Chou invites Senate leaders

Congressmen approve China results

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Nixon won congressional leaders' support Tuesday for the results of his mission to China. And he disclosed that the two top Senate leaders have been invited to visit Peking in a continuation of Sino-U.S. contacts.

The White House said Nixon received substantial support from the bipartisan leadership of House and Senate on his historic journey. This was borne out by comment from the Congressional leaders who were briefed at the White House.

It was announced that Nixon feels he already has adequately filled in the American public on his accomplishments and impressions after summit meetings with China's leaders and seven days in that country.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President was on nationwide television-radio with his statement Monday night and will have "no further report as such to the nation."

The big news out of the White House Tuesday was Nixon's announcement to Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Minority Leader Hugh Scott, R-Pa., that Chinese Premier Chou En-lai plans to invite them to visit China at a time that will be mutually convenient.

Both Mansfield, who served as a U.S. Marine in China in 1921-22 and was a professor of Asian history, and Scott, a collector of Chinese and other Oriental art, have previously expressed an interest in going to mainland China.

Ziegler said that at the last meeting with Chou in Shanghai, Nixon asked the question of people-to-people contacts and exchanges between the U.S. and China was discussed, the premier said he knew of the interest of Mansfield and Scott in going to his country for a visit.

He told Nixon he would invite them, Ziegler said, and the president passed along the invitation at the White House Tuesday.

In response to questions from reporters, the presidential spokesman said that there was nothing substantively new in the briefings Nixon gave to 21 congressional leaders.

Nixon followed up the 95-minute meeting with the congressional leaders with an 80-minute meeting with his Cabinet. No details were given on this.

After his return to the Capitol, Mansfield told newsmen the response among the bipartisan leadership group was "unanimously in favor of the President's trip and what he accomplished."

For Taiwan, the Montana Democrat said reductions in U.S. troops already were being made on the island before the President's trip.

Scott told reporters U.S. troops would not be wholly withdrawn from Taiwan prior to a settlement between its government and Peking, but the present force level of about 8,000 would be reduced to a pre-Vietnam level of some 2,000 as American forces are phased out of Vietnam.

Indian sites, billiards get council's attention

By Barry Cleveland

Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A depleted Carbondale City Council met Tuesday night to review routine city business and discuss items ranging from regulation of billiard parlors to excavation of ancient Indian sites.

Meeting for the first time beneath a yellow, blue and red "All-America City" flag, the council in formal session approved weekly bills and a bid for storage buildings.

Mayor Neil Eckert and Councilman Clark Vineyard were absent from the meeting which was presided over by Councilman George Karas.

In informal discussion, the council considered the possibility of revising a 1964 ordinance banning the location of billiard parlors "in any area not on street level."

The ordinance also prohibits more than three parlors in the city at one time and regulation of the city for city financing of excavation in the Cedar Lake area.

Under the terms of the contract, the city would provide up to $2,000 to assist the University Museum in the excavation of ancient Indian sites.

Sites to be excavated are located in the area to be inundated by the 1756-acre Cedar Lake reservoir. The work will be done by the North American Archaeology Division of the SIU Museum, and must be completed by May 30, 1974.
Derge appoints task force to study SIU's management

By Sue Roll
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

President David R. Derge said Tuesday that the members of a task force to study management at SIU-Carbondale should be named sometime this week.

The three-man task force will analyze the entire administrative structure of the University, Derge said, and make recommendations on possible organization and improvement of the administrative system. "We want to make sure we're getting the most for our administrative dollar," he said.

Derge disclosed his plans for the task force Monday night on the WSU-TV program, "President's Report."

All members of the task force will be chosen from the faculty of the SIU Department of Business, Derge said. Derge said he had decided against calling in an outside professional consulting agency because drawing on SIU resources would be economical and efficient.

The three men on the task force will be working full time on the review with their other duties at the University, such as teaching, assigned to other individuals, Derge said. There will be no increase in pay for the task force work.

Derge said he could not specify how long the review would take, but expected the entire report would be prepared inside of six months.

All University offices and administrators will be asked to make their files and procedures available to the task force.

Derge said there will not necessarily be a freeze on all appointments and changes within the administration pending the review. "We can't freeze everything in midstream," said Derge. "The administration is constantly changing and must meet the continuing needs of the University."

Senate reverses anti-busing vote

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate, with most of its absences accounted for, voted Tuesday and rejected the Griffin amendment to strip the federal courts of power to issue busing or desegregation orders in school desegregation cases. The vote against it was 50-47, which compared with the 48-4 tally last Friday to adopt the proposal of Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich.

Three of the five Democratic presidential contenders who had been absent Friday returned for the test and furnished the margin of victory for civil rights advocates to defeat Griffin's amendment.

200 deaths at hospital spark probe of 'doctor'

ELGIN (AP) - Law enforcement authorities awaited a report Tuesday on the deaths of 200 persons at a state mental hospital where a man worked as a doctor, although records show he had his Illinois licensing examinations three times. Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie also ordered an investigation.

Scardio Munsu-Vale, 48, who worked at the Elgin State Hospital since October 1969, was suspended Monday after an announcement by William R. Ketcham, Kane County state's attorney, that the deaths were being investigated.

Ketcham said he ordered the investigation after the Chicago Tribune said it "discovered overwhelming evidence that Munsu had talked his way into a position of trust," although he "apparently never completed medical school.

Dr. George Leroy, professor of internal medicine at the University of Chicago, indicated Tuesday he forwarded his report on the deaths to Ketcham. He declined to discuss the report, but said he is prepared to testify in court.

Munsu was not available for comment. The Tribune said the deaths occurred between April 1969 and August 1970, and the doctor worked in the hospital's geriatric section. Ketcham and Douglas Nocness, administrative assistant at the hospital, said that Munsu was removed from medical practice at the hospital to a clerical position in October after complaints by several members of the hospital's staff.

Munsu worked as a doctor at the hospital under a permit granted by the Illinois Department of Registration and Education. A law was modified in 1966 to allow graduates of a medical school to work in state hospitals, although they are not licensed.

Allen refused debate

To the Daily Egyptian:

I wish to state my complete agreement with the views expressed by Mr. Kumararatnam in his letter of Feb. 24. The heavy-handed tactic of threatening legal action to silence opposition must receive a firm rejection by all who truly support the values of a free university. As Kumararatnam indicates, I have indeed invited Douglas Allen to a public debate on the issues of academic freedom and faculty responsibility in the classroom. Allen has refused. Perhaps he believes that my basic ground rule that placard waving, slogan shouting goon squads not be permitted to disrupt such a debate would remove his most effective debate tactic. He probably feels that he has more to gain by deliberate deflation of the issue.

In the same issue of the Daily Egyptian John F. Gadway's contribution will receive an honored place in my growing collection of Campus Comedy Capers. I was certain that this kind of histrionics went out with the failed demonstrations of "On the Road to Mandalay." It appears to me that those faculty who claim to feel intimidated by the board's decision are generally those who have taken class time to vent their political hostilities, not just in passing, but systematically. They may now feel constrained to teach their subject and to try to teach it well.

'Straw Dogs' reclassified

To the Daily Egyptian:

With the thought in mind that Sam Peckinpah, director of Straw Dogs, in a letter I'd like to offer further observations that hopefully will correct its "fascinating" but "flawed" classification received in a Daily Egyptian review. Straw Dogs takes place in rural England, not in the American West. Instead of concerning oneself with speculation as the reviewer (Glen Amato) did, one must accept the location and examine why and how this location is employed. This is Peckinpah's first non-western attempt and the hunt for this location occupied him for a longer period of time than it did for his previous films. With the selection of a rural location in England he is able to present the viewer with a stereotyped environment of peace and serenity. Through the introduction and interaction of various characters in the opening scene tension is created by playing on our preconceived notions the environment serves to contrast and thus intensify the action which forms the nucleus. The West cannot provide this contrast for geographically and historically it is embodied with an air of hostility and violence.

The countryside does not maintain a passive role. As the film progresses, this visual element takes on a character of its own. The shot following the discovery of the dead cat, where the house is surrounded in black, and the closely framed sequence of Dustin Hoffman hunting gives the feeling that he is being 'held' from his wife.

Contrary to the assertion of the reviewer that Straw Dogs exists for its violence, it is radial violence that serves a thematic purpose. Peckinpah is commanding a new movement in noncommittal innocence in the West. In The Wild Bunch to include the rituals one goes through to reach maturity where the West ends and where one becomes a part of community. Each character is involved with violence as an element of life or as a solution to the fulfillment of his role. The so-called teenage slut is actually a young girl trying to grasp adulthood by attempting to gain Hoffman's interest; when she fails she immediately turns to the village idiot who is innocently (he has never been kissed) and unknowingly involved in achieving a similar goal. What would have made the film less off hand?

Turnout polling

To the Daily Egyptian:

Voters for Responsive Government was very pleased with the response to the call to register. Our data indicate that approximately 4,500 voters have registered since the initial drive in mid-December.

We would like to thank all the organizations that paid for advertising to support the drive, the local radio stations, particularly WIDB, which supported us through free public service announcements and news coverage, the Daily Egyptian and Carbondale Cablevision.

We are especially indebted to the League of Women Voters who worked countless hours to ensure the success of the voter registration drive. To Students Women's Coalition, Urban Life, the facilities, and the Dan Walker campaign whose members devoted many hours to the drive. Finally, we wish to thank the Board of Trustees for the government that the results of this drive indicate will prove beneficial to the area. We urge all locally registered voters to vote in the upcoming primary, county and school board elections.

Will board purge SIU faculty?

To the Daily Egyptian:

If the things I hold to be important were contingent upon my being granted tenure at this reactionary institution I might not say what I feel to be the truth in the Douglas Allen tenure case. I know as a fact that many of my colleagues who share my opinion as to the real issues and the pertinent facts in this case are prevented by a number of real considerations from speaking their minds. While I do not wish to belittle my colleagues, who, for fear of economic retaliation or career strained working conditions in conservative departments, hesitate to speak out-I would like to speak for them.

In the first place, I believe that the question as to Allen's professional competency is no longer a central issue. Apparently a majority of his peers in the Philosophy department believe that he is competent, and a majority of his students seem to feel that he is at least "better than the average instructor at SIU."

At this point for a layman to insist on the superiority of his own particular contrary opinion is both outrageous and absurd.

The central question in the Allen case is now whether the Board of Trustees may claim the right to act irresponsibly. A person who cannot or need not answer (respond) for his actions acts irresponsibly. When the board answers objections to its decrees by making statements which insult the intelligence of every member of the academic community and which do violence to the very ideals and ideas of their institution-"To become a center of order and light...ever promoting freedom with responsibility"-they act irresponsibly.

To be specific on this last point: The board argues that in Allen's case there is "insufficient evidence of excellence in teaching, research or service." If this is the board's real feeling on the subject, and not just a ruse for sweeping an obvious "trouble maker" under the rug, they have their work cut out for them, decimating the faculty of this University. If to be consistent in their actions one would expect them to start by weeding out the philosophy department, where, judging from the board's respect for their professional opinion, incompetence must be a way of life.

Recently, in a public statement, President Derge remarked that no faculty member should be intimidated by the University for taking a stand for what he feels is right. But when such a faculty member receives his walking papers it will be of slight consolation for him to hear that he is being let go for reasons of "insufficient evidence of excellence in teaching, research or service."

Where are books?

To the Daily Egyptian:

One of the most talked about books of last year was Miss Edith Efron's News Twisters. Giving evidence before a Senate subcommittee last year, Miss Efron testified that CBS was trying to suppress the book. Was that one reason why the forms that supply books to our library failed to send the book?

One of the more controversial and refreshing permutations of the last three years in the American political scene is the former governor of Maryland. His speeches were criticized by people who never read his speeches. But they were taken in the critical eye never acquired by the University.

Knowing the two top people of our library and appreciative of their unquestioned professionalism and unimpeachable integrity, one can only conclude that there must be a goof-up in the mailroom which one hopes will soon be rectified and these books be acquired, and also that important right-of-the-center journals like Human Events will add Merrill Library.
A stair-step system

Editor's note: This is part two of a four-part series

By Richard Lorenz
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

In order to understand how the University Senate operates, one must first understand the governance system which was approved early in 1971.

According to the campus governance document, the governance system is concerned with those matters of educational policy which are not assigned to a single department, school or college and matters of nonacademic policy which are of concern to one or more segments of the campus community. The system is designed to provide a policy-making structure in matters of general concern to the campus community. The Board of Trustees, however, has a major share in the making-power making.

The system is made up of four sectors—faculty, students, staff and administration. The four sectors are divided into constituencies: general faculty, graduate faculty, undergraduate students, graduate students, administrative and professional staff, nonacademic employees and administrators.

Each constituency is given the right to elect members from its own constituency to a campus-wide council or senate to determine its internal structure and rules of procedure. The councils and senates have original legislative powers over matters of nonacademic policy which are of direct concern to faculty, students, staff and administration. The principal function of the senate is to resolve differing viewpoints and to determine its internal structure and rules of procedure. The chancellor and president of the Board of Trustees appointed faculty members to the senate.

The U-Senate is a 36-member organization composed of 14 general faculty, 7 graduate faculty, 12 undergraduate students, 5 graduate students, 4 administrative and professional staff, 2 administrators and 2 alumni. The U-Senate operates through a board of seven senators and a business manager.

The board of seven senators is responsible for reviewing and modifying existing policy and making new policy in those areas which are primarily nonacademic and of direct concern to faculty, students, staff and administration. The principal function of the board is to resolve differing viewpoints between the various constituency councils and coordinating the different segments of the campus community.

The members of the senate are chosen by the individual councils and senates. The University Senate is an elected member of the senate and the president and vice president cannot be from the same constituency. Provisions are made for the use of the Board of Trustees to fill any vacancies in the office of the senate. In some cases, when an individual is appointed to fill a vacancy, the constituents are nominated at the regular meeting in November and are elected, at the time their council or senate may operate to correct this confusion.

There are three senate officers—president, vice president and secretary—who must be members of the senate. The president and vice president cannot be from the same constituency. The president and the vice president must be faculty members to serve on the senate. If two or more constituencies disapprove the proposal, it falls. If one disapproves, the proposal goes to the senate. Legislative proposals need the approval of the president. However, if the president disapproves, which can be ignored by the president. The president can veto any legislative proposal made by the senate by a two-thirds vote, the senate can override the veto.

Abortion: Story Needs Corrections

To the Daily Egyptian:

Re a Daily Egyptian article on Saturday, Feb. 26.

As everyone who has walked over or driven under the pedestrian overpass on Highway 51 has noted, construction has begun on another protective enclosure for the pedestrian overpass. Engineers estimate that the enclosure will cost some $10,000 in "previously allocated funds." For the fall term, 1971, the entire College of Liberal Arts and Sciences has been allocated $18,000 for teaching materials, equipment and other supplies.

Obviously there is no monopoly on the ability to confuse and misuse priorities.

Allyn remodeling bids well below estimate

By University News Service

Apparent low bids totaling $400,613 have been received for renovating the 64-year-old Allyn Building.

The bids, received Tuesday, appeared well below the $500,000 budgeted for the job. Total base figures do not include various alternates which will be examined by SIU architects before final contract recommendations go to the board of trustees.

The project will add an elevator-stair wing and will include new plumbing, heating, ventilating and electrical facilities.

The building formerly housed SIU's School of Art, parts of which will move back in when the project is finished. Eventually, Allyn Building will become a general classroom structure.

J.L. Simmons and Co. of Decatur, apparent low bidder on general construction work (at $248,700), stipulated a 100-day working schedule to completion.

Republican club officers elected

Cathy Whiteside, retiring vice-president of the SIU College Republicans, has been elected the club's president for the coming year. Miss Whiteside, of Georgetown, is a senior in social studies.

Other officers elected at a meeting of the club last week, according to retiring President Nancy Colonius, are Chuck Lewis, of Chicago, a junior majoring in accounting, external vice-president; Dan Guinnip, of Marshall, a junior majoring in agriculture, internal vice-president; Mike Moorman, of Metropolis, a freshman government major, secretary; and Mike Troutt, of Odysse, a freshman in general studies, treasurer.

Gagged Committee to Defend the Right to Speak members walk through the Student Center carrying signs announcing a "funeral" in protest of the Board of Trustees meetillQ in Edwardsville which refused to extend Doug Allen's tenure. The "funeral" will be at 12:50 p.m. in front of Morris Library.

Nowlan tries to make name known as running mate for Gov. Ogilvie

By David L. Mahan
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Who is James D. Nowlan? That's the question Nowlan is trying to answer in the minds of Illinoisans before the November elections.

Nowlan is Gov. Richard Ogilvie's running mate. He was in Carbondale Monday trying to reach at least a few students with that information. And the fact that Nowlan was interested in meeting only a few students is what makes his campaign style somewhat unique in the current frenzy of political activity.

The 30-year-old state representative from rural Stark County admits that his approach to campaigning is unconventional. In an interview Monday, the candidate for lieutenant governor said he hopes his style will cause people who meet him at talks to find the term "interaction" "whether in good or bad terms.

Nowlan's visit to Carbondale marked one stop in a series of one-day visits he hopes to make in at least 40 Illinois counties by the March 21 primary elections. While he said students he has talked to are impressed with Walker's and Eckert's independence from the party organization,

But Nowlan isn't worried about which Democrat will oppose him in November at this stage of the game. He is a busy man trying to make himself known. What's more, he appears to be a man on the rise-a winner in the "Outstanding Freshman Legislator" award, which he said doesn't mean much to him but sounds good.

With that background, does Nowlan have aspirations for higher office, maybe even the governorship?

"That's the first time anyone has asked that. I've never given it any thought. I'm running for lieutenant governor," Nowlan said.

"I'm not totally unknown in the state, so I must campaign full-time," Nowlan said, trying on his wire-framed glasses. Although he has a week appearance, Nowlan says he's felt a bit of a struggle and slender smiles, even though he tells some amazing anecdotes. "I think the real reason for campaigning last week was to change the way people view Nowlan," he said.

Grad school's operating paper accepted by members of faculty

The Graduate Faculty accepted the Graduate School's operating paper Tuesday following a vote to include the director of the University Museum as an ex-officio member of the Graduate Faculty.

The Graduate Faculty met for the first time this year, in Davis Auditorium to discuss revisions of the draft of the operating paper. The operating paper details the functions and operations of the Graduate School, the duties of the dean, membership and powers of the faculty and the composition and powers of the council. The paper has been reviewed and accepted by the Graduate Council.

Shortly after the meeting opened, Basil C. Hedrick, director of the University Museum, made a motion that the director of the museum should be an ex-officio member of the Graduate Faculty.

He said that "both the past and present museum directors held membership on the Graduate Faculty because of academic rank, teaching and/or research duties." Regardless of the situation of an individual director, he said, "we feel that the principle of including the head of the unit as an ex-officio member of the Graduate Faculty should be incorporated into the new operating paper."

After some deliberation a vote was taken and the motion passed with ten in favor, three opposed and six abstentions.

Lois Shelby, chairman of the Graduate Faculty, said that the "ad hoc committee had spent a great deal of time working on the operating paper and that he would refer their recommendation to the committee for further study.

Shelby asked the faculty members if they found the document sufficiently clear and if they had trouble understanding the changes that had been made. When they answered "yes," he asked if there were more recommendations for changes.

Silence ensued.

"Can I take this silence to mean that you are generally happy with the results of these changes, then?" he asked.

Members nodded in agreement and Shelby dismissed the meeting.

"It is a pleasant day and I don't want to keep you if there's no reason to be here," he said.

Kid party?

Guests at a birthday party given by the Student Center were five students who observe their fifth or sixth birthday anniversaries Feb. 26. From left are Kathy Majgiil of Palestine, Ethel Hunter of Cantonville, Edward Hatteberg of Plano, Linda McAley of Harvey, and Pat Cyrog of Skokie. The girls were all born in 1950, Hatteberg in 1948.

Northern Illinois University basketball fans got a taste of Southern hospitality Saturday night— in reverse.

A canister or pellet of Mace, tear gas, and another offensive gas was apparently released in section A1 of the arena during the second half of the NIU-NIU basketball game.

Fans sitting in that section, most of them from NIU, were temporarily evacuated, while police searched the area in vain for a canister. Police said many of the fans were coughing and some had watery eyes.

The noxious odor was eliminated by the Arena fans (the electric type, not human) and the Northern spectators were able to return to their seats about five minutes after the stench was noted, police said.

Undaunted by their supporters' problems, the NIU squad "gassed" the Salukis, 97-42.

Frisbee freethrows fling freely, frantically

The fast flying flash of the frisbees as they flew and flickered fairly fanned the flock of fans who fancied the flight far more than that of flamingos or fireflies.

That's the way it was at the first annual intramural frisbee tournament Sunday in the SIU Arena.

Randy Dick, junior from Cambria, defeated his roommate, J.B. Sch- widerski, also a junior from Cambria, by winning the first two rounds in the finals.

This final two-out-of-three contest concluded the single elimination tournament for the 38 men who entered the tournament.

They were the only two girls who entered the competition. "We expected more people to show up," said Jim Evans, intramural graduate intern.

"Next year we may have more events such as accuracy and distance contests if the student interest is good enough," said Larry Payton, another intramural graduate intern.

All of the frisbee events were run according to the official rules of the International Frisbee Association.

"The idea for this contest came from a suggestion in the suggestion box," said Payton. Students are invited to drop suggestions for the intramural (IM) program in the suggestion box at the IM office.

Petition period opens today for student election in April

By Randy Thomas
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

John Conlisk, Student Government election committee chairman, announced Tuesday that petitions for candidates in the April 28 election will be available Wednesday in the Student Government offices. The deadline for filing petitions is April 5, Conlisk said.

The positions of president and vice president of the student body and 20 seats in the Student Senate will be filled.

Conlisk, eastside dorm senator, explained that petitions for senator must have at least 50 signatures of eligible student voters and petitions for the executive posts must have at least 200.

Conlisk said that students seeking office must be full-time students and have at least a 2.0 overall grade average and maintain it while in office. Potential office holders must also plan on living in the district from which they are elected.

The number of senate seats open in each district are Brush Towers, 1; Thompson Point, 1; University Park, 2; small group housing, 1; eastside dorm, 1; westside dorm 1; eastside non-dorm 1; west side non-dorm, 4; VTI 1; commuter, 4; University City, 1.

The executive positions, according to Conlisk, are open to juniors and seniors. He said the president receives $2,200 salary and the vice president receives $2,000. The executives must remain in Carbondale over the summer, though they need not be enrolled in summer school.

Also open, Conlisk said, is the position of Student Government Activities Council chairman. He said the job, which is a paid position, is filled by appointment. Interested students should contact Tom Kelly, the present chairman, in the Student Government offices in the Student Center.

Conlisk said campaigns may begin immediately but no posters are allowed on or off campus until April 5.

Trio to play calypso music at Thursday's Convocation

By Sue Miller
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Lord Bill Barnes Trio will bring its music of the Caribbean to the Arena at 1 p.m. Thursday for Convocation.

Barnes studied singing at Carnegie Hall in New York City with a former opera singer. His first commercial job was at a small Greenwich Village club. Later he formed his own group and traveled throughout the United States and Canada playing in clubs, high schools, colleges and at conventions.

He sings pop, ballads, calypso and folk songs and accompanies himself on the guitar. The group has also recorded an album with Columbia Records, "The Greatest Calypso Hits."

The other two members of the trio are James Jackman on the steel drum and Miles Mathew on the congo drums.

There will be a coffee hour sponsored by Student Government directly following the Convocation show in one of the River Rooms of the Student Center.

Funeral services planned for students killed in crash

Separate funeral services will be conducted Thursday for an SIU coed and a former SIU student killed "Monday in an auto accident south of Carbondale." Mass for Tracey Anne Power, 21, a senior from Evanston majoring in English, will be said at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Nicholas Catholic Church in Evanston. Burial will follow in All Saints Cemetery in Des Plaines.

Miss Power is survived by her parents, Walter and Betty Power, Evanston; a sister, Elaine Greene, Evanston; paternal and maternal grandparents.

The Fitzgerald and Franklin Funeral Home in Evanston is handling the funeral arrangements.

Services for John Joseph McCann, 24, a former SIU student, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the chapel of the Beverly Ridge Funeral Home in Chicago.

The funeral Mass will be said at 10 a.m. at St. Margaret of Scotland Catholic Church in Chicago, with interment in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Worth.

McCann is survived by his mother, Mrs. Marvin McCann, Chicago; a brother, Daniel, Chicago; and his maternal and paternal grandparents.

Three others were seriously injured in the early morning crash on U.S. 51 two miles south of Carbondale.

Mark Hughes, 22, Carbondale, was admitted to Doctors Memorial Hospital in Carbondale, where his condition was listed Tuesday as fair. He is a sophomore from LaGrange, majoring in business.

Alvin Dey, 27, Cofon, was also admitted to Doctors Hospital and is in satisfactory condition.

William Craig Stephenson, 24, Harvey, was transferred Monday to Firmin De Loge Hospital in St. Louis, where he was described Tuesday as in critical condition.

'62 Chevy taken Monday

SIU security police Tuesday reported thefts of an automobile and two car wheels from another vehicle.

A light blue, two-door 1962 Chevrolet was stolen between 7:30 p.m. and 8:40 p.m. Monday while parked between 2:30 a.m. and 8 a.m. The 1970 Pontiac is white. The 1962 Chevrolet has white-wall tires, wheels and cracked windshield and a board in the place of the right front window.

Two white wall tires, wheels and wheel covers were stolen from a car parked in the Wilson Hall parking lot Saturday.

David Long, 29, Carbondale, told police the theft occurred between 9:30 a.m. and 8 a.m. The 1970 Pontiac Temppest was discovered Saturday morning with the rear jack up and the wheels missing.

Long put the loss at $146.

Drug rehabilitation plan up for approval

By Richard Loreau
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

George Mace, assistant to the president for student affairs, said Monday that a proposal asking for the creation of a self-help drug rehabilitation home for ex-felons on the SIU campus has been sent to various people on campus for evaluation.

Mace said the proposal was sent to approximately 15 people in various areas of the campus community. The proposal, written by the Narcotic Addict Rehabilitation Coordination Organization (NARCO), asks that the facility be established at SIU beginning September, 1972. The facility would be known as the "Whole Way Home."

NARCO is a group of inmates from Menard Penitentiary. It is a therapeutic program originated by the inmates and maintained by the inmates to help correct the convict's behavior relative to drug use and social rehabilitation.

The objective of the proposal is to demonstrate that ex-consverts with crime and drug addiction histories can make major changes in their life style. A possible location for the home, if the proposal is approved, could be in one of the Thompson Point dormitories.

Mace said he expected to receive the evaluations in about two or three weeks.

Back-to-the-Land festivities begin Wednesday in Student Center

By Daryl Stephenson
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Back-to-the-Land Festival, sponsored by the Student Environmental Center, will get underway at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Center Ballrooms with an introductory slide show explaining the purpose of the festival.

Ray Lentz, festival coordinator, said that the slide show will also discuss "the development of a new awareness of the future of environmental planning in Southern Illinois and the role that communal farming will play in that future.

Workshops, symposiums and guest speakers are planned for the festival, which will run through Friday in the Student Center Ballrooms.

The purpose of the festival, Lentz said, is to help people adjust to the difficulties of moving back to the country by using the services of people who have already overcome the problems of living in the rural areas of Southern Illinois.

Following the slide show, three workshops will begin at 3:30 p.m. The first will deal with "Organic Gardening and Farming" and will be held in the Ohio River Room. Participating in the workshop will be Ruth Figurak, Toni Roan, Dan Vassy and Jeff Ware.

All either live on farms in the Southern Illinois area or have had experience in organic farming, Lentz said.

Also participating in the workshop is John Reeves, director of the SIU Arboretum. "Reeves has had considerable experience dealing with pesticides," Lentz said and will provide technical information on pesticide use.

The second workshop is "Building Domes and other Shelters" which will be held in the Kaukasia and Missouri River Rooms. The workshop will be led by Jeff Graef, a former SIU student who has had experience in building domes, and Dale Klaus, a former assistant to Buckminster Fuller.

The third workshop is "Blacks and the Land," which will meet in the Illinois River Room. It will be led by Leon Paige of the United Front of Cairo, who will also speak on the same topic at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Ballrooms A and B of the Student Center.

Paige's evening address is being cosponsored by the Black Student Union.

Wednesday's activities will conclude with a symposium on "The Back-to-the-Land Movement in Southern Illinois." It will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the Student Center Ballrooms.

Participating in the symposium will be Ware, Roan, Norville Haines, Steve Miller, Tim Comiskey and Ronald Braintheite. All are either owners or are part owners of cooperative farms in the Southern Illinois area, said Lentz.

The Student Environmental Center, Lentz said, is a project designed to involve students in environmental problems.

In addition to publishing a newsletter, he said, the center has surveyed dam and channelization projects to determine their effects on the environment and has been involved in the recycling of waste materials.

Art exhibition open to all students; theme is 'hope'

A linoleum art exhibition which is open to participation by undergraduate and graduate students, will be held March 29 to April 5, according to George J. Mavigliano, assistant professor of art history.

The exhibition is to be held in Woodley Foundation, 406 S. Illinois Ave., and will include works from any medium.

Mavigliano said that the works will be expressed in the theme of "hope" which is "general enough to evoke a wide range of creative responses."

Mavigliano said that four cash prizes of $50, $35, $25 and $10 will be awarded at the opening of the show.

He said interested students can obtain entry blanks from Pulliam Hall, Second Floor, and the art history department, in Barracks 0843.

Frat to stage marathon for Easter seal funds

As part of the 1972 Easter seal campaign some 40-50 members of Delta Upsilon fraternity will participate in a bicycle marathon from Carbondale to Chicago starting at 8:30 a.m. Friday, according to Charlie White, chairman of the marathon.

The marathon will consist of two bicycles. One will be ridden by a member of the fraternity at all times while within the city limits of a town, while the other member of the fraternity is passing out leaflets and soliciting funds.

While the group travels from town to town on Interstate 75 the cyclists will pedal an exercise bike on the roof of a truck with a mileage counter attached. There will be someone pedaling the bike at all times during the day. By the time the group arrives in Chicago on Sunday it hopes to have covered around 800 miles on the bike.

The riders will carry a giant Easter lily baton symbolizing Easter Seals and the marathon ride. The group will spend Friday night in Eflingham and Saturday night in Kankakee. All of the funds raised in a town will be turned over to that town's Easter Seal Fund.

COAL KITCHEN

A strange phenomenon is going on at SIU—the University is trying to give away money, and students aren’t making much of an effort to get any of it. Charles E. Gray, assistant director of Student Work and Financial Assistance, said student applications for the Illinois State Scholarship Monetary Awards have been much slower than had been expected.

He said that so far only about 1,000 applications had been taken out with 1,500 scholarships being available. Last year there were 5,783 applications, out of which 2,449 students received the monetary award. “This year we were hoping for more than 7,500 applications. I know we have pretty close to that many students who could qualify,” Gray said.

Gray said that Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie pledged he would try to get $50,000,000 appropriated to the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

“If he does, there is a possibility that SIU would get $20,000,000 instead of its present $1,000,000,” he said.

However, if this doesn’t occur, students may find that all the money may be gone by the June 1 processing deadline, as was the case last year. With this in mind, the Student Work and Financial Assistance office will be in the River Rooms of the Student Center Thursday and Friday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

“The next processing deadline for the scholarships is April 1—our office hopes to have as many applications in by that date as possible,” Gray said.

He explained that most students will be going home over break and at this time parents will also be filling out tax forms. “We figured that if students could get their parents to fill out the forms while they were at home, it would be better for all concerned parties,” Gray said.

Students who apply by the April 1 deadline will be notified by June 1 if they will receive the scholarship, while those who apply by the June 1 deadline will be notified by July 1.

“Statistics from last year show that 40 per cent of the scholarship recipients came from families with incomes of less than $3,500,” Gray added. “If recipients, though, were from families with incomes of $10,000 or more, recipients for the monetary awards are decided on by financial need as determined by parental income, assets, number of dependents in college, etc. Other requirements are residence, race, sex, and full-time undergraduate enrollment in good academic standing in an approved Illinois college or university.

J.P. Brackett, vice president of Academic Affairs, issued a memo to all teaching faculty, asking that students be informed of all opportunities for financial assistance.
Early to rise and a free breakfast for Salukis

By Jim Brass
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

Despite the record-shattering victory over Illinois State in the SIU Arena Saturday night, the Salukis were far from satisfied. Their NCAA probation did not get any easier.

For it was following the Sunday morning edition that the team arrived bright and early for a morning meeting at the upper conference of the arena.

One reason for the early morning workout (8 a.m.) was due to the fact that the team will be participating in an intramural tournament in the afternoon.

Another reason, according to assistant coach Jack Risterfeld, was that Coach Bill Meade felt his box men were not getting used to the same conditions that will prevail this Friday at the national meet in DeKalb.

The Midwestern Conference affair is slated for starting time Friday. Two sessions will be run on Friday, compulsory in the morning and optional at 7:30 in the evening.

Meade would like the gymnasts to get used to rising earlier than normal for Friday's compulsory meet.

The Saluki coach also indicated that by the end of optional routines on Friday, team and all-around results will be tabulated. First-place team finisher and top three all-around performers automatically advance to the national meet on April 8-9 at Ames, Iowa.

The same lineup that worked against Illinois State will get the assignments for conference action. "We've been tuning up this week," Meade said, "we're ready to go.

He feels that the only barrier to the gymnasts' second consecutive conference crown is Indiana State, a team which the Salukis defeated Friday night by less than two points.

That's why Meade has been drilling his boys on compulsories since the beginning of the year. "We've been working on compulsories, we don't know that much on how they will perform.

Southern took a commanding seven-point lead over the Salukis in the first round of last year's conference meet, 148.35-141.5. They eventually won with a score of 191.6, while the Salukis were runupped at 190.35. Rounding out the top three were Indiana (172.95), Northern Illinois (152.85) and Illinois State (152.30).

This year, compulsories are looking much better for the SU squad. "I think we're capable of getting between 156-158 points," Meade said.

Add about 16 more optional points to the SU's score, and you have a team averaging with a full squad and one finds a potent point improvement over the 1971 conference meet.

Meade thinks that his top all-arounder, Tom Lindner and Gary Monroe, are shorebuts for the top two all-around positions. Jeff Farris has an excellent chance of finishing third in that category.

Judged on dual meet performance, Lindner and Monroe stand better-than-average chances of qualifying on parallel bars and horizontal bars. Monroe also boasts strong optional routines on floor exercise and vaulting.

Benchwarmers

Stun other coed gymnasts

You might say that the SIU women's gymnastics unleashed a couple of epee weapons Saturday at Central Michigan University.

Because it isn't often a freshman and performer lacking prep training can come off the bench and surprise the rest of the field.

That's what two of Herb Vogel's girls did last weekend and defeated a host of other schools in winning the Midwestern Conference meet.

SIU had a total of 105.15 points to runupped Illinois State's 97.20. Kent State was third with 94.30.

All three schools qualified for the national meet set for March 25 at Iowa, Mo.

Val Fugali, a freshman from Chicago, was the all-around contest winner, edging Indonesia State's Lori Amoskee 34.90-34.70. Southern gymnastics Carole Donnell y, the Mayhe was placed third and fifth, respectively, with scores of 19.0 and 33.35.

But that wasn't all for Ms. Fugali's heroics. She was the event champion on balance beam with a mark of 9.15, edging Ms. Amoskee. Ms. Fugali also placed second on floor exercise and tied for second on uneven parallel bars.

The second "secret weapon" un- veiled by the Saluki women was Carol Donnell y. The fourth member of SIU's "mini-squad" Saturday, Ms. Donnely finished in third for third on floor exercise and balance beam. That's especially outstanding, according to Mr. Vogel's opinion, since she's only had three weeks of practice to work on the floor, mini-squad act as a substitute for her roommate, Teresa Barrows, who is out of action for the rest of the year with a back injury.

Salukis didn't have much activity in 1970 but ineligible last year.

Other swimmers seek No. 2 spot

By Ernie Schewit

Swimming coaches around the Midwest agree that SIU should be in the contention with one another on everything but one item they are all in accord with is Southern Illinois swimming the first compulsory routine at conference swimming title when the league meet open at Indiana State Thursday.

All league coaches have said, in one way or another, that the Salukis should make a shambles of the loop meet and walk away with the trophy for the second straight year.

Tuesday, a light race might develop second floor spot between Indiana Southern and Ball State with Illinois Southern and Illinois Northern also in the hunt.

One coach who is aware of the situation is the Ball State's head man Duane Barrow. His Indiana State team finished second last season with 427 points with Illinois State third followed by Ball State and Northern Illinois.

"I think Ball State is really going to give us a run for our money for second," Barrows said. "They've been swimming some good times lately.

"The Cardinals sport the best record in the conference at #1 with the other three teams defending their titles at the hands of Purdue, 69-54. Included in the conference is the #1 and second place teams over league rival Illinois State.

"Ball State has a great deal of its strength from its diving team currently ranked 9th in the nation. Edil Brown and Jim Alexander. The Cardinal trio has the top 12 points in the conference.

"Illinois State is running one two in three meter diving, while Alexander is sixth.

"ISU is also strong in racing events. Junior Paul Bier and seniors Bob Tolbott are the Cardinals best chances for point scoring.

"We're ranked third in the 200- yard individual medley behind SIU's Bob Dickson and Dale Karner who is the nation's best and fastest.

"Ball State's own Indiana State squad isn't about to take a backseat to anyone in the conference for second place.

"The Salukis are ranked third in the 200-yard freestyle, the best secones behind Pat Miles. Roberts is second in Miles in the 100-yard freestyle by seven seconds.

"There is also good chances of scoring are Brian Voosward who is the nation's top in the 300-yard freestyle event.

"The Salukis are also possible to score points in the 100 yard backstroke but the 200 yard and 400 yard medley race.

Northern trackmen get snow job

By Jay Needleman

Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

DEKALB—The snow has been piling up here over the past week and has forced the Northern Illinois trackmen to work on the field house concrete floor in preparing for the Big Ten Conference Championships, which will be hosted by Ball State Friday and Saturday.

The Huskies normally practice on a gym floor with truck traffic whenever possible during the winter months. The field house doesn't have a real track surface and the snow-covered stages are under the field house. The Northern's most successful trackmen don't seem to be hampered by the foreign surface.

TR-4 wins weekend auto rally

With Dennis Adamczyk behind the wheels and Jeffery Simon in a service role, the duo raced to a first-place finish in Mission Imp- ossible sponsored by the Grand Tower is Auto Club, last weekend.

The auto race, a time-speed-distance rally, found the winners driving a TR-4. Second place went to Ken Patrik and navigator brother Wayne; third place finishers were Joe Sampson and navigator Pat Linneberg; and in fourth were Mike Klasey and Chuck White.

The magic moment has arrived for Southern Illinois to assemble those war plans strewed about the SIU Arena. Or struggle itself with SIU's second losing basketball season since Hirohito and Hitler.

Southern Illinois posted back-to-back losing campaigns in 1941 and '42. That dry spell ended until 13 years later when the Salukis finished 13-13 in 1955.

Now, Paul Lambert's disappointed team must close with four consecutive victories to finish 13-13. Lambert's second SIU team stands 10-13 after Monday's 98-86 triumph over South Florida.

Attaining respectability won't be easy. But possibly, the Salukis are in their best "mental shape" of the season. Their past weekend performance against Northern Illinois was superb. And after a dumpy first half Monday, the Salukis scored 61 points to blow the Golden Brahmans home.

"Now for a bad one. There's not a "weak sister" among SIU's remaining foes, beginning with Evansville at 7:25 p.m. Wednesday in the Arena. Southern travels to Illinois State Saturday for an afternoon game, then concludes its season next Tuesday night at Creighton.

"It'll take an effort like we had Saturday against Northern every night," said John "Mouse" Garrett, one of six seniors to make a final home appearance tonight.

"If everyone gives 100 per cent," Garrett said, "we're capable of beating any of them. But if we don't take the game to them, it'll be tough to beat anyone.

In earlier meetings, the Salukis defeated Creighton in one overtime (89-83) but lost to Evansville (74-67) and Illinois State (96-81).

Garrett and Greg Starring were honored Tuesday with selection to an All-Star team that will play March 13 at Bradley University in Peoria. Further details were unavailable.

Evansville, tonight's final home opponent, is pursuing a repeat national championship. The college division Purple Aces have been invited to participate in their own regional—the Great Lakes. Arad McCutchan's Aces have appeared in the post-season tournaments three times since.

Another Purple Aces' advantage is that of the selection as site for the national finals.

McCutchan, who always wears red socks on game night, had his Aces streaking along at 20-5 before Tuesday night's game at the University of Kentucky.

Southern Illinois holds a 28-23 edge in the all-time series with Evansville. Garrett, Starring, Marvin Brooks, Steve Wilson, Mike Modnar and Bill Grau have made their final appearance tonight.

"A coach indicated he'll start the first three plus Eddie James and Nate Hawthorne.

"Top cage teams wait for NCAA call

KANSAS CITY (AP) - Marquette, beaten for the first time last Saturday but still ranked No. 5, leads the list of eligibles as the National Collegiate Basketball Tournament.

Officials at three other Top Ten schools fought to win South Carolina, ninth-ranked Marshall and 10th-ranked Florida State—also will be waiting by the telephone for calls from NCAA headquarters.

None of the 25 starting spots in the tourney go to at-large entrants. Aside from the four most prominent candidates, at least 12 clubs are rated possibilities for NCAA selection.

They include No. 11 Southwest Louisiana, No. 13 Houston, No. 15 Hawaii, No. 17 Oral Roberts, Providence, Duquesne, New Mexico State, Villanova, Syracuse, Jackson-ville, Niagara, and Marquette's only conqueror, Detroit.

Top Two teams are scrappable for many of the other 16 openings in the tourney field remains wide open, amid an unusual number of tight conference races. In the Southwest Conference, for instance, five teams are tied for the lead.

In the Southeastern Conference, where three teams remain in contention, the issue probably won't be decided until March 9, when Kentucky, trailing as of Tuesday by half a game, must meet Tennessee on the Volunteers' home court.

Only three squads—Long Beach State, Brigham Young, and Weber State—had locked up berths by Tuesday by clinching their conference championships. Entering the NCAA Tournament, the at-large field of 25 teams was chosen from the 64 team field.

From the top 25 teams, the list was reduced to 16 teams by Tuesday. All-Star team that will play March 13 at Bradley University in Peoria. Further details were unavailable.

"Frosh finale against Aces

Call it bewitchment, luck or coincidence, but the SIU Arena appears to have done wonders for the Saluki basketball program.

Now 7-6 overall and 7-1 in the Arena, the young Salukis wind up the toughest five-game stretch in history Wednesday night in a rematch with the University of Evansville junior varsity.

There may not be an incantare or witch casting spells from the rafters of the eight-year-old facility but, if the season can be an indicator, the game outcome may be different than the results of the Aces-Salukis encounter Jan. 13 in Evansville.

The Aces pulled out an 87-86 overtime win in a game that may have had a couple of Evansville witches casting spells from the roof of Robert's Stadium.

Southern, then undefeated with a 3-0 mark, lead at halftime, 54-57. Now the two teams met again at the end of a season that has seen the Salukis go wireless on the road. However SIU has gotten revenge on two of the teams in the Arena. First against Murray State, breaking a seven-game win streak and then a 84-79 mauling of once division I powerhouse Kentucky.

Frosh coach Paul Henry is still talking about that win. "It was an outstanding defensive effort," he said Tuesday. "In the past, we had great individual efforts but we haven't been able to play good team defense. This is something a coach hopes to attain early in a season, but when you see it jell," he continued, "you get a feeling of gratification.

NIU can win title tonight

Northern Illinois can lock up its first Midwestern Conference basketball crown with a victory Wednesday night at Indiana State. But should they lose, the NIU Huskies will have to depend on Southern Illinois upsetting Illinois State Saturday in Normal to leave the conference championship in DeKalb.

As the regular season campaign draws to a close, NIU and Illinois State can still tie for the Midwestern Conference top spot.

Should the Huskies lose tonight and Illinois State win Saturday, each team would finish 6-2. Tonight, Northern Illinois will take its 26-4 overall record against the 11-13 Sacamores.
