FIRST STUDENT BODY OF 53 PAID $3 FEE IN SUMMER TERM

With the cornerstone laying last Saturday and the reenactment of the first day of school Southern's Jubilee year celebrations were under way. They will be continued throughout the year at intervals and will reach their peak during the 1949 Homecoming.

Those 75 years have seen our college grow from little more than an advanced high school to what may now be called a fine university. True, we have a long way to go, but we have the route mapped and it is just a matter of time.

Fifty-three students comprised Southern's first student body. Those earnest but poorly trained rural teachers presented themselves in the summer of 1874 for review and refreshment courses.

As Southern has grown, expenses have mounted. Those fifty-three persons who comprised Southern's first student body paid a fee of three dollars for the four week session.

As in the present, interested men of Southern Illinois who worked hard for the university had a lot to do with its advancement in the educational field. In 1898 leading men of Southern Illinois and neighboring states throughout the state carried on a campaign among legislators for several months before the Illinois Legislature was brought to its recognition of the pressing educational needs of a neglected part of the state.

Although Southern's advance in the past has been slow, the present trend is speeding things up and the next few years may see Southern Illinois University in its place among the universities of the land. This is especially true now that we have our own board of trustees.

Annex To Library To Be Built Soon

Southern's library will add a quonset type hut for the storage of books. A requisition for the building, which will be on a concrete foundation near the library, has already been made.

Dr. Delyle W. Morris, president, said, "This is the best answer to the problem of inadequate facilities for storing books, but it will have to do until a new library can be built." The structure will probably house all the books, except those in the departments of old science and Anthrology hall, and in structures on the athletic field. Dr. Morris said, "To be attached to the northeast side of the library, the hut will make books available to faculty and students within a short time."

Wheeler Library was partially condemned last fall by state engineers as having too many books for the safety of the structure. Many of the books then had to be removed from the library. Officials of the library refused to estimate the damage and loss incurred through the storage of books in damp basements without necessary shelves.

Dean Helen A. Shuman, who has been in the hospital, will return to her desk the latter part of this week.

Southern Administrators Angling For 'Self-liquidating' Dormitories

By Wallace Peebles

The troublesome housing shortage here at Southern may be history in a couple of years if an attempt to get a building budget bill goes through as designed at the latest Student Council board meeting.

Self-liquidating dormitories that is, dormitories that will pay for themselves with their income, are proposed for the amendment to the budget bill. The budget bill goes through as designed at the latest Student Council board meeting.

Upon hearing the feasibility of self-liquidating dorms in a discussion at the meeting, Presidents D. W. Morris and Edward V. Miles, business manager, made changes in their budget request to make the building of them possible in the next biennium. However good this proposal seems, it must meet the final approval of state engineers who have seen the entire plans and approved them.

A bonding company which will back the self-liquidating dorms works on the assumption that they will finance the building of a dorm which will in time pay itself if the cost can be held to $2500 a bed. This amount would not pay for the construction of the dorms but it would help to the buildings, but Southern plans to use the $35,000 allotted for dormitory building to provide these services.

So if all goes as planned, Southern may be chilled up as a unit which provides not only a good education for its students but a comfortable, economical place for them to stay. That is the ideal college life.

Economics Department Given Plastic Model Of Business Cycle

A plastic model of the business cycle will be erected for use in economics classes by Dr. Lewis A. Maverick, chairman of the department of economics. This model, composed of plexiglass, 12 by 14 inches on one plane and slightly smaller on the other, will be used to show the behavior of the business cycle. It was presented to Dr. Maverick with the compliments of the Nein Sign company of Herlin-

Bookstore Sale Scheduled For Week of July 9

The bookstore is planning a book sale for the fifth week. Carl Trobaugh, manager of the bookstore, said that the sale would last from Monday, July 10 through Saturday, July 16.

Books to be sold include those no longer being used in courses.

Speaking of heat, here's where Southern will get hers come winter. This is the new power plant located south of the old football field. The boilers will be fired-up and test run in August. By fall the plant will be all hot-up and ready to go.

Study Shows That Organization Officers Usually 'B' Students

A study on "Campus Officerhip Concentration" made recently by Chuck Chandler for the Southern Illinois University Student Council reveals that a comparatively large number of students at Southern take part in the administrative duties of campus organizations. Of the entire student body, 8.2% hold one or more officership positions thus govern the activities of the 23 organized houses and 53 campus organizations.

There is a growing tendency upon the parts of deans and advisers of students to attach an increasing importance to the educational training received through participation in extracurricular activities. The study shows that enrollment has caused a greater number of organizational activities. The question has been asked in colleges throughout the country as to whether organizational officers are spending time in the promotion of these activities that might be spent on their formal educational pursuit. The research carried on in this study was undertaken for the purpose of gathering reliable data upon which a definite university policy concerning distribution of leadership might be based.

The 235 available officerships were filled by 222 students. Of these 224 organization officers, only 23 students hold more than one office. Five students hold 3 or more campus offices each, while the highest number held by any student is 4. It is interesting to note that all five students holding 3 or more officership positions are seniors reporting B or better grade-point averages. This seems to indicate that their organizational activities

Plane Crash Kills Robert Craig on Holiday Weekend

A plane crash that occurred last Monday, the fourth, ended the life of 21 year old Bob Craig, of Johnston City, senior here at Southern. A coroner's jury Tuesday, brought in a verdict of accidental death due to low flying. Another Johnston City boy, Jack Fleming, the pilot of the plane, was injured, but doctors say he will recover.

The accident occurred between eight and nine o'clock on the Benét farm just outside of Johnston City. The right wing of the plane clipped the top ten feet off a tall, leaning willow tree just across the other side of the Benét home. The aerodynamics investigator said the plane was lucky to have cleared the house.

Bob had a double major here at Southern. He had a major in English and was working on one in art. He would have finished next fall. His minors were in music and history. He was in the College of Education. He worked part time in the office of Dr. Dykhouse. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon.

The final summer issue of the Egyptian will appear on July 21.

Books, Documents, Cram Box In Cornerstone

Contents of the small box which was placed in the cornerstone of the Training School building are shown in this photo. Some of the objects are: Founder's Day program, a copy of President Morris' inauguration program, two University high school year books, an Egyptian, and other papers.

Miss Woody Hangs Up Apron This Fall

One of Southern's grand old-timers is retiring this fall. She is Dr. Lucy K. Woody, chairman of the home economics department. Miss Woody has put in 38 years service on Southern's faculty, serving variously as home economics teacher, as dean of women, and most of all as Southern's hostess at parties, teas, receptions, and other get-togethers.

Miss Woody joined the staff back in 1911 as teacher of "household arts." In 1926 she was appointed dean of women and served in that capacity until the winter of 1945. From 1928 until last fall she was chairman of the home economics department, except for the year 1938-39 when she was absent obtaining her master's degree. Last September she handed the chair—or rolling pin—over to Dr. Eileen Elliott, present home economics department head. This year Miss Woody has devoted full time to her teaching duties.

Throughout her nearly four decades on the university campus Miss Woody has been most keenly interested in students and their teaches and frequently made the costumes as well. Southern's Madrigal Singers wear costumes designed by her.

Here is a more intimate glimpse of Miss Woody, as reported by the Information Service. "She has been active in university affairs throughout her long tenure, but has always served modestly behind the scenes. As long-time chairman of the university social committee she has arranged hundreds of social affairs—receptions, teas, luncheons, etc.—and seldom comes front. She is often seen in the faculty or service room to see that all goes well. Her committee—which often means Lucy Woody herself—is responsible for preparing refreshments for the teas which precede the monthly faculty meetings, even though the various departmental teas turns serving.

Prefers Lemans to Limelight

"It was a determination on the part of the faculty to 'get Lucy out front' that caused the faculty council to elect her as the faculty's representative to stand in the receiving line at the recent public reception on the occasion of the inauguration of President Doyte W. Morris."

"She reluctantly complied, but soon thereafter, her formal position in line, she took care to stand in line, she took care to have all details for serving the refreshments under control in Anthony Hall's kitchen."

"Her gentle, unassuming manner, coupled with a warm friendliness, has made her a real friend of university students. She has seen the school grow from an enrollment of a few hundred to more than 3,000 students, and few have remained long on the faculty after leaving the university's kindly influence of Lucy K. Woody, and without forming lasting affection for her."

FRESHMAN TESTS TO BE GIVEN JULY 12

The university freshman tests will be given on July 12 at 1:30 p.m. in Main 213. These tests are required of all new students at Southern unless they have had similar tests at another university. In this case, they must be transported to the office of the dean of men prior to July 12.

Pip-Head Philosophy

"Did you have a four-year-old son or son-in-law that you would like to teach, just drop them on Bill Nagy's desk in the English office or leave them at the Egyptian office in the basement of Peacock Hall."

An intelligent man should not proclaim a philosophy that advocates the stratification of society according to the size of his nose. If he does so, he would be dismissed as stupid for his proclamation, and when wisdom had seen the truth, would be one of the first to receive a lowered position.

A house has four dimensions, and the most important of these is time; for if one is to live in a house, its perspectives are much more important than its existence.

Which came first, the hen or the egg? Obviously neither came first, since one without the other is an incomplete generic cycle!

The heart is an organ very difficult to define. It suffers both physical and spiritual maladjustment; but, I say, if the heart is akin to the soul, one had better care of it physical ill first, and wary about the spiritual implications after.

The only difference between an apple pie and an apple remembred is in the setting.

A number of other results were obtained by this study. The 76 organizational presidencies are held by 71 students. There are five persons each of whom is president of two organizations. These five include the one student who holds three officer positions, and only one of them holding three officer positions.

Mr. Horrell, in addition to teaching courses in photography will be in charge of the university's Photographic service.

Three courses in photography will be offered this fall, including the basic course "Introduction to Photography." This course may be followed by "Press Photography" and "Advanced Photography." Although the course in press photography offered in the past two years had been limited to journalism minors only, it is planned to place no such restrictions on the new induction course. However, when laboratory facilities are expanded, the course must be limited to 12 members each. An expansion of the photo lab is anticipated and at the present time an effort is being made to find a new location for this activity.

Mr. Horrell received his master of arts degree from the University of Illinois this summer.

IN POLISHING OFF 'PAPA' ACTORS

In the technical crew, this objective is often obtained.

First Showing
On July 19 at the Perry County Fair in Pinckneyville and again on July 21 at Shroyer Auditorium, Du Quoin, will be the culmination of strenuous hours interspersed with cosmic moments.

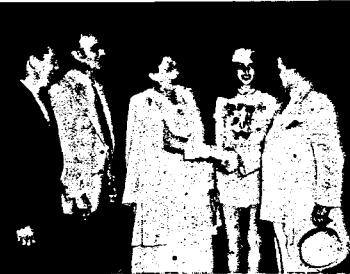

"Papa Is All," the summer production, is a "honey" comedy of a Pennsylvania Dutch family. It is essentially, a humorous play, but it also has its serious, tense moments. The cast includes Papa, played by Hugo Gartner of Terre Haute; Mama, played by Margaret Hughes of Marion; Emily, the young girl, played by Dorothy Helm; Du Quoin; Jake, the son, played by Roy Washiney of Marion; Mrs. Yoder, the chattering neighbor, portrayed by Patte McNamee of Herrin; and State Police Brendel, played by John Douglas of Robinson.

On the other hand, the number of married women has not noticeably increased, there being 112 in the fall of 1947, and 120 in 1948.

With the increase of marriages, naturally there is an increase in the number of children. Four hundred and two children were recorded this fall, while only 309 were recorded in 1947.

Music Festival Artists

Looking on is Mrs. Pearl Sherman (center) of Harrisburg who was the musician of honor at the festival and Harold Skelton of Elmhurst, outstanding male singer at the festival and a former student of Mrs. Sherman.

During the fall term, 1947, 477 men students indicated that they were married. This fall, 1948, 594 men indicated that they were married, according to the marking of their cards for the housing office. Mrs. Mabel Fullam, housing director, reported.

On the other hand, the number of married women has not noticeably increased, there being 112 in the fall of 1947, and 120 in 1948.

With the increase of marriages, naturally there is an increase in the number of children. Four hundred and two children were recorded this fall, while only 309 were recorded in 1947.

Be A Good Sport Night, Dance and Swimming Party

by Joyce Wiss

There is a program at Southern especially for the benefit and enjoyment of the students. Co-Rec, sponsored by the women's physical education department, is under the direction of Miss Theresa Ivanack. A play night, community sing, and roast and swim party are already past. The entertainment at the play night gave a choice of badminton, volleyball, table tennis, croquet and horseshoes. There will be another play night for those who missed the first one. The community sing was held on the parking lot by Anthony Hall. The winner roast and swimming party was held at Crab Orchard lake.

There are three more chances for those who missed these first acts. Another play night will be held July 13 on the lower football field. There will be a choice of activities for everyone.

Another swimming party and weiner roast is planned for July 20 at Crab Orchard lake. The last activity of the summer will be a square dance or a social dance in the parking lot by Anthony Hall.

These activities are planned for the students at no charge.

Sixty students and others interested in the Senior Life Saving course is being offered the week of July 5 by the Red Cross.

The week following, July 11, a Red Cross representative from Chicago will give the Instructor's Course in Life Saving. Anyone may enroll for these courses.

At an opportunity for swimming is afforded by both departments, for both men and women. The participants in the swimming parties are enrolled in school for the summer and have a good disposition. The latter is necessary due to the crowded condition of the bus you'll catch to the beach. Because they want to provide enough transportation, the departments ask that you sign up at the gym before noon if you intend to go to the beach. That's little enough for an afternoon of fun.

For those students and others

For the benefit of those who have trouble finding something to do this summer, an intramural softball tournament has been organized. Only five teams entered the tournament, but it takes quite a few men to make up a team so it is not a total loss.

The opening game was taken by the Wahabers with a 9-7 decision over the TKE's Wednesday,

June 29. Same day, same time, only a different field, the NEA's romped across the Atom's 10-1.

Tuesday, July 5, the Bats took to the north end of the practice field for a tussle with the NEA's.

At the same time, the Atom's and

TKE's squared off on the south end of the field.

Only one game was scheduled for

for Wednesday, the Wahabers and Bats.

If you want to cool off and have some fun, try out on the practice field Tuesday afternoons

about 4:30. The Wahabers
