Carbondale, Ill., Sept. 11, 1950 • Vol. 32, No. 6 • Single Copy 5c

SIU Students Return From Tours of Mexico

Two groups of Southern Illinois University students, faculty members, and alumni combined vacation and education on university-sponsored tours of Mexico at the close of summer term.

One group of students, enrolled in a geography field course offering four hours of credit, made a 23-day trip, the first of its nature ever sponsored by the university.

Dr. Floyd F. Cunningham, professor and chairman of Southern's department of geography and geology, was director of the field course, and Mrs. Cunningham served as official chaperone.

STUDENTS MAKING the tour learned more in the 23 days of field study than they would have in any geography course offered on campus, according to Dr. Cunningham.

The group, which traveled a total of 5000 miles by bus, went as far south as Salina Cruz, a port on the Pacific about 500 miles south of Mexico City, in a region largely inhabited by Indians.

Most of the studies were reconnaissance in nature, but some were detailed studies of the fruit industry and the sugar industry around El Mante.

Before returning, the tourists made a boat trip on the Houston ship canal, where a comprehensive study in industrial geography was made.

Enrolled in the regional geography field course were:

Boyd Butler; Mrs. Mildred Corzine, Carbondale; Martha Curtner, Creal Springs; Mrs. Marie Cole Davis, Zeigler; Dean Dodig, Marion; Mary Ann Deitz, Belleville; Mary Fanti, Decatur; Harold Henne, Salem; Maude R. Hodson, Troy; Bernadine Hudson, Fairfield; Harold Kuehn, Elkville;

Mike Makuh, Benard; Mrs. Nannie Marie Maxey, Lake Worth, Fla.; Lena Melvin, Carmi; Andy Patterson, Sullivan; Mildred Preucil, Oak Park; Ruth Schiber, Collinsville; John Schneider, Metropolis; Gertrude Shingleton, East Alton; Mrs. Gertrude Tippy, Carterville; Cecil G. Hrainger, Elgin; Virgil Warnecke, Benton; Joyce Wise, Elkville; Orville Wollard, Centralia.

THE SECOND GROUP from Southern made a two-week non-credit tour of Mexico, traveling by bus from Laredo, Tex., on the 700 mile Pan American highway to Mexico City.

From Mexico City, the travelers, accompanied by English-speaking Mexican guides, motored to the Pyramids of the Sun and Moon, built for worship of the Gods and sacrificial rites.

They also visited Taxco, home of the first Mexican silver mines; Cuernavaca, summer home of Emperor Maximilian and his wife, Carlotta; Toluca, famous for its Indian market place; and the famous floating gardens of Xochimilco.

The group attended a Sunday afternoon bullfight, toured the Cathedral of Mexico, built in 1751, the National Museum, and other points of interest.

THOSE WHO MADE the trip were Lydia and Marylee Keneipp, Grand Tower; Marjorie Gnaegy and Mrs. Clara Taggart, Chester; Mrs. Joseph Prelec, Kell; Mrs. Zephora Willis and Mrs. Inez Crossmann, Du Quoin; Barbara Webb, Harrisburg; Byrl Sims, Marion; Pate Maneese, Herrin; Muriel Fults, Ava; Mrs. Gerald Webb, former faculty assistant in the president's office.

More university-sponsored trips have been planned for next year. They will be open to Southern faculty, students, alumni, and university employees.

Southern Adds New Teachers To Staff

Students at SIU this fall will have a wider selection of instructors and professors with the addition of several faculty members to the teaching staff, according to a recent announcement from the President's Office.

John D. Anderson has been appointed to serve as instructor in speech and guidance and special education. He formerly served as a speech therapist at the Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, and as a graduate assistant at Ohio State University. He has his bachelor's degree from Colorado College, his master's degree from Utah State Agricultural College, and has done advanced graduate work at Ohio State University.

DR. ABRAHAM M. Mark has been appointed assistant professor of mathematics and director of the statistical service. He was teaching assistant at Cornell University for three years, and was an instructor at the University of Wisconsin for three years. Dr. Marks holds a bachelor's degree from Brooklyn College, and the master's and doctor's degree from Cornell University.

Carl J. Rigney has been appointed to serve as temporary assistant professor of physics. For three years he has served as teaching assistant at Northwestern University. A graduate of a University of Louisville, he received the master's degree from Northwestern University, and expects to receive the doctor's degree this fall.

ROBERT A. Harper will serve as assistant professor of geography. He has served as an academic assistant and research associate at the University of Chicago. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Chicago, and expects to receive his doctor's degree sometime this year.

William T. Andrew has been appointed to serve as instructor in agriculture. He has had experience as a graduate assistant at the Dominion Experimental Station and at Utah State Agricultural College. (continued on page 4)

SIU Uses New System Of Registering Today

Eliminating the filling out of a string of six cards, a new registration system was being used for the first time in Registration which opened here early this morning.

Select Inscription For Library Building

An inscription adapted from the Report of the President's Committee on Civil Rights, 1947, was selected by Southern Illinois University faculty members for an interior wall of the new training building.

The quotation is—"In a democracy we must have faith in the ability of free men to learn the truth through the unhampered interplay of competing ideas."

This selection, which will be in attractive, contemporary lettering, was selected from 13 quotations from Milton, Jefferson, Justice Holmes, and other authors.

Ranking second and third in the contest were the quotations "The bedrock on which the scholarly activities of the university are founded is a charter of free inquiry; without this you do not have a university," by President Conant, of Harvard University, and "If the people are to govern themselves, their only hope of doing so wisely lies in the collective wisdom derived from fullest possible information, and in the fair presentation of differing opinions," from the President's Committee on Civil Rights.

Egyptian To Publish On Fridays This Year

Surprise! This is believed to be the first issue of the Egyptian to ever come out on registration day. Next issue of the Egyptian will be Friday. The papers will be distributed from the cross halls of Old Main.

All those enrolled in school are entitled to a copy of the paper free—the money being paid by the students' activity fees.

After this week, the paper will resume publishing weekly, but this year the paper will come out each Friday instead of Thursday.

Egyptian Staff Holds Noon Meeting Today

The Egyptian staff will hold an important meeting in the Egyptian office, 313 Harwood, at noon today.

All freshmen and others wanting to join this year's staff, in addition to last year's staff should be present. Those unable to come today should come later this week or call University-266.

LATE LEAVE TUESDAY

The Dean of Women has announced that all girls will be given 12 o'clock leave Tuesday night in order that they may attend the Registration Dance in the Women's Gym.

Instead of a string of cards, one master IBM card is doing the work. It is substituting for counselor, assignment, health service, registrar, and academic deans' cards formerly filled out by students.

University officials, long plagued by the large amount of time taken to register, are watching today's registration to see how successful it is.

REGISTRATION WILL continue this afternoon and will be completed tomorrow. Classes will begin Wednesday morning. All evening classes will meet during the first week.

The work sheet used by registrants is more important than it has been previously. The work sheet, according to the Registrar's office, must be retained in order to obtain books at the book store.

An estimated 2,600-3,100 persons are expected to enroll at Southern this fall.

An all-school dance tomorrow night will mark the end of freshman orientation activities, which were attended by more than 900 new students last week. The dance, sponsored by the Student Council, will take place in the men's gym at 8 p.m.

ORIENTATION WEEK, under the guidance of the administration, the Student Council, Girls' Rally, Alpha Phi Omega and WSC, gave incoming freshmen a preview of things to come.

The testing of freshmen abilities included a series of English, psychological, reading, physical, and preferential examinations. Pre-advisement, campus tours, and library demonstrations also had a part in the process of getting acquainted.

Opportunity Hour, an added feature this year, provided tips and explanations on employment, housing and student aids. A Southern Style handbook, plus Southern Hour, a period conducted by the personnel deans, introduced the new students to rules and regulations governing campus life.

Time was also allowed for pre-advisement and for campus tours. Periods were devoted to library demonstrations in order that new students may better know how to use the library.

Not all of Orientation Week was business however, for coke hours, parties, dances, and even a free movie were on the schedule. Dr. Lingle of the Men's P.E. department was in charge of the coke hours. For several, the highlights of the parties were the sorority and fraternity rush activities.

IF

Southern welcomes you . . . but with reservations. You are welcome if you are eager to learn. We are glad to have you if you are a person with vision. There is no room in this university for a person of unchangeable prejudices.

There is neither the time nor the inclination to wreathe you over the rough spots. You are on your own now, and you must find your place in the sun. You will not be forced to study. In fact, compulsory activities are rare. Your success at Southern will depend largely upon yourself.

You will, no doubt, be criticized for your lack of school spirit. But remember, you can best serve yourself by taking an active part in the functions of the university. A college education is much more than the list of your grades on a transcript. Your future employer will want to know if you were a person who took an active part in extra-curricular activities.

There are great numbers of interesting activities at Southern. Your problem will be to choose the ones that can be most profitable to you and to the university. You may have difficulty in limiting yourself sufficiently to do justice to all your activities. Yet, it is most important that you do not overload.

Southern is proud of her past. But the past is not nearly so important as the future. And your future is now irrevocably tied up with the future of the university. Every forward step of the university is a forward step for you.

This is a democratic university where you can play an essential part. We expect to like you, and we hope that you like us.

Southern welcomes you—if you are willing to give as well as receive. M.L.S.

Summer Review

Record Many Firsts During Summer Term

Free foreign movies, a free play, "Coke Hour," "Doughnut Hour," a visit by Gov. Adlai Stevenson, and a graduating class of more than 250 students highlighted the summer term activities at Southern.

A record number of 2,129 students enrolled for the summer term—nearly one third of them being commuters.

McAndrew stadium, made attractive by its outdoor setting and large seating capacity, was almost the main site of summer activities.

First of all a Shrine circus was held there June 27-28-29. Then a series of foreign movies were shown in the stadium for the first time. The movies were free and were well-attended.

THEN ANOTHER first was marked up when the Little Theatre presented its annual summer play, "The Admiral Chrichton," in the stadium.

Nearly 1,000 persons saw the four-act comedy. In addition to the good acoustics and cool setting, many were attracted by the free gate—something that plays do not offer during regular terms.

Students also seemed to enjoy the "Coke Hour" and "Doughnut Hour" held during the term at which time classes were dismissed for an hour and free refreshments were served to students and faculty.

Early in the term Southern announced the hiring of Bill Waller as head football coach. Waller, a former Benton coach and a native of Benton, began his duties here Sept. 1.

He replaced Glenn (Abe) Martin.

Southern's football coach the past 12 years, who will remain at Southern as athletic director, physical education instructor, and head baseball coach.

PHYSICAL PLANT improvements included the addition to a new water system and new fire plugs to the campus. Along with the new system came increased water pressure.

In the educational side of the picture, Southern received recognition for having an outdoor workshop program at Giant City for the first time.

Headed by Dr. William Freeburg, the camp offered courses in several fields, including art, botany, and men and women's physical education.

A music hour presented by Dr. Maurits Kesnar was held weekly during the latter part of the term and attracted quite a few music lovers.

Summer news that is still news is the purchase by Southern of 26 barracks and a large E-shape building from Camp Ellis. Several of the barracks are now being remodeled into offices and classrooms.

A joint meeting of the University of Illinois and SIU's boards of trustees was held here July 24. Gov. Adlai Stevenson spoke to the boards. University of Illinois President Dr. George Stoddard also spoke at the meeting.

Announce Deadline For GI Schooling

Deadline for starting GI Bill courses of education and training for most veterans is July 25, 1951. Administration at Southern Illinois Veterans Administration Information Service reminded veterans in a special bulletin to the Veterans Administration at Southern Illinois University.

This coming fall school term, will be the final fall term when most veterans may enter or re-enter GI training. They still may begin their studies later, so long as its before the 1951 date.

MOST VETERANS actually must be in training by the deadline if they want to continue afterwards. VA will consider a veteran to be in training, even though he has temporarily interrupted his course for summer vacation of for other reasons beyond his control.

Once he completes or discontinues his program of training after the 1951 date, he may not start another course.

He will be expected to pursue his training "continuously until completion, except for conditions which normally would cause interruption by any student."

Students May Get Free X-rays Today, Tuesday

A mobile X-ray unit will be at Southern today and tomorrow to X-ray students.

Any student can have an X-ray made free. The chest X-ray is used to detect many diseases, including tuberculosis, cancer, and certain heart diseases.

The hours are from 8.30 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

SIU Hires Bush, Corn As Assistant Coaches

Two coaches have accepted positions at Southern to complete the coaching staff for the coming year, according to Glenn (Abe) Martin, athletic director.

The two men are Russell L. Bush and John Corn. Both appointments are pending approval of the University Board of Trustees.

Bush comes to Southern from Purdue university where he has been serving as assistant wrestling coach. He received his bachelor's degree from Iowa State Teachers college and his master's degree from Purdue.

At Southern, he will serve as wrestling coach and assistant football coach.

He has had an outstanding record in collegiate wrestling. At Iowa, he lettered in wrestling for four years. During that time, he earned three national titles. Three of the four years he wrestled, Iowa

State was runner-up in the NCAA tournament.

The second coaching appointment has been made to John Corn. Corn is a graduate of SIU and a southern Illinois resident. He has been appointed as line coach.

Corn's college career was interrupted by a year in the army. He was member of the varsity squad at Southern in 1945 and then returned for the 1947 and 1948 seasons. In 1948, he captained the Maroons. He completed his university training in three years so he was not eligible for four years of competition.

In 1830 the Mohawk & Hudson railroad, parent of the New York Central system, was put under construction.

Extension Division Increases Program

"A more adequate and comprehensive adult education program throughout Southern Illinois is the aim of Southern's division of extension and adult education," according to Raymond H. Dey, director of the division.

During the past year, 3,980 persons were enrolled in the University's 100 extension courses throughout the southern part of the state. These figures have just been released in an annual report by Mr. Dey.

Enrollment figure for this year's extension program represents an increase of 1,171 over last year's total of 2,809. Last year the University offered a total of 60 extension courses compared to this year's total of 100 courses. Twenty of these new courses do not offer college credit. They are designed to benefit those persons who wish specialized training in a particular field, but who are not interested in ultimately acquiring a degree.

CREDIT COURSES in history, soil conservation, geography, government, English, literature, school administration, and like courses accounted for about 83 per cent of the total enrollment. These classes were conducted in approximately 40 different towns.

Leading the list of non-credit courses was the agriculture department with nine classes with a total enrollment of 425 persons.

One hundred and twenty retail clerks and employers participated in a retail sales training course at West Frankfort, and a non-credit class in first aid was scheduled at Marion for school bus drivers who needed such a course to meet state requirements.

OTHER NON-CREDIT courses included several art workshops which met for a period of eight weeks, and three photography classes.

LAST YEAR a total of 1,553 films were rented to approximately 200 schools and 75 adult organizations under the direction of the Audio-Visual Aids Service, a department of the extension service. The films varied from highly technical educational films to films for children, such as "The Hare and the Tortoise."

THE EXTENSION service also made arrangements for commencement speakers, programs for various clubs, and speakers for civic and educational meetings.

More than 7,600 persons attended an art exhibit of the Southern Illinois Guild which was shown in eight different towns under the direction of the extension service.

Mr. Dey declared that the division of extension and adult education will continue to expand its services to the people of Southern Illinois as long as educational needs remain unfulfilled in this area.

In 1948, the British, with 64 per cent more miners, produced only 39 per cent as much coal as did the U.S., where the mining process is so significantly mechanized for producing more coal faster.

Rupp, Bell Guests Here For Coaching Clinic

The second annual Southern Illinois University coaching clinic was held on campus this summer from Aug. 21 through Aug. 23 said Maroon athletic director, Glenn "Abe" Martin.

The guest instructors for the clinic, which was free of charge to all, included Adolph Rupp, famed basketball coach at the University of Kentucky, and Madison "Matty" Bell, renowned football mentor of Southern Methodist university.

In addition to Rupp and Bell, several other prominent men of the coaching profession were brought in to assist with the instruction.

"I believe that this year's clinic was just as attractive as the one last summer when we had Hank Iba (Oklahoma A. C. M.) for basketball with Don Faurot (Missouri) and Burt Ingwersen (Illinois) handling football," Martin said.
