The top Democrat in the Illinois Democratic Party said that Glenn Poshard will seek his party's nomination for the 2002 gubernatorial run.

"Yes, it is my understanding that he is going to run," said Illinois Speaker of the House Mike Madigan, D-Chicago. He said that Poshard plans to announce his candidacy August 16 on Democrat Day at the Illinois State Fair.

But the SIUC administration and the Board of Trustees seem to be in the dark about any movement Poshard is making toward securing a bid in the Democrat primary.

Scott Koeper, spokesperson for the problem, said that he was not aware Poshard had contacted the administration.

However, Poshard has been making the apparent initial steps in preparing for a run.

Poshard has repeatedly contacted Ed Smith, regional manager of the labor international union, who was his top fund-raiser in the 1998 campaign. Also, he has talked with political strategists based in Chicago and has contact with top campaign leaders for preparations.

Although Poshard has not made a decision publicly, he has said he is considering running. This is a change from his stance that began in June of 1999, when Poshard was hired as vice chancellor for Administration. After a hard-fought race against Gov. George Ryan, who beat him by only 5 percent margin, Poshard made a verbal agreement with the Board of Trustees that he would not run again.

As recently as April, Poshard told a court, case ends in default.

The results of ongoing research, headed by Dr. Sanjeev Komar, into the industrial use of coal waste products at SIUC has been implemented into a Marion project and have a substantial concern in Komar's research.

"The public interest is to have a visible project we can point to to help commercialize this process and market our byproducts," Murphy said. "This project is a means to both lower the cost of construction for an important community facility and to mitigate our waste problem."

Six million tons of coal ash is produced each year in Illinois. Around 80 percent of that waste, including bottom ash, goes into landfills. John Mead, director of the Coal Research Center, said that recycling of coal byproducts helps protect the environment.

"It is putting this material to beneficial use," Mead said. "Materials that would otherwise get out into the environment are sequestered."

The research has focused on bottom ash in foundation mixtures using bottom ash instead of sand, which is used in conventional concrete mixtures.

"So far everybody is using the sand mixture that the bottom ash is providing us," Murphy said. "The public interest is to have a visible project we can point to to help commercialize this process and market our byproducts," Murphy said. "This project is a means to both lower the cost of construction for an important community facility and to mitigate our waste problem."

Six million tons of coal ash is produced each year in Illinois. Around 80 percent of that waste, including bottom ash, goes into landfills. John Mead, director of the Coal Research Center, said that recycling of coal byproducts helps protect the environment.

"It is putting this material to beneficial use," Mead said. "Materials that would otherwise get out into the environment are sequestered."

The research has focused on bottom ash, a byproduct of pulverized coal combustion, because of the limited data on its use in foundation materials. The research tests the strength and durability of foundation mixtures using bottom ash instead of sand, which is used in conventional concrete mixtures.

"So far everybody is using the sand mixture that the bottom ash is providing us," Murphy said.

Glenn Poshard and country musician David Lee Murphy held a celebrity "shoot" to raise money for the Poshard Foundation for Abused Children. Gunmen from around the country came to skeet shoot in Harrisburg Saturday. "The most important thing is that every penny goes to the children," Poshard said.
POSHARD CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

A class of SIUC students that he was not going to run for governor. However, even at this time, Posshard was sharing Democrat views at the spring meeting of the Illinois Democratic Women for their party’s $12 billion Illinois FIRST plan.

Following this rally, board members asked again if he had plans to run in 2002, and Posshard confirmed that he would not, a source familiar with board matters stated.

Several trustees expressed concerns that Posshard was making public appearances where he criticized Illinois’ FIRST plan and found Posshard’s outspoken remarks could harm SIUC’s budget, the source said. At this time, the 2002 budget was not yet finalized.

Similarly, Rep. Mike Bost, R-Murphysboro, said that he was concerned for the governor, who had no message sent to Posshard from the governor about his candidacy.

Posshard did not return repeated phone calls from the Daily Egyptian to his office and home.

Mark Lambird contributed to this story.

The trustees also were unaware of an alleged threat from someone close to Ryan to Posshard.

Truesed Ed Hightower, Mark Replung and Gene Callahan said that they were not aware of any conversation between Posshard and any members of the board when his job or political intentions were discussed. Melody O’Deuspo said to be with whom she was a business associate, but he could not be reached.

O’Deuspo, Rowe, Replung and Callahan are Republicans. Callahan and Breverman are Democrats, and Hightower is an independent.

The source said that the board would require Posshard to reapply for his position at SIUC at the time that he announces his candidacy.

The Daily Egyptian is the student-run newspaper of SIUC, is committed to being a trusted source of news, information, commentary and public discourse, while helping readers understand the issues affecting their lives.

We Make It Easy To Save At Schnucks!

1.48 LB.
Washington State Bing Cherries

3 for $7
Regular or Diet COKE OR PEPSI
Limit 6 TOTAL per order

4 FOR $4
Campbell’s PORK & BEANS
11 oz. can

4.99 LB.
Schnucks CHARCOAL 20 lb. bag

1.18 LB.
Jumbo Pack Regular GROUND BEEF
Limit 8 lbs. per order/week
$10 purchase- Meat Master

4.99 LB.
Schnucks Sweet Baby Ray’s BARBECUE SAUCE
Reg 7.5 oz. bottle

Open 24 Hours

Check our web site at www.schnucks.com for special money-saving offers available only on Express Connection orders! All double coupons apply to manufacturer coupons valued at $01 or less. For more details, check in store. We reserve the right to limit quantities.

Readers who fill an entry in a news article should contact the Newsroom Accuracy Desk at 526-3311, extension 228 or 229.

COAL LEFTOVERS CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"The overall cost savings is about $28 per cubic yard of concrete," Komar said.

Kumar said students participating in the research are participating in a project that goes beyond classroom education.

"The students are getting hands-on training on types of testing that several of the professionals haven’t had the opportunity to see in their entire professional career," Kumar said. "We are giving students something that is very beneficial to them, this is going to put them way ahead of students from other schools."

Jim Stewart, a graduate student in civil engineering, is one of several students participating in the Marlon project.

"It’s experience we don’t get in the classroom," Stewart said. "When I get out and try to find a job I’ll have a definite advantage over other students."

NEWS
Empowering Bangladesh women

Visiting professor to study working women in Bangladesh

MARILEEN TROUTT

Little appears to distinguish Nasirul Kamal Wazi from other Bangladeshi women — the swerve of wary black locks, the rich hues of traditional garb and the firmness of gaze she sheds through thick matte glasses.

But Wazi, avoiding profusion with Independent University in Delhi, never had to live in the world's largest Bangladesh-related studies with her SIU colleague, sociology professor Kathryn Ward. Wai and Ward wrote the lives of 200 working-class Bangladesh women over five years to document how they survive the ups and downs of their employment and how that effects their societal status.

Wazi is a privileged upbringing, a father who served as chief justice of Bangladesh and a mother who earned her master's in Canada and her doctorate in London. Besides these accolades, Wai is also known for her face on the Bangladesh tunic. As one of the country's most prominent folk singers, she has put out several videos and a recent CD. These accomplishments enable Wai to help develop Bangladesh's economy, which is heavily dependent on remittances. The tunic pays Wazi a living to produce T-shirts for factories in the city, but a new system implies a more complete system, which would benefit Bangladesh's economy.

The too poor of the country is having to accept women in the workforce, and that's a change. Before the shift to factories, women were confined to agrarian work, prostitution or credit from non-governmental organizations.

This assured gain is the gift the hopes the research will ultimately lead to discrimination that women face. "I want to see the smile on their faces as they adjust to the economy, because they suffer from the same things as their husbands and guardian," Wai said.

While Wai believes that the world market will no longer be bound to a two-year international trade agreement that assured Bangladesh a chunk of the global garment industry. In the last five years, Bangladesh women have flocked to factories in the city, but a new system implies a more complete system. She remains interested in Bangladesh's role out of that system.

One woman Wai interviewed owned her own garment factory. "I think it's important for developing countries to produce," Wai said. "We have to find out how dependent Bangladesh's economy is on factories. There aren't many other opportunities here."

"The fewer poverty of the country is having to accept women in the workforce, and that's a change. Before the shift to factories, women were confined to agrarian work, prostitution or credit from non-governmental organizations."

Kashif Kamal Waiz, a professor from Independent University in Bangladesh, stands in front of Inner Hall while working on her PhD in psychology. "We have performed well at the psychological level," said Ward. "We have performed well at the psychological level."

Default judgement entered against former SIU professor

Hale files federal lawsuit against state

BRETT NAUMAN

TheSIU Board of Trustees in February 2000. In June 2000, Wazi filed a motion of default after Gaskill failed to respond to the summons. In April, Wazisuing a motion for a default judgment. In a hearing before Federal Judge Michael J. Reagan granted the default judgment. Stewart argued to the Supreme Court that Belton was a defendant in a federal case to fail to offer a defense.

"He never came, he never hired a lawyer, he never defended himself," Berns said. "I've seen this happen more than a few times." Stewart also argued that Wazi's status was solid and that Stewart stopped by Gaskill's apartment to discuss a term paper. Stewart also noted the SIU Board of Trustees. Gaskill left the University in 1998.

Concey reviewed Gow's case, sent it to a summons in January 1999. Wazi was hired to a full-time position in 1996. The case was closed in 1997. Gaskill left the University in 1998.

Brent Belton, 20, was charged with a third offense of murder in connection with a domestic assault in October 1999. Belton was convicted of a second offense in 1999 and was later that year that the incident with Stewart took place.

"We have undisputed evidence," Berns said. "He had engaged in this kind of misconduct before the University knew about it, and he did it again."

"While Berns believed he said the case against SIUC was solid, the law did not see it that way. He called demonstration of "deliberate indifference" a high standard to meet."

"While Stewart was won his judgment, he has to go on to the settlement. Stewart believes it is unlikely Stewart will collect the entire amount, but he is confident they will be able to get a significant amount of refund. Some of the options open to Stewart include seizure of Gaskill's assets, garnishment of wages and collection against any bank accounts in Gaskill's name.

"The life span of the judgment is 10 years," Berns said. "If often have 20 days, 30 days to respond to something. There's plenty of time."

Bus fare increases

Beginning Aug. 1, the SAUI Express will add an additional charge of 25 cents to 50 cents for the general public. The fare has not been raised since the bus system's inception in 1995. Students, whose fees cover the majority of the cost, will ride free with a valid ID.

SIU Foundation Board has new leadership

Vandana G. Roun, a Murphysboro resident, was elected director of the Southern Illinois University Foundation.

The foundation is a trust that works to identify and solicit potential donors to the University.

Costello spoke about clean-coal legislation

Congressman Jerry Costello, D-Belleville, spoke at Giant City Lodge Monday morning about clean-coal legislation in Illinois.

Costello spoke of the National Electric and Environmental Technology Act that would create a clean-coal research center to develop new technology in Illinois. He believes the legislation will help enhance the development of clean coal in the state. Costello said he would introduce legislation in Washington that would create a new EPA rule for all coal-fired plants with any kind of waste.
The University and the Southern Illinois area as governor, his move would cause a sudden rupture in the newly mended structure of SIUC's administration. Can we withstand yet another interim administrator? What SIUC cannot withstand is Poshard playing politics at its expense.

Poshard has pushed plenty of great plans ahead as Vice Chancellor for Administration, including the Land Use Plan, which would advance architecture and restore beauty on campus. He's chairman of the committee that constructed the plan, but would not see it to its end, if he runs for governor again.

Poshard needs to stick with his original decision, or at least cease his wishy-washy ways with the media and SIUC administration if he has his heart of change.

With a solid president and chancellor, another disruption in stability is the last thing SIUC needs. Ultimately, it is a personal decision Poshard must make. We just want him to make it.

YELEN CAVENYER
THE TECHNIQUE (Georgia Tech)

ATLANTA (U-WIRE) - Six years after his truck bomb destroyed the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City, killing 168 people and wounding hundreds more, Timothy McVeigh was executed.

McVeigh did not speak before the execution, opting instead to issue a written statement quoted from the poem "Invisits," which read, "I am the master of my fate. I am the captain of my soul." An appropriate statement from the man who claimed to have single-handedly committed the worst act of domestic terrorism in U.S. history.

I find myself envying McVeigh. Not to dilute the horror of his actions, but Timothy McVeigh,凭什么 so many of us are not more publicly committed to conviction, commitment, fervor, passion, dedication and, most importantly, the uncompromising discipline, control and patience to plan and carry our objective. McVeigh was in allegiance to an ideal, to a statement about that idea and quietly accepted the consequences that came with it. There was no drama involved.

McVeigh never placed in his life; he never apologized for his convictions.

This is certainly not the case for most of us.

Society is saturated by apathy. People are always looking for the answer that will improve our lot, not take in the way things are now, not change the way things are. They have the capability to commit, to have a deliberation with them, to live according to their own beliefs . . . but they do not.

Many individuals live their lives really without knowing what they want to do, not thinking about their actions, not engaging in any for themselves.

The message is in part because of the silly anti-smoking ads. Remember "this is your brain on drugs?" How many 20-year-olds have parents who did flee and whose brains do not in any way resemble fried eggs? If the government is lying about drugs such as marijuana, perhaps they are living about tobacco too. If that is the message that is being inadvertently conveyed it would be a pity, since smokingdaily does increase your chances of getting endymic and lung cancer. Smoking is a progressive war and doing nothing further underground will be no more successful than the totally unsuccessful war on drugs, and will probably have many of the same unintended consequences.

Geoffrey S. Nathan
Assistant Professor
Department of English

LETTERS

Reader confused about success of tobacco companies.

DEAR EDITOR: I would like to express my appreciation for Daphne Weler's column on the government's war against smoking.

As I wander around campus, it seems to me that I see an increasing number of young students smoking (recognize this is not a scientific sample, but the Federal government has ensured that there is far less cigarette advertising now than at any other time in this century (nothing on television, no billboards, only selected magazines).

So why are more and more people smoking? Puffing the blame on others cannot be blamed. Perhaps people have come to suspect any government propaganda message, in part because of the silly anti-smoking ads. Remember "this is your brain on drugs?" How many 20-year-olds have parents who did flee and whose brains do not in any way resemble fried eggs? If the government is lying about drugs such as marijuana, perhaps they are living about tobacco too. If that is the message that is being inadvertently conveyed it would be a pity, since smoking daily does increase your chances of getting endymic and lung cancer. Smoking is a progressive war and doing nothing further underground will be no more successful than the totally unsuccessful war on drugs, and will probably have many of the same unintended consequences.

Geoffrey S. Nathan
Assistant Professor
Department of English

YOUR WORD

Make up your mind, Glenn!

A Chicago Sun-Times political columnist alleged in May that former Congressman and former gubernatorial candidate Glenn Poshard, a Democrat, would again fight for the governor's job in 2002. Other reports ensued, pointing at Poshard for the governor's race, sparked a chain reaction of myriad questions and tense connections.

Poshard, in the midst of his second year as vice chancellor for Administration, supposedly put an end to the speculation when he declared in August of last year his decision not to run for governor. Now, with a solid lead over Gov. George Ryan in early polls, Poshard is reconsidering.

One-on-one interaction with students, a closeness to SIUC and an opportunity to improve campus technology compelled Poshard to stay ahead last summer, but now reports pointing to Poshard's gubernatorial prospects have left the future of the five-time Congressman, and SIUC, in the air.

While Poshard could be an excellent asset for the University and the Southern Illinois area as governor, his move would cause a sudden rupture in the newly mended structure of SIUC's administration. Can we withstand yet another interim administrator? What SIUC cannot withstand is Poshard playing politics at his expense.

Poshard has pushed plenty of great plans ahead as Vice Chancellor for Administration, including the Land Use Plan, which would advance architecture and restore beauty on campus. He's chairman of the committee that constructed the plan, but would not see it to its end, if he runs for governor again.

Poshard needs to stick with his original decision, or at least cease his wishy-washy ways with the media and SIUC administration if he has his heart of change.

With a solid president and chancellor, another disruption in stability is the last thing SIUC needs. Ultimately, it is a personal decision Poshard must make. We just want him to make it.

LETTERS

Reader confused about success of tobacco companies.

DEAR EDITOR: I would like to express my appreciation for Daphne Weler's column on the government's war against smoking.

As I wander around campus, it seems to me that I see an increasing number of young students smoking (recognize this is not a scientific sample, but the Federal government has ensured that there is far less cigarette advertising now than at any other time in this century (nothing on television, no billboards, only selected magazines).

So why are more and more people smoking? Puffing the blame on others cannot be blamed. Perhaps people have come to suspect any government propaganda
Women's Health Clinic offers a wide variety of services to women

New facts could help women win the war on PMS

LIE GUARD

New tactics to help women win the war against premenstrual syndrome have been recently released, and luckily for the women of SIU, the Women's Health Clinic is here to help women conquer PMS and several other women's health issues.

The Women's Health Clinic has been on campus for several years and is staffed only by women to serve women.

"We want to make women more comfortable with their providers," Connie Kemp, a physician at the clinic said.

The clinic provides women with a full well-woman exam including mammograms, STD tests and more if needed. There are two physicians on board, three physician's assistants and a family planning nurse. The clinic is close to campus, and only a 35¢ "door fee" is due at the time of visit.

"We've been here a number of years, and I don't think a lot of people know we're here," Kemp said. Candice Lewis, a junior in photography from Mt. Vernon, did not even know the clinic existed. She usually travels home to visit a gynecologist if needed. There are two gynecologists on staff, with a third physician's assistant just added to the staff.

"I probably would go there, because then I wouldn't have to find time to go home to do it and pay more money," Lewis said.

Women need to visit a gynecologist for several reasons because of the number of unique medical problems they face. Recent studies show simple changes, like diet and exercise, can ease the pain that torments them.

"I would change my diet and exercise," Lewis said. "If the changes are made, and there is still no relief in sight, women should visit a gynecologist, because the symptoms may be suffering from premenstrual dysphoric disorder, a condition only recently added to the manual of psychiatric disorders.

PMDD only affects about 3 to 8 percent of women, while PMS affects about 50 percent. The drug Serafem, used to treat PMDD, has been on the market to treat symptoms, but it is only effective for a small percentage of women.

"Serafem is actually Prozac, just in a smaller dosage," Kemp said. "It doesn't help with the physical aspects of it, only with the emotional appeals."

Women with any symptoms of PMS should visit a doctor to first rule out any significant illnesses. Gynecologists can also offer more information and further help for women with PMS symptoms.

"The more women that are aware we're here for them, the better," Kemp said.

INFORMATION
Women, try healthy! For more information on the Women's Health Clinic, call 455-2121.

New SIU Alumni president takes office

DAILY EGYPTIAN

The first and last question on Donald Magee's mind for present and graduating SIU students is, "Have you received your membership card in the Association? The SIU Alumni Association, that is.

Magee, after demonstrating five years of service on the national board, has been elected president of the SIU Alumni Association National Board of Directors. Magee was elected at the board's spring meeting in April and began his one-year term on July 1.

"I am very proud in being honored to represent the 200,000 alumni for our University," Magee said.

Magee, a biomedical technologist at Doctors Hospital in Springfield, left the University after three years in 1963 and has been an active member of the Alumni Association since 1966. He has served on several subcommittees including athletics, nominating, placement, and the executive committee.

Ed Burges, executive director of the Alumni Association, said the organization is excited to have Magee leading the Association for the next year.

Marion Eye Centers & Optical is proud to offer their patients the latest and very best technology available today for laser vision correction.

Marion Eye Centers & Optical is proud to offer their patients the latest and very best technology available today for laser vision correction.
UNDERPASS likely to be completed in fall

ERIC D. JOHNSON
DAILY EGYPTIAN

The underpass that will join Mill and Freeman streets is nearing completion, but an unexpected delay in the delivery of signaling equipment may push an opening date to early October.

According to Valerie Rolla, residential engineer for the Illinois Department of Transportation, the SB million underpass project is running on schedule, but she targets a late delivery in supplies as a possible roadblock to finishing the underpass before SIUC reconvenes in the fall.

"Everyone hopes for completion before the beginning of fall semester and it may happen," Rolla said. "We'll just have to see.

The final steps in the completion of the underpass are the placement of traffic signals, the grass seeding of the railroad embankments and the islands and sides of the newly constructed roads.

Carbondale City Engineer Larry Miles is pleased with the progress of the underpass project, but expects completion of the project after the start of fall semester due to the delay in signaling equipment.

Miles said it will take two weeks to set up the signaling equipment after its arrival on the project site.

"I hope it will arrive on time, but there is a long waiting list for that type of equipment," Miles said.

Rolla also explained that East Freeman Street has been renamed Mill Street and will span from South Wall Street to South Oakland Avenue. This expansion creates two four-way intersections on each side of the underpass.

Rolla said possible congestion caused by the two four-way intersections shouldn't cause alarm. The traffic signals will be tied together by detection loops that sense automobiles. These sensors direct the traffic lights to keep an even flow of traffic through the intersections.

Miles said he was pleased with the Illinois Department of Transportation's efforts of coordinating the traffic signals to function smoothly together.

"I have confidence that the signals will work effectively," Miles said.

Brandon Batchelor, a senior in radio and television at SIUC, visited the campus Monday and was astonished at the progress the city has achieved on the underpass since he has been in town.

"The underpass lends Carbondale a city-like quality," Batchelor said. "I know I'm going to love not waiting on the trains anymore before classes.

The underpass project is a joint venture between the federal government, the railroad, the city of Carbondale, the Illinois Department of Transportation and SIUC.

Daylight blazes through the underpass
BANGLADESH

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

work long hours, men wait outside to escort their lunch-loving wives home. While women still are not as a liability, beaufort by doweries, women's work is gaining recognition as an asset. Waiz said the change in gender roles is evident from the beginning of their lives. She said Waiz's family includes everyone from a traffic sex worker to a garment worker, "Men, women arc up against having climbed out of the same male hierarchy, but the social status that some women are in now is better," she said. "We have to take it as a general obligation, not personal, not old-fashioned attitudes rob her of that winning smile."

HALE

Smith to Hale's white supremacist church. Hale's Illinois Attorney General's Office tried to make Hale aware of the institution; Buager said. "They are very instrumental in providing good leadership to the Prairie Capital Chapter of the Association," Buager said. Magee was considered an action person and had an active involvement in the local church’s financial records. He said he is confident that the lawsuit and the decision will end favorably even if he doesn’t overturn the court’s decision.

ALUMNI

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5

"Don brings a great vibrancy to the church," Buager said. "He's an action person and does not think that any role or responsibility is beneath him," Buager said. Magee said that Hale's racist rhetoric.

Hale

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

Smith's office tried to make Hale aware of the lawsuit. Hale said he will use this as a way of fulfilling the requirements of his law license. Hale said he does not believe anyone loses their rights through civil lawsuits, but Greenwald "The final result of the suit will suit my church stronger than ever before financially, numerically and passionately," Hale said. Hale said he can be in the courtroom as a licensed attorney battling for what he believes to be right. Hale said "You have to take it as a general obligation, not personal, not old-fashioned attitudes rob her of that winning smile."
NEW 1-2 BDRM APARTMENTS

1 Bdrm, 1 bath, some with a/c, 1 mile south of campus, STARTING FALL, AUGUST 2001, $208/mo, poss. 1/2 damage deposit, pet ok, Johnston City, 20 mi west of Carbondale, 209-629-0621.

BARGAIN, SPA, 1 Bdrm, Utilities Included, perfectly quiet, no pets, 529-3581.

1 Bdm, 1 bath, quiet neighborhood, available now, 20 mi north of Carbondale, 629-640-2663.

EXTRA NICE 3 BEDS, 2 baths, 2a, call 529-4800 for information.

BRECKENRIDGE APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, close to campus, $325/mo, available August, 529-1820.

2 BDRM, 1 bath, quiet, 1/2 E College, available now, 549-5729.

COUNTRY SETTING, 5 mi from Carbondale, 1/2 bath, nice, quiet area, no pets, 524-2432 or 684-2663.

COUNTRY, NICE 2 bdrms, small house, 2 blocks from campus, available August, 524-4080.

WATERFRONT NICE, 2 bdrms, lake, call 529-4800 for information.

3 & 4 BDRM HOMES FOR RENT, 3241 S Walnut, 3240, S Glenview, C'dale, large family room, 627 S Glenview, C'Oale, 3 bdrms, water, sewer, trash paid, NC, 3001, 624-3601.

COUNTRYSIDE APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, all appliances, 3000 South, Johnston City, 209-629-0621.

MAIN STREET APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, all utilities included, 300 South Grant, Johnston City, 209-629-0621.

CENTRAL COUNTRY APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, water, sewer, trash paid, NC, 3001, 624-3601.

3 & 4 BDRM HOMES FOR RENT, 3241 S Walnut, 3240, S Glenview, C'Oale, large family room, water, sewer, trash paid, NC, 3001, 624-3601.

COUNTRYSIDE APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, all appliances, 3000 South, Johnston City, 209-629-0621.

MAIN STREET APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, all utilities included, 300 South Grant, Johnston City, 209-629-0621.

CENTRAL COUNTRY APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, water, sewer, trash paid, NC, 3001, 624-3601.

3 & 4 BDRM HOMES FOR RENT, 3241 S Walnut, 3240, S Glenview, C'Oale, large family room, water, sewer, trash paid, NC, 3001, 624-3601.

COUNTRYSIDE APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, all appliances, 3000 South, Johnston City, 209-629-0621.

MAIN STREET APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, all utilities included, 300 South Grant, Johnston City, 209-629-0621.

CENTRAL COUNTRY APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, water, sewer, trash paid, NC, 3001, 624-3601.

3 & 4 BDRM HOMES FOR RENT, 3241 S Walnut, 3240, S Glenview, C'Oale, large family room, water, sewer, trash paid, NC, 3001, 624-361.

COUNTRYSIDE APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, all appliances, 3000 South, Johnston City, 209-629-0621.

MAIN STREET APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, all utilities included, 300 South Grant, Johnston City, 209-629-0621.

CENTRAL COUNTRY APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, water, sewer, trash paid, NC, 3001, 624-3601.

3 & 4 BDRM HOMES FOR RENT, 3241 S Walnut, 3240, S Glenview, C'Oale, large family room, water, sewer, trash paid, NC, 3001, 624-3601.

COUNTRYSIDE APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, all appliances, 3000 South, Johnston City, 209-629-0621.

MAIN STREET APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, all utilities included, 300 South Grant, Johnston City, 209-629-0621.

CENTRAL COUNTRY APARTMENTS, 2 bdrms, water, sewer, trash paid, NC, 3001, 624-3601.
CCHS - Central Campus Principals accepted bondale Community High and supporting materials should be submitted to: Mr. Steven R. Sabens, Superintendent, Carbondale Community High School, 330 South Giant City Road, Carbondale, IL 62901. Applications will be accepted, teacher aide certification is needed, apply In person at Quotas, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

PIZZA COOKS, NEAT appearance, FT, PT, must need, apply In person at Quotas, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

PRIVATE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL needs part-time licensed nursery teacher and/or early childhood education teacher for the 2001-2002 school year. Applicants must hold a current state teaching certificate. For more information, call (618) 536-3311.

SMOKERS EARN EIGHT (8) FREE PIZZA COOKS, NEAT appearance, apply In person at Quotas, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

PIZZA DELIVERY DRIVER, neat appearance, FT, PT, 40-50 hours needed, apply In person at Quotas Plaza, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

PIZZA DELIVERY DRIVER, neat appearance, FT, PT, 40-50 hours needed, apply In person at Quotas Plaza, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

The Daily Egyptian is accepting application for the following positions for the summer 2001 and fall 2001 semesters. All summer Jobs require Monday-Friday regular work schedules (except where indicated and fall jobs will require some Sundays with flexibility to work additional hours and other days as needed. All applicants must be in good academic standing. All applications must be received in complete form of the completed application and supporting materials and ask for Oawg House Rates.

Dawg House Rates

SMOKERS EARN EIGHT (8) FREE PIZZA COOKS, NEAT appearance, apply In person at Quotas Plaza, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

PIZZA DELIVERY DRIVER, neat appearance, FT, PT, 40-50 hours needed, apply In person at Quotas Plaza, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

PRIVATE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL needs part-time licensed nursery teacher and/or early childhood education teacher for the 2001-2002 school year. Applicants must hold a current state teaching certificate. For more information, call (618) 536-3311.

SMOKERS EARN EIGHT (8) FREE PIZZA COOKS, NEAT appearance, apply In person at Quotas, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

PIZZA DELIVERY DRIVER, neat appearance, FT, PT, 40-50 hours needed, apply In person at Quotas Plaza, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

PIZZA DELIVERY DRIVER, neat appearance, FT, PT, 40-50 hours needed, apply In person at Quotas Plaza, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

The Daily Egyptian is accepting application for the following positions for the summer 2001 and fall 2001 semesters. All summer Jobs require Monday-Friday regular work schedules (except where indicated and fall jobs will require some Sundays with flexibility to work additional hours and other days as needed. All applicants must be in good academic standing. All applications must be received in complete form of the completed application and supporting materials and ask for Oawg House Rates.

Dawg House Rates

SMOKERS EARN EIGHT (8) FREE PIZZA COOKS, NEAT appearance, apply In person at Quotas, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

PIZZA DELIVERY DRIVER, neat appearance, FT, PT, 40-50 hours needed, apply In person at Quotas Plaza, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.

PRIVATE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL needs part-time licensed nursery teacher and/or early childhood education teacher for the 2001-2002 school year. Applicants must hold a current state teaching certificate. For more information, call (618) 536-3311.

SMOKERS EARN EIGHT (8) FREE PIZZA COOKS, NEAT appearance, apply In person at Quotas, 218 W Freeman Street, Carbondale, IL 62901.
A not-so-quiet day on the lake

PHOTOS BY MARY COLLIER

Right Two canoes of judges follow up the crowd of blindfolded canoe crews to announce the winners in a race across the campus lake Friday afternoon. Children took a break from the heat Friday by splashing around in the water at the campus lake as part of a learning program hosted by the SIU Recreation Center.

Below Blindfolds are in place as children from the Recreation Center hone their canoeing skills at the campus lake Friday afternoon. The children in the front of the canoes were the only ones in the boat allowed to speak as the canoes raced across the lake from the docks to the beach.

Morris Library Seminar Series

FREE classes on:
• Using library online resources
• Using computer software
• Web page development

For information or registration:
Check out our NEW Schedule at:

www.lib.siu.edu or 453-2818

These are U-Card approved events/Educational Programs

“I look to the Daily Egyptian to keep me up to date on all SIU news, sports, as well as local advertising, shouldn’t you?”

-Paul Simon
Men's b-ball sign George Mason U.

ANDY ESPINES
DAILY BRUIN

LOS ANGELES (L.A.) - The last of UCLA's "Iron Men" will have a chance to shine brightly in the 2001 NBA Draft.

Recent graduate Earl Watson was selected Wednesday as the 40th pick of the second round of the NBA draft by the Seattle SuperSonics. Watson is the seventh Pac-10 conference player chosen in the two-round draft — the longest streak in history.

"It's a big relief," Watson said on ESPN after being chosen by the Sonics in the second round of the NBA draft. "I knew it would happen, but for it to happen now, I'm very happy." Watson, who started all 129 games in his illustrious UCLA career, said he's optimistic about the opportunity to absorb additional knowledge of the game from current Sonics point guard Gary Payton, who is rumored to be on his way out of Seattle.

"I have a lot of respect for Gary Payton. I tried to emulate him throughout college," Watson said. "I know how to look down players. I'm going to face him every day in practice, and he's going to help me grow and help every aspect of my game."

Watson also expressed his surprise to conference players not selected in the first round of this year's NBA draft. Arizona took the biggest hit on Wednesday with four early entry losses, Kansas State guard Richard Jefferson was the 13th and final player picked by New Jersey, shooting guard Gilbert Arenas went early in the second round to Golden State, Power forward Michael Wright went to New Jersey and Sharpshooter Jason Collins was left to the only other first-round conference player at No. 18, joining Jefferson with the Nets.

Seattle Prep standout Tyronn Lue was the only other first-round conference player at No. 18, joining Jefferson with the Sonics.

Watson's selection to the Sonics marked the 10th straight year UCLA has had a player chosen in the NBA draft. The Bruins now have a total of 11 players chosen in the NBA draft since 1985, when A.J. Castillo was selected in the second round.

Sonics draft UCLA's Watson in second round of NBA draft

A.J. CADMAN
DAILY BRUIN

(1) CALIFORNIA - LOS ANGELES

Watson is the seventh Pac-10 conference player chosen in the two-round draft — the longest streak in history.

"It's a big relief," Watson said on ESPN after being chosen by the Sonics in the second round of the NBA draft. "I knew it would happen, but for it to happen now, I'm very happy." Watson, who started all 129 games in his illustrious UCLA career, said he's optimistic about the opportunity to absorb additional knowledge of the game from current Sonics point guard Gary Payton, who is rumored to be on his way out of Seattle.

"I have a lot of respect for Gary Payton. I tried to emulate him throughout college," Watson said. "I know how to look down players. I'm going to face him every day in practice, and he's going to help me grow and help every aspect of my game."

Watson also expressed his surprise to conference players not selected in the first round of this year's NBA draft. Arizona took the biggest hit on Wednesday with four early entry losses, Kansas State guard Richard Jefferson was the 13th and final player picked by New Jersey, shooting guard Gilbert Arenas went early in the second round to Golden State, Power forward Michael Wright went to New Jersey and Sharpshooter Jason Collins was left to the only other first-round conference player at No. 18, joining Jefferson with the Sonics.

Seattle Prep standout Tyronn Lue was the only other first-round conference player at No. 18, joining Jefferson with the Sonics.

Watson's selection to the Sonics marked the 10th straight year UCLA has had a player chosen in the NBA draft. The Bruins now have a total of 11 players chosen in the NBA draft since 1985, when A.J. Castillo was selected in the second round.
Next year's squad features strongest recruiting class in Callahan era

Talent will not be an issue for the 2012 Salukis.

Baseball signs
11 for ’02 season

Next year's squad features strongest recruiting class in Callahan era

Talent will not be an issue for the 2012 Salukis.

Baseball signs
11 for ’02 season

New Athletics website launched

The SIU Athletic Department has modernized its website, in an attempt to provide complete coverage of news, highlights and scores for Saluki fans.

The University launched SIUALLIQUES.COM last Thursday in conjunction with Student Assistant VP, Andy Beglen.

The website will be the official source for information, merchandise and tickets. The website also includes photos, audio, video clips and promotions.

SIU Athletic Director Paul Kowalczyk thinks this is a step in the right direction for a department that wants to be up-to-date with the latest advancements.

“We’re very excited to launch our new site and continue what we’ve started as a new era in Saluki Athletics,” Kowalczyk said. “This is certainly a significant component of that because so many of our athletes do not live in the area and the only access they have to what’s happening with the Salukis is through the website, and I can’t think of a better service that we can provide them.”

Kowalczyk said he expects there are more possibilities for the site as the relationship with FANSonly develops.

“The power of the Internet has become a vital part of any athletic department’s marketing, promotional and information efforts, and it is a credit to Southern Illinois that they are taking full advantage of it,” said Jeff Greaves, FANSonly Network’s Vice President and General Manager.

The FANSonly Network is regularly measured as a top-10 sports site by Media Watch as far as the home to more than 300 official athletics sites.

AND NOW FOR MY PATENTED FRONT END NOTE:

Matthew Greenburg (left) and Patrick-Politowski stand on the Monday afternoon at the SIU Skate Park near Lessar Law Building. The park is open to both skateboarders and rollerbladers every day from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m.