Committee Announces Halloween Theme For Homecoming Events

This year's Homecoming, October 29-31, will have a Halloween theme, it was announced Tuesday night, following a steering committee meeting in the Student Union.

Freshmen Enthusiastic About Leadership Meet

"Freshman interest in the campus leadership conference which is to be held at Giant City Park September 25-26, has been enthusiastic, but there has been a dearth of interest shown by upperclassmen," said Bill Phelps, chairman of the event, who made a report to the student council at their first fall term meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Upperclassmen have not been adequately informed of the coming event, due to the pressure of other activities, according to Phelps and Miss Betty Greenleaf, director of student activities.

So far about 60 freshmen have indicated a definite interest in attending the conference, Phelps said, and about 20 upperclassmen have said they will attend.

Plans call for about 150 to attend the activities which begin about 4 p. m. on Friday and continue until Saturday afternoon.

Special interest groups will meet for discussion of various aspects and problems of campus leadership.

Some of the suggested topics for discussion are, how to work with other officers, how to secure cooperation of the rest of your group, how to organize a new club, how to secure participation, how to provide at a meeting, and grades and academic standards for campus leaders.

Fees for the entire conference will be $1, covering lodging and meals. Applications for attending the conference may be made at the main desk in the Student Union.

LLOYD F. BITZER

Bitzer Completes First Solo Flight As Naval Cadet

Naval Aviation Cadet Lloyd F. Bitzer, a former student at Southern, who is now in the Naval Cadet program at U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Whiting Field, Florida, recently completed his first solo flight.

Bitzer, a pre-law student who left school in January of this year to enlist in the Navy, participated in debate and speech activities while he was on campus. He was a member of the debate squad for two years, and won second place in the state oratorical contest for 1951-52.

He was chairman of Religious Emphasis week one year, and was active in several other campus groups.

SIU Extension Division Begins Fall Schedule

Fifty-two credit courses will be offered this fall by the Southern Illinois University Extension Division in 34 Southern Illinois communities within a 125-mile radius of Carbondale.

Most of the classes started this week, with registration being held at opening sessions. Tuition is $8.75 per course, including textbook rentals.

Classes will offer four quarters through the year. Meetings will be once a week for 16 weeks, with the meeting being two and one-half hours long. Both graduate and undergraduate work will be offered.

Subject areas to be covered are: business and general education, educational administration, elementary education, clinical psychology, music, art, English, agriculture, geography, government, economics, and foreign languages.

It Soon Will Happen . . .

- Friday, Sept. 18—Registration Dance, 8 p. m., Men's Gym.
- Saturday, Sept. 19—Pan-Hellenic Union.
- Tuesday, Sept. 22—Chess Club, 7 p. m., Student Union.
- Wednesday, Sept. 23—Singing and Swinging, 7 p. m., Altgeld 202.
- Wesley Fellowship Party, 7:30 p. m., Methodist church.
- Thursday, Sept. 24—International Relations Club meeting, 7 p. m., Studio Theatre.
- Women's House Council meeting, 4 p. m. Girls' Bldg., 7:30 p. m., Main 207.
- Friday, September 25—Leadership Conference begins at Giant City Park.

Dr. Howard Long Heads Journalism Department

Dr. Howard L. Long, formerly of the University of Missouri Journalism School is new journalism department chairman.

Backed with considerable experience in newspaper work and journalism education, Dr. Long will fill the position held by Donald R. Grubbs who has served as acting chairman. Mr. Grubbs will remain on the staff as an instructor.

While attending high school in Dixon, Ill., Dr. Long worked on the Dixon Evening Telegraph. He received his Bachelor of Journalism degree, M. A., and Ph.D. from the University of Missouri.

Activity Pictures Still Being Shot

Students who haven't had their pictures taken for their 1953-54 student activity tickets should have them made before the cut-off date, September 28, according to C. William Horrell, director of the Union Photographic Service.

Preparations for activity tickets are now being taken in the Photo Service house, 1215 S. Thompson. Most students had their pictures taken when they picked up their books during New Student Week or during this week.

Horrell pointed out, however, that all students who are enrolled full-time on campus should have their pictures taken for the activity ticket in order to take advantage of campus activities which require the presentation of activity tickets.

Activity tickets may be picked up at the Bursar's Office, across the street from Photo Service, during normal office hours. Those students whose pictures did not turn out in the first group will be required to have their pictures retaken during the week of September 28.

These retakes also will be made at the Photo Service house. It was pointed out that students who have their pictures made during the third week of the term may pay a service charge of 75 cents if failed to have his picture retaken, or lost his activity ticket.

Cheerleader Tryouts . . .

Tryouts for cheerleaders for the 1953-54 school year will be held Tuesday evening in McAndrews stadium, just prior to an intersquad scrimmage by the Saluki football team, which is slated to begin at 7:30. It was announced today.

Those who are interested in trying out for cheerleader positions are being urged to contact Bob Edgell, chairman of the Student Council pep committee, or committee members Juanita Preceduto or Pat Bries, who need to know in advance how many contestants to expect for the tryouts.

There will no admission charge for the tryouts and scrimmage under the stadium lights. Students have been extended a special invitation by the Student Council to see Southern's cheerleaders in action and to get a pre-season glimpse of the Salukis in combat, according to Student Council president, Andy Marace.

Homecoming Play Tryouts Slated

Tryouts for parts in Southern's 1953 Homecoming Play are scheduled for 7 p. m. Monday and Tuesday in the speech barracks. Dr. McLeod urges that anyone interested in acting or backstage work be present, as this is an all-school play and participation is not limited to speech students.

John Patrick's comedy "The Curious Savage," is to be presented this year. Mr. Patrick may be remembered for his hilarious "The Hasty Application forms may be obtained here" from the Commission's Washington office or from a civil service regional office.

Campus Activity Leaders To Meet At Giant City

Officers and prospective leaders of SIU clubs and organizations will meet at Giant City park, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 25 and 26, for a leadership conference.

Campus Directory To Be Finished By November 1

"We hope to have this year's campus directory ready for distribution by November 1," said Herbert Fulkerson, Secretary of the Faculty, this week.

Prior to issuing the complete directory, according to Fulkerson, who is in charge of the project, the faculty and office sections will be bound and distributed to campus offices, "about the middle of next month." Later these sections will be included in the full-sized directory. The early distribution of these two sections is an important campus need, Fulkerson said.

Duplicating Service will print the directories again this year, Fulkerson said. Each year the directory contains information concerning addresses and phone numbers of faculty, faculty members, and all students who are on campus full term.

Ex-Marines On SIU Staff Train Reservists Now

Three members of Southern's staff, all ex-marines, spend their spare time training other Marine reservists. The three travel approximately 125 miles each month in going to the training sessions.

Major Robert T. Harris, Capt. O. And, and Lt. William E. O'Brien, are at the Naval Air Station at Lambert Airport in St. Louis one weekend a month to train young reservists in military bearing, discipline, the Uniform Code of Military Justice, and in special fields.

Major Harris, a lecturer in the philosophy department at Southern, is intelligence officer for the squadron; Captain Anderson, assistant professor of speech and guidance and special education, is training and public information officer; and Lieutenant O'Brien, head football coach at SIU, is assistant training officer.

All three have stockpiled a record of more than 10 years in the Marine Corps and reserve. They have served overseas and Anderson and O'Brien were recalled to active duty during the Korean emergency.

The event, in issuing the statement, said that the steering committee members spent a considerable amount of time in studying the possibilities for the Homecoming weekend. The group decided that the Homecoming parade would provide a simple motif for house decorations, and could be used easily for the other activities over Homecoming weekend.

The Homecoming theme will be used in informal masquerade ball on Thursday night in house decorations and in the parade, and some associated ideas will be used in the coronation ceremonies, it was announced.

A tentative schedule of events with others to be added, was decided on by the steering committee group. The festivities will begin on campus with the all-school assembly at 10 a. m., Thursday, October 29. The Homecoming Queen candidates will be introduced to the students at the assembly, and a preview of coming events will be given.

Thursday evening in Shryock Auditorium, the Homecoming Queen who will be chosen by a vote of the students, will be crowned in impressive ceremonies featuring "spectacular pageantry."

After the coronation of the Homecoming Queen, an informal "kick-off" dance will be held, with a masquerade spirit prevailing.

The following day at 3 p. m. the judging of house decorations will begin, with the Homecoming play being scheduled for 8 p. m. at Shryock Auditorium. After the play, a reception will be held in the Student Union.

Friday night will see many of the alumni arriving for the weekend, but most of them are expected to arrive on Saturday in time for the football game. An alumni board meeting will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

The Homecoming parade is slated to begin at 10 a. m. Meetings of various alumni groups will be held between 11:30 and 1 p. m.

Southern will tackle its Homecoming fees from Easterns at 1:30 p. m. in the Student Union.

Steering committee members will continue working on their plans for Homecoming, Coleman and Miss Rubeus said. Although most of the chairman have picked their committees, there are positions still available. Those students who are interested in serving on a committee for Homecoming are urged to get in touch with the chairman of the committee of their choice, they said.

Homecoming steering committee members are as follows: Chairman—Bill Phillips; Vice-Chairman—Cliff Karch and Pat Lammont.

Broadcast—Doug Mathews. Concert—Eleanor Miller, Joe Preidiger.

Concessions—Carl Anderson, Roger Van Dam.

Dance—Harton Seals. Decorations—Bill Phillips, Laura Beatty.

Finance—Don Killan, Marilyn Liebzig.

Home Decorations—Bertha Bero.

Parade—Bill Phillips, Louisa Hoover.

Pep-and Kick-Off—Shirley McCannoughay, Paul Morris.

Publicity—Jan VanEpps, Bob Brimmon.

Queen and Coronation—Carolyn Bernhard, Jay Jednak.

Honorary members of the steering committee are Andy Marace, student council president, and M. J. Ann Klingenberg and Charles Wiford.

The next meeting of the steering committee is scheduled for 10 a. m. Monday in the Student Union. Committee chairmen are notifying the members of their committees about when group meetings are to be held.

Brod To Receive Doctorate From Colorado College

Ernest E. Brod, a member of the SIU Education department faculty since August of last year, has completed requirements for his doctorate in education and will receive his degree in December, according to Fount C. Warren, Education department chairman.

Brod, whose major field is elementary education, made studies in the field of teaching reading in elementary schools. He has a minor in educational psychology. His degree will be conferred by the Colorado State College if Education, Greeley, Colo., at the end of its fall term.

The dissertation which Brod submitted for his degree was entitled, "Report of an Analysis of Certain Basal Readers and the Accompanying Manuals and Workbooks in Grades Four, Five, and Six."

Spending half-time teaching elementary education courses and attending his time in Southern's academic advisement program, Brod advises kindergarten-primary education, elementary education and special education major.

Benton K. Berry Wins Scholarship

Benton K. Berry, SIU freshman from Murphysboro, has been named winner of the first $100 Community scholarship at SIU by Basil Readers and the Accompanying Manuals and Workbooks in Grades Four, Five, and Six.

Berry, who graduated from Murphysboro high school last May, plans to become an electrical engineer after majoring in physics. In high school Berry was a football letterman, a member of the French club, the First Methodist Church MYF and the Murphysboro DeMolay.

Our Opinions To The Freshmen!

Here's to the freshmen! This year you will swell the enrollment of Southern to a new record, according to early estimates.

You have brought not only an increased number to Southern's campus, you have brought new ideas and a new spirit. Your spirit and enthusiasms for college life were simply demonstrated by your participation in the New Year Week activities. It did the old hands on campus a world of good to see the way the kids caught on to how things are done at Southern.

Your spirit means more than an enthusiastic participation in today's events. It means there is promise of enthusiasm for the things you do throughout your college days.

You may have looked a little confused during your first few days on campus. That probably was because you really were confused about the new things you and new ideas.

Perhaps more important than all the others are the new ideas. You will be subjected to new ideas in the classroom, in the student union, or wherever you go on campus.

Through a long process of evaluation and elimination you will evolve what might be termed your philosophy of life. The ideas which you accept will reflect themselves in everything you do while you are on campus. Think carefully and choose wisely.

Of course we cannot appreciate our freshmen without wondering what kind of students and campus leaders they will make. In a few years the older students will have left, and they will be taken by today's freshmen.

We are confident that most of you will take your campus life seriously enough to accept new responsibilities and still have your share of fun. We feel that the time comes for you to become campus leaders and, later, community leaders.

Freshmen, we are proud of you!

Fligor Receives Doctorate From Michigan College

R. J. Fligor, counselor of boys in University school, teacher training laboratory school at Southern Illinois University, has received his doctor's degree from Michigan State College, East Lansing. His major is in the field of curriculum and methodology.

A native of the Carbondale area, Fligor has been a member of Southern's faculty since 1941. He has his bachelor's degree from Southern and his master's from Northwestern University.

Fligor's dissertation is entitled "An Analysis of the Evaluation, Use, and Value of Certain Components for Beginning the Student Teaching Experience." Data for the study were gathered from colleges and universities in the North Central Association area which are members of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

As a result of his study, Fligor advocates more adequate research by individuals and groups on problems in the field of teacher preparation; better reporting of research findings; better administrative support; the use of democratic processes in working toward improvement; and the assistance of state, regional, and national associations in the entire program of improvement.

Community Concerts Scheduled

Newcomers May Still Join Concert Group: Fanor

New staff members and members of their families will be eligible to join the Carbondale Community Concert Association until the first concert is held at Southern on October 23 said Dr. Robert Fanor, chairman of the Carbondale Association, today.

This opportunity to become members of the Community Concert Association is being given to newcomers who missed the membership week last spring.

The association, which sponsors programs of regional interest each season, will present four appearances this year. Fanor said.

Rey and Gomez, internationally acclaimed interpreters of the dances of Spain and Latin America will be here October 23. On November 10, the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Vladimir Goldschmann, will come to Shroyck auditorium.

The Tucson Arizona Boy's Chorus, engaged "as a result of popular demand," will present a program of standard music and light Western songs. The final presentation for this season will be Eugene Conley, American tenor, son of Metropolitan and La Scala Opera, who will come to the campus April 12.

Conley has starred on leading television programs and has made recordings for London records.

All programs will begin at 8 p. m. in Shroyck auditorium. Students at SIU will be admitted upon presentation of their activity tickets. Adults and off-campus students will be admitted by season ticket only.

Season tickets for adults are now available for $6 from members of the executive committee. Student tickets are available at $3. Adult season tickets are interchangeable, but individual tickets for performances will not be sold, Fanor said.

Mrs. Hewitt Sets Up Scholarship For Art Students

Mrs. Francis Marion Hewitt, Sr., of 703 West Main, Carbondale, has established a scholarship fund for Southern Illinois University art students. It was announced today.

Burnett Shroyck, chairman of the art department, said the annual $100 award would go to a junior to pay his tuition and defray expenses of art materials for one year. The first scholarship winner will be selected soon, he said.

Mrs. Hewitt set up the scholarship fund as a memorial to her late husband.

Greek Notes

SIGMA SIGMA SIGNS SORORITY has had a recent facelift. The house has been painted inside and out. The lounge has been re-decorated and refurnished. Seven Tri-Sigs were married this summer.

THE TEKES HAVE ALSO revamped their house, including painting and the expansion of a large sign to be put in the front yard. Jerry Anderson, Jim Walwalk, and Richard Pisoni attended the Tau Kappa Epsilon national convocation in Des Moines the first week in September.

THE DELTA SIGNS HAVE a new householder, Mrs. Altha Snookley from Belleville, Marie Calley and Libby Mars attended the Delta Sigma Epsilon national convention in San Francisco this summer. Barbara Tallford has been elected new treasurer of the Delta Sig to replace Roberta Reznick.

TWENTY-FIVE RETURNING Old Delta initiated their fraternity house this fall and participated in New Student Week. Harlan Seals, Chi Delta Chi president, and Dick White were guests at the Phi Kappa Tau National Convention at French Lick, Springs, Ind. Charles Wildy, Chi Delta Alum, is on campus for work on his masters degree.

FOR THE PAST TWO WEEKS the Delta Zeta mascot, a dachshund modeling their new home, the former Normandy house on 701 S. University. They did a take-off on the ROTC drill team for the freshmen pep rally. "Jeky" is the name of the Delta Zeta mascot, a dachshund. Delta Zeta is the newest national sorority on campus.

CARLENE BONDS IS new president of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority. She replaces Mary Ann Klingenberg. The Pi Kaps with Alice Simons and Carlene Bonds heading the committee are having a buffet party tonight. Jackson Country Club will be the scene of the Pi Kaps dinner tomorrow. Annabelle Schroeder and Thelma Walker are co-chairmen of the event.

Mrs. Grace Osburn of Murphysboro is the new housemother for the sorority.

RADIO ROUNDUP

Wherever you go there's Radio

By Ralph Becker

There are many new voices on Southern Illinois radio stations these days as a result of a great number of changes which occurred this summer.

Ralph Wayne, announcer at WCIL, Carbondale, for nearly three years, joined the staff of KAPQ, Albuquerque, New Mexico. Wayne was replaced temporarily by Bill Turner of Carbondale. Turner was on an furlough after serving with the Armed Forces Radio Service in Korea.

Don King replaced popular disc jockey John Coleman on WCIL's "1020 Club." Coleman accepted a position with WJBC in Bloomington, Illinois. King is from Cairo.

Bill Spangler resigned as faculty assistant to the SIU Director of Radio. Barron C. Robbins, Spangler is now program director of radio station WFRX, West Frankfort.

DOUG MATTHEWS, SIU student from Fairfield, worked full time at WFRX this summer, but plans to work just on weekends while attending Southern.

Don Hutchenrath and Bob Wilson, who replaced Matthews, were heard over WPRO, Carmi, during the summer months. However, Wilson just recently joined the WCIL staff to work weekends.

Jesse Kennedy, of the SIU History department, expanded his announcing duties this summer at WJPF, Herrin. Kennedy was heard only on weekends previously.

Radio station WAVA, Ava, moved its studios and transmitter to Du Quoin and has become WQDN. The station operates at 250 watts.

SIU Graduates Recently Accepted New Positions

BARBARA ELAINE CLINE, Metropolis, who was graduated from Southern Illinois University in August, is teaching second grade classes at Metropolis, the SIU Placement Service reported today. Miss Cline majored in elementary education at Southern.

RICHARD J. MORAN, Ames, Iowa, who conducted squirrel studies in Southern Illinois and received his master's degree from SIU in June, began working recently for the Michigan Department of Conservation as a game manager on game area in central Michigan.

D. O. RETTINGER has accepted a position with the Illinois Department of Conservation as a biologist assigned to southern Illinois and will be living in Carbondale while on duty. He was on his master's degree this term.

SIU Adds Forty-Seven New Faculty Members

The enlargement of Southern's physical equipment has been accompanied by a growth in staff, according to an announcement from the President's Office today which listed forty-seven new faculty members.

The announcement listed Dr. Howard L. Long, former manager of the Missouri Press Association as new head of the Journalism department. Donald R. Grubb, who has been acting chairman of the department, will remain as an instructor for the department.

There were four additions to the University school faculty. Mrs. Marcie Franklin has the position of lecturer there. Robert E. Franz will be an instructor. Charles Struss will be a lecturer and Charles Thibe, recent graduate, will be an assistant instructor.

LT. VICTOR R. BARNARD and Maj. William Blum are new members of the Air Science and Tactics department. Lt. Blum is an instructor and assistant professor. Charles N. Joyce is a new member at the department, with the rank of instructor.

Joyce Allen has been named a research assistant with the weather station. In the field of technical and adult education, nine new members were named. George R. Arnold, lecturer; James F. Knott, instructor; Mrs. Phyllis E. Nordberg, assistant instructor; Eleanor Pearson, lecturer; John W. Rammal, instructor; D. B. Ray, instructor; William I. Schlosser, lecturer; Thomas A. Smith, lecturer; and Lucian D. Willey, instructor.

Research assistants Roger Bell, Wallace Bowman, and Vincent Yacardi were also named. Frank J. Bietto has been named lecturer in the Government department.

Other lecturers, who are appointed for one year, are: Dr. Marsha Clark, English department; Mrs. Helen Evans, Home Economics; Sam Filippone, Mathematics; made for fall term are as follows: Margaret Clemens, assistant instructor; Werner's Physical Education; Stephen W. Ford, instructor; General Librarian; Aldan M. Hall, division chief, Registrar's Office; Floyd E. Krueck, instructor; Industrial Education; Francis S. Rinaldi, assistant director, General Library; George Schuster, research assistant; Fisheries Management.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS

Jack Schneider, Southern Illinois University sophomore halfback from Glen Carbon, is the only man on the Salku squad who did not play high school football.

Schneider played two years of Air Force football with the Alaskan Air Command team. He lettered last year for SIU.

Librarians Don't Have Time To Read Books

How can librarians be the well-read dispensers of books that follow these suggestions. Coming home from a zipping day wrestling with the professional and educational activities in a library, leaves only the exceptional person with enough energy or desire to read books in spare time in order to become a well-read librarian. Lengthening the work week to give librarians time to read on the job wouldn't be popular with employees, he thinks. Neither is it sure that the public would not accuse librarians of indolence and misuse of time and money if she did such reading during working hours. The question Dr. Robert H. Muller, Southern Illinois University director of libraries, discusses in an article, "Bookworms and Hucksters," appearing in the current issue of School and Society, a publication of the Society for the Advancement of Education. Many suggestions have been proposed—reading during spare moments while commuting or walking, or spending weekends and vacations reading books instead of wasting time with radio, television, sports, gardens, or sitting—but Muller doubts if many library staff members

New Student Week Review

Class of '57 Completes First Round Of Activities

Well! Look at us! Here we are, and what a relief! We're all settled down in a round of classes and homework, but we're still spinning from that greatest of all whirls, New Student Week. We were welcomed, walked, teased, walked, questioned, walked, photographed, walked, screened, walked, and tested again. Then we walked some more. For most of us it will begin back in July when we started getting mail from Southern. Remember? We just couldn't wait to see what new form there was to fill out, or what new information was being passed along. Letters from fraternities and societies, physical exams, biographies. All these and many more occupied our attention. It seemed as though something new came every day, and we began to feel pretty darn important! Just think, all that postage and stuff! Just for us! THE WEEK FINALLY CAME and we all converged on the campus around 1600 strong. First came a crazy mixed-up mixer in the Student Union Tuesday night. I jammed to either like the proverbial sardines. We danced, played cards, talked, and got to know each other. We couldn't have been more thoroughly mixed with a rotary egg-beater. Any mental genius who managed to straighten out that tangle of first and last names deserves all A's first quarter. Next day they labeled us—this helped.

AS THE DAY PROCEEDED we began to be initiated into some of the real joys and terrors of college. It was fun to drop into the Union for a colle or to those breeze on the lawn between sessions, but oh, those tests. We came out glass-eyed, muttering that high school was never like this. We wandered and looked, lost our way and found it again. "Old Main" Algeid, Parkinson and the Gym, and where the devil's the University school?" That night as we soiled our feet we must have darn near used up Carbondale's water supply. But there was fun, too. We enjoyed clowning around at the pep rally and learning how to cheer those Southern Soldiers. The next day we saw just what a powerhouse we've got out there on the field at football practice. We hear the girls were having cokes on the lawn—most of them probably green with envy. Hello, girls, you'll see them all in action later. Came Friday and... Hurrah! No more tests! Y'know, they say this new system of dividing us into groups was supposed to eliminate long lines for registration and at the bookstore, but all we have to see is "Piv the poor Freshmen here if these were short lines." That night we soiled our feet an extra fifteen minutes. SOME OF US actually got to sleep on Saturdays! Then there was an old-fashioned picnic there in for good measure, and we stuffed ourselves on that good food. That night we viewed the talents of the class of '57 and came away bursting with pride. Those upperclassmen had better look to their laurels. The folks came down Sunday and we all relaxed at Church and the picnic in the afternoon. After the picnic most of us attended convocation in the Auditorium, and were thoroughly impressed. Even more impressing was the convocation Monday morning when we stood face to face with President Morris for the first time. Now we know Southern is a swell place to be. And as we look back on last week, we wouldn't have missed it for anything. Everybody's been just as friendly and helpful as possible. We say "Thanks" to all the faculty members and upperclassmen who have done so much to help us get off to a good start here at Southern. We're proud to be SIU's Class of 1957. D. H.

1500 Expected In ROTC Program At SIU This Fall

More than 1500 men are expected to enroll in the SIU AF ROTC Cadet Corps this fall, according to Lt. Col. Oliver K. Halderon, professor of air science and tactics at Southern. Highest total last year was 1084. The general outback announced on Air Force personnel in 1954 will mean a drastic slash in junior and senior class enrollment, Colonel Halderon said. Instead of producing as many as 27,750 officers in a year, as was once planned, the AF ROTC is to level off with 8,000 a year, most of these earmarked for flying training. Colonel Halderon emphasized that the number of college freshmen and sophomores to be enrolled will not change, and that all freshmen and sophomores are required to enroll in the basic course. He said, however, that selection requirements for the advanced course would be much higher and more competitive and one of the primary criteria will be that newly all students applying must desire flight training and physically qualify. Only a small number of students who possess technical and scientific backgrounds will be admitted into the advanced course without the flight stipulation. A revamped ROTC course will be taught this year at SIU, stressing leadership and citizenship and pointing toward the goal of producing an educated, basic Air Force lieutenant and a better citizen whether in or out of uniform.

Pre-Season Football In Full Swing

Football Outlook In IAC Is Rough and Ready In 53

As the 1953 season is about to get underway in earnest, coaches through out the conference are hustling to get their players in top shape for the conference race.

Top contender for the crown is Central Michigan, last year's champion. Michigan Normal and Western will be right on the Chicago; the latter two for the conference race.

Central Michigan College should be as strong, if not stronger than a year ago when they won the IAC football title with comparative ease. The Chipmunks lost eight men from last year's squad, but expect 25 lettermen back plus a host of promising freshmen.

Just how successful Coach Bill Kelly will be able to shuffle his men around after playing under the same plan for the past two years remains to be seen. The Chips only held four days of spring practice, so Kelly has had little opportunity to make any line-up shifts other than on paper.

Kelly is pretty well set at all positions and his biggest worry may be who will play rather than finding someone to play. Always optimistic, Kelly expects his team to come through the season in fine shape. Central will be exceptionally strong at the ends with eight men returning. It may be that some of the ends will be shifted to other positions to utilize their talents.

Despite a nine-game schedule with a number of rough spots the Chipmunks should duplicate last year's record of seven wins, two losses, and no better tie.

Injuries and scholastic problems have somewhat dimmed MSNC's prospects for the 1953 season. However the Huskies will have 20 lettermen from the 1952 squad, which finished down third place in the IAC.

Coach Fred Trocho will begin his second year as coach with the fine line of last year almost intact with lettermen George Melow, Basil Barry, and Chuck Washington returning. The addition of another 200 pounder, former fullback Bob McCullough, who will be shifted to center, will help strengthen the Huson line.

Depth is lacking at the end position, but Capt. Bob Boyd and Nick Manych will be on hand to provide a target for the passing of Bob Middlekuff, in his third year at the quarterback post.

Although fullback Ed Showanski, leading Huson ground gainer of 1952 will add strength to the back field, it is here that Coach Trocho will have his biggest headaches. Speedy end Dick Mosely will probably fill one of the half back positions and Tom Fagan the other.

With planned positions shifts and perhaps some additional material from the incoming freshmen, Trocho will attempt to mould a team which can better last year's 5-3-1 record. Normal's first winning season in six years.

The Redbird football program may stand off three or one man—Milt Kadlec. A three-year letterman and star running back on the 1950 ISNU team. Kadlec has played for the past two seasons with the San Diego Marines. He is scheduled for release by Coach Ed Struck.

With Kadlec to alternate with Jim York and Roger Francour in straight shots on wide plays and Wes Bair, notable ranking passer and most valuable last year in the IAC, returning to spearhead the Redbird offense, Coach Struck should be able to present one of the best offensive backfield combinations in the IAC.

Nineteen lettermen from last year are expected back by Struck. Co-Captains Jim Fox and Gene Hoffman head the list of line prospects looking best at end and tackle.

Struck will have to start fresh since the Redbirds did not have spring drills. A number of sophomores up from the 1952 "B" team, which had a successful season under Coach Warren Crews, is expected by Struck to prove valuable in building the 1953 Redbird varsity squad.

The grid fortunes of Northern Illinois State Huskies are very uncertain as they attempt to bounce back from their second losing season since Coach George Evans took the helm 24 seasons ago. Last year the Huskies had 3-6 mark—the same record they compiled in 1950 for their first losing year in the Evans era. It would seem highly optimistic to expect the Huskies to come back with an undefeated season as they did in 1951, sweeping nine games.

A host of regulars has been lost to the squad through graduation, military service, and scholastic ineligibility. Chief among the losses is all-league end Jim McKinzie, who led the nation in passing receptions, and Jack Phelan, the team's leading ground gainer, lost via graduation.

Chief backfield hopes for the Huskies are versatile "Bobby Graham, who averaged 100 yards per carry last season, and Jim Hansen, the Huskies' leading passer in 1952. Line stalwarts include burly Tony Biondi, an all-league choice at tackle in 1951, and Wally Struckman and John Smith, used exclusively on defense last year and Ralph Klipple, the regular offensive center.

Coach Maynard "Pat" O'Brien has 19 lettermen plus two service returns on hand to help rebuild last year's IAC cellar-dwellers. A total of 63 players are expected to report for opening practice sessions Sept. 7.

Bob Smith, one of the returning servicemen, will be welcomed in the Panther backfield. He was one of the team's leading ground gainers in 1948 when they won the IAC crown.

Returning linemen are: Ron Landers, Hank Carter, Don Larimore, Don Magrinen, Don Calvin, Joe Summerville, Galt Borton, Bill Decker, and Arnold Franke.

O'Brien Optimistic Expects Victories

Coach Bill O'Brien opens his second season as head coach of the Salukis on an optimistic chord.

Fifteen lettermen, including five men back from service, give Southern hopes for the best team in several years. Big Hank Warfield, will be back tearing up ground fighting for a position as end. O'Brien has been using Hank as fullback, hoping to use the big boy's power on offense and defense.

Another returnee is Warren McCullough, 205 pound sophomore from Mt. Vernon. McCullough is a top notch punter and a pounding ball carrier. He is also a fullback.

Bob Nell, Zeigler, another fullback resembling a well-set up fire plug, is back trying for a spot in the Saluki backfield. If the colt's stongman can round into shape he'll be hard to bring down.

One of the unused linemen from a few seasons back is "Moose" Sivilie, "Moose," a 5 feet 10 inch Sivilie, from Hopeston has been picking and sacking them during the past two weeks of practice, and coach Bob Franz may have his guard position settled.

Frank Kanuse, another 200 pounder, is back from service and is making a bid for the center spot.

Along with the returning vets, O'Brien has lettermen Cap R. Charlie Parker, Salem, and Ron Bishop, Bridgeport, back at guard. Frank Abbott, Carbondale, and Tim Bowers, Murphysboro, battling for center.

Leo Wilson, Blue Island, one of the nation's top pass receivers two seasons ago, is back after a year of ineligibility. Last year's regular pickers Dan Smith, Carbondale, and Wayne Williams, Du Quoin, have on their war gear this fall too. These three plus Warfield will give Southern four exceptional ends, something lacking in the Saluki kennel for many a spell.

Dave Stoupe, Carbondale; Gene Krolak, Chicago; and Cliff Johnson, Cairo, twice all-conference tackle, will provide experienced depth at tackle.

The backfield is well sprinkled with returning ball toers from last season's squad which won 2 and lost 6. Joe Huske Chicago will be

Sport Spiel

BY BOB POOS

Another scholastic year has rolled around here at SIU. For several days now students both new and old have been pouring in. It has been a madhouse of searching for a place to live, dropping courses, adding courses, paying fees and fines and squating away in general.

Sportswise all talk is being funnelled in one channel—FOOTBALL. The question in every SIU sportsfan's mind is—what'll happen this year? Will the "wild" enthusiasm and dividing by two. The Salukis can expect a hard row to hoe. They should however better last year's record somewhat. A conference championship seems to be out of the question, but a boost from fourth place may be in the wind. Whatever happens this should be the most interesting football season in a long time.

With fourteen returning lettermen the Salukis should theoretically be fairly strong this year seems to be the general conception. This should be true. However it should be remembered that other squads who placed well up in last years standings also have returning lettermen. Among these is Central Michigan, last years champion. They have 25 returning vets. This will probably be the toughest tilt the Salukis have. Note of them will be a bed of roses however.

Something to contend with this year is the abolition of the two platoon season. However this should affect all small schools about the same. If anything, it should help SIU. The Salukis have never had great depth.

In my opinion the whole thing adds up to adding the eventual complications of the "wild" enthusiasm and dividing by two. The Salukis can expect a hard row to hoe. They should however better last year's record somewhat. A conference championship seems to be out of the question, but a boost from fourth place may be in the wind. Whatever happens this should be the most interesting football season in a long time.
