairmen to acquire themselves with and conform to our news policies—perhaps they could profitably familiarize themselves with their own projects while they are at it. They might then produce publicity of a quality which would be effective for their organization and useful for their campus newspaper.

MAIL BOX

Brief letters of general interest to students, faculty, or other readers of "The Egyptian" will be considered for publication in this column. Letters of invective and anonymous letters will not be considered. Writers' names will be withheld at their request.

Open Letter

I should like to thank the members of the Egyptian staff for producing the December 18 issue of the Egyptian, when I was called out of town before Christmas vacation.

I should also like to thank those students and faculty members who kindly expressed their sympathy during my recent bereavement.

Sincerely,
Bob Brimm.

Final Cast Selected For Shakespeare Comedy

By Don Hargus

A final cast has been selected for Southern's winter term play "A Midsummer Night's Dream," as rehearsals get underway this week.

According to present plans, the Shakespeare comedy is to be presented in the new Little Theatre, now nearing completion, in mid-February.

Shakespeare's classic fantasy is not really one story, but the tale of four different groups of people whose lives are intertwined.

FIRST THERE ARE the aristocrats, a group of titled fun in the palace of Theseus played by Nelvin Heiser, and Egeus, another Athenian gentleman played by Henry Burdick.

The lovers, also about citizens of Athens, have a story all their own. It seems that both Lysander, played by Don Becker, and Demetrius, played by James Cham, are in love with Hermia, Egeus' daughter. Hermia is to be portrayed by both JoAnn McInerney and Dixie Brown on alternate nights.

Meanwhile Helena, played by Helen Collins, is in love with Demetrius, while Hermia loves Lysander but is forbidden to marry by her father.

Book Reviews

By Don Holleran

Muriel Sibelle Wolfe's book, "The Banana Trail," is a curious volume filled with Spaniards and Indians, half-breeds and forty-niners. Mrs. Wolfe, long addicted to the history of the West, has written a book about the ghost and near-ghost, the boom and the boom-ghost towns and mining camps of America.

Her material, interesting enough in itself, is supplemented with sketches made on a 20,000 mile trek through the West. She has dedicated her book to all of the patient, long suffering, mistreated beasts—horses, mules, burros, and oxen—that made that particular chapter of history possible.

James A. Wechler is described as liberal, anti-communist, and in view of recent developments, anti-McCarthy. "The Age of Suspicion," one man's political history, was written after Fechner left his wicker chair at one of the McCarthy hearings. It traces Wechler's involvement through a college-age Young Communist Leaguer, through the process of party disenchantment, to his present status which he describes as that of a democratic liberal.

"The Prospect Before Us," by John Dos Passos, is a searching examination of postwar life in the western world. Dos Passos, in a series of "lectures" complete with heckling audience observers that no matter what their governmental structure, all men who search for integrity and freedom are faced by the same problem. How can we adjust society to the massive corporation—industrial or governmental—so that the liberties and dignities of a simpler society can be preserved? Dos Passos' diagnosis and prescription comprise the book.

Serving on a jury? Philip Francis has written the book for you, "How to Serve on a Jury." This book contains information on the origins, history, function, and selection of juries. It lists the occupations exempt in the respective states and mentions any citizen or literary bars that may exist.

Marc Bloch defines history as a study of men in time. His book, "The Historians Craft," answers three questions: What use is history? How can the historian make his contribution significant? Bloch discusses the historians' tools, their use and the methods by which evidence is transmitted along the past-present continuum.

Looking Back

By Dan Phillips

Back in '49 local intellects weeped and pyromaniacs jumped with glee as destruction by fire again threatened Old Main.

Taken from a story in the Jan. 6, 1949, Egyptian . . . "Upon smelling the smoke the city fire department was called. The firemen were unable to locate the source of the smoke for about ten minutes. It was finally traced to the men's rest room on the lower floor where a small mop was found to be smoldering in a corner. The firemen expressed the belief that someone had carelessly discarded a cigarette stub in that corner rather than in the containers provided."

A SUPER SENSATIONAL spud slicer secured a shelter at Southern the same season.

It was reported that "a new electric potato peeler that has been on order for sometime has finally arrived and is now installed in the cafeteria."

And speaking of progress . . . "A new hot water tank with greater capacity for holding water and to be in conformance with the state sanitary board has been installed in order that dishes may be washed at 135 degrees and rinsed at 170 degrees." Real Cool!

THAT SAME GLORIOUS year . . . "a new roof is nearing completion over the cafeteria and the roof over the kitchen has been reinforced in order that it might not cave in." After an extensive survey it was found that more students prefer chocolate milk to cavendish!

In 1949 the dean of men announced that "an anti-hitch-hiking drive order given by the state police could, if strictly enforced in this area, cause a few students to drop out of school and inflict severe financial strain on 150 others."

Tragic! Since the law was enforced the majority of boys from Miller's dorm have been forced to walk to school.

"ALTHOUGH investigation has not definitely revealed its sex, the Egyptian has acquired a cat for a mascot."

"The new addition to the staff answers best to the name of 'Kit,'" but has been tentatively named J. Paul, after the feline in the Wildroot Cream Oil ads.

"J. Paul wandered into the office several days ago and evidently liked the hectic life of news reporting for it—he or she; as the case may be—has stayed ever since."

Latest word is that J. Paul is now being considered for the Pulitzer prize.

Oh these crazy Southern cast!

Campus Buildings

Old Main Shows Many Changes From Original

By Richard Lee

Old Main, the center of Southern's school activities, has witnessed many changes and has been the sight of many events during its 79 years. It has been destroyed by flames once, and has had a great many interior changes since its second erection.

The first Old Main was constructed in 1874 and followed the basic lines of today's building, although it lacked a tower, and the main entrance was on the east side of the structure where steps similar to those at the north and south entrances today were found.

ON THE BASEMENT floor, the old structure had the furnaces, the janitor's residence, eight large apartments and four smaller ones. The first floor had eight classrooms, four teacher's private rooms, and a large parlor. The second floor contained the large Normal Hall, outfitted as a study room with 450 desks, two library rooms, three class rooms and rooms for the principal and one teacher.

The Mansard roof, or third floor had large lecture hall capable of seating 1200 persons, two large meeting rooms for the literary societies, the library, the museum, and several other rooms.

THEN, ON THE afternoon of Nov. 18, 1893, a fire beginning in the northwest corner of the Mansard roof swept through the building and completely destroyed it. The cause of the fire was not known, but many believed that it was an accident with the janitor's lantern that started the blaze. Others said it was spontaneous combustion.

The place where the fire began was higher than the water tanks which supplied the school's water, so there was no pressure in the hoses that they attempted to fight the blaze with. Carbondale had an inadequate fire department, and it too was of no use, although those fighting the fire and rescuing the equipment and books were aided by a strong wind which retarded the spread of the blaze.

THE SECOND Old Main was erected on the foundation of the first one, and was dedicated in 1887. During the lapse of time between the destruction of the first building and the erection of the second, classes were held in a temporary building constructed largely upon

Teaching Family Life Studies

Dr. Lantz Speaks Against Segregation in Classes

Teen-agers should not be segregated into male and female classes when it comes to the study of family life. This is the opinion of Dr. Herman Lantz, SIU sociology professor.

Dr. Lantz says that when the facts are taught to individual sex groups, education for marriage and parenthood takes on an unhealthy and secretive aspect. He believes that only through mixed groups under the leadership of a mature teacher can students feel at ease to go about their study of dating, courtship, and marriage in a matter-of-fact manner.

THE SOCIOLOGIST, pointing out another danger connected with such courses, says that ill-prepared teachers too often resort to platitudes and common sense generalizations which add little or nothing to the students already know.

"Some teachers, in their ignorance of how to instruct youth in matters relating to marital life, resort to meaningless risqué jokes and purposeless bull sessions," the sociologist remarks.

Such sessions, he comments, may increase the teachers' popularity for the moment but be "bone dry of scientific information the student needs." Dr. Lantz deprecates this teaching technique as being "a poor substitute for the insights the social scientist may gain through diligent labor and integration of knowledge."

DR. LANTZ has spent many years as a counselor to young people concerned with problems of dating, courtship, and marriage. He says that he is convinced that the success or failure of marriage is based on social-psychological, not sexual factors.

HE BELIEVES that sexual anatomy and functioning should be brought in incidentally in a course and should be handled by persons specifically trained such as a local physician. "We must not indoctrinate our students with erroneous information that sex is the all-important aspect," he declares and concludes forcefully.

"If this were true, physician, biologist, and physiologist would be completely free from the problems of marital discord."

Personality To Be Topic At Anna Hospital Seminar

Dr. R. C. Steck, superintendent of the Anna State hospital has stated that the third annual seminar series for professional people of the Southern Illinois region will be better than ever before. According to Dr. Steck outstanding speakers have been invited to give talks on personality development, its maladjustments, and treatment.

Arrangements have been made with SIU to allow two hours of credit for this series, plus written requirements. Dr. Noble H. Keller, chairman of the psychology department will register someone interested in the credit now but registration can be made at the opening session on Jan. 12 and must be completed by the time of the second meeting on Jan. 26.

Dr. Noble said that persons who receive credit for this series last year could again get two more hours of credit because of the difference in the material to be presented.

The series will open on Jan. 12 at 7:30 p. m., and there will be two of these types of meetings. Each speaker will be given about 10 minutes to discuss his subject. A question period will follow, and the program will close with a social hour and refreshments.

Last year, an average of 80 general practitioners, social workers, school personnel, ministers, and nurses. It is noted that this special series will be of high interest to judges, sheriffs, and police officers because of the emphasis on personality problems and how to deal with them.

The meetings will continue on every other Tuesday evening after Jan. 12, with the last session planned for May 18.

IT WAS ALMOST as bad as being accused of jay walking except Duane Carl Dedrick was in the automobile when the police of Springfield, N. Y., accused him of Mopery. Dedrick, of nearby Canton, N. Y., was fined five dollars for driving 10 miles an hour down "rain street. Police said it was much too slow and delayed traffic.

Applications Available For Law School Exams

Applications for the Law School admission test are now available at the office of Student Affairs. The test will be given on campus on Feb. 20, 1954. Application blanks must be in Princeton, N. J., by Feb. 10. This will be the only time during the current school year that the examination will be given in Carbondale.

Students who must take the test are advised to secure a bulletin of information regarding the test in the Office of Student Affairs.

NEW TEST REQUIRED FOR GRADUATE BUSINESS STUDY

A new test, the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business, is now a requirement for admission to graduate status in several business schools. A list of the schools requiring this test and application blanks may be secured from the Office of Student Affairs.

The nearest testing center is at Washington University in St. Louis. The next examination will be given on Feb. 6. Registration blanks must be in Princeton, N. J., by Jan. 23.

DELTA SIGMA EPSILON PLANS TEA FOR MOTHERS

Delta Sigma Epsilon society is planning a tea for the members' mothers Sunday from 3 to 5 p. m. at the chapter house.

Teresa White and Christine Minkler are in charge of an act for the Theta Xi Variety Show.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON HAS 11 WINTER PLEDGES

Tau Kappa Epsilon pledges has pledged 11 boys for winter term. They are: Paul Smith, Gene Ernst, Don Cross, Don Gidak, Jim Creed, Roland Keim, Gordon Foy, Roland Miles, Ron Bishop, Ted Hill and Jack Woods.

The Tekes serenaded two girls over the telephone Monday night—one in Minneapolis, recently pinned to Gary Mills, and one in St. Louis, recently pinned to Bill Stearns.

After the serenades, the boys received their traditional dunking in Crab Orchard Lake.

DELTA ZETA PLANS RUMMAGE SALE

Jeanette Harris is chairman of the Delta Zeta rummage sale to be held at the end of this month.

Mrs. Victor Heide, Delta Zeta

Small Cars Do Have Advantages

Maj. Paul Timm's Coupe Parks in Amazing Places

By Jerry Kolesky

If you happen to see a strange car parked on the sidewalk, don't get excited. It's only Maj. Paul Timm's 500 pound, 1941 model, American Bantam Coupe. All 500 pounds of it can be parked in the most amazing places, Timm says. "There is always a little hole big enough to squeeze the car into, because it is only 4 feet wide and about 7 feet long."

Maj. Timm bought the car in 1945 from a car dealer in Denver. "Having two cars in the family

SIU, Sangamo Expand Research Program Here

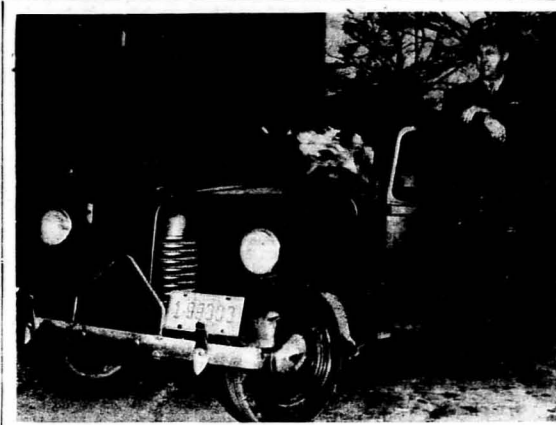

A three year old co-operative research program undertaken jointly by SIU and the capacitor division of the Sangamo Electric Co. has been expanded within this year, according to Dr. Otis B. Young, director of the project.

Capacitors or condensers, extremely important in electric equipment, are instruments capable of accumulating and storing electrical charges.

Illustrative of the projects work are the continuous life tests to which capacitors are subjected in Southern's physics laboratories. Tests with mica condensers are being run through a wide range of high frequencies and controlled temperatures — from 70°C to 135°C. Each group of condensers tested requires 3400 computations!

Students receive physics credits for work on special projects and, under provisions of the program, research awards are made available for students who exhibit extraordinary ability in the work.

Expenses of the project are shared by Sangamo and the University, with the company supplying some funds, a portion of the apparatus, and test samples. The research is directed by a joint committee headed by Dr. Young.

SIU Art Work Exhibited In Craft Competition

Representatives of the SIU art department had pieces of their work exhibited in the second annual national craft competition in St. Paul, Minnesota from Nov. 15-Dec. 24.

Student Don Brown exhibited work in the clay section of the competition. Robert Youngman, graduate student, and Fredrick Lauritzen of the Art Department faculty were represented in the metal section of the exhibit.

A jury of three persons selected the items shown in the exhibit. The jury was comprised of Phillip Morton, professor of Art at the University of Minn., Rubn Canner, New York Univ., and Daniel S. Defenbacher, director, Fort Worth Art Center. They demanded that all items in the show be in harmony with all elements of design. "Pieces were not accepted when one element was slightly even though others may have been expertly treated," they said.

HIS BIGGEST problem is "keeping the kids out of the Bantam." One day he had eight youngsters, baggage and himself in a car. I. Col. Halderon's size is no asser when it comes to getting into the Bantam. Maj. Timm says, "He fills it up!" Halderon takes his hat off and says a struggle putting his legs into the car, one at a time.

Timm seldom drives the Bantam at night because of its smallness. At intersections his motto is stop, look, and listen. "I assume that everyone does not see me whenever I drive the Bantam, and I always drive it the slowest," Timm said.

Titled "Fiber, Clay, and Metal," the exhibit was sponsored by the Junior League of St. Paul Gallery and School of Art.

Majel Chance, whose work was recently exhibited at SIU, was represented in the fiber section of the competition. Katherine Chov, a teacher here last summer, also had work in the show.

Students, Faculty To Help Select New Film Series

Students and faculty will have a chance to help pick the movies to be shown in the new Monday night film series, slated to begin March 1, according to Jack Bizzel, film technician with the Audio-Visual Aids department.

Bizzel said this week that students and faculty members may turn in their suggestions to Audio-Visual Aids by the end of this month. Suggestions may be left at the Audio-Visual Aids office, or may be sent through campus mail, he said.

Selection of movies in the new series of seven pictures will be based largely on suggestions which are submitted, Bizzel said.

There are three movies remaining in the present series: Johnny Belinda, January 18; Spectre of the Rose, February 1; and David and Bathsheba, February 15. All movies in the series are shown in the University School auditorium.

SIU Directory Being Distributed

Students may pick up their copies of the Campus Directory in the Student Union now, according to an announcement from the SIU Duplicating Service.

Published for the students and faculty for SIU, the directories will be distributed free of charge.

The directories contain the names, local and home addresses and local and home phone numbers of the students and faculty of SIU. Included also is the University Calendar listing all important school dates; Statutory Council of the University and their members; and all of the University offices, their directors and associates.

Faculty members' directories will be distributed through the University Post Office.

THE AMERICAN Telephone and Telegraph company could do worse than hire Jock McAlhoun of Chicago to promote its business. That is, after he finishes a year's term under court supervision for disorderly conduct. McAlhoun drew the sentence after Mrs. Elizabeth Drake complained that he phoned her 100 times a day.

Mrs. Drake said she hired a telephone answering service to handle the calls. The firm, however, gave up after a week because it had to assign an operator full-time to 'her' line. McAlhoun said a friend had told him Mrs. Drake liked to talk to his telephone.

Southern Beats Bears In Return Grudge Match

By Don Primas

Charity in basketball begins and ends at the free throw line, and the Salukis hit enough charity tosses Tuesday night to score a sweet revengeful victory over the visiting Washington U. team, 64-60.

Saluki Matmen Face Redbirds Here Tomorrow

By Dan Halloran

Eight Saluki grapplers step to the mats tomorrow for the first time in this season to meet a strong Illinois State Normal wrestling team at p. m. in the men's gymnasium.

The Redbirds, defending conference champions and undefeated in two starts thus far this year, come to Southern fresh from a victory over a strong Navy Pier team.

The Normal squad, led by conference champions Bruno and Franconette, will meet a more than adequate Southern team composed, for the most part, of veterans from last year's campaign.

Jack Bedrosian, freshman from Normandy, Mo., will probably carry Southern's colors in the 123 lb. division. Bedrosian, a former high school wrestler, took part in last year's Missouri state wrestling tournament.

Bob Whelan, co-captain and conference champion at 123 lbs., is expected to represent the Salukis at 130 lbs., and Bill Marx, sophomore from Belleville, who saw some action last year, has earned himself a position in the 137 lb. division.

Joe Fedora, also a co-captain, will return to the 147 lb. division that he held down last year. Bob Zdenek, another returning letterman, will have his work cut out for him when he meets champ Franconette at 157 lbs.

Things have not yet crystallized at 165 lbs. as this is written. That division is filled with an extraordinarily large number of candidates and it is impossible to say who will succeed there at this time. Some candidates include Paul Seinenruber, Gene Ernest, and Dick Erickson. Giles Sinkiewicz, Belleville freshman, and Ken Werner, returning letterman, also from Belleville, will occupy the 177 lb. and heavyweight divisions respectively.

Jack Morgan Is Largest-Smallest

Jack Morgan is the biggest and also the smallest man on Southern Illinois University's basketball team.

A 6-5 sophomore center from Carbondale, Morgan packs only 157 pounds on his lanky frame. Only two other Salukis weigh less than he. Morgan's lack of weight hasn't handicapped him because he is carrying his second basketball monogram at SIU this winter.

As a freshman in 1952-53 Morgan spelled Capt. Charles Thier in 16 games to score 63 points, mostly on his specialty, a fade-away hook shot. In eight games this season the gangling center has 36 points to his credit, good enough for a 10.8 average per game.

Using his height to advantage Morgan has pulled in the greater portion of the team's rebounds and has been in the hair of opponents under the basket.

As a high school athlete at Carbondale Community high school Morgan won letters in basketball and baseball.

Martin, O'Brien Visit NCAA Meeting Today

The Southerners since 1915. Washington missed just four more free throws than the inspired Salukis while making one more field goal, but six of the Bears' misses came in the final period. Those misses were largely responsible for embarrasing the St. Louisans.

Tom Millikin played his first game before the home crowd since his release from service and the general opinion was, "May there be many more like it!" While not racking up as many points as he is accustomed to, the agile Millikin rebounded with the ferocity of a George Mikan—being handicapped, of course, by lacking several inches of Mr. Mikan's height.

Millikin and Harvey Welch double-teamed the Bears' prolific scorer, Bob Kriegshafer, to such an extent that he made only five out of 17 shots. Only in isolated instances did Kriegshafer have a clear shot at the basket. As an added attraction, Millikin held Bill Lambert, second best scorer for the Bears last year, to five points.

Kriegshafer, despite the complete onslaught from the Salukis, ended the evening's festivities with 17 points. Welch and Jacques Thier each had 15 tallies, and Millikin had 13.

Jack Morgan turned in one of his best rebounding games to date. The tall sophomore center was in a short thick of the action until he fouled out with a minute left. Cib Kurtz held down the Bears' number two threat, Bud Christal, to a mere 12 points while picking off a princely number of rebounds.

Twice during the game the Saluki basketball ball-control exhibition. With two minutes left in the third quarter and with a comfortable 12 point lead, Kurtz and Thier dribbled the time away. And in the closing minutes of the last quarter, with the Bears rapidly overcoming the deficit, the stalling duo of Kurtz and Thier became a trio as Welch was added to the act. They proved without doubt that the hand is quicker than the eye.

The next home game is tomorrow night against the Normal Redbirds.

Salukis Bashed By Blues 94-84 In Holiday Tilt

With former captain Tom Millikin back in the Saluki kennel and scoring 18 points for Southern, the Maroon and White went down before the charges of Millikin's Big Blue for the second time this season, 94-84 Dec. 26 at Flora.

Millikin, who landed in the States 10 days before the game, touched off an early offense to put the Salukis in command at the end of the first period 21-15. The Big Blue began to feel their Cherries and out scored the Holder crew 23-9 in the second stanza to build up a halftime lead of 38-30.

Mel Sheets led Millikin in the last half slaughter with 15 points as the Big Blue pulled out 66-53 at the end of three and then scored 15 of the next 16 points to make the contest a rout 81-56. Bob Nickolaus, playing his last game for Southern, scored 10 points in the third to help matters. Jack Morgan looked for 8 also. Harvey Welch, dormant for three periods, erupted for 12 in the final quarters to give the Salukis an added punch and pull them to within 10 points of the mighty men from Decatur. It was the fifth defeat in eight outings for Southern.

The return of Millikin will offset somewhat the loss of Nickolaus to the military service. Nick is reported for induction Jan. 5.

Student-Faculty Brawl Tonight Many Stars Out

By Philip J. Meagher

Tonight is the night of the faculty-student basketball free for all in the gym. The contest will begin at approximately 7:30 p. m. or as soon thereafter as the respective team members can be assisted onto the playing arena. Time for each quarter will be limited to 8 minutes as compared to the grueling 10 minute quarters played in regular games.

This was done, according to the A.A. sponsors, for two reasons—respect for age and to hold down the score.

Bill Phelps, ISA president, has signed up some outstanding talent from the ranks of the PHL, and the opposing undergraduates. For the faculty such stalwart performers as Robert Harper of the Geography Department was chosen for his ability to cover vast areas in a short time. John Anderson, Speech Department, was a choice for his knack at out-talking the referee and the jet propelled AFROTC will supply Robert Snyder, Gordon Hanson, Philip Meagher, Bob McGinnis, and Melvin Self, all outstanding in their field which does not include basketball. Some dark horses in the faculty fold are Norman White, Bob Etheridge, William Rogge, Oliver Beinhof and Leslie Malpass.

The opposing stars who are risking their four point scholastic averages include James Glemore, Bill Reynolds, Waddy Junior, Jack Chor, Paul Morris, Bill Phelps, George Henry, Dick Schmitz, Bob Gill, and Bruce Lane. The officials for the game will be William Freyburg and Artie Trippel. The charge for admission to the game will be 25 cents or a student activity ticket.

William Jewell Outdoes Salukis By Six Points

Banging in 21 points in the final period William Jewell College sent Coach Lynn Holder's Salukis down to their fourth defeat in seven outings Dec. 22, 70-64.

The towering Cardinals alternated 6-6, 6-8, and 6-10 players at first to bottle up most of the rebounding for the evening. Chock Bobbit, 5-6 guard, was the thorn in Southern's side as he pumped in 22 points on perfectly executed plays.

The teams were never more than five points apart until Bob Nickolaus sparked the Salukis to a six-point lead early in the third period. Then Bobbit led William Jewell to their 21-point fourth quarter to pull the game out.

Southern hit 18 of 69 for a .261 percentage while the Cardinals dunked 20 of 53 shots for a good .377 mark.

Eastern Wins Close One In Last Quarter, 69-67

A barrage of 19 free throws in the first half gave the Salukis a ten-point advantage at mid-game, however the Eastern Panthers staged a fourth quarter rally to come out on top of a 69-67 score.

SOUTHERN LED at the end of the first period 16-12, and held a nine-point margin at the end of the third period. Then it happened. Star Forward Goes To Army

Bob Nickolaus, senior forward and leading scorer of Southern Illinois University's basketball team, was ordered to report for induction into military service Jan. 5, according to an announcement by coach Lynn Holder. Nickolaus was scheduled to report Dec. 21 but received a one-month's reprieve.

The Centralia star has scored 110 points to the Salukis in eight games this season and has paced the team to its three wins. His call to service comes on the heels of the discharge of Tom Millikin, one of Southern's outstanding athletes of two years ago.

Millikin's return will help Holder fill the vacancy created by the loss of Nickolaus and of Ray Bippard, East St. Louis junior, with 98. Jack Morgan, sophomore center from Carbondale, has 86 points; Harvey Welch, senior forward from Centralia, 79, and Capt. Jacques Thier, Flora, senior, 48.

In their eight games the Salukis have scored 547 points, an average of 68.4 points per game, and their opponents have bucketed 543 points for a 67.9 average.

Chautauqua Takes Over Irdree Bowling League

Chautauqua moved into first place after a season long chase of Deyle Dormitory Tuesday night, taking three of four points from University Drugs.

Dove was idle, but will return to action next week for their important series with Chautauqua. A decisive win by either team could mean the championship.

La Coterie gained a little ground on Dove with three of four points from Woody Hall, but their failure to sweep the series dimmed their hopes.

Tom Millikin, Ex-Saluki Star, Back From Army

Coach Lynn Holder received his biggest Christmas present in the form of Tom Millikin, Southern's leading scorer two years ago, who recently was discharged from the service. Millikin scored 18 points against the Big Blue Saturday night, but it was a futile effort as SIU went down to its fifth defeat in eight games.

Holder's worries somewhat and help fill the vacancy created by the loss of all-conference forward Ray Bippard to professional baseball and the induction of Bob Nickolaus into military service. Millikin, former Pinckneyville star, scored 220 points in 24 games for Southern in 1951-52, an average of 16.9 per game, to lead the team in that department.

In the scoring department, Bob Nickolaus, senior guard from Centralia, is high point man with 110 points, a 13.8 average per game. Nickolaus is followed by Cib Kurtz, East St. Louis junior, with 98. Jack Morgan, sophomore center from Carbondale, has 86 points; Harvey Welch, senior forward from Centralia, 79, and Capt. Jacques Thier, Flora, senior, 48.

In their eight games the Salukis have scored 547 points, an average of 68.4 points per game, and their opponents have bucketed 543 points for a 67.9 average.

Chautauqua Takes Over Irdree Bowling League

A poor first game and a 38 pin set resulted in Chautauqua's sole loss. They rolled a 672 to UD's 718, their lowest series of the night. However, with Stokes and Wagnard pacing them, they captured the next two games and the total points.

Stokes had high series of 495, His 192 He also had a 179 for high game. After first sweeping to easy wins in their first two games, a 149 pin set proved too much for La Coterie to overcome in the third game. They took high points, however. Skages had a high series of 495. His 192 took high game.

In other games, HOHN took four points on a forfeit from the disbanded Pole Cats, and Casa Del Hombra managed a 2-2 split with the Stags.

Lindenberg was high for HOHN with a 222 series. Jackson had high game with a 160. Casa Del Hombra took advantage of a 53 pin spot to win the first two games, but the Stags came back strong to take the last game and total pins to gain a split. Stuber was high in series and game with a 500 and 196 respectively.
