Student Council Mulls Over Representation

How proportional representation will work if it receives two-thirds of the total vote cast in the May 15 election was explained to the Student Council by Jerry Duane, senior council member.

Alice Lowry, junior council member, seconded the motion made by Reynolds on the suggestion change. The council will vote on the motion in two weeks.

Social Senate
President Reynolds told the council a letter received from Jane Cary, Social Senate president, presenting a list of eight suggested changes desired in the by-laws.

He then explained that he thought it was for the council to write Jerry Curry a letter asking for an attempt at the next council meeting to fully explain the changes to the council so that they would have a better understanding of each suggested change.

Dick Cole, council treasurer, also made a motion to add to Article II, Sec. III of the by-laws as follows: That the treasurer handle all purchases for the Student Council which are approved by the council.

His motion was seconded by Jack Van Dyke, senior council member. The motion will be voted on in two weeks.

President Clyde Reynolds also reported to the council that he and Dr. David T. Kenney, faculty adviser, talked to Dr. George H. Hand about a new Student Council Office and gained his assurance that there would be a new office in the Advancement Center in the office of Student Affairs.

He also told the council that the Student Union Board had invited the council to meet with them May 3 at 4 p. m.

High School Music Contest This Weekend
A University School will turn into a "10 Ring Musical Circus" during the Illinois High School Association Music Contest Friday and Saturday.

Producing all the defts and troubles will be more than a thousand students from 58 Southern Illinois High Schools competing in 10 rooms at the school.

Entrance in the contest is limited to schools ranging in enrollment from 226 to 500. This is the Class B section, Class C competition pits schools having up to 226 students.

Participants will perform solos and ensembles either in vocal or instrumental renditions. The awards will be medals and trophies. This is the first time the event has taken place on this campus.

Frank Edwards, assistant principal at University School is contest manager. He said Saturday of that weekend, bands from 31 of the schools, with many having glee clubs, will be on campus. The University School Band also is scheduled for this event.

He then expressed his appreciation for houses that have submitted replies—Tower Hall, Club 16, Woody Hall, first floor north, Delta Chi Fraternity, Stag Club, Nile House, and the Illinois Avenue Residence Hall. He said that no definite trends appeared among the replies received.

Reynolds and council members Sheila Pflanz, Alice Lowry, and Julius Johnson will work at the election polls in the May 15 election.

Law Changes Studied
Under new business, Pres. Reynolds proposed an amendment to the by-laws of Article III, Sec. IV, Part I-C under functions of the Social Senate.

At present the by-law reads: To recommend in writing to the Student Council for transmission to the Office of Student Affairs changes in or additions to the rules and regulations governing social functions.

The proposed change reads: If the Student Council votes against any proposal by the Social Senate, the proposal will be returned to the Social Senate for further consideration.

The Social Senate may then bypass the veto of the Student Council by voting in favor of the proposal by a two-thirds majority vote.

"The Social Senate is closer to the problems of social functions than the council is and it knows better the needs of the various social groups," said Reynolds in explaining his belief in the change.

Phi Sigma Alpha Names Eighteen New Members

Eighteen new members were initiated into Phi Sigma Alpha, a national political science fraternity, Thursday night at the organization's annual banquet in the University Cafeteria.

Membership in Phi Sigma Alpha requires a 4.0 average in government, a 3.8 overall average and 15 hours in courses in the 300 level or above.

Dr. Harvey Walker, visiting professor of government, spoke on "The United Nations Technical Assistance Program." Dr. Walker taught public administration for the U. N. Technical Assistance Administration for 15 months in Brazil during 1951-52. He will leave SIU at the end of this term and go to San Jose, Costa Rica, for a year on a similar assignment.

Initiated into the organization were: Orville Alexander, chairman of the government department; John S. Rendleman, assistant professor of government; Robert A. McGrath and Harold W. Ward, associate professors of government; Emil Zaskawski, lecturer in government; Clark Davis, acting director of student affairs;

Moo Sung Pak, Chung H. Oh, George Po-kung Jan and Winifred R. Dillman, graduated fellows in government; Judy Larr, graduate assistant in sociology and anthropology; John E. Fox and Don Pigg, seniors; Kenneth A. Carter, Ronald E. Boehme and Cecil D. Alfeld, juniors; and Bata Shapiro and Don K. Dillie, graduate students in government.

Geology Club Elects Officers For 1956-57
Geology Club officers for 1956-57 have been elected. Larry Love was elected president at a meeting on March 28.

At a recent meeting, following officers were elected: Charles Booth, vice-president; Charles Ross, secretary; and George DeLoe, treasurer.

College Of Education Has Picnic Friday
A College of Education faculty picnic was held last Friday evening at the Carbondale City Reservoir Park.

There were approximately 100 SIU faculty members and families from the College of Education present. The picnic was highlighted by group singing led by Dr. Cecil C. Franklin, assistant professor, physical education for men. Recreational games were enjoyed by the picknickers before the evening meal.

Special guests at the picnic were Pres. and Mrs. D. W. Morris, Dr. and Mrs. Charles D. Tenney, Dr. and Mrs. George Hand, Benjamin Ellis, Superintendent of Schools in Chicago, Illinois, and guest of Pres. Morris.

Physical Plant Begins Work On New Agriculture Buildings

Hammers bang, foundations are being poured, as the University physical plant laborers get construction underway on the new agriculture buildings.

One of the main buildings being built on the University farms, located one-half mile west of route 151 on the City Lake road, will be a service center.

The building, called a service center because its function will be to service the University farms, will be centrally located on the farms.

The building is of a pole-type construction. A pole-type building is a construction with a framework of chemically-treated poles to resist deterioration. Sheet metal is placed on the sides and top of these poles.

Weather Resistant
"This type of building is most satisfactory in this area to resist the weather," said Albert Meyer, news coordinator for the agriculture school.

It is also less expensive and easier to put up than the conventional barn.

Two-thirds of the service center will be used for the storage of farm machinery. The remaining area will serve as a service shop for the repair of the University's farm machinery, and as a reporting station for the student labor used on the farms.

New Student Week Committee Begins Work
"During New student week we try to give freshmen a feeling of belonging to the university," said Dr. Elizabeth Greenleaf, director of student activities.

Ninety student leaders have been selected out of approximately 200 SIU applicants, Miss Greenleaf said. This is about the same number of group leaders as there were last fall, but there will be about 50 in a group next year as compared to 35 last fall.

"We had a wonderful group select from," Miss Greenleaf said when referring to the student leader applicants.

Co-chairmen of the work are Tom Still and Helen Collins.

The steering committee is composed of Ann Appleton, Ann Carter, R. D. Dillinger, Becky Ferris, Katherine Ferlich, Gene Flores, Sally Clark, Robert King, Francis Mazon, Ruth Reedy, Jack Thatcher and Sue Watson.

The first organization meeting will be Thursday, May 17 at 6:30 p. m. in the library auditorium.

Applicants who were not accepted may volunteer for extra jobs that need to be done by leaving their names with Dr. Greenleaf.

The reporting section of the service center will have lockers and shower facilities for the student labor.

Last week, construction got underway on the new dairy center which will consist of four buildings: a hay-feeder, loafing barn, upright silo, and the main dairy building. It is located one-eighth of a mile of the service center.

A hay-feeder is an open-sided pole-type building. Hay is distributed from this building to the dairy cattle.

The loafing barn is also a pole-type building. Used for the housing of dairy cattle, its main purpose is to serve as a shelter for the cattle in bad weather.

The upright silo will be a concrete structure for the storage of feed.

Cattle Judging Ring
The main building of the dairy center will be a combination exhibition ring, which will be used for the judging of cattle, and a milking parlor. A milking parlor is a station where milking and milk handling is carried on.

The ring center will also have a field yard.

After the construction is completed, the dairy herd will be moved from the south campus to the new dairy center. The dairy barn on the south campus will have to be removed.

Board Of Trustees Accepts Federal Bid
The Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal Government submitted a low bid of 2.75 per cent interest today for $8,355,000 of SIU bonds. The bid was accepted in action by the Board of Trustees.

This is the largest single transaction to date by the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Funds from sale of the bonds will supplement state appropriations.

The final event of the day was a luncheon in the Home Management house.

Doris Snow of SIU is the state president of the College Home Economics Clubs, and Mrs. Agnes Tidley is the advisor.

'Vive La France' Or Live It Up At Spring Festival

The fashion and perfume capital of the world will invade the Student Union. These tickets will be sold by members of Angel Flight from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. each day until Friday at 4 p. m.

Advance tickets will also be sold at the kick-off assembly.

The Parisian festivities will strike on Wednesday 7:30 p. m. in the University Pool where the Aquettes will don berets and can-can skirts for the "Ballet Aquatique." Another performance will be held at 7:30 p. m. Thursday and on Saturday during the "Miss Southern" contest. Admission is free for students with activity cards and $.50 for visitors.

The kick-off assembly, "Voici la France" ("Here is France"), will officially open the 1956 Spring Festival. It will be Thursday at 10 p. m. in the Anderson Stadium. The "Miss Southern" contestants will be introduced, programs will be handed out and a general run-down of events given besides the introduction of a few students from the University.

"La Foire" ("The Fair"), will have a Ferris wheel, tub rides, kiddie-rides and booths sponsored by campus living groups. It will open Friday from 6 p. m. to midnight. This year it will be located across the highway on the hill in front of Dowdell Halls. Each ride and booth will cost $1.00.

While the midway is giving forth with thrills and excitement, the vaudeville show, "Folies Bergeres" will be going on in Shreveport Auditorium. Performances, each different, will be at 7:30 p. m. and 9 p. m. Tickets are $4.00 each and $.75 per couple or $.75 single admission to both performances.

Prospective pledges from Graduate School are Muriel Dalton, Thomas Dougherty, Edwin Gieselman, Glenn Hamilton, Duncan Lampan, Earl Morgan, and Carl Schroeder.

The five applicants from the School of Business and Industry are: Farid Dahad, senior, Frank Mayberry, senior; Eugene T. Sanders, senior; Wilfred Schmidt, junior; and Glenn Zirkle, junior.

Pianist Well Received At Convention
"Autumn leaves and poor people are moments to be remembered by a dungeoned doll in Paris."

This tune hasn't appeared on the hit parade or made any concert tours, but is simply another of pianist Frederic Sjobjorn's novelty arrangements.

Prizes will be awarded for the best vaudeville act, best midway booth and the winners of the "Most Popular Faculty Member" and "Most Men" contests. Winners will be announced during the "Miss Southern" contest.

Registration and a coffee hour were held at 9 a. m. in the department dining room with the coffee and doughnuts made by the students.

Dr. Eileen Quigley, chairman of the Home Economics Department, welcomed the group at 9:45 a. m. at the general session held in the University School Studio Theater. "Ways a Home Economics Club Can Contribute to a Campus" was the subject of an address given by Dr. Betty Greenleaf, director of Student Activities.

Sessions on ways to achieve state projects were held with discussions in four divisions of scholarship funds, money-making schemes, public relations, and recruiting new members. Juanita Troutman presided over SIU's discussion of public relations.

Lunch was served in Woody Hall with campus tours following.

The afternoon sessions at 1 p. m. included a cake decoration demonstration by Pat Peterson, Christina Young, and Shirley Goff of SIU, and reports from each of the discussion sessions.

The final event of the day was a luncheon in the Home Management house.

Doris Snow of SIU is the state president of the College Home Economics Clubs, and Mrs. Agnes Tidley is the advisor.

Room Applications For MRH Due May 11
Students now living in residence halls must apply for a room for next year by May 11, according to Jack Buckle, head resident of the men's residence halls.

After May 11 applicants will be assigned rooms in the order that their $5 and applications come in. Room applications for all men's residence halls, including the two new dormitories at Thompson Point, are available from resident fellows or from Mr. Buckle in the Office of Student Affairs.

ROTC Angels Sing, Dance, March; Receive New Uniforms

A dream will finally come true on Friday, May 25, at McAndrew Stadium. For the first time, Angel Flight, a girls' group of AFROTC, will march in the annual Federal Spring Review. The year's new AFROTC marches before an inspection team for the formal inspection team, from Washington, D. C., and Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama, will see 50 girls parading past the reviewing stand in their new uniforms.

Strided like the WAF uniforms, the Angel Flight uniforms are navy blue linen, accented by white neck scarfs and shiny military buttons. Either black or navy shoes are worn with the uniforms. Latex garters, white garters, white and air line strappings style hats will be added. Nine dollars paid by each girl plus contributions from the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, helped purchase the uniforms.

Group Interviewed
In the May or June issue of the "Air Reserve" magazine, a cover picture along with a complete story about Angel Flight will appear. Last week, Lt. George Anshulko from the magazine, spent another day here interviewing members of the group for the article.

The group, whose advisers are ROTC officers, was organized last year by the ROTC young candidates, Angelletes and Angelates, the two performing groups of the Angel Flight. Angelletes, a singing group, recently appeared with the ROTC in the Business and Professional Women's T. V. showcase held in Shreveport Auditorium.

Girls Must Dance
To get into Angel Flight, a girl must obtain a position at the ROTC office and indicate her ability to dance, sing or march. She must have a 3 point average. The girl is then invited to a coffee hour, and later voted on by the members of Angel Flight.

Led by Flight Leader Joyce Hastings, the other officers are: Mary Jane Chaney, operations officer; Betty Whittenberg, adjutant recorder; Judy Rose, comptroller; public relations officer; Mary Edna Jackson and Bonnie Unger, public relations officers.

Improvements Possible
Letters from the campus at Pittsburgh, Pa., have been received by Angel Flight, on how to improve their organization, details about the uniforms and about the performing groups. Washington University has also written Angel Flight, asking for help in starting an organization on the campus.

Drilling on Wednesday, the whole flight also meets every Friday in Parkerson. The two performing groups also practice once a week.

"To the rear-march." This is what happened when that command was given to the newly organized Angel Flight last spring.

Why An Increase?

An increase in the Student Union fee is necessary. Why? There are several legitimate reasons for the proposed increase.

First of all, our union is much too small for even the present enrollment. The number of students at SIU has almost doubled in the past five years. Can you imagine what kind of conditions will prevail if the present building has to serve for another five years?

The increase in the fee will make the building of a new union possible much sooner.

Of course, some of you will adopt the "What good will it do me?" attitude. Most of you probably won't derive any direct benefit from the new building, but why be a "dog-in-the-manager" about it.

Some will return to SIU from time to time after graduation. Wouldn't it be nice to have a spacious, attractive building in which to relax and reminisce with old acquaintances?

There is a chance that the freshmen, who will be hit hardest financially by the increase, might be able to enjoy the new building before they graduate if the proposal is passed. Why not vote "yes" and hope for the best?

Then, too, the upperclassmen will be affected only very slightly by the increase. Therefore it would be unwise to vote "No." This may sound inconsiderate, but let's face the issue realistically. If the upperclassmen fail to pass the proposal, it will mean that they have helped the future students to have a new union sooner.

This whole thing may sound like drum-beating, but it's only an appeal for everyone to do his part.

else who is interested in going. The charge is $11, which will cover bus transportation and the night's lodging at the cave. Anyone interested should contact Dr. Dallas A. Price, associate professor of geography.

On the way to the cave, the group will study water resources, Kentucky Lake and Kentucky Dam economic minerals in the area and land forms.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

Southern Mermaids Splash Way Through Parisian Water Ballet

Twenty-one SIU mermaids, dipping in and out of multi-colored water, will dance to the tune of 13 Parisian hit songs in the "Ballet Aquatique."

The first event of Spring Festivals "Parisian Holiday" will be held in the University Swimming Pool tomorrow and Thursday at 7:30 p. m., with another performance Saturday afternoon following the "Miss Southern" contest.

All performances are free to students with activity tickets and 50 cents for visitors. The water ballet, presented by the Aquettes, the girls' swimming club, is under the direction of Sarah Jane Malone and her assistant, Yvonne Dempsey, both instructors in women's physical education.

Girls Take Bows before each performance. Tom Hill, junior speech major, 410 m. Carbondale will introduce each girl. During the intermission Bruce Coleman and Roger Council, members of the swimming team, will give a diving exhibition.

For each of the 13 acts, the girls changing from white suits to black and blue leotards. Colored hats will be used for each act to fit in with the theme. The first number is "Moulin Rouge" featuring Sue Wiggins, Rachel Barbour, Cynthia Ward, Sharon Russell, Lee Wilson, Jean Brandstetter, Jane Miller and Donna Neff. Following will be "I Love Paris" with Sharon Cherpil, Ann

Men, Women Halls Plan All-Day Picnic A men and women residence halls all-day picnic has been scheduled for May 30 at 8:00 p. m. according to Marilyn Hape, chairman with Rex Thompson.

Swimming, volleyball, baseball and competitive relays are planned. Committee chairmen are Roger McLean and Pat Rover, tickets: Du Hamilton and Marilyn Hape, food: Caple Lovel and Betty Goforth, transportation: Phyllis Bagdale and John Cevnak, special activities: Chuck Stone and Donna Menapace, publicity: and Barbara Furst and Rex Thompson, entertainment.

Alice In Wonderland Theme Of Fashion Show Alice fell asleep again! And on Southern Illinois Women's Day, but at least, she shared her dreams with the ladies as they followed her down the rabbit hole in to Fashionland, the Wonderland of the home economics department.

In Fashionland, girls modeled garments they had made in the various clothing classes, and costumes that were appropriate for the caucus race or any sports event meeting of a Cheshire cat, at a matinee party or any tea party, a visit to the King and Queen of Hearts in the garden of live flowers, and to talk with Humpty Dumpty.

Dr. Eileen Quigley, Chairman of the Department, introduced the narrator, Sue Willoway Davis, and spoke to the ladies for a short time on the need for a Home Economics building.

First Advertising Workshop Begins Here Friday

The first annual advertising workshop sponsored by the SIU Journalism department will be held on campus Friday.

The afternoon session will be held in the library auditorium and the evening session will be held in the University Cafeteria following a dinner at 5:30 p. m.

At the first session, beginning at 10:05 a. m., Barney Fisher, president and chairman of the board of the Security National Bank of Cairo, will be speaking on "A New Look at Old Concepts of Retail Advertising."

At the second session beginning at 1:30 p. m., a speech on "Creating Effective Retail Advertisements," will be given by John D. O'Malley, of the advertising department of Scroggs-Vandervoort-Barney in St. Louis, Mo.

Two speakers will be featured during the third session which begins at 3:30 p. m. Speaking on the "Plus Factor in Retail Advertising," will be Justin L. Daman, Divisional advertising group manager for Brown Shoe Co. in St. Louis. Immediately following Daman's speech, Wilson W. Conrad, advertising director of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat will talk on "Advertising the Advertising Medium."

Beginning the evening session at 7:00 Harry W. Riehl, president and general manager of the Better Business Bureau of St. Louis, will speak on "Voluntary Self-Control of Advertising versus Legal Intervention."

Registration, a coffee hour and a welcome address by Dr. George H. Hand, SIU vice-president, will start off the day at 9:00 a. m.

Nursing Students Tour Anna State Hospital A tour of the Anna State Hospital was taken by nine nursing education students on Saturday to observe the general methods used to care for mental patients.

Miss Virginia Harrison, chairman of Nursing Education, accompanied the group.

NOTICE The bookstore will take orders for graduation announcements at May 9.

Gardening Class Takes Field Trip

Garden time is almost here and members of Dr. William T. Andrew's vegetable gardening class will be well prepared for it. On April 24-25 the vegetable gardening students went on a field trip to the Ed Ridgeway Greenhouses in the Cartersville-Herz area.

While on their field trip, the students observed different methods of vegetable production under glass. The Ridgeway greenhouses specialize in inside lettuce and tomato production.

Students who went on the Tuesday field trip include: Harold Brunten, Richard Kasten, John Kiefer, James Lindsay, Adolph Louveau, Albert Louveau, William McDannald, Norman Terrens and Orville Wolters.

Students making the Wednesday field trip were: Roy Brangenberg, Vernon Cozad, Richard Eade, Jarl Garner, Richard Gnaedinger, Eugene Millerville, Bob Murry, Chester Ping, James Rea and Paul Wirth.

Student, Wife Have Monkey For A Pet

"We wanted to start out slowly so we thought that we would get a monkey," said Bill Turner, radio and TV major. About a week ago Turner bought a seven inch squirrel monkey for a pet.

One day when Bill and his wife Dorothy, who is majoring in nursing at the University of Missouri, were out driving and talking about pets, they decided to buy a monkey. The monkey keeps Bill busy, since the Turners do not have any children.

The monkey's name is Christine. "I did not know what sex it was going to be when I order the monkey, so I decided to call it Christine, and be on the safe side," said Turner smiling.

Christine has not yet been taken from Sears-Roebuck, and has it in a cage at his home. The monkey is still trying to get acquainted with its surroundings.

"Christine's diet at the present time consists of bananas and sweet potatoes. He will not eat green leafy vegetables," said Turner. "Everytime Christine yells Turner feeds it. He's getting just like a spoiled baby," declared Turner.

Geology Class Visits Trux-Trair Coal Mine

Members of the coal and oil class, Geology 435, studied mines in mining last Tuesday at the Trux-Trair coal mine which is three miles southeast of Elkville.

The six geology majors and Dr. Stanley E. Harris, who teaches the class and is acting chairman of the department, went underground to study the engineering development of the mine. They examined the various systems of use for ventilation and protection against fire and explosion. They also visited the striamine.

Taking the trip were: Charles Toath, B. W. Burchschuetz, Kendall Beroff, John Seybert and Richard Strommatt.

More H. S. Students Attend Conference

Another in the series of Financial Aids Conferences was held last weekend. High school seniors who rank in the upper 10% of their class but who would not be able to attend college are invited to come to meetings that explain the work of the placement service, and how they can work and attend classes too.

At one of the meetings held last Thursday night, Dr. Clarence W. Stephens, supervisor of the training work program, gave general information on the program, admissions, and registration. Dr. Paul Hunsinger, chief academic advisor for the School of Communications, explained the ways advisors serve the students, and gave general information on classes and required courses.

Two Added To SIU Staff; 16 Promoted

The SIU board of trustees added two assistant professors to the university staff and promoted 16 faculty members at a meeting Tuesday.

John J. Waust, who has been chairman of the political science department at Pacific University and a staff member of the European Program of the College-Continuation Studies of the University of Maryland, was appointed assistant professor of government.

Claire Louise Heller, formerly a supervisor and instructor on the staff of the Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, was named assistant professor of nursing.

For the summer term, William W. Miksel was named lecturer in Guidance and Special Education. He has been chairman of the psychology departments at Wichita and Washburn Universities and a consultant to the U. S. Army. He is now on the staff of Mississippi State College for Women.

Promoted by the board to the rank of full professor were Martin J. Arvin, physics; Amos Black, mathematics; F. C. Coleman, English; Raymond H. Day, education; and Alex Reed, agriculture. New associate professors are Jacob O. Bach, education; E. Leon Flegor, education; David Kenner, government; William H. Lewis, zoology; and Annette Sindlar, mathematics.

Instructors promoted to assistant professor were Nicholas Corba, industrial education; Zella Cundall, University Library; William H. Lyons, journalism; Ferris S. Randall, University Library; and Walter F. Staton, English.

Three members will be elected. Members at the meeting will also cast ballots, which arrived this week, for candidates for office in the National Association of International Relations Clubs.

Want A Worm's Eye View? Tunnels Under Campus Even Reach Woody

Want a worm's eye view of SIU? Honeycombed under the SIU campus is an elaborate system of tunnels housing steamfanning pipes connecting the physical plant with the other buildings on campus.

The tunnels are about four feet wide by eight-foot high. The main tunnel comes out of the physical plant boiler room, goes north to Harwood Ave., runs under the main sidewalk in front of the Student Union to Thompson Ave., north on Thompson to Grand, and west on Grand to the University School.

There are various branches along the way in order to reach all the buildings, and, yes, one of these branches has its opening inside the bonded buildings of Woods Hall.

The amount of fuel and water needed for heating the campus is tremendous.

Approximately 33 tons of coal a day is used to evaporate some 100,000 gallons (10 tank car loads) of distilled water.

Pressure Pushes Heat The steam is pushed through the 16-inch pipes under about 25 pounds of pressure. This pressure is maintained through a series of reducing valves which reduce the pressure to fit each building heating system.

An elaborate system of gauges controls the amount of coal, water and air that the furnace is consuming at any one moment.

The ashes are removed from the furnace by means of a vacuum tube. They are raked from the furnace into the tube, then pass through the tube to an "ash silo" to await hauling.

Plant Employing Ten The physical plant heating system employs 10 people, five firemen, four helpers, and the chief plant operations engineer, Ralph Union to Thompson Ave., north on Thompson to Grand, and west on Grand to the University School.

A new tunnel is being constructed which runs due west of the physical plant across Thompson Ave. to the new buildings being built around Thompson Lake.

IRC To Elect Officers Thursday

Officers for 1956-57 will be elected at a meeting of the International Relations Club Thursday at 7 p. m. in the University School studio theater.

Dorothy's The Right Size ... And A Quick Study All The Way To Du Quoin

"Everybody's just been real sweet about it. My teachers have really been considerate," said red-haired Dorothy Beck.

Dorothy, a junior speech major, "filled in" for Peggy Vallet and Doris Draege in the Southern Players' touring company Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. Both girls were in the hospital with colds.

"Dr. McLeod called me at 6:50 Sunday night, and said there might be a possibility that I'd be needed to fill in," Dorothy said. "I hurried and hauled my kit, and finally said I'd do it if they could settle the costume problem. Both Peggy and Doris are smaller than I."

"Dr. McLeod said then that he'd call me back if he couldn't find someone nearer the size. He called—at 8:30. Here one of the boys in the cast brought me a script. I stayed up till 3 a. m. working on lines.

Learns Part on Way "We left for Du Quoin at Monday morning. I was still working on lines when we got there. Did you ever try to memorize lines while you carried stage equipment up three flights of stairs to an auditorium?"

Dorothy and the other Southern Players returned to SIU at 11:30 a. m. They were supposed to meet for breakfast the next morning at 5:15, but Dorothy overslept.

"Dev. Fossieck, woke me up at 5:30," Dorothy said. "I had managed to sleep through two alarms. When she was finally sure

I was awake, she and the rest of the group went on to eat while I got ready for the trip to Carle. There we presented the children's play on one stage, and "Papa is All" on stage at another school. We had only 45 minutes to get from one place to another, counting the time it took to strike sets for one production and set the stage for the other production.

Tour Continues "We finished Papa at 11, and then went on to Fayetteville. We did three shows at Fayetteville, and spent the night at a motel.

"Since I have an 8 o'clock class, we left there at five in the morning, so I'd get back in time. But, thanks to the car and a little trouble, we didn't get in until 8:45."

The only other time that Dorothy remembered having to be a last-minute substitution like this, occurred in high school. One of the girls in "Life with Father," a play for a state contest, fell down the stairs and broke her leg.

Hair Brings Part "Since everybody in that play has red hair," Dorothy laughed, "it was a natural for the part. The only thing was, I didn't know quite all the lines. Cues were just a little slow by the time the prompter shouted them to me from the wings, and I managed to repeat them."

What about the costume problem? "I wore my costume as 'Mama' in 'Three Angels,' and Nancy Post's costume from 'Midsummer

Annual Student Art Exhibit Opens May 7

The exhibit of Alexander Russo paintings, now on display in the Allen Gallery, will end Friday, May 4.

The Allen Gallery will soon be filled again, however, with exhibits from the entire SIU art department on May 7. The annual student art exhibition will be displayed from May 7 through May 25. Included in the selected works will be paintings, ceramics, jewelry, product-design, advertising art, and drawings.

A tea and reception will be held from 3 to 5 p. m., Sunday, May 13, in conjunction with the exhibition.

"Night's Dream," Dorothy said. "But we had to change one set of dialogue from 'blue as the sky' to 'white as the clouds.'"

Girls Walked A Mile From J. Paul Sheedy* Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"Done anything tonight honey?" Sheedy asked his little desert flower. "Get lost!" she sneaked, "Your hair's too shaggy, Sheedy. Confidentially it's sphinx!" Well, this was really insult. So J. Paul got some Wildroot Cream-Oil. Now he's the picture of confidence because he keeps his hair looks handsome and healthy the way Nature intended... neat but not greasy. Take Sheedy's advice. If you want to be popular, get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. Salukis Topple Eastern To Even IAC Record

By Bill Epperheimer

The SIU baseball team evened their IAC record to 3-3 and handed Eastern Illinois' Panthers their fifth and sixth losses without a win in the conference Saturday by taking a twin-bill, 5-0 and 20-5 at Carbondale.

Ron Ayers pitched a five-hit shutout in the first game, and catcher J. W. Sanders helped his cause with two-run homers in the second frame. Roger Wells scored on a wild pitch in the third after he had singled and Wayne Williams' base bingle sent him to third. Capt. Ray Tabacchi and Wells scored in the seventh after two were out. Tabacchi on Wells' double. Williams' second single drove in Wells for the last run of the game.

In the second game, Gordon Lambert became the first Saluki pitcher with two-run homers in the route this year as he limited the Panthers to seven hits and five runs. He was backed up by an 18-hit attack which yielded 20 runs, 10 of them in the fourth inning. In that inning, the Salukis had six hits, including a home run by Norby Vogel, and were aided by three errors, a hit batsman, and two walks. The Panthers used three pitchers in the game.

Standout for the Salukis in the second game was Ray Tabacchi who collected five straight hits, one of a double and the rest singles.

Vogel, who led SIU has won with a .341 mark, is currently pacing Southern with 16 hits in 46 trips—a .348 average for 12 games.

Freeburg To Speak To Mascot County Alumni

"The Development of Recreational Facilities in Southern Illinois," will be the topic of the talk to be given by Dr. William Freeburg at the Mascot County Alumni Club meeting, Friday.

Freeburg is chairman of recreation and outdoor education at SIU. By developing recreational areas in Southern Illinois, he has provided a recreational and outdoor education outlet for thousands of students, from elementary school level through the college level.

The dinner meeting will be held at a restaurant in Metropolis, with Maurice Clark, '38, serving as the evening's toastmaster.

All Mascot county alumni are invited to attend this meeting.

Northern Illinois State track coach Carl Appel returned to his duties this week, following a six week absence. Appel underwent an eye operation early in March.

A tennis match with Great Lakes that was frozen out earlier in the season has been re-scheduled for May 22 at Great Lakes.

100 Students Expected For Camp Classes

Over 100 students are expected to enroll in one of the three Camp Leadership Training programs this spring for summer credit. The departments of Physical Education and Recreation and Outdoor Education will conduct the entire program.

Leadership camps will be sponsored at Little Grass Lake, at the Giant City State Park and on the SIU campus. Summer classes begin July 1 and will last until August 11.

Jim Wilkinson, physical education instructor, will be the program director out at Grassy. The curriculum there includes teaching of swimming, camping, canoeing, fishing, hiking and rifle.

Don Raines will head the Giant City outdoor activities. This program will primarily deal with instruction of crippled and physically handicapped children. Therapy procedures will be taught in the morning and afternoon activities will be devoted to swimming, campfire and normal crafts.

A Sports Day camp will be conducted on campus, meanwhile, during the six-week period. E. L. (Doc) Bencini is director, and courses will be designed basically for physical education majors.

Sixteen courses are listed for the Camp Leadership Training Program which represents seven SIU departments.

Dr. William Freeburg, associate professor, and Robert McBride, assistant professor, are in charge of the overall program.

CARBDONDALE LANES

Recreation And Outdoor Ed. To Offer Master's

The SIU department of recreation and outdoor education was authorized last Thursday to offer courses leading to a master's degree.

The graduate program approved by the board of trustees is designed to serve recreation administrators and supervisors, leaders and group workers interested in qualifying for advancement, and graduate students with training in recreation, social welfare and physical education.

Two games with Wheaton College have been added to Northern Illinois State College's baseball schedule. The Huskies will entertain the Crusaders on May 16 and then travel to Wheaton for a return engagement on May 29.

Northern Illinois State's golf and tennis teams take to the road for three or four matches listed for the coming week end.

Lights At McAndrew Stadium On Tonight For Campus Rec

McAndrew Stadium lights will be turned on tonight as a part of the campus recreation program which is offered by the Intramural department.

Games in softball, volleyball, badminton, tennis (until dark), horseshoes and other sports will be available for both men and women students under the bright lamps.

Students are urged to attend the outdoor program, either as an individual or as a group.

Two other similar under-the-lights recreation programs will be offered on May 15 and May 22 nights.

Coach Nye LeLave Travels To Michigan For Two Matches

Coach Nye LeLave travels to Michigan for two matches, carrying a five match string without a defeat. Illinois Normal tied the Huskie stickmen at 9-9 in the most recent match. Northern will meet Michigan Normal at Ypsilanti on Friday and then engage in a double dual affair with Western Michigan and Valparaiso at Kalamazoo on Saturday.

The Northern netters will attempt to get-back on the winning side of the ledger when they travel to Bloomington on Friday to meet the defending conference champs from ISNU. Beloit will come to DeKalb for a match Saturday.
