Lyerla, Speaker At Last Of Post-War Discussion Series

Mr. O. W. Lyerla, of Herrin, was speaker at the All-School Post-War Discussion held last Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the Little Theatre. Mr. Lyerla presented his material on the topic "Employment in Southern Illinois in the Post-War Era," with an informal discussion by the group. Helen Metzger, chairman of the student planning committee for the series, served as student moderator.

Mr. Lyerla pointed out in the beginning of the discussion the need for immediate and thorough planning for the post-war era, for it is the region's responsibility to provide employment for those who will return after the termination of the war.

Mr. Lyerla emphasized the fact that in Southern Illinois, there are many assets, the most important one of which is the human element. It was also pointed out that just so is the human element the biggest obstacle. Continuing, he stated that therefore, the region needs, more than anything else, the leadership of capable citizenry, to use the present developed resources of the region, to create new industries, and to develop other resources. He stated that he believed the development of the leadership for the region, which could be centered around Southern Illinois Normal University, the key of the area, which would necessitate expansion and enlargement to provide the training needed.

Regarding individual contributions to the solution of the problem which he believes is the development of the area, Mr. Lyerla mentioned as basic such characteristics as initiative, leadership, imagination, and "imagination," the latter defined as the process of using the imagination to test the feasibility of a project for practicality, and then using it.

One of the important points brought out in the discussion was the fact that potential employment in an area of 30 miles radius around S.I.N.U. is estimated to be approximately 70,000, after the war.

The discussion marked the last of the series of four held this spring.

Wenzell Brown Speaks To Special Assembly

At a special chapel on Monday, May 29, Wenzell Brown, formerly an English professor in a Chinese university, told a graphic detail of his experiences as a Japanese prisoner of war. Prior to and during his seven months' incarceration at various prison camps, Mr. Brown witnessed and felt the suffering, both physical and mental in his estimation one of the saddest sights was that of a English girl who made a daily pilgrimage to the barbed wire beyond which lay the un-forgotten body of her brother, but never into his narrative was a stirring courage of two men Chinese people, Kate Malley and Victor Barron.

With the termination of Southern's army program here, June 30, S.L.V. will lose the chief determining factor in keeping the school on a "business as usual" working order.

The history of the 60th College Training Detachment on the campus of Southern started with the announcement of 529 Army A.D. Orders in March, 1943. They were housed in Anthony Hall and the University Courts, the latter of which was prepared especially for their occupation. Until the present day approximately 250 officers have been constantly maintained in these quarters. The program is one of basic preflight training and has been carried on with the cooperation of the airport at Jarrow.

The late President Pulliam was instrumental in securing the army program for Southern, Mrs. Alice Di Giovanni was appointed by him to serve in the president's capacity in all matters pertaining to carrying out effectively the army program. In this work she has proven to be an efficient administrator, keeping the various groups working under their functioning smoothly and successfully.

Dr. R. A. Scott of the chemistry department has worked as Army Coordinator with the assistance of Mr. Van Babutz.

During the time the army has been on the campus over 1000 cadets have completed the training offered here. They have been under the supervision of three commanding officers, the latest of which is Captain Richard Sheppard McClain, about whom a story appears elsewhere in today's program for Southern, Mrs. Alice Di Giovanni was appointed by him to serve in the president's capacity in all matters pertaining to carrying out effectively the army program. In this work she has proven to be an efficient administrator, keeping the various groups working under their functioning smoothly and successfully.

FROM THE FILES

Raymond: But why do you call your little brother "infatuated"?

Bill: Charles, I tell you what it's like in a night club.

Charles: Well, a night club is where they take the rest out of restaurant and put the din in dinner.

Bill: Sure, I put the cut out door, how'd it play?

Mr. J: I don't believe it.

Mr. J: Well, if you don't believe it, get up and put her out yourself.

Sue: Women are braver than men.

He: They certainly are; you never saw a man try on six suits of clothes with only thirty cents in his pockets.

If you want to remember things like a string around your finger, it's not what you want to forget things, it's a little around your neck.

Love: Did you see my old and ancient weeping when I died in my last act?

Sonny: Yes, several told me that they were weeping when they realized it was only acting.

Mr. J: My daughter says she doesn't want to get married.

Mr. J: Just wait until the wrong man comes along.

Teacher: What happens when the human body is completely immersed in water?

Student: The telephone rings.

Son: Pa, can you write with your eyes shut?

Father: Certainly.

Son: Well, shut your eyes and sign my report card.

Mother: Yes, I think Betty plays the piano wonderfully. You know she plays entirely by ear.

Father: Yes, the trouble is, I listen the same way.

Helen: So you think Clara is thirty?

Mary: Well, what do you think? Before she puts a marshmallow she always cries it to powder her nose.

Teacher: Yes, Bill, you had your hand up, what is it?

Student: Why is it you can't subtract apples from peaches or oranges, but you can add them and make fruit salad?

Sue: Don't drive so fast when we come to corners. You scare me.

He: Do what I do—shut your eyes.

Father: Ann, that young man stays too late when he calls. He'd better get home, and get something to eat about 11?

Ann: Yes, daddy. Mother says men haven't changed a bit.
