WINTER SCENE

Show on the trees and shrubs created this winter scene on campus last week, as winter took a final fling in southern Illinois. More snow Saturday night added to that already on the ground. This area in front of Algeid and between Shryock Auditorium and Old Main is representative of the scenes which turned the SIU campus into a "Winter Wonderland." While everyone appreciated the beauty, some students found the slippery walks slightly treacherous. (Photo by Val Biggers)

Student Group Asks Action In Racial Issue

SCF Invites Church Leader

The Student Christian Foundation has announced that Lois Mothershed, national president of the Disciples of Christ Student Fellowship Ecumenical Conference, will be on campus today through Thursday to speak to campus groups about the life and mission of the church in its relationship between different racial groups. One of the first Negroes to graduate from Little Rock's Central High School, Miss Mothershed is able to speak as a student from her own experiences. During the past summer she was in the Middle East in an Ecumenical Work Camp. She is now a senior at Phillips University.

Council Hears Requests Of Five Students At Meeting

A group of students urged the Student Council to "stop talking and do something about" racial discrimination in Carbondale, at the weekly meeting Thursday night.

After a long and somewhat heated discussion both among Council members and with several visitors, the Council adopted a George Bricker proposal which would send letters to Carbondale merchants.

The proposal also indicated that the Egyptian was inconsistent in its coverage of the discrimination, because it accepted advertisements from some merchants who are allegedly discriminating against Negroes.

Bricker, the out-in-town senator, proposed that (1) the Council send a tactfully worded letter to businessmen giving the Council's stand on discrimination; (2) publicize through the Egyptian to the student body the problem at Egyptian editors the inconsistency in its accepting policy, where by it advertises advertisements of businesses which discriminate.

Don Parker, one of the visiting students, told the Council, "Haven't you planned to go enough? You spent months talking about bicycle registration, and now you have a real issue at hand. Sending a letter to merchants is good, but you have to follow it up."

Bob Hunt, senior class president, answered that caution must be used to fight something which the nation is still attempting to defend.

Robert Rausch, another visiting student, stated that he and Parker had been doing some research with the discrimination problem.

'Ike Invites 2 SIU Men To D. C. Confab

John H. Erickson, associate professor of industrial education, and Ralph O. Gallington, chairman of the SIU School of Applied Science, have been invited to attend the White House Conference on Occupational Safety in Washington, D.C., tomorrow.

The two were invited by President Eisenhower to participate in a conference which will bring together in the nation's capital more than 2,000 leaders from American industry, labor, agriculture, government, insurance, education, health and private safety organizations.

The purpose of the Conference is to devise and then apply voluntary cooperative means for reducing the 13,000 deaths and nearly two-million disabling injuries occurring annually in on-the-job accidents.

Chairman of the Conference is James P. Mitchell, U. S. Secretary of Labor.

Talks On Radiation Set Here

Two researchers associated with the Oak Ridge and Argonne national laboratories will discuss radiation effects on animals and organisms at zoology department seminars during the next two weeks.

Today at 4 p. m., Dr. Theodore Thamsian of the Division of Biological and Medical Research at Argonne National Laboratory will describe "Radiation Effects on Invertebrate Organisms."

Next Tuesday at 4 p. m., Dr. Ralph Thomas, a member of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies team at the University of Tennessee Agricultural Experimental Station, will talk on "Variation Between Species and Within Species to Ionizing Radiation."

The weekly seminars, sponsored by the zoology department, are held in Room 206 of the Life Science Building.

Ron Rathburger Named 1961 Editor Of Obelisk Staff

Ron Rathburger, Mt. Prospect junior industrial education major, was named editor of the 1960-61 Obelisk by the Campus Journalism last week. Named associate editors were John Barker, Billie Byers, Large and Gerald Lawless.

Rathburger served as associate editor of the Obelisk for the past two years, and was assistant layout editor one year. He is a member of the Industrial Education Club and the Thompson Point Executive Council. He is a resident of Browne Hall.

Miss Barker, a sophomore speech major from Eldorado, also was on the staff for the past year. Miss Large served as associate editor of this year's Obelisk, and was renamed to the position. She is a junior education major from Springfield, Lawless, a freshman, is from Jacksonville. He is a liberal Arts and Science major.

The new staff will take over April 1, to begin work on the Obelisk for next year.

W. Manion Rice, assistant professor of journalism, is faculty advisor to the yearbook.

Faculty Meets Here March 10

There will be a meeting of the University faculty at the University School Auditorium at 4 p. m. Thursday, March 10. The discussion of the general reorganization of the University which was deferred from the last meeting will take place, and there will also be a third report to the faculty on the progress of studies covering a revised general education program.

Theta Xi Show Set For Weekend

Fourteen acts will go through, paces this week in preparation for the 13th annual Theta Xi Variety Show, set for Friday and Saturday nights in Shryock Auditorium. Tickets will be on sale at the Student Union throughout the week at $1 per person.

With the exception of a few hundred general admission tickets, all seats will be reserved. The 14 acts were selected by five judges from some 55 applicants at tryouts last week. The acts will run from satires of campus situations to serious presentations. The show will be composed of eight group acts and six individual acts.

Both shows will begin at 7:30 p. m. Bob Anthony, KMOX disc jockey and news caster, will be master of ceremonies for the two nights.

Eleven candidates have been selected by the fraternity from the approximately 25 which were entered. Five girls - Mary Alice Carmagli, Mary Lee Hake, Zelma Johnson, Joanne North and Marsha Van Cleave - and six men in line for the honor. The men are John Baker, Billy Berry, Bob Harward, Jim Haynes, Bob Hunt and Jerry Marchiondo.

Young Democrats Club Meets Tomorrow

There will be a meeting of the Young Democrats Club in Old Main, Room 206, tomorrow at 8 p. m.

The club is re-forming after a period of inactivity, and elections will be held at the meeting.

Cagers Lose Title-Clinchers Against Western, Ill. Normal

The Saluki basketball team blew its chance for undisturbed possession of their first IIAC crown in 10 years last weekend. The SIU cagers dropped Friday's tilt with new co-champions, Western Illinois, 77-74, Saturday night, Harry Gallatin's disappointing contingent were a stepped in their tracks by a red-hot shooting Illinois State Normal quintet, 95-84.

As a result of the double loss, the Salukis dropped into a little tie with the Leathernecks of Western Illinois, who demolished Eastern Illinois Saturday night, 103-74.

Friday night against Western, the Salukis started off very cold but wound up outdoor with the Leathernecks from the field, 30 field goals to 25 for Western. Western wrapped up the game from the free throw line, however, hitting on 27 of 38 tosses. The Salukis shot only 26 times from the charity stripe, hitting 11.

Saturday at Normal, the Redbirds were unconscious from the field as they hit 35 of 58 attempts for an astonishing 614 percentage. The Salukis were not cold with 471 on 52 of 88.

Southern now stands 18-8 for the season. The Salukis finished the IIAC loop (tied with Western) with 9-5.

Against Western, the Dogs held on in a see-saw first half. With 15 minutes left, Hepler gave the Salukis a 10-7 lead. After trailing and leading by a one-point margin, Hepler came two more from the line to tie the title-seeking Salukis a 20-15 lead. Two free throws by McCreath, another jump by Hepler, who tallied 11 points for her act. Miss Nocheff, from Granite City, will perform one of the six individual acts which join eight group acts to make up the show. KMOX radio personality Bob Anthony will act as master of ceremonies. ## Philippine Governor Visits Southern; Juan G. Frivaldo

Juan G. Frivaldo, governor of Boracay, a province in the Philippines, arrived at Southern Sunday for a round of activities ranging from meetings with SIU staff members to inspection of a small town factory.

A participant in the Foreign Leader Exchange Program of the International Exchange Service, Gov. Frivaldo yesterday observed the operation of an area factory with Robert Henderson, industrial consultant of the SIU Department of Community Development. He attended a meeting of the SIU community consultant staff, and last night visited a meeting of the Carterville Lions' Club.

His schedule today will include a trip to Centralia with Robert Child and Fred List, SIU community consultants, who are presently assisting in a community development program there. Chairman of the Philippines National Council on Tourism, he will meet with Chester Williams, Centralia city manager and lunch with city council members.

Breakfast with Robert E. Knittel, director of SIU's Department of Community Development, a session with the department's assistant director, Richard Franklin, and a conference with Dr. H. B. Jacobini, SIU government department associate professor who was formerly a public administration and community development advisor in the Philippines, will end Gov. Frivaldo's stay in southern Illinois tomorrow.

Award Holders Deadline Near

Students are reminded that applications for scholarship and award assistance are due and should be submitted before March 15.

More than 300 students are involved in the scholarship program. Ronald K. Green, coordinator of financial assistance, said the SIU Scholarship and Activities Awards are granted on one-year terms, and must be reapplied each year.

Students should contact the Financial Assistance Center in the Office of Student Affairs for further information.

Social Security Man Speaks Here Friday

Career opportunities in the Social Security Administration for college students will be discussed Friday at 10 a. m. in Muckelroy Auditorium by E. Bishop Hill, district manager of the Social Security Administration from Harrisburg.

Of particular interest to students will be information about early employment for college men and women who pass the Federal Service Entrance Examination. Hill will be available for personal interviews after his 11 a. m. and 2 p. m.

The Social Security Administration has positions for a large number of college students who will graduate before June 30. In addition, the SCA is trying to recruit a number of students in the junior class for employment this summer as student assistants.

All junior and senior students who are interested in careers with the Social Security Administration should attend the Friday discussion for complete information.

SWEETHEART CROWN

Iris Hudgins, freshman education major from Marion, is crowned queen of the annual Sweetheart Dance. Placing the crown on Miss Hudgins is Barbara Gill, retiring queen. Miss Hudgins was crowned Saturday night in the faculty room of the University Cafeteria, where the annual dance was conducted to the theme of "Misty." Miss Hudgins was sponsored in the competition by the Jewel Box Music for dancers was provided by the Glen Daum orchestra. Off campus housing sponsors the annual dance. (Staff Photo)

Editors' Opinions

A Puppet?

The student newspaper is an integral part of a campus and of a student body. It is a mirror, reflecting the opinion of the students, faculty, administration and the editors. But above and beyond being a mirror, a newspaper must be a responsible media. It carries out its responsibility by a wave of opinion, instigated by emotion, whether it be right or wrong.

The newspaper person is not afraid of criticism... for he meets that every day, either from others or from himself, for he above all others realizes he is not perfect.

The journalist is an interested individual. He is interested in seeing that the right is done, and the wrong is stopped.

He is a lonely person. He can be alone in a crowd and he must be able to keep himself a little apart from all sides. He cannot do his job well if he becomes filled with emotion and opinion. It is not that he is unfeeling or unemotional, but it is just because he must be able to look at all sides, weigh the contents and arrive at a balance which will aid all those concerned. Often this is done, but it is not always done. It is how best he can serve his public.

What happens to the journalist when he is treated by the press as a balance which will aid all those concerned. Often this is done, but it is not always done. It is how best he can serve his public.

about it... for I am here to serve you, not be an enemy. He fights for the freedom and responsibility of being able to serve all people and all sides. He wants his responsibility of being an aid to his world, his community, his people. Will you be free to accept and carry out his responsibility, he becomes a puppet.

But far more important than what happens to the journalist, is what happens to the newspaper. The campus news paper for example. It becomes not a newspaper, but a propaganda sheet... a house organ. When this happens, everything is lost... there is nothing left except printed words on paper. There is no responsibility, no meaning, no leadership.

When a newspaper is forced by any means or methods to support a particular subject, it means nothing. When the newspaper takes a definite stand it is responsible for anything which might happen. If a stand is taken, and an unfortunate incident takes place such as a howling mob, because of the related stand of the newspaper it becomes the newspaper's responsibility. The newspaper does not have to accept the responsibility for others... but it does... because its job is done for others.

The student newspaper is and must be a leader. But it is not, and cannot be a blind, destructive leader forced along by others.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Leading Educator

Field Study Unit Made

If a leading American outdoor educator's dream comes true, every school in southern Illinois will soon have access to a complete field study unit.

A two-wheel trailer, equipped to accommodate scientific apparatus, reference materials, cooking utensils, food and camping equipment for 30 students on a field trip, was designed by Dr. Lloyd B. Sharp, visiting professor at SIU. It can be built by high school or university shop classes at low cost.

Demonstrations of the Mobile Learning Laboratory, which is called, are being staged for southern Illinois school administrators. Recently a group of county school superintendents spent a day of field study with the laboratory, witnessing first-hand what students in outdoor education programs would learn.

Sharp hopes that eventually every county in southern Illinois will own a trailer that will be available to all school districts in the county. He will send free building plans to any school interested in constructing its own mobile unit.

Sharp is national president of the Outdoor Education Assn., and director of the assn. national summer camp. He formerly was on the faculty of New York University, University of Chicago and Columbia University Teachers College.

The trailer is five feet wide, eight feet long and three feet high. It has rolls of canvas on top to form a tent structure over the trailer. Compartments in one side house food and cooking utensils, while the other side contains microscopes, textbooks, compasses, field glasses and measuring devices.

Having reference materials and study equipment in the field allows students to look at new findings while everything is still clear in their minds. Sharp says that in their study aids in subjects other than biology and natural science. It gives students something to write about; many planning before the trip brings in the health angle; conducting surveys and figuring amounts of timber is practice for mathematics; and they can take along sketch pads.

Sharp is national president of the Outdoor Education Assn., and director of the assn. national summer camp. He formerly was on the faculty of New York University, University of Chicago and Columbia University Teachers College.

Deadline March For English Works Contest

Wednesday, Mar. 9, is the deadline for contributions to the English Club student literary contest. The club plans to present student works in both prose and poetry at a spring meeting, but must have contributions now.

Any piece of literature written by a student is eligible for consideration. One or several pieces may be submitted. Entries must be submitted to the English department at 812 S. University Ave. in care of professor Georgia Winn.

FISHER IN OKLAHOMA ON LECTURE TOUR

Harvey I. Fisher, chairman of the SIU zoology department, is in Weatherford Okla., this week to give lectures and consult individually with students and instructors concerning science instruction at high schools in Weatherford and Ada, Okla. The trip is sponsored by the American Institute of Biological Sciences. Fisher left on the Oklahoma trip on Feb. 28.

Walmsley Exhibit Opens in Allyn

A one-man exhibition of paintings by William Walmsley opened Sunday in the Allyn Gallery. The exhibition, which is sponsored by the Department of Art, will continue through March 19.

Walmsley has exhibited extensively in both group and one-man shows throughout the country and has won a number of regional awards. His more recent paintings have been included in exhibitions at the Bodley Gallery and the Morris Gallery in New York City; the First Annual Provincetown Painting Exhibition in Provincetown, Mass.; the Louisville Art Center Annual and several Tri-State Exhibitions at Evansville, Ind. His last one-man show was at the University of Kentucky last spring.

Born in Tuscumbia, Ala., in 1922, Walmsley was educated in the public schools of Pueblo, Colo. He later studied painting at the Academie Julian in Paris and the University of Alabama, where he received his B.F.A. degree in 1951. He then spent months of study at the Art Students League in New York City before returning to the University of Alabama.

While a graduate student there he studied under Dr. John Galloway, now professor of art at SIU. Walmsley received his M.A. degree in 1953. He has also studied

WHEN HE'S READY FOR COLLEGE WHO WILL TEACH HIM?

Will he be in capable hands?
Let's hope so. Let's hope this bright-eyed youngster (and millions like him) will be taught by men and women who have the brains and the will to do a first-rate job. Let's hope he'll be taught by people who put their hearts as well as their minds into their work. Let's hope, above all, that he'll be trained to make the most of his God-given talents.

What are his chances?
Not too good, the way things are shaping up. For depressingly low salaries are driving gifted teachers into other fields. The same bleak financial outlook is discouraging significant numbers of talented young people from choosing college teaching as a career. At the same time, many classrooms are already beginning to be overcrowded. To add to the dilemma, college applications are expected to double within ten years.

This is a grave situation.
If this trend continues, the time will most certainly come when our colleges will no longer be able to produce thinking, well-informed graduates. And this will be a dark day for America indeed. For our very survival now as a nation depends on the use we make of our latent brainpower.

We must act before it is too late. Won't you help? Support the college of your choice—your own alma mater, the college near you, or the college sponsored by your church. Get to know it. Find out about the job it is doing, about its plans, its problems and its needs. Give it strong moral support. Give it financial support, too, so that it can expand its facilities and pay good teachers a fair, competitive wage. And, perhaps most important of all, encourage intelligent young people to consider college teaching as a career. Do as many of these things as soon as you can. The rewards will be greater than you think.

It's important for you to know more about what the impending college crisis means to you. Write for a free booklet on HIGHER EDUCATION: B&Z 38, Third Square Station, New York 36, N.Y.

Handy-Man

Bull Dozer to Home Ec

A former bull-dozer operator, garage mechanic, and "Broom" dealer, as a home economics student at SIU.

Joe C. Iwasyszyn of East St. Louis completed his first term in SIU's School of Home Economics with a straight "A" average. He is one of two men students working toward degrees in the school, the other being Roy Lamont Pribble of Benton, a freshman majoring in dietetics.

Joe, a junior, plans to become an interior decorator and architectural designer, fields in which he has been interested since his days at Assumption High School where he graduated in 1956. In high school, Joe concentrated on science courses, last spent one year at Missouri School of Mines and two at Belleville Junior College. He transferred to SIU last fall.

A member of the vast army of working students, Joe spent three years after high school graduation as an operating engineer on heavy earth-moving equipment. For more than a year he has been employed on weekends as a clothing store salesman in East St. Louis, and still goes home to work every Saturday and Monday.

One of Joe's summer jobs was riding and "breaking" horses for a summer camp. Another job was as an apprentice mechanic in a garage.

Music and sports are Joe's chief recreational interests. He played several instruments in his high school band and played the French horn one year in a symphony orchestra. He plays football one year in high school.

Joe plans to design homes, both exteriors and interiors, rather than going into industrial architecture. He likes contemporary design for exteriors, but has a fondness for traditional and early League. He transferred to SIU last fall.

"Contemporary interiors are all right if you just want convenience and ease of care," he says, "but for beauty I think it takes beams, ceilings, natural woods and traditional furnishings."

WOODY HALL ELECTING

Elections of Woody Hall executive officers will be held Thursday. Competing for president will be Sue Easterday, a Metroplex sophomore and Georgia Meagher, a sophomore from West Frankfort.

Vice president candidates are Mary Jo Oldham, Patricia Lanthorn and Bonnie Whipple. Secretarial candidate: Clara Lowe, is unopposed. It is the judicial chairman candidate, Judy Pruiot.

Seeking the office of treasurer are Rita Brake and Cheryl Zoelle. Patricia Van Buskirk and Sue Walters are candidates for social chairmanship.

Voting will take place during the lunch and dinner hours at the dormitory. According to Joyce Michels, a preliminary review of the candidates' petitions was cancelled due to the small number of girls seeking office.

Miss Southern Acres Contest. She was sponsored by the sorority.

After the tension of tryouts, the sorority is now working on the Theta Xi Variety Show act. Linda Sunda and Rose Search are co-chairmen and Sandy Buslick choreographer.

Nancy Smith moved into the chapter house this weekend, and eight more will be moving in Spring term to fill the house. They are Carolyn Bradley, Lynne Rothschild, Barbara Hungerford, Doris Steinmarch, Dee Ann Rock, Hold, Chris Duffy, Joyce Lu, and Joice Helton.

SIU INSTRUCTOR AT FOUNDERS DAY SERVICE
Randall Dubois, lecturer in the SIU applied science department, recently attended the Founders Day Service and reception at Washington University in St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Du Bois were guests of Dean William Bowling.

At the 107th anniversary several alumni and faculty were honored for outstanding achievement and service to the university.

Sandy Terry is a finalist in the SIU INSTRUCTOR AT FOUNDERS DAY SERVICE.

Beta Omicron Pledges Eight

Eight women students were recently pledged into Beta Omicron, journalistic honorary, in ceremonies at Woody Hall lounge. They were Linda Brooks, Mrs. Joan Lamb, Pat Lanthorn, Janice McNaught, Betty Jaspers, Kathy O'Dell, Mickey Sparks and Jean Tindall.

Another group of Beta Omicron pledges were initiated the week before at the home of the faculty advisor, Mrs. James L. C. Ford. They were Nancy Smith, Lois Irwin, Ann Southwick, Phyllis Bartlett, Barry Jo Wood, Sandy Matthews and Gretchen Schmitz.

In elections, Mary Ruth Lutz was named the new president. Nancy Smith is vice president; Gretchen Schmitz, secretary; Bobbie Downen, treasurer and Betsy Shadle, historian.

The fraternity has completed selling programs at home basketball games in cooperation with the athletic department. Also, the members have been gathering material for their application for affiliation with Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism fraternity.

Karla Meyer Wins Elsie Bain Honor

The third annual Elsie Bain Nursing Scholarship, awarded by the Holden Hospital Auxiliary, has been given to Karla Faye Meyer, a freshman student in the Department of Nursing.

Mrs. Martin H. Powell, chairman of the auxiliary's scholarship committee, said Miss Meyer received the award on the basis of high scholarship.

Miss Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Meyer of Carbondale is employed part-time in the Health Service.

The award, begun in 1957, is a full four-year nursing scholarship.

DOWNY TO ATTEND MILWAUKEE MEETING

John C. Downey, assistant professor of zoology at SIU, will attend a meeting of the Central States Branch, Entomological Society of America, in Milwaukee March 22-25. Downey is chairman of the General Entomology and Taxonomy Section, and will present four of the sessions in which results of individual research by entomology workers in central states will be given. He will also present a paper, "Mallophaga of the Birds of Midway Island."

Downey will also present a paper, "Mallophaga of the Birds of Midway Island." All psychology majors and minors are welcomed to the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Mueller Leads Off-Campus

John Mueller, president of Centerville House, was elected president of the Off-Campus Presidents Council last week in a special meeting in the Student Union.

In other business, the Council discussed possibilities of a judicial council similar to those of other student living areas.

Ann Barringer, secretary of the Council, gave a report on the Constitution which is now in preparation. Mueller reported on the first meeting of the Trouble-Shooting Committee, composed of students, householders and members of the Housing staff.

Rubinfoff Recital Here March 9

Rubinfoff and his violin will appear in a benefit performance for the Carbondale Rotary C.I.B. March 9 in Shroyck Auditorium. The concert will feature full scores of Chopin's "Polonaise," the "Warsaw Concerto" and "Rhapsody in Blue."

Rubinfoff will play one of the most precise instruments in the world, the famed Romanoff-Stradivarius violin which is insured for $100,000.

Tickets to the performance may be purchased from members of the Rotary Club and in Carbondale stores. Reserved seats are $2, and general admission is $1.50.

Mu Phi Holds Installation Of Officers

Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary music sorority, installed its chapter officers for 1960-61.

The newly elected officials are: Beverly Holmes, president; Nancy Parker, vice president; Ruth Lutz, secretary; Linda Brooks, corresponding secretary; Prilla Neirman, treasurer; Mary Alice Davis, historian; Millie Ledbetter, chorister; Karen Kenery, chaplain; Judy Marchildon, alumna secretary and Barbara McEnderre, advisor. Mrs. Phillip Olsson was selected as faculty advisor.

Miss McEnderre, a junior music major from Benton, received a $0 dollar award from the St. Louis County alumnae chapter. She was selected on the basis of scholarship, musical ability and personality.

A "get acquainted" tea was held last quarter for freshman women in music. In November, the sorority held its annual recital, which was open to the public. During the same month, the chapter celebrated founder's day at the home of Mrs. Phillip Olsson, advisor for the group. Some of the members made a trip to St. Louis to celebrate the founding of the sorority and to attend a Mu Phi conference.

The patrons and patronesses of the group were serenaded and presented with a subscription to "Triangle" the national magazine of the sorority, at Christmas.

A national inspection was held in December. Mrs. Gloria Thomsen, from Ohio, was the inspector. She had conferences with Mrs. Loretta Ott, asst. dean, the head of the music department, and with the Mu Phi officers. A model business meeting, pledging ceremony and initiation were conducted for the inspection.

The chapter had a work party at the home of Mrs. Olsson recently. Mrs. Betty Buck, the district advisor, was in charge of the event. Installation of the new officers was also held at that time.

Saluki Wrestlers Clobber Huskies

WHAT NOW?
That's probably what Jack Crider, Saluki 147-pound wrestler was wondering when he got in this unusual position. Jack got out of this predicament, however, and won his match over Coffey of Northern, 2-0. (Photo by Val Biggers)

Ending their regular season and tuning up for the IAC Tourney, Southern's matmen ground out an impressive 25-3 victory over the Northern Illinois Huskies Saturday night in Men's Gym.

The Salukis picked up five team points as the result of a forfeit before the meet started. The team then built up a 2-0 lead by winning the next five bouts. After Northern's Ray Guzak defeated Ken Pontikes for the visitors' only team scoring, SIU's Ken Houston and Houston Antwine both turned back their opponents to account for the final total.

Every weight victory, with the exception of the forfeit, came on a decision. Dick Frankenberger, one of the Salukis most consistent winners, racked up the lone shut-out of the meet with a 2-0 triumph over Tom Coffey in the 137 class.

Ed Lewis smashed NIU's Murray Grove, 20-3, to become the second Saluki to reach the 20 mark in a single match. (Frankenberger scored a 25-12 win earlier in the year).

Deke Edwards, SIU's lightest grappler, returned to the mat and made a 5-2 decision over Cesare Caldarelli. Edwards, a tough regular on last years team, has been out of action nearly all season with an arm injury.

Ray Conrad, the Huskies' Conference champ in the 167 class, did not make the trip because of illness.

The Salukis ended their dual meet season with a convincing 6-1 mark. Northern is now 6-3-1. Both teams will be battling for the IAC crown at the Conference tournament this weekend at Macomb.

The results:
115—Forfeit to SIU
125—Jim Blodsoe (S) decisioned Bill Kontas, 4-1
130—Deke Edwards (S) decisioned Cesare Caldarelli, 5-2
137—Frankenberger (S) won on decision, 13-4
147—Crider (S) decisioned Coffey, 2-0

157—Ed Lewis (S) decisioned Murray Grove, 20-3
167—Roger Plapp (S) decisioned Al Koltoffen, 5-1
177—Ray Guzak (N) decisioned Ken Pontikes, 6-2

191—Ken Houston (S) decisioned Cliff Hudson, 9-4
Heavyweight—Houston Antwine (S), decisioned Tom Seeman, 8-1

SIU wrestling coach, Jim Wilkinson, sent his "B" team to the Ozark AAU meet last weekend. The team, made up mostly of freshmen and sophomores, took second in the meet behind Rineer YMCA of St. Louis. The meet was held in St. Louis.

Southern took three firsts and three seconds in the meet. The results are:

First Place
Larry Meyer, 117-pounds
Bernie Feinstein, 191-pounds
Gordy Secker, heavyweight

Second Place
Frank Bulow, 157-pounds

Saluki Cagers Hepler And McGreal Excel On The Court And With The Books

By Tom McNamara
Some people contend that basketball and brains don't mix. Tom McGreal and Don Hepler are as good an argument as one may find, when people begin criticizing basketball and brains.

Saluki coach Harry Gallatin commented, "basketball fans look upon athletes as being dumb and this thoroughly grieves me because an athlete has to have brains to play college basketball." McGreal has scored 321 points in 26 games this year for a 12.3 average and has compiled a phenomenal 466 shooting percentage. McGreal also is the number three scorer and rebounder behind Charlie Vaughn and Hepler.

"Increased confidence has been the biggest single factor why my scoring has picked up," McGreal said. "Driving has also helped my scoring, because I usually am at a height disadvantage and the driving helps offset this handicap." "I believe the team has improved more than 75 percent since Christmas and I think we can win the district playoffs and also win the 22-team NIAA tournament in Kansas City," mentioned McGreal.

McGreal said, "this year's team has better balance and better defense than last year's, but the loss of Seymour Bryson really hurt. However, I think next year will be our year since all five starters return." "Gallatin's coaching has improved over last year because of the valuable experience he gained in all the players on the team agree that he is a terrific coach." "Randy McClary and his roommate Hepler are the two most improved players on the team," quipped McGreal.

McGreal had scholarship offers from the universities of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Northwestern. He chose Southern because it was not too far from home and he had

Cagers In Tourney!

The Saluki basketball team will begin its quest for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics basketball title tomorrow night at Naperville, Illinois.

The Salukis received an at large bid to the NIAA district tourney at North Central College. There had been some speculation that the tourney would be held in SIU's gym.

The IAC co-champions open up tomorrow night in the first round against McKendree College. McKendree was the winner of the Prairie Conference title. North Central College will meet Louis College in the second game of the single elimination tournament.

North Central is the representative of the College Conference of Illinois (CCI) and Louis College is the independent representative.

Southern is seeded first in the tourney and is a heavy favorite to advance to the 32 team National finals at Kansas City on March 7-12.

Despite having a small enrollment, McKendree is no brush off when it comes to basketball. It has two former Saluki cagers, Marvin Jones and Bill Roberts, on the squad. McKendree also has little Willie Williams, a former Herrin star, at one guard position.

North Central brings a very fine record into the tournament and are also expected to be tough.

Harry Gallatin may change his starting lineup. Sunday night he said "I may make a few changes."

Hepler and Vaughn seem to be sure starters. Gallatin may insert Dick Ruggles at guard in place of Jim Gualdoni.

Radio Station WSIU will carry tomorrow night's game and in the event Southern wins, it will carry Thursday's game also. Game time tomorrow night is 7:30. Broadcast time is 7:25. The final on Thursday is at 8 p. m.

Ugly Man Voting Soon

Voting for the Alpha Phi Omega Ugly Man Contest will be held next week. Booths will be set up both at the Student Union and a Thompson Point.

The winner will be announced at the first annual UMOC Dance at Lentz Hall April 2.

Students may vote as many times as they choose for a candidate. In this election, "stuffing the ballot box" will be legal.

North Central brings a very fine record into the tournament and are also expected to be tough.

Salt Lake Gymnasts Beat Minnesota But Lose To Illinois By 61-51 Decisions

Illini Coach Says SIU Would Cause Trouble In Big 10

"I thought we looked good in beating Minnesota but several bad breaks against Charlie Pond's University of Illinois gymnasts cost us a win," commented Salt Lake coach Bill Meade.

Southern lost to the Fighting Illini and beat the Gobbers by the identical scores of 61-51 Friday night in the Men's Gym. Illinois beat Minnesota 61.5-52.5 in the double dual meet.

Southern won only two events as Bob Kies turned in an outstanding performance on the side horse and John Taylor won on the high bars for the only other Salukis first.

Ray Hadley captured one first in the free exercise, second in the parallel bars, third on the side horse and two fifths in tumbling and the still rings. He was the top scorer in the meet.

Alvin Barbach turned in an excellent performance for Pond's gymnasts as he captured first in the tumbling and trampoline events. He took over for the former great University of Illinois gymnast Abe Grosfeld.

Illini coach Pond commented after the meet that "SIU would cause a lot of trouble in the Big Ten and finish high in the Big 10 standings."

When Pond was asked if his gymnasts would finish first in the Big Ten he answered, "Hell yes, but if Southern were in it they would cause us a lot of trouble."

For Southern, the evening was a night of frustration as Fred Tjerina slipped on his dismount after a sterling performance on the parallel bars. The fall took away from his otherwise great performance.

Ed Buffum and Ed Foster also saw substantive fine performances go down the drain as a result of a break in form. Buffum's break came on the high bar while Foster's break came on the still rings.

Minnesota lost despite a great performance from Captain Duane Hoecherl as he captured first on the parallel bars, second on the side horse and high bar and third on the rings and free exercise.

Southern captured five first places on the trampoline, side horse, high bar, rings and tumbling.

Jon Shidler took first on the trampoline while Kies was taking first on the side horse. Other boys taking first were Taylor on the high bar, Len Kalakian in tumbling and Bob Fester on the rings.

Minnesota's firsts came in the free exercise and parallel bars.

Dick Stone captured first in the free exercise and Hoecherl first on the parallel bars.

"Kies did a terrific job for us on the side horse and Taylor did a real good job on the high bar. I believe he is the second best in the Midwest on the bar," commented Meade.

Southern beat the Fighting Illini earlier in the season, 58.5-53.5, as the Salukis captured five firsts while holding Illinois to only two firsts. The University of Illinois turned the tables on Southern this time taking five firsts and the Salukis only two.

The Illini results:

Free exercise—Hadley I, Wiley S, Klausman I, Salter I, Kalakian S.

Trampoline—Barasch I, Shidler S, Kalakian S, the Wiley S, Kirby I.

Side horse & Kies S, Lawler I, Hadley I, Bird I, Salmon S.

High bar—Taylor S, Hadley I, Buffum S, Salter I, Shidler S.

Parallel bars—Salter I, Hadley I, Tjerina S, Bird I, Taylor S.

Still Rings—Bird I, Fester S, Tjerina S, Foster S, Hoehrerl M, Salmons S, Rolek M, Mullen M.

High bar—Taylor S, Hoehrerl M, Buffum S, Stone M, Shidler S.

Johnson M, Rolek M, Tjerina S.

Parallel Bars—Hoecherl M, Taylor S.

Still rings—Fester S, Tjerina S, Hoehrerl M, Foster S, Schwarztopf M.

Tumbling—Kalakian S, Wiley S, Wolf M, Stone M, Johnson M.

CANCELS EVENTS

Two athletic events were canceled here last weekend because of the snow dumped on the Midwest by Old Man Winter. The swimming meet between the Salukis and North Central was called off. The meet figured to be one of the finest of the year for SIU swimming fans.

The State AFROTIC basketball tournament was also called off because of the bad weather.

Graduate work is offered in 45 departments at Southern.

The SIU museum now has collections of more than 12,500 items in natural science.

for the half, and a hooker by Randy McClary gave Southern its biggest lead of the game, 32-22, with 6:33 remaining. Then the Dogs went sour. Smith and Sullivan provided the punch for Western to move within three at half, 41-38.

When the second half opened, it was all Western. Faced by Al Avant in the opening minutes of the final period, Western tied the count and then went ahead 67-41 before Randy McClary finally broke the ice after Southern had missed eight in a row from the floor. The Milltown, Ind., junior was the only one that kept Southern within striking distance. Charlie Vaughn, having trouble finding the range, finally hit his second field goal of the game with 13:50 left.

Vaughn began hitting and taking charge as the Salukis came from a 10-point deficit to within one, 73-72, with 1:07 remaining. Bell then potted two free throws to move the count to 73-72 before Vaughn hit a long jump to again close the gap to one point. Avant roamed between the Salukis and North Central was called off. The meet figured to be one of the finest of the year for SIU swimming fans.

being completely embarrassed with a brilliant performance good for 27 points, the highest game of his college career. Vaughn again had a cold first half with eight points. He committed his fourth foul as the second half opened and rode out the first 15 minutes of the half. When the jump-shot artist returned to fire, he canceled 13 kick points to total 21 at the evening.

Harold Bardo tuned a fine reserve role for the Salukis as he totaled 10 points. McClary turned in a fine first half, despite the fact that he spent parts of Friday and Saturday afternoons in the hospital because of a cold.

Normal had four players in the 20 point bracket. Captain Shaw, Hornacek and Dale Hayward each tallied 21 points and John Schwartz got 21.

The victory evened Normal's conference record out at 6-6. The game was the final of the regular season for both teams.

SCORING SUMMARIES

Southern—Vaughn 19, McClary 13, Hepler 13, McGreal 10, Rosser 2, Gaudoni 4, Ruggles 4, Lazenby 2, Bardo 2.

Western—Smith 18, McCollum 17, Avant 16, McAfoos 11, Bell 6, Sullivan 6, McDonald 1.

Southern—Hepler 27, Vaughn 21, McClary 11, Bardo 10, Ruggles 4.

Illinois Normal—Shaw 21, Hornacek 21, Hayward 21, Schwartz 20, Ringel 6, Tucker 4.

Southern— 41 33-74 Western — 38 39-77

Southern — 43 41-84 Normal — 50 45-95

Southern closed the gap to four on a McClary jump shot and a McGreal free throw, but Normal immediately moved out to a 45-38 lead.

Normal, featuring one of the finest balanced attacks the Salukis have seen this season, held a 50-43 lead at intermission. The second half was all Illinois State. After McClary made a free throw, the Salukis didn't score for four minutes and Normal moved out to 58-46. With 10 minutes left in the game, the Redbirds, continuing their brilliant attack, moved to a 70-56 lead.

Archers Club Formed In Murphysboro

A chapter of the National Field Archers Assn. has been installed in Murphysboro. The chapter is known as the "Shawnee Bow Hunters Club."

The club has extended an invitation to SIU students and faculty and anyone in Carbondale who is interested in archery to participate in the clubs activities.

Illinois has allotted a tract of land in the Lake Murphysboro lake area and are planning to build several building units for the club. According to the officials of the club, the state is cooperating with the club to make the local chapter one of the best in the Midwest.

The Shawnee Club has the course laid out and it is expected to be completed in the latter part of March. The club has extended membership privileges to Carbondale Archers.

There is a $2 fee for membership in the club. This fee includes insurance and all club rights and privileges.

Anyone interested in the club and desiring more information on the club may contact Lyles Sport Center (phone 12R) in Murphysboro.

'Cold' Victims Needed

About 200 "cold" victims and 15 or 20 persons to try an economical new kind of diet are needed by the SIU Health Service. Volunteers will be taken tomorrow and Thursday.

Mead Johnson and Co. has awarded a grant to the service for testing the effectiveness of a new cold medicine and a food substitute product. Test of the medicine, a small capsul, will take place over a period of two to three months, with 10 persons per day needed to take part.

Purpose of the food study is to determine patient acceptability of a food substitute which supplies all nutrients needed by an individual.

"What this means," said Dr. Lee, Health Service head who is directing the tests, "is whether a person can eat only this product for a week and still enjoy it."

The food product is a chocolate-flavored substance which, when mixed with two parts warm water, tastes like cocoa. One container provides 2,000 calories and is sufficient for one person for one day.

Chem Contest Now Open

Dr. Paul Moore, director of Northwestern University's voice laboratory, was a recent speaker before Sigma Alpha Eta, professional fraternity in speech correction, in University School's Studio Theatre. Moore showed his award-winning film, produced in Northwestern's Laryngeal Research Laboratory, which is a detailed study of the action of the human larynx. Moore is editor of three professional magazines in his field.

Opening of the 1966 contest in colloid and surface chemistry among college undergraduates is announced by the University of Southern California. The contest is sponsored by the Continental Oil Co. of Houston, Texas and Ponca City, Okla., and is now in its fourth year.

Students of chemistry, biochemistry and chemical engineering at all accredited colleges and universities of the United States and Canada are eligible if they are regular undergraduates on April 1.

The contestants may enter either a report on a research project conducted by themselves or an essay on the subject, "The importance of the ultracentrifuge in colloid chemistry." The best essay and the best report will each receive prizes of $500 and the second best $200 each under contest regulations. Honorable mention prizes of $50 each are also provided.

The deadline for submitting entries is July 1. Entry blanks may be obtained immediately by writing K. J. Mysels, Chemistry Department, University of Southern California, Los Angeles 7, Calif.

Prizes will be awarded by a panel of anonymous judges and will be distributed Sept. 1.

As contest chairman, Dr. Mysels is being assisted by an advisory committee composed of Dr. S. Brunauer, Portland Cement Assn., Chicago; P. H. Emmett, Johns Hopkins University and Prof. Margerie Vold, University of Southern California.

Business Prof Writes Article
 Clifford R. Burger, assistant prof. of accounting at SIU, is the author of an article appearing in the current publication of the Small Business Administration, Washington D. C.

Title of the article is "Small Business Record Tools for Better Management Control." In it, Burger points out that one of the major problems of the small businessman is his financial records—maintaining proper records and management of the full value of present records. Interpretation of financial reports, application of financial records, and use of business records in comparative status of firms with others of similar size in the same line are all explained in the outline and accompanying article.

Burger's article appeared in the Southern Illinois Business Bulletin published at SIU.

Because of the general application and clarity of the article, permission for the reprint and general distribution was requested by the national bureau. Copies may be obtained free by writing SBA field offices requesting Coordinators Kit Item No. 37 or by writing the College of Business, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale and requesting the spring 1959 issue of the college bulletin.
