Denrel Berry of Ashley removes two free tickets from Dean E. G. Lentz's husband. The tickets are for a concert which will be given by Freddy Martin's orchestra on Oct. 22.

Deans Name Four Freshmen To Student Council Posts

Four freshmen were named to the Student Council this week by the personnel deans on the basis of scholarship, interest in student government, and extra-curricular activities. They are Gerald Pugh of Johnston City, David Lee Stahlberg of Beecher, Barbara Ames of Mt. Vernon, and Grace Fulkeron of Carbondale. Earlier this year the Personnel Deans announced, through the Egyptian, that all freshmen interested in student council work should apply at the Deans' office. These four students were chosen among many well-qualified applicants for the positions. These students are active members of the Student Council until the fifth interest in student government when a general election for freshmen will be held.

Ames Has Scholarship
Barbara Ames, Mt. Vernon high school graduate, is attending Southern with the aid of a Normal School scholarship and is majoring in English and Education. She belonged to the National Honor society and received the Daughters of the American Revolution award, a School Service Award, and a Journalism Award. She is a class officer, editor of the school paper, associate editor of the school yearbook, and an active member of several clubs.

Gerald Pugh, Johnston City, is majoring in law and journalism. At present he is working for WCLL as an announcer. He is interested in student government and was an active member of several clubs while in high school. He was sports editor of the school paper and the yearbook. He was active in school organizations. Grace Fulkeron was chosen for the position largely due to the fact that she was the second vice-president of the Illinois Association of Student Councils and was in attendance at the National Association of Student Councils last year. A native of Carbondale and a graduate of University High, Miss Fulkeron earned the Normal School scholarship. She is treasurer of the Bausch-Lomb science club, and was in the "Who's Who in American High Schools."

Home Ec. Department Makes Peach Study

During the first and second weeks of August, the home economics department of SIU cooperated with S. C. Chandler of the State Natural History survey on the effects of various sprays used in peach orchards. This survey was to see how different sprays affect the taste of the peaches. A panel of three persons was organized to do the tasting. The panel was made up of a housewife, a public school teacher, and a university instructor. This group tasted peaches from six Southern Illinois peach orchards in which experimental plots had been set up. Samples were tasted of both raw and cooked peach. The results of the survey aren't known.

Berry Wins First Set of Free Tickets; Contest Still On

Two tickets in the hand are worth two in the eye, but lucky Denrel Berry of the last band, Diamond Jubilee man, E. G. Lentz, last week, in the free contest.

Two free tickets to the Freddy Martin concert, Oct. 22 and being given away each week until Homecoming to the person who can find their hiding place following the three clues published in each week's Egyptian. The three keys which led Berry to Lentz's husband last week were "Two tickets in the hand are worth two in the eye," "Heavy, heavy hangs over your head," and "The Diamond Jubilee man can help you find them."

Berry, a graduate student from Ashley, said the riddle wasn't difficult to figure out at all, in fact so simple that his next thought was that someone had surely already gotten them. But upon phoning Dean Lentz, Thursday, he found he was first to claim the tickets.

Diamond Jubilee 'Messiah' To Be Southern's Best

"In commemorating this Diamond Jubilee year at Southern, we want to make this year's presentation the biggest in the history of the university," Dr. Mauris Kesnar, chairman of the Southern music department, said this week. The Audio-Visual Service toward this sort of work. Mr. Ingli plans to begin a separate library on life at Southern; complete with social, academic, and extra-curricular activities. This begins being interesting will be valuable to alumni services, county visitation programs, and other out-of-school programs.

Historical Exhibit To Play Important Role in Homecoming

Southern's Diamond Jubilee Homecoming will be historically emphasized by an elaborate display of materials commemorative of its 75 years of progress. Prof. F. C. Warren, head of the education department, has assembled most of the old texts used in SIU prior to 1900. The production of a model of the temporary building which housed SIU after the fire of 1883. This model has been prepared by the industrial arts department under the direction of Dr. W. C. Ricknell, chairman of the department. Pictures showing the numerous temporary buildings now in use will also be shown. Miss Mary Entmire is chairman of the committee to collect pictures and mementoes.

Only Six Coeds Nominated For Homecoming Queen

Only six girls were eligible for candidacy in the Homecoming Queen race this week as a result of the primary elections held on campus last Tuesday. Three of the top candidates were ruled ineligible as a result of the two day debate discussion as to what classification a girl must be to be eligible for queen. Politically the nominees split evenly into three independent and three Greek candidates. The girls to be put on the official ballot are Delores Sharp, I.S.A.; Mary Ellen Donahue, Delta Sigma Epsilon; Bernice Cochran, I.S.A.; Maxine Bumpus, Phi Kappa Sigma; Glenna Fritts, Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Betty Wilson, I.S.A. Two of the three girls disqualified.

All-Student Assembly To Be Held Tomorrow

President D. W. Morris will speak at a special all-student assembly to be held in Shrook auditorium tomorrow morning beginning at 9:30. Nominees for class officers and candidates for queen and the queen's court will be introduced at the assembly. Bud Loftus will be in charge of the changes that will be made because of the assembly are as follows: 8 o'clock class—8-8:40; 9 o'clock class—9-9:30; 10:20; 10 o'clock class—10:25-11:05; and 11 o'clock class—11:10-11:50.

Spotlight Falls on Homecoming Queen and Court Candidates

A hushed silence falls over the audience as the strains of "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody" softly begins to play. Eager eyes are turned toward the door. Spotlights are trained on the entrance and at last the first girl of the queen's court slowly begins her walk down the aisle to the richly decorated throne. Attendants are followed by members of the court and finally at last the queen herself steps into the bright lights and the crowd bursts into wild applause. Her majesty slowly climbs the steps to her high throne and the silver crown is placed upon her head. This is the moment that 3000 students have been waiting for—to see the girl they chose crowned Homecoming Queen. This year five attractive girls are vying for the queen's crown. Here are a few vital statistics we found concerning the queen candidates: Maxine Bumpus, senior from Bonnie, was chosen as "Miss Carbondale of 1949" and appeared in the state beauty contest this summer. She is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma society, Delta Phi Kappa, Girls Rally, Modern Dance

Colorful Past to be Theme Of Jubilee Homecoming

Plans are slowly but surely taking shape to have Southern's Diamond Jubilee Homecoming arrayed in splendor by Oct. 20, the chairman of the various committees announced today. Ten high school bands have responded to the invitations sent to surrounding high schools asking the bands to participate in the parade, Jim Cannon, parade chairman announced.

1949 Obelisks Will Be Available Until Homecoming

Students who have not picked up their 1949 Obelisk may call for their copy at the Obelisk office (basement of Harmon lab) any afternoon until Oct. 21. "Books will be issued only to those who have paid the activity fee during the past year," DeLores Williams, editor, said. Those in attendance for two quarters may obtain a book by paying $1, and those in attendance one quarter may obtain a book by paying $2. This fall's activity fee may not be applied. Inasmuch as the supply of books is low, no complimentary personal copies will be distributed. The Obelisk staff is eager, however, to give out books to all persons in attendance. After Oct. 21 no guarantee can be made that a book will be available. The deadline will give alumni an opportunity to get their book while on campus for Homecoming events.

SIU Cafeteria Has Large Turnout On Opening Day

Serving approximately 600 people, the university cafeteria had a big reopening last Monday. There was even a larger turn-out Tuesday when about 800 people ate at the cafeteria. The cafeteria's force now works at greater ease since approximately $25,000 worth of new equipment includes the following: two large walk-in refrigerators, a large salad refrigerator, two large steam kettles for quantity cooking, a baker's table with solid maple top and stainless steel bins, a salad table, a steam counter with three refrigerated units—for salad, ice cream, and other desserts, and coffee urns.

WATKINS TO BE ON JURY TO PICK BEST PAINTINGS

Acting head of the Art department, Ben Watkins, has been asked to serve on a tri-state jury for the selection and awards of a group of paintings. This jury serves Illinois, Kentucky, and Indiana. Judging will take place Nov. 11.

FRESHMAN TEST RESULTS NEARING COMPLETION

Results of the Freshman Orientation week tests are nearing completion, the Dean of Men's office reported this week. Any student wishing to know the results of his freshman week exams may make an appointment at the office of the Dean of Men, and the scores will be explained to him at the appointed time.

Homecoming Week Tests are Nearing Completion

Tuesday, the Schoolmaster's club met and ate there. American Association of University Professors will hold a guest luncheon at the cafeteria Saturday. Southern's redecorated cafeteria, pictured above, opened Monday with more than 600 eating there during the day. New tables, chairs, counters, and other new pieces of equipment are shown in the picture.

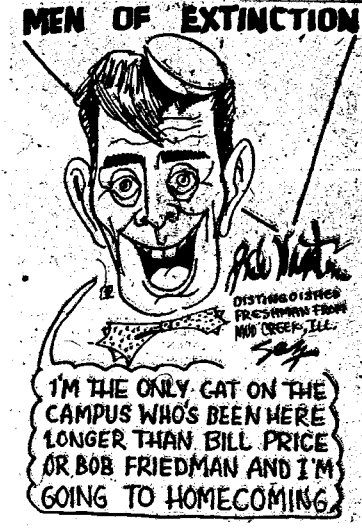

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor: Dr. E. C. Coleman, as always, seems to have hit the nail on the head. His excellent letter suggests...

MEN OF EXTINCTION

As for those ferocious sounding names—they'd feel more at home around a high school. But "Knights"—there's a real hard-hitting name for you...

The name, "Southern Knights" sounds dignified but high-brow. While not quarrelsome, it would always be ready to put up its dukes.

Egyptian Reporter Reflects On A Fall Day at Southern

The sun lifts the birth of a new day over cemetery hill, and flocks of leaves fall as we pass school. The nostalgic whistle of a freight train is borne upon the cool autumn wind.

As the school day begins a tending professor is seen on the campus—the portrait of a man grown old happily. Two baby squirrels wrestle and frolic on the green before the library—no stonemason's work for them.

Now and an exodus of students parades down the walk. Traffic heavy and punctuated with the cry of cars. God's brick fall air is filled with carbon dioxide. You wait for a table and get service at last.

As the girls play tennis a Joe College student gathers at the courts. The football boys at the north gym clear their cleats and call to girls who remember...

Southern Exposure

Southern's redecorated cafeteria opened Monday—and it was a sight for sore eyes and empty stomachs. The new steam table is very snazzy, and the food is as good as usual.

Someone remarked that something should be done about the haggard brass rail that leads to the steam table—either take it out or nail it down.

Question of the week: How come the Canteen charges a penny more for breakfast rolls than the cafeteria, when both are run by the university?

In case you've been wondering about the picture at the top of this column, it was inserted to prove to certain skeptics that the author is human, and not pure beast.

A vote of thanks comes from those students and others on campus Saturday mornings to the Canteen for opening at that time to allow these persons a chance to get a cup of coffee without having to walk too far.

Results of the Homecoming election held last week—after they were finally settled—point out several things. In the first place, either both political factions did not take any special pains to find out if their major candidates were qualified, or else the student council did not announce the specific qualifications in time.

In the second place, the large turnout at the polls, especially just for the purpose of nominating, is amazing—and heartening. If such interest could be found in every school election, it would be a huge step toward that school spirit which has been missing for the past few years.

Speaking of school spirit, several hundred hearty souls showed an abundance of it when they journeyed to Cape Girardeau to see the Maroons in action last Friday night. As for the actual game itself, we should like to refer you to the sports section, but several grandstand comments are in order.

On the whole, the showing at Cape was great—there was a lot of enthusiasm, and everyone seemed to be enjoying himself. The five-piece pep band and the Sigma Beta prep band made a good showing at half-time, in addition to giving Southern's Homecoming a substantial plug.

What Is A Junior?

Just what is a junior—seemed to be the predominant question on Southern's campus last week as the Student Council attempted to find out just who was eligible for Homecoming queen out of the thirteen girls nominated.

Final result was that three of the top candidates were voted ineligible for lack of hours. The whole mess grew out of the indefinite statement in the Student Council constitution which says a girl must be a junior. However the constitution fails to clearly state whether the girl must be a junior when nominated or whether she is considered a junior if she will fall in that classification two out of three terms of the year.

The present Student Council was not sure just how the constitution should be interpreted at first, but finally ruled that the candidate had to be a junior at the time of nomination. This meant, according to the registrar's office, that the girl had to have 96 hours completed. President Bud Loftus and the Student Council should be commended for sticking to the proper interpretation of the constitution instead of being swayed by those people who proposed other solutions.

One of the most unfair accusations hurled at the Council for their decision was that it was based on politics. Some people accused the Council of deliberately eliminating one of the strongest independent candidates. In reality the Greek-dominated Student Council harmed themselves more than the Independents for two of their strong Greek candidates were ruled ineligible as compared to one ISA candidate.

Next week final elections for Homecoming queen will be held on campus. If the rest of the election is carried on as above board and honestly as the nominations were, we will have clean elections if not clean politics on campus.

Here's the Answer

Put your question along with name and home town on post card and mail it to Gene Flowers, care of the Egyptian. Question: "How are burned out lights replaced in the high ceiling of Shryock auditorium?"

Council Corner

Student Council meeting was called to order by the president, Bud Loftus. Members present were Gene Loftus, Dan Patten, Bob O'Daniel, Lorraine Sliener, Mary Ellen Donahue, Barbara Hoath, Virginia Miller, Myra Williams, Dave Rendleman, Martha Patten, Gene Loftus and the four new freshmen members, Grace Fullerton, Barbara Ames, Gerald Pugh, and David Stahlberg.

Bill Waters, President, ISA

(Ed. Note: In reference to Bill's letter printed above we would like to refer our readers to an article, "What Is A Junior" in the editorial column.) Give me a chicken salad sandwich," said the customer. "Do you want the 40-cent one or the 50-cent one?" asked the waitress. "What's the difference?" "The 40-cent ones are made of veal and pork and the 50-cent ones are made of tuna."

Little Johnny's mother had just presented the family with twins and the household was in a state of excitement. Father beamed with pride, as he took Johnny to one side. "If you told your teacher about it, she might give you a holiday," he said.

"What happened?" "The theatrical producer was giving an audition to a man with a new act. Producing a puppy from his pocket, the man placed it on the piano stool whereupon the puppy calmly proceeded to play part of one of the operas.

"Wonderful!" exclaimed the producer. "I'll give you $200 a week for that." "But that's not all," said the man, producing from another pocket a parrot, which, perched on the piano, sang an aria from the opera to the puppy's accompaniment.

"What's the matter?" grumbled the boss. "Haven't you got a sense of humor?" "I don't have to laugh," said the girl. "I'm leaving on Friday, anyhow."

Little Joan: "Daddy, why is it that the Women's club always bring their knitting when they come to the house?" "Daddy: 'I suppose it gives them something to think about while they are talking.'"

Three hermits lived in a cave and spent all day staring at the wall, never speaking. One day a stallion ran past the entrance to the cave. Six months later one hermit mumbled, "That was a pretty brown horse."

Two ladies who had not seen each other for a long time, met on the street. "Oh! Mary," Florence excitedly exclaimed, "I've had a lot happen to me since I saw you last. I had my teeth out and an electric stove and a refrigerator put in!"

and disrespectful, did not seem to realize that by his assine remarks he might very well wreck friendly relations between the two groups, and brand all of Southern's student body as being poor sports and uncivilized, if not downright unintelligent.

Speaking of the Maroons leads us to another topic of the day. It all started when the Egyptian printed out that there was no such animal as a "Maroon." In last week's Egyptian, a letter to the editor suggested that the name of the team be changed to the Southern Knights, for many laudable reasons listed in the letter. The idea, as presented, sounds good. But, we have what we consider an even better idea. Why not try to find a Maroon somewhere. Perhaps if the zoology department really started looking around they could find a real honest-to-goodness-flesh-and-blood Maroon.

Well, 'pon my word: One student says he gets goose bumps every time he takes a gander.

SIU Students Eligible To Enter Art Contest

The Lantham foundation's 25th annual International Humane poster contest has been announced. Purpose of this contest is to inculcate the higher principles of Humaneness upon which the peace and happiness of the world depend; to emphasize the spiritual fundamentals of peace to stop war; to promote the character building of the child by an understanding of universal kinship; to foster a deeper understanding of and sympathy with man's relations.

There are 22 scholarships in leading art schools to be awarded. In addition, the first prize is $100 three second prizes, 50 each; three third prizes, $10 each; four fourth prizes, 10 each. This group of prizes are eligible to those in the grades 10, 11, 12, and college.

Size of the poster is to be 14 1/2 x 22 or 12x18 inches for all groups. These posters are to be used vertically and no horizontal designs will be considered. These measurements include the margin. The 14x22 inch size is preferred. Bristol board, illustration board, or any paper of similar weight will be accepted, with the exception of heavy cardboard. Tempers or show card colors, crayons, water colors, or ink are the mediums to be used.

A brief, simple slogan, appropriate to the illustration, should be used. All illustrations must be original. Name in full, complete school address and group must be lettered neatly on the face of the poster. Art school and college students must identify their poster with name in full, name of school, home address, and group number.

Contest poster must be sent flat, never rolled, and must reach the address below not later than Mar. 1, 1950.

Posters are to be sent to John de Lennos, Box 1322, Stanford, Calif. Report of the Judging and a list of the award and prize winners will be issued about May 15. The reports will be mailed to those sending a three-cent stamp.

NEA Wins First Place In Scholarship Race

The Nu Epsilon Alpha (NEA) fraternity edged out the Chi Delta Chi's for first place in the scholarship race last spring term. Dean of Men Clark Davis, announced today.

Arrangements are being made to award the traveling plaque to the NEA in the near future.

The NEA's average last spring was 3.43, compared to 3.42 for Chi Delta Chi, 3.36 for KDA, and 3.22 for TKE.

The results were made on the basis of the grades of the actives last spring term.

ZOOGENICA TO HAVE 13th ANNUAL BREAKFAST

Zoogenica will hold its thirteenth annual breakfast at the Roberts hotel Oct. 22. A club, organized in the interest of zoology and related fields, Zoogenica is extending an invitation to all Southern alumni who majored or entered in zoology to attend the early breakfast which will begin at 8:30 a. m.

At a meeting last week members of Zoogenica elected for the next year Charles Koch, senior of Beckenmeyer, president; Denton Ferrell, junior of Marion, vice-president; and Johnnie Wayne Tanner, sophomore of Carrier Mills, secretary-treasurer.

Members and new officers plan a wide variety of programs for the forthcoming year. Zoogenica meets the second Thursday of each month. Second term zoology majors and minors are invited to join.

Lo-Slo Flying Club Has Five Shares For Sale

Five shares are for sale in the Lo-Slo Flying club, due to several persons leaving school, club president Jim Tate said today.

Purpose of the club, whose membership is limited to 15, is to give members a chance to fly at cost. Purchase of a share entitles a member to part ownership of a Piper Cub plane.

Tate said anyone interested in buying a share should contact either him or some other member of the club.

Zetetic and Socrat Reunions Highlight Alum Events

Southern alumni within convenient reach and from long distances will be returning to the old campus for the 75th anniversary. Some who have not been back for many years will be here to revive old memories and to meet friends and schoolmates of former years. The Diamond Jubilee festival is dedicated to memory "that add acquaintance

For alums, an outstanding feature of the Diamond Jubilee Homecoming will be the reunions on Friday afternoon, Oct. 21.

Zetetic Literary society, organized 75 years ago by authority of the first Board of Trustees on the petition of students, and the Socrat society, its counterpart and rival, similarly organized a few months later, have long since ceased to function. They have given way to the newer developments in speech and dramatic training. But these societies for more than half a century rendered an invaluable service in extra-curricular training for leadership.

The Socrat and Zetetic societies will be recalled to life during our Homecoming with programs reminiscent of old times. Prof. W. C. Cline and Prof. R. E. Muckerroy, one a Zetetic, and the other a Socrat of fifty years ago, have arranged programs which will add greatly to Southern's vivid revival of its past. The songs popular fifty years ago will be revived under leadership of Miss May Dorsey for the Zetetics, and Louise Herbert for the Socrats. Recitations, orations, optional and debates (brief, of course) will bring back the old style program.

Souvenir Histories

A roster of all members present with previous year addresses will be provided as a souvenir of the occasion, and a history of the societies prepared by Mrs. Mae Trivillion Smith of the English department will also be given out at a printed menu.

The Kappa Phi Kappa, the oldest of Southern's honorary fraternities but much younger than a reunion and informal program under the direction of Dr. Bruce W. Marwin, the sponsor. This honorary educational fraternity, organized in 1932, now has more than 600 members.

Many other campus organizations also will have reunion breakfasts.

SOUTHERN BUYS NEW 30-PASSENGER BUS

A new 30-passenger bus has been purchased by Southern. The bus is a white Chevrolet with maroon trim.

Until better transportation facilities can be provided, the president's office announced that priority for the bus will be given the practice teaching program.

It will be available, however, for all university activities. Faculty members interested in using the bus should apply at the physical plant office.

1,167 Students Enroll In Off-Campus Courses

Enrollment in 22 off-campus extension classes being conducted this fall by Southern has reached a total of 1,167 students, Raymond H. Day, director of the Division of Extension and Adult Education, reported last week.

The division is conducting 21 classes scattered over the area of Southern Illinois, from Edwardsville to Cairo, and is carrying on an advanced workshop in education at Harrisburg for the faculty of the Harrisburg public schools.

Last fall's extension class enrollment totaled 1,154.

While the majority of off-campus courses offered are for teachers, this fall classes are available in government, agriculture, music, English and history.

Classes in Anna
This year, the extension program includes classes at the following towns: Anna, taught by Dr. Willis G. Swartz, professor of government, enrollment of 41 students; Belleville, taught by Donald A. Inglis, director, Audio-Visual Aid service, 39 students; Cairo, taught by Willis Malone, assistant professor of education, 64 students; Carlyle, taught by Ben C. Ehmman, instructor in agriculture, 17 students.

Carmi, taught by William Freyburg, instructor in physical education.

Dean of Women Announces Rules Concerning Sales

Miss Helen Shuman, dean of women, said today that individual or organization planning any type of sales campaign should read carefully the rules listed below which regulate sales on the campus.

The rules are as follows:
1. Any approved organization may sell on the campus or on college-owned or controlled property. Such organizations will be granted permission to sell, provided the funds from the sales are to be used to promote the function itself, or the profits are to be diverted into a fund for all university benefits. See rule four for exceptions.

2. Any organization may sell on its own approved function or at functions which it is sponsoring, provided the organization has submitted the official petition blank to the Personal office at least one week prior to the activity.

3. Organizations which traditionally have sales throughout the school term from the persons designated are considered to have traditional status: Girls Rally, I Club)

Southern on the Air

Southern is to have her own football network this year. Beginning last weekend WMIX, one of Southern Illinois' most progressive and powerful radio stations, originated the game for the network. Later, up to five stations will join this network and carry the football games simultaneously. Oct. 8, WCNT at Carlinville joins the network with the other stations participating, joining later. WCIL in Carbondale, announced that it will carry "all future daytime games. The Wayne game was tape recorded and broadcast later over WCIL but all future games will be broadcast direct.

Norm Nilson of Granite City will describe the play by play and Bill Price of the Alumni services will present the color between halves and quarters. Dick Seelman will act as statistic for this team and spotters will also be employed.

Southern Ill. Historical Society To Hold Fall Meeting Here

Southern Illinois Historical society will hold its fall meeting in conjunction with Southern's 75th anniversary celebration here Oct. 21.

Invitation to hold the meeting here at that time was extended to the society by Southern's Homecoming committee. The meeting will be held in the university cafeteria beginning at 6:30 a. m.

Dr. Richard L. Byer of Erie, Pa., founder of the Southern Illinois Historical society and its first president, will be the main speaker for the occasion. Dr. Byer formerly was head of Southern's history department.

Dinner reservations for the meeting can be made by both members and friends by sending in reservation cards promptly to J. Ward Barnes, Raleigh (Ill.), Price of the dinner will be $1.75 per person.

26 First Graders To Visit University School
Twenty-six first graders from West Frankfort will get their first taste of university life Tuesday afternoon when the group visits Southern's campus as guests of the University school.

Hosts to the visiting youngsters will be Miss Tina Goodwin, first grade teacher at University school, and the three practice teachers, Miss Rosie Knight, Miss Clara Mae Lewis, and Miss Lodena Ferrell.

Highlight of the youngsters' visit will be tour of the children's section of the museum, which contains numerous teaching aids such as models depicting early transportation and pioneer life.

West Frankfort group is taught by Mrs. Freda Boughner at University school, will be served lunch, and will enjoy a short movie.

13 Former Students Get Jobs Through Placement Service
As of the end of September, the Southern Illinois University placement service provided 13 former students with employment. Following is a list of the former students and their present positions.

Miss Dolores Langham, graduate of this year, is teaching in the high school and grade school at Oneida. Miss Langham will teach physical education. Miss Thelma Raybourn, who graduated this year, will be a teacher in the Marion public schools.

High Schools To Get New SIU Brochures
Every high school in Southern Illinois and those attending every conference held at Southern by Illinois will receive one of 5,000 brochures entitled "A University Serves Its Area."

Purpose of the brochure is to describe how by educating the young people of the area, Southern is helping to raise the cultural and intellectual and therefore the economic level of the whole region.

Through the brochure Southern is seeking to encourage, its best students to remain in Southern Illinois and "grow back" into the region the talents they have sharpened and the skills they have acquired.

Miss Lorena Drummond, director of the Information service, said that the brochures were printed mainly for the purpose of being distributed at the Du Quoin state fair and to new freshmen, but they arrived too late.

Cape Indians Scalp Maroons 25 to 7 At Houck Field

When the Southern Illinois Maroons left Cape last Friday night they left behind a surprisingly strong aggregation which had whipped them soundly—25-7. More over it wasn't until the last play of the game that the Maroons got a good look at the Cape Indians' goalposts.

All evening long the Maroon attack bogged as poor blocking and only fair passing were the keynote for Marlin's eleven. Meanwhile Cape with Bill Abernathy and Joe Weber carrying the ball for gain the Indians elicited off plenty of first downs and at least a touchdown every play.

Meet The Maroons

FRESHMAN OF WEEK Don Ledbetter. Height: 6'7. Weight: 198. Position: Center. Straight from a successful high school football career to first-string center on the SIU team gives some indication of the future greatness of Don Ledbetter.

One of the two top Maroon centers on this year's squad is Tom Gher. A senior, Gher has earned two varsity letters. He can also play guard with equal ability. Carbonale is the home town center on the SIU team because of his experience with the team, he is definitely an asset, and will be a severe loss come next fall.

Cross-Country Squad To Open Season Saturday

Southern Illinois University's cross-country team takes to the road Saturday for their first meet of the season, which is a dual affair with Western State Teachers college at Macomb.

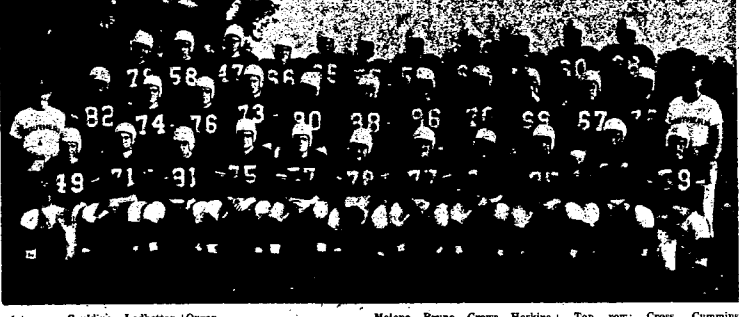

Other Scores: Wayne 33, Western 14. Illinois Normal 13, Millikin 0. Evansville 20, W. Kentucky 0. Illinois College 27, Principia 6. St. Joseph (Indiana) 12, East-ern 6. Northern 26, Omaha U. 7. Val Gene McFadden, grad of Southern last spring, had never so much as touched a golf club before last year. The third time he stepped upon a fairway, he entered in a Class C county tournament and walked off with the first place cup.

ART STUDENTS TO TOUR ST. LOUIS NEXT TUESDAY

The Glee-Democrat will be host to a group of art appreciation students. Miss Lulu Roach, assistant professor of art plans to take on a tour of St. Louis next Tuesday.

NOTICE TO BASKETBALL PLAYERS

Lynn Houdler, Southern's head basketball coach, announces that all those who desire to tryout for the 1949-50 Maroon Cage squad should report to the Men's gymnasium Monday at 8:15 p.m. Five practices will be held per week.

GINGERSNAPS By Dolan Ginger

Let's go back to the spring day when we put ourselves at the mercy of our readers. It was that day that we made the prediction that the Pittsburgh Pirates would beat the Cardinals out for the National League crown while we figured the Boston would walk away with the American. Sans missed all the way around even though he would have been glad to admit his error had the Red Birds not failed in the last four games of the Red Sox cooled off. As it is, the Birds did finish second the way we thought they would (but not to Pittsburgh) to a very game club, the Dodgers.

Another prediction that we made was that Musial and Williams would dominate the Cardinals. The Yankees have proved themselves game also, even though 80 injuries plagued their key men. We would like to see Musial and Williams would dominate the Cardinals. Even though both had comparatively weak start they broke up second in their respective leagues with better than average records. Williams, although falling off somewhat in hitting ran off with the big factor, Runs Batted In. We said also that Stan would not have an impact next year at 1949 and would hit 340. He came within one point of that mark, and we feel good about it.

This coming Saturday possibly two of the most powerful elevens of the country will meet at Ann Arbor, Mich., to decide which will share with Notre Dame the mythical title of the BEST in the USA. Unless a tie results, one of the two will take that honor or share as we previously mentioned. Army is riding on a three-game winning streak—five-4 tie with Navy last year. Michigan is on a 26 game winning streak since it was defeated by Illinois 14 to 9 in 1946. Last week Michigan defeated Stanford 27 to 7 and Army beatled Penn State 47 to 6. Notre Dame outclassed Washington State 26 to 6 with Chocho Justice scoring in the last two minutes of play. North Carolina overcame Georgia 14 to 0.

Next Friday, Leddie Cabutti and his Herin Tigers will make their second South Seven Conference debut against West Frankfort. "Radio" will undoubtedly have many of his old teammates and friends there to cheer on their first try with Coach Cabutti the best of luck.

INGERSNAPS IN THE HUDDLE by Dick Frix

The Tough Ours Are Not All Behind Us. Notice to all sporting fans: If anyone offers you odds that the Southern Maroons won't win a football game this autumn, don't bet them; you're more apt to save money that way. The Cape Indians, supposedly one of the weaker clubs on the Southern schedule really "thug it on" the Maroons at Houck field last Friday, 23-7.

If we were to single out any individual star for Southern, though, we wouldn't hesitate in the least to name Bob Colborn. His love for the game is borne out by the fact that he suffered a broken leg early last fall, yet he returns again this year asking for more. An all-around athlete like Colborn who has three years of college basketball and football, could well have rested on his laurels. Adjectives such as "spectacular" and "great" do not sufficiently describe the Sunday catches he made Friday night. One in particular we recall, was literally snatched off his helmet. Incidentally Bob was also a fifth man in Cape's backfield.

Giant For A Day Ed Bryan Tells All (Interview by Edward Carney)

Yes, that's right. I have experienced a thrill which many fellows would envy—a workout with a major league football team. One day, as I sat at home listening to the radio, I received a phone call which turned out to be a very pleasant surprise. The fellow on the other end of the line introduced himself as Bob Martin, a scout for the New York Giants.

When I recovered from this pleasant surprise, my father said that he would accompany me to the park. Bob Martin met me at the player's entrance and brought me in to meet some of the Giant notables, including the one and only Leo (The Lip) Duvacher. The club-house boy handed me a uniform and a cap from one of the team's large traveling trunks. I put on the uniform and began to watch the players, who were enjoying their favorite extra-curricular activity, cards.

WAA News

Have you noticed the crowd of girls gathering on the tennis courts every afternoon around 3 p.m.? What's the attraction? We haven't noticed Peter Lawford or Alan Ltd hanging around, or anything of the sort, have you? We guess it's just that good old American sportsmanship and competition attracting SIU women to pick up a racket and ball and get swinging. "15-Love" no cupids has nothing to do with it, that's the score.

What is it about this sport that attracts such a large number of participants? It is the variations in the game. The ball comes back in a surprising manner demanding a varying attack or defense. There are openings and opportunities; charges and retreats. It is exciting and exhilarating, inspiring the desire to win and creating true sportsmanship. If you have ever noticed the expression of a young woman after many defeats, comes through with a stirring victory, you will note the same expression on the face of a tennis player, who has just beaten her opponent. It's that "come from the mastery of a stroke. It is in this mastery that brings success.

The Little Man Is Good

On the Cape side of the picture, it was the same little man who has given our eleven so much trouble for the past few seasons: Bill Abernathy, 5'7", 170-pound setback from Anna, passed, plunged, squirmed, and blocked for sufficient yardage to beat the Martiniem himself. It's even a more bitter pill to swallow when you know that he's right now negotiating been made three years ago, he would in all probability be sporting a maroon and white jersey.

Before long they told me to grab a bat and start hitting. I hit a few balls and gained some confidence in myself. Then I was told to go into the outfield to snag a few fly balls. After catching fly-balls for a while, I was called in to the plate to hit a few more. I batted for quite a while this time and managed to get a couple solid blows. The Lip (The Lip) came up to the plate and said "That's enough."

Just as the Giants were scheduled for infield practice, the rains came down. The ground-keepers chattered about the possibility of a match with Cape Girardeau, Oct. 15. If you were in the mood to see the first-class match, you can contact Dolan Nolan. A trail hike was held by the WAA Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 4 p.m. The purpose of the hike was to acquaint the freshmen and upper-classmen girls with each other. Since it rained, the trail was blazed in the women's gym. Refreshments were served and games played. Approximately 60 girls attended. Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. the Co-Rec organization held recreational activities for both boys and girls in the gymnasium's gym. Badminton, volleyball and table tennis were played. Wednesday night Co-Rec plans to sponsor dance instructions for all students, both boys and girls, who are interested in learning to dance.

Perhaps you are wondering just what the Co-Rec is. It is an organization sponsored by WAA for the purpose of providing recreation once a week for both the men and women of SIU. Among the varied activities of Co-Rec are playgroups, wiener roasts, hikes, and swimming parties in the good old summertime. It is held every Wednesday night from 7 to 9 p.m.

Plans are now being form-

'Winless' Maroons To Play At Indiana State Saturday

After being dealt two disheartening blows by Wayne University and Cape Girardeau, Southern will journey to Terre Haute, Ind., Saturday to meet Indiana state with high hopes of repeating last year's win.

'B' Team Host To Cape Gridders Here Monday

The "B" team football game, which was postponed last Monday due to inclement weather, will be re-scheduled for Monday afternoon, Oct. 20 at 3:30 in McCord stadium.

Coach James Wilkinson isn't too sad about the postponement, as it afforded him some extra time to organize his personnel. The squad discussed offensive and defensive plays at chalk talks Monday and Tuesday. Scrimmage practice will be held today, weather permitting. Coach Wilkinson is rather pleased with his boys, and the squad's outlook toward the coming season is anything but gloomy. The morale is high and the boys have been working hard to get themselves ready. Several of the boys made the trip to Cape last Friday and gave a good account of themselves. The appreciation that they scored against Cape in the final quarter was dotted with "B" squad members.

covered the infield with a large canvas. One of the Giant coaches told me to go into right field with a bat and start hitting. When I was supposed to go into center field with Bobby Thompson, the rain began to come down very hard. "This proved to be the end of the practice session. As it was cold and get dressed, as no one except Giant staff members are allowed on the bench during the game. When the game started, I was sitting with my father in a box seat behind the Giants' dugout. After four innings, the game was postponed for an hour and 26 minutes. The Cardinals eventually won the game, 3-6.

Mosen' Around with Bob Mosher

For the information of those who took our prediction of the Cape game to heart, we lost three bets on the game too. It was just a case of too much Abernathy and Weber and not enough defensive play of the type Colborn showed. We're not discouraged, though. We'll even venture to say Southern can take this weekend's event from Indiana state. It seems Indiana state is no better off than we are as far as home games are concerned. They only have three home games to go.

Indiana is plagued with that familiar situation of having a new coach. (One not familiar with the term veteran). Even though George Asworth has only worked with the Scammers for a short time, it is rumored by way of the grapevine that they will be out to avenge the 20-2 truncating Southern handed them last fall.

A letter was sent to the editor of the publication last week and it was printed on the editorial page. The author of that letter, Dr. E. C. Coleman, is to be commended for bringing to light a subject we of the sports staff had neglected. In this article to the editor, he referred to a previous editorial entitled "Missing: A Southern Maroon." Dr. Coleman suggested using the name Southern Knight as a nickname. It sounds good to us, but there is that outside chance that some creative student might dream up a better one. We are taking the liberty of continuing this little crusade to the ultimate end. If you, your friends, or even your grandpa has any ideas, even if they don't sound very good to you, send them to the Egyptian, in care of this column and we personally guarantee they will be recognized in print.

As Dr. Coleman pointed out any number of themes could materialize for house decoration and floats if the nickname was something that could be seen. In case you haven't heard about or seen the fifty posters with the picture of Southern's football team in full dress, it's time you drop into your corner drugstore and get a good look at them. We are taking this opportunity to thank Norm Nilsson and his associates for arranging for these cards. Due to lack of words, this column is somewhat shorter than usual this week.
