The Normal In Mardi Gras —Ten Beautiful Floats

The School Does Itself Proud Before Twenty Thousand Visitors

There has always been a very cordial and sympathetic relation between the Normal University and the various organizations of the City of Carbondale. We know how really necessary it is that there should be this kindly feeling. So, when a general committee was appointed by the citizens of the town to stage the annual Halloween Mardi Gras, it was distinctly stated that the Normal University should be requested to take a large part in the parade. The school gladly accepted the invitation, and President Shryock appointed a committee to take charge of the Normal's part in the event.

Mr. Muckleroy, of the Department of Agriculture, canvassed the various departments and organizations and found there were ten groups that wished to take part in the parade. The general committee furnished trucks and floats, and the several organizations took charge of the decorations.

HOUSEHOLD ARTS

The Household Arts Department under the direction of Miss Jones and Miss Woody presented "Historic Costumes." The Elizabethan was represented by Miss Arline Chappee; the Empire was shown by Miss Alice Mulineaux; the Marie Antoinette, by Miss Texie McAllister. The costumes were very beautiful and were true to history.

Miss Hazel Irwin portrayed the modern style, while her maid, Miss Faye Chambers, was properly costumed.

There were many very complimentary remarks upon this float.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

This float was prepared under the direction of Misses Emma Bowyer, Mae Trovillion, Elizabeth Cox, and Elizabeth Hickson. The subject was one of the most popular of the English Classics, Scott's "The Lady of the Lake." The "Lady," Ellen, was Mrs. Ausby Hendy. She was seated in an old Scotch canoe, and springing up in the water all about her were patches of cat-tails and water lilies.

Near her sat Allan Bane, the old minstrel. Ellen and the minstrel are conversing about her lovers, Roderick Dhu and James Fitz-James. The latter has just taken his departure after having been sheltered there for the night.

Allan Bane, the old minstrel, was represented by Finnis Heern.

THE ART DEPARTMENT

Miss Williams and Miss Burket chose for their subject "Egyptian Art." These teachers had the assistance of Dewey Brush, one of the future artists of this country. Wilbert Valentine was Herald; and Misses Mary Hardy, Lydia Walters, Ruth Gibbs, and Bessie Templeton were Egyptian Artists. There was a small collection of characteristic Egyptian art. The legend "Little Egypt" was displayed on the sides of the car.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

This department is presided over by three geniuses—Tracy Bryant, Edward Miles, and Albert Hunt. There was more real business on this float than on any other one from the Normal. The three professors took for their theme "A Century of Progress." There were typewriters, stenographers, adding machines, filing cases, bankers, clerks, cashiers, telephone operators, and other modern accessories; while the way our fathers used to do it was represented by the goose-quill expert, the cob pipe business manager, and the old-fashioned filing book. George Lichter and Albert Bunge were the back numbers. Ray Dausman, Cora Sanders, Mary Dexter, Mildred McGinnis, and Thelma O'Keef were the up-to-daters.

THE AG. CLUB

If there is a really jolly crowd in school it is the Ag. Club. This bunch very naturally reverted to happy days on the farm when they were ready to select a scene for their float. They finally settled on an old fashioned "Husking Bee." So the State Farm was called on and such a wealth of fodder, corn, pumpkins, and farm girls!

Mr. Muckleroy wasn't in it alongside of Velma Turner and Opal Burroughs. Under the direction of these two future farmers' wives the float was decorated. Along each side were large pumpkins carved and lighted to read S. I. N. U. Across the end of the float a similar arrangement which read A. G. C. L. U. B. Several bushels of unhusked corn were piled in the middle of the float and around his sat the jolly corn huskers.

The boys worked hard but not a red ear could be found—and the girls were very sorry. Those taking part were Beulah Burroughs, Velma Turner, Belva Young, Elmer Stewart, Carrie Soistlaw, Opal Burroughs, Harley

Old-Time Pep Comes To The Front and Aids in Defeating McKendree 2-0

Methodist Sent Home Without Crossing Carbondale Goal Line

The end of a perfect day saw all S. I. N. U. rejoicing over the defeat of McKendree College on the gridiron, Friday afternoon. The factors that went to the victory need not all be mentioned here. But some of the prominent factors let us pass over briefly: and first on the list I want to put old-time S. I. N. U. pep! And say it good and loud, like Slats Valentine, that inimitable cheer leader says it, P-e-p! The band was there too. Give some credit to the band. You'll also have to hand it to our coach. Coaches may come, and coaches may go, but leave us McAndrews. Nine big ones for the Coach!

But of course in the last analysis, none of these elements win football games. You'll have to hand it to the best team in Southern Illinois. Let them tell you how to play football. They know the game! The fighting spirit has come to stay in Carbondale Normal. We know it has. From Fischel's dirt-stained face in the line, to little old Quarterback Clark, there's not a man of them who didn't play the game.

There's no need to mention any one of them in particular. No one could have witnessed the game and have been in doubt as to that particular brand of fighting spirit raised at Carbondale Normal. But if there were any misguided individuals who did not attend the game, and are interested in hearing who did the work, tell 'em good and strong it was the backfield, and the line. That includes everybody, and it should. They went out there intending to win the game. They played raw-boned preachers, who outweighed them almost to the man. But they hit them on the principle that the bigger they are, the harder they fall. McIlrath, a new man on the squad, played a fine game at right end.

McKendree opened the game with a kick, which Clark received. Failing to make first down, Clark punted on the last down, which gave McKendree the ball on the 35 yard line. The preachers opened up with a line attack, followed by an end run, which succeeded for 15 yards. After a plunge through the line, Entsminger recovered a fumble for Carbondale. Again failing to make 10 yards through the line, Clark punted on the fourth down. Two plunges by the Methodists gave them 8 yards. Sayre went through the center for 5 more. At this stage Carbondale was penalized 15 yards for rough playing. Entsminger. Willoughby replaces Lappin at right guard. His 250 pound opponent, Farris, thought he had a cinch when he saw young "Creosote" coming out, but he soon found out his mistake.

McKendree kept the ball until the end of the first quarter, advancing now and then on end runs and line bucks. At the end of the first period Carbondale line held them for downs, and the second quarter opened with the Normal in possession of the pigskin.

Passing briefly over the unimportant stages of the second period, in which the ball shifted from the Preachers to the Home Boys and then vice versa, on downs, we pass to the latter few minutes of the quarter when Carbondale had the ball, and just after being penalized fifteen yards made a brave attempt to overcome their handicap, by succeeding in, first, a run around the end by Carson for six yards, and a forward pass, Hamilton to Carson, for another six. They failed, however, and the half ended with the pigskin in the Reverend Gentlemen's hands on the 20 yard line.

It might be of interest to note that Carbondale attempted two forward passes and completed both of them. McKendree attempted one, and had it interrupted by Neber. Neber, who had been out of the game on account of an accident, played a whale of a game at halfback. In the last quarter, he and Clark shifted jobs.

It was in the third quarter that Carbondale first began to run the visitors ragged. Being penalized a number of times for rough tactics on the part of the Reverends' husky guards, McKendree seemed rather at a loss to solve the offensive tactics of the Carbondale team. In the latter part of the quarter, after advancing the ball on a series of successful plunges, an end run by Hamilton for 13 yards carried the ball within striking distance of the goal. The whistle blew just as the ball was 1 yard from the goal line, on the fourth down.

In the fourth quarter the visitor's line, strengthened by the rest, held, while Clark attempted to climb over left guard for a touchdown. The ball went over to the visitors but an attempted punt being blocked, one of the Preachers irreverently slapped at the ball which, coupled with the fact of his being over the goal line at the time, gave Carbondale their safety. Score, 2-0.

In the remaining part of the last

SENIOR COLLEGE NOTES

The work of classifying the members of the senior college who are taking zoology has been completed and their proper, common and scientific names are given below:

PROPER	COMMON
Gail Creager	Katydid
Charles Amel	Cockroach
Roy White	The Monarch
Earl Smith	San Jose Smith
Herman Gerer	The Weevil
Charles Sattgast	Frog Hopper
Jessie Stewart	Lady Bug
Herman Sparr	Praying Mantis
Wilson Halter	Measuring Worm

Charles Sattgast has accepted a position as assistant in the chemical laboratory. We may now look for the advancement of science to continue with more rapid strides.

According to reports and observations made by the class reporter the house in which Miss Grace Frederick resides was damaged by a severe fire which endangered Miss Frederick's life and property and frightened her most severely. She recovered, however, after having a severe nervous headache. The fire occurred Saturday, October 29th.

Theresa Buntin (reading short story in class): "The people before me gasped while she drank the milk through clinched teeth."

Mrs. Trovillion: "That's all right, if she had two or three teeth knocked out."

HEARD IN THE SENIOR COLLEGE CLASS ROOM

W. H.—"Roy, you're looking more like a professor every day."

Roy White—"But not nearly so fast as Herman Greer is becoming a chaplain."

W. H.—"At our next meeting we elect him as class chaplain."

Miss Gail Creager, who is to receive her Ed. B. this coming June, tells us she is planning on attending the University of Chicago for the remaining degrees which she has not yet named. As soon as she gets all the degrees which Universities of the United States can confer on her she expects to complete her education by graduating from the Lunar College located on the moon.

Charles Sattgast is still standing by the guns at his post as business manager for the "Egyptian." Charles says, "Always boost for it, but don't roost on it."

Chas. Sattgast (discussing watertables and wells)—"but why does the peach branch turn down?"

Prof. Colyer—"What has water got to do with a stick?"

Good English is largely a matter of habit. Get the habit.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The third-year students are back in harness again with two profitable years behind us and three greater years to look forward to. Let's all pull together; we have a good president, other officers, and representatives. Let's all lend a hand and show the school by our efforts now that we intend to make '25 a great year.

CLASSES, just "Watch Our Smoke!"

YE J. H. S. GOSSIP

Every Tuesday and Thursday at chapel time in J. H. S. there is spelling. The average of each grade is computed. The competition is very keen between the grades. Honorable mention should be made of Charles Goodall and Rolland Bridges, who are each striving to miss more words than the other.

AT YOUR SERVICE

The mistress of the house entered the dining room just as a burglar was in the act of purloining the silver.

"What are you doing?" asked the lady.

"Oh," returned the thief, "I am at your service, madame."

POP'S GOOD ENOUGH

Elsie—"Shall I put on my mackintosh and run out and post these letters, mother?"

Mother—"No, dear, it's not fit for a dog to be out a night like this. Let your father post them."

Not how much we speak, but how well.

TO THE NEW STUDENTS

Amidst the golden and red leaves of the campus large patches of green appear. Someone suggests grass, but upon a closer investigation we find a new student trying to locate himself on the normal campus. The old students are grouped on the steps, cordially beckoning him to join them. The workmen on the third floor and the faculty view with one another in their valiant efforts to gain his attention. Thus flung into the maelstrom of books, rules, dates, meetings, clubs and hikes, he whirls hither and thither. The undercurrent of past friendships, enshrined in familiar home scenes, threaten to envelope him. But above all the spirit of the S. I. N. U. calls him.

Such is the scene of the first few weeks. This spirit of Normal, new students, calls you to support the warriors of the gridiron. To put the school one hundred per cent for "The Egyptian," to participate in class room discussion, to enter into the ranks of the wholesome fellowship of college life. The Y. M. and Y. W. want your support. The societies and numerous other clubs will give you opportunity of development. In short, all the forces of the campus unite in saying with the Normal spirit, "Be one."

Let that same intuition which causes you to jump to your feet when "Star Spangled Banner" is played, move you to pour forth in voluminous accent the Alma Mater and the following vels when "Slim" maneuvers in the field!

THE AGORA

The report of the committee on the revision of the constitution made their report last Monday. Some of the most important changes are:

1. Only Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors are eligible to be admitted.
2. A more strict method for admission.
3. The fine for absence increased from ten cents to a quarter.
4. Dispense of the devotional exercise.

Plans are under way for a mock trial to be staged jointly with the Illinae. Watch for the posters.

Students from thirty-five different counties met Thursday after chapel and organized as county organizations.

The purpose of these organizations is to acquaint the different county superintendents as to the number of students from his county now in school preparing for the teaching profession. It also is a fine way of advertising the S. I. N. U.

The Faculty members of the S. I. N. U. had their pictures taken Thursday morning, October 27. They are all good at posing as well as teaching. However, the entire student body felt great pangs of sympathy for the occupants of the rear seats on the faculty platform. It was perceived that these said teachers underwent much physical pain by stretching and craning their necks so as to be in plain view on the photograph.

The lucky few on the front row merely showed their pleasure by smiling to display their teeth and dimples. Of course, everyone wanted to look his best. In order to do this, some became very frustrated. It is even whispered among the students that certain individuals actually removed their spectacles.

P. S. Friday morning it was announced that the student body could not be photographed, because the camera was broken. We wonder—?

P-E-P! HAVE WE GOT IT!

Let the English teachers and those inclined to be super-critical not read the headline to this article. We are perfectly aware of the fact that it is grammatically incorrect, but it expresses what we mean better than "Have we it?" We'll leave it to Slats.

"We've got it, now keep it, doggone it, don't lose it, Pep, Pep, Pep." If anyone is suffering under the delusion that the dead cannot be brought to life, let him visit the S. I. N. U. Full directions may be had by asking Mr. Tracy Bryant, Registrar, as to the location of this institution. If he hears a lot of excess energy breaking loose in the form of shouts, cheers, yells, all bearing the import of "Rah-Rah-Rah for S. I. N. U." he will know his search is over. He's found the place.

He's found the place where he'd better stay if he wants to become imbued with the spirit of hard fighting, clean sportsmanship, and a student body that backs the team to the limit. We'll ring off till next time, but, students of this institution, remember this fact, that as long as you attend this school, you're expected to be not merely ornamental but useful, as well. Show that you're of some use. Go to it!

ANTHONY HALL NEWS

Miss Elizabeth Weir spent the week end in Sparta visiting relatives.

Miss Nelle Thies went home Tuesday returning Wednesday night.

Miss Maud Bratton visited in Marion last week end.

Miss Rue chaperoned a bunch of Anthony Hall girls to Anna last Saturday where they went to visit the Southern Illinois State Hospital. It is reported that they all returned safely.

Miss Mary Henry, a former student here, has been visiting with Miss Marie Warford.

A terrible scene occurred on the second floor when Clara Feilweber and Edna Ward tried to unlock their door after luncheon. The door-knob refused to respond and the key could not be put in its accustomed place. After an hour's desperate struggle it was discovered that the door-knob had been greased with Vick's salve and the key-hole had been stuffed full of paper. The authorities have so far failed to discover the guilty party and a reward is being offered for the arrest and conviction of the culprits. It is hoped that the offenders will be brought to justice before they cause any more disturbances.

Sound business reasons, every one of them.

1. The first commercially successful starting and lighting battery was built by The Electric Storage Battery Company.
2. The Electric Storage Battery Company is the oldest and largest manufacturer of storage batteries in the world.
3. Exide Service means a definite battery service—repairs, overhauling and attention by a group of battery experts.
4. We can sell an Exide Battery, secure in the belief that you will get all the battery value possible and more than you ordinarily would get.

No matter what make of battery you have now in your car, if it needs attention, we shall be glad to give it expert, unprejudiced attention so that it will last as long as possible until you are ready to replace it with an Exide, the long-life battery.

period, the home boys, with Neber calling signals, made good progress up the field, but they were forced to quit by the whistle sounding for the end of the game. Needless to say, the team is to be congratulated on winning from a team which is exceptionally strong this year.

Keep it up, gang! What are you going to do with the Cape? Huh?

THE FORUM

Several of the new students may not even know there is such an organization. Well, there is; there is such an organization, and it is a young men's debating club. Prior to October 31st, the meetings were held every Saturday morning in the Zetetic Hall, but beginning with that date they will be held every Monday evening at 7:00 o'clock. However, the meeting on Monday, October 30th, was put off until Tuesday, November 1st, on account of the great event of the year, Halloween. After that, the meetings will be held regularly on Monday night.

The best training a person can get along the oratorical line is given in this society. The number of members is limited to twenty-five, this making it possible for each member to appear on the program at least three or four times a term. Not only is debating exercised, but other lines of oratory also are developed in the optional and special numbers given at each meeting. For the person who wishes to develop his ability as a public speaker, no better training can be gotten anywhere than that given in the Forum.

And it is not only educational but enjoyable also. It is a pleasure to listen to the hot tongue fights that occur between the participants, and see how good naturedly each one receives the hard blows dealt by his opponents.

This is not a secret society. We want visitors. Come out Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

THE NORMAL IN MARDI GRAS

Hammack, Gail Boston, Freeman Dorris, Ralph Warren.

THE ZETETIC SOCIETY

The Zetetic Literary Society chose the theme, "Wisdom Enthroned." The float was very prettily decorated. Dilla Hall personified Wisdom. He was enthroned at the rear of the float, and in front and to his right and left sat representatives of the various activities of the society. Miss Emma Snook and Miss Viola Lurtz personified Music, while Literature, Oratory, Debate, Etc., were represented by Howard Walker, Elizabeth Wier, Ransom Sherritt, and Roberta Walker.

The Zetetic Society has about eighty-five active members, and the work of the society is up-to-date. Mr. Howard Walker is president.

THE SOCRATIC SOCIETY

The patron saint of this society, Socrates, was seen in the person of Marion Lappin.

Socrates was represented as seated upon the float with his Greek disciples about him. He emphasized his teaching by pointing with the right forefinger to the several fingers of the left hand for his firstly, secondly, thirdly, etc. Among his disciples were Miss Luella Heinrich, Miss Myrtle Hill, Miss Ruth Morris, Edgar Booker, and William Wiegand.

Mr. Lyndon Hancock is president of this society, and the membership numbers seventy-five.

ANTHONY HALL

In the estimation of many people there would not be much life at the Southern Illinois State Normal University if it were not for the young ladies at Anthony Hall. True it is that in a group of floats representing the spirit and activities of the State Normal, we should expect the "Dormitory Girls" to take an active part.

The young ladies adopted no high-sounding title as the name of their float. They were delighted to have it known as

DORMITORY LIFE

A typical girl's room in Anthony Hall was reproduced on the floor of the large float. In the rear was the familiar dormitory cot, in the center, the ever-present study table with its books, magazines, drawing outfit, stationary boxes, study lamp, and other working tools. In the front of the room was the dresser and near by upon a small table was the electric plate for the manufacture of fudge, etc.

The young ladies who personified the spirit of Anthony Hall were Violet Spiller, Zoe Fullerton, Marie War-ford, Leah Cochran, Mary Peace, Belva Hunter, and Edith Reed.

As we should expect Miss Marie Warford was at the dresser primping while Violet Spiller was busily engaged in making fudge. Nobody was studying. This was an oversight!

As this float passed a certain group of women one called out to the others, "See! There is the Domestic Science Department of the Normal!"

THE TRAINING SCHOOL

The training school put up a fine exhibit. It was patriotic and local.

THE MARCH OF GEORGE ROGERS CLARK

The float was planned by Misses Sheridan, York, and Mitchell. The setting was very attractive and represented Gen. Clark and his patriotic band on their way from old Fort Massac, diagonally across Egypt to Old Kaskaskia. The band was represented as passing through Virgil forests, across streams, and over the Ozarks.

Rolland Bridges was "George Rogers Clark. He was correctly costumed and carried a man's sword. The army had for Indian guide, Kenneth Spain. Kenneth was a sure-enough Indian. Ralph Swain was the drummer boy, and Frances Lowden, Leamon Brown, Raymond Stotlar and Paul Adams were Virginia soldiers.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A.

The Triangle-Spirit, Mind and Body The two Christian Associations are the saving element in the Normal. Their membership includes model students. The two organizations have a membership of 175. These young people are loyal not only to their associations, but they can be depended on wherever they are asked to work.

Their float was attractive to those who know of the work of the Y's. Mabel McGuire is the president of the young ladies' organization and Earl Smith of the young men's association. The float was planned by Miss McGuire, Mr. Glen Fisher and Jeanette Jones. These young people and Mr. Albert Becker, and Miss Aval Marie Smith were on the float.

BAINUM'S BAND

What would such an occasion be worth without good music? What would we do without the Band and Orchestra? And what would they do without Bainum?

Some 50 students took part in the two bands which were under the general direction of Mr. Bainum. On behalf of the Normal we hereby express our appreciation of the services of our band boys, and at the same time not forget that we are indebted to several musicians from the city who so cheerfully assisted with the music.

THE POLICE

Last but not least were the policemen. The Normal furnished nearly two score of husky young men who were sworn in and acted as police in various parts of the city.

ZETETIC NEWS

The Zetetic float was one of the many artistic ones in the long parade that thousands of people saw in Carbondale Hallowe'en night. The discriminating taste and untiring efforts of the committee in the hands of whom the task rested, added to the interest of the society as a whole, produced a float worthy of a foremost rank.

The float embodied an ideal of both the school and the Zetetic Society by being emblematic of Wisdom.

The float was decorated in a lattice work of white and green, the Zetetic colors, and Autumn leaves in the natural beauty. A proper degree of lighting brought out the color harmony and relief of the figures to the greatest satisfaction. There was an atmosphere surrounding the float as it passed that conveyed to the spectators to some extent the depth and breadth of the ideals and aims of the Zetetic Society.

ACACIA CLUB

A new club has been organized in school named the Acacia Club. Only master-masons are eligible for membership. At a meeting held last Monday, October 31st, of faculty members and students, officers were elected and a constitution was adopted. The name Acacia was selected as the name most fitting for the organization. It was decided to hold stated meetings on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. The officers are Wm. J. Crow, president; Monroe Myers, vice-president and Mr. Lentz, secretary and treasurer. It is the desire of the organization to increase their membership and all master-masons connected with this normal are invited to see Mr. Crow in regard to joining the club.

HE COULD PROVE IT

"Well," said the waiter to the student, who had just had his coffee cup refilled for the fifth time, "you must be very fond of coffee."

"Yes, indeed," answered the student, "or I wouldn't drink so much water to get so little."

A first year student walked up to Miss Brown's desk and asked in low tones if she could get a book about David's Harem.

"Oh, yes," said Miss Brown, "We have several copies of 'David Harum'."

"Hush," whispered the girl, "not so loud."

Better speech—Better jobs.

THE MAN WITH THE MOLECULE

"What are you studying now?" asked Billy.

"We have taken up the subject of molecules," answered Jimmy.

"I saw a man yesterday with one, but he could not keep it on his eye," was Billy's astonishing reply.

RESERVED SEATS

The Amorous One—"Do you ever peep through the keyhole when I am sitting in there with your sister?"

Small Brother (with a burst of candor)—"Sometimes. When mother ain't there."

NEVER SATISFIED

Mother (anxiously)—"What is Willy crying for?"

Willy's Brother—"Oh, nothing much. He dug a hole in the garden and now the rain's come on he wants to bring the hole into the house."

MORAL—KEEP UPRIGHT

"Sedentary work," said the college lecturer, "tends to lessen the endurance."

"In other words," butted in the smart student, "the more one sits the less one can stand."

"Exactly," retorted the lecturer; "and if one lies a great deal one's standing is lost completely."

BY THEIR HABITS YE SHALL KNOW THEM

Visitor: "Does Dwight York, a student, room here?"

Landlady: "Well, Mr. York lives here, but I thought he was a night watchman."

Speak good English and your English will speak for you.
