Explosion at NATO command believed planned by terrorists

RAMSTEIN AIR BASE, West Germany (AP) — A bomb believed planted by terrorists exploded outside the joint U.S.-NATO air command headquarters here Monday, wounding a U.S. general, 17 other Americans and two West Germans.

The blast came at a time of growing opposition by many West Germans to U.S. defense policies. Two weeks ago an American military facility in Berlin was bombed, but there were no injuries.

No one claimed responsibility for Monday morning's explosion. West German sources said it was believed to have come from a bomb placed in a Volkswagen sedan in a parking lot outside the headquarters buildings of the U.S. Air Force Europe and the NATO air command.

The explosion, which occurred at 7:20 a.m., catching early arrivals for work, hurled passersby to the ground, shattered windows and interior walls up to 100 yards said. A car engine was flung onto the roof of a five-story building, police said.

The most seriously injured were Brig. Gen. Joseph D. Moore, assistant deputy chief of staff for operations of U.S. Air Force Europe, and Lt. Col.

Douglas H. Young, an operations officer with the USAFE command.

Both were reported in stable condition at the U.S. Army hospital in nearby Landstuhl, where they had been taken by helicopter. Air Force officials said several others injured seriously enough to be taken to the hospital were treated and released.

"There were two loud blasts, one right after the other — Bam! Bam! — as if a Phantom jet had broken the sound barrier," said Staff Sgt. Harry Baske, an eyewitness.

Controllers strike effect felt

Air tower closed for 90 days

By Steve Moore
Staff Writer

The Williamson County Airport air tower will be closed for 90 days starting Sept. 11, airport official Bob Smith said Monday. The closure was ordered by the Federal Aviation Administration, apparently in response to the nationwide air traffic controllers strike.

Smith, the chief traffic controller, said that he and controller Al Clark would be reassigned to a different area airport.

The controllers strike, which began Aug. 3, left the airport with only two controllers, instead of the eight working there before the strike. FAA officials were unavailable for comment on the closing.

Smith said he wasn't sure where he and Clark would be moved to, but Gary Schaefer, assistant manager at Southern Illinois Airport, said the two would be assigned to the tower there.

"I'm not really surprised at the closing," Schaefer said, "because they were on the original FAA list of towers to be closed. I'm just surprised that it took so long.

Schaefer said the controllers were needed at the Southern Illinois Airport because it handles more traffic and because at present there is only one controller working there. There also were eight controllers working there before the strike.

Smith said that although the closing is supposedly temporary, he wasn't sure that the tower would be reopened. Under the FAA directive the tower will remain closed for 90 days after which the need for reopening it will be evaluated.

A press aid to Rep. Paul Simon, D-24th District, quoted a prepared statement from the congressman saying, "The FAA describes this as a temporary action and I'll be holding them to that. I'll resist any effort to convert this temporary necessity into a permanent closure of the Maron tower." The aid said Simon didn't want the FAA to view the closing as a "foot in the door."

According to Simon's press statement, the FAA has assured him there will not be any substantial changes in service due to the closing, except on days when the weather is bad. "I'll be watching to see if this will indeed be the case," Simon said.

Since the strike began, both the Williamson County and Southern Illinois towers have been operating on reduced schedules. Both towers have been closing at 4 p.m. and all flights which come in after that time have been required to land by maintaining visual and radio contact with other planes also wanting to land.

Students to see fee increases, Swinburne says

By Alan Sculley
and Mike Anthony
Staff Writers

Students may expect increases next year in several fees and an increase in housing rates, Bruce Swinburne, vice president for student affairs said Monday.

Swinburne will discuss the possible increases during a speech to a joint session of the Undergraduate Student Organization and the Graduate Student Council at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Student Center Ballroom D.

Swinburne said he expects increases in the Health Service, Revenue Bond, Recreation Center and Student Center fees. He said he will try to "find a way around" the increases, but it looks like they will be needed, he said.

Swinburne will also address the state of SIU-C athletics, including the fund-raising drive for the Athletics Department.

About 200 student volunteers will be needed for the drive, Jean Paratore, assistant to the vice president for student affairs, said, to reach the $114,000 goal set for the November fund drive.

Another issue Swinburne said he would mention is the possibility of a $2 fee for maintaining the Athletics Departments' facilities and equipment.

Swinburne said he is not proposing the fee, but he will "come back with it" later. He said SIU-C needs to have a plan for maintaining its athletics facilities and equipment.

One topic which will not be covered is the criteria Swinburne will use to decide whether to merge the women's and men's athletic departments, because he has not determined them yet, Paratore said.

Paratore says Swinburne is satisfied with having Lew Hartzog as acting athletics director and he will not rush into the merger decision.

Following the meeting, Charlotte West, director of Women's Athletics, will answer questions from the GSC about a $125,152 surplus in the Women's Athletics department last year.

Debbie Brown, GSC president, said the GSC wants to know what caused the surplus, if it was a result of women athletes doing without basic needs for their sports, how the surplus will be spent, and if the surplus will threaten the promised 50-50 split in fee money between men's and women's athletics.

Other business at the separate GSC meeting will include electing members to the council's executive committee.

During the USO's separate meeting, new student senators will be seated and an ad hoc committee to study the upcoming Halloween celebration will be formed. The committee will be comprised of 10 people, five from the USO and five from the club.

"I think we're going to have a real efficient, pro-active Senate with great debates. The rule of impeachment for senators who miss more than three meetings will be strictly enforced this year," Greg Larson, USO vice president and chairman of the Student Senate, said.

Gus says don't be surprised if one day they slap on a Walking Fee or a Sunshine Fee or even a Breathing Fee—or maybe all of them.

Iranians mourn deaths of two top officials

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Iranian crowds mixed sobs of mourning with chants of "Death to America!" Monday as the nation buried its president and prime minister as martyrs cut down in Sunday's assassination bombing.

President Mohammad Ali Rajai, who held the office for 27 days before his death, and Prime Minister Mohammad Javad Bahonar, in office for just 25 days, were buried in Tehran's Behesht Zahra Cemetery in services that drew a crowd reported numbering 25 million people.

In a speech broadcast by Tehran Radio, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini promised new elections to replace the "martyrs," vowing their deaths would not alter the course of the Islamic fundamentalist revolution that he leads.

It was the second time in two months that Khomeini's top Islamic leadership had been wiped out in blasts and fire.

On June 28, an explosion at the headquarters of the ruling Islamic Revolutionary Party killed Ayatollah Mohammad Hussein Beheshti, considered the second-most powerful figure in Iran after Khomeini, and more than 70 other leaders.

As the funeral procession wound through the streets of Iran, mourners demanded the deaths of ex-President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr and opposition Mujahadeen Khalq leader Massoud Rajavi. Both fled to Paris in a dramatic July 29 escape aboard a commandeered air force plane.

A two-man presidential council which assumed executive powers after the explosion in the prime minister's office formally announced the deaths of Rajai, 46, and Bahonar, 47, at dawn.

A spokesman at Khomeini's office told The Associated Press by phone that the two leaders died in the hospital of burns and smoke inhalation suffered in the fire touched off by the bomb blast. He said five other people were killed and 15 injured in the blast.

Khomeini, the 81-year-old patriarch of the revolution that deposed the late Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, told the nation that "Iran cannot be pushed back by assassination."

Thompson expresses support for Ryan's nomination attempt

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Thompson-Ryan campaign button made its debut Monday with House Speaker George H. Ryan's announcement he will seek the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor — with Gov. James R. Thompson's support.

Although the two must run separately in the GOP primary next year, Thompson's endorsement was expected to discourage other lieutenant governor hopefuls.

There was one immediate political casualty. Former state Rep. James Nowlan, a University of Illinois professor, dropped out of the race. Nowlan said he was disappointed, but respected Thompson's decision.

Nowlan issued a party rallying call to two other leading contenders — state Sens. Prescott Bloom of Peoria and Donald Totten of Hoffman Estates.

Although Totten has not officially declared his candidacy, he said last week he definitely would announce about Sept. 10.

But Monday, Totten appeared to back off his commitment to run.

"I'm in the process of assessing political and financial support. And if that's all there, I would continue to pursue it."

Totten felt his chances had been hurt by a White House decision — apparently prompted by a call last week from Thompson — to stay out of the Illinois lieutenant governor's race.

U.S. Transportation Secretary Drew Lewis subsequently called off a planned appearance at a Totten fundraiser in Chicago.

Totten has run President Reagan's past two campaigns in Illinois, and was counting on White House support.

Lightning kills power for 150,000

DENVER (AP) — A lightning bolt knocked out electrical power Monday to more than 150,000 customers in most of Montana, southern Idaho, northern Wyoming and one Colorado town, a utility spokesman said.

An estimated 150,000 Montana Power Co. customers east of the Continental Divide lost electricity when lightning hit a 349-kilovolt line between Four Corners, N.M., and Pinto, Utah, Montana Power spokesman Russ Cox said.

Court OKs Chicago service tax

CHICAGO (AP) — The city's proposed 1-percent service tax was given the go-ahead Monday by a Circuit Court judge.

The tax, which is designed to help bail out the financially strapped Chicago Transit Authority, was ruled constitutional by Judge Richard Curry.

Several groups, led by the Chicago and Illinois bar associations, had filed suit against the tax, charging that it was illegal.

However, Curry called the tax "a true and pure sales tax and nothing more" rather than a tax on professions as the groups had argued. The ruling lifted an injunction Curry had imposed Aug. 5 preventing the new tax from being collected.

Haig, Africans discuss Namibia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reflecting growing impatience with President Reagan's African policy, a high-level delegation from black African nations called Monday for immediate steps toward independence for Namibia.

However, the delegation carefully avoided any direct criticism of the administration after a meeting of nearly two hours with Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr.

The delegation was led by Robert Ouko, foreign minister of Kenya.

The administration has been trying to avoid antagonizing black African nations on the Namibian issue while also seeking an agreement for independence for the mineral-rich country that will be acceptable to South Africa, which has been dragging its heels on relinquishing control of Namibia.

Critics have said the Reagan

Malaysian air force personnel arrive to begin training at SIU

By David Murphy
Staff Writer

Malaysian air force personnel arrived in Carbondale Sunday to begin aviation technology training. Along with them arrived a $3.4 million training grant to SIU-C from the Malaysian government.

The grant is intended to provide training for technicians, 75 of whom arrived Sunday, to eventually join Malaysia's civilian aviation industry. Hollis Merritt, assistant dean of the School of Technical Careers, said. About 570 Malaysians will receive training during the three years of the program.

"We are very pleased to have been awarded the Malaysian program," Merritt said. "SIU-C was competing with several other American universities for this contract."

The program will also provide funds for SIU-C to enlarge the program it offers to American students, Merritt said, because new equipment and expanded facilities purchased for the project will remain when the Malaysian students leave.

"Each year we have to turn away as many as 100 Illinois students because of enrollment limits imposed by the Federal Aviation Administration," Merritt said.

"The expansion that will result from this program could allow us to enroll more Illinois applicants in the future at no additional cost to taxpayers."

Most of the Malaysians have already completed some technical training, Merritt said they will spend 12 months studying technical English and aviation technology before returning to Malaysia. He said as many as 250 Malaysians will be studying at SIU-C at any one time during the program.

Merritt said SIU-C was chosen for the program because of excellence in its aviation technology program.

"SIU-C offers the best aviation technology program in the U.S. and maybe in the world," he said.

Pollution control system to be installed soon

By John Schrag
Staff Writer

After a month-long delay, the SIU-C physical plant is getting ready to clean up its act.

The final two bids for the plant's $5 million pollution control system were accepted Friday in Springfield. Work on the project is expected to be underway within four to six weeks.

A $2.6 million general contract was awarded to Paragon

Energy Corp. of Kansas City, Mo., and a $295,000 electrical contract was given to Sullivan Electric Inc. of Marion. Kenneth Coats, project manager for the Illinois Capital Development Board, which oversees all state-funded projects, said both companies were the "lowest responsible bidders."

Plans for the plant's smokestack improvements were submitted in 1977, after

NEURITIS---MEANS PAIN

BY DR. ROY S. WHITE
Doctor of Chiropractic

There is no need to tell neuritis sufferers that they have a very painful condition—they know it. Sudden sharp pain in the shoulders persisting for several hours, recurring with increased intensity and frequency is a usual pattern.

Home remedies and over-the-counter balms and lotions are usually the first remedies. They are generally ineffectual. Prescription pain-killers give a false sense of security because they deaden the pain—temporarily.

The intensity of the pain is increased because the nerve itself is inflamed. Usually the nerve is a message carrier saying some other body part is "hurting"—now the nerve itself is the injured party.

What is the solution? Remove the cause. When a nerve malfunctions, always look to the spine for the primary cause of malfunction. Misaligned vertebrae in the upper back or neck may be putting pressure on the nerve, causing the malfunction farther "downstream." Swollen and inflamed nerves cause constant pain.

Gently realigning the misaligned vertebra will remove the nerve pressure and allow the natural healing power of the body to flow, reducing inflammation and swelling. If you're suffering from pain, contact a nerve specialist, contact a Chiropractor.

Were firings necessary?

The Daily Egyptian of Monday, Aug. 24, carried a story concerning the imminent retirement of J.K. Leasure. The writer of the story stated, in particular, that Leasure's "term as vice president was marked by the firing of 104 faculty members in 1973, which was caused by cuts in SIU-C's budget."

Some remarks concerning that alleged cause seem in order. As we have had occasion to point out here before, the most important component of "the 104" were the 28 tenured faculty included among them. And so the real question was—and still is—did there exist a financial exigency of such severity that 28 tenured people had to be sacked? We still await an objective determination of the answer to that question.

However, we are not without a few partial answers. There is, for example, the Kennedy report on the external review of the doctoral program in Molecular Science, prepared in Fall 1975 by examiner George C. Kennedy, professor of geology and geochemistry at UCLA.

In commenting on the physicists among the 28, Professor Kennedy reports on his discussions with several people in the SIU-C central administration. One of them expressed the view (as reported by Kennedy) "that the financial emergency was greatly exaggerated and there was no urgent money-saving need to fire five able physicists, many with tenure, from the staff."

Indeed, those of us who were, at the time, closely involved with the Molecular Science program had no reason whatsoever to believe that our colleagues were being sacked merely for financial reasons.—Herbert H. Snyder, Professor of Mathematics.

Greeks challenged to action

At the close of the 1980-81 school year, I had the pleasure of attending the Inter-Greek Council Annual Banquet. During the banquet, the words "Greek is the word" rang out throughout the audience. Greeks of all colors held hands as Brown Sugar sang their rendition of "Reach Out and Touch Somebody's Hand." It was indeed a memorable as well as an emotional occasion.

As I reflect on that night, I find myself looking at the present and into the future. What will the '80s hold in store for us who so proudly wear our colors of distinction? What will we do during the next decade to make this world a better place to live?

Member organizations of the Pan-Hellenic Council, you are charged with specific responsibilities to your organizations as well as to the University. You must not linger in rivalry, but rather unity under the umbrella of the Greek system.

I challenge each Greek letter organization to remember the vows you so reverently took. I challenge you to reflect on your past, while planning for your future in an effort to insure that your present will be the best it can be. Finally, I challenge you to aim for the moon and you will surely land among the stars.—Harriet E. Wilson, graduate advisor, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority

O'Connor controversy exposes myopic outlook of New Right

Christopher Kade

Editorial Page Editor

Today begins the appearance in this column of a periodic commentary which I have entitled (perhaps a little pompously), "Conservative Watch."

My premise in creating this column is that the editorial pages of college newspapers are still, by and large, forums for moderate-to-liberal views and that we would be remiss if we did not occasionally acknowledge that we are often swimming against the tide.

My intention is neither to berate nor praise the conservative viewpoint, but, hopefully, to offer a non-ideological perspective on some very ideological issues.

CONSERVATIVE SUPPORTERS of Ronald Reagan, especially those involved with the "right-to-life" movement, have every right to be angry at the appointment of Sandra Day O'Connor to fill the vacancy in the Supreme Court.

But their strident opposition to the appointment displays qualities of intolerance and shortsightedness that can only do harm to the overall "revolution" they are championing.

Their reasons for feeling betrayed are not at all hard to understand. Beyond her advocacy of the Equal Rights Amendment, which is certainly a conservative no-no, there is the all-important issue of abortion.

Opposition to abortion was implicitly stated in the GOP platform under which candidate Reagan ran for office and he continually committed himself to the proposition that judicial appointees should have a "respect for the sanctity of innocent human life."

AND YET, IN HIS first opportunity for a major judicial appointment, he selected a woman who consistently took pro-abortion stands during her years as an Arizona state legislator. I can begin to imagine the consternation felt by many conservative spokesmen when that record became known.

In 1970, she voted to send an abortion-on-demand bill to the Senate floor. In 1973, she sponsored a "family planning" bill that would have permitted minors to have abortions without parental consent. In 1974, she voted against a measure which called upon Congress to prohibit abortion, even though the bill allowed the exception when pregnancy resulted from rape, incest or other criminal action.

Given her record, I can only join with conservatives who scoff at her subsequent protestations that she finds abortion "personally abhorrent." In a world full of doubletalk, we have to judge a person by their actions, not their words.

THE SAME STANDARD should, of course, be applied to Ronald Reagan and his decision to select O'Connor in defiance of the platform guidelines; but, being true believers, the conservative press is quite eager to absolve Reagan of direct complicity in this matter.

As columnist Patrick

Buchanan said recently, it was "the White House boys" (meaning the Reagan staffers) who "compromised the vital interests of the president's most ardent followers to score brownie points with their political enemies."

That statement goes along way towards explaining what is most disturbing about the New Right: their intolerance of anything resembling political opposition—in tolerance which sometimes borders on paranoia—and the consequent assumption that opposition exists to be ruthlessly shut out, rather than negotiated with.

THE NEW RIGHT displays, at times, an uncomfortable ignorance of something that is germane to the American political scene: compromise and conciliation. It is the grease on the political skids, and Reagan has shown in his selection of O'Connor that he knows how to use it to best advantage.

I'd like to think that, in doing so, Reagan was not so much selling out his "ardent followers" as he was attempting to win the support of those who feared his motives and actions. It is an ancient political ploy and perhaps a little cynical, but Reagan had much to gain from nominating a woman who was not, in turn, a strictly dogmatic constructionist in her legal thinking.

But rather than compromise on the one issue for the good of the overall objectives, the neo-conservatives want all or nothing at all. As American history shows time and time again, those who want so badly to shut out the opposition usually end up with the latter.

THE HIGH COST OF A COLLEGE EDUCATION JUST WENT DOWN A FEW DEGREES.

ANNOUNCING THREE NEW ARMY NATIONAL GUARD PROGRAMS THAT CAN HELP YOU PAY FOR COLLEGE.

If you're like many college students, the closer you get to your degree, the deeper you get into debt. But, you don't have to get in over your head. Not when you join the Army National Guard.

Because now, the Guard has three new programs to help you pay for college: the College Loan Repayment Program; the Educational Assistance Program, and the Enlistment Bonus Program. And you don't have to wait for graduation to take advantage of them. You could join the Guard right now.

You see, the Army National Guard is part-time. After your initial training, it takes just two days a month and two weeks of annual training a year to serve. So there's plenty of time left for your studies. And you get paid for every hour you put into the Guard, so you'll have extra cash for books, lab fees, and all those other little expenses that come up.

Of course, there's more to the Guard than money. It's a chance to do something good for your country, as well as for people right in your own community. The Guard can give you more options in your life—and more control over your financial future.

If that sounds like where you want to be, see your financial aid officer, contact your local Army National Guard recruiter, or use the toll-free number below for complete details on how the Guard can help you pay for college. And help in a lot of other ways, too. But hurry! These special programs for college students are available for a limited time only.

Two famed groups play Thursday at DuQuoin

The famous sixties rock group Paul Revere and the Raiders will appear at the Du Quoin State Fair Grandstand at 6 and 9 p.m. Thursday, accompanied by Jan and Dean, another popular group from the fifties and sixties.

Revere and the Raiders were one of the most popular rock groups in the late sixties, but in the early seventies their top-40 popularity waned and Revere retired in 1974.

Paul Revere and the Raiders will share the bill with Jan and Dean, the famous surf music pioneers whose careers were interrupted by an automobile accident in 1966 in which Jan was seriously injured. That accident was the subject of the story that appeared in Rolling Stone magazine—"Dead Man's Curve."

Art grad student has environmental show Wednesday

Sandy Johnson, graduate student in art, will display an environmental art work on the lawn Wednesday between Pulliam Hall and Woody Hall.

The "Clothesline Palette" will consist of 300 yards of brightly colored hand-dyed satin which will hang from a clothesline in a zigzag line between the two buildings. The piece will be on display from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., weather permitting.

Judge honors widow's wish, turns off life-support systems

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — A judge honored Golda Yoder's last wish Monday by ordering life-support systems disconnected from the terminally ill woman now that her doctor has determined she is "brain dead."

The case of the 76-year-old widow had divided her family and placed Cabell County Circuit Judge D.B. Daugherty on the spot last week when she asked to be disconnected from the machines keeping her alive. Doctors said she is dying of incurable cirrhosis of the liver.

But during a court hearing Monday, Mrs. Yoder's doctor, Donald Klineštiver, received a message from the hospital that the woman's condition had deteriorated rapidly. He passed a note to Daugherty which said: "Pupils are dilated and fixed. This indicates brain death."

Six of Mrs. Yoder's seven children had asked Daugherty to reject their mother's request and to order continued use of the life-support equipment. A daughter, Mary Fisher, had been the only one who supported her mother's plea to be allowed to die on her own terms.

Daugherty said that once the objecting children were informed of their mother's deteriorating condition, they agreed to withdraw their petition for a permanent injunction barring the hospital from disconnecting her.

"It was a matter of them giving in and going along," the judge said.

He said he was ordering "that Mrs. Yoder be taken off the machines and that the duty of the attending physicians should be simply to try and keep the patient as comfortable as possible."

Daugherty, who visited Mrs. Yoder in the hospital last Monday, said she was lucid at the time and that he had no doubts about her mental competence.

However, he told doctors to continue her treatment until he issued his ruling.

After rendering his decision, Daugherty said he probably was more influenced by his visit with the woman than by the legal ramifications of her request to die, which she made in writing.

Mrs. Yoder began lapsing in and out of consciousness shortly after the judge's visit last week, according to Mrs. Fisher, who criticized the delay.

"I can't understand why my brothers and sisters wouldn't honor our mother's wishes," she said Friday. "In my opinion, they're just thinking of how they feel, and not how my mother feels."

Last week Daugherty said he saw little difference between granting Mrs. Yoder's request and allowing her to commit suicide.

"She just wants someone to help her do it," he said.

Little Grassy fish hatchery fete to feature Thompson

Gov. James R. Thompson is scheduled to speak at the dedication of the renovated Little Grassy Fish Hatchery, 20 miles southeast of Carbondale, at 1 p.m. Friday.

Others taking part will be David Kenney, a former SIU-C political science professor who is director of the Department of Conservation; Donald Glickman, executive director of the state Capital Development Board; and Glenn Harper, associate director of the DOC's Natural Resources Bureau.

Dedication of the Little Grassy Fish Hatchery completes the first part of the state's efforts to modernize the Illinois fish hatchery system.

The $5 million project at Little Grassy will give the hatchery the capability of producing 3 million channel catfish and nearly 3 million reed sunfish annually.

The Southern Illinois facility had been closed for the past two years while construction workers added 9,000 square feet to the existing hatchery building, including office and laboratory space, start tank and egg wash and incubation facilities, and a visitors' educational display area.

Other additions include 18 concrete raceways, subdivision of the existing ponds, construction of four wastewater treatment ponds, installation of new water intake lines from Little Grassy Lake and renovation of the water filtration system.

The dedication ceremonies will be open to the public, and music will be provided by the Carterville High School band. A tour of the new hatchery will be given after a ribbon cutting ceremony. Refreshments will be served in the visitors' area.

The hatchery will be open to the public with regular visiting hours after Jan. 1, 1982.

Harrell to run for third term

Jackson County Clerk and Recorder Robert Harrell announced Monday that he will seek re-election for his third term of office in 1982.

Harrell, a Democrat from Carbondale, has served as County Clerk since June of 1974. He was re-elected in 1978.

Before entering politics, the 51-year-old Harrell was an assistant professor of English at SIU-C. Previously, he had taught English at the University of Texas for about five years.

"I find the job is very challenging," said Harrell. "Many new duties have been put on the office of clerk and recorder and I feel that my experience and past record have provided me with the means to meet that challenge."

Gloster named new director of Computing Affairs Office

Arthur S. Gloster II has been named director of SIU-C's Office of Computing Affairs after a national search. The appointment was announced Aug. 28 by SIU-C president Albert Somit.

Gloster, now director of computing at the University of Oregon will replace acting director George Flummer early in October. The previous director, Barry Bateman, left SIU-C to take a post at the University of Maryland in April of this year. Gloster graduated in 1974 from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University with an Ed.D. degree. He holds specialist and master's degrees from the University of Tennessee and a bachelor's degree in industrial engineering from the University of Chattanooga. He has served as chairman of the Chattanooga Technical Institute data processing department and as an administrative officer in the Tennessee Valley Authority's transportation branch.

As SIU-C's director of computing affairs, Gloster will oversee operation of the campus computer network.

The College Republicans Club will hold its first meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Pinch Penny Pub. The club is re-forming after the last club at SIU-C disbanded two years ago. More information is available through Tom Wood at 549-4039.

Graduate student affair draws 200

A reception Sunday to welcome graduate students to SIU-C was a "reasonable success, if not an absolute howling success," John Jackson, acting dean of the Graduate School, said.

This was the first year a reception had been held to acquaint graduate students with the campus, Jackson said. Last year, an orientation seminar in the Morris Library Auditorium was not well attended, so the format was changed to an informal reception, he said.

This year's reception drew about 200 graduate students, most of whom were new to campus, Jackson said.

The reception featured welcoming speeches by President Albert Somit, Bruce Swinburne, vice president for student affairs, and John Guyon, vice president for academic affairs and research.

Somit told the graduate students he encourages their contributions to University programs and decisions. He urged the graduate students to seek out the administration's help if they have problems.

Swinburne and Guyon explained programs the University offers for graduate students.

Siamese twins
 may be released from hospital soon

CHICAGO (AP) — Siamese twins, born May 5 in Danville, could be released from a Chicago hospital within two weeks, according to a medical report prepared by the doctor in charge of their care.

Dr. Carl Hunt of Children's Memorial Hospital said twin Scott requires oxygen and intravenous feeding, while twin Jeff requires no special medical care.

The parents want the twins returned to them, and Don Schlosser of the Department of Children and Family Services said that will be decided after another custody hearing.

Contempt order issued against school officials

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two top Cleveland school officials were taken into custody Monday by U.S. marshals after a federal judge found them in contempt of his 1978 desegregation orders.

Judge Frank J. Battisti issued a contempt order against School Board President John E. Gallagher, Jr. and Paul Jacobian, the schools' treasurer, who were led from the courtroom in handcuffs.

Shortly after, the school board's lawyer filed an appeal in the 6th Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals. Attorney George Meisel had asked the judge to hold off the contempt order, but Battisti refused.

Battisti ordered that Gallagher and Jacobian be held in the custody of the U.S. attorney, "until they comply" with $61,000 in raises, contract extensions and promotions for desegregation employees.

The raises, extensions and promotions had been ordered by a court-appointed desegregation administrator, Donald R. Waldrip.

Andrea Doria search over, safe recovered

NEW YORK (AP) — Divers ended their month-long search through the Andrea Doria's murky corpse Monday and prepared to weigh anchor with a locked safe and an answer to the liner's "last mystery."

The divers found the hole that the Stockholm opened in the Andrea Doria's side 25 years ago, expedition leader Peter Gimbel said Sunday. It was so large and so deep, he said, that it ended speculation about whether a missing watertight door caused the ship to sink so quickly.

The expedition made what spokesman Lillian Pickard termed "a very, very tough decision" to abandon the search for the purser's safe in the first-class lounge.

Instead, she said, divers spent Monday on final filming for a documentary on the expedition. The support vessel Sea Level 11 was to hoist anchor Tuesday and arrive back in Montauk, N.Y., Wednesday.

Divers hauled the Banco di Roma's first-class safe to the surface last week. Gimbel has said it will be cut open on live television at the end of the broadcast of his documentary on the expedition.

But an author, who interviewed about 100 of the ship's passengers for his 1979 book on the Andrea Doria's demise, said Monday he doubts anything of great value will be found in the safe.

The Andrea Doria was not the Titanic," William Hoffer, author of "Saved," said in a telephone interview from his home in northern Virginia. "There were some rich people on board, but most of them were average ones."

Hoffer said no one he interviewed reported leaving anything of value in the safes. Several withdrew their valuables, anticipating an early arrival in New York. "They were ready to leave the ship," he said.

Actress Ruth Roman, one of the best known passengers, said when contacted last month at her home in southern California that she had removed her jewels from the safe the night of the collision.

"I lost everything," she said, "but it's not in that safe."

The real question, he said, was not why the ship sank so quickly, but why it listed so quickly after being hit. The Andrea Doria sank about 13 hours after the crash.

The reason for the ship's abrupt list, he said, was that she had been riding high in the water. To save time and money, her captain had not ordered her water and fuel tanks filled with seawater for ballast. If they had been, the ship would have been riding lower and steadier in the water, he said.

Filling the tanks "was one of those things that most of the captains didn't do. They winked at the regulations, just as they used to speed through fog."

He said the Doria's sinking was not much of a mystery. "If it was a lesser collision, one watertight compartment might have made a difference. But as it was, a 50-foot-wide hull (the Stockholm's) smashed into a juncture of two compartments. The real problem was the lack of ballast."

CLEAN from Page 3

The Environmental Protection Agency declared the plant one of Illinois' top 50 polluters. At medium loads, the smokestack emitted two to three times the EPA standard of particulate emissions.

Bids for general construction work were originally taken in July, but were thrown out after Paragon, the lowest bidder also at that time, discovered an $850,000 error in the bid it submitted.

The CDB decided to delay the re-opening of the general contract bids because remaining bids were higher than expected, Coats said. He said the project's engineers administration's go-slow approach on the issue is one reason more progress toward Namibian independence has not been made.

Chester Crocker, an assistant secretary of state for African affairs, said in a speech Saturday that in its search for a solution, "The Reagan administration has no intention of destabilizing South Africa in order to curry favor elsewhere."

South Africa has been running Namibia like a colony even though the United Nations Security Council called for its independence in a 1978 resolution, known as resolution 435.

While the United States supports the 1978 U.N. resolution, Crocker said made some minor changes in the plans, lowering costs and allowing the original bidders to submit new bids last week.

Coats said a meeting will be held Thursday for the contractors to meet and make construction plans.

"We're not wasting any time," Coats said. "It's now up to the contractors to get going and do whatever they have to get things moving."

The original target date for the project's completion was set for fall 1982, but the bidding delay may cause further setbacks, according to Thomas Ingram, SIU-C utilities superintendent.

Saturday it needs to be "supplemented by additional measures aimed at reassuring all Namibian parties of fair treatment" prior to the elections wanted by the United Nations.

Catholic diocese is guardian of boy

Permanent guardianship of Alberic Azevedo, whose mother was found murdered outside Carbondale in April, was awarded to the Belleville diocese of the Catholic Social Services Monday.

Jackson County Circuit Judge Bill C. Jen said for now it is best for the 14-year-old if he does not reside with his father and three siblings in Murphysboro.

"We have a more varied attack this season."

The other returning starters are Bonnie Norrenberns, Mary Maxwell, Barbara Clark, Erin Sartain and Jeanne Mondrella. All served as key members of the offensive attack last season. Norrenberns, a 5-10 junior middle blocker from Mascoutah, put on a strong performance in the latter part of the 1980 season. Maxwell is a sophomore outside hitter from Carbondale.

Clark, a junior, is a setter from Waukegan and is the currently the team's No. 1 setter. Hunter said Sartain is a sophomore outside hitter from Springfield. Mondrella is a defensive specialist from Joliet. Shannon Fitzpatrick, a transfer student from Southwest Texas State, will also figure into the offensive attack, although Hunter said she is FREY said "I have absolutely nothing. I thank you for having me here. I like the organization. I have nothing to say now, or will I have in the future, except admiration for the Royals," related Burke, adding: "He is a true gentleman."

Burke, who is undergoing chemotherapy treatment for cancer of the lymph glands, said he began to seriously consider changing managers after the Royals lost two out of three here last week to Toronto.

"I came to the conclusion we would not improve this year," Burke said.

Howser compiled a 103-59 record with the Yankees last season before the Royals' playoff sweep led to his dismissal by Yankee owner George Steinbrenner.

Asked what is the most important element in managing, Howser said, with a wry grin "Winning—but sometimes that's not enough."

Howser and Burke said he was reluctant to take the job with a month to go in the season.

"I think any manager would like to take his team through spring training and get to know it better," Howser said. "As soon as I put my uniform on I'll feel better."

Howser had one year remaining on his contract to manage the Yankees and had another year to go on his Yankee contract as a scout for Steinbrenner's organization.

currently hobbled by a foot injury. Fitzpatrick possesses a quick arm and good jumping skills, Hunter said.

Roni Jankowski, a 6-0 outside hitter who transferred from Danville Community College, will aide the team with her height, but she lacks experience at a high caliber level. Hunter said she will acquire that experience this season.

The recruits are Chris Boyd, Penny West, Jill Broker and Lisa Enoch.

Boyd is a 5-11 middle hitter from Granite City, where she starred in several sports. Her alma mater, Granite City South High School, is also that of SIUC Assistant Coach Robin Deterding, a former Saluki standout. West is a 6-0 outside hitter from Shelbyville. The duo will backup the middle hitting and outside hitting positions.

A pair of Southern Illinois players round out the recruits. Jill Broker, of Carbondale, will contribute in the setting and passing departments, while Lisa Enoch, of Anna-Jonesboro, will help out at the outside hitter position, Hunter said. Enoch is now sidelined with a ruptured muscle in her leg.

VonJouanne a winner at swim meet in Japan

By Jim Cagle
Staff Writer

SIU-C swimming standout Roger VonJouanne took gold medals in both the 200- and 400-meter individual medley events at the Fina Cup Invitational in Tokyo's Olympic Pool this past weekend.

VonJouanne, who was invited to compete in the International Federation of Swimming competition by virtue of his respective fifth and sixth place finishes in the 400- and 200-IM at the United States Swimming Championships in Milwaukee three weeks ago, turned in two personal best times in winning the events. He swam a 2:06.08 in the 200 and a 4:29.66 in the 400.

Prior to the meet, VonJouanne said that the Olympic facilities were very good and that he expected many fast times at the meet. Both of his times were Saluki records. He shaved .62 seconds off the 200 record and .34 seconds off the 400 record, both of which he set at the nationals in Milwaukee.

"When you can send a fifth place finisher to an international meet and have him win, it just goes to show how strong American swimming really is," swim Coach Bob Steele said.

Steele said the Fina Cup competition includes six of the top swimming countries in the world: Japan, China, the Soviet Union, Australia,

Roger VonJouanne

Canada and the United States.

VonJouanne is now the third Saluki tanker to win a gold medal in international competition. Jorge Delgado took first place in the 200-meter freestyle at the Pan-American Games in 1971 and 1975, and Pat Miles took a gold in the 1500-meter freestyle at the 1971 Pan-Am games.

"It's good to hear that he swam faster over there than he did at the nationals because he was better rested," Steele said. "I felt that for the past three years he never rested long enough for major competitions."

VonJouanne's next big meet will be in Columbia in mid-October, if he can handle another week away from school, Steele said.

Volleyball squad may challenge perennial power Northwestern

By Michelle Schwent
Sports Editor

SIU-C will field a taller and more versatile volleyball team this season which will make it one of the best teams in the state, according to Coach Debbie Hunter.

Hunter figures Northwestern will continue to dominate the teams within the state, but should be pressed by the Salukis, Illinois and Illinois State. The reason for Hunter's expectations is the combination of the return of five veteran players plus the addition of several bright recruits. The incoming freshmen are particularly talented athletes, Hunter said.

"This is the strongest group we have ever had coming in," Hunter said. "They are really good athletes—most of them are multisport athletes who haven't concentrated solely on volleyball up until now."

The Salukis had an 18-25 record last season, placed fourth out of eight teams in the state tournament and received a bid to the regional tournament in Wisconsin, in which they lost two consecutive matches.

The team was plagued by injuries at the key middle hitting position as three middle hitters were felled by injuries at about the same time. That problem may have been solved with the addition of recruits and a transfer student.

Returning to the team will be a nucleus of five starting players.

native, was selected to the 1980 all-state team despite being hampered throughout the season by a broken finger. She also played for the Midwest team, which captured the silver medal at the National Sports Festival held in July at Syracuse, N.Y. Selection to that team makes Locke one of the nation's top 40 volleyball players.

Locke was utilized as the team's main offensive weapon last season, but her role will be expanded this season to include setting. She is no stranger to that position, because she functioned as a setter her rookie season.

"We had to rely on her last year because she was by far our best attacker," Hunter said.

Royals' manager fired

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Dick Howser, whose New York Yankees lost three straight games to the Kansas City Royals in the American League playoffs last year, Monday was named to replace fired Royals skipper Jim Frey.

Howser, 45, was given a three-year contract, the longest any Kansas City manager has ever received.

He takes over immediately a club that lost to the Philadelphia Phillies in the 1980 World Series, four games to two, but has faltered badly this season.

Before the baseball strike, the Royals were 10 games under 500 and 12 games behind Western Division leader Oakland. The Royals are 10-10 in baseball's "second season."

After three games here against Milwaukee, the Royals will host Howser's old club, the Yankees, for four games beginning Thursday night.

Frey managed the Royals only one full season. General Manager Joe Burke said Frey was "stunned" when told he was being fired Monday.

"I talked for no more than five minutes," Burke said. "He said 'Well, that's it. I said, 'Do you have anything to say.' He
