Col. George H. Blase ... ROTC Commander

Blase Assumes Command Of SIU ROTC

Col. George H. Blase, World War II bomber pilot, assumed command of SIU's Air Force ROTC Dept. last week. He succeeds Lt. Col. E. E. Cockrum who has been reassigned to Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, Colorado.

Col. Blase graduated from the University of Missouri in 1955 and earned his Master's Degree in Social Studies there in 1956. He was commissioned in 1940 and has almost 20 years of service.

Col. Blase, a native of St. Louis, was a command bomber pilot in World War II in the European Theater. Before coming to SIU, Blase was assigned to duty with the Chiefs of Staff at the Pentagon, Washington D. C. After a tour of duty in the British West Indies, Blase saw some duty in Korea and served a tour in Japan before being assigned to the Pentagon.

Faculty is Highbrow

Southern's faculty is certainly highbrow — at least that's what a recent survey of WSRV revealed. Walker Clark, program director of WSRV-FM, originated and conducted the survey. The questionnaire composed of 15 categories of music ranging from Grand Opera to Rock 'n Roll allowed each form of music to be compared adequately.

The survey is the first of a series of studies to be conducted to aid station personnel in determining music policies. Clark felt that the response was a good sampling of the faculty.

Results of the tabulation compared general beliefs that one faculty appreciates classical music, Symphony in particular was marked as a favorite. Of the year, performance tunes light opera, Gilbert and Sullivan, Victor Hugo, etc., scored over Broadway Show Tunes, Marches, and Concert Pop's.

Dirty Land
When considering the jazz forms, Dixie Land jazz was selected above modern jazz and Rock'n Roll.

Perhaps the two surprising results shown were the popularity of pop music and the unpopularity of folk music. In no area of comparison did folk music pull under 20 per cent and in several categories it polled 40 or more.

The highest percentage polled by religious music was 31.6 per cent when compared to Dixie Land and Modern jazz, but the category never pulled less than a 12.2 per cent.

458 Graduate On Friday; Record Number At SIU

Dr. Buzzard Gives Address

The largest summer school commencement in SIU's history will be held in McAndrew Stadium on Friday, August 14, at 7 p. m. 458 students will receive degrees.

Dr. Robert Buzzard will give the graduation address. He will speak on "Things To Remember." Dr. Buzzard is former president of Eastern Illinois University. He is a distinguished lecturer and speaker, and is listed in Who's Who in America and Who's Who in American Education.

Candidates for degrees should assemble in Old Main by 6:15 p. m. to be lined according to school.

First Commencement
A summer commencement was first held August 6, 1948. There were 144 graduates. This year there are 120 master degree candidates from the College of Education.

Approximately 75 students will receive degrees in Liberal Arts; 28 in Business; ten in Industrial Education; ten in Music; six in Communications; Six in Home Economics; and one in Nursing.

Approximately 29 students will receive associate degrees from VTI and 14 will receive certificates in cosmetology. It is estimated that 108 students will be awarded Master's degrees during the ceremonies.

Hiroko Iguchi

Rocks Music Department; Hailed As Great

By Raymas Cummins

Miss Hiroko Iguchi, who came to Southern this summer as an exchange student majoring in music speaks in broken English, but is understood by everyone when she talks the universal language... music.

Miss Iguchi, a 20-year-old Oriental beauty, has rocked the no-to-rocking music department

SOS On Radio

SIU campus police are now able to talk to headquarters by two-way radio. Seven base stations, 22 mobile units, and six portable transmitters and receivers are currently being used by the campus police and physical plant workers.

"The radios which were installed a few months ago have proved very helpful," said campus policeman Luther Deniston, who outlined the use of the radio network.

Deniston said the police use the two-way radio in their headquarters mostly to keep in contact with the police car which carries the squad.

"The radio in police headquarters is also on the same frequency as the ones in many of the physical plant vehicles," he said. "This enables us to get in contact with any of the mobile units when it is necessary."

"Before the radio was installed in the patrol car, it was necessary to wait for the car to check back at headquarters to make contact with it. Now, all we have to do is call them on the transmitter."

Sgt. Leonard Turner, who has been on the campus police force for 11 years, said the radio has cut down on a lot of leg work.

"Like just a while ago, we said Turner, 'A call came in for us to go to the bank, and all I did was step to the radio and call the police car.'"

Turner explained that the call from the bank was only one of the many times that the radio has proved helpful.

Book Return Ends Friday

All textbooks are to be returned to the Textbook Service no later than noon Friday, the service has announced. The Textbook Service is open this week from 1:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. to facilitate return of books.

Students returning books should use the stairwell near the circulation desk in Morris Library, and return the books to the storage area upstairs.

SIU GRADUATE GETS FULLBRIGHT AWARD

Edward Swick of North Lake, a June graduate of Southern, has been awarded a Fulbright scholarship to do graduate work in German and Russian at the University of Hamburg in Germany.

This scholarship is one of approximately 900 grants awarded under the Fulbright Act for graduate study abroad in the academic year 1959-60. The Fulbright scholarships are a part of the International Educational Exchange program of the U. S. Department of State.

Kind And Friendly

When asked what she thought about Americans, Miss Iguchi said "Americans are very kind and friendly."

She explained that although she has only been in the United States a short time she likes it very much.

Miss Iguchi gave her first performance in the States last Tuesday. The recital, held in Morris Library Auditorium, included some of the most difficult work in the repertoire for piano, all of which she has learned since coming to Southern. Among the selections played at the recital were Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in E Major" and Beethoven's "Sonata, opus 109."

Not So Difficult

When asked if he found it difficult to perform before American audiences, Miss Iguchi smiled and said "it was not so difficult."

Miss Iguchi has a busy schedule composed of study and practicing the piano a minimum of five hours a day, but she finds time for other activities. She likes to watch western shows on TV and shopping in Carbondale.

Her father is an outstanding musician in his native country.

Hiroko Iguchi ... Brilliant Pianist

Silver Star Holder

Col. Blase holds the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star and the Air Medal for actions in World War II.

His wife, the former Miss Fernald of Harland, Missouri, is a 1939 graduate of SIU. She is a former West Frankfort teacher. The Blases have five children, four boys and a girl, and live at 1301 S. Chautauque Street.

Active In Scout Council

Cockrum, who has been at SIU since 1956, was active in the Egyptian-Boy Scout Council and led the first group of scouts to win the Council's new Open House Award. The award is given to a 10-mile section of Trail route across the area.

When asked to comment on SIU's Air Force ROTC detachment, Col. Blase said "Southern's Air Force ROTC detachment, it has a splendid record, and we hope to continue it."

Col. Blase said SIU "Southern Illinois University surprised me. My wife, who graduated from SIU in 1933, told me about Southern. It is a growing, active, progressive, modern University. It is most interesting assignment to be associated with. I know it will be one of my most interesting Air Force tours of duty."

Reason For Disturbance

There are two reasons for the disturbance between the studios and the transmitting site, Robbins said. One is that the area to be covered by the channel assigned to Southern by the FCC has a southern boundary for the "A" reception north of Carbondale. These boundaries have been set up to prevent two or more stations operating on the same channel from interfering with each other.

The other reason is that the area to be served by the new television station consists of the southern 31 counties of Illinois. If the tower were in Carbondale, some of the northern counties would not be able to receive a good picture.

Also, the station would be sending a signal over into Missouri and Kentucky and would interfere with stations at Jonesboro, Ark. and Sella, Mo., which are on the same channel.

Actual starting date for televising programs is indefinite, and depends on several factors, such as availability of funds for construction and equipment. Tentative plans call for limited closed circuit programming on campus early in 1960. This closed circuit will be an experiment in the use of television in teaching, and acquiring faculty and students with the operational phases of the system.

Major Schools Show Increase In 1956-59

Data showing changes in credit hours for the summer sessions of the past four years has been given by Dean Raymond H. Bey, head of the Summer School Session. In the period 1956-1959, each of the four major schools, with the exception of the School of Business, have shown an appreciable increase every year.

Tabulating on the basis of credit hours rather than the number of enrolled gives the academic units a different one-two standing. Registration figures show the College of Education leading other units in enrollment with 1,382. In second place is the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences with 543 registered.

However, figuring credit hours, the College of Education has 10,179 and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences has 15,296 for summer, 1959. The chief reason for the difference in unit size is the fact that the College of Education has more graduate students, and as they print out "It takes more time to teach graduate students at this stage of SIU's development."

The summary by academic units listed year for the four largest schools, is as follows:

1956	1957	1958	1959
Education	7,918	8,758	8,845
Liberal Arts & S.	11,385	11,936	14,239
Business	1,917	2,177	2,349
Communications	1,168	1,327	1,416

Woody Hall is a modern residence for $22,000.

SIU Ventures Into TV

SIU's venture into educational television took a step closer to reality with the recent filing of an application for a construction permit with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington.

This permit is only federal permission to set up a television station, however, and the final license will not be issued until after the studios and transmitting equipment are completed and the station is ready to operate.

The permit is for the operation of a television station on VHF Channel 8. According to Buren C. Robbins, director of radio and television at SIU, the studios will be located on campus with the transmitting station about 50 miles north of Carbondale, near Tamaroa. The studios and transmitting station will be linked by a microwave relay.

Walker, Dollens Score; Trio Steals Show

The enthusiastic audiences attending the performances of "Most Happy Fella" left Shryock Auditorium humming the tune "Standing On the Corner," and remembering the wonderful voices that made this show a hit.

The Opera Workshop, in conjunction with the Southern Players, presented the Broadway musical hit Friday and Saturday nights as the final production of this summer season.

New Student Week Plans Announced

Over 2,500 students are expected to arrive on SIU's campus September 18 to begin the 1959 New Student Week.

This is the time freshman and new students are given an opportunity to complete registration procedures and acquaint themselves with college life at SIU.

Zelma Johnson is chairman of the steering committee composed of 36 members, whose job is to coordinate the various activities planned for the week.

A week-long, free movies and mixer are among the events planned for the new students.

Parents Picnic
The annual Parents Picnic is scheduled September 20, at 1:30 p. m. and the Freshman Talent Show will be held at Shryock Auditorium September 25.

A new system of grouping the new students will be initiated this fall and should facilitate many of the routine matters concerning registration and entrance requirements at SIU.

The new students will be grouped according to their advancement in registration. One group will consist of those students who have taken the entrance exams, another group will be those ready for advancement and still another group for those students who have had their admissions and paid their fees.

An additional group will be composed of foreign students, VTI students and handicapped students.

An additional group will be composed of foreign students, VTI students and handicapped students.

Over 160 students have been asked to act as volunteer leaders for the New Student Week.

Walker, Dollens Score; Trio Steals Show

Bob Walker, as Tony, the male lead, projected his rich baritone voice into the hearts of everyone. His characterization was superb. He seemed to be completely involved in the life of Tony. His perfection was outstanding even in his Italian dialect.

In one of the female leads, Deloris Dollens kept the show moving with her cute and flirty ways. Her strong feminine voice was outdone only by her natural co-medienne ways.

Cruzin' Trix
In her petite way, Jane Crusius, as Rosabella, tried hard to project her sweet soft voice over that of Walker. Jane's voice carried quite well to the balcony, but those on the first floor could not understand all the words.

Stealing the show with their rendition of "Abbondanza", the trio composed of Steve Steves, Jim Patterson, and Jack Gire added a professional touch to the entire production. The comic way they presented their acts, especially the prelude to act three, was enjoyed by the audiences.

Bob Green, who played Jerry, did an outstanding job. The perfection of his acting ability, as well as his singing ability, was clearly evident.

Dr. Sherwin Abrams, director of the show, stated that the musical was a success from both the financial and technical points of view. Despite the one long scene change, Dr. Abrams was well pleased with the results of the performance.

Before crowds of nearly 2,000 people, the entire company spent two months of rehearsals. The results were well-received by the audiences.

For the third time since the beginning of the 1958-59 school year, thieves have entered the SIU Photo Service on Harwood Ave. The most recent loss was $26 taken from a cash drawer last week.

Somewhere between 5 p. m. last Tuesday and 8 a. m. Wednesday the thief or thieves entered the building and took the cash from an unlocked cash drawer. An investigation by SIU security officers and three police officers, entering the building without using any force, gained nothing.

The Photo Dept. was looted during new student week last fall when $1,500 worth of camera equipment was stolen. Nine cameras, four lenses, and a viewfinder were taken. Evidence as to the building was gained by forcing several locks, one on a cellar door and another on the equipment room.

On June 26, $75 was taken from a cash drawer that was in a safe in the Photo Service office.

The Editors' Opinions

Note Of Thanks

A lot of people on campus deserve a lot of thanks for making this summer session as successful as it was. These people worked hard and generously to give entertainment and "study-breaks" to students and faculty members.

A note of appreciation goes to the Office of Student Affairs and the Student Union, who sponsored and staged many events and activities.

To the Southern Players and the music department we give our thanks for producing several outstanding productions during the summer term.

The Audio-Visual Aids Department deserves a round "pat on the back" for offering free movies each week to students.

Many departments sponsored picnics and special events for students and faculty. Many educational, informative lectures and demonstrations offered opportunities for learning outside the classrooms during this term.

A special "thanks" and a "well done" goes to Dean Doy for supervising the summer session in a competent, energetic and sincere manner.

Of course, none of the extra-curricular activities would have been successful without the loyal and interested students and faculty who attended and participated in the events.

We can truly say that this summer session has been the most outstanding... education ally and entertainingly... that Southern has ever had. Thanks!

What Now?

It is over! Another summer school session in the dogs of college-going days. Now what will we do. Will we go on a vacation trip, catch up on all the little things that we haven't had time for, or just literally "goof" off?

Does our brain need a rest? According to scientific reports our brain never wears out. We even use our brain while we are sleeping.

Of course, we do need a rest now after the strain and tension of the term. Summer session. But let's not rest too long. Let's not become driftwood on the beach... we don't want to go or nothing to do.

Did you find a good book during the year that you wanted to read for your own entertainment and enjoyment, but never had the time to do? Well, now is the ideal time to grab that book and head for a shade tree.

Or if you are going on a trip, a good book is just the ticket for a rainy afternoon... and there will be a rainy afternoon!

When we toss our textbooks and notes into a corner this summer, let's not throw our brains into a cobweb too. Let's not let our minds become lax and lazy. Many enjoyable things can be done to keep our minds alert.

This vacation time do something you enjoy doing. But remember the more you learn the less you know and the more you want to learn.

Enjoy vacation

Alumni Groups Hold Meetings During Summer

A graduate of SIU need never be separated completely from his "alma mater." Each year over 40 alumni meetings are held from coast to coast, from Washington, D. C., to Los Angeles, according to Jacob King, representative of the Alumni Service.

Faculty members of SIU speak to the alumni chapters when they are vacationing. Dr. James Ford of the journalism department, who is on vacation in Montana, recently spoke to the Los Angeles Area Alumni Chapter. Ford told of the many changes that have been taking place at SIU.

There have already been seven meetings scheduled for the fall in Illinois. The meetings already scheduled will be held in Decatur, Kanakake, Springfield, Champaign, Olney, and at the Jackson County Country Club, as well as one in Evansville, Indiana.

Faculty Members Publish Article In Journal

Two SIU faculty members have written an article on "featherbedding" for the Labor Law Journal. Featherbedding is the practice of limiting work and output, thus providing more jobs and preventing unemployment.

Dr. Irving Kovarsky of the Management Department and Dr. Milton Edelman of the Economics Department discuss these made-work policies of the labor unions from the viewpoint of the arbitrator.

In the article, the authors offer eight recommendations, including a change in one section of the Taft-Hartley Act, which would help solve the featherbedding problem by specified arbitration purposes.

Originally published in the April, 1959 issue of the Journal, the article has been reprinted in pamphlet form for distribution purposes.

Gordon Speaks On Weights And Measrues

Dr. Leland Gordon, chairman of the economics department at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, told a Thursday night audience that quality competition is always done in the open, while quantity competition is done secretly.

Speaking on "Quality Competition" at Morris Library Auditorium, Gordon said scales are a menace to weights and measures officials. He pointed out that all short-weighting is not intentional, however, and said some scales favor the consumer.

Gordon has conducted a tour of the U. S., interviewing state weight and measure officials in each state.

"Tourist areas," Gordon said, "are excellent places to find products that are short-weight."

The author of several books and articles on economics, Dr. Gordon has held several positions of national importance. He is the newly elected vice-president of the Council on Consumer Information, a member of the executive board of the Consumers Union, Inc., and past president of the Midwest Economics Association.

He joined the staff as head of the department at Denison in 1931. He has held guest profes-

Rites Held For Miss Emma Bowyer

Funeral services were held Monday at 10 a. m. in the First Methodist Church, Carbondale, for Miss Emma L. Bowyer, retired head of the SIU English Department. Miss Bowyer died at 4:40 a. m. Saturday in Doctor's Hospital. She was 76.

Miss Bowyer was a member of the SIU staff in 1912. After teaching for one year in the teacher's training practice school, she transferred to the English department and was given the title of professor. She was head of the English department until she retired September 1, 1947.

Efficient, Loyal Great

Dr. Talbert Abbott, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, paid tribute to Miss Bowyer as these words, "I knew Miss Bowyer as a fellow faculty member, as chairman of the department of English, and as a friend for over 30 years. As a faculty member she was highly respected, as an administrator she was direct and efficient, as a friend she was loyal, and as a teacher, she can truly be called great."

Miss Bowyer was a member of the National English Council, the Modern Languages Assn., the American Assn. of Women Professors, the American Assn. of University Women and Delta Kappa Gamma.

Bowyer Hall, one of the women's residence halls at Thompson Point, was named in honor of Miss Bowyer.

Miss Bowyer was born August 28, 1882, in Carbondale.

Highest Honors

She was graduated with highest honors from the University of Chicago in 1912. She received her Master's Degree from the University of Chicago in 1914. She did one additional year of graduate work in English at Chicago.

Among her surviving relatives, Miss Bowyer leaves a nephew, Robert Lewis Taylor, winner of the 1959 Pulitzer Prize for his literature.

Miss Bowyer had requested that all memorials be made to the American Cancer Society.

FILMS CONFERENCE

Rinker presented a TV films premiere on campus last week. The educational films included "Oedypus, The King"

"Our Town," and "Hamlet." The films, part of a Humanities Council Television Course, will be distributed throughout the United States.

Schools Lack Econ Study

The study of one of the most important aspects of man's existence—economics—is neglected in many public schools today, claims a SIU faculty member.

Gordon Brunhild, assistant professor of economics, made the two-week Economic Education Workshop to be held at SIU beginning Monday (Aug. 3).

"Too often economic education on the grammar school level is limited to a trip to the store, post office or bank," Brunhild said. "The emphasis in social studies taught in high school is almost always non-economic, despite the fact that most political issues are of economic origin."

The SIU workshop, designed primarily for elementary and secondary teachers, is an attempt to do something about this neglect, Brunhild said. It is sponsored by the University in cooperation with the Joint Council on Economics Education and the Illinois Council of Economic Education.

The course carries four quarter hours of graduate or undergraduate credit. Persons may enroll on the opening day.

Brunhild said no special knowledge of economics is required for admission to the course.

'Strong-Meat'

What is in a play? A school TV film premiere at Southern last week demonstrated what films and educational TV can do for students.

The films, part of a Humanities Council Television Course, were sponsored by the University summer session, the College of Education and the Council of the English department at Newton High School and Junior College in Newton, Mass., presented the films.

The films were "Oedipus the King," "Our Town," and "Hamlet."

The films, all in color, were illustrated by lecturers on the particular plays. Techniques were the same in each film. Top-ranked lecturers were selected for each subject.

The plays were acted by top-notch actors and actresses. "Hamlet" featured the Stratford Shakespearean Festival Company.

The shows were produced by the Council of Boston, Mass., and the Encyclopedia Britannica Films firm did the technical work. The Ford Foundation financed the productions.

TV Films Can Aid Education

Rinker pointed out that TV films can reach more students and give them quantity education with good "strong-meat" quality.

Books can't answer all the students' questions, Rinker said. Neither can these films or lectures. But combined the student can learn much.

Psychological Services Center provides professional services to University students, to community adults and children, and to industries of the area.

Faculty May Use Books During Summer

Faculty members and their families may borrow books from the Browning Room of Morris Library for the remainder of the summer beginning now.

SIU Charters as Southern Illinois Normal University

SIU was chartered as Southern Illinois Normal University in 1869. Its first classes met July 2, 1874.

From time to time special exhibits are put up on peg boards in the corridors of the library.

The dean said that by 1965 students would be attending three of the four quarters of their choice. He added that in this way, work agreements could be worked out with industries throughout the United States.

Checked Out

Capt. Patricia Doyle, WAF officer at SIU, checks out a University of Illinois cadet before he ventures into the wild.

Capt. Doyle served as a tactical officer and information service officer at the Summer Training Unit at Craig Air Force Base in Selma.

Approximately 200 students from 42 universities attended the first unit at Craig.

One SIU junior, Emerson D. Young, attended.

Behind the wheel, your only job is driving!

And like any job, making a success of it takes all the concentration you can give it. Last year, 37,000 people died in traffic accidents. Many were killed by drivers who let their minds wander from the business at hand. Stay alert and you'll stay alive!

458 To Graduate August 14, Many Receive Advanced Degrees

A second class of 458 graduates will receive degrees at SIU's summer commencement exercises Aug. 14.

More than 40 per cent of the graduates will be awarded advanced degrees. The big majority of the master's candidates, 120 out of 185, will receive degrees in fields of education upon completion of training for careers in teaching, guidance, and school administration.

Two of the graduates, Carrie Sprague of Mumsyville, Ill., and Murrell F. Jones, Bloomington, Ind., will receive degrees in Professional Proficiency earned in a program of study beyond the master's degree.

Robert G. Buzzard, former president of Eastern Illinois University and now a distinguished visiting professor of geography at SIU, will deliver the commencement address in exercises beginning at 7 p.m. in McAndrew Stadium.

Five students who have qualified for commissions through Southern's Air Force program will receive their gold lieutenant's bars along with their degrees. They are: James E. Cox, Edward R. Williams, William J. Bims, James E. Thomas, and William D. Cook.

The graduates are listed below, alphabetically in three categories: bachelor's degrees, master's degrees, and associate degrees in business and technology. The associate degrees are given for two-year courses of study in the Division of Technical and Adult Education.
