Poultry Judging Contest

Students Represent SIU

Five agriculture students represented SIU at the annual National Intercollegiate Poultry Judging Contest held in Chicago Dec. 2-3. Members of the team include Richard Eade, Jerry King and Harold Brunjten, Harold Landen and Richard Ash served as alternates. Scott Hinners, Animal Industries, accompanied the group to the two day session. According to Hinners, 22 teams from all parts of the United States were represented in the contest, with SIU being the only "non-land-grant" school participating. (A land-grant school is one which was assisted later by the government.) Judging consisted of 3 divisions: production judging concerned with...

Rule May Permit Students To Have Guns On Campus

Sends Students Questionnaire

A move by the Office of Student Affairs may let SIU students keep firearms on campus. Dr. Joseph F. Zaleski, assistant director of housing, announced Wednesday that a questionnaire will be sent to all students to get information concerning the use and ownership of firearms. A regulation prohibits students from possessing guns. The rule was enacted about three years ago when a student was accidentally killed by a shotgun. Zaleski said the new regulation will be for the benefit of students who like to hunt, collect guns or are target shooters. Storage House The new regulation would permit construction of a storage house on campus for guns. Zaleski emphasized that a definite place or arrangement has not been made. A questionnaire will be circulated to discover the feelings of students on the question. "Zaleski said he is not familiar with other colleges that have an arrangement of this type. "I realize that students who like to hunt would like to have guns on campus," Zaleski said. "However, it is the best interest of the students that firearms cannot be kept in residence centers. "If his proposal is worked out, that the students can legally have their guns on campus and use them at their convenience. "Zaleski said there are several divisions that are to be worked out before the system becomes official. "No date has been set for the proposed system to go into operation." Students Interested "The University recognizes the fact that numerous students in the area at Southern are interested in firearms. Whether the interest is in the sport of hunting, target shooting or the hobby of gun collecting, the possibility of an accident is ever present. "For the general welfare of all, University regulations prohibit student possession of firearms or lethal weapons while in attendance at Southern. "With your cooperation, however, it might be possible for the University to provide storage and handling of your guns and ammunition so that you may continue to enjoy a wholesome activity. The remainder of the questionnaire asks what guns are owned and for what purpose. "Zaleski said the move is being made to let students enjoy hunting, gun collecting and target shooting while staying within the regulations.

PRACTICE SESSION Holding a final practice session before departing for Chicago Monday to participate in the national intercollegiate poultry judging contest which was held Tuesday and Wednesday are the three members and two alternates of the Southern Illinois University team. They are Harold Brunjten, left, Harold Landen, Jersville; Richard Eade, Okaville; Jerry King, Robinson; and Richard W. Ash, Effingham. Landen and Ash are alternates.

Last Fling Before Final Exams

Christmas Week Scheduled For December 9-13

By Mickey Sparks Christmas Week, which will be celebrated Dec. 9-13, has been set aside as a time for students to celebrate the holiday season and to have a "last fling" before final exams. The Doughtnut Hour will open the week in the Student Union Dec. 9 from 9:30 - 11 a. m. President and Mrs. Delyte W. Morris will act as host and hostess. Free cider and doughnuts will be served. The annual Christmas assembly will be held Dec. 11 at 10 a. m. in Shryock Auditorium. Participation in the program will include AFROTUC Singing Squadron, the University choir and orchestra and the Madrigals. The audience will participate in the singing of Christmas carols. Land President Morris will present his traditional reading of the Christmas Story. The Office of Student Affairs announced that freshmen will receive convocation credit for attending the assembly. Various campus groups will take part in a candlelight caroling ceremony on the lawn of the University School at 7 p. m., Dec. 12. The event is expected to be one of the most impressive of the week, according to the Christmas Week committee. Groups who are interested in participating in the caroling should contact Yvonne Anton, chairman of the committee, or fill out an application at the Student Union. Students are again this year invited to help decorate the Student Union on Dec. 12 from 8-12 p.

Southern Eagles Club Disbands

The Southern Eagles Flying Club is temporarily going out of business. The SIU board of directors for the club met Nov. 26 and recommended that the club disband and sell its equipment. The club members met Dec. 3 and approved the decision of the board. President of the club, Robert Price, said the disbanding of the club is due in part to a lack of interest on the part of SIU students this year. The club, whose sponsor is Capt. Paul O. Keller, has been suffering from a lack of up-to-date equipment and transportation problems, according to Price. The Cessna 120 airplane, to be sold, which the club owns is not fully equipped. Also, since the club off is its reduced rate on flying instruction at the Carbondale airport, there have been problems about transportation to the airport for freshmen and sophomores. Price assures that there is a possibility that the club will purchase a new plane in the future should enough interest in the club be present in 1959, which was the largest flying club in the state. "For the club, the club had 117 members, the largest number since the start of the club in 1954, and owned 3 aircraft. This year the club had only 45 members but was active enough to make several breakfast flights to Hills, Ind., and Paducah, Ky., which many Southern students took advantage of, and a pen and pound flight at the SIU airport which attracted about 350 persons.

Missing Student Enlists In Army

Bruce Josseland, 22-year-old SIU student who was missing for a week, re-enlisted in the Army at St. Louis Nov. 24, according to St. Louis Recruiting Station. The junior zoology major had been last seen on the night of Nov. 17, at the Varsity Theatre. A search of his room detected only a razor missing and University of Iowa enrolled "fool" until the Army contacted SIU that Josseland had re-enlisted. Asked why he hadn't contacted his father about joining the Army, Josseland said "the just hadn't gotten around to it yet," according to William Rogge, director of housing. The Army veteran said he spent a week in St. Louis before deciding to re-enlist. He gave no reason for leaving all his belongings in his room. Rogge said.

Students Write 15 Bad Checks

About 15 "bad checks" have been written by SIU students this year, according to Assistant Dean Elwyn E. Zimmerman. The students wrote checks when they had "insufficient funds," said Zimmerman. He said no legal action has been taken. One student wrote four checks totaling $20, and another wrote three totaling $5, Zimmerman said. "As the administration we have the duty of teaching students that they have the responsibility to watch their accounts," Zimmerman said. Two students have written a total of seven checks on an ice cream stand, and another wrote one to a gasoline station, according to Zimmerman. Zimmerman stressed that "it cannot be assumed" the students were aware that they did not have enough money in the bank at the time they wrote the checks. Students should be careful not to write "bad checks" because they can get into "serious trouble," Zimmerman said.

Music Faculty Appointments

Three members of the faculty of the music department at SIU have been honored with special appointments during the past month. They are Dr. Henry Bruggeman, Dr. Will Botje, and Marilyn Pflederer, instructor in the department. Dr. Bruggeman, chairman of the music department, has been asked to serve as one of the judges for the Young Artist Contest of the Grand Rapids, Michigan Symphony Orchestra on Jan. 30. Dr. Botje, assistant professor of Music Theory and Composition, has been appointed chairman of the American Music Department of the Illinois Federation of Music Clubs. Miss Pflederer, instructor in piano, has been appointed a member of the Music Education National Conference. President Morris was born at Nenia. He is Southern's eighth president.

Faculty Lots Have Most Open Space

Empty spaces in faculty parking lots almost double the unfilled spaces in student lots, according to a survey by the Saluki Commuters Club. Commuters made the survey to determine the number of unused spaces for statistics to be used in an appeal for more parking permits for commuters, according to Commuter Senator Tom Mabey. The survey was taken on five days at three different times each day. At the 11 a. m. hour, there were 248 empty spaces on faculty parking lots and 134 on student lots. At the same hour there were 174 empty spaces on all the student parking lots. At the 9 a. m. hour, faculty parking lot Number 13 had 324 empty spaces, while the student lots had 129 empty spaces. At the 10 a. m. hour, there were 298 empty spaces on faculty lots and 202 on student lots. At the same hour there were 163 empty spaces in the student lots.

Internationals Get Friend Banquet

"International students on campus will be the special guests of honor at a friendship banquet sponsored by the Baptist Student Union at University Baptist Church today at 6:30 p.m. The emphasis of the theme "Friendship" by the BSU students toward overseas students is directed to the idea that this should be a part of anyone's life in America. Speaker of the evening will be the Rev. T. H. King, pastor for 15 years at the First Baptist Church of West Frankfort. Rev. King will show slides and speak about his trip to the Holy Land last year. Tickets for the banquet may be purchased at the Baptist Foundation for $1.25. Members of BSU are furnishing overseas student tickets. The special guests will be provided with transportation from the Baptist Foundation. Bill Fulkerson, president of BSU, is in charge of planning for the banquet. Miss Lucille Steele is BSU director at SIU.

Groups Sell Mats To Help Blind

In conjunction with the Blind Center in Carbondale, the groups will sell rubber door mats to local residents for $1.75 each. The Council and the Householders' Association will receive a 50-cent commission for each mat they sell. The sale begins at 8 a.m. Saturday and will continue until every item is sold. This monstrous snowfall which rests on the University School campus lawn at about 4 inches remains of the season's first snowfall. The builders of the mishap mess are unknown. Also unknown is what it started out to be—if anything. The seven-inch snowfall set a record for the first snowfall of the year in this area.

Old Actors Were Best, Says Expert

Modern day actors and actresses must take a back seat to English performers of the 17th and 18th centuries, according to a man who has done a day-by-day study of the London theater during a 140-year period. Dr. George Winchester Stone, Jr., whose 10-volume "Day-by-day Account of the London Stage, 1660-1800" will be published in two volume sections by the Southern Illinois University Press beginning in 1959, says that actors and actresses of that period were considerably more versatile. "They had the ability to change character from one day to the next, whereas present performers are 'type' characters," Stone said. "Actors today usually play essentially the same role, but an actor on the London stage could put his audience laughing in the aisle one day and do an emotional scene the next. The New York University English professor pointed out.

Levine, curator of Harvard Theater collection; Dr. Emmet L. Avery, Washington State College; Dr. A. H. Scoupton, University of Pennsylvania; and Dr. E. Beecher Hogan, Yale University.

The film stars Jeanne Crain, Dana Andrews, and David Farrar. Amid lion-leopard fights, battles, Continent action, the investigator tries to find the true story of a supposed accidental strangling of a playboy explorer, insured by his company. The action and romance that follows should prove interesting to the audience. Parking Situation Needs Evaluated

Results of the Saluki Commuters' Club's recent survey on the number of vacant spaces in University parking lots deserve serious consideration from SIU parking officials.

The group reported that the number of open spaces in faculty lots almost doubles the number of empty spaces in student lots.

Perhaps if the study was made during a different week under different circumstances, the results would be different. However, the commuter study seems to indicate that there are more open places in faculty lots than student lots.

There are several factors which could result in the difference in open space.

At the time lots were allocated, seniors were given special parking privileges; that is, they were permitted to park in faculty lots! This arrangement made faculty lots slightly crowded. Later, senior privileges were stopped. Perhaps the denial of privileges to seniors more than gave the faculty (and staff) adequate room.

Too, observations by the Egyptian show that faculty automobiles take more space than is needed. It is not uncommon for two faculty cars to use space sufficient for three.

The lot next to the gymnasium has "entrance from Harwood ave. has 'painted stalls.'" These painted spaces in the faculty lot could be narrowed.

Southern is a changing school. It requires frequent adjustments and re-evaluations.

The University should make another study of the parking situation. Parking facilities are too few, especially are they too few to permit unused parking space to exist.

Scholarship Policy Questioned; More Shooting

SCHOLARSHIP QUESTION

I would like to state my opinion on the letter from a foreign student which appeared in this week's paper. I would like to know why a person from another country should be given a scholarship to attend SIU when people in this country cannot go to college because of lack of funds.

I myself had to work for a year before I could start school and right now my application for a scholarship is in the Office of Student Affairs. I was turned down because there were not enough scholarships for everyone in the school of business. In his letter he stated that the scholarship is given to EVERY foreign student who has a 3 point average. I have over a 3 point average but I couldn't get a business scholarship.

I don't see why a foreign student should be given his education if he gives our ancestors the rest of us have to suffer. If there were enough scholarships, I would say give everyone but if a choice must be made, the education of an American citizen should be held above that of a foreign student. I'm for the university in this action on a hundred per cent.

which is justifiable in the light of the known facts.

Furthermore, this publicity should tend to create the necessary and now lacking mutual understanding between University officials and the students in general.

JANITOR SPEAKS

Dear Editor,
During one of the recent issues of the Egyptian I read one particular letter to the editor that interested me very much. This letter concerned the shooting issue between the SIU policeman, Ardell Crews, and Arthur "Artie" Allison.

The letter was entitled "No Blow-Over."

The letter said: "As an officer of the law, Crews' action and comments have shown that he would make a good night janitor. . . so he won't have to mix with people much." I fall to see what this statement has to do with the incident.

I would like a better explanation from the author of the letter. This is not the first time the janitor has been mentioned when someone wants to connect janitors to an individual who is believed to have done wrong.

I don't know if Mr. Crews would make a good night janitor or day janitor for that matter. This is not important.

If the author of the letter selected the job believing it to be a demotion of some sort, I believe that "Bird Dog" is on the wrong trail.

For his (author's) information, there are many janitors who receive substantial salaries.

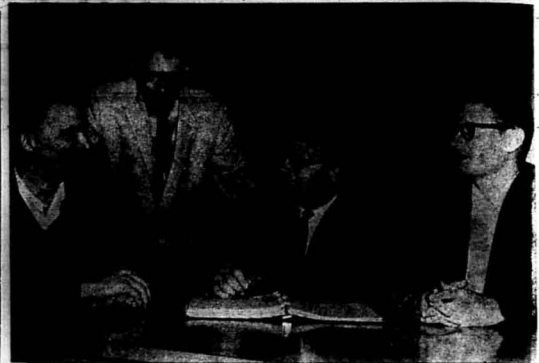

The author sounded like a person on a subway train and did not know where to get off.

I believe I can speak for the student janitors and the civil service employees who work in the janitorial department. The janitor is no different than any other person trying to make a living for himself or his family.

Night janitors have an opportunity to talk with students who are in night classes or involved in activities.

Oh, Yes! We do work even though there are those who believe otherwise. How the broom is carried is not so important, but what is done with the broom is important.

CAREER PLANNERS

Officers of a newly organized student Agricultural Economics Club at SIU are planning a series of programs to serve the educational and career opportunity concerns of SIU students interested in the field of agriculshown is the club sponsor, Dr. William Herr, SIU associate professor of agricultural industries. Beasley says the club hopes to affiliate with student sections of the American Farm Economics Association.

PEACOCK REPRESENTS IN LANGUAGE MEETING

Dr. Vera L. Peacock, chairman of the foreign language department, was selected to represent Illinois at the convention of the Modern Language Association to be held in New York, Dec. 6-7. There will be one representative from each state at the meeting.

The convention will discuss setting up a national research program to improve teaching in the three fields, science, mathematics and modern languages, specified in the National Defense Education Act bill, said Dr. Peacock.

behind the news
By JOE BLEWETT

While most students are looking forward to Christmas, my thoughts still dwell on Thanksgiving — possibly because I haven't fully recovered yet.

This year I was determined not to over eat. The memory of past Thanksgivings and past stomachaches came back with clarity. But this year was going to be different.

But, alas, the best laid plans and strongest resolutions often succumb to temptation. And that turkey dinner was about as strong a temptation as I've ever had to face.

Needless to say the turkey won and the usual stomachache came back to haunt me. But just wait until Christmas — it'll be a different story then.

This Thanksgiving I left me with more of a stomachache to remember, however. The snow brought out the old sled — with disastrous consequences.

With two relatives, who also knew better, I ventured out in the driving snow. We vigorously (it was too cold to stand still) scaled the nearby hill. The trip down was much easier but several of them left a sore crew of sleds.

The gigantic hill with the terrifying drop which I remembered had shriveled to a gentle slope. And to my surprise, the highway now rudely separated its face.

Of course, Thanksgiving means much more than a big dinner or fun on a sled. It is a time of looking back at the many things we have to be grateful for. It is a period to forget the petty gripes and remember the good things of life.

For most Thanksgiving is a time of reunion. Families gather at the traditional place. Perhaps some must come from far away while others travel only a short distance—but getting together is the important thing.

We have a different world than that of our ancestors in which to celebrate Thanksgiving. Ours is a country of comfort and the leisure time to enjoy it. We have our television and our modern devices to make our work easier. The world of science has opened up many new ways to add to our comfort.

But in the really important things of life those early pilgrims with their crude homes and rugged existence still had just as much to be thankful for. In this sense Thanksgiving is timeless.

STUDIES SOCIAL RANK OF SMALL TOWNS

Four SIU students are attempting to find out how small town residents rank themselves on the social scale.

Expected to be completed sometime in December, the students' study will center around 50 residents of Cobden. The subject will be asked whether they classify themselves as members of the upper, upper-middle, lower-middle or lower class—after which "prominent" members of the community will be asked to rate the same 50 subjects. The students' themselves will complete the data-gathering with their own estimates of the group's social stratification.

The four-member research team, all senior sociology majors, includes two students from the Philippines, Norma Mamento and Purification Cocco, and are Martha Rea of Litchfield and Robert Hügendorf of San Jose.

WEAK POSITION

At this time, it seems that the administration's position concerning Officer Crews is weak and lenient in comparison to the Office of Student Affairs' harsh treatment of Arthur Allison.

The question still comes to my mind that perhaps these administrators have considered certain elements which justify their positions and which most people have overlooked.

If this is the case, then the Office of Student Affairs and the administration should make public (preferably in the Egyptian) the reasoning behind their positions. Perhaps this will tend to alleviate the feeling of animosity, toward the Office and the administration in general, which are created by incidents of this sort.

When publication of the reasoning behind University decisions becomes standard procedure, perhaps the administrators will not be subject to so much condemnation by the students.

Gus Bode Says

Gus says he has the solution for Southern's parking woes. He would require all to sell their present cars and buy "bugs." We could then use a couple of the parking lots for skating rinks in the winter and swimming pools in summer, says Gus, the master planner.

Gus says that time of year is here again when he starts to think of starting his term papers and reading the textbooks.

Gus plans to start a fight with his girl now that Christmas is near.

Gus hopes to get a rebound for Christmas. He would keep it on Thompson Point Lake—docked behind the girl's dorm.

Sunday Movie To Feature Italian Stars

The heart-touching story of Peppino and Stella, abandoned children of Naples, will be shown Sunday, when Southern's film Society presents "Alone in the Streets."

The main actors, children from Naples' streets and slums, tell the story of pitiful survival in the streets of the war-ravaged town.

The movie stars Carlo Lombardi, Brunella Bovo, and Marco Vicario. Peppino is the splendid child characterization of a waif who wears a tattered sweater, a scarf thrown jauntily around his neck, and undersized pants secured by a rope.

"Alone in the Streets" will be shown at 2 and 8:30 p. m. in the library auditorium. Admission will be 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

According to Lewis F. Canson, project director for the movie, the Student Union will serve free coffee and doughnuts in the lobby from 7:45 to 8:30 p. m.

A CAMPUS-TO-CAREER CASE HISTORY

He's been on his way up from the day he started work

James C. Bishop got his B.S. in Electrical Engineering from the University of Illinois on June 23, 1953. On July 1, he went to work as a lineman in the Illinois Bell Telephone Company management training program. On July 2, he was "shinnying" up telephone poles.

And he's been "climbing" ever since. A planned rotational training program, interrupted by a stint in the Army, took Jim through virtually every phase of plant operations.

He was promoted to Station Installation Foreman in July, 1957. Then came more training at company expense—in human relations and other supervisory subjects—at Knox College.

Jim Bishop holds training sessions regularly with his men. At left, he discusses cable routes in connection with the "cutover" of his office to dial service. At right, he and a foreman check a block connection on the main frame.

Wandering Around A Shoebox And A Puddle

By Doris Greenleaf
 Roaming across campus awhile back, I ran into a fellow with a curious distinction. It seems he owns one of the little bombs being popularized by a new novelty tune about a dog race. (Actually, his little toy is a Metropolitan, which is too stoney to associate with lowly Bammers, but what's in a name, anyhow)

As I started to say, this guy has one of the little monsters. Its dimensions are, roughly, four feet long by two feet wide by three feet high—a kind of shoebox on wheels. It has a very unusual gas system; someone sits in the front seat and feeds it through the dashboard with an eyedropper. (This, of course, is when the pedals aren't working.)

The shoebox is temperamental too. It doesn't exactly care for SIU's road system, so its owner has to be prepared to pick it up and carry it now and then when the going gets too rough. This happens pretty often, especially when cruising merrily down Lake Street or similar thoroughfares, it bounces into one of the holes and can't bounce out again. He's been teaching it to use a ladder, but hasn't had much success yet.

So far, the results of this little adventure haven't been too serious. The only one with a lasting disability is the Little Beeper. When it passes a Caddy these days, it doesn't give forth with a defiant "Bee-Bee!" It's more like a weak "Cargle-Cargle."

Slap-Happy Cagers Drop Opener To Austin Peay State, 106-100

The Governors of Austin Peay State handed Harry Gallatin's slap-happy Salukis a 106-100 setback Monday night as both squads opened their 1958-59 season.

Both teams spent much of the game at the free throw line as a total of 71 fouls were called, 38 of them against Southern. Austin Peay won the game from the Charity stripe as they banged home 50 in-61 tosses. SIU hit 34 for 46.

Charlie Vaughn, fabulous freshman from Tamm, led the Salukis race horse offense as he tallied 27 markers in his first college game. Seymour Bryson, falling out with about five minutes left in the game, chalked up 23.

Southern led by as much as five points three times during the first half at 9-4, 26-21 and 30-25. The Saluki attack turned to ice as they held a 36-22 lead when the Governors marked up nine straight points to take a 41-36 edge. Austin Peay was never headed after this point.

IM Wrestling Champs Crowned
By Mike Brown
The champs have been crowned for the 1958 IM wrestling tournament.

The elimination matches began Wednesday and the finals were held Thursday night. Gold belt buckles were awarded as trophies to the champions.

In the 128 lb. class Lyle Reuss was 100 for the title.

In the 136 lb. bracket Bob Campbell, freshman from Champaign, defeated Ed Foster in the first match. In the bottom half of the bracket Bob Metzger beat Richard Denton to get into the finals. Metzger defeated Campbell 3-0 for the championship.

The 145 lb. division Darrell Doehring won over Harold Poon to advance to the semi-finals where he defeated Mike Metzger who drew a bye in the first round. The bottom half of the 145 lb. bracket was captured by Mac McDonald who defeated Bill Cabera. The final match featured McDonald against Doehring, with Doehring winning the match in a decision 3-0.

The opening match of the 155 lb. division saw Vance Tarrant winning over O'Neal. In the semi-finals Tarrant defeated James Lowrey and Bob Monken won over Jim Oetle. For the championship of the 155 lb. class Monken defeated Tarrant 4-2 for the crown.

Opening the 165 lb. class Tom Cox defeated William Sommerhar to get into the finals of tournament. His opponent was Bill Metzger who defeated Harry Garcia in an earlier match. Metzger scored the only pin in the final match Foster a freshman from Troy defeated Farrell a senior from Beardsville, N.J., 4-0.

The first match in the heavyweight division pitted Doug Farrell against Max Williams, with Williams the winner. Gary Seckler won the first of his three matches by beating John Longmeyer. In the final match of the first round Carroll Kleinschmidt defeated Jerry Hoiska.

The Salukis got their several times during the second half as the Governors lead was cut to four points at 67-63 and 69-65. With only 6:35 remaining in the game Austin led by a 80-69 count but the Salukis fought back to trail by only five, 100-95, with a little over a minute remaining in the game.

Austin Peay was paced by their guard duo of Howard Gorrell and John Champ. Champ hit 19 of 22 free throws as he marked up 35 points and Gorrell netted 12 of 14 from the charity stripe as he tallied 30.

Both teams shot at a .385 clip from the field although Southern shot short Austin from the field by 10 points.

Southern's new type offense certainly netted enough to win the average game but Gallatin's troops were hurt on the boards and by defensemen.

The Salukis will make their first home appearance tomorrow night against Drury College of Springfield, Mo.

In Jayhawks Pool Tankmen Swim Against Kansas

A freshman-studded Saluki swimming team will face the University of Kansas at Lawrence Saturday in the opening meet for both teams.

Only four lettermen are back from Coach Ralph Casey's 1957-58 team which whipped the Jayhawks, 48-38, here. Bob Steezy, Chicago; Bill Busch, Jerseyville; Warren Dick, Deerfield; and Bob Schullhof, Chicago, are the returnees.

Casey, beginning his second season as Saluki coach, must bank on freshmen to carry the load in most events. "Fortunately our lettermen are each in different events," he says. "They will give us stability until the freshmen work out the links."

Top ranking freshmen are Walt Rodgers, Landover Hills, Md., and Clyde Epperson Miami, Fla.

Gymnasts At Midwest Open
SIU's gymnastics team will try its wings Saturday at the Midwest Open Championships in Chicago.

Coach Bill Meade's powerful boasts 10 lettermen back from the 1957-58 team. The Salukis can count on veterans in the high bars, rings, tumbling, side horse and all-around, with promising freshmen ready for trampoline and parallel bars duty.

Returning lettermen are Captain Bob Hauser, Cottage Hill; Jerry Bickenbach, Westchester; Ed Rufum and Ed Foster, both of Elmhurst; Charles Hilliard, Melrose Park; John Ostarelo, Chicago; Gene Salmon, Grassyville; John Taylor West Palm Beach, Fla.; Bob Foster, Interstate Conference rings champion from Winnetka; and Bob Kies, conference side horse champ from St. Louis.

Meade, beginning his third season as Saluki gymnastics coach, also expects top performances from

Illini Tourney Wrestlers Open At Illinois

By Larry Meyer
Southern's wrestling team will leave for Champaign-Urbana this evening to inaugurate the 1958-59 season tomorrow in the University of Illinois Invitational College Wrestling Tournament for Illinois schools.

The Saluki grapplers will attempt to top their third place performance of a year ago in this year's tourney with the services of Junior co-captain Herman Ayres and Jim Bledsoe, a Sophomore letterman. Both boys have been declared ineligible to compete in the tourney. Also out of action are Sophomores Houston, Antwine and Al Ross. Antwine, a 250 pounder and tackle for the football Salukis, has a broken bone in his thumb. Ross, a highly rated performer, has not yet recovered from a hand injury which he sustained while working last summer. Neither will be available for duty until January.

Coach Jim Wilkinson, back at SIU this fall after earning his doctorate at Indiana University last year, has tentatively slated a squad of seventeen for the tournament. The wrestlers listed are Jack Barber, Stan Bergmeier, Ray Caruso, Deke Edwards, Dick Frankmer when boys like Ayres and Bledsoe, Richard Irvin, Richard Kolenki, William McPherson, Ken Pontikes, Gordon Rushing, Larry Simpson, Gordon Secker, Jack Windsor, Ed Zitzer, and Woodie Zitzer.

The Saluki team finished second with a dazzling 9-0 mark last season in the IACB, but Wilkinson is quite concerned about the problem of eligibility for the coming campaign.

"After all, our schedule is tougher this year," he pointed out, "and our boys like Ayres and Bledsoe are lost to the team, we will definitely be at a handicap. Grades are certainly an important factor in determining our team's success."

The Salukis' first home appearance will be Saturday, Dec. 13, when they encounter Central Michigan in a dual meet at 6:00 P.M.

WSRV Airs Cage Games
WSRV-FM is continuing its thorough coverage of Saluki sports, during the 1958-1959 basketball season. It will broadcast nearly all the games, both at home and away.

Bill Moore, program director at WSRV-FM, will do the play-by-play of the basketball games. He did the same for the football games this past season.

Two new series...replacements for the finished series "People Under Communism" started Sat. Nov. 29.

"The Claverings", a BBC production, is similar to the dramatic soap opera produced in this country.

"Jefferson Heritage" narrated by Claude J. Raines, is a dramatic presentation of that day, including trials, hardships, decisions, despairs and triumphs.

Unlike other Students, those affiliated with the radio station will not get a big Christmas vacation. The station will remain on the air during the vacation.

IAC SUMMIT CONFERENCE
Probably one of the most important IAC conference meetings in recent years began in Chicago yesterday.

The meeting is a very important one because the decisions made by the committee will have definite effect on the future of several schools in the IAC.

Several policies will be decided at the meeting, and all but one of these are connected in some way or another with the grant-in-aid program of the member schools.

One school has suggested that athletes should not receive more than 50 per cent of the total costs of room, board, tuition and fees. Several other schools have professed that they are for such a proposal.

Another proposal that will be up before the committee is that no school shall have more than 30 athletes on athletic scholarships at any one time.

One of the most controversial proposals up before the committee is that in effect no member of the university staff, coach or instructor, shall attempt to influence any athlete to attend their university by offering financial inducements or anything representing financial assistance. Since no other explanation was given this could be interpreted as meaning that an athlete should not even be told that he would be given a job if he enrolled. At SIU every athlete on a "scholarship" is also on the work program.

The final issue connected with the grant-in-aid policy is that athletes that work for the university should work on the same level as non-athletes doing the same type of work. At Southern all athletes
