Return to Campus For Summer Run; Present 'Private Lives' This Evening

The curtain goes up tonight on the Southern Players' first summer season on campus. "Private Lives," a sparkling comedy by Noel Coward, will be given the Players' presentation of five shows this summer.

The curtain goes up tonight on the Southern Players' first summer season on campus. "Private Lives," a sparkling comedy by Noel Coward, will be given the Players' presentation of five shows this summer.

Season coupon books for the plays are $2.50. Regular admission price is $1. Season books are limited to 500 and only a few are left for this season, according to Abrams.

The box office opens at 7 Louise. Miss Freed, a speech education junior, has appeared in "Harvey," "Dark of the Moon," "Picnic" and "The Shoes that Were Danced to Pieces."

Show Vary

For the first summer running on campus, there are sparkling comedies, a Pulitzer prize drama, and a Civil War melodrama. The 1959 company includes 17 graduate and undergraduate theatre students who will form the casts and crews for all shows.

No Classes Scheduled July 3, 4

Classes will be dismissed on Friday and Saturday, July 3 and 4, according to Robert McGrath, Registrar.

Auto Accident Causes Death Of Instructor

Funeral services for Dr. Emil Zaslavski, 60-year-old associate professor of government at SIU, were held at 9 a. m. Saturday, June 20, in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church in Carbondale.

'PRIVATE LIVES'

A scene from the Southern Players' production which opens tonight at 8 in the playhouse, catches four players in their rehearsal paces.

(Victor) as Ken Swofford (Elyot) and Nancy Beals (Amanda) come down stage. A sparkling comedy by Noel Coward, "Private Lives" will run for five nights, July 3-5, in the air-conditioned playhouse.

Randle Accepts Position At High School

W. L. (Pat) Randle, supervisor of the Southern's adult education program for the past three years, has resigned to accept a position at Arlington Heights High School.

Hints To Beat Heat

Do you find the weather bothersome? There are some ways to beat the heat. The office of Student Affairs offers their annual Watermelon Party as a starter.

Down In The Watermelon Patch

"How's my watermelon doing?" Inquired campus policeman Ardel Creeks as he patrolled the Student Union the other day.

SIU Takes Over Units

Due to the increasing enrollment, SIU is taking over four units of the Chautauque Family Housing project today for the 1959-60 academic year.

Enrollment Hits 4,623; 500 Increase Over 1958

Lake Okay Delayed

No decision has been made on the date for the opening of the Thompson Lake swimming area according to William Bleyer of the Activities Development Center.

Dean Dey Welcomes Students

Dean Raymond H. Dey, Director of the SIU summer session, has extended the following greetings to students in summer school.

SIU enrollment for the summer session had reached 4,623 at the end of the first week, and is expected to reach between 4,700 and 4,800 by the time final figures are in, according to Registrar Robert A. McGrath.

SIU Takes Over Units

While no one now living in the Chautauque area will be asked to move in order to provide space for academic units, barracks 14, 15, 22, and 23 are being evacuated for use other than housing, according to William M. Rogge, Director of Housing.

POOL OPEN FOR STUDENTS

Co-recreational swimming will be available for SIU students during the summer session, Intramural Department graduate assistant Ron Ayers announced.

Experienced Cast

Nancy Jean Beals, a former member of the Tufts University summer stock company, will appear as Amanda. A graduate of the University of Vermont, Miss Beals is beginning work on a master's degree after completing five years of teaching.

The staff this summer includes associate theatre director Christine Moe and guest director William Work, director of theatre at Eastern Michigan University.

Beach Open For Staff

Sheldon S. Steinberg, chairman of the Little Grassy Recreation Committee, has announced that the Faculty Beach Two will be open every Saturday and Sunday until September 6 for recreational swimming. A lifeguard will be a duty each week-end from noon to 7 p. m.

Two canvas-enclosed screens will be provided at the beach site for dressing. Plans also include the grading and shoring of access road to the beach parking area and additional sand for the beach.

Progress continues on the new beach site for recreational swimming and camping, according to Steinberg. The beach area is available but additional work needs to be done on the road and the swimming area before it is usable.

Steinberg said a notice will be circulated in the near future asking for another work party and plant grass and shrubs on drainage slopes. This new facility will be available next summer.

Enrollment on the Carbonade campus for the fall term, 1955, was 5,415.

Studies Plan For Chapel On Campus

President Delyve W. Morris has been authorized by the SIU Board of Trustees to study the legal questions involved in building a non-denominational chapel on campus.

The chapel, suggested by Charles E. Feinrich, assistant to President Morris, would be built with donations. No state funds would be used.

A number of proposed designs, prepared by architectural drafting students at VTI were shown at a recent Board meeting.

The chapel would be located on the knoll west of the Library parking lot.

PLANS MADE FOR BROCHURE

Plans for preparing a brochure of the objectives of Southern have been approved by the Board of Trustees.

The brochure is to be based on a series of pictures made by Reinhardt Rutenbeck, a German exchange student. Rutenbeck took the pictures of campus scenes to illustrate the principal engaged on the wall in Morris Library.

The brochure will feature both these photographs and the text of the statement of principals.

IT HAPPENED
It was bound to happen sometime, said Jack Manbeck, left, as he presents a Red Cross certificate to one of the swimming instructors who completed a Midwest Aquatic School (June 7-11) at SIU. The recipient, Miss Winemiller, is shown above.

Outside work nears completion on one of two small residence halls slated to be ready for occupancy at SIU in September. Another five units in the project, situated near SIU's Campus Lake, are expected to be finished in two months later. The dormitories, each to house 40 students, will be rented to social fraternities and sororities. Underground sewer, electrical and water installations are 90 per cent completed. A road through the project will be finished in six to eight weeks.

Trustees Approve Changes Affecting 42 Persons

In recent action by the SIU Board of Trustees, personnel changes affecting 42 persons were approved. Included in the changes were eight resignations, nine continuing appointments, four term appointments, and nine summer session faculty additions.

Three staff members were promoted and two sabbatical leaves changes had already been announced.

The Board accepted the resignation of Miss Mildred Schrotberger, dean of women, effective today. Miss Schrotberger will move to Syncaze University, where she will be head resident of a women's residence hall.

Also effective today was the resignation of Dr. Erwin Stasel, Thompson Point residence halls educational coordinator. Dr. Stasel will become dean of students at Jacksonville University, Fla.

Leaving SIU

Others who will leave the SIU faculty are Reginald H. Neal of the art department, Ernest L. Boyd of the speech department, and student housing director William Rogge. Neal will leave August 15 for Rutgers University, Rogge will become director of housing at New York State College, Buffalo, and Boyd is returning to private business.

Students From Foreign Lands Increase

The number of foreign students increasing in the United States has reached 38 per cent in the last five years, according to a survey recently released.

The 47,245 students from 131 countries registered in U. S. colleges and universities this year represent a 9 per cent increase over the number last year and an 86 per cent increase over that of the academic year of 1948-49. According to all available statistics and current figures represents the largest foreign student population in any country in the world.

The post-war period has also produced a great spurt in the exchange of university teachers and scholars, the survey revealed. In five years, the number of foreign professors teaching in our schools has tripled.

American colleges and universities reported 1,937 foreign faculty members this year, in comparison to 635 in 1954-55. With 1,842 American faculty abroad, this was the first year on record that we "imported" more professors than we "exported."

The sharp increase in both "export" and "import" faculty figures reflected the U. S.'s growing concern with education in the physical sciences. Nine hundred and seven, or 47 per cent of the foreign professors brought to American schools this year were in this field. This was double the number of foreign science professors here last year.

STATE GROUP NAMES SIU STAFF MEMBER

The Illinois Tuberculosis Assn. has appointed Deward K. Grissom, associate professor of health education at SIU, to its scholarship and training committee.

Seventy-five dollars was stolen from the SIU Photographic Service's cash account in a break-in some time during the night of June 16th, University police report.

Entry to the building, an old white frame house at 513 W. Harwood Ave., was gained by kicking in a basement window.

The safe was apparently opened by its combination, SIU security officer Tom Leifler said. He said the safe definitely was not blown.

Leifler said Monday the University police have no good leads in the case, but are still working on it.

CARD PLEASE!

The time has once again arrived for students to visit the Textbook Service to secure books for the summer term.

Civil Service Needs Workers In Washington

An examination for Cartographers has been announced by the U. S. Civil Service Commission, for filling positions paying from $4,040 to $12,770 a year in various Federal agencies in the Washington, D. C., area.

The majority of the positions to be filled are in the Army Map Service, Aeronautical Chart and Information Center, Geological Survey, Bureau of Land Management, Coast and Geodetic Survey, and Navy Hydrographic Office.

Plan Approved To Broaden Training Base

A plan to broaden the base of training for teachers in the smaller public schools was recently authorized by the SIU board of trustees Wednesday.

Under the new plan, students planning to teach in the smaller schools would be permitted to major in such general subject areas as Language Arts and General Science, instead of concentrating so heavily on a specialized field.

The "inter-departmental curricula" were adopted for the benefit of small schools where one teacher is expected to handle several subjects.

Students Design Proposed Park For Railroad

Ten designs for a proposed railroad park in Carbondale have been presented to the Park Board by VTI architectural design students. The top were the best of 28, prepared under the direction of instructor Paul Loughey.

The designs included areas for a museum, a train station, tennis courts, playground area, ball parks, parking lots, railroad yards, a round house, a theatre, dining cars, a lounge car and a swimming pool.

Most of the student designs were planned so the park could be constructed in stages. Sixty students had one section of the park for recreation, another for parking, and another for a railroad museum and other exhibits.

The proposed park stemmed from a petition by the Carbondale Rotary club to the Illinois Central Railroad to preserve at least one steam locomotive and 4.8 per cent in Carbondale.

Each design was drawn to scale, but no estimates of the park's cost were made by the students. The park would cover about 35 acres.

Each design also included a centralized parking area along with a traffic circulation route. One student proposed a miniature railway through the park which would allow tourists to board the train and get off at sites of interest.

Loughey said the next possible project of the students would be more work on the museum.

'Pop' Musicians Needed For Summer Shows

Southern Illinois Symphony Conductor Carmine Ficoelli has put out the welcome mat for vocalists and instrumentalists who would like to appear in a summer series of evening "pop" concerts at SIU.

The outdoor concerts, inaugurated last year with the help of SIU's Office of Student Affairs, will begin June 30. One concert will be staged each Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. on the patio of Woody Hall, SIU women's dormitory. A feature of the performances, open free to the public, will be candle-lit tables, a la the Boston Pops annual "champagne" concerts. SIU will forego the grape in favor of soft drinks, however.

Ficoelli said he'd like to hear from any area musicians competent for solo spots with the summer symphony.

"Last summer's concerts were so popular that we want to open them to the public even more this year," he said. "There's no telling how much talent there is around Southern Illinois, just waiting for something like this."

Judson Speaks At Conference For Homemakers

A four-day conference on "Work Simplification for the Homemakers" first of its kind in Illinois, will be conducted July 12-15 at SIU.

Designed for persons who provide services for the handicapped, the conference will be partially from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Purpose of the conference is to explain and demonstrate methods by which disabled women can do their housework, according to Dr. Betty Jane Johnston, coordinator.

He has been a member of the SIU foreign language department faculty since 1930 when he received his master's degree from the University of Chicago.

Disabled homemakers from the Carbondale area will describe their house management problems and solutions in a panel discussion.

The purpose of the trip was to study and compare the craft programs being offered to persons preparing for elementary school teaching.

He found that SIU is one of the few schools offering two courses in craft work for students majoring in elementary education.

Shake reported that one of the most interesting features of his trip was the visiting of the craft shops and learning of the diversity of course objectives and varieties of materials used in teaching the craft courses.

After returning home from his southern trip, Shake visited Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Indiana, and Indiana State Teachers College.

Upon their arrival, Martin and his wife were greeted by American Embassy officials, local government representatives, and the Sports for Israel Committee.

The SIU coach and Mrs. Martin are staying in the Cat Rampton Hotel overlooking the Mediterranean Sea.

He is planning to participate in a workshop each summer.

Martin Finds New Job In Israel

"Looks like I'm going to be working with basketball the first three weeks," wrote SIU baseball coach Abe Martin in a recent letter to associate Chuck Weis.

Martin went to Israel on a six-month leave of absence expecting to teach baseball, but has been given a basketball coaching assignment instead.

In writing Weis, Martin asked him to send a pair of tennis shoes. Apparently Abe is having trouble locating a pair big enough.

Martin reports that he made five stops before arriving at his destination, Tel Aviv. Before landing there, he changed planes in St. Louis, New York, Paris, and Athens.

Upon their arrival, Martin and his wife were greeted by American Embassy officials, local government representatives, and the Sports for Israel Committee.

The SIU coach and Mrs. Martin are staying in the Cat Rampton Hotel overlooking the Mediterranean Sea.

The schedule is as follows: July 8: "Adam's Rib", starring Spencer Tracy, Katherine Hepburn and Judy Holiday.

July 15: "Brigham Young", starring Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell.

July 22: "The Big Land", starring Alan Ladd, Virginia Mayo and Edmund O'Brien.

July 29: "The Babe", starring Robert Taylor, Ava Gardner and Charles Laughton.

August 5: "The Doctor and the Girl", starring Glenn Ford, Charles Coburn and Gloria DeHaven.

Gilbert H. Kroening, Alamo, was awarded the Illinois Agriculture Association trophy as the outstanding senior in the SIU School of Agriculture.

Kroening was president of the SIU Agriculture Club and received its activity award this year.

Shake returned to SIU after a three-week tour in Israel with the State Department's cultural exchange program.

Participants in Livestock Marketing Gerald Hanford, SIU junior, has been selected for a eight-week summer internship in livestock marketing at the St. Louis National Stockyards, National Stockyards, Ill.

Hanford began work June 22. The purpose of the internship according to Walter Willis, SIU marketing specialist, is to provide practical training and experience to a student in livestock marketing.

During his eight-week stay, Hanford will participate in various supervised jobs in the stockyard's operations. He will work with the handling of cattle, sheep, and hog shipments, feeding procedures, plant maintenance, and commission firm operations.

Attend Music Program A group of forty students and faculty members traveled by bus to Du Quoin Saturday to attend the Egyptian Music Camp's presentation of Handel's "Messiah."

FAMILY HOUSING

Construction is now underway on the Family Housing units which should be completed by September. Four units are being constructed this summer.

The buildings, located on Wall Street, will be rented by Southern students and faculty members with families.

The University is constructing the housing units to aid in lessening the housing shortage for students and staff members.

Construction is scheduled to be completed and houses rented by the beginning of fall term. The buildings were designed by Gov. Straton on May 26, when he dedicated the New Student Center.

Each unit will be complete with kitchen and dining area. Construction is scheduled to be completed and houses rented by the beginning of fall term.

'Happy Fellow' Slated For Workshop

"The Most Happy Fella", selected as the best musical of the season in 1957, will be presented August 7 and 8 by members of the SIU Opera Workshop.

Approximately 60 students will participate in the production, according to Dr. Sherwin Abrams of the Theater Department.

The lead characters, Tony, Cleo, Joey, Rosabella, Marie and Herman will be played by Bob Walker, Dolores Dolens, Bob Green, Jane Crusius, Linda McDaniel, and Jean Horn respectively.

"The Most Happy Fella" is a musical comedy that has its setting in the Napa Valley in California.

Anyone interested in a part in either the singing or dancing chorus should contact one of the directors: Mrs. Jane Peague, department of physical education, is in charge of choreography, and William Taylor of the music department is working with the singing chorus.

This summer's musical is the fourth to be produced by the SIU Opera Workshop. Others presented have been "Brigadoon" in 1956, "Carousel" in 1957, and "Oklahoma" in 1958.

It will keep right on broadcasting at the regular hours—5 p. m. until midnight Monday through Friday and from noon until midnight on Saturdays and Sundays.

Papers Appear In Journal

Summaries of two research papers by SIU School of Agriculture dairy specialists appear in the current issue of the Journal of Dairy Science.

Both papers were presented at the 54th annual meeting of the American Dairy Science Association in Urbana.

Arthur Sommer, St. Louis, animal industries graduate student at SIU, is the principal author of a report on comparing the performance of dairy cattle on continuously-grazed and strip-grazed pastures.

Co-authors are Alex Reed, chairman of the SIU animal industries department, Howard H. Olson, associate professor, and Howard F. Benson, research assistant.

Olson, in cooperation with John R. Davis, SIU student, prepared a report on comparing two types of treatment to induce lactation in infertile dairy cows by using hormones.

Four Attend Meeting

Marvin E. Johnson, Wayne Remy, J. Henry Schroeder, and Bann S. Vineyard, all of the SIU applied science and industrial education department, recently attended the fourth annual Foundry Instructors Seminar at the University of Illinois.

The seminar, attended by 175 foundry teachers from all parts of the U. S., was sponsored by the American Foundrymen's Society to encourage co-operation between educators and local foundry interests, and to keep foundry teachers informed on the latest developments.

The three-day intensive program was devoted to discussions and talks on teaching aids, curricula, shop layouts, laboratory facilities, demonstrations, career opportunities, and casting methods.

The group also visited the General Motors Corporation Foundry at Danville.
