EIGHTH EGYPTIAN

This copy of the EGYPTIAN marks the largest single edition in the newspaper’s history. This entire EGYPTIAN staff is congratulated and thanks all who have contributed to this edition.

This particular newspaper would not have been possible were it not for the work put into it by not only the young minds behind the paper but also the support of the administration and the students. It should have been clear by now that the newspaper will not be able to continue operating unless there is an understanding of its mission to write and distribute information to the students of this university.

The staff has the responsibility of providing an outlet for the student body and large, and any type of censure would not be tolerated by them. With your support, we will never be bested.

Automobile Elimination

A program of restrictions on student driving has been proposed by the University administration to combat the rising accident rate. The details of the plan are as follows:

- Prohibition of student driving on campus
- Installation of traffic lights at major intersections
- Reduced speed limit on campus
- Increased police patrols

These measures are aimed at reducing the number of accidents on campus. As a result, students will no longer be able to drive on campus, and traffic restrictions will be imposed.

Grass and People

New buildings and new areas of green space have been added to the campus. The new athletic fields have been completed, and the old ones have been removed. The new campus center has been opened, and the old one has been closed.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I am writing to express my concerns about the recent increase in the number of accidents on campus. As a member of the student body, I believe that there should be stricter restrictions on student driving.

FOOTBALL THROUGH THE AGES

The football frenzy is upon us! But let us in the midst of the excitement remember that there is a bigger picture to this sport. Football is just one part of America's rich history.

The game of football was first played on American soil in the late 19th century. It was a sport that was played primarily by college students. The first game of football was played in 1869 between Rutgers and Princeton.

In 1874, the Ivy League football conference was formed, and the game of football began to take shape as we know it today. The game was very different from the one we play today. The rules were much different, and the game was played with a much larger ball.

The modern game of football began to take shape in the early 1900s. The game was standardized and the rules were put in place. The college game was very different from the professional game.

Despite the differences, football has always been a sport that has brought people together. It has been a part of American culture for over a century, and it is here to stay.

And why, you ask, do we love football so much? Because it's American. Football is a sport that has been a part of our culture for over a century, and it is loved by people of all ages.

The game of football is a sport that has been a part of American culture for over a century, and it is loved by people of all ages. It is a sport that has brought people together and has been a part of our culture for over a century.

Dean Mildred Schorty-Sayers says ‘Give the Student a Chance’

“Students should be given chances, and be encouraged to take risks in their own welfare,” said Mildred Schorty-Sayers, dean of students.

This blue-eyed, brown-haired dean is a full-time student at SIU since 1931. She came to SIU from Illinois Wesleyan University, where she was a graduate student the year before she started the dean of students program.

According to Dean Schorty-Sayers, if a student is not sure about something, he should ask before doing it. “If he has a problem, he should ask questions and deal with it over. The way he handles things will be as good as the way he handled them before, and in the next time, you’ll know,” she said. “I don’t know. He can’t have a problem without having a problem. That’s why we have to have a problem.”

“Most of the people who have been students in the last 50 years have been students. The most significant single thing that has happened in the past 50 years has been the growth of the student body,” Dean Schorty-Sayers said.

Dean Schorty-Sayers is primarily associated with the warfare of war drama, whether it is personal or more general, as in the field of self-government.

“My biggest challenge is to get people to understand that they have a problem, and to try to get them to see that,” she said. “To be able to talk with them is the biggest thing that you can do. To try to get them to see things is the biggest thing that you can do.”

Dean Schorty-Sayers said that one of the most important things that students can do is to talk to others. “To talk to others is the biggest thing that you can do. To talk to others is the biggest thing that you can do.”

Dean Schorty-Sayers emphasized that students should not be afraid to talk to others. “To talk to others is the biggest thing that you can do. To talk to others is the biggest thing that you can do.”

Student Workers Receive 10 Cents Per Hour Wage Increase

The base rate of pay for all student workers was raised 10 cents per hour. July 1, making the new base rate of pay $1.10 an hour. The hourly rate for all students will range from $1.00 an hour for those in the lower echelons of the work force to $1.15 an hour for those students in the more advanced levels of study. The increase was announced by R. Maurice G. Fried, chairman of the board of trustees.

The raise was made possible due to an increase in the cost of living, as well as an increase in the cost of living in general, which is reflected in the increased rate of pay for student workers.

A student worker who had been at the lowest pay rate of $1.00 an hour will now earn $1.10 an hour, while a student worker at the highest pay rate of $1.15 an hour will now earn $1.25 an hour.

The raise is effective immediately, and all student workers will receive the increased rate of pay on their next pay check.

The institutional philosophy of providing an education that is both affordable and accessible to all students is reflected in the increased rate of pay for student workers.
WOODY HALL

WOODY HALL is a modern interpretation of traditional residence living. Many women share together experiences in study, dining, government and play. Rooms, lounges and landscaping have all been planned to make it enjoyable and challenging living.

SOUTHERN ACRES RESIDENCE HALLS

The two residence halls for men at Southern Acres are furnished with a study bar, study and lounge rooms and recreation areas. There is a cafeteria and a student union nearby.

Each apartment in Chautauqua contains four rooms and bath. There is one large walk-in closet and three smaller closets closets in each apartment. The kitchen contains a double sink and shelf space.

Diversity In Modern Living

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY has planned its housing to give diverse experiences in living. This satisfies the interests and demands of many different students of varied backgrounds, and provides challenges in student government, new friendships and shared responsibilities. Such diversity takes many forms, now and in future construction.

WOODY HALL was the first of a series of planned structures to give meaning to the concept of diversity. Here 423 women live in a large, four story building, broken internally to meet functional demands of closeness, warmth and comfortable accommodations.

DOWDELL HALLS has been a good example of how the University has utilized and modified immediately available frame structures into acceptable living quarters. By accepting some of the potential features inherent in the area and the structures, satisfactory living has been achieved. Other temporary facilities are provided, such as the Illinois Avenue Hall.

SOUTHERN ACRES RESIDENCE HALL located 10 miles east of Carbondale, gives opportunities similar to Dowdell, mostly to men in a Technical and Adult Education curriculum.

COOPERATIVE living has been the next great emphasis in diversity as men in Chautauqua and women at Southern Acres have lived together in groups of four and six.

MARRIED STUDENT HOUSING, a significant trend in most colleges during the last ten years, has so far been provided in the Chautauqua Street and Southern Acres apartments.

THOMPSON POINT RESIDENCE BALLS is a bold experiment to break away from the traditional dormitory style of living and to put into action a new concept of community living. Not only will men and women be living in the same area and sharing the dining and recreational facilities but faculty will also be living and teaching in the area. All the rich and diverse experiences possible in a university community are being brought to the place where the student spends so many hours of his day. The experiences will be on his doorstep.

THOMPSON POINT was planned with several new diverse features including semi-private halls, combination carriage-leisure area and facilities for alumni use. The diversity has already reaped national publicity.
