MEET THE SQUAD

Whenever we see a pile-up on the field of battle, (that is, talking about football, we mean the gridiron,) we wonder who our fellows are that are mixed up in it. And so often it occurs that the vast majority of the school students do not know the individual members of the team.

Now it is manifestly impossible to bring each and every one of our Maroon and White warriors around and give each of you a personal introduction to them. You'd forget half of them if we did; or at least you would not recognize them when you saw them on the field, all togged up.

We can do this, however. We can tell you who they are, and where they come from, so you will at least feel better acquainted with them if they were names and nothing more. The vast majority of them are native Carbondale-fans. (Apologies to Mr. Shrylock and Miss Hickson). Of course, the two most awe-inspiring are Tom Entsminger and Walker Schwartz. Two very illuminating examples of the beef trust. It doesn't feel very nice to have either of them run over you.

Next in importance, perhaps, are the two Hoffmans, Nyle and Otis, (otherwise, Skunk and Cut-out). We always mention them favorably because they frequently pick us up and ride us home. Then little Monroe, with the deep bass voice, otherwise known as Buzzy Myers. Ed (Greasy) Carter, is our fair-complexioned little half-back. (He's going to mask as a girl Hallowe'en, and have all the boys crazy about him). Merritt Allen, also known as Skezil, is the lightest man on the squad, but not the least mighty by a long way. Sheep Youngblood, (called Joseph by his mother) is our sub-quarterback.

Denny Lee is a fast little Halfback in Skezil's class. Warwick Boos is a long, drawn-out, good looking end. Add to these the illustrious, (or illustrious-to-be) names of Neber, Hamilton, Willoughby, Hendy, and others too numerous to mention, and you see that the lads from Carbondale make up the major part of the team. Many of these boys are Junior High, champs of previous years.

Next probably to the Carbondale group, in number at least, are the Murphysboro boys. We have four of them, Clark, Quarterback, who answers to the name of Louis, Leo Gardner, our chubby Center, John Winn, red-headed Halfback, who marcellis (please don't notice the spelling, I'm in a hurry,) his hair, and Harold Felix Miller. This is the Murphysboro High School's contribution. Thank you, Murphy.

Ted Carson, Captain, comes to us from Sisey, (he says its in Illinois; it's not on the map), well recommended by the minister. He deserves a whole page, but lack of space forbids giving it to him. Lapham and Fischel have not yet said where they were from, but Lapham's married, and it is our personal opinion that he is engaged, so it won't (any

FORMER ADV. MANAGER AT ANNAPOLIS

George Wilson, who was Adv. Manager for the Egyptian last year, passed both the mental and physical examinations for the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, and is now there in school.

William Ashley, '21, who underwent a serious operation at the hospital several weeks ago, is improving nicely. Ashley enrolled the first of several but was taken suddenly ill with a severe attack of appendicitis a few days later.

Ninth Grade Weiner Roast

A Ninth Grade weiner roast was held about a mile south of town near the bluffs and was chaperoned by Miss Sarah Mitchell.

The class met at 4:30 on the campus and was taken to the ground on cars. On arriving a fire was built and games were played suitable to the occasion. The weiners were then roasted and devoured in true picnic fashion.

After the weiners were devoured stories were told and songs were sung. Everyone enjoyed himself immensely.

MISS MYRTLE HILL FOUND GUILTY

Last Friday night at Socratic Literary Society, Miss Myrtle Hill was found guilty of a serious charge. Ruth Norris brought suit against Myrtle Hill for abducting the affections of her husband, Ralph Warren.

The lawyers for the defense were J. C. McCormack and Lyndon Hancock. The prosecuting lawyers were Marion Lappin and Chas. S. Best.

The mock trial was snappy throughout, and the audience was highly pleased with the results.

Clarence Kraeger made an interesting detective, and Maude Branton as the Warren's illiterate hired girl was a scream.

It is reported that the program committee is planning more treats that are different.

CAPTAIN BOSWELL HAS RETURNED

Capt. F. T. W. Boswell, "Freddy," has returned from Riga, Latvia, where he has been stationed in the Red Cross work for the last two years. He expects to take up his law course at the University of Chicago.

Boswell was Editor-in-Chief of the "Egyptian" in 1916-17.

The following is an extract from the "Red Cross Bulletin" published in Riga, Latvia:

Capt. Boswell is leaving a splendid record behind him. He is responsible for the system of supply accountability which has operated so successfully during his administration. He has left a host of friends in the Baltic States. We are very sorry to lose him from the organization but wish him every success in his new profession. We shall all hear from "Freddy" some day, because he is the type who gets the greatest pleasure out of overcoming difficulties.

EIGHTH GRADE PICNIC

The Eighth Grade enjoyed a picnic chaperoned by Miss Sheridan, Thursday, Oct. 6.

The picnic party started about four o'clock and went to the bluffs about a mile south of town.

When the crowd arrived, a fire was built, over which weiners and marshmallows were roasted. Fine school spirit was exhibited.

NOW MRS. NORFLEET

Miss Gladys Winchester and Mr. James M. Norfleet were married in Los Angeles on September 6, 1921. They now reside in Bakersfield, California, where Mr. Norfleet is employed with the Woolworth Co.

Miss Winchester finished U. H. S. last spring and is well known here. Mr. Norfleet at

THE ILLINAE

Listen, girls! Do you know what the Illinae is? Yes, it's the girl's debating club. You're not interested? That's just it, why aren't you?

The purpose of the Illinae is to give practice in debating and parliamentary law. Also to cultivate a taste for good music and literature. Often you are called on to debate. To debate will take practice. There is just one place to learn the Illinae. Then sometimes you are going to need to be familiar with parliamentary law. Maybe you think you will not, but consider this: "Don't you ever expect to have to set up and lead a meeting?" It may be only a class meeting, it may be a ladies aid meeting, it might be a club meeting. At any rate, whenever the way you conduct that meeting is a compliment or a disgrace depends upon whether you were ever a member of the Illinae.

Next Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 in Socratic Hall we shall have a good debate. This meeting is open to every girl. Now is your chance to come and see acquainted. If you know all this come and see that it is correctly done. If you do not know this—come and learn.

PEANUT PARTY

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. started with pep and vim to make this the best year in the history of the Associations. They began their activities early by giving a peanut social in the gymnasium on Tuesday night following the opening day of the term. The peanut scheme was carried out in all the games, and peanuts and apples were served as refreshments. There were more than three hundred present and they all seemed glad that they lived in an age of peanuts and "Y" socials. Just before time to go Mr. Loomer gave a short talk in which he put before the group the value of the two Associations, and convinced all that they were cordially welcome to become a member of one of the Associations. This was the first social event of the year but it will not be the last, by any means, for the "Y" group is a lively one and expects much fun during the year.

"MAC"

If you're feeling on the bum
 Tell Mac.
 He'll begin to make things hum.
 Old Mac.
 If the cleats come off your shoes,
 If your shoulder-pads you lose,
 If you're down, and get the blues.
 Tell Mac.

It's the proper thing to do
 Tell Mac.
 He will fix it up for you,
 Will Mac.

If you're willing to confess,
 All about your dire distress,
 He will straighten up your mess.
 Tell Mac.

The spirit, at least, if not the letter, of the foregoing is true. Wm. McAndrews, although the bigger part of his name is quite superfluous, as far as the fellows are concerned, Coach, late Captain of the World War, is right there with the goods.

It is no small job to take a bunch of raw recruits, as we might term them, a large part of whom have never played a game of football in their lives before, and none of them over-much, and develop them into a fighting machine to cope with four-year college and university teams. Yet that is just the job that fell to "Mac" this year, and he did not back down on it. He likes it. Like the Real Estate Agent, there's nothing too big or too little for Mac.

Rah for the Coach!

CONDITIONS ON THE GRID-IRON

The football season has opened with a rush. So much of a rush, in fact, that many of the players have been injured at the outset. It is to be regretted deeply, but nevertheless it is a part of the game, and although it seems as if the boys were getting a little more than their share, undoubtedly such bad luck cannot hold.

The team has been especially unfortunate in the injuries to back-field men. Schwartz, who was injured early in the practice season, has sustained an extremely bad injury in the shape of a torn ligament in his ankle, and may be out for the remainder of the season. Winn, Clark, and Carter have also sustained injuries which have more or less been healed since, Hamilton, as yet, has been pretty lucky, and escaped with nothing more serious than a skinned elbow.

Some of the linemen are also complaining of various and sundry aches and pains in divers regions. Oliver Loyd, a new recruit, with only one day's practice on the field, was sent home with a broken collar bone. It is to be hoped that Fortune will smile more favorably upon us in this respect in the future.

The squad has been settling down this week in an extensive effort to develop passing ability, as this is recognized to be one of the team's great needs. The members of the squad, as a whole, are also rather bad on blocking and interference, and this is being worked upon more steadily than before.

It is needless to say, perhaps, that the football season is now in full swing. The students of this school are sufficiently alive to be aware of that fact, at least. Elsewhere is given an account of the Shurtleff game, which resulted in a tied score 7-7. A week previous to this a practice game with Sesser Athletic Club resulted also in a tied score, 0-0.

By this it is easily seen that the Normal is supporting a strong eleven, especially good in view of the fact that we did not play football last year. And it was easily apparent that in the game with Shurtleff, only a fluke of the worst kind prevented us from sending the boys back to Alton without having crossed our goal line.

Such a team deserves the heartiest support that each of us is able to give it. Each of the men on the team is working, and we mean work, in the fullest sense of all the word implies, to make the team truly representative of this grand old institution. Some of the students sold season tickets, and great credit is due to them for their good work. But the big majority of the school, by far, is the crowd that watch the games. What should be their attitude toward this undertaking?

Irrespective of the value of the athletic life of a school bears, individually, upon each student who takes part, athletics in the school is worth while as an advertiser of the school.

A correct, or even an estimated, percentage is not at hand of the students who are induced to attend school through its athletic life. But, undoubtedly, it would be no small one. The qualities of true sportsmanship, of fair play, of ambition, and of throwing ones-self into a game with whole-souled energy—of hitting the line hard—these are all developed in athletics. Who shall say that these qualities are not necessary to the fully efficient man or woman, as the case may be? The Great Game of Life requires these things.

So let each student in the school do all that he sees he should do to support the S. I. N. U. along this line. We are all proud of our team, our school, and it even makes us proud of ourselves—when we see a sturdy Maroon-and-White representative go over the line with the pigskin on his chest. It makes us expand with the sense of pride, for being a part of a great organization that can produce and maintain a team like ours.

Let us really be proud of our team—and boast it. The support of the students is essential, and we believe it is forthcoming.

The Egyptian is backing athletics to the limit. Are you?

THE FIRST MEETING OF Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. was very fortunate in having at their first meeting, Miss Greco, who was for ten years on the National Board of the Association.

Her talk was "The Purpose of the Y. W. C. A." Many of the girls did not realize before the ideals and far-reaching influence that the organization holds. This was especially emphasized in connection with the opportunities on this school campus. She also showed the importance of expressing our noblest thoughts by the following quotation:

"Impression without expression is stagnation; impression with expression is inspiration."

At the close of her talk she read the stated purpose of the Y. W. C. A.

1. To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ.

2. To promote their growth in Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Bible.

3. To lead them into membership and service in the Christian Church.

4. To influence them to devote themselves in united effort with all Christians, to making the will of Christ effective in human society, and to extending the Kingdom of God throughout the world.

"Whispering Hope" was sung as a duet by Misses Audre May Ross and Elizabeth Wier.

MARSHMALLOWS ARE MYSTERIOUS

Marshmallows are longing for those good old days when the classes played hide-and-seek with the refreshments; when the Juniors stole the ice-cream from the Gym, in 1492.

Or, so it seemed to the Johnson County boys and girls. Johnson County, represented by some real live-wire staff, organized and held their first social a few nights ago.

With Miss Baldwin as the official chaperon, the jolly bunch walked down the track to an ideal spot to roast "weiners" and to hunt for "marshmallows".

Numerous games were played, some of them requiring speed.

Did you ever hear of a two course lunch? Ask anyone who was present at this outing and perhaps he will tell you.

Somehow, marshmallows, or at least these marshmallows, could not stay in their appointed places. So when their time for the fire came they were absent. We know how they came back, but the mystery is, how did they get away? Can you tell us?

Only one thing stopped the fun. You see the doors of the dormitory closed at 10:30 P. M.

All of us had a good time. Hurrah, for Johnson County!

The first issue of The Egyptian has been issued this week under difficulty. To make this paper a success, the cooperation of every student in school is needed. We feel confident that your attitude is going to be such as to make this paper one of the very best to be looked for. In handing in items to be printed please write legibly and on only one side of the paper. Get your articles in early, placing them in the box provided for the Egyptian. You will find this box inside the west door of the main building. All writers of these articles please sign their name. If you do not want your name published, say so.

A STUDENT ENTERPRISE

Your school paper, "The Egyptian", starts on the second year of its existence under most favorable auspices. Last year's paper proved to be a very successful experiment, and the "Egyptian" has now become an institution.

A constitution and by-laws for the control of the paper was adopted last June by the Board of Directors and was ratified by the Student Council. This constitution provides for the election of a Board of Directors, one from each class. Full control is vested in this representative board, which goes with the same responsibility to the student body in all matters pertaining to the paper that the Student Council does in all matters pertaining to a student government. The board elects the editor, associate editor, departmental editors, business manager, advertising manager and faculty advisers; it also passes upon all matters of business or policy concerning the paper. "The Egyptian" is therefore in the fullest sense your enterprise and under your control. It is just what you are pleased to make it.

AN EDITORIAL ASPIRATION

We hope to make a better "Egyptian" than we have had before. We hope to make it meet your expectations and to deserve your enthusiastic endorsement at all times. Our success must depend in larger measure, however, upon the cordial support of the students. The staff can do its best work for you only under the inspiration of your boosting. Be a Booster!

OLD FRIENDS

We are glad to hear from former students and alumni. Personal items of this character are of great interest to all our readers. Help us to make the columns of the "Egyptian" a clearing house for alumni News.

THE AGORA

It is a foregone conclusion that those students who have attended this Normal and finished the course without having affiliated themselves with one or more of these literary societies connected with the school, failed to take advantage of vast opportunities. The "Agora Debating Club" is one of these organizations. It was organized only a few years ago by a mere handful of students; it has since grown to where it stands on a par with its kindred societies.

No Normal student wishes to begin his life work without having some degree of skill as a debater, without a thorough training in public speaking, and without a knowledge of parliamentary tactics. Such students enter the professional world under a serious handicap. Begin now, and get this training. Those who are contemplating joining a debating club may get additional information concerning the Agora by seeing a member or by attending the regular meetings, each Monday evening at 6:30 in Socratic Hall.

The baby had been through a siege of chicken pox, and when the minister's wife met the baby's sister Jane she inquired as to his health. "He's some better," replied Jane non-committally.

"Very much better, I hope," said the minister's wife cheerfully.

"Well," answered Jane, "he couldn't be such an awful lot better. There isn't very much to him, you know."

Miss Bradley is regarded as one of the coming pianists of the day. Aside from her teaching in Bush Conservatory in Chicago, she has been doing quite a good deal of concert work.

Her first recital of this season will be at the Kimball hall in Chicago. Later Miss Bradley and Mrs. Sugrue, who is a concert singer, will tour Illinois filling a number of concert engagements.

S. I. N. U. HOMECOMING SET FOR ARMISTICE DAY

It is intended that Armistice Day, November 11, shall be a red-letter day in the history of the school this year. The big feature of the day, of course, is the home-coming of former students of the institution. We strongly urge that every graduate of this institution who can possibly do so, make it a point to be with us on this day.

Probably two classes will be held in the morning, in the periods before Chapel Hour. Special Exercises will be held in the Auditorium, at that hour, and continuing probably until 11:00 o'clock. Then in the afternoon, it is hoped that everyone will turn out to witness the football game between the Normal and Cape Girardeau. It is certain to be a closely fought game, it will undoubtedly be another of the big features set for the day.

One of the special features scheduled tentatively, at least, in the appearance of all the service men in uniform. Of these we have 36 in the student body, according to the registration cards, and four faculty members.

More definite announcements will be made later. All the students who know of graduates with whom they can get in touch are especially urged to let them know of this, as it is manifestly impossible to notify all of them in the proper way. Those in charge express the hope that the members of the student body will co-operate with them in this manner.

NORMAL-SHURTLEFF, 7-7

A large delegation of enthusiastic football fans was on hand Friday, Oct. 14, to see the S. I. N. U. open their football season formally for the year 1921-22. Eleven good men and true from Shurtleff were their opponents. "Mac's" men started in with a rush, and played steadily all throughout, with traces of brilliancy that promises to develop into a football sense that will put the Normal on top as far as football is concerned.

The first half of the game was an indication of the equality of the contesting teams. The home boys and the visitors in turn would get the ball, and in turn would be forced to turn it over to their opponents, either by a fumble, or by some unaccountable reason, there were many, on each side, or by failure to make their distance in four downs. The half ended with the score the same as when the game was started.

In the third quarter, however, the Normal boys hit their stride. Early in the period, just after the kick-off, by a series of plunges and brilliant runs, the home boys carried the ball to the ten-yard line. Here the half-slumbering resistance of the Shurtleff aggregation broke into real action, and it took every ounce of energy on the part of both line and back-field to take the ball over for the touchdown. Line plunges off tackles by Neber, Halfback, and Hamilton, Fullback, carried the ball to the line, and an instant after, Quarterback Clark hit the hole between right guard and tackle for a touchdown. Clark kicked goal. Score 7-0.

But although they seemed to be gaining strength on the offensive, some bad breaks kept the ball after this, pretty well toward the S. I. N. U. goal line, and they were unable to repeat the performance and cross Shurtleff's goal line again. It was in the fourth quarter when, the home boys having the ball well within their own territory, Fullback Hamilton attempted to punt on the fourth down. The punt was a bad one, and, being seized by a Shurtleff husky with a clear field before him, resulted in a touchdown for the visitors. They too were unable to score again, and the game ended, 7-7.

The center of the Normal's line, Gardner, Center, and Clark, Quarterback, made a brilliant showing. Gardner got through the line repeatedly, blocking plays before they were well under way. Clark played a steady game at safety man on the defensive, and a brainy game as signal-caller on the offensive. Bentsminger, Left End, starred also, going around the end almost at will for effective tackles. As a whole the line showed up well, but can undoubtedly be improved by experience.

Although the S. I. N. U. had no football team last year, and hence might be at a disadvantage with the other teams, the outlook is good, and the season should result favorably. It is not difficult to forecast that these boys, improved somewhat by experience, should develop marked stability and speed toward the end of the season, and establish a good record for themselves and for the school they stand for.

WASHINGTON COUNTY

Weiner roast season has opened. The first one of the season was given on Thursday night, October 13, by the students of Washington County. This county has a large number of students than usual in school this year. About thirty-five of them, including some invited guests, were present. Owing to the bashfulness of some of the members and their failure to invite a friend of the opposite sex, the crowd was somewhat smaller than it would otherwise have been.

Using the I. C. R. R. track as a thoroughfare, the young people, accompanied by Miss Bowyer, journeyed south about a mile and a half. There a halt was called and all hands were put to gathering brush for a fire—and incidentally to gathering as many beggar lice as their clothes could well hold. After the eats were disposed of, games and songs tired of, the homeward march began, the return trip being made over the hard road.

Critic's report:—Jolly bunch, wonderful moonlight, splendid time for everybody.

ANTHONY HALL

Mr. and Mrs. Hanna took supper with their daughter, Miss Ruth, one day last-week.

Miss Violet Spiller and Miss Gladys Smith spent last week-end in St. Louis.

Dates ONLY on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights.

Miss Edith Griffin motored from Cobden last Tuesday afternoon and spent a few hours with Miss Ruth Keith.

Anthony Hall goes 100 per cent for the "Egyptian".

Miss Delia Corgan spent the week-end in St. Louis visiting relatives.

Miss Rue attended the shower which was given for Miss Holmes on Tuesday evening.

Seen in Anthony Hall on Saturday morning—Every girl dressed as a real working girl with a broom in one hand and a mop and bucket in the other.

The occupants of Room 45, Arline Chappie, Norma Keen, and Velma Harrison, were very excited on last Thursday evening when they discovered that they were locked in like prisoners. Earlier in the evening they had placed the key in the lock and turned it, so that no one would enter while they were talking over a secret. Soon they became aware of what had happened. The key refused to turn, and the door refused to open. On climbing up to the transome they called for help, and with the aid of every girl on the third floor they were safely rescued.

ILLINAE

The first meeting of the Illinae during the new term was held Tuesday afternoon. The pianologue by Gladys Bradley was much enjoyed. A lively debate on the popular subject, "Should girls wear knickers?" was borne triumphantly away by the affirmative.

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet spent a week-end conference, Oct. 1 and 2, at Thompson's Lake with Alice Barrow as hostess. The cabinet felt very fortunate in having Miss Florence Pierce, Student Secretary of the Central Field Division of the Y. W. C. A. with them at this conference. Plans for the year's work were made, and all the girls came back to town with a broader view of their work and a more vital interest in the association work all over the U. S.

ZETETIC NEWS

The Zetets are back on the job. Many of the old members are back again and also many new ones including a large number from Anthony Hall. There is every reason to believe that the society will this year surpass any attainment reached in the past.

The opening program was given

October 7th and the hall was filled to capacity. Friday, Oct. 14th, the play "Ouija" was featured.

A regular feature of the program is an orchestra composed of several veterans from the regular school orchestra and other no less talented and experienced. Come early and be entertained by music before the program begins.

Every one is cordially invited to attend the meetings on Friday nights. A special invitation is extended to the new students who are hazy as to the nature of the literary societies. We try to produce the best programs found among the organizations. All programs are planned with the aim both to entertain and instruct the audience.

Pay the society a visit. If you like the work have your name placed on the Zetetic roll, you will find it a pleasure and an advantage.

SOPHOMORES HAVE WEINER ROAST

October 18—Over one hundred-fifty sophomores gathered at the Normal gate at 6:30 P. M. Tuesday for a hike out to the "Bluff", where a fire was made and everybody busied himself with roasting weiners and marshmallows. After the eats, all joined in a grand goose march with our chaperon as leader, and paraded over the hill. After the march, games were played until they started for home at 9:45.

The Sophomore class has been well organized and all officers have been elected. The following were elected for the ensuing term: President, Edward Bevis; Vice-Pres., Homer Laney; Secretary and Treasurer, Frances Kenfro. Our representatives for the Student Council and "Egyptian" Board are Velma Turner and Melvin Lockard.

RINGS AND SWEATERS

The ring committee of the H. S. S. class, consisting of Max McCormack, Alice Barrow, and Warwick Boos, have selected a very attractive class ring. It has the shield effect and the raised lettering, with U. H. S. '22, on it. The ring may be had in either the plain or the white gold. All measurements should be left at Weiler-Fritts at once, as the order will be sent off in a few days.

The class color scheme will be followed for the sweaters. They will be white with black numbers. See one of the following about your sweater: Mary Youngblood, Vernon Patterson, or Emile Kerstine.

AGORA

The meeting will not be held next Monday on account of the Halloween Celebration.

Y. M. C. A. TUESDAY, OCT. 25, 6:30

The Y. M. C. A. will meet in the Association hall. All members and young men students are urged to be present. The talk will be on "A Budget of Time," something all students should be interested in.

Former Head of Science Department, Now Hospital Head Pathologist

Prof. G. H. French, A. M., member of the Normal faculty from 1879 to 1917, is now connected with the Herrin hospital. Prof. French is pathologist at the hospital. There are probably few men in the state better equipped in the work which is now engaging the ability and knowledge of Prof. French.

The 1917 Obelisk was dedicated to Prof. French.

ILLINAE TUES., OCT. 25, 4:15

All girls are cordially invited to attend this meeting. The program will be posted on the Bulletin Board.
