Orchestra To Give Concert Tonight

Featured work on the Southern Illinois Symphony concert tonight will be "Three Themes for Orchestra," by Robert Mueller of the SIU music department. The 67 piece orchestra will present the concert in Shroyck auditorium at 8:15, under the direction of Maurice Ksner, chairman of the music department.

Mueller's "Three Themes for Orchestra" is what may be termed a "Revolt" against the theory of con-

Schubert's numerous short works for orchestra, although it was originally written for piano.

The "Surprise Symphony" has achieved great fame mainly through the legend connected with the second movement. Haydn, at the time of the work's composition, was in the services of a famous Austrian. Every night after dinner Haydn and his orchestra would give a concert. Many of the listeners were often stuffed with food, and if the music became a little too soft, they would doze off. Haydn, being a very mischievous person, decided to play a trick on his people.

The second movement starts very slowly and softly with a theme and variations. It then goes into a passage of accented chords, the last of which is the famous "Surprise." The first time the theme is played the chord is not hit with much power, but the second time this one chord comes in, it is hit with great accentuation so that the effect is to be awakened. Haydn took great delight in such musical jokes. It not only embarrassed the dozers but also gave him a certain satisfaction of proving that when he wrote music he intended for it to be listened to.

ROBERT MUELLER

LORIN MAZEL, well-known for his appearances with famous symphony orchestras, will conduct the Gershwin Concert Orchestra in a concert to be given tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Shroyck Auditorium. The band picked up the company of instrumentalists which Mazel leads will present only the music of George Gershwin in this concert.

Gershwin Company To Perform Here

Southern students will have in store for them an array of top notch musicians when they present their activity ticket at the door of Shroyck auditorium for admission to the Gershwin Festival to be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

The Carbondale Community Concert Association is sponsoring this performance which will not only feature the Gershwin Concert Orchestra, and its conductor, Lorin Mazel, but three famed soloists as well. They are Santona, pianist; Carolyn Long, soprano; and Theodor Uppman, baritone.

Included in this musical extravaganza will be such old favorites as "The Man I Love," "I Got Rhythm," "Lady Be Good," "Rhapsody in Blue," along with "Cuban Overture," selections from "Porgy and Bess," and "An American in Paris."

Mazel and the orchestra will open the program with "Cuban Overture," a work inspired by Gershwin's brief vacation trip to Havana.

"CONCERTO IN F" for piano and orchestra will be presented by Santona and the orchestra. This

Performing Otters To Give Program At SIU March 26

By Larry Conner

Don't get shaken if you happen to see a brood of otters cavorting about in the fish pond next month. Chances are that they will be members of Emil Liers' famous troupe of trained otters. Liers and his otters are scheduled to make their appearance in Shroyck auditorium March 26.

Liers' wards are just common brown otters from the forests of Minnesota; however, he has been breeding a colony of otters for 25 years and at that time he has organized a performance much like that given by trained dogs, seals, monkeys, etc. However, he has incorporated many new twists which would only be possible with otters.

If you happened to read the Jan. 12 issue of Life magazine, you probably saw Liers and his otters; they were shown in their native Minnesota home and also on one of their frequent lecture tours.

During the 25 years Liers has been keeping his otters, he has given up all other activities and has become lecturer, author, and adviser to zoo keepers. Liers was an adviser to Walt Disney in his production, "Beaver Valley."

Liers and his troupe are being brought to campus under the auspices of the University Lectures and Entertainment Committee.

Happy Vacation!

Immediately following final examinations, which end this Friday, March 6, Southern's annual Spring Vacation will begin. The vacation will continue until March 16 when classes will begin for the third term of school this year. Classes will begin at 8 a. m. The Egyptian will not appear during the remainder of the vacation. This will be the last issue of the student paper until March 20, when the new staff which was elected this term will take over.

concerts was previously performed at Carnegie Hall in 1925, when Gershwin himself played the solo part.

Selections from "Porgy and Bess" will comprise the third number of the program. One of Gershwin's most ambitious works, "Porgy and Bess," was composed in eleven months and orchestrated in nine.

In the opening scene of "Porgy and Bess" Clara, the wife of Jake, the fisherman, sings the beautiful lullaby "Summertime" to her baby.

"THE SECOND song" in the "Porgy and Bess" series, is "My Man's Gone Now." The song is a lament by Serena, who is portrayed by Miss Long, following the murder of her husband in a carp game by the villainous Crown.

"Bess, You Is My Woman Now" is sung by Uppman in the part of Porgy and Miss Long in the part of Bess. The song revolves about the story of her husband in a carp game by the villainous Crown.

Liers and his troupe are being brought to campus under the auspices of the University Lectures and Entertainment Committee.

"GERSHWIN Fantasies" which was arranged by Peter Bodge of Boston will include such all time favorites as "I Got Rhythm, Fascinating Rhythm, Strike up the Band, Who Cares, Love is Sweeping the Country, and Somebody Loves Me." These selections will be played entirely by the orchestra.

Written in 1928, the fifth portion of the program will be devoted to the score of "An American in Paris." This suggests an American tourist swinging briskly down the Champs Elysees on a bright spring morning. Here he is introduced to the sights and sounds of Paris, French cabarets, and cafes. Eventually the inevitable homesickness overcomes him, but another American, a self-confident Charleston without a drop of Gallic blood, appears on the scene, and a general tone of optimism prevails at the end of the selection.

Director Lists Spring Vacation Library Hours

Elizabeth O. Stroy, assistant director of libraries, has announced the library hours for spring vacation. The library will be open from 9:00-1:00 on Saturday, March 7; 8:00-12:00 Monday through Friday, March 8-15; and from 9:00-1:00 on Saturday, March 14.

President Morris To Give Union Dedication

President Morris will give a few dedicatory remarks at the opening of the wing to the Student Union on March 16 at 8 p. m. The dedicatory remarks will be given at the opening followed by a Gershwin concert which will feature music and various games which will entertain students and faculty attending.

The interior of the Union wing will be done in such unusual colors as congo brown, terra cotta, parchment, and buttercup yellow. The Student Union proper has also received a dose of the same colors and has undergone a face-lifting job for the last 10 days.

A main feature of contemporary design is a corrugated metal partition which will be used as a backdrop for a handstand. The furniture can be easily and quickly moved for dancing.

There will be six different areas where students may gather in groups. Furniture will include four large couches and two six foot coffee tables. Lighting will be indirect. Such type lighting such as those used in the allyn building will be used in the grouping areas as will be molded plastic chairs. The couches will be the conventional innerspring soft type with foam rubber cushions.

Two conference rooms, outfitted with a large table and chairs, are interlaid to give ample meeting space for 20 to 40 people, and will be located in the older part of the building.

The tables and chairs, from the present Canteen will be placed in the canteen area of the Union, along with a soda fountain, coffee, sandwiches, and fountain products will probably be served, but there will be no cooking done in the area.

A pocket billiard table and two ping pong tables will help serve the recreational needs in the Union. All students who use the billiard table will be charged 5 cents per game to maintain the upkeep of the table and equipment, according to Miss Betty Greenleaf, director of student activities.

Laurence Lee To Speak at Chamber Commerce Meet

Laurence F. Lee, keynote speaker at an SIU regional conference on March 27, was nominated as a lawyer and an insurance executive before he was recently elected president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Lee's address will open a two-day conference on "New Developments in Agriculture, Business, and Labor."

Before his election to the presidency of the national Chamber of Commerce organization, Lee served as vice-president.

He graduated from the University of New Mexico and received his law degree from Yale. Among other organizations, he is a member of the American Bar Association, Institute of Life Insurance, Association of Life Insurance Councils, Pi Kappa Alpha, Phi Delta Phi, and the Rotary Club.

Legislative officials said the purpose of the conference is to encourage Southern Illinois leaders in industry, business, education, agriculture, and labor to make a more aggressive and unified effort in helping in the area redevelopment process already begun.

Company Opens Magazine Sales To SIU Students

Students may earn large sums of money this summer by selling Childcraft books if they are willing to apply themselves, according to Mrs. Alice Rector, director of student employment.

This Childcraft series of books deals with child guidance, literature and art for children, and children's creative activities.

Last year 341 students worked on the program, most of them earning as much as $1500. Both boys and girls may sell. Students may work in their home towns, according to A. D. Kiestler, district representative for the company sponsoring the campaign. He said that Southern Illinois towns are gold mines for this type of sale.

Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Rector in the Office of Student Affairs.

Choir, Madrigals To Go On Spring Vacation Tour

Five SIU students who make up the cappella choir and Madrigal Singers will give their first performance on their sixth annual spring tour March 8 when they appear in Harrisburg, the choir.

Wakeland, expect to complete approximately 15 engagements this spring.

Sunday, March 8 after giving their first performance at the First Methodist church in Harrisburg, the choir will sing again at Carbondale Monday morning they will present an assembly program at the high school at Carbondale, and then will travel to Norris City to do another high school assembly program that afternoon.

The singers will present a concert to Fairview Monday night at 8 o'clock.

THE GROUP will give a concert at Lawrenceville, Tuesday, March 10, and will go to Marshall and Chicago the next day, presenting programs in both towns. Thursday, March 12, they will give a morning concert in the Homer high school, and another concert at Paxton high school that night.

Tentatively scheduled for Friday is Von Steubler high school in Chicago. The next day they will appear in Chicago at a public service gathering for the YMCA. Another Chicago date will be the concert at the Peace Memorial church. The group will record a program for radio station WGN's College Radio series while they are there.

The tour will be brought to an end Sunday evening when a last concert will be given at St. Peter's.

Five Students Apply For Positions On Yearbook

Carolyn Bernhard, West Plains, fourth sophomore, is the only applicant for editor-in-chief of the 1953-54 Obelisk. Carolyn is now associate editor of the Obelisk. She has worked on the "Southern Style" publisher and on her high school newspaper. She is in the College of Education and has worked as copy editor of the Obelisk, was news editor of her high school paper.

New editors will retain their positions until spring term of next year.

Two persons are elected to serve as associate editors of the Obelisk. Their duties include business manager and art and layout editor. Applicants for these positions are: Malinda Ballinger, junior, who worked on a high school paper, is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Inter-Council Council, Panhellenic Association and Women's Athletic Association; Evelyn Schubach, freshman in the College of Education, who was editor of her Ashley high school paper, worked as a high school reporter of the Centralia Sentinel, helped in the publication of "Southern Style," and a member of Girls' Rally.

Jack Barnett, sophomore in the English Evangelical Lutheran church, is in Chicago.

IN ADDITION to the regular club members, a number of soloists will also make the tour. Phil Eigenmann who plays the flute will make the trip as a special soloist. Other performers who will be prepared for solo arrangements are Edna Griffin, soprano, Harriet Cagle, also a soprano, pianist Bill McGuire, and trumpet player Lester Russ.

Our Opinions

With this edition we, the editors, sign our "30" mark. For those who are unacquainted with the journalism world, "30" is the mark used to signify the end of a story. And so we sign our "30" to the year we have served as editors of this publication.

You and the University. Looking Back. On Other Campuses, and World News in Brief. These latter two columns allow for us to keep SIU students informed about world affairs and about happenings on other college campuses.

Now we realize that we must withdraw from participating in the writing and editing of all these columns and news stories and be associated with the paper merely from a reader's standpoint. We have been happy to have the opportunity to work as editors. As we leave, we know that the Egyptian will be a "bigger and better" paper all the time.

CUTTING your first pair of gears is exciting and is quite an accomplishment. For Don Wendell, left, industrial education sophomore at Southern, it can be doubly so. He is the first totally blind person as far as Willard Benson, right, his instructor, can find out, ever to learn to operate machine tools.

Blind Student Destroys Machine Shop Tradition

"After I'd put my 1,664,00th handle on a popcorn popper, I decided a college education might be more stimulating and give my sense of touch more variety." This is the way Donald Weiland, 27-year-old Southern Illinois University sophomore from Decatur, who is totally blind, relates his escape from an unskilled labor life on a bench. He has given the traditional liberal arts department the go-by, however, and is rapidly destroying traditions in the industrial education machine shop.

The rifle team of Ohio Wesleyan University freed a composite team of 1912 to beat SIU's ROTC team by 19 points. The match was held on the week ending Feb. 22.

Cadet Bill Kamm again led his team with a 373 total score. Bill fired a perfect 100 score in the prone position and followed up with a 97 and 95 in the next two positions. The standing position was Bill's undoing, however, as he posted a 81. Cadets Gerry Sanner, Lavern Coffey, Curtis Hartley, and Jerry Hoppeler completed the team firing in that order.

High man for the Ohio team was Bob Dickmann. He fired a 376 total score with a high individual position score of 98, kneeling. There were no perfect scores fired by his team.

CADET POOL

Looking Back

By Teresa White

It has been the policy of the column to track back in Egyptian years, what has been, head line news. These news highlights have usually been condensed into six or seven itemized paragraphs. However, a story which appeared in the March 24, 1949, issue of the Egyptian seemed too novel to reduce to one or two paragraphs. So here is the article as it appeared back in 1949.

FOUR YEARS AGO . . .

"Three Southern Students' Make Balloon Experiment."

Three Southern students, the Virginia police, a small toy balloon, and a Carbondale shoe store figured in a strange tale which several days ago was unraveled.

It all began Feb. 24, when three Southern students got a free balloon at the opening of a Carbondale shoe store.

The balloon, a cheap toy variety, was filled with helium. The boys, Leroy Medley, Thompsonville, O. F. Stanford, Salem, and James H. Holland, McLeansboro, wondered like thousands of other people how long the balloon would go if it were untied loose.

The trio attached a blank check to the balloon and wrote their names on it. However, in order to make a more formal, they decided to call themselves doctors and professors.

The following day a resident in Waverly, Va.—more than 1000 miles from Carbondale—found the balloon and notified the police in Petersburg, Va.

The police went to work and stole the Carbondale shoe store, who, in turn, notified the boys.

Medley said that they had hoped the balloon would go as far as Kentucky or Indiana, while Stanford was even more pessimistic about the journey. He said, "It wasn't rain here, he said, the formations knowing altitude very much when it left, and I didn't think it would go past Crab Orchard."

Statistics were not available, but it is believed to be one of the longest flights ever taken by a toy balloon.

And there you have one of the main headline features of 1949. If one would take the liberty of punning, it could perhaps be said that this was a story that didn't go over like a lead balloon.

Poll Shows Students Disapprove Of Dorm Drinking, Dating Till Dawn

Collegiate morals are higher than the popular stereotype suggests, as indicated from results of the Associated Collegiate Press National Poll of Student Opinion.

The vast majority of students are (1) against drinking in dormitories, and (2) against staying out too late with their dates. Women are more "strict" about these matters than men.

Students were asked their opinions on dormitory drinking rules. Here are the results:

Should be allowed—16 per cent.
 Should not be allowed—75 per cent.

No opinion—6 per cent.
 Other—3 per cent.

Only 12 per cent of the women are for dormitory drinking; 82 per cent are against it. "I don't believe in drinking period," exclaimed sophomore coed from Geneva College, Pa.

A freshman in Engineering at Southeastern Missouri State College thinks dormitory drinking should be allowed, because it "would keep them out of trouble in taverns."

And a business student at Richmond Professional Institute, Va., declares, "The more restrictions that are imposed, the more people will want to break them. College students should be treated like adults."

One male, it appears to be the most popular hour for getting a girl back to her dormitory after a Saturday-night date, with 2 a. m. being a very close second. Students were asked: "In your opinion, at what hour on a Saturday night should a date be required to get back to her dormitory?"

The answers:

By midnight or before, 14 per cent.
 By 1 a. m., 45 per cent.
 By 2 a. m., 24 per cent.

Price Relates Experiences of Tour

25 Geography Students Travel Through Ill. and Mo.

A group of 25 geography students, and others who were interested, took a 400-mile field trip through southeast Missouri and Southern Illinois recently.

Leaving the campus by Chertsey bus, the group traveled northward, crossed the Mississippi at Chester, circled back via the Missouri flood plain to Cairo, and then returned to Carbondale after stopping at Bald Knob near Alto Pass.

Each term a group of students who are enrolled in the physical geography course which Instructor Dallas A. Price teaches, are given the opportunity to tour points of interest which lie within easy access to Carbondale by bus. The tour is conducted for the purpose of studying first hand the water and soil resources and the vegetation of the region.

ONE of the important stops of the tour was at Big Springs in Missouri, according to Price. Here, it was noted that the general lack of water was reflected in the flow of the spring.

The operation of iron mines at Loomis, Mo., was also observed.

Much interest was shown, accorded to Prof. Price, in the "included and valley" which were seen in Missouri. These valleys correspond somewhat to shallow bowls.

Price said that one of Missouri's natural wonders is being destroyed by commercial interests in the quarrying of granite at Graniteville, Mo. Here, he said, the formations known as "Flintback Rocks" are being blasted away by companies which use the stone for building materials and for monuments.

ANOTHER stop of the trip was made at Pilot Knob, Mo.

Those who made the trip are Dan Moore, Bery McCarns, Dorlene Stanley, Dorothy Sharp, Eda Mosely, William Gale, David Combs, James Hart, Joan England, June Heiman, Marie Nickoloff, Nancy Bergfeld, Harry Frost, Charles Ross, and Ruth Durham.

On Other Campuses

By Artie Trippel

AT LOUISIANA STATE U.—Student deferments may not be here to stay on a temporary basis, according to Lewis B. Hershey, U. S. Selective Service Director. "The time for action is here," states Hershey. "Now that the drafting of freshmen as an imminent prospect of the post-to-distant future, certainly must look toward the colleges with something more than just an appraising eye."

Draft boards are already dipping deep into the 19-year-old group, and it already appears inevitable that some college students will be deprived of deferments.

The "Daily Reveille," campus newspaper here at LSU, recently ran a significant cartoon depicting a serious hunter, labeled "Selective Service," and aiming his rifle at a bird stamped "College Deferments." The cartoon questioning caption: "Dead Duck?"

AT NORTH CAROLINA U.—This campus quip may bear the title, "Spoils System," or "Demerits Accept GQP Cue." At NCU last month a collection named "Richard Nixon was elected treasurer of the Young Democratic Club. He is a distant cousin to Vice-President Dwight D. Eisenhower."

AT IDAHO U.—An interesting article of debate appeared in the IU "Argonaut" newspaper last fall that could be entitled "Are Ceds Mature?" In many states, when girls are 18, they are considered old enough to get married. In all states, they are old enough to join one of the women's military services. When the real graduates from high school, she has her choice of going on to college, acquiring a job, or getting married. It is assumed that in all these instances, she has enough sense and maturity of judgment to take care of herself.

Yet at IU, the girls are always closely observed like inmates of an institution," according to the article's continued debate. "Their supervision is closely related to their status as students. When the girls are scrupulously checked off as the girls report to their house-mothers not later than 10:30 p. m. week-day and 1 a. m. on weekends. If the IU Co-eds are treated like young sters, chances are they will act accordingly."

The article went on to declare that it isn't the wish of the co-eds to stay out until the wee hours of morning, but rather to be more reasonable.

AT TEHRAN U., (IRAN)—When the Law School at TU in Iran admitted only 250 out of 1,500 applicants, law students went out on a protest strike. Other students joined them. After several days of the strike, the Law School gave in, and accepted its acceptance quota from 250 to 800.

IN SYRIA—Syria, with a population of approximately four million, has one state university, with 2,400 student enrollment, and an engineering college containing an enrollment of just 86. The state University of Damascus is located in former military barracks that the French abandoned during the year of 1948.

AT PORTO U., (PORTUGAL)—Students here have a solution to the problem of final exams; they simply want to abolish them. Their main reason: talented students often flunk the finals, while the mediocre ones obtain good grades.

Their substitute: let the professors judge them on the basis of the practical exercises given throughout the semester.

SIU To Be Test Center

Southern Illinois University will be a test center for the Graduate Record Examinations to be given on April 17-18, 1953. Application blanks are now available in the Testing Service of the Office of Student Affairs. Applications must be received in New Jersey by April 3, 1953.

Officials To Interview Students

First Week Set for School, Industry Interviews

Officials of schools and industry will be on campus the first week of Spring term to interview students who may be interested in jobs. Anyone interested in an interview is requested to call ahead of time and make an appointment with the Placement Service.

A spokesman for the Service stated that March was the beginning of a rush season at the Placement Office. For this reason, any senior or graduate student who has not registered with the Office is urged to do so in the very near future.

Those representatives which are scheduled are as follows:

MONDAY, Mar. 16, 10 a. m.—Hall Trimble and Allen Stephens of Country Mutual Casualty Insurance Co. will interview students interested in sales and adjusting.

Tuesday, Mar. 16, 9 a. m.—Harry Hodde, assistant employment manager of Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Co. will talk to majors in accounting and industrial education.

WEDNESDAY, Mar. 18, 10:30 a. m.—Paul Nye of Price Waterhouse will see accountants.

THURSDAY, Mar. 19, 9 a. m.—Macy Peit, Allen elementary schools, will interview elementary teachers; jr. high Spanish and pe. applicant.

Thursday, Mar. 19, 9 a. m.—J. W. Price of Farmer Case Schools will see elementary teachers and speech correctionists.

VANCANCIES just released by the Service are:

(1) Villa Grove, Ill., elementary school, 7th and coach and principal, music in grades 1-8 and unit speech correctionist. (2) Grindville, Ill., home economics, $2888, and girls' p. $2600. (3) Coronado, Ill., girls' p. 2, 3, 5, 6 with beginning salary $3200.

(7) Havana, Ill., home economics $3000. (8) Champaign, Ill., nine primary and four intermediate vacancies. (9) Awood, Ill., grades 2, 3, $2900. (10) Community Unit No. 2, needs a superintendent of schools.

(11) Gravelle, Ill., high school girls' p. (12) Highland, Ill., science and English, $2600. (13) Consulting Service, Venezuela, offers placement for industrial education majors, geologists, accountants and secretaries.

If the Salukis had played all their basketball games at home this season, their record probably would have been much more impressive than it was.

The Salukis won nine out of 11 games played at home, but lost nine out of 13 on the road.

Cagers Take Last Contest

By Jim Kahanman
It's all over now, and as things happened, basketball coach Lynn Holzman can sit back, put his feet upon the desk and say, "Yes, sir, the boys did just about everything right that last game." Lynn can say it, the spectators can say it, and we imagine that was pretty much the thought in the minds of Indiana State's basketball team as they lost to the Salukis in the 1953 cage finals last Saturday night, 76-58.

For the Southern boys did just that, everything right, in handing a strong Indiana team a sound defeat, after being down, 38-37 at halftime.

This was no pushover team, Indiana State. They were the boys who just a few weeks ago handed Eastern's championship team their first home-court defeat in four years. The boys from across the border really played the Indiana fast-break to perfection, and it took a vol-third quarter rally by the Salukis to bring SIU the victory.

That third-quarter stint, during which time the Salukis were better than a Missouri-Fairfax device, was the big difference. Cheryl led the Salukis in the period with eight points, and Rippelmeier got seven.

Thate and Rippelmeier kept the boards cleared, and Theriot moved the ball in usual lightning style to keep the State boys back on their heels.

Southern's two graduating seniors, John Cherry and Chuck Thate, bowed out in blue-ribbon style. Cherry was high-point man for the night with 17 points and had two baskets taken away when he was fouled before shooting. Thate was high with rebounds, pulling down 15 from the backboard, and scoring a like number of points.

In fact, Chuck had perhaps his best night of the season. He hooked adeptly with both hands, passed off nicely, did a good job on defense, and was tougher than a Friday-night wrestler under the boards.

And you couldn't forget little Jack Theriot, who never plays any day but hard. Jack hawked the ball like a bloodhound does a scent. He was all over the floor, covering territory from side to side. He also got 13 points, and brought down the house when he fouled out in the last quarter. The guy really captivates the crowd, and should have a whole of a year in 1954.

As for the team, they closed the season with a 13-11 record, and coach Holeda can still say he's never coached a Southern team that has finished below the .500 mark. All his teams have won as many, and mostly more than they've lost.

Against Indiana the team hit for a .380 field goal percentage, as compared to .273 for the Sycamores. Southern hit 27 out of 71, and State got 18 for 66. Jack Theriot had the best percentage for Holeda's boys with 5 baskets in 8 attempts for 27.5. Both Thate and Cheryl hit 50%.

Crookum and Sfredo led the State boys with 13 points each. Jim Adkins got 11.

And all in all, it hasn't been such a bad season. Holeda loses only Thate and Cheryl of his first to start a season with plus a couple more talented boys who should plant their feet here next year.

The schedule includes four games to be held and one on the road. Holdover opponents from last season have been joined by Missouri School of Mines, whom the Salukis play at home.

Martin said that a Homecoming game has not been definitely decided upon.

Sept. 26—Southeast Missouri at Cape Girardeau.

Oct. 3—Illinois Normal at Normal.

Oct. 10—Northern Illinois at Carbondale.

Oct. 17—Central Michigan at Carbondale.

Two WAA basketball teams journeyed to Principia College at Elks Saturday, Feb. 21 for a return match. The first game was played at 2 o'clock and the other followed. Principia won the first game by the narrow margin of 42-39, but in the second game the local girls triumphed their hostesses by a score of 48-21. Miss Lura Evans and Dr. Dorothy Davies accompanied the girls.

THE HOUSE basketball tournament ended Thursday night, and the new champion is the Normandy who will possess the traveling trophy for this next year. They defeated the Delta Sigma Epsilon girls by a score of 32-20.

Members of the Normandy team were: JoAnn Browning, Norma English, Judy Frakes, Verma Krake, Joan Martin, Patsy McSherten, Marilyn Nickols, Vera Sutton, Daisy Sutsman, and Loreta Tripp.

Members of the Delta Sig team were: Lois Bizzell, Mary Bowen, Martha Gralley, Julie Geddes, Jean Heenan, Jeannette Lobough, Christine Mitchler, Marilyn Rose, Betty Ross, Louie Taylor, Ann Traves, Carolyn Walton, and Lois Wilson.

The final standings for the tournament were:

Arver Picked As Toughest foe

Bill Arver, Illinois Normal's hot-shooting guard, was picked by the Salukis on both their all-opponents team from the IAC and all-opponents team from all squads played this season.

All five Eastern Illinois players were named to the first and second team when the Salukis voted for the toughest players they had faced in conference games. Here are the ones they picked:

First team: Forwards Norm Parberg, Eastern, and Cleon Gilliam, Michigan Normal; Center Don Ribanda, Illinois Normal; Guards Bill Sarver, Illinois Normal, and Roger Detro, Eastern.

Second team: Forwards Martin Chulovich, Eastern, and Jack Penger, Western; Center Ed Taylor, Eastern; Guards Bob Lee, Eastern, and Webster Kirksey, Michigan Normal.

On the all opponents team chosen from all teams played during the year were, besides Sarver, Forward Ron Esterfield and Guard Jim Lamkin of DePaul; Center Bob Kovas of Millikin and Forward Howie Berggren of Illinois Wesleyan.

Speakers for Southern's coaches' clinic March 27 will be Lee Eilbrecht, University of Illinois baseball coach, and George Marshall, track coach at Michigan Normal, according to Leland "Doc" Lingle, clinic manager.

Huskies Ready To Defend IIAC Wrestling Crown

Northern's Huskies, defending champs in the IIAC, will get their first taste of tournament competition this season when they participate in the Wheaton College Invitational tournament.

Last week the Huskies closed their dual season by losing 4-11 to Wheaton College, giving Coach Bob Kahler's crew a mark of three wins, two losses, and two ties over the season.

This week the Huskies will put their IIAC crown on the line when they play host to the other conference schools in the annual grappling derby, which is coming to DeKalb for the first time, March 7.

WN's three vicarities were over Western, Eastern and Illinois Normal. The losses were to Beloit College and to Wheaton, while two draws were fought out with SIU and Wheaton.

Undeclared junior John Reimer, 130 pounder from Elmhurst, is the mainstay of Northern's team. Reimer was undeclared last year too and is after his second IIAC title. He won his first as a 137 pound sophomore. This season at 130 pounds he has won three matches by fall and four by decision.

Another Northerner going into the Wheaton match with an enviable record is Tom Sims, a 167 pound grappler, with a record of five wins, a loss and a draw.

Ray Rippelmeier Is Voted Most Valuable

Ray Rippelmeier has been named Southern's most valuable basketball player by his teammates.

The 6'3" sophomore forward was top scorer and rebounder for the Salukis during the 1952-53 season.

He wound up with 368 points in 24 games for an average of 15.3 per game.

Rippelmeier made Southern's starting five last year as a freshman. He was fourth in scoring last season with an 8.2 game average.

Although he had a few off nights, Rippelmeier was Southern's most consistent high scorer. His highest single game total was 30 points made against Northern Illinois.

Forward Bob Nickolaus and Guard Harvey Welch ranked second and third in individual scoring for the season. Nickolaus had 358 points in 21 games for an average of 12.3. Welch had 256 in 24 games for an average of 10.7.

Other scoring averages for the Salukis: Chuck Thate 9.1; John Cherry 8.5; Gib Kurtz 8.1; Jackie Theriot 5.6; Dan Smith 4.6; and Jack Morgan 3.9.

Southern Track Field Schedule

SIU track and fieldmen will compete in seven dual meets and three multi-team meets this season.

In addition Southern will compete in the first annual invitational meet at Normal and the conference and district championships. The schedule:

April 8—Southeast Missouri at Cape Girardeau.

April 11—Western Illinois at Carbondale.

April 18—Missouri School of Mines at Rolla.

April 28—Southeast Missouri at Carbondale.

May 2—Illinois Normal at Normal.

May 5—Eastern Illinois at Carbondale.

May 9—(Normal Invitational) SIU, Normal, Western, Eastern, Northern.

May 16—Washington U. at Carbondale.

May 22, 23—IIAC at DeKalb.

May 29, 30—NAIA at Macomb.

Tennis Team Has Five Lettermen

Things may look up for Southern in the sports line as far as tennis is concerned. All five of last year's lettermen are out for practice, according to Coach Jim Wilkinson. An experienced team such as this may be able to boost Saluki sports standing.
