Summer Play To Be Held At McAndrew Stadium

A cast of 22 has been announced for the play, "The Admirable Crichton," which is scheduled for July 20 at McAndrew stadium. Dr. Archibald McLeod, associate professor of speech and director of the production, stated that "The Admirable Crichton" is part of the free summer outdoor entertainment along with the free foreign films.

Miller Plays Lead

The play gets its name from the name of the leading character, Crichton, the butler to Lord Loam, who is played by John Miller. The other leading characters are James Trigg, who will play Lord Loam; Wanda Bennett, Lady Mary; and Tweeny, Margie Reagan.

Other characters in the play are Ernest, who will be played by David Alverson; Trehern, Tom Sloan; Blocklehurst, Ed Lunde; Lady Agatha, Betty Heisner; Lady Catherine, Dorothy Clutta; Lady Brocklehurst, Sue Smith; Fisher, Pat Pingolt; Simmons, Roberta Halbrook; Jeanne, Berta Wyatt; Thomas, Bill Artis; John, John Douglas; Jane, Dorothy Patterson; Gladys, Charlotte Waggener; Stable boy, Tom Cox; Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Lenet Lirely; M. Fleury, Hugo Gartner; Rolleston, Tom Stubbs; and Tompssett, Guy Moore.

"The Admirable Crichton," by J. M. Barrie, tells the story of a butler who proves to be a better man than his master when shipwrecked on a Pacific island but then returns to his inferior position when returned to civilization, because he believed that some men were born to be masters and others servants.

Voss Assists McLeod

Assisting Dr. McLeod in the production are Lawrence Coss, visiting technical director, and members of the stagecraft and Little Theater classes.

Film Service Library Contains 750 Films

Motion picture films ranging from "The Adventures of Bunny Rabbit" to "Atomic Power" can now be obtained by organizations and schools from Southern's film service.

Donald A. Ingli, director of the Audio-Visual Aids service, has recently published the annual film catalog which lists over 750 different films and from three to four hundred film strips. Counting duplicates of the 750 films, the library now has over 1200 prints.

Films are also available to churches, civic and service clubs. "One of the major objectives of Southern Illinois University," President D. W. Morris said, "is to make cultural and educational contributions to the region it serves."

At the present time, Ingli points out, the Audio-Visual Aids service is supplying films to the southern three-fifths of the state.

Another phase of the service is as a consultative service for schools and other institutions on the ways in which the films may be best utilized.

In the near future, the service will add to its collection a new film collection dealing with subjects such as hobbies, sports, and other topics of general interest.

WSC, SC to Sponsor Free Dance Next Week

A free dance, offered by the Weekend Social committee and the Student Council, will be held Friday, July 21, from 8 to 12 p.m. in the women's gym. Dancing will be to the music of an orchestra which will be announced next week.

The decision for the two groups to sponsor this midsummer festivity was arrived at during a special meeting held Monday afternoon. Both the Student Council and the WSC have traditionally avoided extra activities during the summer months, but Monday's meeting decided that the summer students would enjoy recreation of this type equally as much as would regular term students.

The dance will be strictly informal and admission will be by activity card. The campus is being scoured at the present time to obtain electric fans to "beat the heat."

Any faculty members who wish to chaperon the affair should contact Tom Sloan, phone 816-L, or Harry Dell, phone 375-XM before Monday. Of course, faculty and administrative members will be admitted free.

Counseling Discussed At Conference Here

Both high school students and their guidance counselors met here at Southern yesterday for a one day conference to discuss actual counseling problems found in Southern Illinois schools.

The program was under the direction of Dr. Marshall S. Hiskey, professor and chairman of the department of guidance and special education. Plans for the conference were made by University officials and representatives of Southern Illinois schools.

Speaker for the program was Dr. C. E. Michelman who is Chief of Occupational Information and Guidance Services for the Office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He discussed the present status of guidance programs in Southern Illinois schools and the future of the guidance movement. One of the most unusual features of the conference was a panel discussion conducted by high school students. The students told the counselors what they considered to be the guidance needs in their high school.

Music Hour Presented At Student Center

Dr. Maurits Kesnar was in charge of a music hour presented for students and faculty at the Student Center Monday night.

Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, better known as the Choral Symphony, was the first selection played. After this Dr. Kesnar invited the listeners to name selections they would like to hear.

Southern Scientists Help Simplify Cancer Research

Cancer research has been greatly simplified by the findings of Southern Illinois University biological research scientists who have recently disproved a theory which has been under intensive study by the nation's cancer investigators, according to Dr. Carl C. Lindegren, director of the University biological research laboratory and internationally known geneticist.

Dr. Lindegren has shown that a living cell's ability to use sugar develops without any change in the nucleic acid content of the cell. "Scientists have devoted intensive research to the theory that the origin of cancer is caused by the cell's changing its nucleic acid content," declared Dr. Lindegren.

Investigations conducted at Southern have conclusively proved that the nucleic acid content of the cell did not change as the cell adapted itself to the use of different types of sugar.

Rejection of the theory, Lindegren pointed out, will enable scientists to narrow their research to fields that may prove more productive in the never-ending quest for answers to cancer questions.

Library Rents Average Of 13.8 Books Yearly To Each Student

During the past year, the number of books borrowed from the university was higher than the average for the country. Each student borrowed an average of 13.8 books for home use compared with the national average of 12.

This figure, however, does not represent the total picture since more books were used in the library than those issued for home use. Books issued from the reserve section of the library are estimated at 60,000. In addition, an estimated 75,000 items were used in the reference room which contains periodicals and reference books.

All of the library activity is not limited to the campus. During the past year, library officials from the university conducted a systematic preliminary survey of the public libraries in 29 of the southern 31 counties of the State. Librarians and board members were interviewed in order to discover the needs of cities, townships and rural communities in providing library service to the people of Southern Illinois.

The library during 1949-50 consisted of 27 full-time persons, of whom 12 were professional librarians, 7 faculty or graduate assistants, and 8 clerks. In addition, the library employed over 40 student assistants, working between 60 and 80 hours a month each.

HEALTH SERVICE TO GIVE NEW SERIES OF SHOTS

Typhoid series, boosters, and smallpox vaccinations will be given at the university health service for three straight Fridays beginning tomorrow, the health service announced today.

The inoculations, which are free to students, employees and faculty, will be given from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

GOES ON FIELD TRIP

Mary Louise Barnes, assistant professor in home economics, will be off campus July 21 for a field trip to East St. Louis.

Appeal for Students Going Here Fall Term To Notify IBM Office

All those planning to register at Southern the fall term of this year should leave their name with the IBM office, first floor of Old Science, in order to be assured of having their master card on file, the IBM office announced today.

Parking Lot Noises Not SIU Invasion; It's Sing and Swing Club

If you hear "Allemande left" and "Do si-do" ringing across the campus it's not a Korean invasion. It is the Sing and Swing club doing square dances, schottisches, and polkas in the parking lot.

The Sing and Swing club is a fast-growing group who are preserving some of the folklore and culture of this area. The club is open to anyone who wishes to attend and newcomers will receive plenty of help in learning the dances.

The club meets either in the parking lot, or in the Little Theatre, depending upon the weather. The meetings are held at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday. About 75 attended last Wednesday's meeting. A picnic is being planned for the near future.

David McIntosh is the club's sponsor.

P. E. Dept. Sponsors Outdoor Play Night

This term's first outdoor play night was held last night from 7 to 9 p.m. on the Old Football field. The evening of recreation was held under the auspices of the women's physical education department.

Members of the P. E. department were present to give instructions in all of the sports. Activities included horse shoe and washer pitching, croquet, table tennis, badminton, and volley ball.

KAPPA PHI'S MEET TODAY

Kappa Phi Kappa, national education fraternity, will meet in the guidance building at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

McAndrew Stadium To Have Lights For Night Games

McAndrew stadium will be equipped with lights and will have a larger seating capacity when the SIU grid team takes the field against Cape Girardeau on Sept. 30 according to W. A. Howe, director of the university physical plant.

The State Division of Architecture has awarded the Hi-Line Construction Co. of Rockford a $36,283 contract for the construction of the stadium floodlighting. Materials to be used in the construction are expected to arrive within a few days and the work will commence soon after.

The specifications called for 192 lights of 1,500 watts each. Twenty-four such lights will be mounted on each of eight poles, two behind and one at each end of the bleachers on the west side of the field and two behind and one at each end of the new bleachers which will be constructed on the east side of the field.

Such a system precludes lighting even better than that used for class D professional baseball in Southern Illinois. Glenn Martin, university director of athletics, said he believed that Southern will be the only school in the IAC conference who will have lights when they are completed.

Four home football games for Southern have been booked as night affairs. They include, besides the Sept. 30 date with Cape Girardeau, Indiana State, Oct. 7; Michigan Normal, Nov. 10 in the Shrine Bowl game; and Western Nov. 18. All dates are for Saturday nights except the bowl game, which falls on a Friday night preceding Armistice day. The only day game at home next season will be the homecoming contest with Normal, Oct. 21.

The Safety Bleachers Co. of Springfield was awarded a $50,576 contract for construction of bleachers on the east side of the stadium. The new bleachers, which will be constructed of steel, will have a seating capacity of 4,800. They will also be completed in time for the Cape game on Sept. 30.

Outdoor Movies Proceed With English Film

The summer outdoor movies will continue with the English film, "Private Life of Henry VIII," which is scheduled for next Tuesday, July 25. With Charles Laughton, Robert Donat, Merle Oberon, and John Loder this film is a story of King Henry. Laughton received an Academy award for his performance.

The Russian film, "Ivan the Terrible," was presented last week and "The Damned," a French production, was shown Tuesday. "The Baker's Wife" will be the final movie of the term. All foreign films have English subtitles.

Stadium Racks Up Firsts

Southern's McAndrew stadium is really racking up the firsts—and it looks like it's only the beginning. It all started last month.

It was on June 11 that for the first time in Southern's 75-year history that graduation ceremonies were held outside—in the stadium. Then only last week the stadium came back to mark up its second first in less than a month when Southern's first outdoor movies were shown before a fairly large crowd.

And now the stadium is shooting for its third straight first—and weather permitting, will get it next Thursday evening when the summer play moves into the open air for the first time.

The stadium soon will get new lights and a night game will be played there for the first time late in September.

There still seems to be just one first missing—a first place football team.—B. H.

Art of Appreciation

We believe there is an art to developing appreciation. As appreciation develops our criticism of small and trivial things begin to decrease. The art of appreciation was enacted to its fullest by a small, wizened, old man in a cafe one cold night in a large metropolitan city. The old man ordered a cup of coffee and from that moment the lesson in 'the art of appreciation' began.

The old man's gnarled hands encircled the cup to soak up the warmth. As he sipped each time his eyes took on a glow of satisfaction. His shoulders straightened and before long we heard the unmistakable sounds of the old man humming a sprightly tune to himself. Here was a man who knew the art of appreciation, the art of appreciating a cup of coffee.

The old man soon finished his cup of coffee, plunked down his nickel and stalked out into the night. As we watched him disappear down the street . . . we begin to feel that here may be the answer to our present day fault-finders, our pessimists, and those who have lost the art of appreciating what they have. We feel the old gentleman enacted his role to the fullest.—W.D.U.

Dear Mr. Muller:

"Error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it"—Jefferson, first inaugural address.

Although we weren't formally invited, we, the Egyptian staff, submit this name as our favorite for the huge inscription to be placed on the interior wall of the new library building.

Strange as it may seem, the editor, managing editor, and business manager, voting by secret ballot, all picked the above quotation as choice No. 1 of the 13 suggested inscriptions you sent to the faculty. All others voting in the Egyptian poll included the quotation in the top three selections.

It received twice as many votes as any other inscription.

Our second choice: "The bedrock on which the scholarly activities of the university are founded is a charter of free inquiry; without this . . . you do not have a university."—President Conant, in his Annual Report on Harvard University, 1947.

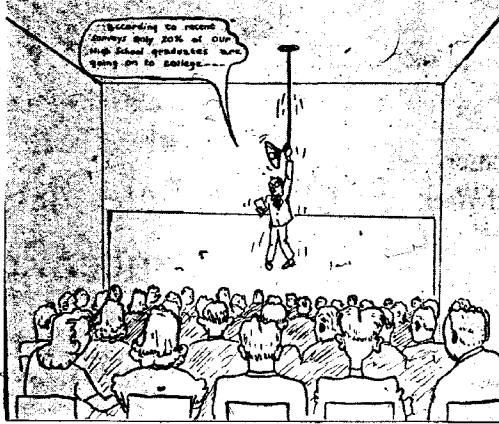

Third choice: A tie between "If the people are to govern themselves, their only hope of doing so wisely lies in the collective wisdom derived from fullest possible information, and in the fair presentation of differing opinions,"—President's committee on Civil Rights and "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."—Voltaire.

Sincerely,
The Egyptian

Flowers for Flickers; Sobbing for Sodists

by Harry Rehnert

This week we have two bunches of flowers on ice (on ice ever since the last issue because of space shortage) which we would like to pass on to two different campus service organizations. One bunch of flowers is orchids for the audio-visual aids and entertainments and lectures committee people; and the other is wrapped in black crepe for all those optimistic, bright-eyed, and happy souls who work so diligently every spring to make the campus beautiful.

There was some mention of the first group in the last issue of Southern Exposure. Now that the schedule of movies for the summer has been released, we see it is even better than expected. We had a little chat with one of the men behind the movies about getting in some of the other big hits—like "The Titan," "The King's Jester," the film version of "La Traviata," etc.—which have been recently touring the country.

However, the expense of these films is more than the committee can afford. We wonder why one of Carbondale's theatres doesn't undertake this project—other pictures of real cultural value they have shown in the past paid off. We believe these would too!

Concerning the second group mentioned above, we offer our condolences to them for the frustration that must come after having their work destroyed by a spade for the third time in three years.

It'll be nice to have all the water fountains in Old Main working at one time, but we hope this is the last of the spring plowing on campus for a few years.

Fans will remember that there was some mention in this column last spring about the condition of the atrocious sink on the second floor of Old Main. We've noticed that for the past several months someone with a blessed taste for beauty has kept the sink clean. And that's no small task.

The weather has been just right for swimming lately, and Crab Orchard has been full of people taking advantage of it for the past month or more. Here's a word of caution from one who knows—watch out for broken bottles, tin cans, and other trash of that nature on the bottom. A lot of people have hobbled into doctors' offices this summer with cut feet from not watching their step while swimming.

Another Southern student has recently won national fame—Audrey Mayer—who has been selected as the ideal pledge of the national Tri-Sig sorority. It's people like these who are putting Southern on the map.

For those who came in late it should be explained that the author feels that puns are not the lowest, but the highest form of humor. For this reason, this column is closed each week with a pun. Many are original, but when not, no credit is given to the source from which they were swiped.

Well 'pun my word: If anyone asks you wha' happen to the campus, you might say that it's a sod story.

BLINDNESS PREVENTION MEETING HERE FRIDAY

A program to be presented by the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness will be held tomorrow at the Lincoln school on Washington ave. in Carbondale. The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. and is open to all SIU students and faculty members.

Give Instructions About Distribution Of 1950 Obelisk

Regulations governing the distribution of the 1950 Obelisks, which are expected to arrive today or tomorrow are listed below.

All students enrolled for the fall, winter, and spring terms of 1949-50 school year and having paid the full activity fee for each term, are entitled to one copy free of charge.

Students who paid full activity fee for any two of the terms mentioned, may obtain a book upon payment of a fee of one dollar, and persons who paid full activity fee for one term may obtain a book for two dollars.

Persons, including faculty member and employees of the university, who have not paid full activity fee for any one of the quarters listed above may obtain a book for four dollars. All students who graduated in June are eligible to receive an Obelisk, provided they meet the qualifications listed above. If they do not call for their copy, they will receive one through the mail.

In all cases involving money, only cash will be accepted. Each student must, upon receipt of a book, sign his initials on the roster provided. No student will be allowed to pick up a book for a friend or relative.

The cover of this year's annual has a modernistic design in white set in a background of green.

Color will be used for the first time in the inside of the Obelisk. Besides having inside red reverses, there will be color on the division pages and in the printing.

Due to printing difficulties, this year's Obelisk was received approximately 60 days behind schedule.

DENNY, MOTT SHOW SLIDES OF TRIP TO ENGLAND

Narration was divided among Dr. Mott, Miss Denny, and Miss Mott. Each told of the pictures she had taken and some of the attending circumstances.

Miss Denney is an instructor in the health education department of Southern Illinois university, while Dr. Mott is in charge of the kindergarten at the University Schools. Betty Mott is Dr. Mott's daughter.

Greece Scene Greece Shows Signs Of Making Recovery

ATHENS, GREECE—Improvements and face-lifting which have revived this country during the past 12 months is a herculean task in the first degree.

In talking with various people who were in Greece a year ago, I found they agreed that the greatest strides have been taken during this period than at any one time in modern Greek history.

A year ago one would think twice before venturing out of the capital without an armed convoy; today any region in Greece is accessible and with a considerable degree of security.

Larger portion of road construction was accomplished by the corps of U. S. Army engineers.

The Economic Co-operation administration (ECA) has tried as much as possible and feasible to make the reconstruction phase of their work an all-Greek Ministry operation, with ECA financing, advice, and technical assistance.

At present ECA is due to wind up its world-wide relief recovery program in 1952. But if any country needs and deserves further aid militarily and economically after the expiration date, it is Greece.

At this writing the ECA staff in Greece is the smallest of 17 European nations being revived through the foresight of America and at the same time, paradoxically enough, with the largest ECA mission.

Greek's people, although matter-of-fact in their social dealings, are very co-operative. Given a workable amount of American moral and material encouragement, Greece in no time will take its place as one of the most productive countries in Europe.

Registrar Releases Final Exam Schedule

Final examination schedule for the summer term was announced this week by the Registrar's office. The schedule:

Thursday, Aug. 3
7:30 classes	7:30
10:20 classes	10:30
1:10 classes	1:30
Friday, Aug. 4
8:55 classes	7:30
11:45 classes	10:30
2:35 classes	1:30

Examinations will run for two clock hours except for classes that meet only once or twice a week. Examinations for these will begin at the end of the two-hour examinations and will run for one clock hour. This is necessary to dovetail classes which meet the same period.

Health Dept. Gives Polio Precautions

Jackson County Health Department, the doctors of the Jackson County Medical Society, and the Jackson County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis have made plans for help and medical care in case polio should strike the county this summer. Dr. R. F. Sondag, Public Health Officer, has stated.

If polio should strike early diagnosis and medical care is extremely important. Common early signs of polio are: headache, nausea, vomiting, muscular soreness and stiff neck and fever. Some of these symptoms may indicate other diseases but in the polio season, they must be regarded with suspicion.

Anyone with any of these symptoms should be isolated in bed pending diagnosis. A physician should be called at once. Until he comes the patient should be kept quiet and in bed away from others.

It is advisable to avoid undue fatigue and exertion. One should prevent getting chilled and should not bathe or swim too long in cold water.

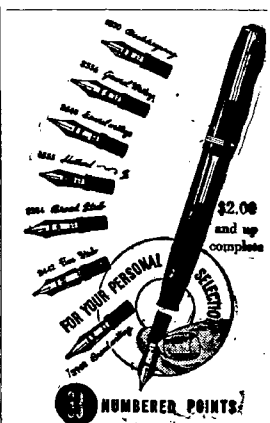

Polio germs may be carried into the body through the mouth, thus food should be kept clean and covered. Since flies can carry the polio germ, every attempt should be made to control flies by spraying with DDT, Chlorthane or lindane. The best way, however, to control flies and any of the diseases they may spread, is to eliminate fly breeding places, Dr. Sondag emphasized.

Exam To Be Conducted For Elementary Teachers

An examination for elementary teachers in the Bureau of Indian Affairs has been announced by the Civil Service Commission. The positions to be filled pay $3100 a year, and are located in Indian schools in Alaska and in 20 states.

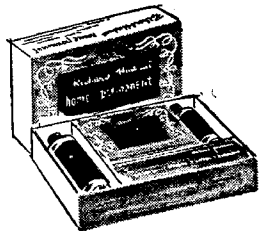

Applicants for these positions will not have to take a written test. Detailed information about requirements, instructions on where to file applications, and other points of interest are given in the examination announcements and application forms which are available at the post office and the civil service regional office.

Applications will be accepted until further notice, but it is advisable to apply not later than July 27.

GIANT CITY CRAFTS CLASS HOLDS HANDWORK DISPLAY

Some of the work done in the special problems course, one of several courses offered at the SIU outdoor workshop, Giant City, is on display in the first floor hall of Parkinson laboratory.

The course in special problems was designed to provide instruction in crafts helpful to Scout masters and others who might need to be able to teach arts and crafts.

Included in the display are samples of leather lacing, rope splicing, chair caning, braiding, samples of native woods suitable for craft work, and a pioneering project in bridge building.

Each student enrolled in the course did a project either in leather working or in basket-weaving. Several of the completed projects are on display along with the special display boards.

July 15 Deadline For Mexico Tour Applications

Deadline for receiving applications to go on the university sponsored Mexico tour will be July 15 according to Mrs. Olive Webb, faculty assistant at the president's office in charge of faculty-student tours.

Mrs. Webb stated that there was no set quota for the trip and that time would not be extended past the July 15 deadline because the tour company must know the number going in order to make reservations.

So far, ten persons have signed up to make the two week trip which includes stops in Memphis, Tenn.; Laredo, Texas; Monterrey, Mexico; and a five day stay in Mexico City.

Those going are Patte Maneese, Mrs. Clara C. Taggart, Marylee Keneipp, Lydia Keneipp, Mrs. Inez Croessmann, Mrs. Zylhoro Willi, Mrs. Ruth Prelec, Dora Young, Mrs. P. M. Ferguson, and Byrl Sims.

The tour, including the $3.00 Mexican tourist permit, local taxes and room and food can be made easily for $200 unless one plans to do souvenir shopping.

Anyone interested in making the trip should contact Mrs. Olive Webb at the president's office for details.

Johnson's pin-up lamp makes use of rings cut from ordinary tin cans of different sizes.

Dr. Peacock Discloses South American Feelings

People of the South American countries look to Europe rather than the United States for leadership, according to Dr. Vera L. Peacock, professor and chairman of the Foreign Language department at Southern Illinois University.

Dr. Peacock expressed that opinion following a nine months visit in South America. During her travels, she visited Peru, Chile, Argentine, Uruguay, and Brazil.

"Not only do the countries look to Europe for leadership," she said, "but they blame the United States for most of their faults." One of the leading reasons for this attitude, Peacock pointed out, is the feeling of the people that the U. S. has taken advantage of them by exploiting their natural resources.

She indicated, however, that this feeling does not carry over to individuals. The antagonistic attitude is toward this country in general.
