ORVAL McLAIN NEW EGYPTIAN BUSINESS MANAGER

The business manager of next year's Egyptian will be Orval McLain of Equality. He is a brother of Guy McLain, who was editor of the Egyptian in 1921, and of Fred McLain, who is business manager of this year's Obelisk.

Mr. McLain is a graduate of the Equality Township High School. He was graduated from Junior College in 1926 and he will receive his degree in 1927.

Mr. McLain was a prominent member of the Zetetic Society. He played in the Zetetic orchestra. He was a member of both the college orchestra and the band. He was on the Obelisk staff of 1926, and also a member of the Y. M. C. A.

The financial affairs of the Egyptian have been placed in capable hands. It is very fortunate that a business manager has been secured who has taken a prominent part in extra-curricula activities.

TRACK FUND STUNT SHOW

This evening, June 7, the athletic department of this school will give a stunt show for the purpose of starting a fund from which money can be drawn to improve the track and athletic field.

The following program has been arranged:

Vocal solos—Mrs. Lewis Ed Williams.

West Frankfort Rotary Club quartette. This is the quartette which won the prize at Mattoon.

Music by Hewitt's orchestra.

Two wrestling bouts by students.

Au Revoir

The Egyptian staff thanks you for your support and it hopes that you will remember with pleasure the events and association of this school year.

The Staff has made an effort to reflect the life of this school; it has tried to make The Egyptian your paper; it hopes that its efforts have not been in vain. The Staff resigns the work to other hands with regret. It wishes its successors as much happiness with next year's Egyptian as it has had with this year's.

It is only a few days that the student body of the year 1926-1927 will be together. Some are joining associations which have become dear. Commencement brings regret.

The Egyptian Staff wishes you happiness and bids you farewell.

TROY STEARNS SE-LECTED AS EDITOR

Troy L. Stearns will succeed Editor Wells next year and will become the literary manager of the college publication. Troy is an ambitious and a capable young man, graduating from Junior College in the class of 1925. He has been teaching for two years, this year being employed as one of the teachers in the military academy at Mexico, Mo.

The new editor received his high school training from Marion Township High School. While Troy was at S. L. N. U., he took an active part in the Socratic Society, being one of its presidents, was also a member of the Y. M. C. A., of the Forum Debating Club, of Strut and Fret, of the Agriculture Club and of the Pep Club. Troy is a Fraternity man, belonging to the Sigma Alpha Pi. Whether the organizations to which he belonged were literary, dramatic, debating or merely little social groups, whether they were organizations devoted to some great purpose of life or to fun, in each and all, Troy Stearns always added a zest and an incentive to them. He has always been a booster and a supporter of his Alma Mater.

So here's to Editor Stearns and his new staff! May next year's Egyptian prosper and grow by their pens! We, the Egyptian staff of 1927, pass our work on to the more competent hands of the staff of 1927.

EIGHTH GRADE CLASS DAY

The eighth grade class day will be given Friday, June 10, in the Junior High school assembly hall, at the 7th hour.

S. L. N. U. COLLEGE WOMEN'S LEAGUE FORMED

Under the leadership of Dean Woody, a college women's league has been organized and is now coming into prominence. By the opening of next Fall term this newly found organization will, without a doubt, be one of S. L. N. U.'s strongest and foremost leadership activities. All college women automatically become members by their registration into this college.

The two-fold aim of the league is to promote the social life of the young women and to raise their standards of living. The standards of scholarship and of conduct ought to be set by the students themselves and by the suggestions of the girls. Dean Woody is especially desirous of giving the young women the opportunity of making friends and of becoming acquainted with more of their college sisters. Consequently, she is taking this step to open the way for a friendlier and kindlier feeling and to also provide for several large social functions during the school year. The older students in the league will act as "big sisters" to the new girls who come to this school for the first time. A movement for similar organizations is prevalent in many other colleges and universities.

As a first step, the girls have been organized into geographical groups.

FINAL REHEARSALS ARE HELD FOR SPRING PLAYS

The casts of "So This Is London" and "Craig's Wife" are working afternoon and night on their plays. There is no doubt that these two productions will far surpass all previous presentations.

The Socratic play, "So This Is London" was the talk of the country among the theatre goers in 1922. It played to crowded theaters both here and in London. When the orchestra played "Yankee Doodle" just before the rise of the curtain in Act II, the audience went wild with excitement. Then when "God Save the King" was played at the beginning of the third act the English people in the theatre applauded long and loudly.

It is one of the most stirring and dramatic comedies ever written. The stilted and stiff meeting of the English and American families is a scene that the audience can never forget. They must make conversation, but how? So Lady Beauchamp takes a chance at "Those Falls"—"Do tell me, Mrs. Draper, are those Falls over in America still running?" Then the cute, clever and game Mrs. Draper (American) kids the English lady along by saying, "No, they had to stop them—on account of shortage of labor."

"Craig's Wife" was so popular in New York and Chicago that it brought

EDITORIAL

The high school seniors are finishing their last week of school. In a few more days, we shall wear our caps and gowns, and our high school days will be over. What a pleasant year has just passed! We shall be very happy when we receive our diplomas, yet we regret leaving. Do you not wonder what is to become of all of us? Some will probably continue their school work, some will teach, and others will follow various lines of work. In the years to come, we shall always be able to look back on our high school life with pleasant thoughts. We hope that the seniors next year and in the years to come will have as successful a year as ours has been.

WHAT WE'LL DO NEXT YEAR

Among the Seniors who are leaving this year, some are going to teach. Luther Bozart has a school near Marion. Mabel Postum will teach at Ashley. LaVerne Plemister and Gus Patrick are also expecting to teach.

Latrese Smith will attend the U. of I. Virgil Beadle is planning to spend the year at the St. Louis University.

We are glad that so many are going to stay and attend the college here. A few of these are: Mary and Ernest Dieson, Mildred McLean, Inez Coffee, Owen Kerley, George Christy and Ray Rushing.

EXPLANATIONS

And it won't be long now! Did you ever before see so many people rushing around in such a mad hurry—Reason—exams and last minute notebooks, and last but not least by a long way—English book reports. A studious atmosphere has surrounded all the English III. and IV. students for the past week. Everyone seemed to be studying, but, alas, 'twas only last minute book reports. Hope you all get yours in on time.

A FELLOW SUFFERER.

Ed Colyer: Are you a good looker?
Gertha Ward (cooly): I have been told so.

Ed: Good! Help me look for my fountain pen.

Judging from the play given by the Y. W. C. A. a good way to advertise the spring plays would be: "Genuine 50 cent tickets now on sale, two for 99 cents. Come early and avoid the rush."

RAIN! RAIN! RAIN!

I wonder how it would feel to go through a whole week of school without even one day of this constant moisture which seems to be surrounding us all the time. Really I can't even imagine it, seven whole days of sunshine! But then think what our life would be without rain. Nothing to eat, wear or drink—Why! We couldn't live without it.

Now be honest and tell us. Don't you really study more when it is raining than if the sun is shining brightly and you can think of so many other interesting, well—I won't say interesting, but "more pleasant things to do." So smile and make the best of it, because you know every cloud has a silver lining.

THE HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1927

The Senior class of 1927 wish to bid the High school good-bye and in doing so they left us the following will and also personal bequests:

We, the members of the Senior class of the University High school for 1927, being of sound mind, do hereby present the following, our last Will and Testament:

To Mr. Warren we leave a model Senior class like the one of '25.

To the Freshmen we leave the hope of becoming very learned and in the far away and dim future the ability to be thriving Seniors, like us.

Personal Bequests

I, Golda Mae Brooks, do give and bequeath my extraordinary power over men to Violet Trovillion.

I, Virgil Beadle, do will and bequeath my beautiful golden curls to Lavern Plemister.

I, Ernest Dieson, do will and bequeath all my athletic ability to John Lewis.

I, Mable Postum, do give and bequeath my ability to laugh to Imogene Watson.

I, Carmen Lee Neber, do give and bequeath "My Frank" to Daisy Allen, with the best hopes for the coming year.

I, Margaret Findlay, do will and bequeath my wonderful athletic power to Ruth Pierce.

I, Hilda North, do will and bequeath my ability to work chemistry problems to Lela Mae Etherton.

I, Sidney Corondo, do will and bequeath my love for school work to Pauline Peterson.

I, Roy Robinson, do will and bequeath my "A's" to James Matheny.

I, Gladys Brewer, do will and bequeath Gus Patrick's sweater which I now have, to Bernice Jordan.

I, Calvert Jordan, do will and bequeath my job in Wilhelm's to Cecil Fore.

I, Inez Coffee, do will and bequeath my struggles with Cicero to Jessie Wiggs.

I, Gus Patrick, do will and bequeath my job slinging hash to Adelbert Spiller.

I, Latrese Smith, do will and bequeath my job on the Egyptian staff to Jane Teel.

I, Beasie Scher, do will and bequeath my ability to play basketball to Margaret Krysher.

I, Lula Veach, do will and bequeath my Clifford to Mary Helen Storment.

I, Edith Vaut, do will and bequeath my curly locks to Alice Patterson.

I, Harold Bunge, do will and bequeath my seat in Chapel to Earl Trobaugh, wishing him success in keeping it.

Teacher: When was Rome built?

Boy: At night.

Teacher: Who told you that?

Boy: You did. You said Rome wasn't built in a day.

The Geology class of Augustana college, Rock Island, has planned to make a summer field trip into Wyoming. Opportunity will be given the students of exploring almost unknown sections of Wyoming and of measuring the flow of several glaciers of the Feton range, which as yet have not been named or studied.

"Calf Dies for Love of Psychology Class" was the title of an article in the "Normal Times." The Psychology class studied the eye and the brain of the calf.

The leading characters in the commencement festival at Bradley will be the Spirit of Light and the Spirit of Bradley. There will be music throughout the entire program. After the pageant, the play, "The Bond of Interest," will be given.

The Normal at DeKalb is making plans for a new one-year course for rural teachers. This movement is the result of an attempt of the Department of Education to meet the need for better trained teachers in rural schools.

COMMENCEMENT

With this, the last issue of the Egyptian for the school year 1926-1927, we feel that the editorial space should be devoted to the last, and perhaps the most solemn event of all, COMMENCEMENT itself. At this season of the year when schools all over the world, from the lowest to the highest, are having some sort of graduation exercises, our thinking is naturally directed toward the bigger and more worth while things of life. It is a season of much rejoicing on the part of the graduates, who together with their relatives and friends, have beautiful dreams for the future. It is likewise a season of sorrowing for the few who have failed to meet the requirements for graduation. It is ever thus.

In our own city we have an example of four levels, namely, those graduating from the eighth grade, high school, junior and senior college. Yet neither of these groups represents a completion of the learning process. To be sure, every individual in each of these four groups will be given some diploma or degree in recognition of the satisfactory completion of the course as prescribed by law, but what does the whole thing really mean?

It is often said that a diploma is worth a great deal to any individual, and that is true, but its value is perhaps magnified rather unduly. Within itself it is worth only the paper on which it is written, but it is worth more as a testimonial that the individual has attained a certain educational standard. Its real value lies in the energy and steadfastness of character that is necessary to earn that diploma.

Since ours is a teachers' college we may, in a general way, consider what the graduates are doing to better their present condition. Some are going on to school, which is a fine thing to do if time and money will permit; some are going into that noblest of all noble professions, that of dealing not with the materials of this world, which pass away, "but with the human soul, where it will remain through all eternity." Some will enter other professions and business and make great success, and then there will be that insignificant few who will be lost in obscurity, chiefly because of a lack of ambition. The ones just mentioned are only a few of the destinies of graduates. What will yours be?

INQUIRING REPORTER

Hurrah, Hurrah!! Vacation days will soon be here!! Now won't we all be glad? Of course there's a sad side to almost any delightful question, and in this case it's the scattering of friends and pals whom we have known all year and with whom many happy hours have been spent. However, it is not "good-bye" forever as the summer days will bring delightful letters from those who are spending their vacations in different places and in various ways.

Some will go east, some west, and still others north. The country will share its summer pleasures and work to those who are planning to acquire a nice coat of tan from Mother Nature's great apartment store of beauties.

The sights and amusements of the cities will perhaps be welcome scenes for some of the students who have labored so diligently at S. I. N. U. during the past few months. Still others may enjoy the charming existence of camp life with fishing, swimming, canoeing and all the other delightful sports of outdoor life.

But have you ever stopped to think that there will probably be a large number of these studious folks who will spend their future vacation days right here at old S. I. N. U.? So, we would all like to know just where and how you are going to spend your summer vacation?

Question: How are you going to spend your summer vacation?

Where asked: That's nobody's business.

On the campus of S. I. N. U.—Lena Ledford.

Forgetting all I have learned this Spring term, I guess.—Ruth Kilmer.
Sitting in the shade!—Lee Love.
Sleeping and eating.—Estella Lamer.

In the chemistry laboratory working experiments.—Helen Mathis.

Sleeping under the old apple tree.—Lee McNeill.

With a palm leaf fan, drinking lemonade.—Mary Reese.

The Lord only knows, and He won't tell me.—Lillie Van Dyke.

To The Alumni and Friends of S. I. N. U.

---

Football and basketball are firmly entrenched at S. I. N. U. as major sports. Last year the football team won six games, tied two and lost one. The basketball team won eleven out of sixteen games. With three men of the first five playing their first year the team lost the first two games played. The quintet then welded together and won eleven out of the remaining fourteen games.

We have a fine new gymnasium used during the last two years.

The school has reached the point in growth where it is imperative that we add track as the third major sport. With seventeen hundred students enrolled, of full college rank, we cannot afford longer to neglect track work if we are to have a well rounded athletic program.

The school authorities have tried to secure sufficient funds from the state to construct a quarter mile cinder track, but have been unable to do so. We have tried for two years to train and hold meets on a clay track scraped around the football field with a grader. For several days following a rain it is impossible to do any running on account of the mud. Under a few days' sunshine the clay track bakes so hard the spikes of running shoes will not penetrate. Sore feet for the competitors are the result.

An estimate secured from a contractor—based on figures supplied by two engineers—states that it will take five thousand dollars to construct a quarter mile cinder track.

We have at last decided to ask the alumni and friends of the school for help in raising funds to provide suitable facilities for track work.

Details as to this matter will be given out later by a committee of alumni interested in the matter.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM McANDREW,
Athletic Director.

"COMMON CLAY" A SUCCESS

A one act play entitled "Common Clay" was presented by the Y. W. C. A. on June 2 in the auditorium. The rhythmical skip was a lesson in music, law and how to gain domestic happiness. Bargain hunters were made happy and received some valuable information that will make law courses easier.

Miss Doris Moore sang two numbers. The applause was a perfect tribute to Miss Moore. Helen Urbanov! and Martha Logan—"sho can pick that uke."

The purpose of this program was to earn money to send delegates to Lake Geneva, Wis., to attend the annual summer conference.

The audience was very appreciative and showed the right school spirit by supporting a play sponsored by the campus association.

The success of the program was due to Misses Fox and Ethridge, the faculty advisors.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

"You poor darling!"—Opal Douglas Welton as "Mrs. Curtis" in the "Trysting Place."

"For God's sake go, but go quietly."—Buzzy Myers as "Rosenbaum" in the "Show Shop."

"Steel" B. Hunsaker as "Bob" in Nothing But the Truth.

"And the cut, Doctor—see—it's just about healed up. I tell you it's wonderful, Doctor—wonderful—just wonderful!"—Glen Ayre as "Stone" in The Boomerang.

"By Jove, that's so, Dick! We can stick to our ruts and at the same time we can roll among your butter-cups!" Dilla Hall as "Findley" in Three Wise Fools.

"Yes, Ma'am"—Gladys Free as "Angelina" in All the World Loves a Lover.

"Oh, Clarence!" Maude Bratten as "Cora" in Clarence.

"Oh, Judy, couldn't you have guessed that I was Daddy Long Legs?" Dilla Hall as "Jervis" in Daddy Long Legs.

Howard Abernathie, the musician, didn't intend to enter college last fall. Howard didn't think much of colleges, but somebody gave him a ukulele and he hated to waste it.

NOTICE BIG SISTERS

Have you signed your name on the paper at the candy counter telling us that you want to be a "big sister" next fall? Other colleges and universities have the "big sister" organization, so why can't we? To make this a success we must have at least a hundred girls who will promise to help some new girl to become acquainted with S. I. N. U. We need you, so please give your name to any Y. W. C. A. girl or sign your name and home address on the paper at the candy counter.

S. I. N. U. GIRL IN ST. LOUIS OPERA

In the Roto-Gravure section of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Sunday, appeared the picture of Miss Alice Weaver, formerly of Carbondale. Miss Weaver is a member of the Municipal Opera Chorus of St. Louis and is winning much credit as a vocalist.
 Miss Weaver was selected as one of the ninety for the chorus, from 600 who competed for the honor. She received her first training in voice in Carbondale and has only been in St. Louis during the last year. She will devote her entire time to her work.

a new word to theater goers—"Craig-ing." When a woman got "Smart" about not allowing her husband to smoke where or when he wished, she was indulging in "craiging." Women, particularly were drawn to the play and then the next night all the men crowded the theatres to see the much-talked-of drama.
 Mr. Kelly, the author, was most particular as to his settings and very skillful about bringing them into harmony with his story. The house of

Mrs. Craig reflects the very excellent taste and fauatical orderliness of its mistress. It is a kind of frozen grandeur, in dark highly polished wood. As Miss Austin, the aunt, says in one of her speeches, "I have the impression somehow or other, when I look at these rooms, that they are rooms that have died and are laid out."

The cast of characters of "So This Is London" is as follows:

Elinor ..... Lucille Gray
 Junior ..... Harry Hicks
 Sir Percy ..... Othel Eaton
 Lady Beauchamp Martha Hendricks
 Hiram Draper ... Wendell Margraves
 Mrs. Hiram Draper Harriet DuBois
 Lady Ducksworth ... Melba Davidson
 Flunky ..... Alvin Lacy Williams
 Thomas ..... Ray Williams
 Jennings ..... Loren Spires

The cast of characters for "Craig's Wife" is:

Miss Austin..... Kate Brewer
 Mrs. Harold ..... Thelma Smith
 Mazie ..... Bessie Curtis
 Mrs. Craig ..... Helen Duncan
 Ethel Landreath..... Lydia Davis
 Walter Craig ..... Lemen Wells
 Mrs. Frazier ..... Lucille Throop

On next Thursday an election of officers will be held. In qualifying for president, the candidate must have at least junior standing; for vice president, Sophomore standing is required. Ruby Wilson and Myrtle Lindsay have been selected as the nominees for the presidency of the new league, and Helen Urbanovit and Lucille Gray for the candidates of vice president.

ROBERSON-TAYLOR

DeWitt Roberson of this city and Miss Lucille Taylor of Marion were married at a Murphysboro church parsonage last Saturday evening. They spent the week-end in Centralia. The groom is an accountant at the I. C. division office here and is a son of Dr. Roberson of Vergennes. The bride was graduated from S. I. N. U. last year and has been teaching this year in the schools at Marion. She was a member of the sorority at the school. The romance began during her attendance in school here. Previous to that she attended the Marion high school, where she was graduated.

They will reside in the Cook apartment on West Walnut street.

ATHLETICS OF 1927-28

When the football and basketball season of the coming school year opens, S. I. N. U. will be represented by strong aggregations. The entire football and basketball squads of last year will be back. In football Captain Hook, Newton, Lutz, Williams, Sisney, Rob Allen, Ex-Captains Floyd and Ingram, Bridges, Veach, Bundy, Louden, Carter, Foley, McArthur, Johnson, Spiller, Stanley, Jordan, Coffee, Peebles, Carlton, Rathgeber, Roberts, Doty, Armstrong, Chambers, Norris, Renner, Adamson and F. Allen will fight it out for the eleven. With this squad and the freshmen of next year, the season looms as one of the best.

The schedule appears in this edition.

There will be added interest in basketball for next year, if the arrangement is carried through. The Normal schools of the state are preparing for a tournament to be held Feb. 11. These schools are: Southern Illinois, Eastern Illinois, Northern Illinois, Western Illinois and Illinois State Normal. This is the first time a meeting of this kind will be held for the Normal schools alone. Outside of this a strong schedule has been prepared. At present, Evansville college has not been scheduled, but Coach McAndrew is hoping that he may schedule them for two games. The usual games will be played with Union University, and Arkansas Aggies, although they have not been booked to date. The schedule:

- Dec. 19—Lincoln college—there.
- Dec. 20—Illinois college—there.
- Dec. 21—Shurtleff college—there.
- Jan. 14—Charleston—there.
- Jan. 20—McKendree—there.
- Jan. 27—Shurtleff—here.
- Feb. 3—Cape—here.
- Feb. 11—Normal school tournament—not decided.
- Feb. 17—McKendree—here.
- Feb. 18—Charleston—here.
- March 2—Cape—there.

The invitational high school tournament will be held here the first week in February.

Eight of the above games are conference games, and Bradley, Eureka, and Normal may be added later on. This will make the largest number of conference games ever played by teams representing S. I. N. U.

The following men will be back to fight it out for their respective positions—Captains Fry and Crawshaw, Ex-Captain Munger, Stanley, Wilson, Lutz, Bundy, Alexander, Brimm, Högendobler and Foster.

Read the 1927-28 Egyptian and watch the progress of one of the strongest basketball teams in the conference, S. I. N. U.

SUMMER PLANS FOR THE FACULTY

By "listening in" on a few chats around the campus a few bits of interesting information have been gathered concerning a few of our faculty members' vacation plans.

Miss Hickson is taking a leave of absence for a year to attend the University of Philadelphia, where she will work on her Doctor's degree.

Miss Hardin will be in Carbondale all summer and will teach during the second six weeks at the summer term.

Mrs. Chastaine and Miss Bowyer will attend the University of Chicago (the latter part of the summer).

Miss Shank has a very interesting trip planned. She is going on a four weeks' field trip to Wisconsin. This trip is to be made with the Geology Department of the University of Chicago and they will make their observation in the Devil's Lake Region in Wisconsin.

Miss Kelsey will remain in Carbondale during the summer.

Miss Trovillion will attend the University of Colorado the first six weeks of the summer term, and will teach here the second six weeks.

Mr. Bailey will work on his Doctor's degree at the University of Chicago.

Miss Fox and Miss Woody will spend the summer months traveling in Europe. They sail June 18th from Montreal.

Miss Jonah will teach the first summer term, after which she will leave for Thousand Islands for her vacation.

Mr. Warren will attend the University of Chicago for the first summer term.
