VAN RIPER RETURNS HERE FALL TERM

It was announced that Dr. Joseph Van Ripper will return to Southern next fall as associate professor of geography in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Van Ripper served on the Southern faculty from 1939 until June, 1942, when he was called to wartime duties with the War Department.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Dr. Van Ripper holds the master's degree from Syracuse University, and the doctor of philosophy degree from Michigan. He taught at Colgate University, Syracuse, and Marysville (Missouri) State Teachers College before coming to Southern.

His return to the Southern faculty will bolster the teaching strength of the geography department, which has been greatly reduced during the war.

S.I.N.U. HAS HAND IN TRAINING BEST TEACHER OF 1946

Mrs. Edith Binker of Somerville, N. J., who graduated from Southern in 1924, was recently named "America's Best Teacher for 1946" in the Quiz Kids national contest. Mrs. Binker is the former Miss Edith Creed.

Chosen from among 14,000 teachers nominated by American school children, Mrs. Binker appeared on the Quiz Kids national broadcast Sunday evening, May 26.

A native of Centralia, Mrs. Binker moved to Oklahoma with her family when she was three years old.

Returning from Cleveland, Oklahoma to enter Southern in 1922, she completed the two year course here in 1924 and later took her degree from Rutgers University. She has been teaching for 22 years.

University President Chester F. Lay acclaimed her selection as the country's best teacher as a "distinct honor for Southern as well as for Mrs. Binker."

"We are proud to have the quality of teacher-education which Southern offers its students recognized nationally."

Mrs. Binker's former teachers here remember her as a delightful person who showed promise of becoming a great teacher.

Through this column we invite students, faculty, and friends of Southern Illinois to express your ideas. We must know the source of any article, but we will withhold your name if you wish it, and we retain the right to withhold any material that would violate the ethics of journalism and freedom of the press.

TO THE EDITOR: A letter to the editor printed in last week's issue caused some displeasure and much laughter... I wish to make it clear that I maintain no case against the Independents in general, most of them being intelligent, understanding students...

Dear Editor: In the last issue of the Egyptian Mr. J.M.W. burst forth in this column with a redundantly verbose denunciation of the Greek political machine on the campus...

TO THE EDITOR: I apply to "Is This Democracy?" in order not as a defense measure, but the reply is to serve as a presentation of the other side of the issue...

I am most happy to know that due recognition has been given to the organization which fought so consistently and vigorously and victoriously for the maintenance of student representative government on Southern's campus. The Greek organizations did line up against and protect the attempt to disband or at least reduce to total insignificance the Student Council, the representative voice of the student body...

their favorite expression, "co-operation," is a two way responsibility to meet the needs of the student body exactly what form student support should take...

800 SIGN PETITION FAVORING A REDUCTION OF CAFETERIA PRICES

Recently members of Tau Delta Rho Discussion Society drew up a petition expressing a number of recommendations which should and can be made in order that the Cafeteria be operated on the basis for which it was instituted—namely, that it serve the needs of the students. As the Egyptian goes to press this week, approximately 800 Southern students have placed their signatures on this petition...

WE, THE STUDENTS OF S.I.N.U., PETITION THAT THE FOLLOWING FACTS BE CONSIDERED AND THAT THE FOLLOWING RECOMMENDATIONS BE ADHERED TO:

- When President Rulliam, now deceased, instituted the Student Cafeteria on the campus of Southern Illinois Normal University at Carbondale, it was his expressed desire that it serve the needs of the students. He stated on several occasions that as long as it served this purpose it would be non-consequential if it operated at a loss for the first ten years. After several weeks of investigation, Tau Delta Rho the campus discussion society, has compiled the following facts and made co-ordinate recommendations. FIRST: The college cafeteria, whose primary purpose is student consumption of good food at a minimum cost, is operating at a 15 per cent or greater loss. Furthermore, it is not fulfilling the primary purpose since students are financially unable to obtain a well-balanced meal at the present prices. SECOND: Cafeteria management has been found to be inadequate—labor costs are 50% of the gross sales, food costs are 60% of gross sales, one steam table line is not enough to serve the number of students. THIRD: That menu should be adjusted to meet student needs at prices students can afford to pay. SOUPS and sandwiches should be added to the menu also. Members of Tau Delta Rho will attest, from personal experience, to the fact that the food served at the cafeteria is clean, wholesome, and well-prepared, but TOO expensive. The student group feels justified in making these recommendations since it was the original plan to serve the students regardless of cost.

YOU CAN'T WIN!

Are you one of those carefree persons who, given a thought or a fact to add to your already bulging store of knowledge, proceed to hang it on any peg in your mind that happens to be undrugged at the moment? Either, it's time you let the thought contestants stretch out your mental disarray. These boys insist that unless your mind is one well organized filing system, all of your mental gymnastics have been for naught. So if your thoughts are scattered throughout your mind, unclassified, unalphabetized, it's time to even out the debris—and make a fresh, orderly start. Now that you have finished your cerebral housecleaning, and have every pigeon hole in your alleged mind neatly labeled, you should be ready for some, by all means, brain work. Battered up! First, you sit down with the evening paper, and being a cautious person, you decide to start with something small. Ah, there's an insert just about your size. It states that one Roger Leffingwell has been the free-stytle milking champion of Upper Wisconsin for eleven consecutive years. Yesterday you would have allowed this choice bit of history to saunter around your mind and settle down in any dark corner that suited it. Then if a stranger stopped you on the street later in the day and demanded: "Quick! Who's the free-stytle milking champion of Upper Wisconsin?" Let's face it: he would have you. You wouldn't know where to find the information, even though you had it somewhere in your head. Roger Leffingwell might have squeezed in with the French foreign ministers, the Preakness winners, or perhaps the Gowdym Girls. He's a cold trail. Today, however, you have a system. You take Roger Leffingwell to an imaginary cell in the MC, for milking champion, block and shackle him to his cot. The key you place in a container marked "W. Wisconsin." Let's face it: you wanted to know stranger? That night you and your most bitter rival, Hank Birdstone, attend the same dance. There you spy the lovely girl either of you has ever seen. You crowd in for the introductions. "Gentlemen, this is Tamara Leffingwell." You smile to yourself as Birdstone stammers some routine acknowledgement. Then it is your turn. You bow deeply and reply, "Perhaps you are related to a good friend of mine, Roger Leffingwell, the famous jerk." Tamara is flattered by your subtle revelation of her family fame. The formula is paying off. Tamara favors you throughout the evening, and then the dance ends! You confidentially suggest heading out to Tink's for a milkshake. Tamara thanks you graciously and then leaves with Birdstone. He has a convertible.

What's Going On Here!

By Grant The new Student Council elected last week and composed of four Independents, four fraternity men, and four sorority women, will assume office at a time when the transition from a moribund to a vigorous student life will be in its most highly accelerated stage. If the Southern campus of a year ago seems incredibly lifeless in the light of what is happening now, then present activities will appear comparably insignificant next fall. In the fall, our infant problems will have grown to full stature. The housing situation, in Switzer's words: "A strong dilemma in a desperate case!" will add with fancy or quit the place. The student body, already apathetic toward and not too well-informed about their part in student government will have to be better instructed in the mechanics of student participation in campus activities. The Student Council has received some criticism for a seeming attitude that it feels no obligation to keep the student body informed about various activities, that "anybody who is interested should find out about those things himself." Assuredly, the attitude is not typical of the Council, and any member who has succumbed to such a policy is justified to a great extent by a general lack of interest in school events. However unpleasant the prospect may be to many students, they must either take a more active interest in school affairs, or all semblance of student unity will disappear. If anything constructive is to be accomplished, students must do more than favor certain improvements; they must set the changes into motion themselves. The whole problem was summed up very neatly by a newly elected Council member, Dorothy Sager who "would like to see more co-operation and organization in school activities—a little less of the 'it's not they' and a little more of the 'why don't we' spirit." In the same vein Dale Andrews declared, "I believe the student body, if kept informed of the measures necessary to correct existing sore spots, will—through the Council—see that those measures are taken. The Council's job is to supply the student body with this information vital to sound judgment, then to act in accordance with the students' will." Dick Avis is another Council member in favor of policies of (1) information, "as a special project, I would like very much to see a student forum as described in the I.S.U. Platform, (calling for representation from every recognized organization) put into operation"; and (2) a responsible student government, "I think we, the Council, are an implement of the students, charged with complete responsibility to them. Therefore, the Council's success depends upon student co-operation." The nine other new Council members agree with this principle of closer co-operation between the Council and the student body. In addition, they have some specific points of their own. Florine Schleuter is in favor of returning the Southern Knights, under student sponsorship, to the campus. The Knights, among other things, "sold" Southern to many visitors by a combination of courtesy and hospitality. "Why need for recreational facilities," according to Opal Ruff, "demands the immediate attention of the school, and amusement-starved Southerners are unlikely to dispute her claim. Miss Ruff also believes that the Council can increase student backing of Southern athletic events." Joan Fairbairn expressed a popular sentiment when she declared, "The Council should investigate the possibilities of obtaining a permanent voting booth. Southern elections are too costly for a great many prospective voters now; so we must do all we can to conduct future elections with more fairness and in a more orderly manner." These progressive statements sound very encouraging. Transforming the words into action will be no simple task, however. In fact, accomplishing the desired ends is about two thousand times as difficult as conducting future elections which we subdue our present difficulties or allow them to overwhelm us. The Council, for their part, must never forget that

SOUTHERN'S BATS LOSE PRIVACY

During the past school year, as in former years, Southern's been making an important contribution to the scientific world. This contribution is a rare species of bats, which all students here, even the freshmen, have heard about. The brown bat, whose scientific name is myotis lucifugus lucifugus, dwells on the fourth floor of the Main building. Its scientific name, myotis, is the Greek word for mouse and lucifugus means to shun light. Dr. Elizabeth Sawyer of Rockford College has collected specimens for the study of the pituitary gland. Dr. Richard Webb of the Washington University Medical School, who is interested in the lymphatics of the wings, has collected many specimens for this purpose. This year a most important part of the circulation of the blood in the bat wings were under high magnification. He also used some of the specimens for a demonstration before doctors and nurses at the Bernard Skin and Cancer Hospital in St. Louis. This colony of bats at Southern is the largest in the Middle West and is well known to the scientific world. NOTICE All books, books, drawing equipment, etc. must be returned to the College Bookstore before 4 p. m., Thursday, June 6.

GI students at Kent State University (Kent, Ohio) who last year were standing Jentry duty in the Ruhr, add the Philippines, today are being out as "baby sitters" in their spare time.

Said one bravely ex-sergeant: "It's easy work unless you happen to get an ornery kid; and even that experience may come in handy some day. 'Course there's the money angle, too. A fellow can make up to $40 an hour and do his studying at the same time." What do the mothers think of GI sitters?

"I'd rather have one than a girl," declared one Kent mother. "Girl sitters are too young and not always dependable. A veteran is very responsible, and in case something happened, I'd feel that he would know what to do."

"I like to have veterans watch my children at night because my little boy needs someone to 'talk tough' with him," said a mother of three children. "My kiddies like the vets, and my husband and I want to help the boys earn a little extra money for their college expenses." A.C.P.

Give an old adage a modern twist and it reads: "A gal is a gal for a'hat." To illustrate, the men in a class of effective living 152, Michigan State College, were asked to indicate their preference for either the extremely feminine or masculine type of woman. By vigorous hand-waving one male gave a vote to each. "Say, you voted both times," the prof. reprimanded. "That's O.K.," shouted the student. "I love 'em all." A.C.P.

Girls at Miami University are protesting that the culinary department is hampering their chances for dates on weekends. Now that men are back for good, they want the onions omitted from the potato salad on Saturday and Sunday nights. Let's have it on some 'moonless weeknights," they plead. A.C.P.

Tuesdays and Fridays will be wheatless days on the Mount Holyoke campus as students tighten their belts to help in the current food shortage. The wheatless days will be thoroughly wheatless, with breakfast cereals being substituted for toast at breakfast, and picnic bread allowances will be limited to two sandwiches per girl. A.C.P.

CHARLES HAMILTON SIGNS CONTRACT WITH MOA THEATRE

Charles Hamilton, who appeared with the Memphis Open Air Theatre last year while in service, stated that he has a contract signed with them for three operas this summer.

His first opera "Elosum Time," will be given July 1; the other two, "Bohemian Girl," and "The Student Prince" are scheduled for July 8 and August 5, respectively. At the present time he does not know what his parts will be in these operas and there is the possibility that he may appear in more this summer.

Last year Hamilton sang in five operas—"Desert Song," "Fortune Teller," "Roberta," "New Moon," and "Vagabond King."

Some of the famous stars who he appeared with in these operas were Rosmarie Braucata, Francis Greer, Eddie Roedner, Charles Yearsey and Ethel Taylor.

The Memphis Open Air Theatre is operated similarly to the Municipal Opera in St. Louis with a seating capacity of 4000. This year marks their ninth season.

$100,000 War Surplus Materials For SINU

War surplus materials totaling nearly $100,000 have been allocated to Southern for use in the physics, chemistry, and industrial education departments, according to Dr. O. B. Newby, chairman of the University's committee on war surplus commodities.

Most of the commodities the University has acquired came from the Illinois Ordnance Plant, and include a very fine welding outfit valued at $1,100, drills, scales, balances, burners, sanders, and other small tools.

From the Douglas Aircraft Company came two large milling machines, for cutting and shaping metal, which are used by the industrial education department. Weighing about two tons each, these machines are worth approximately $13,000.

The purchase of a new Thunderbolt produced by the Republican Manufacturing Company of Evansville, Ind., is owned by Southern and will be used for educational purposes. Dr. Young states that mock-ups are to be made for it, which are units for demonstration of the various principles of physics. The Thunderbolt is valued at $70,000.

In addition to the tools and machines of all kinds, the University has acquired two 30-seat buses and three 100-passenger capacity tractor-trailer combinations to be used for veteran transportation to and from the Ordnance Plant where housing units are being prepared for use in the immediate future.

Prospects Promising For 1946 Football Team

Sam Hancock

Coach Glen "Abe" Martin has prospects for the best football team Southern has been able to muster in some time for the coming season. Martin expects several veterans with gridiron experience to be back cavoring for the Maroons. These men plus members of a near-championship team of last year, together with some promising incoming freshmen assure Southern fans plenty of football thrills for 1946. However Coach Martin opined that the ranks of the other I. I. A. C. teams and inter-conference teams that the Maroons meet will be similarly strengthened.

Eight Games Scheduled For Next Year

Southern has eight games carded for the coming season, with the opener against the Kirksville (Mo.) Teachers to be played here on September 28. It took a 13-7 defeat by Northern in the last game of the season to wrest the conference championship from the Maroons in 1945.

Among the returning veterans will be Bill Malinsky of Flora, Nick Milosevich, Bill O'Brien, and Jeff Mitchell of Zeigler, Lawrence Caluffetti of Johnston City, Roy and Don Ragsdale of DeSoto, Myron Schuster of Murphysboro, and Quentin Stinson of Eldorado. Stinson is the only man not having previous college football experience.

Promising Freshmen Expected

Included in the incoming freshmen will be Pete Milosevich, brother of Nick and Sam and a dependable performer on Zeigler high school teams the past four years. During this year, Pete has been under the tutelage of Hewey Tweedy, S.N.U. football captain in 1944, who is now head coach at Zeigler. Other promising freshmen expected are John "Bummy" Ruzich of Johnston City, Joe Franza of Murphysboro, Don Riggs of Fairfield, Dick and Bill Seelman and Jack Long, all from Flora, Dale Corners of Benton, and Bob Stout of Harrisburg.

Captains of Spring Sports Smile For Cameraman

INTRAMURAL BASEBALL

The World Beaters today reign as champions of the spring intramural baseball league. Although the entire league schedule was not completed because of the postponement of many games due to rain, the World Beaters' right to the title cannot be denied. Don Raines' team met and defeated every team in the league, while all of the other teams lost one or more games.

The K.D.A.'s captured second place, having bowed only to the World Beaters. The K.D.A.-World Beaters game was a thrill-packed battle which even at that time bore all the earmarks of a decisive contest.

Ending in third place were the Sigma Bets. They got off to a poor start by losing their first contest to the champs. Another was dropped to the K.D.A.'s, but since then they have won every game they have played.

The World Beaters clinched their championship last Monday when they beat the Chi Delts 5 to 3. Don Raines pitched his team to the final victory as he had done on two previous occasions.

The Sigma Bets outlasted the Ramblers Tuesday in one of the games that has been played this spring. The final score was 4 to 3, with the tying and winning runs crossing the plate in the last inning. Frazier hurred for the victors. Milosevich hurred for the losers.

In the last game of the season the Chi Delts defeated the N.E.A.s 5 to 2.

Hittin' the High Spots

By Bob McDowell

Another sports season is just about over and Southern athletes have done all right for themselves. In fact, when everything is considered, there is very little else to be desired.

Of course, there is no such thing as a perfect set-up and even the face of the Maroon's triumph, a number of things come to mind.

For instance, there was a dire need for larger seating capacity in the men's gymnasium in view of the fine record of the basketball team. Many tried and true fans were either turned away, forced to stand, or to take inferior seats while the new fans, who jumped on the Maroon van when they hit the winning trail, were right in the front row. It is rumored that more seats will be available in the future.

Or, the football games could be enhanced with the addition of a scoreboard that recorded not only score, but also the downs and the time left to play. Many fans who come in late can't tell what is happening until they have been there for sometime.

In the track and tennis season, the enthusiasm of the students seems to grow lax, and in spite of both squads being conference champs, there were just a handful of spectators at their home performances.

It is still a mystery to almost everyone why there was not a varsity baseball team. Stories were many and varied as to the reason, but whatever it was, it was very effective as there was not a varsity team.

After Glenn "Abe" Martin and his charges took the National Intercollegiate crown in Kansas City, everyone figured that they were one of the finer aggregations in the country. However, the experts in one of the polls finally found a spot for them way down in the in the 19th position, thus showing them below many teams obviously inferior to Southern. "What the heck do you hafta do" to get placed in the first ten?

Most of the athletes here at Southern have been feted, and rightly so, for their achievements, but they together with the rest of the students would probably like to offer their congratulations to the three men who directed these activities: Glenn "Abe" Martin, Leland P. "Doc" Lingie, and Bill Freeburg. Very good work. The record book doesn't lie.

Southern will have its share of brother combinations, which should give plenty of headaches to scorekeepers and announcers.

Southern placed three men on the first I.I.A.C. football team in 1945. Leodio Cabutti was the selection for right end, Sam Milosevich was chosen at left tackle, and Gene Stolar was the right half choice. All these men are expected back next season.

Missing from the Southern roster next year will be Henry Hinkley, who was killed in action on Black Island in 1944, of Salem, Jim Hafsh of Madison, Charles Rothchild of Chester, "Red" Lowery of Benton, Howard Sharp of West Frankfort, Gene Cunningham, Bob Lyster, and Carl Ferrell of Anna, Bill Crum of Mt. Carmel, Tom Gher and Bill Eaton of Carbondale, and Paul Moss of Christopher.

BASEBALL PLANNED FOR SUMMER TERM

Mr. Glenn "Abe" Martin, director of athletics, has announced plans for the formation of a summer intra-mural baseball league. This league will be conducted in a manner similar to the spring league which concluded play last week.

Organization of the teams and scheduling the games are planned for the first week of the summer session with play beginning in the second week. All men wanting to participate are requested to give their names to Mr. Martin as soon as possible after the beginning of the term with the deadline being at 2:00 p.m. Thursday of the first week of school. Entries can be made by both teams and individuals. Mr. Martin has scheduled a meeting of all managers at 2:00 p.m. Thursday, June 18.

W. A. A. NEWS

Cleo Um, this year's president of W.A.A., was given a special award of merit at the W.A.A. Banquet held recently. This award, which has been given only twice before in the past fifteen years, is a special honor that cannot be earned by the accumulation of points alone, although participation in sports is a requirement for this pin.

The award is given only when a girl has excelled in her service to W.A.A. has been a leader in its activities, and is outstanding in her sportmanship.

Cleo Um has accumulated 1850 points in her four years at college by participating in every sport offered by the Women's Athletic Association. In addition, she was manager of table tennis and hockey, chairman of Sports Day, treasurer and president of W.A.A. She has also been chosen a member of every honorary varsity team picked.

INTRAMURAL ALL STAR TEAM PICKED

By Curtis

Climaxing the intramural baseball season this Spring, which closed recently with the World Beaters in the championship position, is the selection of a mythical All-Star Team.

Bill Freeburg, Steve Giacomelli, Sam Hancock of the Egyptian sports staff, and I got together and made the following selections. For most of the positions two men were chosen; one may be considered first choice and the other, second choice. However, switching them around would probably result in almost as strong a team. Anyway, here goes.

For pitcher southpaw Vernon Smith gets the nod over James McGee. Both men have excellent control, but Smith is a little faster.

Bennie Dunn gets first call for the catching position. In addition he would be the ideal choice for captain. His value to the champion World Beaters, is such that he draws down the most valuable player award. "Bone" Sawyer gets second look in the catching department.

First base was a hard choice. In the end Quentin Stinson gets the nod over Bob Armstrong since he hits a long ball. Armstrong hits a better percentage, but does not pound out game breaking blows.

Glenn Brown takes the second base position over Walt Frazier. Both are good hitters, but Brown handles himself better in the field. Frazier would be very valuable to an all-star squad because he is also one of the best catchers in the league.

At third base there is no question about it. Speer is in a class of his own.

For the hot corner, Fred Lacey is a toss up between Larry Green and Curtis Englebright. Choose your own man from these two or several fine players such as Jamie McGee or Carl Winbury.

In the outfield there is Bill Malinsky in left, Dick Foley in center, and Ray Turek in right. Foley is normally a left fielder, but his speed and great throwing arm make him a natural for center field. Behind these men you could choose any number of fine bill-players.
