SOUTHERN PUTS OUT THE WELCOME MAT AGAIN Eastern Here For Annual Homecoming Tilt Saturday

Southern Will Be Out to Grab IAC Contest Before Expected Capacity Crowd

By BOB McDOWELL

"Beat Eastern" is the cry that is going around Southern's campus this week as the Maroons are making last minute preparations to down the Eastern Illinois State Teachers College eleven when they clash in MacAndrew Stadium at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

The Maroons sport a record of three wins and two defeats in the current season, and two of these victories were over Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic conference foes; therefore, the Maroons will lay their chances to win in the race for the loop over on the line in this crucial tilt.

Eastern should not be too difficult to get down, for they are coming with a 6-8 win over Kirkwood, Mo. Teachers, as Gene Stollar, manager of the fourth quarter, break what threatened to be a soreless tie.

In the second contest, the Maroons scored up on the short end of a 20-13 score against the Cape Girardeau (Mo.) Teachers. Cape scored once in the first period, twice in the third period to clinch the victory. Southern roared back with a six-pointer in the third period as Stollar ran 75 yards to end zone, and hit paydirt again.

The Maroons' next opponents are the State Normal-High Birds.

Twenty-sixth Alumni Celebration Begins Today With Rally

Homecoming activities will get under way at 10 a. m. when students and faculty meet in a grand pep rally in MacAndrew Stadium, with Dale Andrews, student Homecoming chairman, acting as master of ceremonies.

Cheerleaders, the band, and football team will furnish entertainment which will take place on a raised platform. Members of the Southern Veterans Organization will serve as color bearers in a flag raising ceremony and will carry the American and Southern flags in the parade.

Immediately following the pep rally at 11 a. m., a giant parade of floats and stunts will leave the campus, headed for downtown. When the procession reaches the parking area downtown, a second pep session will be held, and prizes will be awarded for the floats and stunts.

Open house will be held at the president's office from 2 to 4 p. m. Friday and from 10 to 12 a. m. Saturday, although President Lay has announced he hopes the alumni will call at any convenient time.

Students will attend a free movie Friday afternoon and the Little Theatre will present its Homecoming production, "You Can't Take It With You," Friday evening at Shryock Auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p. m. A pep rally for all students and alumni will be held immediately after the play.

They will gather about a huge bonfire on the old football field, at which freshmen will take the Ephiebic Oath, Southern pledge of loyalty, and cast their green ribbons into the flames.

Chief speaker at the bonfire will be Dr. Percival Bailey, president of Southern's Alumni Association.

University Budget Approved By College Board Committee

A four and one-half million dollar budget for Southern Illinois Normal University—two million larger than any previous budget in the school's history—has been approved by the budget committee of the State Teachers College Board for the next biennium, Gen. Robert W. Davis, board member and member of the board's advisory committee for Southern, revealed today.

He will also present President Chester F. Lay a memorial plaque, which will hang in the gymnasium to bear the name of each year's winner.

Milosevich was selected as the most valuable athlete the year at Southern by his teammates at the annual banquet for "11" club members last June, and is therefore entitled to the award.

The Hinkley award, presented for the first time this year, was established by Nu Epsilon Alpha fraternity in memory of Henry Otis Hinkley of Fatima and Salem, a former member of the fraternity who lost his life in a B-1 crash in the Pacific while serving with the armed forces in the second world war.

Adams Elected Head Home Economic Club

Shirley Adams became president of the Home Economics club at their first meeting Wednesday in Old Main, attended by 35 home economics majors and minors. Helen Francis was elected secretary. Alice Ivers, secretary, and Rose Antonaci, treasurer.

Published weekly throughout the school year, excepting holidays, by the students of Southern Illinois Normal University at Carbondale, Illinois. Entered as second class matter in the Carbondale Post Office under the Act of March 3, 1879. Printed by the Herald, in Carbondale. EDITOR CATHERINE SULLIVAN Associate Editor: John Ferguson Sports Editor: Bob McEwen STAFF: Edmond, Kenney, Schafala, Kittle, Goss, Layton, Mahon, Smith, McCullough, Williams, ...

The Southern Parade By DAVE KENNEY THE PIVOTAL affair of Homecoming each year seems to be the football game, since it is anticipated by the majority of the faculty, and shares its outcome can do much toward making the week end a satisfactory one. When the Maroons take the field tomorrow, well-equipped and well-accustomed, their appearance will make a vivid contrast to that of some of the teams which have represented Southern in the past, particularly in the days about the turn of the century when the sport had only the hesitant and doubting approval of the college authorities.

Letters to the Editor Through this column you invite students, faculty, and friends of Southern to express your ideas. We must know the source of any article, but we will withhold your name if you wish, or we retain the right to withhold any material that would vitiate the ethics of journalism and freedom of the press. Dear Cathy: To do and behold, someone fed the Lions some raw meat, and we might as well get on with it. ...

Egyptian Welcomes Alumni

The Egyptian shouts a hearty note of welcome to all Southern friends and alumni who are gathering here today for the annual week end celebration. We're glad to see you, and we know you'll have a good time from the moment of your arrival for the pep session at MacAndrew Stadium this morning until you climb into your automobiles for the journey home after the dance Saturday night. You've returned to Southern, anxious to see old students, friends, to go to your favorite faculty members, and to join in all the excitement which Southern has spent weeks preparing for you. Most of all, however, you're anxious to see if Southern has changed, and if so, in what way. You'll be looking for PROGRESS.

It was in 1891 that football was first played here in Southern by the whole student body. Faculty unapproving, chose to ignore the whole thing until 1898, when it was definitely decided that football was too rough a game for the young gentlemen of the student body, and went so far as to request those who insisted on indulging in the sport to leave school. It's quite the opposite these days, isn't it?

It was in 1898 that the administration of the college finally rejected, from the school calendar which appeared in Southern for the first annual, the Sphinx. It was then that on November 15, '98 "The Powers decide to allow football."

The Sphinx failed to record what success or failure the team had, but did list its players and coaches. Charles Pratt explained the team from his fullback position, while Profs. Harry Alvis and Samuel Whittington, of the physical training department, acted as coaches. We do find recorded under the title "The substitutes team" who were probably the most exciting bit of play of the season. It seems that, to quote from the Sphinx of '99, "They lined up at the end of the second half. No point had yet been made. The substitute was left halfback. The ball was Carbondale's. Then the captain snuck over these magic numbers, 4, 99, 11. At a point, a fade, a flying end took the ball and sprang ahead, and around the end shot the substitute half. There was one minute left, and ninety yards before him and the goal. A man flew out of the straggling line to stop him; with a little spring the substitute shot past him and sped on alone. The touchdown was made, he time was up, the victory won. The substitute was Douglas, 'Immortal' Holes. This name has come down to us through the years. Perhaps tomorrow's game will produce some hero whose name will be so famous."

To return to the proposed $3 activity fee increase. . . In its last issue, The Little Rebel stated that "He (Dr. Lay) emphasized the fact that he did not necessarily favor a three dollar raise in activity fee, but that he acted on the request of several heads of student organizations and that as far as he was concerned, the issue was dead until such time as the students themselves wanted to call the issue to a vote." That would seem to be a proper attitude for the administration to take, since it is a matter of student concern almost entirely. However, many students are wondering just who the heads of student organizations are who first suggested the increase. Since it is a proposal to be decided upon by the students, how about letting them have that information?

"I don't care what it used to be, it's a sorority house now."

Employment vs. Unemployment

By LLOYD SCUFALE One of the problems in the post-war development of Southern Illinois is the large percentage of unemployed among our local population. We must face the fact that since 1930, this section of the State has ranked high in its percentage of unemployed as compared to the rest of Illinois. A larger number of employed citizens in this area will do much toward making Little Egypt a stronger leading area of the State. What are the present causes and possible remedies of this important problem? What is actually being done now to bring about greater employment in this area? What are the future possibilities of greater employment in Southern Illinois? Let's view these questions logically, then consider positive steps and trends toward greater employment in this area. Coal mining, business houses, and agriculture have been and still remain the principal means of employment in Little Egypt. Many coal mines are already worked out, with several former mining communities now left as ghost towns in mute evidence. Recently, one of our largest strip mines was sold because of its decrease in production. With coal mining in this area showing signs of a fade-out in relative importance, many miners are left without work, most of whom are also untrained in any other trade.

Who's Misrepresenting Facts?

To our amazement, the Egyptian has been accused by various administrative officials of misrepresenting the facts in our stand against the proposed $3 raise in activity fees. After carefully re-checking our editorial on the subject, "Egyptian Disasters 'All or Nothing at All' Proposal," we are still convinced and puzzled to find out what grounds they have for their accusations. As far as we can tell, the statements in the editorial are true. But if there is any misrepresentation, might we suggest that the reason could be that we were unable to obtain the facts we asked for from the people who should have had them. For instance, on Thursday, October 14, the Egyptian was informed that the proposed $3 raise in activity fees was being discussed at a meeting of the Advisory Council and that the Council had rejected unfavorably toward it. Not certain of the authenticity of the report and trying to check this information, that night we called Dr. Charles Toney, administrative assistant to the president, and the next morning there had been no meeting of the Advisory Council as such concerning the measure, adding "I think you can simply disregard that information." Consequently, we made no mention of the Council in either our editorial or in our front page bulletin. But according to the Saturday, October 26, issue of The Daily Independent, Dr. Lay stated that the proposition WAS discussed by the Faculty Advisory Council in the presence of two students before it was put to any part of the student body. The confusion resulting from these conflicting statements was not clarified when Dale Anvers, student representative on the Advisory Council, stated this week that in the Advisory Council meeting on October 10, the measure was discussed, but that there was so much sentiment expressed against it that it was not put to a vote. We would like to know just WHO it is that is misrepresenting facts. And why.

TODAY'S DEFINITION: HOMEOMING—a sort of institutional "mountain of youth" in which the alumni plunge each year to come up refreshed and dripping with memories of their undergraduate days here at Southern. Happy plunging alumni! Just don't stay in too long and get soaked.

Attention Voters

By DAVE KENNEY When you pick up your ballot next Tuesday and step into the voting booth, you will have the opportunity of saying "Yes" or "No" in regard to two questions of great importance to the state of Illinois and to its citizens. The first of these is the veterans' bond, and the second, the so-called "gateway" amendment, a proposal to alter the amending clause in effect since 1870, of the state Constitution, which the general public knows little about. If the bonus, or "Service Recognition Bond" as it is officially known is to pass, it must be approved by a majority of all those who vote, regardless of whether or not they cast a ballot on the question itself. The means that if a person who fails to mark the "Service Recognition Bond" is in effect voting against the proposed bonus, as surely as if he had voted "No." The same can be said of the "gateway" amendment, if it is to go into effect, it must receive a majority of all of the voters that are cast.

HOW THE BONUS IS TO BE FINANCED If the bonus is approved, it is to be financed by a $385,000,000 issue of 25 year, two per cent bonds. The payments of principal and interest are to be secured from three sources. The present state tax of two cents per pack on cigarettes will be increased to three cents; the tax on all patented articles of the state's tax tracks is to be raised from two to six per cent plus 50 per cent of the "break." A "break" is what is left after the better has been paid off to the nearest dime. Since "breaks" total about $2,000,000 a year, that provision would yield the state approximately a million annually.

WHAT THE "GATEWAY" AMENDMENT IS! When the state constitution was drawn up in 1870, it specified that only one amendment could be submitted to the voters by the legislature at each biennial election, and that in order to go into effect a proposed amendment must receive a majority vote in the next election, regardless of how many voters usually cast their ballots in that election. This has made the constitution practically unamendable, since many persons neglect to vote on the proposed amendments, and in doing so actually cast a vote against them. The "gateway" amendment, so called because if it is passed it will be a gateway to the passage of numerous other badly needed amendments, would permit the legislature to present as many as three amendments to the voters biennially, and would require that a proposed amendment receive the approval of two-thirds of those persons actually voting upon it. This change is badly in need of evidence by the fact that our state constitution hasn't been amended since 1908 and that the "gateway" proposal, to amend the constitution, similar to previous amendments, is to be adopted in 1934 and in 1932, even though in each of those years the number of affirmative votes was considerably greater than the negative response. In '32, for example, 1,080,541 persons favored changing the amending process, while only 275,329 voters said "No." However, since a majority of the TOTAL vote was 1,732,964 the proposal was defeated! That definitely does not resemble democracy.

The productivity of agriculture in this area is also on the decrease, especially in immediately regions around the coal mines. The undernourishing process of the shall now being the practically unusable soil left by the strip mines has caused much land to be little use for agriculture. The relative farm income in Little Egypt is much lower than in other areas of Illinois. Employment on local farms is far insufficient for making agriculture in Little Egypt a main source of employment.

The return of the veterans has swelled our local unemployed lists even more. In one county alone, the unemployed list extends above 12,000, with veterans as more than half that number. Only a few can find employment where the principal means of employment are declining.

It is evident that the greatest solution to unemployment in Little Egypt is to influence industry to locate in this area, along with the usual mining, manufacturing, business, retail, coal mining, and agriculture to be of second importance. The national trend of industry is beginning to be diversification of industry, with branch factories located in small communities, home offices in large cities.

The organization of Southern Illinois, Inc., has done much toward influencing branch industries to locate in this area, some in the former Illinois Ordnance plant region. Through its efforts in promoting Little Egypt, the organization has already given larger industries to locate branch manufacturing centers in this area. An electrical parts factory will soon be moving into the former Illinois Ordnance Plant area with an expected employment of approximately 400. A fertilizer plant and possibly a cotton dress and shirt factory will also be moving in soon. Many such manufacturing branches are now being negotiated with, holding good possibilities of more contracts. It is anticipated that the total employment of these industries alone will reach around 7,000 by next spring. Other industries are beginning to move into other local towns employing more. These industries will bring about a greater used it will be a gateway to the passage of numerous other badly needed amendments, would permit the legislature to present as many as three amendments to the voters biennially, and would require that a proposed amendment receive the approval of two-thirds of those persons actually voting upon it. That definitely does not resemble democracy. For a better view of the state constitution, and for better state government in every department, don't fail to vote "yes" on the "gateway" proposal next Tuesday. Remember, it must be approved by a majority of all persons going to the polls!

Dear Cathy: When Mr. Franz "called my hand," as he so unhappily put it in last week's issue, on a previous occasion, he was evidently so affected that the Greeks organized politically in 1942 to prevent an Anthony Hall-Brown combination from dominating campus politics, he evidently intended to check his facts. Tut, tut, Mr. Franz, you should be more careful. To quote from Mr. Franz, "Prior to 1939, a student didn't have much of an important part in the election unless he was backed by the Greek organizations. This was particularly true in the case of Homecoming week." Do you happen to know who was Queen in 1938 Mr. Franz? You evidently don't so I'll tell you, it was Guinna O'Connell of Anthony Hall. And in '39, Dorothy Mitchell of Anthony Hall and in '41, Pat Mercer of Anthony Hall. Does that appear to you to be the result of a two party system, Mr. Franz? When you said what activity for the local business houses, which will then be able employ more. The success of employment in Little Egypt are, therefore shifting from coal mining and agriculture to branch manufacturing industries and increased activity in local business houses. This is Little Egypt's opportunity to get itself out of its employment slump of the last decade, and be a strong leading section of Illinois. These industries will be of a permanent, not a temporary, nature for the present years. In order for the present unemployed to meet the opportunity, they must meet the situation half way and be willing to train themselves and accept training for these new industries moving in. There is also a shift from coal mining and a neutral skills to trained producers and skilled workmen. These new industries, which are being developed, are being employed not avail themselves of the opportunity to accept training in their skills in accordance with the industries moving in, then these industries will import unemployed from other areas. The success of this opportunity for Little Egypt greatly increases its percentage of employed citizens, and greater incomes and maintain them, and make Little Egypt a strong leading area of Illinois, depends mainly on its people.

Letter From Dr. Chester F. Lay To Southern Division IEA President

Mr. Russell Rendleman, President Southern Division Illinois Education Association Dear Mr. Rendleman: I have noted in the press that more than a week ago the delegates of the Southern Division of the Illinois Education Association authorized the appointment of a committee to set upon me to confer with me "privately" which Southern Illinois Normal University has been receiving publicity. While neither the press nor the verbal accounts given me by persons who attended this meeting indicate that this committee is to undertake an "investigation," I have also noted a statement from you, as transmitted by the United Press and carried in the Chicago Daily News, that the committee is to effect that the "investigation," and that there are specific complaints or charges, at least some of which you listed. While I have not yet had the honor of receiving from your organization any official notice of this action, I assure you I am prepared to receive such a designation. I am sure you realize, as I do, that the longer such a conference is delayed the greater the damage to the University's welfare. I have always been most anxious that the University should cooperate in every way possible with your organization; as I think this is the only way that we have. With deep regret that you should not have seen fit to communicate date with me in this matter and that your quoted statement have reached me only through the press, I am Sincerely, Chester F. Lay

Who's Who About Campus

By Ralph Lane

"I'm just a loafer at heart" was Ted Cain's reply when asked about his hobby. This statement would be applicable to most students on the campus, but for one who has excelled in extracurricular activities, as well as scholastic ratings, it is rather out of place.

Among the activities in which he has participated are the Sphinx club, Baptist Student Union, Veterans organization, Commerce Club, Me Tau Pi, journalism fraternity, "11" club, tennis team, and Homecoming committees.

He has been secretary and president of his fraternity, Sigma Beta Mu, president of Kappa Phi Kappa, educational fraternity, vice president of Student Council, Egyptian sports editor, an Obelisk sports staff member, and junior class president.

In addition to these he has put in at least four hours a day for the past two years at the physical plant office.

This interview came to an end when Ted disclosed that his secret ambition is "to get a big fat 'C' out of Dr. Mayo's 112 math class."

Fotos Club Announces Rules For Contest

Since there has been some question as to the rules for the Homecoming photography contest, the Fotos Club wishes to announce that 36 MM and 127 size pictures may be enlarged to a standard 3x4 (approximately). All other sizes must be contact prints unless special permission is given.

If the club so desires, contestants must furnish negatives of prints being exhibited. The negatives will enable the club to enlarge all the prints to one size.

The deadline of the contest is Friday, November 15; pictures may be turned into Dr. J. Cary Davis in the foreign language office.

Geography Frat Tours Dixon Springs

Gamma Theta Upsilon, national professional geography fraternity, sponsored a field trip Saturday, October 26, to the Dixon Springs Experiment Station.

The group was accompanied by Dr. Thomas F. Barton, chairman of the geography department, who explained and pointed out the landforms, other physical features, and conservation measures; and William M. Marberry, assistant professor of biology, who discussed geological coloration of various plants and brought to the attention of the group the great variety of trees growing in Southern Illinois.

The itinerary included a stop at the Cypress Swamp near Carbondale and a complete tour of the Dixon Springs Experiment Station located in the Shawnee National Forest.

Experiments viewed consisted of studies on soil erosion, pasture plants, fertilizers, beef cattle, sheep, turkeys, and other subjects for the purpose of discovering more profitable farming practices.

WE'RE AFRAID EVERYONE
of getting a little bored with the age-long campaign we've been conducting against this Greek versus independent platform for campus elections. But think how we feel when we see how fruitless our efforts have been when we pick up a local newspaper which headlines "Greeks Nab 7 SINU Offices" and follows it by identifying each officer and each campus candidate as Greek or independent. The reading public must think we have a mighty fine basis for our votes.

Five From Industrial Education Dept. Attend Meeting

Five representatives from Southern attended the first 1946-47 meeting of the Egyptian Round Table of Industrial Education which met at Marion on October 26. They were Dr. W. C. Bicknell, chairman of the industrial education department, Robert W. English, assistant professor of industrial education, Carl Kinsey of the physical plant, and two student teaching assistants in the department, Roland Hoehn and Walter Wofflin.

English spoke to the group on "American Standards Association's Contribution to Drafting." He also served as chairman of the general meeting, and at that time he called the group's attention to the bulletin, "Standards of Attainment in Industrial Arts Teaching," which is published by the American Vocational Association, Washington, D. C.

Roy Franz To Head Future Teachers

Roy Franz was elected president of the Egyptian chapter of the Future Teachers of America at a meeting last Monday night in Old Main.

Other officers named at this time include Marilee Manes, vice president; Mabel Barton, secretary and treasurer; Robert Sanjules and Floyd Jenl, program chairman.

Dr. Howard E. Bouley, associate professor of education, will act as sponsor of the group.

350 Attend KDA All-School Dance

About 350 students attended the Speck Stamp, all-school dance Wednesday night, sponsored by the Kappa Delta Alpha fraternity in the Old Science gym.

Sam Oley's band was engaged for the affair.

Southern Grid Maroons 1946 Edition

In his ninth year of football, Charles "Shag" Crouch holds down the center slot of the Maroon line. He is eleven with 240 pounds. "Shag" is a Carbondale product, who is playing for the first time since his discharge from the army.

Sophomore Charles Mathiew from Eldorado is one of the most consistent Southern linemen. Last year, Charles played for Bucknell University and should be a strong Maroon tackle for the next two seasons.

"Seat-back" Gene Stotlar is the Maroon leading scorer, and is starting for the sixteenth season at Southern alternating as quarterback and halfback. Gene was also one of the big reasons why Southern captured the National Intercollegiate Basketball championship crown last year at Kansas City where he received the Chuck Taylor award for being the most valuable man in the tournament.

Passing and ball-carrying are Dick Seelman's main chores and he takes the field for Southern at left half. Dick, a product of Flora, is also one of Coach Martin's strongest defensive men. This is his first term at Southern and he is majoring in physical education.

Lettering for his fourth year at Southern, Lawrence "Dago" Calafetti has crashed the opponent's line from his fullback spot with the power of a bulldozer in the Maroon's five previous contests. "Cal" is a senior and only recently returned to his Johnston City home following his discharge from the navy.

Another Flora product is Bob Colburn, stellar end, who has figured prominently in Southern's drive for the IAC gridiron crown this season. Bob is a marine veteran and a freshman who should gain quite an athletic reputation for himself before leaving the Southern campus.

Another Denton man is "tough and rugged" Bill "Cotton" Cosgrove, who is playing his second season with Southern. "Cotton" holds down one of the guard positions and is playing the same brand of ball that won him an all-conference berth in his first year at Southern.

Captain of last year's Southern is Sam Milosovich, who is holding down a tackle position the third straight year for the Maroon. Sam made quite a name for himself at Zeigler school in football and basketball, and is carrying on in the style here at Southern.

After one year with the Western Michigan University gridiron eleven, Miron "Knobby" Schuster, who has also a world war II veteran, "Knobby" is a junior and is majoring in physical education and has been one of the mainstays in the Maroon line this season.

Hailing from Murphysboro it guard Miron "Knobby" Schuster, who has also a world war II veteran, "Knobby" is a junior and is majoring in physical education and has been one of the mainstays in the Maroon line this season.

"Seat-back" Gene Stotlar is the Maroon leading scorer, and is starting for the sixteenth season at Southern alternating as quarterback and halfback. Gene was also one of the big reasons why Southern captured the National Intercollegiate Basketball championship crown last year at Kansas City where he received the Chuck Taylor award for being the most valuable man in the tournament.

Ledio Cabutti is in his third year at Southern and is one of the best all-around ends to don the Maroon and White in several seasons. Ledio Cabutti excelled in basketball and football when attending Johnston City high school and has lettered here in both sports.

Freshman Jim "Bulldog" is one reason why Southern is having great gridiron eleven success. For his 190 pounds, "dog" is one of the toughest in the conference and is carrying on in the same style that won state-wide recognition while playing for Denton.

Maroons Drop Western at Macomb For Second IAC Victory; Stotlar Stars

Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin's Maroons came from behind to punch out a 19 to 7 gridiron victory over the Leathernecks of Western last Saturday to dampen the spirit of Western's Homecoming at Macomb.

Aided by a strong wind at their backs, the Leathernecks jumped to an early lead in the first period when a passing attack was successfully culminated by McNeerney's eight yard touchdown pass to Bob Jones. Church Fowler's conversion was successful and Western led 7 to 0.

The partisan Homecoming crowd's job ended abruptly in the second quarter when Bob Johnson stopped off table, sidestepped the entire Western team for the Maroon's first tally. The try for extra point failed, and the half ended with Southern trailing 7 to 6.

Southern took the lead in the third quarter on Bill Malinsky's 39 yard touchdown pass to halfback Gene Stotlar who caught the ball just as he stepped over the goal line. The conversion attempt by acting Captain Lawrence Calafetti was successful, putting the Maroons in the lead 13 to 7.

In the fourth quarter Gene Stotlar cinched the game when he intercepted a late, ditch Western pass and raced 30 yards for the insurance touchdown. The conversion failed again and the game ended with the Maroons on the long end of a 19 to 7 score.

Harriers Seek Foe After Western Tie

With one win and one tie under their belts, the Maroon chinchads are seeking a meet for Homecoming, as the previously scheduled meet with Eastern Teachers has been cancelled. The Maroons defeated Eastern over the 3.6 mile grind earlier this year by a score of 25-30 (low score wins).

Last Saturday Coach Lingle's harriers journeyed to Macomb for a triangular meet with Western Teachers and Monmouth in conjunction with the Maroons' football game, and came away with a 30-30 tie for first place with Western's distance men. Monmouth was third with a total of 64 points.

Here are the place-by-place results of last week's meet:

First—Green (W); time, 19:44; second, Keene (S); third, Peitl (W); fourth, Hamilton (S); fifth, Houghill (W); sixth, Burden (S); seventh, Dickson (W); eighth, Lunnenam (S); ninth, McCall (M) tenth, Miller (S); 11th, Sotne (M); 12th, Leary (M); 14th, Brown (W); 15th, DeMestor (S).

Maroon Bees To Cape Monday

The Maroon Football reserves will travel to Cape Girardeau Monday, November 4, to engage the Cape Girardeau Indians reserve team for a football game at 8 p. m.

This will be the second game of the year for the Maroon reserves, as they previously lost to a strong St. Louis University eleven by the score of 21-0. Due to a shortage of reserves the Cape team has not scheduled any other games for this season.

I Club

Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin, athletic director, has announced that he wants all former "I" club members to register either before or after Saturday's game and state their address and occupation, at his office in the gym.

150 TAKE FLU SHOTS

The Health Service Office revealed Wednesday, October 30, that to date approximately 460 students had taken the flu-immunization shots, which were given during the last two weeks.

SINU Opponents

By DAVE KENNEY

Things went pretty much as predicted in IAC circles last Saturday as Southern's Maroons demonstrated their power in both the running and passing departments to defeat Macomb's Leathernecks 19 to 7, while the State Normal Cardinals were out driving Charleston in a free scoring 26-13 battle.

Southern's victory placed her at the top of the conference heap with two victories and no defeats to her credit. Normal's win kept her in the race and pointed her toward her final top tilt with De Kalb on November 9. That should be a hard fought game, since Normal must win to preserve her chance of a tie for final conference honors, while DeKalb, if she gets by Macomb tomorrow, will be playing an unopposed record, as far as the IAC is concerned, on the line. Comparative scores give De Kalb a five touchdown edge over Macomb and a two touchdown advantage over Normal, so it is probable she will come to Carbondale November 16 still unbeaten in circuit competition.

De Kalb lost considerable prestige last Saturday when its steppeled out of the conference to match her unbeaten, unscored up record against a higher calibre team from Saginaw, Michigan, and came out just half a hundred points short, losing 67 to 7.

It will be very interesting to district finds Carbondale Community at Du Quoin, Carterville at Elkville, Herrin at Zeigler, Cape Girardeau, Mo., at Falkner, and West Frankfort at Harrisburg.

"THE MOST" section — Our nomination for the "most" cooperative department on campus is the men's athletic department. If the Egyptian does not bring the "most" complete sports coverage, it is certainly not the fault of Coach Martin, Lingle, Freuberg, or Holder.

We can prove that "the most" favorite food of the Maroon football squad is the lovely apple. Two bushels were consumed by the squad enroute to Western and return, but they must be good, as Southern won 19-7.

"The pass" blond-curling cry heard by these ears since Tarzan's last picture played at our favorite theatre was fullback Calafetti's yell each time the Maroons came out of their huddle up at Western. The Macomb fans could not find one cheer for the Southerners and the Maroon's vocal support came chiefly from "Shag" Crouch (who was sidelined because of injuries), and the writer (who couldn't talk after the game).

"The most" certain event tomorrow—a good football between Southern and Eastern.

Field And Stream Notes

By James G. Gibson

Trapping season is getting closer as the days roll by, and all trappers are beginning to show signs of activity such as gathering together their old traps and buying new ones. Another good sign that the day for trappers is close is the different treatments that trappers are giving their traps.

A very good reason for the interest in preparation for trapping this year is the fact that women prefer short hair for coats this year. It takes almost 300 muskrats to make one coat, and almost the same amount of mink skins are needed to make a mink coat. Naturally these facts have caused prices to jump.

In 1935, minks were $12.50 at top prices; now minks are selling for $30 and may be higher before the season is over. In 1939, muskrats were $1.75 tops; now muskrats are selling for $5.

After a few minutes thought, who would wonder that each trapper has his own method of treatment for traps. The most common treatment is boiling in paraffin, walnut hulls, and wood ashes. This treatment will dull the gnat of new traps, will help prevent the traps from rusting, and will remove human scent from the traps.

OVER 100 MEN OUT FOR VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

By Lewis Waters

A little over two weeks ago, Coach "Abe" Martin sent out a call for basketball players. The response to his call has been terrific. Over 100 boys reported for practice and are now in the process of elimination, which will take several weeks to complete.

Many of the boys who are now on the football squad are also very good at basketball. Included in this list are several lettermen from the 1945-46 squad. They are Gene Stotlar, Quentin Stinson, Sam Milosovich, Carl Birker, Roy Rozelle, and Bill Malinsky. All six of these men were on the first ten last season.

The basketball squad will be cut 50 per cent this week end, and all men who are dropped from the squad will then be eligible to play intra-mural basketball. The leagues for intra-mural play should get under way two weeks after the completion of the football season.

Last year, Southern was conference champion in basketball and also won the National Intercollegiate championship in a tournament played at Kansas City, Missouri. Coach Martin is assisted by Lynn Holder in shaping the team for the coming season.

SOUTHERN, EASTERN, VIE FOR CROWN

Southern's first away game, Southerners took this one 19-7 from and racked up their first conference win. The team's first score came in the fourth period when Mink tossed a pass to Bob Colburn who raced over the goal line for a 10 yard marker. To tie the game, a few minutes later Stotlar tossed a short pass to Franz who jumped into the zone. Normal scored their southern's first before the end.

Arkansas State then invaded Carbondale and carried away a 14-12 victory that found Southern on the foot three yard line as game ended. Dick Seelman upped Southern's lead in the first round as he rifled a long pass Ledio Cabutti, who made a beautiful catch just before he stepped into the end zone. The second kick was no good and Southern held six points. How Arkansas State roared back in their quarter with two touchdowns and made both conversions good. Then, in the last quarter, Malinsky tossed to George Beltz for the final score.

By virtue of last week's win Maroons have won and lost a total of four games. The Homecoming due to drop tomorrow's conference game, Martin & Co. will not be able to break this jinx by losing Eastern; and, at the Homecoming, the Homecoming was expected to attend the game. The play by play broadcast of the game will be handled by D. Hadley on Station WJFF, with headquarters in Herrin.

DEFENDING CHAMPS

On the collegiate front—Well, we had such a good year last week we are forced to stick by our guns and pick Illinois over Iowa, (the Illini are still rolling); Notre Dame over Navy (to continue to send the Middle to the way to their poorest game in over 50 years); Army over West Virginia (wonder who will spark the Cadets this week?). Encouraged by last week's results, we will go out farther and pick Northwestern over Ohio State (despite Bob Briggs).

Oh the prep front—The big game of this area will find unscored upon Anna-Jonesboro at Murphysboro tonight in what would be the game of this season. Anna has been mowing down her opponents with regularity, while Murphysboro has been getting better each game of the season. This week's only one of our favorites remains unbeaten and untied. Champaign came through easily, while East St. Louis was held to a scoreless tie by Granite City. Champaign tangled with Urbana this week. Other games in the surrounding

Under the steady ring of Don Smith, the Southern Veterans team made a clean sweep of their three game tourney at the Congress Bowling Lanes Tuesday evening.

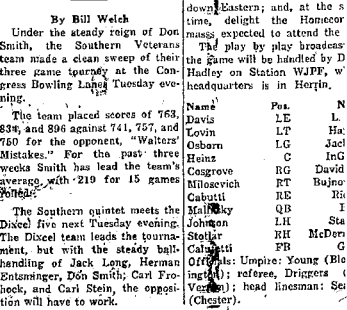

The team placed scores of 768, 838, and 896 against 741, 757, and 676 for the opponent, "Walters' Mistakes." For the past three weeks Smith has led the team's average, with 219 for 15 games.

The Southern quintet meets the Dixie Six next Tuesday evening. The Dixie team leads the tournament, but with the steady ball-handling of Jack Long, Herman Entenmann, Don Smith, Carl Frobeck, and Carl Stein, the opposition will have to work.

REV. J. H. NICHOLS

REV. MAYARD S. CLARK

CLARK ELLZEY

Four outstanding authorities in world affairs, sociology, and journalism have been invited to the campus as guests; speakers at the Religious Emphasis week activities to be observed here November 3-8. They are Mrs. Anna Mow, Clark Ellzey, Rev. Bayard Stockton Clark, and Rev. J. H. Nichols.

Mrs. Anna Mow, a teacher in the religious education department of Bethany Biblical Institute, Chicago, was formerly a missionary in India. Mrs. Mow and her husband did special work for the Mohammedans in the Gujarat section of India. They also did young people's work in different parts of India and every year attended the Assembly at Sat Tai conducted by E. Stanley Jones. Mrs. Mow is guardian for Nehru's niece, Rita Parodi.

Born in Virginia, Mrs. Mow received her education in Manchester College, Indiana, and in Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago. From 1921 to 1923 she and Mr. Mow did mountain work in Virginia, and also taught in a private high school. During Religious Emphasis week Mrs. Mow will speak on India, and will direct a seminar on "Christianity in the Modern World."

W. Clark Ellzey is a graduate of Duke University and has attended Occidental College, University of Missouri, Southern University, Southeast Missouri State Teachers College, and the University of North Carolina. His studies include law, medicine, and psychiatry with a major in sociology. Mr. Ellzey is a member of the faculty at Stephens College, teaching education for marriage in the division of home and family. Ellzey has served as director of the Western branch of marriage and family council at Colorado Springs, and is a member of the national conference on family relations, the Chapel Hill conference for the conservation of marriage and family, and the American social hygiene association. During the war he was field director for the American Red Cross in service with the air force.

Dr. J. H. Nichols, co-editor of the "Journal of Religion" and professor of the history of Christianity at the University of Chicago, will direct a seminar with Rev. Clark on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday on "The Postwar World" and "Is Christianity Relevant Today." After some loose playing, the softball league is getting to be a close race, and fellows have started playing real competition soft ball. Three games were played this week and each game was one of pitcher vs. pitcher. Considering the field and the lack of practice, the close scores are something to marvel at.

The first game saw N.E.A. defeat the Keeton Kids by a score of 6 to 3. Keeton sent Slater to the mound, and he pitched a five-hitter. Ringhofer tossed for the Keeton kids and allowed nine hits. The second game was a repeat performance in scoring as Sigma

Beta Mu defeated the Swabbies 6 to 3. Wall pitched another good game and allowed only six hits. The Swabbies used their new pitcher, Flumee, but he was the loser, although he pitched a good game, allowing nine hits.

The best game of the current season saw the Granite City Bums defeat the Rinkeydinks by a close score of 2 to 1. This is the game all of us were waiting for. The two best pitchers in the league, Vogt and Tucker, opposed each other. Vogt pitched his first two-hitter and set down the Rinkeydinks. Tucker was close to Vogt on hits, allowing three hits. Both pitchers had good support, but one pitcher had to lose to a better pitcher; therefore, Vogt won his third game of the season and

Tucker suffered his first defeat. The current standings are as follows:

W	L
Granite City Bums.	3	0
N. E. A.	2	0
Sigma Beta Mu	2	1
Rinkeydinks	1	3
Swabbies	1	3
K. D. A.	0	2
Keeton Kids	0	2

The Round Robin Varsity Tournament ended this week with the following standings:

W	L
Williams	8	0
Gloefek	7	1
Miswoley	5	3
Harmon	2	3
Kostoff	3	3

Albert	1	4

Table tennis has a large turnout. There is still a chance for anyone desiring to enter this tournament.

RUBINOFF RELATES MOST EMBARRASSING MOMENT

By Bill Welch
 Tuesday I shook the hand of the Russian concert violinist, Dave Rubinoff. I shook the hand that fingers his instrument which gives out soul-stirring melodies. I touched the instrument made by Stradivarius, the maker of old, the master of music.

Rubinoff related his most embarrassing moment on the stage as being the time when he appeared with the company of Victor Herbert in Philadelphia. He was called to do an emergency concert, and found that his dress trousers had been sent to the cleaners. Seeing his predicament, he hastily borrowed the extra pair from the young girl... even though they were four inches too short.

He rushed to the presser, had the pants steamed, which expanded them to the required four inches. Back at the concert, he stepped on his potential in the spotlight and began to play. The audience gaped in awe at the sight they saw... Rubinoff's pants were slowly becoming shorter. The audience rose and cheered him in the midst of his performance... to his surprise, as he looked down at his bare legs, he looked as if he were a twelve-year-old.

Dr. Orville Alexander - - - Southern Synonym For Work

DR. ORVILLE ALEXANDER

Alexander and Homecoming. It is appropriate that these two names be linked together. Dr. Orville Alexander is serving as faculty chairman for Southern's 1946 Homecoming, an assignment which falls under his position as director of Alumni Services. He was named to the newly created post this spring by President Lay.

Half of Alexander's time is given over to Alumni Services, the other half to being a professor of government. Since his appointment, he has sent out 5,000 copies of the Alumni Directory, containing names of some 7,000 men and women who have graduated from Southern, and made several trips to Southern Illinois communities to visit with alumni in an effort to find out what services they want from their Alma Mater.

"Our emphasis will be placed on what the University can do for its alumni, not what the alumni can do for the University," he has stated.

This is not the first year that Dr. Alexander has been faculty chairman of Homecoming, for he had charge of the event from 1938 to 1941 as well. During 1945 he was on leave of absence from the faculty to serve as director of research for the Illinois Legislative Council in Springfield.

"The main purpose of Homecoming this year is to welcome home the boys that have been in service." He has worked to have the 1946 Homecoming bigger and better than ever before and to carry it out in the traditional Southern style.

Another big job Dr. Alexander undertakes is that of president of the Joint Alumni Council, an organization of the five teachers colleges and universities of Illinois, and to the credit named to be Queen and her court.

At all times he is the source of information for and about alumni.
