Assembly Launches Campus WSSF Drive

George Cvikevic, a World Student Service Fund field worker who has had experience in Germany and other war torn countries, spoke in an assembly yesterday which launched the World Student Service Fund drive here on campus.

Offices of the Personnel Deans and Miss Maxine Vogely, director of Anthony Hall, held a silver coffee hour for the benefit of the WSSF and in honor of George Cvikevic, speaker at the assembly, yesterday prior to the assembly. All faculty members were invited to the coffee hour.

A second feature of the assembly was an all-school auction, the proceeds of which went to the WSSF. Pat Randle served as master of ceremonies and auctioneer. Groups and individuals made bids on various acts and donations.

HEADING THE LIST of auctioned articles were six steak dinners in President D. W. Morris' home. The dinners went to the six highest bidders. The Phi Mu Alpha quartet was auctioned off as singing waiters to organized houses. Auctioned off as waitresses were Audrey Mayer, Marguerite Williams, Mary Jo Zumer, and Virginia Stringer.

Other articles on the auction list were a cake from Sobery's Bakery, piano selections by Chuck White, and Georgia Greenwood, who recently won the title of Miss Carbondale.

Money collected in the WSSF drive here on campus will be turned over to the national WSSF organization which will in turn give food, clothing, books, etc. to needy college students the world over.

As in the past, the department of library services will only function during the summer. This summer

THE SEATING USED for the play will be arena style. The audience will sit on the stage in a circle around the players.

During the conference old and new officers of all campus organizations will meet to discuss the possibilities and responsibilities of leaders on the campus.

The conference will consist of two sessions—one to be held June 1 and the second on June 2. A main speaker will be obtained to lead several discussions. Tentative plans are that the conference will be held at Giant City Park.

A PLANNING COMMITTEE has been organized by the Student Council. It consists of Dean I. Clark Davis and Dean Leah Farr, and Bob Smith, Dave Stahlberg, Bud Parker, and Bill Waters, Student Council members.

Committees for various phases of the conference will be set up at a meeting of the planning committee which is to be held tomorrow. Definite plans for the conference will be announced at a later date.

Coronation At Dance Climaxes SIU Festival

Marge Risley, a beautiful Southern coed from Dahlgren, was officially crowned Miss Southern of 1951 last Saturday night at the Spring Festival dance, featuring the music of Woody Herman. Miss Risley's coronation by president D. W. Morris climaxed the festival's activities, and she will reign as Miss Southern during the 1951 school year.

A college junior majoring in home economics and minoring in English, Miss Risley won out over four other Southern beauties, who made up the Miss Southern court. Other finalists were: Pat Taylor,

MARGE RISLEY

Audrey Mayer, Marguerite Williams, and Jean Nierman. The entire Miss Southern contest was judged by Southern Illinois photographers.

WOODY HERMAN'S orchestra shared the spotlight with Miss Risley at the dance Saturday night. Also featured with Herman's Herd was beautiful vocalist Dolly Houston. Herman played a one-hour concert in the auditorium prior to the dance. The entire Miss Southern coronation was broadcast over a local radio station. Joe Harding handled the radio work, and Jim

Faculty To Perform At Violin-Piano Recital

Two members of the Southern music faculty will be jointly featured in a violin-piano sonata recital at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the Little Theatre.

Pianist Gilbert R. Fischer and violinist Marvin C. Zoschke, both instructors in music, will present three sonatas varied in their style—Brahms' "D-minor Sonata, opus 108," Beethoven's "Spring Sonata in F-major," and Casar Franck's "Sonata in A-major."

THIS IS the first recital performance on campus for Zeschke, who joined the university faculty last fall. He received his master's degree in music from Northwestern university, and has done additional work at DePauw university. At Southern he has been concert master with the Southern Illinois Symphony orchestra.

Fischer has made numerous appearances in recitals on campus, the most recent in conjunction with Dr. G. K. Plochmann in the series of three lecture-recitals of Beethoven sonatas.

The recital will be open to the public and no admission will be charged.

Kahmann served as master of ceremonies at the dance.

Festival activities started off Friday afternoon in the auditorium with the Miss Southern contest. Also at the assembly, Dr. Charles D. Tenney officially presented the Southern Saluki flag to the student body. Friday evening, the vaudeville show, "Southern Scandals," held forth. Some 15 acts combined to give this original presentation.

The weather couldn't have been better for the festival period, and Saturday's list of events proved to be successful as a result of the blue skies. A parade, consisting of two marching bands, the Miss Southern finalists, and approximately 20 floats, was held Saturday morning through downtown Carbondale.

SATURDAY afternoon, a track meet was held with Eastern Illinois State, with Eastern winning, 70½ to 60½. Also held Saturday afternoon was the big Carnival-Midway on the old football field. Concessions, tent shows, and carnival stands constituted the celebrations here.

Woody Herman cut loose with all his progressiveness at the concert early Saturday night, much to the delight of the appreciative audience. At the dance his music was sweet and slow, and the crowd was especially appreciative of Herman's new vocalist, a lovely girl of 21, Dolly Houston.

LOU DIAMOND, chairman of the Festival, said he felt the event could rightly be termed a success. "Most of us felt that all the events were very well attended, and co-operation was good," said Diamond, commenting on the weekend's activities.

Chi Delta Chi won first prize in the class A float, with an interpretation of a movable airplane. Kappa Delta Alpha took second place with a huge whale, spouting water, drawn by a diesel. Southern Acres took first in class B with a bulgy budget, and the Ag Club took second. Tower Hall won a trophy for the stunt. The entire parade was one of the largest seen during Spring Festival time.

STEERING COMMITTEE for Spring Festival was headed by chairman Lou Diamond of Madison. Dorothy Hannegan and Lowell O'Daniell were co-vice-chairman. Jim Kahmann and Jan Mayer were in charge of publicity; Jim Throgmartin, dance; Delores Hamp and Larry Taliana; finance; Bob Young, Concessions; Les Barnes, decorations; Mimi Alecci and Jean Nierman, Miss Southern; B. J. McConnell and Jim Trigg, Vaudeville show; Gene Johns and Joan Hindman, parade; and Dr. Louis Rodabaugh, sponsor.

Chairman Diamond had words of praise for his steering committee. Over the radio broadcast, he told the audience, "They've been the best, and we like to think the same of the Festival."

Tain't Funny

All the world is thankful to the person who can create laughter. There is something about it which sweeps away annoyance, worry, jealousy, and even disgust.

Psychologists tell us there is an element of suddenness and unexpectedness in most laugh provoking situations.

Still another theory has it that disaster almost always lurks in the center of the comic situation. In World War II, it was Bill Maudlin who made the country laugh with the imminence of death.

One of his cartoons, for example, showed a medic lighting a match for all the world and the enemy to see, and remarking, "It's all right, fellows, I'm a non-combatant."

It is also said that comedy is fundamentally a serious thing, in which the emotions must be engaged and where indifference has no place, and there seems to be no doubt but that we laugh hardest when misfortune comes to someone we do not like. The Saturday Evening Post in its series of Perfect Squelches, has taken advantage of this fact by allowing people to laugh at the pompous fool getting told off with a few choice words.

The off-color joke and the dirty story represent another type of humor which seems to have almost universal appeal—unless perhaps it comes at an inappropriate moment or excites us to that other emotion of disgust.

Many of the so-called dirty jokes we enjoyed as children would now cause us to remark only on the crudeness of the plot.

When we were a child we thought as a child, and when we became a man we became more selective in the things which caused us to laugh. But although we no longer laugh at the crude jokes of yesteryear, we are now more appreciative of subtle humor, hidden meanings, and the play on words which we were not able to understand or appreciate as children.

We do not feel ourselves to be prudes, but we do feel there is somewhat of a difference between humor and raw vulgarity.

Although many of the skits in Friday evening's presentation of Southern Scandals were very well done, other organizations did not take the trouble to evaluate the components which make a situation funny.

These skits had none of the elements of unexpectedness, pathos, or play on words which would have been enjoyable to the entire audience.

To those organizations who presented the offensive skits: "Pardon us, but your intelligence was not showing." M.L.S.

What Happened?

The sun was shining; the weather was perfect. So we can't blame the lack of organization and spirit during Spring Festival on the weather this year.

It couldn't be because there weren't enough committees working on the Festival, that's for sure. If, and this is sheer supposition, each student listed on every committee did a share of the work involved, the fault could not lie there.

Lack of publicity seemed to be a big factor. Aside from one large sign over the campus gate, some posters which appeared here and there a few days before the event, and some advertising with a loud speaker by car, there was little publicity. Of course, the convertible caravan being rained out the Saturday before upset the schedule, since we usually depend a lot on that for publicity.

IT SEEMED TO BE a combination of little things which made the Festival so much of a letdown. It began with the sketchy presentation of the Miss Southern contest on Friday. Inadequate stage lighting, especially the absence of spotlighting on the contestants, detracted much from this event.

And then there was the dedication of the Southern flag. While admirable in itself, it seemed rather out of place at the Miss Southern contest. We listened to a short autobiographical sketch of the Scott Air Base officer's life, and a few jokes, but heard almost nothing pertaining to a flag dedication. Perhaps a special assembly all its own would have

71 Volumes Missing From Book Collection

By Harry Reinert

The reprint collection was established in the library on Oct. 24 last year, and since that date—a little more than six months—a total of 71 volumes have been stolen. At a replacement cost to the library of $37.85.

Last week we were given an invitation by several members of the library staff to come over for a little chat about missing books and mutilations. The results were appalling. The item mentioned above is just one facet of the sordid tale.

Southern's book thieves have varied interests—and some evidently have cultivated tastes. The list of books reported missing from the reprint shelves in the six-month period—a total of 63 different titles—range from three novels by Erskine Caldwell to a copy of John Calvin's "Institutes of the Christian Religion." One of the Caldwell titles, incidentally, was "The Sure Hand of God."

Missing books on the sexy side include "Love Without Fear," two books on childbirth and baby care, and two books concerning the Kinsey report. In the field of politics, copies of the "Communist Manifesto" and Marx's "Capital" have also disappeared, as well as histories of the United States, "Roosevelt and Hopkins," and books dealing with military history, uniforms, and Napoleon.

In the field of the arts, several volumes of poetry, and books on music and painting, have been "lost." Three volumes of Shakespeare, and a number of late novels have also been stolen.

This is only a smattering of what students steal. The reprint collection has been serving its purpose wonderfully—an average of 25 book orders are received each week. But if the cost of maintaining the collection continues to run so high, either a closer check of students leaving the shelves will have to be made, or else the collection will have to be removed.

Not much more need be said. It should seem self-evident that the collection should be preserved if at all possible. But a few sticky-fingers can completely destroy this valuable plan for the rest of the students.

This is not all of the tale. In the next column we shall tell what happens to more than $500 every year that could be spent for late fiction, but isn't.

Notable quote: The man who would steal a book would rob a bank.

For the vaudeville show we will refer you to another editorial on this page. Enough said.

Some of the parade floats Saturday morning showed a refreshing spark of originality, but the parade as a whole, compared to similar parades, such as Homecoming, was short and rather bedraggled. The fact that Festival week-end coincided with high school band contest made it impossible for Southern Illinois high school bands to appear. We are not blaming any Festival committee for this in the least, but are merely saying that it was unfortunate that the conflict in dates occurred, since bands pad out a parade considerably.

AS FOR THE CONCERT, we think that Herman was tops, a good selection by the dance committee, and one of the best concerts of that type ever presented here. However, it does seem that for this occasion there could have been a few traces of stage decorations—a frame or setting for the band. Aside from the fancy racks, which belonged to Herman, the setup was practically the same as for Maroon band practice on Thursday nights.

And why no special stagelighting here, either? Some of us paid to see Herman as well as to hear him. When the house lights were dimmed, Herman, his vocalist, and the rest of the band, performed in semi-darkness, with no spotlights used at all. Perhaps it's a policy with Woody not to use spots—we don't know about that.

"Let there be light" seemed to be the general theme at the Festival dance, too, with the first two finalists at the coronation having to stumble up to the band stand in almost total darkness, before the lighting setup started functioning.

All in all, something seemed to be missing from Spring Festival this year besides the rain. We are not accusing any one individual or group, but we think that a little more organization and forethought would have produced a much better Festival. V. M.

Guess Who?

Faculty member sketched in last Friday's Egyptian by artist Bill Plater was Richard C. Kohler, instructor in industrial education. Student sketch was of Jean Dillman, next year's Obelisk editor.

SIU Course in First Aid Saves Housewife's Life

Shortly after completing a first aid course at Southern, a Carbondale housewife used what she had learned to save her own life.

Mrs. Rose Snyder, a member of the university's householders organization, accidentally dropped a milk bottle and cut the artery in her right leg. She immediately applied pressure on the femoral pressure point to control bleeding and applied a constricting pressure bandage to the wound as she was taught in the course.

Since Mrs. Snyder was unable to get a doctor immediately, she called Mrs. Ruth Rushing, a university nurse, who took her to the hospital for further care and treatment. Mrs. Snyder probably saved her life by knowing what to do promptly, Mrs. Rushing said.

Career Day Idea Was Dean Shuman's

Dean of Women Helen A. Shuman, who died last week while on leave of absence from Southern, deserves credit for originating the ideas of holding a Hospitality Week-End and a Career Day, according to Leah Farr, acting dean of women.

Dean Shuman's idea for a Career Day was developed just this year when Southern held its first Career Conference. Tentative plans are to make the Career Conference an annual affair.

While here at Southern, Dean Shuman's main objective was to build an outstanding personnel program. Her greatest concern was the welfare of individual students.

BEING THE FIRST dean of women here at SIU, Miss Shuman had many responsibilities to fill and many precedents to set. However, she was also active in other activities—she sponsored the Panhellenic Council, was a member of the Student Christian Foundation board of control, and belonged to the American Association of University Women and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

During the war, she organized a Wives Club which gave the school a closer connection with married couples. "This proves that Dean Shuman was very much aware of current problems," said Dean Farr.

The dean of women's office has started a memorial fund in honor of Miss Shuman. Anyone inter-

Music Festival Will Be Held at SIU May 12

School children from the fifth grade through high school will join with SIU groups and musicians throughout the area to present the second annual all-Southern Illinois Music Festival here May 12. Directed by Floyd V. Wakeland, associate professor of music, the program will be held in McAndrew Stadium.

An elementary chorus and band, consisting of top performers from grade schools, combined high school bands and choruses, and the Southern Illinois Symphony orchestra are slated to participate in the festival.

MADRIGAL SINGERS from several schools will combine to present a group of numbers. An interpretative dance and a folk dance will be performed by members of the university women's physical education department.

Outstanding musicians of Southern Illinois will be honored at the festival. Miss Helen Spann, star of television, concert, and radio, will be the featured soloist.

All jewelry that was ordered before Feb. 10, 1951, by seniors, has arrived at Higgins Jewelry Co., 114 N. Illinois Ave., Carbondale, according to Paka Nordmeyer, senior class president.

Interested in contributing to the fund should contact the dean of women's office, according to Dean Farr.

AVERAGES

First baseman and 1951 captain Joe Jones is leading the Southern offense with a .379 average. Joe has 22 hits in 58 times at bat, including two doubles, one triple, and four home runs.

"CHICK" VALIER is second on the club with 18 hits in 49 times at bat for a .367 average. Bob Emms is third with .340. Left fielder Jim Schmulbach has now hit safely in the last six games.

Normal Shuts-Out SIU Netsters, 6-0

Normal's high-flying Redbirds romped to a shut-out victory over Southern's netsters last Saturday at Bloomington, when they won every match of a six match meet, 6-0. The seventh match, the No. 2 doubles, was called on account of rain.

Southern's Omar Winters, Jack Norman, Stan Cooper, Bob Barnhart, and Jim Soliday went down to defeat in the singles. Then Winters and Cooper bowed in the No. 1 doubles to make the victory complete for Normal.

However, SIU injuries entered into the picture. Omar Winters has been bothered with a bad back and wasn't able to give the IAC champ Tom Henderson, much of a battle. Henderson won, 6-1, 6-1. Vern Chagnon then ousted Jack Norman, 6-1, 6-3. In the No. 3 singles, Stan Cooper was leading Ed Strong most of the way, only to lose, 2-6, 6-3, and 6-2.

Bob Barnhart was going great guns in the 4 singles, until he broke his racket. Barnhart broke three wielders before succumbing to Frank Pisark of Normal, 6-4, 6-4.

Then No. 5 man, Jim Soliday was routed by his Redbird opponent, 6-1, 6-2. Henderson and Chagnon combined to give the Normal men a 6-3, 6-3 victory in the No. 1 doubles, over SIU men Cooper and Winters.

The averages including the Eastern series are:

Baseball Team Splits Panther Doubleheader

By Don Duffy

Three unearned runs gave Southern a 5-4 victory in Friday's game, the opener of a two game series against Eastern Illinois State. This was the second victory for the Martinmen in IAC conference play.

The Maroons jumped off to a two run lead in the first inning on one hit and two infield errors. Center fielder Jim Schmulbach led off with a single. Coleman fouled to the catcher for the first out. Jerry West, playing third in place of Chuck Valier, was safe on an error by the Eastern pitcher. Joe Jones grounded out, pitcher to first to move the runners to second and third. Both Schmulbach and West scored on second baseman Jim McDevitt's error on Bob Ems's ground ball. Don Campbell ended the inning by lining out to the first baseman.

Eastern came back to tie the score in their half of the inning. McMullen led off with a single, stole second, and counted on Bill Anderson's triple. The next batter, Whitson, drove the second run across with a fly ball to left.

Both teams were held to one hit apiece until Southern scored three runs in the fifth inning, with an Eastern error again figuring in the scoring. Ed Coleman reached first on shortstop Soregel's error to open the inning. A walk to West put runners on first and second. After Jones grounded out second to first, Bob Ems was hit by a pitched ball to fill the bases. Don Campbell went down on a fly to the second baseman for the second out. Then Weisbecker and Menendez came through, with successive singles to drive across three runs.

Maroon pitcher Reid Martin showed his usual good control by striking out six and walking only two. This was Martin's first victory in conference play.

Second Game

Eastern gained a split in the series by scoring a run in the tenth to break up a pitcher's duel between DeBouck of Eastern and Southern's Darrell Thompson in Saturday's game. Thompson gave up eight scattered hits, but walks figured in all of Eastern's scoring.

The Maroons got off to a 1-0 lead in the third inning. Pitcher Darrell Thompson was safe on first on an error by second baseman McDevitt, and scored on Jim Schmulbach's double. The Maroons scored again in the fourth on singles by Ems and Campbell. Southern had two men on in the fifth, but failed to score. Weisbecker drew a pass to open the inning, and advanced to second on Art Menendez's single. Thompson fanned for the first out. Schmulbach lined to the left fielder, and Dyer's throw back to second doubled Weisbecker to retire the side.

Eastern tied the score in the ninth when McDevitt, who had walked to open the inning, scored on Baumlovy's single with two out. Southern got two men on in the first of the tenth on two infield errors, but couldn't drive the runners across.

After McMullen flied to Jones to lead off for Eastern in the tenth, Thompson issued successive passes to Dyer and Anderson. Whitson then drove a single into left field to break up the game and hand Southern their third conference defeat in five conference games.
