Symphony To Present 'Te Deum' In Final Concert At 3 p.m. Sunday

A presentation of Zoltan Kodaly's "Budavari Te Deum," will highlight the final performance of the Southern Illinois Symphony Orchestra Sunday, June 3rd, at 4 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium.

Carmine Ficocelli will also conduct the 59-piece orchestra in George Frederick Handel's Overture "Theodora" arranged by Gordon Jacob, Franz Schubert's Symphony

No. 8 "Unfinished" in B minor, and Antonio Vivaldi's Concerto in D minor.

The Oratorio Chorus and University Choir, conducted by Robert Kingsbury, will assist Ficocelli in the presentation of "Budavari Te Deum."

Fred Rounfull will sing soprano; Deanna Stevenson, alto; Larry Jarvis, tenor; and Larry Johnson, baritone.

Kodaly composed the work in 1936, at the invitation of the municipality of Budapest, upon the occasion of the 250th anniversary of the freeing of the city of Buda from Turkish invaders.

The first public performance of the work was given on Sept. 2, 1936, under Victor Sugar.

Four Alumni Will Receive Achievement Awards June 9

Presentation of four achievement awards will highlight SIU Alumni Day, Saturday, June 9.

The first woman ever to receive an Alumni Achievement Award is Miss Mary Entsminger, 1913. She is cited for service to SIU and its Alumni association.

On the faculty from 1922 until her retirement in 1957 as an associate professor of education she served as president of the southern division of the Illinois Education Association, vice president of the state chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, and vice president of the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Also recognized for service to SIU and the Association will be John W. Allen, 1922. Dubbed "Mr. Southern Illinois," he is known to newspaper readers through his "It happened in Illinois" column and to people interested in history and folklore as president of the Illinois State Historical Society, Illinois Folklore Society, and the Southern Illinois Handicraft Society.

Lake-On-Campus Will Be Closed

The swimming, boating, and fishing facilities of the Lake-on-Campus will be closed June 4 and 5, 1962.

At this time large quantities of "Aquatol" solution will be sprayed into the lake in order to combat the growth of weeds.

Facilities will be available for use during regular hours again on June 6.

A former rural school teacher and school superintendent, he served on the SIU Museum staff and with information service before he retired in 1958.

Two men--both University professors--will be honored for achievement in their professional fields--one who is concerned with anatomy of man and the other with the anatomy of the turkey.

Lemen J. Wells, 1927, professor of anatomy at the University of Minnesota medical school since 1950, will travel from St. Paul to receive his award. He attributes his interest in science to Dr. Mary Minerva Steagall, who opened up for him a new world, "the scientific approach to knowledge."

Wells and his co-workers were pioneers in developing the field of fetal endocrinology. He has traveled to many European countries on fellowships from the Guggenheim Foundation, Carnegie Corporation of New York, and a Fulbright award.

Also receiving an award for his professional accomplishments is E. Y. Smith 1923. Smith is a retired associate professor of Cornell University and owner of the Empire Turkey Farms of Genoa, N. Y.

The Alumni association will present its third Great Teacher Award at the Alumni Banquet which will bring the program to an end. The banquet will be in the University Center Ballroom at 6:30 Saturday.

Alumni also are being solicited for funds for the Great Teacher Award which is in the amount of $1,000 tax free.

MISS JUNE -- This month's calendar girl is Edwina Golas. This petite miss hails from McLeansboro and is a sophomore in the speech department and also active in drama productions at the Playhouse. For more pictures of Miss June see page two.

Dean Gets To The Bottom Of Students' Diving Pursuit

Two enthusiastic golfers, also swimmers, found that it takes more than just a little determination to obtain possession of a golf ball gold mine from the bottom of a lake.

Dean Joseph F. Zaleski of the Office of Student Affairs said that two SIU students were caught attempting to retrieve golf balls from the bottom of a lake at the Crab Orchard golf course last Thursday.

For their diving pursuits the students had a $10 fine levied against them on a charge of disorderly conduct, he said. The students had 16 golf balls in their possession when they were caught, Zaleski added.

The students were required to return to the golf course the next day, apologize to the manager, and for eight hours, work at the golf course cutting weeds, grass, and digging.

Their work was appreciated though, as the golf course manager sent a letter to Dean Zaleski commending the students for their "in the rough" efforts.

Degrees will be awarded to 125 graduates of the Vocational-Technical Institute at the annual VTI Spring banquet at 7 p.m. Friday in University Center Ballroom, M. H. Dallman, adviser to the student council at VTI, has announced.

Degrees to be awarded for two-year programs of study include the Associate Degree in Technology and the Associate Degree in Business.

In addition, 86 certificates will be awarded for one-year programs of study in cosmetology, nursing, welding, calculating machine operation, and bookkeeping-clerical.

VTI students with records of high scholastic achievement will also be recognized at the banquet. Recipients of scholastic awards will be announced at the banquet.

Banquet talks will be made to the graduates by E. J. Simon, dean of technical and adult education; Harry B. Bauenfeind, assistant dean, and Marvin P. Hill, director of VTI.

At 9:30, a dance for graduates and their guests will be held in the Ballroom.

Romantic Animal-- Art Lecture Topic

Animal themes in French and German paintings around the 1850's will be the subject of Ben Watkins at the art and archeology lecture Friday in the Morris Library auditorium.

The lecture will begin at 8 p.m., June 1, with Watkins presiding. He is an art professor at SIU and is also acting curator of the Mitchell Art Gallery here.

Watkins will also cover the relationships between art and literature concerning the romantic animal subject.

Everybody's Twisting - Even Africans Editor From Johannesburg Says

"A school of journalism is very interesting to me," said the brown-eyed, dark-haired visitor. "In South Africa, there aren't any; the newspapers train their own journalists."

Arthur Rudolph, editor of the Johannesburg South Africa, Post, said that the quality of small newspapers in this country was surprising to him.

Rudolph said that South African Universities don't have student newspapers nor do any South African newspapers use the offset press, and that it was interesting to him how the Egyptian fits into the community.

"Yes, they dance the twist in South Africa, too," said Rudolph. "Our way of life and yours are very similar. South Africa is a technically advanced country, and Johannesburg, which is the center for many newsmen operating in Africa south of the Sahara, is a very cosmopolitan city."

Touring the U.S. at the invitation of the State Department, Rudolph said that the purpose of his visit to this country was to exchange views with American newspaper editors, to inspect technical aspects of newspaper production, and to talk to Americans.

The 44-year-old Rudolph's coming to SIU to inspect the journalism department and the Egyptian is but one stop in an itinerary which includes visits to New York, Raleigh, Atlanta, New Orleans, Phoenix, Chicago, and Washington.

Rudolph said that education in South Africa includes 12 years of school after which the student receives a certificate or an authorization to go on to a university.

"I was pleased to see the apparent smooth mixing of students of different races in this college," he said. In South Africa, non-white students attend separate universities.

Junior Steals Tires;

Suspended, Fined $25

Leonard C. Trampe, a 21-year-old junior from Metropolis, Ill., has been suspended from the University through the fall quarter, 1962, after being arrested and fined $25 on a charge of stealing two tires from a car parked on a used car lot at 300 E. Main Wednesday, May 16, according to Joseph F. Zaleski, assistant dean of student affairs.

A neighbor spotted Trampe and alerted Carbondale police, Zaleski said.

Viet Nam Reds Raid Leper Camp Kidnap 3 American Missionaries

SAIGON, South Viet Nam-- Vietnamese army forces Thursday probed the jungle 150 miles northeast of Saigon in an effort to run down a strong Communist guerrilla band which raided a leper camp and carried off three American missionaries.

The Viet Cong band also carried off food and medicines seized in the raid, the U.S. Embassy said.

News of the Wednesday night kidnaping reached here when another missionary got to Ban Me Thuot, eight miles from the camp, and spread an alarm. Army units were sent in pursuit at once.

The raiders did not molest the 250 lepers nor nine other Americans at the camp, including four woman nurses and the wife and four children of one of the kidnaped missionaries. A. E. Mitchell, 44, Ellensburg, Wash.

The other two kidnaped missionaries were identified as Daniel Gerber, 21, of Dalton, Ohio, a Mennonite volunteer who worked as a maintenance man; and Dr. Eleanor Ardel Vietti, 35, of Houston, Tex.

TEL AVIV, Israel - The Gestapo's Adolf Eichmann was hanged by the state of Israel two minutes before midnight Thursday for his role in the Nazi extermination of six million European Jews.

Eichmann, who insisted he was not to blame for the horrors of Hitler's death camps and torture chambers, died on the gallows in Ramleh Prison outside Tel Aviv.

He was the first person executed by this predominantly Jewish nation in its 14-year history.

Death for the 56-year-old Eichmann came 2 years and 21 days after Israeli agents captured him in Argentina and smuggled him to Israel by air, ending a world wide search by Jewish agents that began in the smoldering ruins of the Nazi empire at the end of World War II.

Eichmann was taken to his death less than an hour after President Izhav Ben-Zvi rejected the final possible appeal for mercy and sealed his doom.

WASHINGTON -- Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said Thursday a rise in employment to a record level for May, coupled with a new decline in unemployment, reflects continuing economic improvement.

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii-- A memorial shaped like the bridge of a hugh ship has been constructed on the site where the Japanese bombs sank the USS Arizona on Dec. 7, 1941. The memorial was purchased for more than half a million dollars by public donations and state and congressional appropriations.

Joe College Is Being Spoiled Because He's In Great Demand

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) Is Joe College getting spoiled?

Many personnel executives think he is.

"University graduates today are not interested in starting at the bottom--they want a job as near the top as possible," grumbled one executive.

"Most of them don't ask what opportunities lie ahead. They want to know 'What's in it for me right now?' They inquire about pension programs, medical care, bonuses, and all kinds of fringe benefits.

"They don't want to live in small towns. They don't want a job that requires them to travel from home much. They are less interested in what they can do for the corporation than in what they can get the corporation to do for them.

"Sometimes they're so choosy you get the feeling the corporation isn't hiring them--they're hiring the corporation."

A recent survey by the Family Economics Bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. indicated 1962 graduates will get starting salaries $20 to $30 a month higher than those of a year ago.

The survey showed beginning salaries ranging from $450 to $500 a month awaited liberal arts or business school alumni. Graduates in engineering or science could look forward to even more--$565 to $580.

Ah, me! Those figures awaken a feeling of wry nostalgia in those of us who were graduated just a generation--30 years--ago.

That was still in the pit of the great depression, and no one seemed to want us--our alma mater, our parents, or the outside world. A sheepskin was no automatic passport to employment. You couldn't even look forward to a corner on which to sell apples--the best corners were already taken.

Maybe Joe College is a bit spoiled, but maybe that isn't all bad either. It's a wonderful thing to be wanted, and to find a welcome market waiting for your talent and ability.

Mrs. Minnie Mae Pitkin confers with Max Turner in the President's office.

Part-Time Job Turns Into A 'Career' For Mrs. Minnie Mae Pitkin

Sixteen years ago Minnie Mae Pitkin began working in the SIU president's office "just to help out."

Today she is still there. Mrs. Pitkin explains that she really didn't intend to work very long but they were short of help so she just stayed.

"I've never regretted a moment of it because there is always something new," said Dr. Delyte W. Morris' executive aide.

"Minnie Mae," as she is familiarly called by her co-workers, really does the work of three persons. She is a "right arm" of the president, civic leader, and wife of Dr. William A. Pitkin, professor of history.

"Maybe I am too public spirited," she said, "but I feel we all have a responsibility to the community, so I try to devote some time to most worthwhile projects."

As Dr. Morris' executive aide, Mrs. Pitkin has many duties. And while he is on a world tour, her job is even bigger.

She regularly handles invitation lists, seating arrangements, and other behind the scene work for such functions as the upcoming corner stone laying ceremony for the new Physical Education-Military Training building. And at this time of the year she also has the added burden of making arrangements for numerous end-of-the-school-year activities.

Mrs. Pitkin says that she enjoys most about her job is working with other people. The feeling of her co-workers obviously is mutual.

"Minnie Mae's devotion to duty is almost without parallel throughout the university," said Max Turner, one of Dr. Morris' assistants and a professor of government. "She does not pay attention to clock or calendar, but carries on work until the job is done. Her activities, both in and outside the office are always designed to enhance the position of the university."

What Turner had to say about Mrs. Pitkin is quite true. University records show that she had more than 76 days sick leave and 53 days vacation time accrued.

"I get too far behind if I take all the time off at once," Mrs. Pitkin explained modestly.

A former dean of the education wrote these lines of appreciation to Mrs. Pitkin:

Mrs. Pitkin, who taught chemistry at McMurry College in Abilene, Texas, before retiring to become a wife and mother, is probably too modest to say so herself, but her philosophy obviously is summed up in the plaque behind her desk in the president's office.

Presented by George T. Wilkins, superintendent of public instructions for the state of Illinois, it says: "If you work for a man -- in heaven's name work for him, speak well of him and stand by the institution which he represents. REMEMBER--An ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness. If you must growl, condemn and eternally find fault, resign your position and when you are on the outside, damn to your heart's content--but as long as you are a part of the institution do not condemn it. BE LOYAL."

Five Underage Students Buy Liquor, Get Suspended

Five students have been suspended from the University after being arrested and fined for illegal purchase of liquor, according to Joseph F. Zaleski, assistant dean of Student Affairs.

Zaleski said that Thomas Joseph Link Klingenstein, 19, Oak Park, Alfred Allen Pascoe, 19, Peoria, and Stephen James Hawkes, 18, Oak Grove, will be suspended from the University at the end of the spring term after being arrested Friday, May 18 in the Hub Cafe cocktail lounge on a charge of purchasing liquor while under age. The students were taken into custody by Carbondale police who were making a check of the Hub lounge, and were later fined $50 each by Magistrate Robert Swartz, Zaleski explained.

Carbondale Public Safety Commissioner James Wallace has filed a complaint against Jallie Brewer, Hub Cafe bartender, charging him with selling liquor to minors.

David Ross, 19, of Decatur, was also fined $50 by Police Magistrate Swartz, and will be suspended after the spring term on the same charge of purchasing liquor while under age Friday, May 11, Zaleski said.

Ross said he was served liquor at the Little Brown Jug, 121 N. Washington St., without being asked to present any identification, Zaleski added.

The fifth student, Stefan George Babirak III, of Brookfield, was fined a total of $65 and has been suspended from the University, effective immediately, after being arrested on charges of purchasing liquor while under age and for being intoxicated Thursday, May 24, Zaleski said.

Zaleski said that Babirak was taken into custody Thursday evening in the Illinois Central Parking Lot by a Carbondale police officer and an agent of the Illinois Central railroad.

Babirak pleaded guilty to the charges, Zaleski explained.

Student On Probation For Stoning IC Train

Raymond Vincent, a freshman from Chicago, has been placed on disciplinary probation through the fall quarter after being fined $25 on a charge of malicious mischief for allegedly throwing stones at an Illinois Central Passenger train last Thursday night, according to Joseph F. Zaleski, assistant dean of student affairs.

Zaleski said that Vincent was seen throwing the stones by an Illinois Central patrolman.

Noncommittal Interest

The prestige of the New York Times is now added to the current wordage on campus conservatism, although Nan Robertson writes on campus political and social movements in general rather than conservatism per se.

From visits to ten campuses in all parts of the country in a search for answers as to why "The Silent Generation" has suddenly found a voice, Miss Robertson supplies three "significant answers":

"First, today's political and social activity involves only a small fraction of the student body on the right and on the left--but a fragment that is vocal, militant, organized, growing and full of determination.

"Second, on a number of campuses, the Young Democrats believe the adult world is too conservative and the Young Republicans believe it is not conservative enough....

"Third, the vast majority of American students remains quiet, inactive and uncommitted. But they are by no means unaware or unconcerned with national and international issues."

The first article in the interesting series notes that all but one of the colleges visited reported increased activity. "Yet," Miss Robertson writes, "the students everywhere talk incessantly, sometimes disgustedly and sometimes apologetically, about the 'apathy' on their campuses." Perhaps this is because there is apathy on many campuses, notwithstanding the fact that there are movements on the rise.

There are forerunners, the Times article points out, for the sit-in and peace movements, but none "in this century for the conservative movement." Furthermore, Miss Robertson calls an exaggeration the comment to the effect that the conservative movement is a myth.

We had better clarify earlier comments appearing in these columns. Of course the movements exist, but certainly not on every college campus. We continue to take the position that a conservative movement to the extent that some zealous right wingers claim simply is not so.

"Political interest, if not political commitment, is growing among the students," one girl at the University of Wisconsin was quoted as saying. This is the third significant point of the Times article and also the same conclusion reached by a professor at Ohio Wesleyan University, and previously reported in the Egyptian. We cannot say that there is not more interest at SIU--recent crowds at public meetings seem to indicate that there is more interest however noncommittal. We can only hope that such is the case.

Success At Last

Editor:

Ah! Success at last. One of our apathetic students has been awakened. He wishes to disagree with Dr. Blinderman's speech at the "Aims of Education" Conference. He is thinking (?)---he read two lines taken from Dr. Blinderman's multiple page address which was paraphrased in the Egyptian.

I refer this student to any English language dictionary which will give him the definition of "irony." However to have the ability to detect irony is another matter, perhaps attendance at a function such as the "Aims of Education" Conference might be the place to acquire such ability.

Thank you Mr. Griesbaum. You have proven my point and illustrated the "Grade School atmosphere."

More Resistance To Apathy

Editor:

In a recent editorial, Mr. Schumacher states that apathy has shown itself in various ways on the campus in the past year. In an even more recent front-page article THE EGYPTIAN quotes Dr. Charles Blinderman of the English department as saying that the intellectual atmosphere at SIU cannot be improved. It appears that Messrs. Schumacher and Blinderman have become victims of the apathy which they, as leaders in the academic community, should be fighting.

In the past week SIU have been very fortunate to have Mr. Barrie Stavis on the campus, not only to be present for the world premiere of his new play about John Brown, but also to add to the educational experience of those who have worked with him in producing Banners of Steel.

Unfortunately, THE EGYPTIAN has given only a cursory attention to the importance of this event. Mr. Stavis is an advocate of a theatrical form known as presentationalism (unlike the representationalism of the first half of the twentieth century), which has elucidated in two lectures here on the campus. In spite of the inherent importance of Mr. Stavis's work in this field and the fact that he has chosen SIU for his experimental laboratory, THE EGYPTIAN chose not only to ignore these two lectures, but also to evaluate his play, Banners of Steel in terms of the Theatre of Illusion, which is aesthetically and artistically the opposite of the presentational form.

Yes, Mr. Schumacher, it is unfortunate that apathy has descended upon our fair campus, but must it be accompanied by poor taste and ignorance? Your leadership as an editor certainly should motivate you to a more active resistance to apathy in its many forms.

Security Force For Athletes

As SIU continues to gain national prominence in athletics, steps must be taken to protect its athletes from the scandalous conditions that exist in the form of accepting money for shaving points in athletic contests. In future years SIU will be playing in New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis and many other cities where the gamblers and bookies are looking for athletes to shave points.

The basketball scandal first broke in March 1961 and since that time it has spread to include more than 15 colleges and approximately 50 players in an attempt to fix 25 contests.

Teams that SIU has played in recent years have been involved in the scandals. This indicates that no school is assured of freedom from involvement in the rapidly spreading scandal. Seton Hall University and Bowling Green University, schools which SIU played during the past year, have found its athletes involved in the scandals. Another school, North Carolina State, which SIU played in 1960, found three of its five basketball starters involved in the scandals.

Next winter SIU will be going to New York for a basketball contest with St. Bonaventure in Buffalo. We must guard against the possibility of our basketball players being approached by the bookies. One form of protection might be for the team to stay intact.

Another method for watching the spreading scandals would be to have the National Collegiate Athletic Association, governing body of college athletics, enforce even tighter control. The NCAA should have a security arm whose members are perpetually on the lookout for possible trouble. The more knowledge that such a security force exists would have an inhibiting effect on youngsters tempted by an easy buck.

There is no sense in worrying over what a sad thing it is to have to spy on college students. It has now been clearly demonstrated that this is necessary. With the tremendous amount of betting on all sports there always will be a gambler looking for the kind of edge he can get by bribing a player, coach or referee. Professional sports officials know this and guard against it. The colleges and particularly SIU must do the same.

Who Will Be Responsible?

Editor:

On the subject of water fights, "beer busts" and large irresponsible group gatherings in general, I think it's about time a few points were made clear.

Many students seem to be of the opinion that University officials and Southern's men in blue were placed on this campus solely for the purpose of punishing students, who from time to time engage in "harmless" pursuits such as water fights.

The "Kampus Kops" have been accused of "throwing their weight around," "exceeding their authority," and in general, making life at SIU a rather hectic affair for excitement seeking students.

This, of course, is not their goal. Large irresponsible group gatherings present a very serious problem.

In such a situation, a simple remark aimed at laughter, a precariously heaved beer can, or an unforeseeable injury can easily turn the once "harmless" participants into an ugly, uncontrollable mass of confusion commonly called a riot.

The policy of Dean Zaleski and other SIU officials is not merely to reprimand and punish students as if they were naughty children, because, in a sense, these are insignificant. Rather it is, through these disciplinary actions, an attempt to make students aware of the danger of large, uncontrolled group gatherings.

Who is to be responsible for the chaos, injury and multitudinous other consequences often resulting from a once "congenial" gathering of students?

I think the realization of the answer to this question on the part of many students, might help to prevent other such situations from developing.

Just About The Last Straw

We learn with dismay that a patent has been granted on a fragile glass bottle filled with a harmless chemical froth that is designed to be used in place of champagne for christening ships. This is a manifest outrage, and the Patent Office ought to have its head examined. There is only one way to christen a ship, and that is by breaking a bottle of champagne over its bow. It is true the bottle has to be tough to contain the pressure of the effervescent wine, and that it therefore sometimes resists fracturing. But that only emphasizes the durability of the vessel. A ship christened with phony champagne in a phony bottle will never sail a fair course, and

Cornell, Mitchell, Medley Victories Picked As Top SIU Sports Events

Bill Cornell's mile times of 4:02.7 and 4:02.8, Rusty Mitchell's tumbling victory in the NCAA gymnastics championships and SIU's first place finish in the distance medley at the California Relays were chosen Thursday as the top SIU sports events during the 1961-62 school year.

A five-man committee consisting of Bill Meade, SIU gymnastic coach, Lew Hartzog, SIU track coach, Ralph Casey, SIU swimming coach, Bob Spackman, SIU athletic trainer and Egyptian sports writer Tom McNamara selected the top 10 SIU sports events.

Cornell's mile times were run on successive weekends in SIU's McAndrew Stadium against Kansas and Oklahoma State. Mitchell's performance at the NCAA gymnastic meet by winning the tumbling event over the University of Illinois' Hal Holmes was also an unanimous choice.

Another unanimous choice was SIU's first place in the distance medley at the California Relays.

Jim Dupree's National AAU half-mile win and his performances in New Zealand tied with SIU's scheduled withdrawal from the Interstate Conference for fourth place among the sports events.

Finishing in a tie for sixth place were SIU's second place finish at the NCAA gymnastics championships, SIU's dual track meet victory over Oklahoma State, John Uelses' announcement that he will enroll at SIU and Dennis Wolf's victory of the National Junior AAU All-Around title.

Harry Gallatin's resignation as the SIU basketball coach tied with SIU's first gymnastic victory over Michigan State for 10th place in the final standings.

No attempt was made by the committee to choose an event from each sport. The Egyptian drew up a list of 25 suggestions and the committee voted from that list.

Graduation Sadden Martin, He Loses Two Top Pitchers

If Glenn Martin, SIU baseball coach, looks sad these days it may be from the thought of losing his dependable pitchers Harry Gurley and Larry Tucker by graduation.

Gurley and Tucker the past four years have pitched SIU to four straight Interstate Conference baseball titles since they enrolled in 1958.

Since the spring of 1959 when both were still freshmen the pair has won 48 games while losing only 20. Tucker holds 26 of the 48 wins and Gurley the remainder. Tucker, however, has two more losses than Gurley, 11-9.

This year tucker won seven of 10 games for the season but against IAC opponents he was perfect winning six of six games.

Gurley won six of nine games on the season and four of five against conference opposition.

Against conference teams in his four years Tucker has won 20 of 22 games. Both losses have come at the hands of Eastern Illinois.

While most SIU baseball spectators talk about Tucker's pitching, the tall left-hander is proud of his hitting. Against Central Michigan and Eastern Michigan, Tucker collected three hits.

In fact his bases-loaded double drove in the winning runs against Central and his three doubles at Eastern Michigan helped SIU to an early 10-0 lead.

Gurley in his four years as a Saluki hurler has won 22 of 31 contests.

Five Saluki Trackmen Will Compete In Central Collegiate Championship

Five men will be representing SIU in the 37th Central Collegiate Conference championship track meet Saturday at Notre Dame University in South Bend, Ind.

It marks the first time that SIU is competing in the meet. Last fall SIU ran in the Central Collegiate Conference cross-country meet and finished second.

Running for SIU Saturday will be John Saunders, John Peters, Brian Turner, Bill Cornell and Jim Dupree.

Lew Hartzog plans to start John Saunders and John Peters in the 400-meter hurdles race on the first time. Neither one of the pair has had any previous experience in the race. Hartzog only hopes the pair can do their best.

Jim Dupree, SIU sophomore and defending National AAU half-mile champion, will participate in his specialty of the 880. Dupree is one of

Bypassed For NCAA Title

SIU was not invited to the CAA college-division baseball tournament as expected. Instead MacMurray College was chosen as the team to represent Illinois in the Midwest regional.

Glenn Martin, SIU baseball coach, talked with the selection committee one week ago and told them that SIU was interested only if Southern was in the Interstate Conference baseball championship.

The selection committee in Southern could not wait to find out the results of the SIU-Eastern Michigan baseball series so they went ahead and picked MacMurray.

the early favorites in the race on the basis of his 1:48.8 clocking three weeks ago against Oklahoma State.

Dupree turned in a 1:47.9 timing on his leg of the two-mile relay last weekend at the California Relays where SIU finished second behind Oregon.

Bill Cornell is a top favorite in the mile run. Cornell has two timings under 4:03 with his best time being a 4:02.7 run against Oklahoma State. He will be trying to crack the four minute mark in the race.

Brian Turner will be running for the first time this year in the three mile run. Last year as a freshman Turner ran the distance in 13:56.7 to set the SIU freshman record.

Turner will be trying to break the SIU record of 14:14.0 set last year by Joe Thomas. Hartzog expects the sophomore Britisher to crack the mark with ease.

Hartzog also plans on using Saunders, Dupree, Cornell and Peters in the mile relay. The quartet will be trying to break the SIU record of 3:13.9 for the event.

Gene Carello Wins County Golf Title

Gene Carello, SIU junior golfer from West Frankfort, won the Jackson County professional-amateur golf tournament Sunday with a 36-hole total of 140.

With one year of eligibility remaining, Carello already has compiled an overall 35-13-3 record for Coach Lynn Holder. He posted a 13-5-1 mark this season.
