President Delyte W. Morris will be the principal speaker April 10 at an Area Analysis Workshop, sponsored by the Mississippi Valley Investigation and the SIU Geography Department.

The workshop will be in the University Center ballroom from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Morris will speak on "Development of an Area Services Program in a University as an Aid to Area Analysis."

Other speakers will be Charles Colby, MVI director; T.J. Dennis Fair, visiting professor in geography; Frank Kirk, regional director of the state Board of Economic Development; and William Lewis, director of the SIU fish laboratory.

Robert Merz, adjunct professor, U.S. Agriculture Department, Forestry Service; and Victor Roterus of Washington, economic adviser to the administrator of the Area Redevelopment Administration, will also speak.

Rights Rally Set At Center Today

A Civil Rights rally sponsored by the Student Non-violent Freedom Committee, will begin at 2 p.m. today on the University Center patio.

The purpose of the rally is to make students aware of the civil rights legislation before the Senate, and to call attention to the filibuster.

Richard Childers, of the Government Department, will discuss the legal aspects of the civil rights bill and William Simon, professor of sociology, will discuss its social aspects at the program, scheduled to last about 45 minutes.

The SIU Freedom Singers will perform and then lead the spectators in freedom songs of the civil rights movement.

A silent march to the Post Office will follow the rally. Students in the march will mail letters and postcards to their senators urging passage of civil rights legislation.

Porgy and Bess Singing Trio Highlight Today's Convocation

Appeared at Carnegie Hall, Kennedy's Birthday Party

A vocal trio, The Porgy and Bess Singers, will appear in today's convocation programs at Shryock Auditorium at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. The group features Avon Long, Lucia Hawkins and Levern Hutcherson, with Kelley Wyatt at the piano. Long was chosen by the late George Gershwin to play the role of "Sportin' Life" in the original production of Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess."

Hutcherson played the role of "Joe" in the original Broadway production of "Carmen Jones."

Last May, the group performed at Carnegie Hall.

City Council OKs Fund Drive for Crippled Children

The City Council of Carbondale, at its regular meeting Tuesday night, voted to let Alpha Phi Omega, SIU service fraternity, solicit funds downtown for the Crippled Children's Association.

The fraternity will collect money in buckets at the intersection of Illinois and Main from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

Mayor D. Blaney Miller, presiding officer, announced the appointment of Ken Miller, executive director of the SIU Foundation, John Gardner, editor of the Southern Illinoisan, and Tom Langdon, a Carbondale printer, member of the park board, and the elementary school board, to the citizen's advisory committee. The committee is concerned with the urban renewal program.

At the close of the meeting, Jessie Fly, retiring head water operator, was presented with a watch in appreciation of his 29 years with the Water Department. Ken Cowan is the new head operator.

Popular Short Cut Now Gone Because of Construction Work

A popular short cut to Lake-on-the-Campus has been cut up by construction work on the new Technology Buildings.

The loss of this route is one of the principal effects of the construction, according to William C. Bleyer, assistant coordinator of activities.

He said a surfaced path partially in the wooded area between the construction site and Thompson Point has been available for some time, but it has been used little in the past.

However, a sign will be erected within a few days to mark this path and its direction to the boat house and beach area, Bleyer said.

In addition, the road between the Power Plant and Technology Buildings construction area remains open for access to the Lake by this route, Bleyer said.

Off-Campus Recreation Offers Slim Choice

First of a series

If all SIU's 12,000-plus students decided to seek their entertainment off campus on any one night an awful lot of them would find that they couldn't spend a dime.

That doesn't mean that entertainment and recreation comes free in Carbondale. On the contrary, it costs and, to make matters worse, there just aren't enough recreation facilities to go around.

Take away official University activities and the pickings are pretty slim.

The largest number of students can be accommodated by the Varsity Theatre, Carbondale's only movie house. And then only 1,700 can get in at any one time.

Tony Luckenbach, manager, says the theater averages about four showings a day.

"We could handle a little over 4,000 people a day, but I can assure you we never have had that kind of demand," Luckenbach said.

In addition to its regular program, the Varsity offers foreign films and so-called "art" films at its late show programs on Fridays and Saturdays. They provide a major source of entertainment for students who are without cars but want to "go out" for the evening.

Students with cars also have their choice of the nearby Waring Drive-In, on old Route 13, the Egyptian Drive-In, near Herrin, as well as the theaters in downtown Murphysboro and Marion.

Just recently a local theatrical group opened a small cabaret theater across the street from the Varsity. It features avant-garde plays during weekends. Its capacity is limited, however.

A bowling alley near the Murdale Shopping Center is open to students, but its location makes it difficult for most carless students to get there.

The more athletic types--if they can find transportation--could golf at the Crab Orchard Golf Club, a semi-private club that permits students to use the course after obtaining a permit and paying a greens fee.

formed for the late President John F. Kennedy at his birthday ball in Madison Square Garden and in a Carnegie Hall tribute to Gershwin.

The Porgy and Bess Singers have also performed as guest artists with the Miami (Fla.) Pops Orchestra.

Other convocations this term include:

Hobe Morrison, the drama editor of "Variety," on April 9.

Pan American Week Celebration, April 16.

Phillip Hanson, one man show, on April 23.

Russel Curry will appear on April 30.

Convocation in May will begin with the Spring Festival on May 7.

Richard Leibert, the Radio City Music Hall organist, followed by the Honors Day program on May 14.

Activities Day on May 21.

The University Chorus will present a program on May 28.

Convocation credit will also be given at various other programs and concerts.

Cut in Taxes Pads Checks for Faculty

Faculty and staff members found their checks a little fatter yesterday, thanks to the new tax cut.

The tax cut, which became effective March 5, means that 14 per cent of the taxable income is withheld rather than 18 per cent which was the previous figure.

This means a person with an income of $500, with two dependents, will be taxed on $388, with $56 deducted for each dependent. Under the present rate of 14 per cent the figure withheld would amount to $54.32. Under the 18 per cent rate, $69.84 would have been withheld; thus a saving of $15.52, says Charles Monroe, payroll supervisor.

In season, Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge offers boating, swimming and fishing on the lake and picnic and camping sites.

Although figures are not available, it would appear that the leading unofficial recreational-social activity are the drink-and-dance places both in Jackson and Williamson counties. Some remain open until 5 a.m. on weekends. Business is good.

Carbondale's eight bars serve as major "recreation" spots for students over 21 and a few of the braver minors who are willing to risk a fine and possible expulsion from school. Only one of these establishments permits dancing.

More Jobs for Women Called Necessity for Area's Economy

Southern Illinois needs more jobs for women to complete the transition from a coal mine-farming economy to one of manufacturing and services, according to Ray E. Wakeley, visiting research professor at SIU.

His desk is piled high with census reports, industrial surveys, community development summations and his own three statistical reports on the population characteristics of Southern Illinois made during a 1961-62 assignment here. From each report he gleans a piece or two that will fit into the composite picture of living in the lower 31 counties of the state.

The retired professor of rural sociology from Iowa State University sees a rosy future for southern Illinois.

"Manufacturing industries and service occupations are taking up the slack caused by the decline in coal mining and farming," he said. "For example, the professions and technical skills classification has moved from ninth place in 1940 to fifth place in 1960 for males, while the service workers category has moved from fifth place to second place for females. The area is lagging, however, in total number of females employed; 27 per cent of the employable force as compared with the national average of 32 per cent."

Looking to the years ahead, Wakeley sees coal mine employment stabilized at about the present level; a continued decline in farming; an increase in manufacturing and services and a "significant increase" in jobs allied with recreation.

Recreation is a category of employment difficult to measure, the researcher said, and yet undoubtedly has a great potential in southern Illinois. Some workers in the field are classified under forestry; some engaged in serving food and drink under services and others who operate motels, boat docks, and such would be classified as owners or operators.

Kenney, Anderson Will Attend Meeting of Grad School Deans

David T. Kenney, assistant dean of the Graduate School and John O. Anderson, coordinator of Research, will attend the annual meeting of the Midwest Conference of Graduate Deans in Chicago, April 6-7.

The name Midwest Conference of Graduate Deans perhaps does not signify the full scope of the meeting, because it involves personnel from graduate schools from throughout the United States.

The purpose of the meeting is to allow the people working in the graduate schools of American universities to compare and solve problems of their individual schools.

Journalists to Hear National Newsmen

Russell Hurst, executive director of Sigma Delta Chi, and Larry Fanning, executive editor of the Chicago Daily News, will speak at a Sigma Delta Chi banquet on campus Friday night.

Members of the professional journalists' fraternity in southern Illinois, their wives, journalism faculty and undergraduate members at the University will attend.

The banquet, sponsored by the SDX undergraduate chapter at SIU, will be held at Engle's beginning at 6:30 p.m.

DeMolays to Meet At Center Tonight

Members of SIU's Jacque DeMolay Club will meet at 9 p.m. today in Room D, University Center, to make plans for a DeMolay conclave to be held on campus April 19.

Goulart Flees Rio As Revolt Grows

RIO DE JANEIRO--President Joao Goulart fled Rio de Janeiro Wednesday in the face of a growing revolt and Acting War Minister Gen. Moraes Ancora left to negotiate with rebel Gen. Amaury Kruei, a Brazilian army announcement said.

Kruei, the commander of the 2nd Army, based in Sao Paulo, has moved rebel troops and tanks northward toward Rio de Janeiro in a drive to force Goulart to resign or be ousted.

Vowing never to permit Brazil to become another Cuba, rebel leaders picked up snowballing support from state governors and military leaders.

Troops sent out by Goulart to try to turn back rebel columns advancing on Rio de Janeiro joined up with the rebels both north and south of the city, rebel broadcasts reported.

Firing was reported in Rio itself. Some soldiers in famed Copacabana fortress, in the fashionable beach and apartment section of Rio, proclaimed their solidarity with the rebels.

Shortly afterward, firing between the fort and soldiers on a nearby hill broke out, a radio station source reported. He said one officer and nine soldiers were wounded when the rebels took over the fort.

In a series of broadcasts, the rebels claimed seven of Brazil's 27 states had rallied to their banner in a drive to "lift the Red yoke" from Brazil.

His foes charge Goulart is leading the country of 71 million inhabitants to communism by nationalization of private industry, expropriation of land and his demand to legalize the Communist party. Goulart says he is only working to improve the lot of 20 million illiterate peasants.

As Goulart sought to rally forces loyal to him, Gen. Humberto Castello Branco, chief of the army general staff, and two other high commanders declared they had swung to the rebel cause.

Rights Debate May Continue For Months

WASHINGTON -- Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield raised the possibility Wednesday that the Senate may not act before fall on the civil rights bill.

The Montana senator told reporters he fears a southern filibuster may tie up the Senate through the presidential nominating conventions this summer. Republicans meet in San Francisco in July and Democrats in Atlantic City, N.J., in August.

"I wouldn't be surprised if we go through both conventions on this bill," Mansfield said. He added that "if this happens the Senate probably will recess briefly for the party meetings."

"I always anticipate the worst and hope for the best," Mansfield said.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., floor manager for the House-passed civil rights bill, said it is conceivable that the filibuster cannot be broken for months. But he added:

"I am optimistic. I think we can get this bill passed in reasonable time if we just buckle down and work."

The Senate argument was centered for the time being on the bill's voting rights sections which backers called a modest step toward winning the ballot for more Negroes in the south.

Johnson Directs Alaskan Relief

WASHINGTON -- President Johnson got the latest reports on the Alaska earthquake damages Wednesday and estimates from government agencies of what they can do toward rehabilitation.

Edward A. McDermott, disaster relief co-ordinator, called at the White House with Sens. Ernest Gruening and E.L. Bartlett, Alaska Democrats, and Budget Director Kermit Gordon.

McDermott brought along reports from various government agencies on how much cash they have on hand which could be used for relief and reconstruction.

A new multimillion dollar budget request to Congress is expected to be drafted on the basis of these reports.

Florida Negro Pupils Jailed

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. -- Police quickly broke up another march of Negro school children Wednesday and the civil rights fight that sent the mother of the Massachusetts governor to jail raged on in this ancient city.

About 60 Negro pupils, some in their early teens, were stopped by city and county police with trained dogs shortly after they had moved out of the Negro district.

About 40 were loaded into a truck and hauled off to jails already crowded with Negroes and whites arrested earlier after demonstrations which began over the Easter weekend.

The 20 others, guarded by policemen holding the dogs, danced and clapped in the street and sang. Some of the more boisterous were loaded into a car and taken away.

Mrs. Malcolm Peabody, the 72-year-old mother of Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody, declined breakfast today after spending "a good night" in jail for her efforts on the Negroes behalf.

"Everybody has been fine," said the tall, white-haired wife of a retired Episcopal bishop. "I had a good night."

Police began leading white and Negro demonstrators out of the stockade, across the street from the jail, today and escorting them to the County Court for arraignment.

Belgian Physicians on Strike Against State Health Program

BRUSSELS, Belgium--Most of Belgium's 10,000 physicians struck Wednesday against government revisions of the state-controlled, tax-supported health insurance system.

The doctors charged the reform program, aimed to help make the system financially self-supporting, is a step toward fully nationalized medicine.

Negotiations between the medical men and the government, led by Premier Theo Lefevre, were broken off Wednesday.

Dr. Maurice Thone, president of the National Federation of Medical Chamber, told newsmen the doctors "promise to fight until the end to assure the triumph of human rights."

Miller Predicts Victory by GOP

Munch Gets Grant For Island Study

Sociologist Peter A. Munch has received a $29,000 National Science Foundation grant to finance a two-year continuation of his study of the people of Tristan da Cunha. Munch will re-visit the desolate island in the South Atlantic to see how much the Tristans were changed by their "brush with civilization"—a stay in England forced by the eruption of an angry island volcano.

The SIU researcher first visited the remote, time-lost island in 1938 as a member of a Norwegian scientific expedition. He found a peaceful, non-competitive society without formal government of any kind.

The islanders are descendants of a British garrison which first occupied Tristan da Cunha in 1816. Until World War II, they had very little contact with the outside world.

Munch visited the Tristans again in 1962, after they had been evacuated from their barren island by the British Colonial Office. He found great changes among them.

Instead of the communal property and mutual assistance on which their culture had always been based, the Tristans were faced with the necessity of money. They had come face-to-face for the first time with such things as crime and juvenile delinquency, unknown on their native island.

"They'll never be the same," Munch said of the Tristans then. "The children, especially, have learned to expect things they never would have known about on Tristan da Cunha."

After about a year in "exile," the Tristans were returned to their 45-mile square island, located about midway between Africa and South America. Their displacement, Munch said, was a "tragedy of social and cultural upheaval."

A native Norwegian who came to SIU in 1957, Munch received a doctoral degree from the University of Oslo and taught there until the school was closed by Nazi occupation forces in World War II. At that time he was imprisoned in a German concentration camp.

Munch came to the U.S. on a Rockefeller Fellowship in 1946, then returned to Norway for a year to complete a research project. Before coming to Southern, he taught at the University of Wisconsin and St. Olaf (Minn.) College and served as head of the sociology department at the University of North Dakota.

Alpha Zeta, the Agriculture fraternity, will meet in the Agriculture Building Seminar Room at 10 a.m. today. The fraternity, will hold an informal initiation at 10 a.m. April 16.

Those Paper Clips Count Too In $12 Million SIU Inventory

How Much is SIU Worth? This question keeps five full-time and six student employees busy all year.

According to the State Property Control Act, presidents of state-owned universities are responsible for all the property on their campuses. At the Carbondale campus, this amounts to approximately 80 million dollars worth of property.

President Morris can't keep track of all this himself, thus the responsibility has been delegated to the inventory department, under the chief accountant.

Donald Vagner, head of the inventory department says, the real problem is in keeping track of $12,337,861.41 (Feb. 29, 1964) worth of equipment spread over 6,351 acres.

Stationary assets such as buildings are easy to keep track of, but the "equipment" figure consists of such items as desks, chairs, test tubes, and paper clips which are apt to be moved or lost. This figure also includes unpredictable items such as livestock which might die or produce offspring without the slightest regard for IBM cards.

The equipment is kept track of in two phases. First, all property owned by the university has to be tagged, then it must be counted. This counting is done by the department chairmen who turn in monthly figures on their equipment.

Once a year, the chief accountant's office sends a report to the State of Illinois Department of Finance. From there inspectors come to SIU and take a sampling of about one-third of the inventory to check the accuracy of the report.

When asked about SIU's "movable assets," the trees, W. E. Buffum, chief accountant, looked to the heavens and said thankfully, "We haven't tagged the trees yet."

Tax Cut in Effect

'Fat' Checks Boon To 2,700 Students

The week-long party recently completed in Florida may have been college students celebrating the government's tax cut.

More than 2,700 students in the SIU work program saw their March checks increase in amounts from a few cents to several dollars over their February checks.

Taxes on income were decreased from 18 per cent to 14 per cent.

The cut was reflected in student checks for money earned in February because the checks were dated after the tax cut went into effect March 5. Students receive paychecks on the 15th of each month for work done from the 25th to the 24th.

SIU faculty and staff members noted the effect of the tax cut on their checks April 1.

Charles Monroe, payroll supervisor, said it is difficult to use total figures for payroll and taxes to illustrate the tax cut because the number employed, the number of hours worked each month and the number of dependents claimed vary.

Monroe said some 2,700 student workers were paid $158,830 and were taxed $7,527 in January. They were paid $183,986 and taxed $7,542 in February.

Monroe said $56 is deducted from income for each dependent claimed. The tax paid is figured at the rate of 14 per cent of the remainder.

Taxes on a monthly paycheck of $60 before the tax cut would be 72 cents if one dependent is claimed. The same check after the tax cut would be taxed 56 cents.

A person with a monthly income of $100 claiming one dependent would save $1.76 under the reduced rates.

An income of $1,000 would be taxed $37.76 less each month under the tax cut.

"The savings will be greater next year," Monroe said. He said the new rates were to have been 15 per cent for 1964. Because the cut did not become effective until March, a rate of 14 per cent was declared to compensate.

"Tax rates will be 14 per cent for the full year in 1965," Monroe said.

However, persons in higher income categories will probably owe the government money on income earned in 1964 unless steps are taken, he said.

"Many faculty members are claiming fewer dependents so more money will be withheld each month to compensate," he explained.

Wischner to Give 2 Talks at SIU

JUST OFF CAMPUS

Two Campuses, One University

A recent protest by the All-University Student Council points up one of the difficulties of unified administration of two diverse campuses. The Council is concerned with the possibility that medical benefit and recreation building fees may be assessed at the Edwardsville campus as well as at Carbondale after a referendum among Carbondale students.

SIU has pursued a one-University policy for its Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses since 1959. Entrance procedures are similar, if not identical. General Studies courses are being standardized at both campuses. Last spring students from each campus elected the first All-University Student Council.

Tuition and fees, too, are the same. It is understandable why Edwardsville students went into action when Carbondale students voted in January their approval of proposed medical benefit and recreation building fees. Edwardsville students feared that if the Board approves increases for Carbondale, Edwardsville too may face a fee hike to maintain a uniform tuition and fee structure.

The final decision on raising fees rests not with the student body but with the SIU Board of Trustees. If both fees were approved by the Board at the figures on the Carbondale ballot, Edwardsville students would pay an extra $12 per term in fees on which only Carbondale students had voted. While funds collected at Edwardsville undoubtedly would be used on that campus, they would have been levied without real consideration of the differences between the two campuses and of the needs at Edwardsville.

The one-University concept is an exciting one. Some day improved transportation may make it relatively simple for stimulating instructors to teach at both campuses. Others could share their talents through television instruction. Students could transfer readily between campuses.

The one-University idea, however, does contain some hurdles. Students at Carbondale, at least, tend to forget they are not the entire student body. At present students seem indifferent to the idea. It may be difficult, for instance, to convince an Edwardsville commuter he has more in common with Carbondale dormitory-dwellers than with students at any other Illinois state university.

Because the one-University plan is not easy to translate into action it should be applied with especial concern for the individual circumstances of each case.

Where reasonable differences exist between the two campuses, tailoring the concept to meet these differences would strengthen it. It would minimize resentments that blanket application of the policy would foster.

In this case we believe Edwardsville's request for a differential fee structure is reasonable. The need--for a Medical Center, at least--at Carbondale has been demonstrated. If Edwardsville needs are similar, an inquiry will demonstrate these needs. Students there should be given the opportunity to vote on the question before the Board would pass on any proposed increase.

Paying sensible attention to differences between the two campuses will strengthen the one-University concept. Insistence on uniformity in all respects would weaken it. The Board of Trustees should consider this when making decisions on the proposed medical benefit and recreation building fees.

Art of Persuasion

Students Need More Debates

Regarding Mr. Haugness's letter of March 3 lamenting the debate team's goal of winning rather than representing "truth," I'm afraid my analysis of the debate team's goal is correct. To conclude that debating is not a worthwhile and valid experience within the University's confines is unfair, however.

The criterion for winning a debate is primarily persuasive ability. This in turn is weighted overwhelmingly in favor of logical argument: if a debater represents his case more favorably than his opponent (again predominantly in terms of the valid scientific method approach to logic) he wins. This involves not only clear logical advocacy of his viewpoint, but critical analysis of his opponent's arguments for logical error and misrepresentation of facts.

Remember, the question they debate is not one of clear-cut fact but of advocacy of principle, usually stated to give neither side a logical advantage. One cannot show "Resolved, that the Federal Government should provide educational opportunities to all citizens" to be either true or false. The debater here must bring facts to bear on the question to show the ad-

Buckley's Reputation Rests On More Than Slick Title

Mr. Leonard, in his review of Prof. Edward Cain's They'd Rather Be Right (March 4) says that "Cain writes with verve, clarity and precision (and so in his review) I can do no better than quote him." And, as if to prove the verve, clarity and precision of Cain's style, Mr. Leonard parades quote after quote zealously gleaned from the pages of Cain's book.

For instance, as an illustration of clarity we learn that, to the Conservative, "dropping a kleenex in the park is almost as reprehensible as applying for public welfare." Why "almost"? Why not simply "as reprehensible"? In the interest of clarity? Hardly. If Cain really were interested in clarifying the Conservative's position, he would have forgotten the whole affair of the kleenex. The Conservative has not branded applying for public aid reprehensible. He does not oppose use of Federal or state funds to aid those in need, but rather abuse of those funds. And a glance at welfare policies in this country provides support for the contention that these funds are abused.

"Conservatives...want to take on the Communists in an extra-legal 'rumble,' avoiding all responsible authorities." While Conservatives are taking on the Communists, Liberals are taking on Conservatives. And doing so with much verve, for the Liberal operates on grounds that either: A) There are no Communists, or B) If there are, they present no foreseeable threat. Like the ostrich, the Liberal has buried his head in the sands of his ideology and refused to admit that the primary issue before Western society today is survival.

Unfortunately, Prof. Cain appears to allow his verve all too often to get the better of his senses of clarity and precision, as witness his anxious (and pathetic) attempt to show up William F. Buckley: "If Buckley had written God and Man at Slippery Rock Teachers' College (instead of God and Man at Yale), how many young men would be Right today?"

Indeed! Prof. Cain evidently suffers from the impression that Buckley's sole claim to the hearts of his readers rests precariously on the title of one book. He overlooks the fact that Buckley's popularity stems largely from the fact that his ideas are a powerful laxative working against the intellectual constipation which clogs the bowels of the nation. Because he hits the Liberal community right where it hurts most--in the old clay feet -- he must suffer the slings and arrows of outraged government instructors who write with verve, clarity and precision about him and his movement.

Hail to Champions

Sportswriters can retire that photograph of SIU gymnastics coach Bill Meade, wistfully gazing at a row of second-place trophies. After three consecutive second-place finishes in the NCAA national collegiate gymnastics championships, Coach Meade and his gymnasts have brought to Southern the national championship.

That they did so is a fitting reward for years of practice, and to persistence despite frequent disappointment in the national championships.

It also is a reward for Sauriki gymnastics fans, who pack the old Men's Gymnasium for the team's home appearances. They view the best in this sport, which combines individual performances requiring coordination and strength into a contest with more than a little of the grace of ballet. Next year they will watch all the best performers in the sport at one time when the NCAA championships take place here.

Congratulations are due to the champion Sauriki gymnasts and Coach Bill Meade, along with best wishes for many more successful seasons.

Hope Lies With Woods

Jinxed Track Team Enters Texas Relays

Southern's crippled and jinxed track team--all five members--will travel to Texas Friday and Saturday to compete in the Texas Relays at Austin.

Coach Lew Hartzog, who lost much of the nucleus of his squad to injuries and scholastic difficulties last week, didn't seem overly optimistic about his skeleton crew's chances in Texas, but said, "We won't lie down and die. We still have some great boys going for us."

Hartzog's biggest hope lies with shot putter George Woods. Woods is starting to throw the shot consistently around the 60-foot mark and, according to Hartzog, will probably be Southern's only entry to place in the Texas meet.

Along with Woods, who will also be entered in the discus, will be the sprint medley and mile relay team of Gary Carr, Bob Wheelwright, Bill Lindsay and Herb Walker.

Walker will also be entered in the 440-yard hurdles.

Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma State are expected to be the top teams in the two-day meet, although no team points will be awarded.

Woods, who last week established a meet record of 59 feet, 9 1/2 inches at the Arkansas Relays, will get top-notch competition from Texas A&M's Danny Roberts, the Texas Relays record holder, and Bob Williams of Florida State. Williams was third in the 1963 NCAA meet.

Woods has set new marks in five of his last eight outings and is hoping to better his fifth place finish in last year's Texas meet.

Football Practice Begins Monday

Although the weather sometimes might not indicate it, it's spring. For new SIU football coach, Don Shroyer, and his squad, spring officially begins Monday afternoon when spring drills open.

The daily practice sessions will go until May 9 with the emphasis on "quite a lot of hitting and the teaching of fundamentals," according to Shroyer.

Shroyer will be making his coaching debut at Southern as the former St. Louis Cardinal mentor succeeds Carmen Piccone at the helm of the Salukis.

Shroyer and his assistants Don Cross, Jerry Hart and Frank Sovich, will hold the spring drills on the practice football field. They are contemplating moving fall practice out to Little Grassy come Sept. 1, however.

Brian Turner and Jerry Fendrich, who were expected to be back in action, still won't be ready to go. Turner still has soreness in a foot after an operation in December and Fendrich has come up with a pulled muscle.

The biggest blow to the squad will be the loss of Bill Cornell, one of the top milers in the country, and Jack Peters. Both boys will be out for the season because of leg injuries.

IM Volleyball Entries Invited

Teams for the intramural volleyball tournament may now reserve the gymnasium for practice on week nights for the tourney which will begin April 15.

Rosters and the entry fee of $2 will be due on April 10.

A managers' meeting will be held at 9 p.m. April 13 in the gymnasium.

Saluki Golfers Beat Missouri To Win Third Straight Victory

SIU's hot golf team chalked up its third consecutive victory of the season here Tuesday by defeating the University of Missouri 14 1/2 to 5 1/2 at the Crab Orchard golf course.

Southern's golfers, somewhat hampered by gusty winds, captured four of six individual matches and tied the other two to record their 53rd triumph in the last 55 home matches.

The Salukis' winning effort once again was paced by veteran Gene Carello of West Frankfort. Carello, the talented senior who led the Salukis to victory over Southeast Missouri Monday, fired a three-over-par 75 to defeat his opponent, Tom Havens, by three strokes.

Carello was followed by Saluki Jerry Kirby, the No. 4 man in Coach Lynn Holder's lineup, who shot a 77 to edge Tiger linksman Charles Patterson by two strokes.

The other two Saluki wins were registered by sophomores Al Kruse and Phil Stamison. Kruse downed Mis-sourian Steve Schepper 80-84 while Stamison slipped by Tiger Bill Sutton, 79-83.

- The results:
1. Carello (S) 35-40-75; 2 points. Havens (MU) 40-38-78; 1 point.
 2. Place (S) 43-35-78; 1 1/2 points. Steckfaden (MU) 40-38-78; 1 1/2 points.
 3. Krueger (S) 42-40-82; 1 1/2 points. Landwehr (MU) 41-41-82; 1 1/2 points.
