INSTRUCTORS OF CHEMISTRY WILL PUBLISH MANUAL

DR. NECKERS AND DR. ABBOTT COMPLETE BOOK FOR LABORATORY

Dr. Neckers and Dr. Abbott, after having devoted two years of time, recently completed a Laboratory Manual to be used by freshman chemistry classes. The manual, now being read for final corrections, is expected to be ready for publication by June 1 and available for class use by next fall.

It is composed of 134 typewritten pages containing forty-five two hour experiments. This is a sufficient number for the first terms of work in freshman chemistry which covers all the non-metallic elements. This manual also contains a feature not found in other manuals, that of "Preliminary Exercises."

For the first two years it is to be printed in a semi-permanent form called litho-print. Litho-printing will make this manual more susceptible to future corrections and additions as the occasions may arise during the two year period of trial. The final form, however, will be the regular printed form used by other Chemistry manuals.

Two years of time were spent in experimental study, in writing and in correcting the manuscript. Freshmen classes were carefully observed as to the time necessary for completion of individual experiments. Upon this basis Dr. Neckers and Dr. Abbott drafted the final manuscript, making all the experiments just two hours long, thus adapting them to the time allowed for regular laboratory work.

Faculty Members Give Addresses to Academy of Science

At the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Illinois State Academy of Science, to be held at East St. Louis May 5 and 6, Dean George D. Wham and Miss Hilda Stein of our faculty will deliver addresses. Dr. Otis B. Young will also attend, as chairman of the department of physics.

With the exception of a general business meeting, Friday will be given over to various section meetings held concurrently in the East St. Louis high school. Mr. Wham will appear in the department of psychology and education, lecturing on "Unmeasured Values in Education." Miss Stein will speak to the zoology division on "Ambystama Talpoideum in Illinois." On Saturday several field and inspection trips will be conducted in the vicinity of East St. Louis.

The Brockport Normal faculty meet for an hour of social intercourse each Monday afternoon. They serve tea and sandwiches or cookies to add to the pleasure of the occasions.

Health Week Here is Observed by Series of Talks

Short talks were presented at chapel programs on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday of last week by three different faculty members, in observance of Health Week. They were Dr. Caldwell, the school physician, Dr. Scott of the Chemistry department, and Mr. McAndrew, athletic coach and member of the men's physical education department.

Dr. Caldwell, who spoke on Monday, gave a brief resume of the development and progress of medical sciences. She discussed the development of vaccines for various diseases and particularly mentioned the life of the great genius of bacteriology, Pasteur. She also stressed in particular the fact that while there are at present no definite preventives in the form of vaccines, for cancer, tuberculosis syphilis and other such commonly understood incurable diseases that these could be prevented from developing if caught at the early stage, and given proper care.

On Tuesday Dr. Scott addressed the students, speaking from the chemists standpoint. His main topic was the prerequisites for a normal diet, which he summarized as adequate protein of suitable nutritive quality, supply of sufficient body energy for maintenance of temperature, necessary mineral elements in proper concentration and adequate amounts of all vitamins.

Coach McAndrew stressed in his talk on Thursday, the importance of exercise to health. He mentioned the fact that with the industrialization of society, and the increasing leisure time, coupled with the lack of manual labor, the body had need of certain exercise which physical education aims to give the student body.

All three of these faculty members spoke at the request of President Shryock in observance of Good Health Week, as set apart by Governor Horner for April 24-30.

GRADUATES PLAN SERIES OF EVENTS FOR SENIOR WEEK

PROM, PICNIC, RECEPTION AND PLAYS TO FILL FINAL WEEK

Plans for events of Senior Week are well under way, according to the class president, Guy Lambert, and the twelfth week of the term will bring with it many activities for the graduating students. First on the schedule is the Junior-Senior prom to be held at the Elks on May 26, with Slim Elmore's orchestra providing the music.

For Tuesday, May 30 the big feature is the class picnic, although so far the place for it has not been decided. The next morning the seniors will dedicate a bronze tablet commemorating the first talk ever made on the auditorium platform. More complete information about this event will also be available later.

On Wednesday afternoon, May 31, the American Association of University Women will give a reception to the women of the graduating class on the terrace at Anthony Hall.

Wednesday evening the Zetetic Literary Society will present its spring play, "The Swan," by Molnar. This will be followed the next evening by the annual Socratic play, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back."

The invitations and rings have been selected for the sophomores as well as for the seniors. Another order will be sent in during the last part of this week.

Enrollment for Mid-Spring Term Stands at 1668

The mid-spring term enrollment at S. I. T. C. has come up to the earlier predictions, with the total enrollment now standing at sixteen hundred sixty-eight. Last Monday, the last day for mid-spring entries, about one hundred new students came in.

The registration period was extended to May 1 for the convenience of rural teachers whose schools did not close till last week.

Several new classes have been opened in the departments of Chemistry, Economics, Education, English, French, Geography, History, Household Arts, Astronomy, and Health Education.

These classes meet in session two hours a day, and are held five days a week. This provision is made because the extension of the enrollment period cut the actual weeks of recitation down to five rather than six. Time requirements are maintained by having these new classes meet daily.

Last Meeting of French Club Will Center on Maurois

For the last meeting of the French Club this year, a program has been built about the life and works of Maurois, the modern novelist, biographer commentator on life.

The numbers will be roughly, The Life and Works of Andre Maurois; Two Spanish Dances, Goskowski; A dramatization of La Partie de Poker; Review of Ariel, his Life of Sheller; election of officers for next year.

All students attending French classes or who are interested in either the language or literature of France are invited to be present.

SOCIETIES APPOINT BUSINESS STAFFS TO MANAGE PLAYS

KIEFER AND FINLEY WILL HEAD COMMITTEE OF CLUBS

In order to make their plays, "The Swan" and the "Passing of the Third Floor Back," financially as well as dramatically successful, the literary societies have appointed business staffs to handle all arrangements and transactions involved in the productions. Members of these staffs are:

Zetetic Society: General Business Manager, Karl Kiefer; Assistant Business Manager, Everett Edmondson; Publicity Agent, George Bradley.

Socratic Society: General Business Manager, Joe Finley; Publicity Agent, Jim McGuire.

Several years ago the societies followed such a plan for the management of plays, but recently they have not used it. This year, however, it was necessary to make several changes in business policy, and the staffs were organized to make the plans for both the presentations uniform. Thus far the committees have made few definite provisions, but with Mr. Edward Miles they are working out some means of reducing the admission fee. Previously tickets have always been sold at fifty cents.

As usual all seats will be reserved, so the staffs have announced. They plan to distribute advertising by posters and newspapers throughout Southern Illinois on May 17, and to begin ticket sales on May 24, one week before the date of the plays.

State Committee on Biennial Visit Inspects College

As chairman of the committee to visit state educational institutions, Miss Mary Davidson of the state legislature attended the chapel session last Friday morning. Later in the day she was joined by Mr. Louie Lewis of Sesser, her colleague on the committee, and the two of them inspected such matters as buildings and classroom supplies over the campus.

Miss Davidson, who delivered a short address in chapel, was obviously well impressed. She had visited at Old Normal and Macomb, previously, but neither of those colleges conducts an assembly similar to ours. Mr. Lewis was unable to be present at the chapel period, but he has indicated a definite intention to return.

MARGRAVE IN ACCIDENT

Mr. Wendell Margrave of the Music department experienced a motor accident during his visit in Chicago April 23. In a collision his car was turned over three times, but the occupants were not injured.

FIVE-POINT STUDENTS DISCUSS RECORDS

The inclination on the part of the average student to declare that five-point students really aren't "normal human beings" has put about nine of our classmates into a group labeled Abnormal. Whether this method of cataloging is justified or whether it is a "sour grapes" reaction by those who can't make the grade, has led to a great deal of speculation during the last several days.

Thus it is only fair that the five-point students be given a chance to speak for themselves. Elizabeth Ann West, a sophomore, declared that the general accusation of abnormality is unjust.

"A lot of kids get the idea that if you make A's all the time, something's the matter," she said. "But I think I'm normal, don't you? I study a good bit, but—not so awfully much. I run around quite enough and have a good time. I guess my grades are due too study, though."

Imogene Williams doesn't attribute her success to study so much. "It's just a matter of luck more than anything else, I think. No, I haven't studied very much it seems to me—I've had time for other things, too." "Do you run around very much?" she was asked.

"Sure, about average," Miss Williams replied. "At least I wouldn't consider myself a book-worm, by any means!"

Whether it was a matter of coincidence or of reciprocal good influence, Imogene Williams' roommate, Winifred Nooner, is another of the five-point students. Miss Nooner also attributed her grades to luck.

"I've always had a pretty good time, and have not let studies interfere with my education," she remarked. "I always thought I was human. I never did want to get a reputation like A students often have."

Richard Arnold offers still another reason for making an A average.

"I've been taking subjects that I like, for one thing. And I guess it's just natural to study more in things that one is interested in."

"Then you do study?"

"Well, I suppose so. I run around quite a bit. Activities? Well, I belong to Kappa Phi Kappa, Chemeka, and the Education Club."

When Nedra Goggin was asked the secret of her success, her instant reply was, "I'll guess with you!" Further questions revealed very little additional information. "Heavens no," she exclaimed. "I never have studied just an awfully lot. I guess a good high school background had a

Virginia Spiller

Discusses Journal at Socratic Meet

At the regular meeting of the Socratic Society last Wednesday evening in the Socratic hall, "The American Spectator," a literary paper, was discussed by Virginia Spiller.

In Miss Spiller's talk the fact was brought out that the paper was not being printed for pecuniary rewards, but to give the people an idea of what is going on in the literary world. In order to give the evaluation of the books published during the month, the name of the book and the author were printed along with the price that the editors thought the book was worth. The values of the books would range from one cent to five dollars.

To show that they thought a certain writer was no longer any good, they would place his name in an "In Memoriam" box, bounded by black lines. Miss Spiller concluded by saying that most of the paper was pure irony and very critical.

Paul Reeder imitated "Little Jack Little" on the piano while the last of the program was given over to parliamentary drill.

A private banquet and dance is to be given soon, and the exact date will be disclosed at the meeting this evening.

U.H.S. Junior-Senior Banquet Planned

Acting as host to their upperclassmen, the junior class of University High school will hold the annual Junior-Senior banquet in honor of the seniors. The date of this event is Saturday, May 13. The Vanity Fair Tea Room, located on South Normal avenue has been chosen as the place for the banquet. The juniors are striving hard to make this 1933 banquet the best that has yet been given, regardless of continued reports to them of financial hindrances.

Seniors Hosts at Picnic

The senior class of the University High school held a meeting Wednesday during chapel hour in Mr. Warren's recitation room. The purpose of the meeting was to decide upon the question of having a picnic. Tuesday, May 9 was decided upon for the date. Members of the junior class were extended an invitation to attend.

Dillinger in School Again

Joe Dillinger, a junior in U. High who has been absent for the past term and a half because of illness has returned to his classes.

German Amusement to be the Subject of Society Meeting

At the regular meeting of the Zetetic Society tonight Karl Keifer, Everett Edmonson, and Raymond Wright will create a German Biergarten atmosphere by singing robust songs in German. This feature will be especially interesting to students of German, for Mr. Edmonson, who is a collector of antique beer mugs, says that he and his colleagues will do their best to transport the audience on an imaginative journey to old Heidelberg.

The regular Zetetic program will also include a talk by Ruth Merz, a piano solo by Justin Coleman, and a reading by Rollo Winklemeyer.

Anthony Hall

The central decoration for the Anthony Hall spring party held last Saturday night was a multitude of varicolored balloons. Carrying out the spring color theme were baskets of tulips and lilacs, while the novelty feature number reverted back to the same idea of many colors and of many balloons. Dean and Mrs. George D. Wham, Miss Julia Jonah, Mr. Charles Neeley, and Dean Lucy K. Woody were chaperones. Approximately forty-five couples attended the party!

Mildred Werkmeister had as her Sunday dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wigand and Mr. E. Doehert of Mascoutah, and Mr. and Mrs. August Klein of St. Louis. Other members of the party were Virginia Huetting, Elsa Keller, and Ethel Fern Atwell.

Mrs. J. S. Crowder of St. Louis visited her daughter, Zella, Sunday. Mr. John Daugherty of Jerseyville was the Sunday dinner guest of Cornelia Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baehr and Miss Rhea Crews of New Athens were guests Sunday of Alice Baehr.

Mr. and Mrs. Orb Patterson were guests Sunday of Polly Peterson.

League of Voters

Entertain Guest, at Tariff Dinner

On Wednesday evening, April 26, the League of Women Voters entertained with a tariff dinner at Anthony Hall. Mrs. Hieronymus, state chairman of the New Voters Group of the Illinois League of Women Voters, was a guest of the local League. She spoke on the topic, "Why join the League?" Places were marked by cards, each card bearing a definition of some term relative to tariff. At each place also, was a sheet of paper containing a list of the duties imposed on each article of the dinner menu. Miss Stein spoke on the major topic, Tariff. Both Mrs. Hieronymus and Miss Stein appeared before the Civic Group of the local Woman's Club and gave addresses.

Kappa Phi Kappa

Install Officers at Open Meeting

Members of the Education Club and the men of the faculty are invited to attend an open meeting of Kappa Phi Kappa Thursday, at 7:30 p. m. in the new Science building. At that time the following officers will be installed: President, Paul McRoy; vice president, Richard Arnold; secretary, Robert Finley; treasurer, Samuel Scott. At the same time Superintendent John R. Creek of the Herrin city schools will speak on the subject, "What do You Read?"

A new plan for extending initiation fees has been adopted and will be explained at this meeting.

Students at the University of Missouri may take out insurance against flunking. If a student flunks, the company gives him enough money to pay his way through summer session. At Ohio State it is reported that between $75,000 and $100,000 have been spent for insurance.

New W.A.A. Officers

Elected at Meeting Wednesday, April 26

One of the most important meetings of the year for W. A. A. was held last Wednesday afternoon, when officers for the coming year were elected. Margaret Ann Cummings, MARGARET ANN CUMMINGS, sophomore of Mount Vernon, was elected president. She has been most capable in the performance of her duties in several offices during the past year, having served as stand and points manager, and as chairman of numerous committees. The vice president will be Maurie Taylor, who was secretary of the organization during the past year. The new secretary is Betty W. Jones, who was a member of the W. A. A. board and basketball manager last season, while Clara Goedel, another promising freshman will serve as treasurer. The retiring officers are Juanita Adams, president; Mildred Werkmeister, vice president; Maurie Taylor, secretary; and Helen Hauss, treasurer. It is probable that the new officers will be installed at a spring banquet to be held some time in the near future.

Lost and Found

Elsa Keller lost a Belleville high school class ring of 1931, initialed E. L. K. in the girls' gymnasium April 24.

Abe Ryan lost a Chemeka fraternity pin last week. The finders will please return the articles to the president's office.

FOUND

A flat, black compact containing money was turned in to the president's office last week.

Marian Allen found a friendship bracelet April 28.

A small compact enameled red and black has been returned to the president's office.

Of the 600 students registered in the afternoon classes held at Buffalo State Teachers college for those who are unemployed or who cannot attend a higher institution of learning, 85 to 90 per cent of those registered are men. Classes are held from three to seven o'clock and are under the supervision of instructors who have degrees from leading universities.

A "dating bureau" at Arkansas Polytechnic institute supplies students with dates at the nominal cost of twenty-five cents each. "Satisfaction guaranteed" is the motto of the bureau.

Delta Sigma Epsilon

Ida Kell of Benton was a week end guest of Margaret Hueckel at her home in Belleville.

Mary Ruth Malone of McLeansboro moved into the sorority house last Friday. She will attend school during the mid-spring term. She is a graduate of the two year course.

The following girls spent the week end at their respective homes: Mabel Silkwood, Christopher; Julia Jackson-Vienna; Lucille Chrisman, Pinckneyville; Dorothea Thrusdale, Metropolis; Rita Braun, Belleville; Betty McElhattan, Du Quoin; Mauriene Webb, West Frankfort; Mary Korando, Chester, and Betty Jones, Christopher.

Mu Tau Pi Sponsors

Series of Programs for Egyptian Staff

Mu Tau Pi, honorary journalistic fraternity, will sponsor a series of journalism programs for the benefit of the EGYPTIAN staff. The first of these programs will be given this afternoon in the EGYPTIAN office at four o'clock. The meeting will be in charge of Elma Trieb and Ray Heitman and will feature several informal talks on journalistic methods.

Captain William McAndrew was the guest of honor at Mu Tau Pi's meeting of last week. He spoke of the qualities of a good sports reporter, emphasizing the value of persistence, an conscientiousness, and the importance of an unbiased opinion in writing sport articles.

Gordon Dobbs Leads

Discussion Held at Meeting of Y.M.C.A.

The theme of last night's Y. M. C. A. meeting, led by Gordon Dobbs, an officer of the organization, was Christianity and Science. Several members gave short talks on this subject.

At the meeting of the association held last week the subject discussed was Christian Ethics on the Campus. Vaughn Davidson, vice president of the association, was in charge. There were several musical numbers on the program.

During the course of the business meeting plans for sending a delegation to the Lake Geneva Conference an annual convale of the national organization, were discussed.

Leaders of the local Y. M. C. A. announced that no regular meetings would be held during the summer months. However the association will continue the operation of the ice cream stand in the summer term.

A supposedly absent minded professor at Fordham University passed a student who had enrolled in his course but who had been dead for six months.

Commercial Classes

in St. Louis Today for Observation Tour

It has been customary for the Commercial department to sponsor industrial observation tours at various times in order that the commercial students may observe at first hand the actual operation of business enterprises. Such a trip is taking place today. Five busses with a special escort of State of Illinois highway police left Carbondale at five o'clock this morning for St. Louis. The busses will be met at the Free Bridge by a contingent of St. Louis police who will act as guides throughout the day.

The most important points which the students will visit are the Federal Reserve Bank the Chevrolet assembly plant, the Globe Democrat building, the KMOX broadcasting studio, and the Civic Court building. Other points of interest will be Shaw's Garden, the Arena, the Zoo, the Art Museum, and the Jefferson Memorial. Both luncheon and dinner will be eaten at the Forum, a downtown cafeteria.

To culminate the tour the entire group, about 170 in all, will visit the Fox theatre after which they will return to Carbondale, arriving about midnight.

Faculty News

Mr. C. D. Wham delivered an address to the Valier, Illinois, grade schools last Saturday night.

Miss Faye Hart and Miss Opal Stone entertained Mrs. Alice Kellogg and Miss Thelma Kellogg at the Roberts Hotel last Sunday. Saturday Mrs. Edith S. Krappe motored with Miss Kellogg and her mother to Paducah Kentucky. Miss Gladys P. Ducaam entertained at tea Sunday evening Mrs. Kellogg, Mrs. Krappe and Miss Kellogg.

Miss Aileen Carpenter entertained at breakfast at her home at Midland Hills last Saturday morning the following guests: Dr. Vera Louise Peacock, Miss Julia A. Jonah, Mr. Charles Neely, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Cramer, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Tenney, and Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Lente.

Mr. T. L. Bryant had as his guests on the Commercial trip to St. Louis today: Mrs. Arsicel Reeves from the commercial department of the Anna High School; Miss Laverne Armstrong, from the commercial department of the Carterville High School; Mrs. Sophia Baer, commercial department of Murphysboro High School and eleven commercial students from the above schools.

Mr. Russel Nolen of the Economics department delivered an address to the Lions' Club of Carbondale last Friday noon. He centered his remarks on taxation and finance, and after his talk he led a discussion on matters of specific interest.

STATE CHAIRMAN OF NEW VOTERS' GROUP VISITS HERE

The League of Women's Voters held an informal pot-luck supper at Miss Stein's apartment Tuesday evening, April 25, in honor of Mrs. Hieronymus of Champaign Illinois. Mrs. Hieronymus is state Chairman of the New Voters' Group of the Illinois League of Women Voters and is the wife of the well known Dr. Hieronymus who does extension work at the University of Illinois.

Six Footers Tell of Disadvantages of Their Height

Russell Nolen and Herb Bricker were walking down the street. Suddenly Nolen looked up at Herb and asked, "How is the weather up there?"

Speaking of tall boys we have our share of them. Herb says he doesn't notice his length until he goes on basketball trips; and then not until he goes to bed. "The trouble is," remarked Herb, "that the beds in hotels are not made for men, but for boys, and when a man sleeps on them, his toes stick out from under the cover. Another disadvantage, replied the big boy, "is that every drunk man in town wants to fight me just because I am big. None of the boys overlook the one big advantage of being tall—our arms are of great value at the dinner table, because we can reach anything on the table, whereas, the shorter fellows depend on someone to pass the food."

Big Jim Fray, when asked what he considered to be the greatest disadvantage of being tall, replied, "No-body wants to room with me, because I'm so tall. They all say that I can't lay straight in bed. Another disadvantage," said Jim, "is that my feet are always in the way when I'm dancing." While it is a disadvantage to be tall, Jim says the advantages outweigh the disadvantages. He says that he always gets more clothes for his money. He also says that he gets a thrill every time he thinks of how everyone on the campus looks up to him.

White Elephant Sale to be Held Some Time in May

The date for the bi-ennial white Elephant sale for the benefit of the Student Loan Fund has not been definitely set, but it is expected that it will take place within the next three or four weeks. The lost and found articles deposited in the president's office will be auctioned off under the direction of Dean Lucy K. Woody.

The history of the Student Loan Fund dates back about six years ago when the student body contributed money for the purpose of establishing a rest room for the college women. The faculty found it necessary to dispose of the rest room idea and the money received for the rest room was turned over to an organization which started loaning money to students in need.

The Student Loan Fund has aided twenty-six students this year. The loans amounted to $324. Also $300 or $400 has been loaned to students who had given notes for the loan.

In order to borrow money from the Student Fund, a student must be making a C average. He must also be dependable and show the qualities of a hard-working person.

The White Elephant sale this year will include the lost and found articles and articles being made by the Woman's League. Jane Warren is president of this League, and Dean Woody sponsors the organization.

No one can accuse Columbia University students of being worldly. Five hundred bibles received recently from the New York Bible Society were distributed among students almost as soon as they arrived and requests for two hundred more followed.

The Looking Glass

Don't look for your name in this column. We are still fighting extradition for having mentioned names in Montana.

This column has been inaugurated for the purpose of dispelling recent insinuations to the effect that the EGYPTIAN has gone high-brow.

The only brows in the EGYPTIAN office owe their condition to a receding hair line. The highest brow we know admits his favorite literary creation is "Poppey" in the Post Dispatch and his favorite movie actor is Mickey Mouse.

And we are enrolled in History 342.

If you still think there are high brows in this school, read the interviews with high school students in last week's campus Opinions. One boy said he thinks the buildings are nice, the campus is nice, and the library is nice.

He almost bowled us over with the extent of his vocabulary when he opined that the trees are pretty.

Just think what his possibilities will amount to after he has attended S. I. T. C. long enough to aid "cute" to his vocabulary.

The boys from the Forum no longer consider themselves highbrows since their ignoble defeat at the encounter with the weaker sex.

It has been mentioned that the boys suffered defeat because of the relation of the debated subject to the recent bloody warfare in adjacent counties. We don't blame them. Self preservation is a strong incentive to discretion.

The writer is of the opinion that the ability of the coaches had much to do with the outcome of the debate.

No names were mentioned. It is against our policy. Besides, the Forum advisor is also the EGYPTIAN advisor.

History Faculty Adds Members for Mid-Spring Term

With the beginning of the mid-spring term, Miss Gladys Smith, and Mr. Troy Stearns, rural school critics, were added to the personnel of the college History department. Mr. Stearns is offering a course in Latin American History which is entirely new to the campus curriculum, and which he will teach again during the summer session.

Miss Smith will do work toward her master's degree at the University of Chicago this summer. Mr. Wright and Mr. Pardee, both of the History department, will also do graduate work at this University.

Illinois Wesleyan University has increased its coaching staff to eight members with the addition of Charles Driver as tennis coach.

Paul Pry's Ponderings

True to my family name of Pry I shall often make it my business to uncover other people's hidden acts. In the space of this column my readers will often find choice bits of scandal that will startle, alarm, and shock them. Faculty members are not exempt. Of course now and then I will philosophize and hope you will bear with me.

I wonder just how many students in this college know that hungry men are being fed and given aid at the city hall of Carbondale. I wonder how many have ever watched Negroes and whites, women and children, file by in a line of humility and ask for something to sustain life with.

Paul Pry wonders who the girl attired in the scarlet dress is that sits in chapel each day winking at one of the members of the faculty.

All kinds of rumors are afloat about inflation and our having left the gold standard. I heard two hoboes talking of these issues the other evening as they stood in the yards waiting for a train. Why is it that hoboes, drunks and loafers are always concerned with national affairs and the men with brains and whose interest we need at such a time are actually passive or uninterested?

This is to be a column of the commoner. I am no member of the I-Chase-Dog lodge and I hate to see one monopolize the power of the press. Every one is inquisitive; that is why you will find what you want in Paul Pry's Ponderings.

Prying about I find: Ross' house has the name of "Hell House." Art Newman is called a "Snork." Paul Peterson is the quiet boy from Kell.

Lyndon Gibbs is a Grandpa. Eleanor Stefanoff is a retiring young thing afraid of wet offers.

See you next week with lots of Pry Proud Dirt.

Egyptian Entered in Press Contest to be Held May 6

Last week several copies of the EGYPTIAN were mailed to the Illinois Press Association to be entered in the contest which will be conducted May 6 under direction of Professor R. R. Barlow of the University of Illinois.

This contest, which is a feature of the Press Association annual conference, bases judgment on all phases of the makeup and management of the papers. The EGYPTIAN pins its hope for success on Marc Green's "Between the Lines," Hazel Towery's "Sphinx," and the keenly critical constructive manner in which the EGYPTIAN observes campus life.

Pupils at Allyn Plan Field Trips for Nature Study

To supplement the work in nature study that the first and second grades have been doing, the critic teachers, Miss Florence King and Miss Van Trump have planned field trips. Miss Van Trump's second grade is planning its trip for tomorrow. The object of this trip is to make a study of the May apple. "This class has done some very interesting things in the way of nature study," says the critic. "The pupils have been watching the growth and behavior of their two pet box turtles, tad poles, several varieties of goldfish, crawfish, and a bull frog."

Miss King's first grade, on the other hand, is arranging an all day trip to the Chicken Farm next week with a view to centering its interest in the zoological field. This trip will serve, however, not only as an excellent opportunity for nature study, but also for the study of art. Last week this class had a delightful laboratory lesson in wild flowers which was made possible by a visit to the greenhouse.

Goodwin Petersen Passes Examination on Radio Technique

Goodwin Petersen, son of Mr. L. C. Petersen, of the Manual Arts department, passed a government examination on radio receivers and transmitters given at Paducah, Kentucky, March 19. By passing this examination, Mr. Petersen received an amateur's license which permits him to own and operate a short wave transmitter. This license will permit him to own and operate a transmitter in this district only, but he has applied for a portable license which will permit him to use a transmitter anywhere in the state. He has a receiver which he made himself and he intends to use it on boy scout trips. With this instrument he has received messages from Europe.

Mr. Petersen is a senior at the University High School, having earned sixteen credits in three years. He is sixteen years old. He has been interested in radio and electricity for some time and wishes to become an electrical engineer.

Y. M. C. A. Sponsors Attends Conclave Held at Lebanon

Mr. Charles Pardee, a faculty sponsor for the Y. M. C. A., with the officers of the organization, attended the Illinois Student Y. M. C. A. Cabinet Training conference held at Lebanon, Illinois, last Saturday. The purpose of the conference was to bring together the officers, committeemen, and faculty leaders of the Student Associations of South Central and Southern Illinois. Among other things, those attending the meeting planned for the Lake Geneva Conference of the Y. M. C. A. to be held in June.

Not only was this college represented at the conference, but a place on the program was given to Mr. Pardee of the History department. He led the worship service of the morning session which took place at the old Main building on the McKendree campus.

Other able leaders were Dr. Cameron Harmon, President of McKendree College; Dr. David Souquist of Shurtleff College; Prof. Raymond Huck of McKendree; and C. W. Blakey, Acting Secretary of the Illinois State Y. M. C. A.

The students who represented this college were the officers of the local Y. M. C. A. They include Robert Finley, president; Vaughn Davidson, vice president; Gordon Dodds, secretary-treasurer; and Paul McRoy, chairman of the program committee.

MISS WILLIAMS LECTURES TO ENGLISH 213 CLASSES

Last Wednesday Miss Gladys Williams, head of the Art department, gave an interesting lecture to all the English 213 classes on the relation of art to children's literature. She illustrated her lecture with slides and pictures, showing how universal art forms could be found in art that is related both to fables and to literary selections.

AGAIN—THE AUDIENCE

Possibly we would do well to keep in stock an assortment of editorials on audiences, for in the case of almost every college activity one of these scorings is justified. The Illinae-Forum debates held last Monday offered no exception, for barely three per cent of our enrolled student body managed to attend them.

These debates concerned a matter of pertinent interest to every citizen of Southern Illinois—that is, the situation in the coal fields. The best forensic talent of the college appeared in them, and the material set forth in the arguments was thorough-going information. Traditionally the debates had a certain merit, because for years and years these annual intra-collegiate forensics have served to close the societies' year of activity.

The faculty was rather well represented, and the debaters' colleagues pieced out the audience. But as for the intellectually curious student, with some interest in social conditions and S. I. T. C. forensics—there was none. When, do you suppose, just when are we to become concerned with things of such importance?

AS FOR COLUMNS

Because of a vacancy in the staff position of columnist, the EGYPTIAN will publish during the next few weeks a variety of columns. Several regular staff members have volunteered to write them, and until the end of this school year a competition will be carried on, leading to the selection of one of the columns for consistent use in next year's paper.

The EGYPTIAN will be glad to receive your comments on these new columns and to learn the general preference. If you have any ideas concerning the material a column should cover and the tone it should take, or if you would like to write a column of your own, present your copy at the EGYPTIAN office. It is sure to receive consideration.

OUR HONOR STUDENTS

It is not uncommon to find in large universities a great number of students who accomplish the required subjects with high averages and, at the same time, are equally skilled in dramatic and other literary activities. But it is quite unusual in a college the size of ours that there should be such a large group of talented students as we find here.

S. I. T. C. is and should be, proud to offer the many honor letters which prominent members of the college have earned by their productive skill, talent, and earnest diligence in courses. The number of honor letters given this year was much greater than that of previous years, and in almost every case students who received them for work done in activities also averaged high in their high school work. In keeping with the progressive policy of previous years, our students have taken it upon themselves to distinguish our college by conscientiously acquiring high standards of work and in cooperating with outside activities by giving to them their time and talent.

THE SPHINX KNOWS:

Jim Reed's back in school. Ought to be good for the track squad.

How Bob Courtney got a chocolate soda from a girl the other day by threatening to give away the fact that she said she used to want to stay at Anthony Hall because she thought the Main building was the boys' dormitory.

That encore the other day sorta showed the kind of music the school likes.

And, by the way, did you see the rapt expression on Edmondson's face while they were playing.

The youngest actor in the Zetetic play isn't twelve years old.

Seriously, you'll like Harry Marberry and Billy Eghterton.

There's still hope. Blanche Douthitt got four schools the other day.

THE SPHINX WONDERS:

Why don't they start the fountain.

Why they don't have a campus opinion on whoopee socks and high heeled shoes.

Why we don't have a popularity row in chapel, or do we?

Did you see Frances Noel's big sleeves?

If Flossie Smith gets anymore freckled in summer.

Did you ever go to a tariff dinner?

Could you get along from Friday to Friday without one of your text books? John Stansfield did.

Did you know Coleman could play the violin (as well as the piano.)

Why Henry Hitt is always out of breath when he gets to Shakespeare class.

Dear Sphinx:

Somebody told me yesterday that after the fountain was turned on in the spring, students went wading in it; and that oftentimes after warm weather, they disregarded showers at the gym for a dip in Lake Ridgway.

Now I think those are good ideas. But in the case of wading, where do they keep their towels? Of course I presume the swimmers go to the locker rooms in the gym, but that's a long way to go merely to dry one's feet.

Please inform me as to the truth of these matters and oblige.

J. L. S.

Dear J. L. S.:

I have heard rumors of brave souls who dared to wade in the fountain. Never, I assure you in public. As for swimming in Lake Ridgway, that, too, has been done.

But there is one great drawback to both these sports. After hot weather, Lake Ridgway is not in condition for one to swim in; and the fountain, after it has run a few days, is in no condition to be waded in.

Those were good ideas of yours. It's a shame they're impractical.

The Sphinx.

P. S.: Since wading's out, there's no use going into the matter of the towels.

What Do You Think?

As the end of the year approaches, seniors are coming more and more into the limelight. Last year a Senior Week was observed, with no final examinations for the graduating class. Since this custom will probably be continued this year, it is rather interesting to note the opinions of both seniors and underclassmen on this subject:

"It's a Let-down" Says Randle

"It seems to bring about a um," says Pat Randle. After four trying years in college there is bound to be a certain amount of steam let loose during the last week. But I think it should always be observed, inasmuch as it is the seniors last time to enjoy college life as such. It is to the seniors what a vacation is to the tired business man."

Evelyn Hodge declares, "After four years of hard labor, I think a senior is entitled to a vacation. It looks now, though according to prospective teaching positions, that the vacation will last more than a week."

"I see no reason why the seniors shouldn't be allowed that week's vacation," Floyd Smith remarks. "However it reverts back to the some old high school tradition."

Margaret Hill also favors the plan. "I cannot see why the seniors should not be exempt from the final week and exams as a reward for years of taking such exams."

"Senior Week with no examinations is what all seniors look forward to," Fred Hallagan asserts. "Herein, the senior is able to show some of the so-called prestige that it has taken him four years to attain. This was the practice last year, and it met with much satisfaction among the seniors."

Chapel Notes

The offerings of the orchestra during the week included "The Student Prince," Saint-Saen's "Marche Militaire Francaise," Greig's "The Last Spring," and a selection from a recent musical comedy, all of which were well done. Mrs. Chastaine's reading of the "Marche Militaire" was especially pleasing.

Friday, the band replayed Wagner's "Rienzi," and their ordinary performance can be excused by the fact that they had no practice session at all during the week since Mr. Margrave very kindly gave his hours to the orchestra. The State Legislature had representatives on the campus Friday, and chapel was held an hour earlier so that they might see the student body in the assembly.

The Y. M. C. A. has opened an ice cream stand, in the southwest corner of the first floor of the Main building. The members of the organization are selling ice cream and soda pop, and the sales tax is not charged.

The Y. M. caters to all student trade.

That all these facts revert directly to the technocracy report issued by the engineers at Columbia.

That the reopening of factories would do very little toward bettering conditions because there would only be jobs for a fraction of the unemployed and these would soon work themselves out again.

S.I.T.C. WINS FROM WASHINGTON U. BY DECISIVE SCORE

MUDDY FIELD PREVENTS MEN FROM MAKING RECORDS

The Southern Teachers easily trampled the Washington University track team under their feet last Tuesday week 96 1/2-33 1/2.

Because of the soggy field and muddy track no remarkable time or distance was made. Parran, Carbondale's sprint flash, took the hundred yard dash in good time considering the muddy condition of the track. His time was 10.4. He also outdistanced the field to win the 220 yard dash.

A new 440 man, Lemons, took the tape ahead of Davidson. Lemons has been running the half mile and the relay. Tripp's weight caused him to slide all over the track thus keeping him almost out of the race. Captain Davidson couldn't get started until he started on the home stretch and could not close the gap between himself and Lemons.

Lemme and Piper tied in the mile event while Wiggins, Piper and Eskew made it a three way tie in the two mile affair.

Only two places were given in the high hurdles because of the disqualification by two of the hurdlers. They knocked down three hurdles.

Clifford Devor tried diving his way to the tape when he fell over next to the last hurdle, in the 220 lows. His fall cost him a first place, but he was up in a flash and outsprinted the Washington entrant to place second.

As was predicted Washington took the relay.

Washington's best effort was made by Clark when he put the shot 41 feet 10 1-2 inches to beat out Bauder of Carbondale.

Tullis and Stanley again made it a tie for first in the pole vault.

In the discus and javelin events it was hard to get distance, because of the rain. Reeves and Cole tied for the high jump at a fairly decent height for a rainy day.

Carbondale carried off eleven first places out of a possible fifteen, and placed first and second in the mile, two mile, 100 yard, pole vault, discus, high jump, low hurdles and broad jump.

SUMMARY

Mile: Lemme and Piper, Carbondale, tied for first; Look, Washington, third. Time 4:53.6.

440 yard dash: Lemons, Carbondale, first; Davidson, Carbondale, second; Gilmore, Washington, third. Time 55.5 seconds.

Shot put: Clark, Washington, first; Bauder, Carbondale, second; Bricker, Carbondale, third. Distance 41 feet 10 1-2 inches.

100 yard dash: Parran, Carbondale, first; Devor, Carbondale, second; Haun, Washington, third. Time 10.4 seconds.

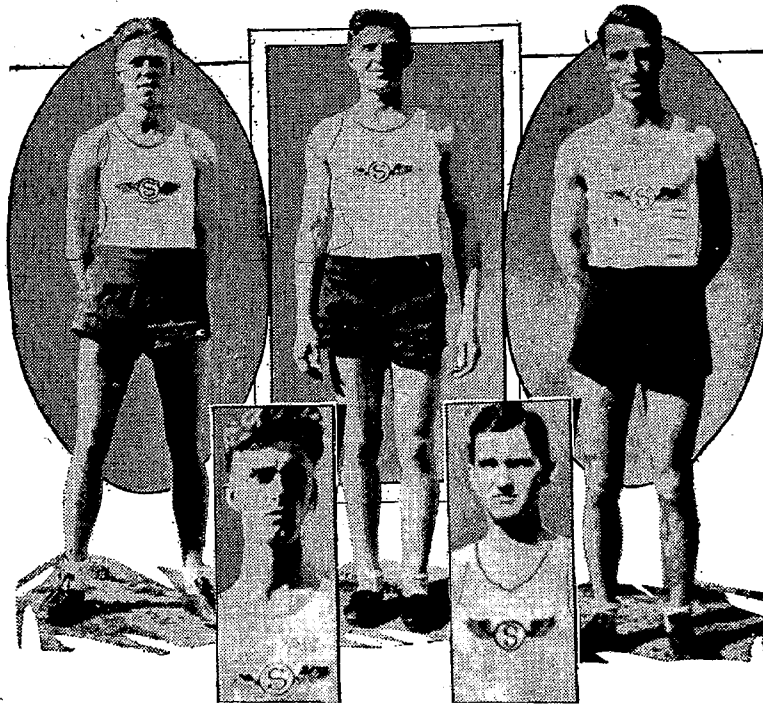

120 high hurdles: Lionberger, Washington, first; Knash, Carbondale, second; (no third place.)

Pole vault: Tullis and Stanley, Carbondale, tied for first; Brenner, Washington, third. Height 10 feet 8 inches.

850 yard: Lulman, Washington, first; Lemme, Carbondale, second; Lemons, Carbondale, third. Time, 2:20.4.

Discus: Bauder, Carbondale, first; Bricker, Carbondale, second; Guth, Washington, third. Distance 126 feet 1-2 inch.

Mings and Knash, both of West Frankfort, and Parednis of Zeigler, have been consistent point gainers for Southern in the high hurdles. All three are freshmen.

Devor of Dowell and King of Carrier Mills have been fighting it out in the lows. Devor also runs the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash when needed. Both King and Devor are sophomores.

Fans Speculate on Outcome of Tourney In Intramurals

Much comment and interest has been aroused in the athletic circles of the college as to the probable outcome of the intramural baseball tourney in progress at the present time.

The fingers of those that think they know have been pointed at the "Spirit of '76" team, which includes such college stars as Holder, Bertoni, Lenich and Uhles in the lineup. At the present time they are tied for first place in the American League with the Greyhounds, who are giving them much competition.

The "Knot Holvers" and "Flying Dutchmen" are also tied for first place in the National league as the standings will indicate. Both teams are developing some good material.

Tennis Meet With Cape Girardeau Postponed Till May

The opening tennis meet with the Cape Girardeau Indians scheduled for April 25 was postponed because of the downpour of rain. The Teachers have arranged for a replay match but at the present, the date has not been decided.

Captain McAndrew has picked Hicks, Myers, Farlow and Syfert to work with Stephens and Springer. Stephens and Springer won the Little Nineteen championship last year and the ardent tennis fans expect to see them in the spotlight again this spring.

Captain Clarence Stephens has been acting as coach of the Maroon's squad. He states that he expects to get the team in shape for the big district meet at Jacksonville, Illinois, May 6.

Tennis Schedule

April 25: Cape Girardeau (rained out.)

May 6: District tennis meet at Jacksonville.

May 12-13: State Intercollegiate at Macomb.

May 19: McKendree (here.)

May 26: McKendree (there.)

Return meet with Cape (tentative.)

According to Warren E. Benson, director of Boston University's All-University Placement Bureau, scholastic rating and personality are of equal determining value in the judgment of employers who select college graduates for positions.

and; Gambol, Carbondale, third. Time 29.6.

Running broad jump: Parran, Carbondale, first; Stotlar, Carbondale, second; Westrup, Washington, third. Distance 21 feet 9 inches.

Relay won by Washington (Gillmore, Lihow, Haun, Hampton). Time 3:55.

Southern Swamps McKendree College in Meet Friday

The Maroons beat the McKendree Bearcats by the huge score of 103 1/2 to 27 1/2 in a dual meet last Friday.

One of the most surprising events was the high jump in which Kenneth Cole leaped to a height of 6 ft. 3 in., a new record for Southern that almost equalled the Little Nineteen record of 6 ft. 4 in. In the 100 yard dash Parran and Fulkerson were practically tied for first, but Fulkerson was awarded the place, with Parran second.

The Maroons took the lead with the starting events, and maintained it throughout the meet.

"Doc" Lingle did not use all his best men. Such outstanding performers as Brown, Davidson, Bauder, Knash, Tullis, Reeves, and Pierce did not participate, but their understudies were given a chance to show their stuff.

SUMMARY

Mile: Piper, Southern, first; Lemme, Southern, second; Lambert, Southern, third. Time 4:52.1

440 yard dash: Tripp, Southern, first; Travelstead, Southern, second; Mattsas, McKendree, third. Time 53.6.

MEET SCHEDULED AT LEBANON FOR FRIDAY AFTERNOON

ANNUAL QUADRANGULAR TO TAKE PLACE AT McKENDREE

The Southern Teachers leave for Lebanon at noon Friday to engage in the third annual quadrangular track meet which includes McKendree, Shurtleff, Charleston and Carbondale. The meet will start at three o'clock.

Southern won the first two quadrangular meets and garnered more points last year than all the others combined. Carbondale won the 1932 meet with 104 5-6 points and McKendree placed second with 33 1-3 points.

With the overwhelming defeat of McKendree here last Friday and the records made thus far this season it looks as if Southern would easily make it a third straight win.

Charleston lost its first meet to De Pauw by a one-sided score, but came back to win from Shurtleff 75 to 51 later in the season. The records made in both meets were ordinary, probably because of the weather and track conditions. McKendree's defeat at the hands of both Washington University and Carbondale eliminates them as a threat to the local teachers.

Gruschalla and Fulkerson, both of McKendree, are probably the best individual stars which will be entered from other colleges. Gruschalla won the shot here with a put of 47 feet 1 1-2 inches. The 118 feet 7 inch spin of the discus was also good for a first place.

Kenneth Cole, a freshman of Norris City and Robert Reeves of Carbondale will be the outstanding high jump entries. Bauder of Carbondale who holds records in both the discus and shot will compete in these events.

The order of events will be:

- 3:00 p. m.: 1 mile run.
- 3:10 p. m.: 440 yard dash.
- 3:20 p. m.: 100 yard dash.
- 3:30 p. m.: 120 high hurdles; 3:00 p. m.: pole vault, high jump, shot put, javelin.
- 3:40 p. m.: 880 yard run.
- 3:50 p. m.: 220 yard dash.
- 4:00 p. m.: 2 mile run; 3:40 p. m.: discus, broad jump.
- 4:15 p. m.: 220 yd. low hurdles.
- 4:25 p. m.: 1 mile relay.

first; Keuhn, Southern, second; Harris, McKendree, third. Time 2:05.3.

Discus: Gruschalla, McKendree, first; Russell, Southern, second; Bricker, Southern, third. Distance 118 ft. 7 in.

220 yard dash: Parran, Southern, first; Fulkerson, McKendree, second; Devor, Southern, third. Time 16.3.

Javelin: Smith, Southern, first; Zigley, Southern, second; Spudich, McKendree, third. Distance 170 ft. 7 in.

Two mile: Eskew, Southern, first; Piper, Southern, second; Moss, Southern, third. Time 11:23.4.

High jump: Cole, Southern, first; Whitesides, McKendree, second; Bricker, Southern, third. Height 6 ft. 3 in.

220 low hurdles: King, Southern, first; Crisp, Southern, second; Zook, McKendree, third. Time 26.8.

Running broad jump: Stotlar, Southern, first; Mitchell, Southern, second; Crisp, Southern, third. Distance 21.8.

Practice School at Carterville Presents Plays

The Community High School at Carterville, Illinois, which was obtained last fall as a practice school by S. I. T. C., is continuing its series of extra-curricular activities that precede the closing of the school during the summer months.

Thursday night, April 20, the "C" club, aided by members of the sophomore class, staged a very delightful play, Chintz Cottage. The play was directed by Miss Mallory. Proceeds derived from the play are for the benefit of the "C" club, an organization composed of all students receiving letters, both in athletics and for honors in scholarship. To obtain an honor letter the student must average a grade of ninety-five for three consecutive quarters.

The formal initiation of new members to the "C" club will take place on Wednesday, May 3. The parents are invited to these exercises. The initiation must necessarily be delayed until the fourth quarter each year.

The junior class play, "Oh Susan," was offered during the week of April 10. Mr. Loren Spire directed the play. It is traditional that the proceeds from the junior play be used to defray the expenses of the Junior-Senior banquet. By so doing the students are exempted from paying individual admissions to the banquet. The annual banquet will be held the night of May 19 this year.

The chief of the coming attractions is the annual senior class play. The play this year is the "Mystery of the Third Gable," which will be presented May 12. It is being directed by Miss Payne.

Each year the senior class dedicates something to the high school. This year the class has decided to purchase several pictures and dedicate them to the school. The funds are derived from the senior play.

Besides its athletic activities the high school has several other extra-curricular organizations. The Hi Tri is an organization for high school girls. Meetings are held on Thursdays. Similarly for high school boys is the Hi Y. Besides these two meritorious organizations the school also

Harrisburg Takes a Majority of Events in Commerce Meet

In the sectional commercial contest for the State of Illinois, held on this campus last Saturday, Harrisburg won first place in all events which it entered. Its representatives will compete in the state finals at Urbana this Friday and Saturday, and the winners of that contest will enter the international contest in the Administration building at the World's Fair on June 26.

Seventeen high schools, survivors of the district meets, took part in the eighteen events which were held here. The detailed results are as follows:

Seventy word shorthand contest—Teams: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Marion. Individuals: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Harrisburg.

Ninety word shorthand contest—Teams: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Rogiclaire. Individuals: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Harrisburg.

One hundred word shorthand contest—Teams: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Herrin. Individuals: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Christopher.

One hundred twenty word shorthand contest—Individuals: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Valier. No teams were entered.

Typewriting, Novice Class A—Teams: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Johnston City. Individuals: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Harrisburg.

Typewriting, Novice Class B—boasts a dramatic club. The club presents a series of very fine one-act plays each year. Much of the talent for the Class plays is drawn from the membership of the dramatic club.

Five-Point Students Discuss Success

lot to do with it." Louis Bertoni was quite reluctant about making a statement for publication. "It's a matter of perseverance, I suppose. Yes, I work—at times. Wait a minute—don't put that down. It might get me in bad with the teachers!"

Oliver Karraker says his high scholastic standing is due to a great deal of his previous work and high school background. "I haven't gone either to one extreme or the other in study. But it certainly isn't due to brilliance." And when his forgiveness was asked for being called out of class, he waived a deprecating hand—"That's all right. I never object to that."

Rowena Lisenby says her success is due to her acquired ability to concentrate. "I'd like to know myself how it all happened! I think I run around quite a bit," she added. "But why I got a five-point average is still somewhat mysterious to me. It will probably never happen again."

Samuel Scott says he just happened to select courses that he's interested in. "Yes, I do put in quite a bit of time on studies. I run around a great deal, though. I belong to the Science Club, Physics Club, Education Club, and Kappa Phi Kappa."

So it looks as if we must consider these students rather normal, after all. At least, if we are to give full respect to the opinions of our brilliant few; we must cease to call them all abnormals.

Teams: 1st place, Hurst Bush; 2nd place, Marion. Individuals: 1st place, Hurst Bush; 2nd place, Marion.

Typewriting, Amateur Class A—Teams: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Johnston City. Individuals: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Harrisburg.

Typewriting, Amateur Class B—Teams: 1st place, Valier. Individuals: 1st place, Valier; 2nd place, Valier.

Typewriting, open to all competition—Individuals: 1st place, Harrisburg; 2nd place, Harrisburg; 3rd place, Anna.
