$5,000 reward offered

Family seeks information about son's murder

By Barry Cleveland
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A reward of $5,000 for information concerning his murder has been offered by the family of Michael S. Gerchenson, the 19-year-old SIU sophomore from Highland Park who was found shot to death north of West Frankfort on May 3.

The reward, announced Wednesday, will be publicized through the publication of notices in newspapers throughout the area, according to Edward Stein, an attorney for the Gerchenson family.

Among the newspapers involved are the Daily Egyptian and publications in St. Louis, East St. Louis, Cairo, Paducah, Ky., Cape Girardeau, Mo., and Evansville, Ind.

Stein asked that anyone having any knowledge of the case, however unimportant it might seem to be, contact the Illinois State Police Command Headquarters in Springfield. The telephone number is 217-525-7762.

All information relayed to the state police will be strictly confidential, he said.

State police said Wednesday that Gerchenson's black-over-white 1969 Chevrolet Caprice, missing since the murder, has not yet been found.

Nor has a definite motive been found or a suspect isolated. Roy Cooley, state police detective handling the investigation, said Wednesday.

Gerchenson's body was found shortly before noon May 3, 11 hours after he was last seen near the SIU campus. He had been shot six times.

The dead man's father and brother refused to comment Wednesday on reports published in Chicago newspapers that the family is unhappy with the progress of the investigation and has asked U.S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., to intervene in the case with a view towards bringing in the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI).

Jeffrey H. Gerchenson, brother of the dead man, would say only that the family has been meeting with police authorities and is following the progress of the investigation closely.

Stein said the family is not unhappy with the investigation and is satisfied

Whereabouts of tear gas report unknown

By Daryl Stephenson
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The whereabouts of an investigating report into tear-gassing incidents May 12 in the Brush Towers-University Park area was in doubt Wednesday. SIU officials said the report had been sent to Jackson County State's Attorney Ron Briggs. Briggs denied that any report had been sent to him.

The report, prepared by joint investigating committee composed of students and staff from the Brush Towers-University Park area, was delivered two weeks ago to SIU President David R. Derge, who had initially ordered the investigation.

Jefferson Humphrey, assistant dean of students for the area, said he had received a letter last week from Derge which said that Derge "had turned the material over to the State's Attorney for further investigation."

George Mace, assistant to the president for student affairs, said Wednesday "our records indicate that the report was sent to Briggs May 18." Mace said there is a possibility that legal action will be taken concerning the report's findings, adding "I don't think we can legally release any of the material if there is pending legal action."

In a memorandum to East Campus residents and staff immediately following the tear-gassing incidents, Mace had said that "the report would be made available to any and to all."

Camille's veto stays

By Chuck Hutchcraft
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Student Senate voted 15-9 with one abstention Wednesday night not to pay for windows broken in downtown Carbondale during the disturbances on May 10-11.

The senate defeated a motion to override Student Body President George Camille's veto of a bill passed earlier by the senate.

The earlier bill would have provided $5,000 in student fees to Carbondale merchants whose windows were broken.

The bill was passed with the

He said Wednesday that he still intends to make the report available, although he couldn't say when.

When asked about the report, Briggs replied "I have not received any report from the University or President Derge. In fact, I haven't received anything at all, and I have not received any requests for an investigation from anyone."

Humphrey, Derge and Mace all said there was only one copy of the report, and that Briggs now has it in his possession.

The investigation had been ordered after two canisters of tear gas had been thrown into entrances of Schneider Tower about 1:25 a.m. May 12. One of the canisters was thrown into the main lobby of the building by what witnesses say was either a Carbondale or state policeman. The other canister was thrown into the "C" wing of Schneider about the same time. It is not known who threw the second canister, but one witness claimed that he saw an officer in a blue uniform enter and leave the wing the same time the canister was thrown.

Senate refuses to pay for windows stipulations that a student referendum for approval of the expenditure be held, and that Carbondale Neal Eckert assume partial responsibility for the disturbances.

The defeated motion came in the form of a bill submitted by Gary Kasper, commuter senator. Kasper's bill asked for no exact amount—only enough to cover for all the window breakage.

Urging the senate to pass the bill, Kasper said in a prepared statement, that Student Government must assume the responsibility for the damage in order to be trustworthy.

Senator Buzz Talbot said to Kasper's

remarks, "Our responsibility ended when the march ended."

Earlier in the meeting, Camille said he vetoed the earlier bill because he felt the senate "was passing the buck" by using a referendum to decide the matter. The senators, he said, should act according to their own moral conscience. Camille said he vetoed the bill Wednesday morning.

The senate overrode another veto by Camille of a bill supporting the Student Health Consumer Council's report.

The overriding motion was passed by a 26-0 vote.

Hillel House will be razed to pave way for parking lot

By Ken Townsend
Student Writer

The Hillel House is going the way of the Temple of Jerusalem. The center of "Jewishness" in Carbondale is being torn down this summer—only this time, according to Rabbi Earl Vinecour, the University is the culprit instead of the Romans.

And unlike the Romans who left behind the legacy of the "Wailing Wall," Hillel will be spared no heritage except memories and uncertain relocation plans, Rabbi Vinecour said.

The legacy the University will leave is the proposed $8.9 million east campus sports and recreational complex covering the entire area from Washington to Wall and East Grand to Hester Streets, according to Willard Hart, university architect.

The complex will be funded from Student Welfare and Recreational Facility (SWARF) monies. The SIU Board of Trustees approved the location based on figures indicating the east campus area as the center of student population, Hart said. "The complex has been in the serious planning stage for seven years now," Hart said. "It will take about a 30-month construction period to complete it. Our earliest target date is sometime in 1975."

Rabbi Vinecour said he asked for an extension date for that reason because Hillel has no place to relocate," although "we knew we would have to move for about a year now."

"Several alternatives are open to us," Rabbi Vinecour said. "We can buy a little land next to the Newman Center and set up a small trailer until we find a new location or we can name a committee composed of faculty members and local people to push fund-raising activities. I think the latter will be our major concern."

Rabbi Vinecour said he would like the fund-raising to emphasize a special appeal to the parents of the 3,000 Jewish students who probably could contribute $50 each and we could have a new Hillel overnight."

Hillel House will remain occupied until June 18, when Rabbi Vinecour and a group of students leave for Israel for a month to do volunteer work in a Kibbutz (collective farm). It finally will be razed July 15 to make way for a parking lot, according to Hart.

Hillel was originally acquired as the Horner House, named after Illinois Governor Henry Horner, "the only Jewish governor of the state," according to Rabbi Vinecour.

"The house was a gift from concerned faculty members," Rabbi Vinecour said, "and for that reason, despite our being thrown out, we owe the University quite a lot for letting us use the facility. It has been most cordial in its dealings with us."

Committee completes work on review of GS courses

By Richard Lorenz
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The general studies joint standing committee Wednesday finished its review of general studies by completing work in areas D and E.

In area D, 109, Elements of Probability, and 110, Economic and Business Statistics were returned to the appropriate departments. 103a and b, Oral Communication of Ideas, were reconsidered, and it was decided to make these courses optional. Previously, the decision was to make 103a or b a requirement.

In area E, the committee recommended to the Faculty Council that the name of the area be changed to Human Health and Well-Being. All existing three-hour courses in area E were retained. A representative selection of the physical education courses will be retained. A recommendation will be sent to the Faculty Council that the hours required in area E be increased from five to six.

Concerning appeals of previous decisions, the committee did not reconsider its previous action concerning the dropping of 10 philosophy courses from area C and the dropping of GSD 107, Basic College Mathematics. The committee failed to approve a request that GSC 215, Types of Religion, be made into two, four-hour courses. The present GSC 215, a four-hour course, was retained. It was also agreed that foreign languages does not belong in area D.

The appeal on GSB 312, Comparative Economic Systems, was delayed until a discussion with Randall Nelson, chairman of the government department, can be held.

Smog pollution blanket covers Miami area

MIAMI (AP)—Dade County officials, angry after five days of a choking blanket of industrial smog from Ohio, Pennsylvania and Tennessee, demanded Wednesday immediate action by the federal government and the states to shut down the polluters.

"The pollution flow is a threat to Dade County and its citizens," said Dade pollution control chief Peter Baljet. "It has got to be stopped now."

The National Weather Service said it tracked clouds of dirty brown smokestack emissions last week as they rode air currents into Florida from the three states.

"It even showed up in photos from the space satellite used in checking weather patterns," said forecaster Vaughn Carmichael.

From Sunday to Thursday, the pollution was trapped at ground level by a temperature inversion, and most of peninsula Florida was blanketed in a haze. The smog led to an increase in respiratory attacks and admissions to hospitals, officials said. In one of a series of letters, Baljet asked pollution control directors of the three states to "immediately make use of your power and authority to order cessation of operations causing such conditions."

Baljet also asked them to furnish his office with their master plans for meeting air quality standards dictated by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

with state police procedures.

However, a spokesman for Stevenson admitted that the family had approached the senator, asking that he intervene.

William Flanagan, administrative assistant to Stevenson in charge of the senator's Chicago office, said Wednesday that Jeffrey Gerchenson had requested intervention.

"We told him that a senator has no right to intervene but that we would make an inquiry to the state police, and we did just that," Flanagan said. "We found no grounds for the FBI to be called in. We did not intervene—we simply made an inquiry."

Cooley said he had been contacted by an unidentified aide of Stevenson, who made an inquiry as to the progress of the investigation. The aide indicated no dissatisfaction with the investigation's progress, Cooley said.

The state police detective also said he last talked to the dead man's father, Emile Gerchenson, a drug manufacturer in Chicago, about a week ago. The elder Gerchenson did not mention any dissatisfaction to him, Cooley said.

Joe invites Nixon to discover America

By Arthur Hoppe
Chronicle Features

Dear President: I, Joe Sikspak, American, taken in hand to stick a seed or two in your ear.

First out, I want to say I think you done a real swell job over there in Moscow and wherever else it was you went, ironing your grievances, like we say in the Union, with those Commie bosses. And I sure hope you and the wife had a real nice time.

Now, to tell you the truth, all this stuff about missiles and trade agreements and space shots is pretty complicated. I'm not too sure I got all the details down on the deals you worked out.

But I seen you on the TV and from the way you were smiling, I figure you got the best of them. And speaking as an American, which I am, it sure made me proud.

The thing is, you must just about be running low on places to visit. That's what gave me this great idea. Now that you've visited Moscow, Peking and wherever else it was you went, how about visiting us?

Now, look, I'm not saying we got any great sights to see. We got no Great Wall like they got in China. But the slag heap down back of the foundry's nothing you'd sneeze at.

And we got no Bullshy Ballet like they got in Moscow. But the Millard Fillmore High School's putting on "Time of Your Life" for the senior play and I think you and the wife would get a kick out of that.

Speaking of the wife, I see where she spent $156 in half an hour in that gum store in Moscow. She could do better than that in 15 minutes down at Dinwiddie's Emporium. But you know how prices are around here. (No offense.)

But the main thing is grievances. I can tell you really like ironing grievances and you're pretty darn good at it. Well, believe you me, we got more grievances than you could shake a stick at. You could find more grievances to iron around here in a day than you could in Moscow and Peking in six months. You could really have yourself a swell time.

I was down to Paddy's Place last night and I put it up to Paddy, himself. "Paddy," I says, "give me a Seven high and let's invite the President to come here to iron our grievances."

Now Paddy used to be an aerospace engineer, but he's got his blind side. "Impossible, Joe," he says. "No American President's had the courage to visit an American city for the past six years."

"Courage?" says I. "Didn't the President have the courage to go to Peking when he was alone and surrounded by 700 million heathen Chinese?"

"True," says Paddy.

"And didn't he have the courage," says I, "to go to Moscow where he was alone and surrounded by 250 million Commie Bolsheviks?"

"You're right, Joe," says Paddy. "But here there's a difference."

"What difference?" says I.

"Here," says Paddy, "he'd be surrounded by Americans."

Well, speaking as an America 1, which I am, I think it's a hell (excuse me) of a thing when an American President's safer being surrounded by Commies than being surrounded by Americans. Here's hoping you can prove Paddy wrong.

Yours Truly,
Joe Sikspak, American

Letters to the editor

Man responsible

To the Daily Egyptian:

In reply to Marc B. Smith: Junior, Administration of Justice:

Concerning your letter published May 24, 1972, I would like to make a few comments.

First, the statement dealing with the students arrested on May 11 and 12: "Bruised from clubbing and tired from throwing rocks." Unless my memory fails me I seem to remember that most of the rock throwing was on May 10th and the arrests at the "Free Forum" area happened the following night. I also don't remember any Carbondale or SIU police officials admitting to clubbing. Possibly on this you would like to be called to testify for the defense of those arrested.

Second, the statements: "Free speech is a constitutional right. However, disregarding all rules and turning the Free Forum area into a weekend resort campground is not so innocent." I got out copy of the Interim Policy on Demonstrations (sent to me by SIU), it said nothing about tents and other camping equipment. It did however state that the Free Forum Area could be used to have "a discussion, assembly, rally, or peaceful demonstration". The Vigil was considered an assembly by Ed Hammond, Asst. to the president for student relations, and allowed to remain in the area. So instead of "disregarding all rules", which surely would have led to their arrest, the people participating in the Vigil withstood considerable administration and police harassment and kept the tents up.

Finally the third statement I take exception with is the one about people knowing about the curfew. There was no curfew on University property that night and I state that the real criminal, the man who was responsible for the arrests and bruises on both sides, was President David Derge.

In conclusion I've heard of "Blind Justice" but even you as a major in the "Administration of Justice" must realize how much bullshit and misrepresented facts you put in your letter.

Editorial criticized

To the Daily Egyptian:

Dave Mahsman's editorial on firearm controls, shows the considerable over-emotional bias common to such diatribes.

His lambasting of the National Rifle Association is indicative of one who allows no opinions other than his own, all other opinions being held by unthinking subhuman clods.

The fact is, NRA members are worthy, high caliber people of no small standing in their communities. I doubt there were any NRA members breaking glass in the late unpleasantries. Casting aspersions on the other fellow's group, is a tired old political trick.

It is not true that criminals and lunatics can be rendered harmless by anti-gun legislation.

It is not true that police protection for citizens is so adequate that he need not be able to defend himself. Many women living alone genuinely need a handgun.

It is not true that everyone can be registered.

thousands are ignoring the Illinois Firearms Owners Registration law.

It is not true that a gun is necessary to assassinate a candidate. Anyone who has seen the Wallace film, knows that a man could be fatally injured with a rusty nail while walking into such a crowd.

It is not true that the problems of New York or Chicago are the same as Texas or Wyoming or Southern Illinois.

It is true that no political killing or serious attack has been done by a person who had a legitimate beef with his victim. In every case he has been a lunatic who was stirred up by some imagined injury and fanned by emotional rhetoric spread by devious groups in society. Since most deviousness today stems from the campus, should we close all major universities during an election year?

When us becomes them

To the Daily Egyptian:

This letter is in response to Michael Louis Bernard's letter to the Egyptian in which he related an experience of being refused as a potential tenant because of being "colored". The landlord to whom Bernard spoke, claimed his renters stated they would move out if "coloreds" moved onto the property.

The undersigned are renters of the houses and trailers on the property. None of us were ever asked, by the landlord, of our feelings about having black neighbors. Two of us were apprised of the incident, by the landlord, after Bernard was turned down and another concluded from Bernard's description of the area and the landlord and his wife, where the incident occurred.

We wish to state that none of us would have objected to or moved out because of blacks moving in. A good neighbor isn't determined by skin color. We, in no way, reflect or support the landlord's racist attitude. Three of us are now seeking other housing because of Bernard's experience which was more or less the straw that broke the camel's back on top of related kinds of incidents and attitudes manifested by locals in this end of town. Further, a letter of protest is being prepared informing the landlord that if he persists in his racist policies, he will lose more of his present tenants. Apparently we fall into the landlord's category of "them" rather than his category of "us," by reason of our moral and social convictions.

Gus, chicken episode draw fire from letter writers

People, not chickens

To the Daily Egyptian:

Re: "Gus says he's not excited about coed housing—he's shackled up with chicks in his dorm room for years."

For all these years that we've been going to school and hanging out around here we always wondered about Gus and felt he was a little weird and today we got the final proof. Imagine our little Gus a pervert into bestiality!!!! Sleeping with "chicks"!!!! The ASPCA will be after him in the near future, that's for sure.

It strikes us as totally absurd that on the previous Saturday the DE did a fairly fine magazine edition on the issue of Women's Liberation and then stoops to this low level of journalistic clap trap. Women are not "chicks," they are people!!

Turnabouts's fair play

To the Daily Egyptian:

It seems like you can't say anything without being accused of having a prejudiced attitude. But what has happened to the right of freedom of speech? Doesn't Gus Bode have that right, too? I guess if we can call men "male chauvinist pigs," they can call us "chicks."

Granted, women are suppressed, and we agree they should be treated equally, but childish behavior is no way to gain respect.

Dear Ms. Marasco,

If you are in fact protesting the statement, "If God had meant for women to be equal, He'd have made 'em men," why is it that you were attired in clothes typically associated with men? Is it that you are in fact trying to prove the statement—not disprove it?

New dictionary

To the Daily Egyptian:

In a letter in the Daily Egyptian May 24, the first two lines read: "The students who were tiled out of Jackson County Jail on Friday were injured, bruised and tired. Bruised from clubbing and tired from throwing rocks." This is a gross misinterpretation of the facts. Anybody with any eyes in his or her head that was in the Free Forum Area the day in question could see that stones, in fact, were restrained from being thrown. I do agree that some stones were thrown, but not until after the police violently and brutally attacked the demonstrators who had just finished the Pledge of Allegiance, the National Anthem and All We Are Asking Is Give Peace A Chance.

Another point in Marc B. Smith's letter states: "...The Rabbi should perhaps use his authority to deter rather than justify such a situation. If you at all know the Rabbi, you would know that he in fact has been teaching peace and non-violence as long as he has been in Carbondale. He did not justify any actions, he merely presented facts.

One last fact: the persons who were in the Free Forum Area Thursday night were not camping out. They were protesting an abomination in our administration and government. There were sleeping bags present but not for a campout, but for a 24 hour vigil. Perhaps Mr. Smith you need a new dictionary.

Had to laugh

To the Daily Egyptian:

I had to laugh at the front page headline of Thursday's Daily Egyptian: "Women attack Gus Bode statements as 'sexist.'" I suppose they were, but more importantly they were humorous. Apparently some of you diehard Women's Liberationists are so insecure, you can never laugh at yourselves. That's too bad.

It seems one of you is always screaming about "sexism" and "male chauvinism." I doubt you even know what chauvinism means. According to the American College Dictionary, chauvinism is "zealous and belligerent patriotism or devotion to any cause." I know few if any real male chauvinists. Female chauvinists are another matter, however.

Sexism is not a one-sided affair, you must admit. Both sexes are responsible. Sure, men use women as objects but don't try to tell me that women don't use men in the same way. You don't like men looking at you because of the lust in their minds. Bullshit, why did you ban the bra? Just what do you want men to do when you walk by with your tits bouncing all around? Should we close our eyes or run home and hide under the covers? Why don't you admit you are just as sexist as men?

You claim to want true equality, but tell the truth. You want superiority. I've yet to see Women's Lib protest the Army for not drafting women. Have they ever protested alimony settlements? I doubt it.

Women's Lib has done some good things. Equal opportunity is important. Equality, however, does not mean "sameness." When it comes to imply this, I cannot support it. By the way, if you want to throw a chicken at me, be my guest, I could use the meal.

To the Egyptian:

Who do these women think they are? In the demands printed in the paper, angry females instructed the Daily Egyptian to stop using the words "Miss" and "Mrs." and refer to all women as "Ms."

Well, if they want to be equal, then they should demand that the Daily Egyptian stop using any title at all to precede a female's name. If you'll notice, women, there is absolutely no title of courtesy used to precede a male name. So who do you think you are asking for special treatment with this "Ms." stuff?

Clear record

To the Daily Egyptian:

Recently a 'minority' of students have taken a rather harsh view of law enforcement agencies, and in particular the Saluki Patrol. This view was made apparent by Randy Donath's "letter to the editor", when, while in Thompson Woods, he said he saw "...sitting on a rock, smoking cigarettes, hats off, talking to each other, two Southern Illinois University security officers", and when he said "...the Security officers do not give a damn about the students...". Mr. Donath went on to criticize the SIU police force for not doing anything to stop crime.

After investigating the matter with the SIU police, I discovered that the two Saluki patrolmen were placed there to prevent crime. It makes sense to me that they choose a central point of Thompson Woods, such as the rock. For them to be continually wandering around would be rather senseless. Or would you, Mr. Donath, on the other extreme, prefer seeing the police in full riot gear, ready to bust any would-be 'Criminal'? I feel that you would not care for this overly forceful measure either.

Mr. Donath's comment, "obviously the security officers do not give a damn about students", is very inaccurate. I personally have been treated with a great deal of respect by the Saluki Patrol. On several occasions they have assisted me to the fullest extent possible, and have generally served the student community to our best interest. I'm certain the majority of students find this to be true, thus showing the narrowness of Mr. Donath's statement.

I would like to point out that only a minority of SIU students refer to the police as "pigs". The vast majority feel that the policemen are just men doing their best to serve the community, and that they are men that care about their community. In other words, policemen do give a damn about the students. Let's get the record straight!

Gross profit

To the Daily Egyptian:

I find that the situation with the University Trailer Court is hilarious. A recent article states: "profits from the court of more than $9,000 a year are being used to pay dormitory debts." It seems that this is the only on-campus housing area that is making any money at all. Now the University wants to close the court down and build a parking lot for east campus residents. Now it seems to me that the majority of students living on the east side of campus are freshmen. Also it seems to me that freshmen are not allowed to have motor vehicles. My logic is this, the University must seem to think that they will make more money off the students who park in the lot illegally, than they will off the court residents. It figures.

Allen case under national investigation

By Pat Nusaman
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A formal committee of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) will visit SIU June 15-17 to investigate the case of Douglas M. Allen, an assistant professor of philosophy denied tenure by the Board of Trustees.

"The national office considers this an extremely important case," Bob Harrell, president of the local chapter, said. "It will be getting its full attention until it's over."

An investigative committee of three members will interview people on campus connected with the Allen tenure case, recommended by Harrell, Allen and President David R. Derge.

Joseph E. Schwartz, associate secretary of the national office, has written Derge to ask him to recommend anyone he wants interviewed by the committee, Harrell said. "In the meantime, I am trying to set up meetings with a broad range of people, including as many members of the board as possible and other people that have been intimately involved in the case," he said.

The members of the committee will be Wilson Thiede, education, University of Wisconsin at Madison; John Granorse, philosophy, University of Georgia; and Carol Stern, English, Roosevelt University at Washington D.C.

The committee will not only be concerned with Allen, Harrell said, but also with the general conditions of academic freedom and tenure at SIU. Anyone who feels that he would like to be heard by the committee should contact Harrell at the SIU Department of English.

The committee, Harrell said, is an extremely fine "blue ribbon" committee.

"Schwartz," he said, "doesn't expect the case to hang fire for long."

Judge rules against defense motions in race track case

CHICAGO (AP) — Judge Robert L. Taylor denied Wednesday several defense motions filed in behalf of Otto Kerner, former Illinois governor and U.S. Appeals Court judge, and four other persons charged with misdeals in connection with race track stock.

The U.S. District Court judge issued a written ruling that denied almost all of the 43 pretrial motions of the defense. Among these was one which called for dismissal of the indictment because of numerous newspaper accounts about the two-year investigation published before the indictments were returned Dec. 15.

Judge Taylor entered the 42-page ruling before the start of pre-trial hearings on four other motions of the defense. The defense withdrew one of these, a motion to dismiss the indictment because of the alleged unauthorized presence of an Internal Revenue Service agent when Kerner testified before the grand jury.

Kerner was unable to identify the agent at the hearing.

Judge Taylor also dismissed a claim by attorneys for Joseph E. Knight, a co-defendant, who was state director of financial institutions from 1962 to 1968 when Kerner was governor.

Knight maintained he was trapped by the government which, he said, failed to advise him he was a prospective defendant.

IBI reports opening of 6 regional offices

Illinois Law Enforcement Director Herbert D. Brown has announced the opening of six regional offices of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation (IBI), including one in Marion.

The Daily Egyptian reported the opening of the Marion IBI office April 6, but Brown's announcement Tuesday makes the opening official. The Marion office has been open since April 10.

The regional offices will be staffed by resident agents, who will live in the assigned communities, Brown said. Agents and their supervisors will have office space and staff in five of the six cities on or before June 1. The IBI has taken three offices in the new Marion Regional Office Building, 2209 W. Main St. The Marion office will have three agents in addition to a supervisor.

Other cities and the number of agents in addition to one supervisor are: Belleville, four agents; Joliet, two agents; Rockford, two agents; Rock Island, two agents; and either Pekin or Peoria, two agents. No opening date has been set for an office in the Pekin-Peoria area, Brown said.

Brown said the agents' first assignment will be to establish a liaison with other law enforcement agencies. He said narcotic and organized crime agents will be assigned to each office, and assignments will be made by the supervisors accordingly.

Ian MacNiven and Mary Stearns

Poetry award winners announced

By Jan Tranchita
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

One freshman and one doctoral candidate have received first place awards for poems submitted in the Department of English Georgia Winn Poetry Award contest.

Mary Stearns, freshman from Prospect Heights, and Ian MacNiven, graduate student from Surinam, South America, each received $50 awards for their winning entries, according to Larry Taylor, professor in English. The two poems were selected from 33 finalist works that were originally in a group of almost 300 entries, Taylor said.

The award was set up by Henry D. Piper, department chairman, to honor the professor emerita. Monetary prizes were donated by senior faculty members in the English department, Taylor said.

Ms. Stearns' ten-line poem was entitled "Query Not." Taylor said he thought the poem was about death or some "mysterious element that doesn't have an answer."

MacNiven's poem entitled "Photographer" is also a short piece, Taylor said, and deals with the esthetics of photography.

The winning poems will be published along with the 31 other finalist entries in the fall publication of the English department magazine, "The Search."

"The Search" is published in conjunction with the SIU Press, Taylor said and includes the best poems submitted to the editorial board.

Taylor, three graduate and two undergraduate students make up the editorial board for the magazine.

The judges for the contest were Piper, James Benziger, professor in English and Judy Little, professor in English.

not necessarily make a better university community."

Spees filed a reservation about the code. "I agree with the theory of a behavioral code which permits the academic community to attend to its educational functions," Spees said. "However, a code which sets up a judicial and legalistic system as complete as this one I find to be more binding than freeing. The proposed code and my personal philosophy of higher education are somewhat incompatible."

Hardenbergh, graduate faculty representative and committee chairman when Wasby leaves, also filed a reservation. Hardenbergh is concerned about the structure of the hearing and appellate system. He is particularly concerned with the loss of a constituency panel at the trial level, and the composition of appellate hearing panels.

Wasby, general faculty representative and chairman while the committee was active, dissented to the provision calling for the use of the full range of penalties for any violation. Wasby would prefer a graduated range of penalties for violations.

Dissent language is also expected from another committee member—Edward Hammond, assistant to the president for student relations.

'Legal counsel opposes proposed conduct code

By Richard Lorenz
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Four dissenting views from Community Conduct Code committee members—including one from the University's attorney—have been attached to the proposed code which the University Senate's judicial and grievance committee will take under study at a meeting at 4 p.m. Thursday.

T. Richard Mager, University legal counsel, in a memorandum to code committee chairman Stephen L. Wasby, has said the code in its present form is unacceptable to his office.

Other objections to parts of the code have been expressed by Emil R. Spees, acting dean of student services; William Hardenbergh, associate professor in government; and Wasby, associate professor in government.

Mager said the legal office supports the idea of a community code, but the proposed code has provisions which are "unnecessary," "undesirable" and "impractical." Previously, Mager questioned the need for the code. "I don't believe a code is legally necessary or desirable for a university," Mager said. The courts have said that a university has the power to complete its mission. A code will

Nixon well received in Polish capital

WARSAW (AP) — President Nixon returned to this Communist capital Wednesday, retracing his steps of 13 years ago, and received a warm welcome from an estimated 300,000 clapping, chanting Poles.

The crowd appeared to be larger but not as emotional as the throng of a quarter-million that mobbed Nixon here in 1959 when he was vice president, said correspondents who made both trips.

At one point Wednesday, however, the crowd spilled through police lines onto the streets of downtown Warsaw, halting the presidential limousine.

After the motorcade Nixon talked for nearly 90 minutes with Polish Communist leader Edward Gierek and then was honored at a state dinner.

Nixon flew here from Tehran, Iran, where a series of terrorist bombings caused tight security to be imposed on his departure.

Poland, the Communist world's third largest country, is the fourth and final stop in a journey that has carried Nixon to summit talks in Moscow and break-through agreements with Soviet leaders.

There was no official estimate of the size of the crowd which lined the President's 10-mile motorcade route.

Derge addresses special meeting of Nonacademic Employees Council

By Monroe Walker
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Nonacademic Employees Council held a special meeting Wednesday to enable President David R. Derge to become acquainted with new council members who were seated May 3 following an election by mail ballot.

Council members met with the University president Wednesday over lunch in the Ohio room of the Student Center.

Derge congratulated the new council members and stated that the civil service employees are "the forgotten part of the University because you don't make news and you don't throw rocks."

He said that he was pleased that "most of the University community did not find it necessary to close the University down and that he looked forward to the Nonacademic Employees Council helping to keep peace when spring comes around next year."

Concerning the budget, Derge said that SIU was the only university in Illinois which didn't get its budget cut by the House Appropriations Committee.

"Right now," he said, "we have a bill in the legislature for funds to improve research facilities, VTI and for a new security building."

Derge added that the present budget was appropriated before he had a chance to give input and that it was a "skinny budget."

"It provides no money for salary increases," he said, "and it provides no new program money."

He also said that the task force appointed to look into the University administration "will have phased reports and the top administration of the University will be the topic of the first report and is expected soon."

He said that the task force had conducted more than 100 interviews and that the general feeling was that "we ought to have this kind of task force for improvements."

Joseph W. Gasser, council member, asked if there was a plan for feedback for the task force proceedings.

Derge answered, "there will be feedback when their job is done. We will not bury the report. I assure you."

Derge said that he was not totally pleased with his present operation and that the first task would be to "straighten out the thicket at Anthony Hall."

Lee Hester, vice-president of the council, asked if Derge was satisfied with the present level of civil service employees at SIU.

"It's a question of, are you satisfied?" Derge replied. "The more feedback I get from you, the more comfortable I am. We need to improve communications because I think you ought to be satisfied."

Another council member asked Derge if he felt that there was a parking problem on this campus.

"I can't think of a place in the whole world," Derge said, "where they don't have a parking problem."

He said that there were all kinds of schemes being voiced from issuing bicycles to everybody to building a monorail. "To be frank," he said, "I don't know what the solution is. But any scheme you come up with is going to involve payment on the part of the user."

Carolyn Fleming, council member, asked if it was possible for civil service employees to be notified when new job positions opened so that the employee would have the opportunity to upgrade his position.

Frank C. Hartman, director of the Personnel Office, answered, stating that civil service regulations say that it is the civil service employee's responsibility to come in and apply for a position. "He is given every opportunity to take exams and he will be placed ahead of outsiders regardless of his test scores," he said.

"While we're on this subject," Bill Steele of the physical plant said, "let's bring in nepotism." He said that there were many husband and wife teams on this campus.

Partman said that there was nothing in civil service rules that said anything about nepotism.

"That is a University policy," he said, "which says that a husband and wife team cannot work in the same department."

Derge left the luncheon after one and a half hours of discussion and council members discussed salaries, job upgrading, insurance problems and the parking situation of civil service employees with Hartman and Al Schwegel of the personnel office.

The next regular meeting of the Nonacademic Employees Council is scheduled for 1 p.m. Wednesday June 7 in the Agricultural Building.

Illinois Senate kills draft resolution

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—A resolution deploring the induction of Illinois residents into the military to fight the Vietnam war was defeated Wednesday 24-21 by the Illinois Senate.

Sponsored by Sen. Thomas Lyons, D-Chicago, the measure was one of a handful of such resolutions introduced in the General Assembly following the U.S. mining of seven North Vietnamese ports.

In a one-hour debate, Sen. Judson Sours, R-Peoria, told the Senate that the resolution "implies surrender and Napoleon Bonaparte knew that was bad French."

"What happens to $40 billion worth of material and hardware? Sours asked. "Once we leave will the guns get pointed in our direction?"

Lyons defended the resolution, introduced at the request of students from Western Illinois University who demonstrated at the statehouse three weeks ago, as "singularly free of inflammatory language."

Four antiwar resolutions offered in the House already have been killed in the executive committee and another Senate measure remains bottled up in the upper chamber's executive committee.

Opposition to the resolution developed early when Sen. G. William Horsley R-Springfield, said it did not mention concern for prisoners of war.

"All he wants to do," Horsley said of Lyons, "is to load every sailor and soldier right quick, admit defeat, and say let's get out of here in a hurry and leave our prisoners of war to rot. I dare you to deny it." "I do not deny it," Lyons shouted back in the uproar.

Sen. Cecil A. Partee, D-Chicago, majority leader, said, "It's time to tell the head of our government, 'You are giving a war, and nobody wants to come.' Time to tell our government, enough, enough."

Moments later, Sen. Robert Mitchell, R-Oswego, said the resolution was "nothing but an idea of somebody to gain votes and favor in an election year. It is hypocrisy in its finest hour."

"Wait a minute," shouted Lyons, and Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, the presiding officer, cautioned senators to restrict their remarks "to the merits of the resolution, not to the motives of other senators." "I agree with most of it," said Sen. Harris Fawell, R-Naperville, who voted for the resolution. "I think 80 or 90 per cent of the people agree with most of it. We could win tomorrow if we wanted to turn that fork of land into more of a cinder than it is now."

Sen. Egbert Green, R-Pekin, who voted no, said, "When you do not include prisoners of war you reject them. I don't think any of us want to abandon those men in Southeast Asia." He called for an amendment to the resolution "to urge our government to bring those men home."

Sen. Gene Johns, D-Marion, also called for amendment of the resolution in explaining his vote, of "present."

"My heart bleeds for these young people, for the prisoner of war, and I do mourn induction of young into all branches of the service until our forces are withdrawn. And that means prisoners of war also," he said.

Sen. John Knuppel, D-Petersburg, in voting no, said the resolution was a matter for disposal by Washington. "It is national security rather than state business," he said. Sen. Clifford Latherow, R-Carhage, said he talked to some of the Western Illinois University students said to be the inspiration of the Lyons' resolution and they admitted to him they had not read its details.

Candidates resume all-out campaigning in California

By The Associated Press

Their television debates over a few days, Sens. George McGovern and Hubert H. Humphrey resumed all-out campaigning in California Wednesday, with Humphrey's campaign manager accusing McGovern's staff of excessive spending on radio and television advertising.

Entering the last days before next Tuesday's Democratic presidential primary in the state, McGovern's schedule required appearances in Los Angeles, Sacramento and San Bernardino, covering a distance of more than 1,000 miles. Humphrey traveled to several Southern California cities during the day and evening.

Both appeared satisfied with their performances on Tuesday night's second of three television debates. The third is Sunday.

Amid growing indications Humphrey's campaign is in serious financial trouble, Jack Chestnut, the Minnesota senator's campaign manager, said a partial check of radio and television stations showed McGovern had purchased $446,000 in media advertising through last Friday.

He said this was "a clear violation" of the agreement reached by candidates last year to spend no more than $413,000 on media in the California primary.

McGovern, however, said his campaign will spend no more than $450,000 for media advertising, and said the limit, including permissible transfer of funds from other states, is actually a little over $460,000.

"I give you my word that we have not overspent the allowance," McGovern told newsmen in Los Angeles, where he visited a Mexican-American job center. He said his campaign has spent about $260,000 so far in the state.

Asked about the transfer allowance, Chestnut said he believed McGovern had spent most of the money in Ohio.

Humphrey alluded to his financial difficulty when he spoke by long-distance telephone to the AFL-CIO state convention in Atlantic City, N.J. He said the group "probably would have let me use a smoke signal instead of the telephone if they knew the financial condition of my campaign."

McGovern, meanwhile, accused the Nixon administration of failing to "wage an effective war on drugs and narcotics gangsters."

The South Dakota senator, speaking at a drug rehabilitation facility in East Los Angeles, said it was "incredible that thousands of addicts want to kick their habits but have nowhere to go for help."

He outlined a $1.5 billion program which he said would offset "the poison of hard drugs in our society."

McGovern said federal funds should be spent for narcotics treatment in communities in which "poverty and hopelessness" result in a high rate of addiction. Every addict would receive treatment whether he was arrested by law officers, discovered by medical services or sought assistance by himself, McGovern said.

"I also believe that the Federal Communications Commission should intervene against television and radio commercials suggesting that certain drugs are the answer to emotional or behavioral problems," he said.

He also said the federal government must cut the flow of illegal drugs to this country.

Speaking to some 350 black senior citizens in the Watts section of Los Angeles, Humphrey assailed McGovern's "income supplement plan," saying it is like "giving with one hand and taking twice as much with the other."

He charged that the elderly poor

New scholarship bill goes to House

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The Illinois Senate sent to the House Wednesday a bill which would authorize state scholarships for widows and children of veterans missing in action in Vietnam or held prisoners of war.

Sen. Norbert Kosinski, D-Chicago, estimated about 69 persons might benefit by the bill.

He said there were 40 Illinois persons missing in action, and about 36 of these were married and had about 33 dependent children.

would get only $85 a month rather than the $178 they get now. McGovern's plan would guarantee a minimum of $1,000 a year. Humphrey asked, "If you get it, is that enough? Who can live on it?"

Meanwhile, Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty, campaigning for president on the Democratic ticket and irate at his exclusion from the televised debates, said he would do something neither Humphrey and McGovern would, accept Alabama Gov. George Wallace as a running mate.

However, Yorty said he would not be the vice presidential candidate on a Wallace ticket because "our views are too different."

In a news conference in Sacramento, Yorty was critical of the television networks for refusing to give him and Rep. Shirley Chisholm a place in the Humphrey-McGovern debates.

The Nielsen ratings showed that 19 per cent of television viewers in Los Angeles were watching Tuesday night's debate over NBC, less than the 23 per cent watching the CBS detective program "Cannon" and 26 per cent watching ABC's movie.

Illinois plan inadequate

EPA orders cleanup of air

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation got its marching orders Wednesday to clean up air pollution, with the complete or partial approval of air pollution plans for all 50 states and five other jurisdictions.

Only nine states and three jurisdictions received full approval of their plans from Environmental Protection Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus.

Forty-one other states and jurisdictions won partial approvals and Ruckelshaus is required by law to promulgate federal regulations by July 31 in place of the disapproved portions of state plans.

Some states, however, may correct the deficiencies in their plans and win more complete approval before that deadline.

The EPA said the plan submitted by Illinois does not provide adequate criteria to prevent the reaching of "significant harm" levels established by the EPA.

The plan also lacks an adequate description of the resources available to the state for the Chicago area, and fails to outline the role in the air control program between Chicago and the state agency, according to the EPA.

Speaking in Chicago, an EPA official said Illinois is capable of correcting some of the report deficiencies before the July 31 deadline. He also said Illinois and several other Midwestern states are most likely to be affected by a shortage of low sulfur fuels to meet 1975 requirements.

Ruckelshaus issued the approvals on the final day of his legal deadline for ruling on the states' proposals to meet the federal standards set last year.

To protect human health, a primary standard sets limits on six common forms of air pollution. A more stringent secondary standard is designed to protect plants, animals, property and the environment.

The primary standard must be met within three years, but Ruckelshaus granted two-year extensions to 18 states, mainly, he said, in the difficult area of traffic controls to combat the air pollution from motor vehicles in population centers.

The secondary standards must, by law, be achieved only within a "reasonable" time.

The exact legal effectiveness of the approved plans remains to be sorted out, in the light of a court decision issued Tuesday, which injects still a third type of standard, which Ruckelshaus had not anticipated.

U.S. District Judge John H. Pratt ordered that Ruckelshaus must not allow any "significant deterioration" of air which is cleaner than the federal standards require. He was ruling on a lawsuit brought last week by the Sierra Club and other environment groups.

Ruckelshaus told newsmen Wednesday this order does not affect areas where the air needs to be cleaned up to meet federal standards.

Therefore, he emphasized, the approved state plans for those areas are now in full effect and are not clouded by the court order.

But he said he did not believe he had legal authority to require a non-degradation policy in clean-air areas, and said he wants a review of Tuesday's court decision "by the highest court possible."

If the non-degradation principle is upheld, Ruckelshaus said, the courts would have to define it clearly enough for him to write appropriate regulations.

Pratt gave him four months to review the state plans for compliance with the non-degradation principle, and another two months to issue federal regulations for those that don't comply.

Pending the court-ordered review and the expected legal appeals, Ruckelshaus announced complete approval of the air-quality plans of Alabama, Connecticut, Florida, Mississippi, New Hampshire, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, West Virginia, Guam, Puerto Rico and American Samoa.

In all other cases, parts of state plans were approved and other parts disapproved.

Jackson challenges Chicago delegates to '72 convention

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rev. Jesse Jackson was the first witness Wednesday at a hearing challenging the election of Mayor Richard J. Daley and 58 other Chicago Democrats as delegates to the 1972 Democratic National Convention but he was unable to provide proof of violations.

Jackson, president of Operation PUSH, and nine other persons are challenging the delegates on the grounds they were slated, endorsed and supported by the regular party organization in violation of Democratic Party reforms.

The challenge was filed with the Democratic National Committee and forwarded to the Credentials Committee which ordered a hearing.

Jackson testified for nearly five hours as to his experience in politics but on cross examination by counsels representing the delegates, he said he did not have first-hand knowledge of specific violations.

Jackson charged that both the state and Cook County Chicago party organizations failed to make public announcements concerning party meetings and he added that he would have been in a position to know about such meetings if they had been publicized.

Women's body unclaimed in Chicago morgue

CHICAGO (AP) — As far as anybody knows, she's only Case No. 170.

Her body has been in the Cook County Morgue since May 18, but there have been no inquiries about her to either the morgue or the police, authorities said Wednesday.

The woman was found unconscious in a Greyhound bus that arrived from Minneapolis at 2 a.m. May 18. She never regained consciousness, and died later in the day. Doctors have been unable to determine a cause of death, police said.

Her only possessions were her clothes: a white blouse, blue slacks, brown loafers and a yellow coat.

She was 5 foot 2, weighed 118 pounds and had brown hair and hazel eyes. Authorities estimate the woman was between 18 and 22 years old.

"Somebody, somewhere must know who she is," said Chief Deputy Coroner Kyran Phelan.

Cross examiners often included the delegates, who also hold high rank in Daley's party organization, including a pair of aldermen, Thomas E. Keane Daley's floor boss in the City Council, and Claude W. B. Holman.

Holman spent considerable time trying to discredit Jackson's testimony on the grounds that the civil rights leader was not a political expert.

However, Cecil F. Poole, the hearing officer appointed by Mrs. Patricia Roberts Harris, acting chairman of the Credentials Committee, often overruled objections, questions and motions from the regular Democrats.

Poole, a former U.S. attorney in northern California, overruled two motions which took up nearly two hours of debate at the start of the hearing on the question of his authority and qualifications.

The regular Democrats previously had failed in attempts in both state and federal courts to halt the hearings by injunction.

Poole also tossed out dozens of motions filed by counsel for delegates in the eight congressional district effected by the challenge. Most of the motions sought continuances or asked further information which would have resulted in delays.

Poole also irritated the Daley regulars by declaring that he would not make judgements as to violations by individuals, but would only rule on whether the delegat selection process violated party reforms and whether the composition of the delegation violated new rules which provide for the inclusion of blacks, Latin Americans, women and young people.

Ald. Keane at one point charged Poole with "running a kangaroo court."

Another alderman, ward committee and delegate, Edward Vrdolyak, said, "The whole challenge is a frivolous sham and publicity-oriented."

Jackson startled the challenged delegates when he said he is seeking an at-large spot.

VTI student council picks faculty advisors

By Jan Tranchita
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Two faculty members at the Vocational Technical Institute (VTI) have been chosen by the Student Advisory Council to be faculty advisors for the council next fall. Glen Staley, instructor in construction technology, and Sue Knutsen, instructor in commercial art, will coadvise the 1972-1973 council as designated in the council constitution.

Under the constitution, the council members choose their own advisors rather than having them appointed by the administration. Denny Corbell, advisor for this year, said, "Last week, council secretary Ellen Morgan sent invitations to seven faculty members asking if they would like to advise the council next year."

The two chosen both said they would accept the position if two advisors were drafted. The council therefore decided to allow coadvisors, Linda Hilgers, president, said.

In other action, the council members voted to order a 12 by 15 inch plaque in memory of the late M. Keith Humble, former director of VTI from 1955 to 1970. The plaque

Senate committee approves raffles

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Legislation to legalize raffles in Illinois to 10 per cent of the profits going to state school aid was approved Wednesday by the Senate Executive Committee.

Sponsored by Rep. John Fary, D-Chicago, the House-passed measure won a favorable recommendation from the committee, 15-1, with three members voting present.

Sen. Daniel O'Brien, D-Chicago, Senate sponsor of the measure, told the committee that 10,000 organizations are holding raffles illegally in the state at present but are not being prosecuted.

The bill would allow the revenue department to issue $50 licenses to nonprofit organizations to hold raffles, with 10 per cent of the proceeds paid into the common school fund.

Persons convicted of felonies or designated as undesirable under the terms of the measure would be barred from obtaining licenses.

Sports jamboree planned for area boys and girls

The Carbondale Jaycees and the Governor's Office of Human Resources is sponsoring an annual Junior Sports Jamboree at 9 a.m. on June 10 at Bleyer Field at Carbondale Community High School.

According to Harry Larrimore, sports director of the Carbondale Park District, the jamboree is an Olympic type track meet for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 15 to compete in such things as the 50-yard dash, high jump and relays.

Winners will be invited to participate in the state regionals on July 10 in Marion.

All residents of Jackson County are invited to participate and entry blanks may be obtained by writing to Box 1131, Carbondale, or calling Joyce Bonham at 457-8370.

Major security conference given green light by NATO

BONN, Germany (AP) — The North Atlantic allies sent Secretary of State William P. Rogers back to President Nixon Wednesday with the green light for a major conference. The meeting would rethink the system of European security and cooperation set up after World War II.

With France standing aside, they also agreed to make a new bid to the Soviets for talks on mutual and balanced force reductions in Europe. Rogers told reporters the Soviets sincerely want to start these talks, too, though the wider security conference is the Kremlin's top European goal.

Some Western leaders doubt Soviet readiness for the force reduction talks. The Western allies made their first offer four years ago for talks about mutual troop withdrawals.

The allies said Wednesday force reduction talks should start first, or at least at the same time as the wider discussions. But Rogers said: "We want to be sure not to lay down preconditions."

Representatives of the 15 allies spent a day and a half discussing East-West relations. Such meetings are held twice a year by the foreign minister of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

It is now likely that diplomats from about 35 countries, including the United States and the Soviet Union, will meet in Helsinki not long after the U.S. election in November. Their job, said, the NATO ministers, will be to make sure that Western proposals get full consideration and that there is enough common ground for a reasonable expectation of satisfactory results from a big assembly of foreign ministers.

The United States has insisted that talks on force reductions be kept strictly out of this broad security and cooperation conference. It wants to talk about European force reductions with "just those nations whose troops and territories are involved." That would probably keep the participants below 10.

But France, which does not want to join in talks about troop reductions, still wants some military matters discussed at the wider talks. So do some other West European countries, whose representatives say it would be absurd to have a security conference with no discussion of troops.

will be placed in the academic affairs office at VTI next to a photograph of Humble.

Each year, the council will award the plaque to an outstanding graduate of VTI for high grade point and scholastic excellence, Ms. Hilgers said.

Officers for next year's student council will be elected from various departments before elections for officers can take place, she said.

Information, scheduling reports budget cuts

By Jan Tranchita
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Budgets cuts totaling $20,600 have hit the Information and Scheduling Center as of June and consequently caused the center to disband its Extended-Hours Program, according to Joseph N. Goodman, center director.

The office, located in the south wing of Anthony Hall will continue operation of a normal workday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. but will no longer have services available on weekends or weekday evenings, Goodman said.

The Extended-Hours Program was first originated in May, 1969, when a metered survey of calls to the center in the evenings and on weekends was made, he said.

The survey ran for three weeks and then "we determined there was a need for available information for travelers, visitors and others when other offices on campus are normally closed," he said.

Now, after three years of successful operation, the center will lose three graduate interns who have worked during the extended-hours service and one civil service employee who presently operates the information booth, Goodman said.

The booth, located in the parking area southeast of Anthony Hall, began as an experiment, he said, and will close June 19.

The extended-hours service will terminate at the end of spring quarter.

This closure means the office will no longer be open from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday or noon to 10 p.m. Sunday.

Presently, records indicate that 45 to 50 telephone calls are received each night and an average of five people walk in each night at the center, Goodman said. "I hope there won't be too many complaints," he said about the elimination for the service. But, he said, he hopes that he will be able to re-institute the program in the future.

Search for dean for School of Law nearly completed

By David L. Mahsman
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The search for a dean for the SIU School of Law has nearly been completed.

Robert H. Dreher, associate professor of government and chairman of the Law School Dean Selection Committee, said Wednesday that SIU President David R. Derge is now interviewing candidates for the position. Dreher said he expects a dean to be named in the near future.

Some of the work leading up to the interviews with Derge was done by Richard Quaintance and Associates, the Chicago consulting firm retained more than a year ago by the SIU Board of Trustees to assist in the search for a president. Dreher said Quaintance was hired this time to research the personal backgrounds of candidates already selected by the committee for Derge's review. The committee already knew the candidates' professional backgrounds.

Dreher said that the committee had made its candidate selections by its March 9 meeting. A subcommittee was established to seek approval from Derge to investigate the candidates' backgrounds. Members of the subcommittee were Dreher, Trustee Ivan Elliott Jr., of Carmi, and Charles Hines, a local attorney. Who recommended retaining Quaintance to make the investigation is not known. Dreher said, adding, however, that time was short and Quaintance was hired because the University had already had experience with him. Derge authorized hiring Quaintance.

Quaintance was paid $2,901.08, including expenses, for his work, Dreher said. He termed the work "excellent," saying Quaintance's reports were "very good and well documented." Dreher added that he thinks the price is "very reasonable," considering the speed and excellence with which the investigation was handled.

Sugar-coated ads hard for kids to swallow

WASHINGTON (AP) - A Florida schoolgirl, clad in all plaid, bangs and green knee socks, told Congress Wednesday she thinks Saturday-morning TV commercials for kids are deceptive and dangerous.

"I do not know a lot about nutrition, but I do know that my mother tries to keep our family from eating so many sweets," said Dawn Ann Kurth, 11, of Melbourne.

"Why are companies allowed to make children want them by advertising on TV? Almost all the ads I have seen during children's programs are for candy, or sugar-coated cereal, or even sugar-coated cereal with candy in it."

And echoing some expert opinion that too much of a vitamin can be dangerous, she said TV ads compare taking candy-coated vitamins "with eating a chocolate cookie."

"If my mother were to buy those vitamins and my little sister got the bottle, I'm sure she would eat them just as if they were candy."

Throughout her testimony before the Senate consumer subcommittee she was calm and composed.

She submitted a poll taken of 1,500 third-through-sixth-graders. In response to one question, 918 said they felt their mother was mean for not buying an advertised product they wanted; 620 thought she wasn't. Four of every five said they asked their mother to buy what they saw on TV; 1,113 of the sample said they thought the products would make them happier and have more friends.

Dawn felt that by ages 10 and 11 children grow skeptical of the commercials and the adults behind them.

"They find out that not all adults tell the truth," she said. In her questionnaire, over half the children said they were not satisfied with the product once they got it.

"The kids start disbelieving teachers and other adults. I feel this is dangerous."

Dawn said she counted 26 commercials in one hour, one Saturday morning, on one network.

"I had always listened before and many times asked my mother to buy certain products I had seen advertised, but now I was listening and re-ly thinking about what was being said."

"Millions of kids are being told: 'People who love kids have to buy Fritos.' 'Cherrios make you feel groovy all day long. I eat them sometimes and I don't feel any different.' 'Hershey chocolate makes milk taste like a chocolate bar. Why should milk taste like a chocolate bar anyway?'"

Dawn thanked the subcommittee for caring what children think. The subcommittee is considering legislation for advertising research and requiring documentation of claims.

CAB abolishes consumer panel

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), without any public announcement, has killed a panel it set up less than two years ago to help protect consumers' interests in airline travel.

Since the Consumer Advisory Committee was announced at a news conference in October 1970, it has met only five times. When the chairman of the consumer panel complained, CAB chairman Secor D. Browne replied with a letter last week saying, "The time has now come to dissolve the committee."

The consumer panel chairman, Reuben B. Robertson III, who is an advisor to Ralph Nader, had complained to Browne that the committee hadn't met for several months.

City's crime rate merits state grant

By Sue Millen
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A grant of $28,900 has been awarded to the Carbondale police department by the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (ILEC) to establish a crime prevention and control program.

Police Chief Joe Dakin said that he had originally applied for $31,250. However, there was only one other city, Joliet, which was granted more money for crime prevention programs. Joliet received $33,926 while other cities received between $28,802 and $24,886, with all the grants totaling $142,330.

Dakin explained that the state of Illinois offers the grants to the 10 cities with the highest crime rates in the state, to enable those cities to start crime prevention programs. He said Carbondale now has somewhere between the tenth and fifth highest crime rate in the state.

Dakin said with the creation of the new crime prevention bureau there will be two additional patrolmen and a clerk added to the police department.

He said the patrolmen will conduct surveys of businessmen and landlords concerning the security of their establishments. He said publicity for Operation Identification will be stepped up.

Operation Identification has been tried in other cities such as Monterey, Calif. He said that a study had been set up there which compared 6,000 households which participated in Operation Identification to 6,000 who didn't. Out of those who did participate only 160 homes were burglarized compared to 1,800 burglarized homes which did not participate in the program.

He said a crime prevention ordinance will be initiated also. Dakin explained this will be along the lines of fire prevention ordinances. He said businesses will be checked periodically for security measures. "Those businesses which have poor security are high crime risks," he added. These businesses will be asked to correct this situation as soon as financially and reasonably possible, he said.

Any business found in violation of the ordinances after they have been given warnings, will be fined accordingly, he said.

Specialized training in crime prevention will be given to the two new patrolmen and two men who are presently on the force will also be trained and will join the crime prevention program.

Dakin said he does not think that the program can be started before July.

A second follow-up grant is still pending and will not be decided until mid-July. Dakin said the second grant totaling $132,000 would be split up with $98,000 coming from the federal government and the remaining $34,000 made up by the city.

These funds would go to a special crime prevention and deterrence program. It calls for the establishment of a tactical force which will work primarily during the evening hours trying to curb crimes like apartment burglaries.

There would be a five-man squad using different modes of transportation. The squad would be plain clothes policemen who would ride bicycles or in unmarked cars.

A grant for $30,000 was also awarded by the ILEC to the Regional and Urban Development Service at SIU Edwardsville to collect, analyze and report data relative to the number of youth in the juvenile justice system in Illinois.

South Vietnamese forces regain ground in Kontum

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnamese forces wrested back some lost ground in Kontum Wednesday behind diving aircraft that pounded the enemy with bombs and rockets despite murky weather.

The senior U.S. adviser in the central highlands said the North Vietnamese were pulling back but will renew their attacks on the city. Over North Vietnam, U.S. Navy aircraft dropped teleguided bombs around the key southern port of Vinh to block stored war supplies and destroy petroleum depots, the U.S. Command said.

With most other fronts quiet, government defenders at Kontum claimed killing 194 enemy in clashes south of the airstrip and at the city's northern edge. Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel reported the fighting was sporadic. It was the seventh day of close combat in the provincial capital.

John Paul Vann, the senior U.S. adviser in the 2nd Military Region that includes the highlands, told a Pleiku news conference that "Phase 1" of the battle has ended and the North Vietnamese now are pulling back to regroup, regroup their forces and get ready for more attacks.

He said although the situation had improved for the South Vietnamese defenders at Kontum in the past week, the battle for the city has not been won "by a long shot."

The North Vietnamese, now holding two military compounds in the northern part of Kontum and a small area on the southeast side, are short of supplies and troop replacements and troubled by low morale, Vann said.

Vann said the enemy had lost 3,000 killed in the Kontum fighting in the past nine days, the majority by artillery and air strikes. South Vietnamese casualties were put at least 1,000.

A senior U.S. adviser told Putzel, "If it weren't for our firepower, we wouldn't still be holding Kontum."

Cobra gunship helicopters and fighter-bombers struck at North Vietnamese positions repeatedly, flying through heavy clouds. Air cover was laid down a few hundred yards ahead of South Vietnamese infantrymen.

South Vietnamese troops continued to press toward An Loc, the besieged provincial capital 60 miles from Saigon, but contact was slight.

U.S. military spokesmen said pilots were ordered to seal off Vinh, halfway down the 300 miles between Hanoi and the demilitarized zone, to isolate large stocks of war material.

Aircraft off three carriers in the Tonkin Gulf hit three bridges around the major transshipment point Tuesday, cutting rail and road traffic. The harbor already is mined.

They used the new "smart" bombs, directed to within five feet of their targets by pilots who watch their progress on television monitors and transmit directional signals to their tail fins.

The bombs, which carry their own television cameras up front, are being used for the first time since large-scale air strikes resumed over the North on April 6.

Arab States will be held responsible for massacre, Golda Meir says

TEL AVIV (AP) — Premier Golda Meir told Arab states Wednesday they will be held responsible for the massacre at Israel's international airport in which 25 persons died and 78 were wounded. Hinting broadly at retaliation for the Tuesday night killings by three Japanese terrorists hired by Palestinian guerrillas, Mrs. Meir told the Israeli parliament: "I am sure Israel will find a remedy for what happened so that it won't happen again." More than 24 hours after the attack, there still was confusion over the identity of victims. A list issued by the government did not match those from hospitals. Of the 25 dead, 5 remained unidentified. The government listed among the dead 12 Puerto Ricans, most holding American passports, and 8 Israelis, including a scientist and a customs inspector. In Beirut, Lebanon, government officials, guerrillas and ordinary citizens expressed fear of an Israeli reprisal strike. A leader of the Marxist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, which claimed responsibility for the attack, boasted in Beirut, "We have many more surprises in store for Israel." In a blast at world governments over airport security, Mrs. Meir said the massacre could "easily have been prevented if only the airline on which the attackers flew had checked their passengers." The Japanese terrorists flew into Tel Aviv from Rome on a state-run Air France aircraft whose flight originated in Paris. Stung by Mrs. Meir's censure, France declared through a government spokesman, "The French government can only express its surprise at certain official Israeli statements." Air France and Paris airport authorities later announced that starting immediately, baggage checked by Tel Aviv-bound passengers would be searched.

Grad Council to discuss altering union policy

By Richard Lorenz
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The report from the ad hoc committee studying the possibility of altering the Carbondale Federation of University Teachers (CFUT) constitution will be the main topic when the Graduate Student Council (GSC) meets at 3:30 p.m. Friday in the Student Center Auditorium.

According to Sarah Moore, new GSC secretary, the executive council of the union has endorsed three principles designed to make the constitution fit the needs of graduate assistants. The principles include the recognition of the graduate assistants as a semi-autonomous part of the union membership, graduate assistants be represented on all union negotiating committees in proportion to their percentage of assistants and no contract negotiations in behalf of the union membership be approved by the union unless a majority of each constituency comprising the union approves the contract.

The general membership of the CFUT has yet to approve the three principles, Ms. Moore said. She said the ad hoc committee recommends that assistants sign pledge cards if the union approves the three principles. She said the GSC will not solicit members for the CFUT.

In other business, graduate students to fill five constitutional committees will be elected. Committees which will be filled are steering, membership, finance, social welfare and educational resources. There will be two members to each committee, and committee members need not be members of the GSC.

Weekend burglaries, thefts reported across campus

By Barry Cleveland
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Police reports of burglaries and thefts over the Memorial Day weekend continued Wednesday.

Edward Lepak, Carbondale, told police that items totalling $263 were removed from his apartment between 5 p.m. Monday and 3 p.m. Tuesday. Among the missing items were a Mamiya-sekor 35 mm camera, a Soligor telephoto lens, an alarm clock, cuff links and $25 cash.

Debra C. Pearl, Carbondale, reported about $140 cash was stolen from her apartment between 6 p.m. and midnight Tuesday by a thief who cut the screen door.

James Gower, 18, Bailey Hall, told police items worth about $45 were stolen from his room over the weekend. A meal ticket and a pair of glasses were among the items taken.

A wall clock was reported taken from Davis Auditorium in the Wham Education Building between Friday and Tuesday.

Police also reported the theft of a power supply pack for photographic equipment from Room 1087 of the Communications Building Friday afternoon.

A money bag containing about $32 and a set of keys were reported missing from a safe in Trueblood Hall Tuesday morning.

According to police, the bag and keys had been locked up after closing hours Sunday night at the recreation room and were discovered missing when the safe was opened Tuesday.

The empty money bag was later recovered.

A Telex headset valued at $31 was United asks for freight rate hike

CHICAGO (AP) — United Air Lines announced Wednesday it has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to approve a 5 per cent across-the-board increase in air freight rates.

United said the increases would not apply, however, to the small package tariff, accessory tariff charges or intrastate freight.

United said the rate increases are necessary because of declining air freight revenue and increases in operating costs. The company reported an operating loss of $11,248,000 in its all-gear aircraft operations during 1971.

taken from the Self Instruction Center at Morris Library Sunday or Monday by a thief equipped with a pair of wire cutters.

The theft of a battery and an unsuccessful attempt to steal another from cars in Lot 23 were also reported. Police said the battery was removed about 9:45 p.m. Tuesday from a 1966 Dodge Polara.

Another vehicle had apparently been tampered with, but the battery was left in the car after one cable had been removed.

Beverly Mazan, 21, Neely Hall, reported the theft of her blue Schwinn bike valued at $80 from the Trueblood Hall area between Sunday and Tuesday.

A five-speed Columbia bike worth $65 was reported stolen about 2:20 p.m. Tuesday from near Neely Hall by Laura R. Campos, 19, Neely.

Victor Joyner, 18, Warren Hall, told police his 10-speed Schwinn Varsity bike valued at $120 was stolen near Warren Hall Tuesday morning.

A five-speed Nishiki valued at $85 was reported stolen from the Life Science II area by Lynn F. Van Geison, Carbondale.

Ira Parrish, Carbondale, reported the theft of 32 bundles of asphalt shingles valued at $150 from a lot at 3000 W. Kent Drive.

12 make trip to Oregon

NCAA title fight begins for track men today

It's been 5 years since Southern Illinois has won two major-college national championships.

It could happen again in 1972. Lew Hartzog's highly-spirited track Salukis begin competition Thursday in the NCAA meet at the University of Oregon.

Unlike the past few years when a couple of SIU trackmen have ventured to the big meet, 12 have made the trip.

The Salukis peaked early in the outdoor season and have yet to come down. They won three major indoor meet titles—Midwestern Conference, Illinois Intercollegiate and Central Collegiate—and came back outdoors to become double triple crowns winners by taking the same three meets again.

The last big team trophy—the Central Collegiate at Carbondale—went to the Salukis by an impressive 67 point margin over runnerup Tennessee.

Southern is highly-regarded, but a dark horse going into the three-day national meet.

The 440 relay team—also known as the Oreos—is ranked seventh in the nation while the mile relay is ninth.

Best times for the two relays this season are 40.1 and 3:09.0, respectively. The 440 time is a school record.

The anchor man for the 440 relay is outstanding sprinter Ivory Crockett who could pack up as many as 20 points for the Saluki cause at Eugene.

Crockett's 100 (9.2) and 220 (20.3) yard dash times are the best in the nation this year. The 5-foot-5 Missouri native set those marks at the Kansas Relays early last month but has not shown any signs of breaking down.

He ran a 9.2 and 20.7 at the Central meet last weekend. Crockett blamed a long curve in the McAndrew Stadium track for slowing him up in the longer sprint.

Two big wins (20 points) by Crockett could prove the key to an NCAA championship for the Salukis. Many teams have won the title after amassing as few as 45 points.

Besides Crockett in the 100 and 220, the following are track entrants for SIU in the NCAA meet:

Mile—Dave Hill (best effort this year: 4:01.9); three mile—Jack St. John (13:54.1); high jump—Mike Bernard (6-11) and Bill Hancock (6-11); triple jump—Phil Robins (50-0) and Jim Harris (50-5¼); 440 relay (Eddie Sutton, Terry Erickson, Stanley Patterson, and Crockett) and mile relay (Gerald Smith, Lonnie Brown, Erickson and Sutton).

UCLA, Southern Cal and Oregon finished 1-2-3 last year and three Pacific-8 Conference powers are expected to push for the title again this year.

With the withdrawal of North Carolina Central, Texas-El Paso is ranked as the No. 1 non-West Coast challenger going into Thursday's opening trial session.

The Southern school withdrew after its top performers—Africans Robert Ouki and Julius Sang—were declared ineligible.

The NCAA said Ouko and Sang, who competed for Kenya in the 1968 Olympics, had completed their eligibility under its rules governing foreign athletes.

Ten years ago, the Salukis finished fourth in the NCAA meet with 26 points behind Oregon, Villanova and Southern Cal.

Besides the six major team championships this year, SIU had a 4-2 dual meet season with wins over Illinois, Northwestern, Murray State and Florida State. The Salukis lost to Florida and Kansas.

It was in 1967 that Southern won two major-college championships in one year. The basketball team was the National Invitational Tournament champion and the gymnasts took the NCAA crown.

The gymnastics team won the NCAA title again this year with the track fate unknown until Saturday.

Bob Gibson, Cards edge Cubs, 1-0

CHICAGO (AP)—Lou Brock singled across Dal Maxvill from second in the fifth inning to back Bob Gibson's three-hit pitching and give the St. Louis Cardinals a 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs Wednesday.

Gibson, 2-5, won his second successive decision by shading Chicago's Ferguson Jenkins, who yielded eight scattered hits, three by Matty Alou. Jenkins is 5-5.

After Don Kessinger's leadoff single in the fourth, Gibson held the Cub-hittless until Gene Hiser's one-out single in the eighth. Jim Hickman singled in the ninth.

The Cards scored in the fifth when Maxvill opened with a single, was sacrificed by Gibson and scored on Brock's single to center.

Seven athletes sign SIU letters

Seven athletes in baseball and gymnastics have signed national letters of intent to attend SIU.

Baseball coach Richard "Ich" Jones has signed three high school standouts and one junior college transfer. All of the prep recruits are from Illinois—Rick Bengston of Peoria, Jeff Scott of Kankakee and John Hoscheidt of Henry.

Bengston is a 6-3, 195-pound first-third base and catcher candidate who consistently batted over .340 at Richards High School. He was named to the all-Mid State conference his first three years of high school. Hoscheidt is a 5-10, 170-pound third base and outfield possibility. He was named to the all-state team this year.

Scott is a 6-2, 190 right-handed pitcher who has played some shortstop.

The J.C. transfer—Rob Klass of Gulf Coast (Fla.) Junior College—is a 6-2, 180-pound right-handed pitcher. He currently is sixth in strikeouts in national junior college statistics with 103 in 66 2-3 innings.

He graduated from Reitz Memorial High of Evansville, Ind.

In gymnastics, coach Bill Meade has signed three of the nation's top high school all-around performers—Doug Law, Bill Anderson and Lance Garrett.

Law helped Arlington Heights High to a second-place finish in the Illinois state prep championships. The Chicago suburbite finished sixth in all-around competition.

Garrett—from Monaco, Pa.—was a two-time all-around champion of Pennsylvania who also won the horizontal bar and vaulting competition in the state meet this year.

Anderson, an Illinois native, was injured in his senior year but still shows great potential, Meade said.

Pepitone ends retirement; returns to baseball July 2

CHICAGO (AP)—Unpredictable Joe Pepitone, who announced his retirement from baseball on May 2, will return to the Chicago Cubs on July 2.

That is the earliest the flamboyant first baseman can rejoin the Cubs after his decision Tuesday to recant his announcement almost five weeks ago he was retiring voluntarily because baseball was no longer "fun."

Baseball rules require a 60-day interim for a player to return to the active list once he has announced his surprising decision to close a 10-season major league career.

Pepitone, who operates a "singles" bar called Joe Pepitone's Thing, made his first visit to Wrigley Field last Saturday since he quit.

He bumped into Coach Pete Reiser, who asked, "You're going to come back, aren't you?"

Pepitone blurted: "Yes, I will."

Cub vice president John Holland contacted Pepitone Tuesday and asked if Pepi was serious about returning, because the Cubs were on the brink of dealing for a first baseman, reportedly Atlanta's Orlando Cepeda or Philadelphia's Deron Johnson.

Said Holland: "Pepi told me, 'I've already thought it over, and I want to play as soon as possible.'"

"I really hadn't given it a thought until I bumped into Pete in the Cub clubhouse," commented Pepitone. "When he asked me, it was just something that came out."

Ever the joker, Pepitone said a weekend visit by his mother also helped him decide to return, pointing out "she said she missed 100 or 200 bucks I used to give her every month when I was on the Cub payroll."

Lane favored in prep baseball

PEORIA (AP)—Only two schools in 33 years have won the Illinois State High School Baseball championship with a perfect record.

Peoria Manual (25-0) did it in 1950 and LaGrange (24-0) in 1967.

Lane Tech of Chicago is a good bet to become the third.

The Indians will start their run for it Thursday as an eight-team field is whittled to the semifinals Friday morning. Those winners will clash for the title Friday at 7:30 p.m. (CDT) at Meinen Field the first night game for the prep baseball championship since 1957.

Lane will take a 27-0 record against Kankakee Eastridge (20-4) in Thursday's first afternoon game starting at 2 p.m. This will be followed by another lower bracket contest sending Putnam County (23-6) against Alton (16-6).

Niles West (17-4) opens the quarter-finals at 9:30 a.m. against Olney (11-4). Two hours later another lower bracket contest sending Putnam County (23-6) against Alton (16-6).

Niles West (17-4) opens the quarter-finals at 9:30 a.m. against Olney (11-4). Two hours later another upper bracket game pits Marissa (30-4) against Canton (26-12).

Lane, state champion in 1945 and 1956, will be making its 11th trip to the Peoria showdown. Second baseman Jack Rockwell, with a .354 batting average, is the only regular returning from the 1971 semi-finalists.

The Indians have a fine blend of hitting and pitching. Right-hander Jim Henning has a 12-0 record and three batters have .436 or better averages, topped by Bob Crum with .470.

The Eastridge Raiders' mound staff is headed by right-hander Jeff Scott. He is 9-1 with a 0.53 earned run average and 109 strikeouts. Power at the plate comes from L. C. Nutall, .362, and Bruce Carmitche, .342.

A new champion is assured. Waukegan, 1971 winner, was eliminated.

Niles West, the 1964 runner-up, has an outstanding hurler, southpaw Barry Mueller. He is 9-1 and has yielded only one earned run in 69 2-3 innings.

The Indians' leading batter is Paul Klipowicz with .341. Mueller's only loss came Monday when Waukegan defeated the Indians 8-3.

Pitcher Jay Jared has won all 11 of the Olney Tigers' victories. Power at the plate is provided by basketball star Rich Bussard who is hitting at a .425 clip with 20 RBIs and has stolen 19 bases.

Life guards sought

Any student interested in being a lifeguard at Pulliam Hall Pool this summer and next fall can see Jim Evans in the Office of Recreation and Intramurals in the SIU Arena.

The Black Hawks also had the lowest goals per game average during the regular season with a .25 average. Sun Coast Sons captured the team scoring title with a 6.5 goals per game average.

Individually, Bill Moi took single game honors, six goals in one game, while Annex & Co. tallied 11 markers in one contest.
