Maroons Show New Power In Defeating The Alton Quad
Quintet 41 to 25 Last Week

Revamped Southern Quiet Not Hard Pressed in Downung
1940 State Independent Champions

The Maroon and White colors of Southern made it two wins as against one defeat in their 1940-41 record last Thursday night when they handed the Alton Quintet quiet the latter's first loss of the current season, 41 to 25. The Onited Five, representing the Owenhollow Glass Co. of Alton and last year's State Independent Champions, were outclassed by the Southern aggregation from the very start of the contest.

Lipe, were also standouts for the blue and white clad squad although they were unable to connect with the hoop on any consequential number of points.

CHARLESTON, EUREKA,
ELMHURST AND MACOMB
OPEN LEAGUE PLAY

Macomb Leathernecks Voted
Strongest Title
Contenders

The Illinois Intercollegiate Conference elected its gridiron legs this week to renew old basketball battles as Elmhurst and Eureka played Wednesday night and Charleston Teachers and Macomb made their initial tilt, Thursday night. State Normal will be out to establish its perfect gridiron record, to the hardwired in the hope of winning its third consecutive conference basketball title. The Red Birds have been slow to get started this year, dropping their opening game to St. Joseph by a score of 17-40 and not getting out until 31-23. The Bloomington five's latest encounter was with Indiana Central whom they defeated 32-22. Coach Joe Copdal has shifted, Captain Leroy Brandt from guard to forward in the hope of finding a winning combination before his opening league game. Brandt and his forward partner, Larry Kindel, have been the chief scorers in their first three tilts.

Red Birds or Leathernecks According to pre-season reporters, the Macomb Leathernecks are the most logical candidates to dethrone the Normal Red Birds. The Western Teachers have made quite an impression by their two decisive wins over St. Louis University and Illinois College. Their only defeat in three starts was suffered at the hands of Purdue when they emerged on the short end of a 68-41 score. Charleston Panthers have made a poor showing in their opening tilt dropping two of three starts. Their only victory was over Arkansas State after being defeated by Indiana Central and Terre Haute Teachers.

Eureka has won its three beginning campaigns of the season, coming out victorious, Lincoln, and Illinois College. Most of the IAC will engage out of state competition this week as they play teams from California, Louisiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and Indiana. Southern Teachers meet up with Upper Iowa and Southwestern Louisiana. The basketball spotlight, however, will be occupied by State Normal when they tangle with a West Coast job in the form of U. C. L. A. Games that have been played during the past four days are: Tuesday - Indiana Central vs. State Normal, Wheaton vs. DeKalb, Illinois College vs. Eureka, Culver Stockton vs. Central, Wednesday - Elmhurst vs. Eureka, Thursday - Macomb vs. Alton, Friday - Upper Iowa vs. Southern Teachers. IAC games remaining to be played this week include: Friday - Oakshoek Teachers at De Kalb, Saturday - U. C. L. A. at State Normal, Southwestern Louisiana at Carbondale.

UNIVERSITY HIGH
GRIDDER NAMED TO ALL-STATE TEAM

Bob Hall, outstanding center on the University High school six-man football team this past season, has been rewarded for his brilliant play at the pivot post by Ray Duncan, faculty member at the University of Illinois, who placed him on the all-state team. The University High here is one of the C teams through-out Illinois now playing six-man football. Hall was the only man given first team rating from southern Illinois. Most of Waller was given honorable mention by Duncan.

New Lineup
Coach Mackey's attempt to prevent recurrence of the rugged tactics of his Maroons in their first games of the year, sent a revamped lineup into the Thursday game. Bob Carroll, Bob Gray, and Bob Hunter held down the positions at center, forward and forward, respectively, after they had started the two initial games of the season. John Sebastian, who previously had been playing at the guard position, was shifted to forward, while Gray, who had been in action in the first two games was the starter at the other guard post. This quintet played the first ten minutes of the game during which time they exhibited speed, the best playing that any starting five has shown all year. At the midpoint of the first half, Church, Cox, Moody, Campbell, and Durham took over for the Maroons. It seemed that the Southerners were definitely "out" of their game for this second quintet, but the stars and they of their predecessors and at halftime the Maroons owned a comfortable 21 to 7 lead.

The Alton aggregation were noticeably off their usual form during the second half and they exhibited signs of terminality only in a few abbreviated spurts during the second half.

Play during the last half of the game gave Coach Mackey opportunity to change the line-up of his bluecoats. Besides the men on the end of quintet already mentioned, Gene Echols, curly freshman guard, Ed DuPree, Wayne Millsap, Earl Sanders, and Harold Robertson all saw considerable action.

Scoring Division
As was the case in the two tilts, the Maroons' scoring was well divided, only two men failed to enter the column. Church, Durham, Sebastian, and Campbell were all good for five tallies each in top the local's scoring.

Fraser, captain of the Onited Five, was their leader in the counting column. His 14 points, garnered chiefly by his southpaw one-hand shot, was followed by Campbell who collected three of his team's sporadic outbursts of fine offensive play. Paul Stewart, former IAC star and H.

DELTA RHO
INITIATES THREE NEW MEMBERS

At the last meeting of Delta Rho, the order by the new president, Marshall Strickland, the following members were initiated as new members: Dorothy Redmond, Grant City; Robert Ciendanna, Cora City; and Carlos Schmitt, Gokcondo. Their business meeting, during which plans were made for the postmaster's held day to be held February 15, Miss Betty Jemo Johnson spoke on "Importance of Mathematics in General Education." A mathematical Christmas reading was given by the group. When called for the greeting read: "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." The next meeting will be held January 7.

KDA's Initiate
Seven Men Last
Sunday Evening

Seven men were formally initiated into Kappa Delta Alpha fraternity last Sunday evening. They are: Douglas Greenleaf, former president of the organization; Kenneth Wellmouster, Belleville; Nat Mangold, Cobden; L. E. Cowser, West Frankfort; Buford Garrison, Benton; and Melvin Towars, Carbondale. Following the initiation ceremonies, a dinner was held in honor of the new active members.

A HANGOVER FROM FOOTBALL

SINU GYMNASIS
TO MEET IOWA
AND NEBRASKA

Southern's tumbler has been polishing up a bit during the past two months in preparation for their first meet of the year when they engage their namesakes, the Maroons of Chicago University. Fry Lettman, return Captain of the gym team, Coach Joe Di Giovanni, has been trying to find some promising material to take the place of seven tumbler lost by graduation last spring. Captain Ralph Bishop remains one of Southern's mainstays in the field of sports. Bishop is one of the few all-around men, exhibiting on high jump, tumbling, and rings. Local Covington still remains the single outstanding performer of the team. Covington's performance on the side horse is only slightly short of perfection.

Arthur Washington, another letterman, will be back to strengthen the parallel bar department and the tumbling section. Adding Washington in these two divisions will be Shaul Damm, a sophomore from Puckewille. Damm, although a freshman received the coveted "H" for his services last year. A new man to make the varsity squad this year is Milton Blackwell, Blackwell will exhibit on the parallel bars and the rings.

Ray Rylander is the competitor of Bishop for the all-around man of the team. Rylander performs on the rings, parallel bar, tumbling and sidehorse. The side horse seems to be especially strong this year with the addition of Wilson Webb and George Langdon.

Promising newcomers Promising material among the freshmen candidates appear to be Blevins, Klotzka, Puckewille; Ernest Kueksy, Stanton; and Gerald McHugh of New York. Each of these fellows will add to the strength of the high bar, parallel, and tumbling departments.

Meets Scheduled Together with the meet at Chicago on January 24, Coach Di Giovanni has scheduled three other meets this far this year, February 1, the varsity and the all-around meet, the rivalry of February 8, Southern's gymnasium will pit their skills against Tumbler College of Indianapolis, Indiana, (tentative), March 8, the Maroon tumblers

INTRAMURAL
SIDELIGHTS

After the happy Christmas holidays that over intramural basketball will undoubtedly again be a center of conversation in the boarder houses, jolly-tons, "ballrooms", class rooms, and such places. Friendships will be formed; one's "enemies" will abound; basketball will be eagerly seen the sports page of the Egyptian for league standings and results of favorite games. Last minute flashes of the latest games will keep the gony boy raving. Competition should be keener this year than ever before.

There are rumors of new teams entering this season. One that has already entered into the league competition is a new team, the "Famous Fantastic Fatal Phantoms of 511".

Already many of the teams have started play. The Dumbars, last year's runner-up to the Carter's Aces, have played a series of games already this fall. It appears that they will be a more energetic contender than ever before.

One of the most rough and tumble battles to date was the Chi Delta Chi and Kappa Delta Alpha pledge tussle. Although the KDA's were victorious, the Chi Delt looked very good.

Until after the Christmas vacation is over we will not be able to tell if Carter's Aces will be able to retain their title. Though they have "Kendrick" Wash and Dempster as a nucleus, it is rumored that they are asking Santa for another Sebastian; perhaps they should wish upon a star for a star.

Possibly the only existing accurate portrait of William Barrett Travis, commander of the Illinois' Alamo, is housed in the University of Texas library. Journey to Chicago to participate in a triangular meet with Illinois and Chicago, Coach Di Giovanni is attempting to schedule another triangular meet with Iowa of the Big Ten and Nebraska of the Big Six.

TENNEY AND HILL
RULES FOR I. I. A. C.

New Code Aims at Proving Championship Team
For I. I. A. C.

A new code of rules governing the Illinois Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament held this spring, which was drawn up by Southern tennis men, Dr. Charles Tenney, and Emeritus Hill, coach of the State Normal tennis team, will next spring provide for a championship tennis team instead of only individual champions in the singles and doubles divisions. These new rules drawn up by Tenney and Hill were accepted by the I. I. A. C. representatives at their annual winter meeting in Chicago two weeks ago. No Team Champion. Hereafter, unlike the other conference sports, no school has official status as the national champion for themselves, the I. I. A. C. officials championship, since no adequate method of deciding a championship team was in use. Of course, if a team gathered a goodly percentage of individual awards, it would be classed as the national champion. This was the case last season when Southern's Bruce Church topped the singles title, and the doubles team of Jack and Verdie Cox, and of Max Schard and Church, placed second in their respective doubles competition in Bloomington. Though without doubt, as their wins show, the Southerners were the most powerful squad at the meet, yet they could not rightfully claim themselves the champions of the conference.

Rules Provision. These new rules provide for four divisions of singles competition and two divisions of doubles competition. Each school may thus enter four singles contenders, and two doubles teams. The divisions will be made according to rank. The top ranking player from each school will compete against the top ranking player from the other conference member schools; the second ranking players will compete against each other and so on.

The winner of the number one ranking division will be designated as the official I. I. A. C. singles champion. The same procedure will hold true in the doubles competition. Points will be given for winners, runners-up, and consolation division and the team which collects the highest total of points in all competition will become the I. I. A. C. champion.

ANNOUNCES '41
GRID SCHEDULE

With the 1940 football season just barely over, already Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin has announced his schedule for the next season. Although this season the Maroons participated before home fans only three times, next year they will have the opportunity to play at home at least four games and very probably on a fifth occasion. Next year's schedule will feature one new team, the Southern list of competitors. This team, the Junior College of the University of Tennessee, Martin, Tennessee, played against the Maroons some years ago; the game will be played on the local arena, Mackey's gym, on Saturday, September 27, and October 4, remain open and it is probable that some other new team will be looked for an appearance at the local stadium on one of those times. It is of note that the new schedule includes only one game with an neighbor, teams, the Cape Girardeau Indians. For some time the Maroons and the Missourians have played two games per season, but this year their lone meeting will be at Cape on Thursday, November 20, which will very likely be some one's Thanksgiving Day. The schedule to date is as follows: September 27, Saturday, open; Saturday, October 4, open; Saturday, October 11, Arkansas State, here; Saturday, October 18, Missouri, here; Saturday, November 15, Normal, there; Saturday, November 1, DeKalb, here; Saturday, November 8, Marquette, here; Saturday, November 15, University of Tennessee Junior College, here; and Thursday, November 20, Cape Girardeau, there.

Maroon cagers will postpone their Christmas vacation year; try in order to encounter Southwestern Louisiana while visiting there tomorrow night. While having a clean home white which already has two credit marks on the scoreboard, the Maroons will attempt to close the 1940 portion of the current basketball season with another victory.

Practices of the past week, centered around the improved ball handling and shooting work. Since the opening of the schedule against Arkansas State on December 5, Coach Martin's men have shown their passing and reception to be on the upgrade. However, the fumbles mowed-up in the Carbonade game, which were the cause of a Thursday game, evidence of the necessity of further drill.

Shamodic scoring sprees last week, too, added to the expectations that the Maroons will find their offensive attempts clicking better as the season progresses.

Although late changes may double the one or two reserves to varsity starting positions, the Southerners will probably open their attack against the Louisiana team with the line-up of Coach Martin, Gene Echols, forward; Bob Carroll, center; Bob Gray and John Sebastian, guards. Chief among the candidates who are pushing varsity men for their positions are Bruce Church and Verdie Cox, two experienced junior forwards. Terry Durham, Carroll's line-up alternate, and Fred Campbell, Gene Echols, and Ed Moody, a trio of promising fresh, having lettered last year in basketball, Church, Cox and Durham are dependable material with experience in intercollegiate card competition. The three freshmen, though newcomers to Southern's athletic scene, have shown sufficient ability, particularly as full backfield and have shown warning of offering stiff competition for Maroons' starters.

KDA PLEDGES DOWN
CHI DELTS 23 TO 18

Two basketball teams representing the pledge classes of Kappa Delta Alpha and Chi Delta Chi fraternities, and made up of players who were all "pretty good in high school," battled in a thrilling "grudge" battle last Thursday evening on the cage court in the Old Science building; the KDA pledges emerged the victors on the long end of a 23 to 18 score. The game at the start was a very close and fast one, but the Chi Delt pledges playing more consistent ball than their opponents pulled ahead to lead at half time 12 to 6.

The Kappa Delta Alpha pledges, however, began to sharpen their shooting eyes during the second half, when they outscored the Chi Delt pledges on the cage court and went on to win by the five point margin. Mangold took scoring honors for the winners with eight tallies while his teammate, Brewer, was runner-up for the victories with a total of six.

The officials of the game were Mel Paul and Howard Hoop.

Last Year's Winners
With a 23 to 18 win over the 1929-40 edition of Coach McAndrew's court squad, Southwestern Louisiana is aiming for a second conquest. News from the invaders' campus indicates that Carl Hurst, a veteran center, will again be the mainstay of the team, though he was in last year's encounter on the local court. Hurst tallied twenty-one points to stand out as the evening's individual ace. Around the scoring sheet the visitors will have a team of experienced cards which has shown continued power in games so far in the present season.

CALVIN COLE SUBSTITUTES AT PINCKNEYVILLE

Calvin Cole, senior student at S. I. N. U., is substituting agricultural classes at Pinckneyville High school this week and next in place of the regular instructor, Louis Tompleton, who is ill.

Cole was Illinois 4-H club champion in 1934 in the production of anchored lumbered pine sawing and was one of the representatives of Illinois at the 4-H club congress and the annual National Livestock Exposition. He was awarded state farmers' degree at the University of Illinois in 1934.

SPORT CANDIDS

Are seemingly being integrated with the winter activities. At least that is the way it appears after the establishment given by Dolores Meinloph, freshman.

Miss Meinloph demonstrated the possibilities involved in such an addition of winter extra-curricular, by falling in front of the gymnasium as she was rushing outside from her P. E. class. She also was brought to light the fact that aerobics can be well used in gym activities, for she made a type of three point landing the envy of most young cadets. Miss Meinloph in reference to the fall sport stated in so many words that she understood well why airplanes were equipped with ball-joint rubber tires. There has been no factual background, however, for her potential wing-spread at the time of her first solo flight.

Showers Bring Other Things

Besides flowers. In the gym, with the installation of twenty sprinklers, there has been an encouraging number of towels brought to use. And if the amount of spraying done has anything to do with religion, (as stated in the Bible) there is surely reason to believe that the sporting woman are fast becoming cleansed to a healthy wholeness.

Double thanks to the investigators, for seeing through to this necessary luxury, and no one could possibly doubt the appreciation for the new facility.

Hockey Sticks Arrive—But After Season Closes

It certainly is a funny world. We have been all turned around here for the P. E. department. New hockey equipment has just arrived, after all, thought of playing hockey is pushed aside. Now there is talk of having a spring season so that the graduating seniors can use the new equipment. By the time the ground is in condition for playing, seniors will be on busy time with teams from Murray and Arkansas State, each of which won five debates last year.

Debate Coach Orville Alexander is now making plans to enter four teams in the tournament at Old Normal on January 19 and 21.

By the way, Miss Chandler's show is the direct opposite of Sonia Healey's. The difference lies in the dynamic acrobatics of one and the graceful beauty of the other.

Not for any particular editorialized reason, but if this school were identified with a swimming pool and a skating rink, there would be no time for anything but favorable comment from students, sporting and otherwise. Not every one can perform on the ice like Evelyn Chandler, or swim like a flying fish, but every one can learn to skate or swim and receive the benefits of being a resource personage. FINIS! From Other Courts

Come the tidbits that start new ideas. Particularly interesting is the news item taken from the Illinois College Hampton, which states that plans are being made for having the gymnasium open on one evening a week for co-educational sports.

EIGHT OF TWELVE DEBATES WON BY VARSITY TEAM

The S. I. N. U. debate team won eight of twelve debates at the Murray tournament in Kentucky last Saturday. The two teams were composed of Mary Hehmann and Carl McIntyre, Isabel Marshall and Wesley Reynolds.

Forty-five teams representing schools from Kentucky, Illinois, Tennessee, and Arkansas were present. The best records were made by teams from Murray and Arkansas State, each of which won five debates and lost one.

CHRISTMAS SONNET

A candle in the window there shall be,
That makes a flickering pathway to the snow;
The silver stars above reflect their glow
In flashing sparks upon a tinsel tree.
The holy wreaths at doors their greetings share
With every passerby within the street,
And carolers, their voices low and sweet,
Lift peace and joy into the wintry air.
This is the song that I would sing tonight—
This is the message I would bring to you:
Open your hearts and give your dark thoughts light;
Open your hearts to love and peace anew.
On Christmas Eve let's keep our spirits bright—
Put one more star of good will on review.

Freshmen Classes Prepare To Jolly Old Nick

Know we really know that Christmas is near. All freshman classes are preparing for the Christmas dance and singing the tunes today. Some have already started on Wednesday and Thursday. This is an annual event and has come to be looked upon as a tradition.

FRESHMEN FIND NEED FOR PERSONAL EDDY

The regular gym classes have been taking lessons in rhythm. They have been learning to dance the old square waltz and the polka of the late nineteenth century. In addition they have also learned how to dance the steps shown in "Billboard". If only Nelson Eddy were here to teach the steps.

ACTION! CAMERA! SHOT!

Action of snaps of woman's sports were taken in the gym Monday after ninth hour basketball, volleyball, golf and badminton were played and the better plays were snapped. The pictures are to be used in the Official.

LOIS LEE SMITH TRACES HISTORY OF CREAL SPRINGS SEMINARY AND GIVES PICTURE OF EARLY COLLEGE

Mrs. Gertrude Brown Murrah, Only Woman in So. Ill. With Degree, Was First Principal

Reviewed by Jane Cleiton
Miss Lois Lee Smith, senior at Southern and a history major, presented a paper, "Creal Springs Seminary, 1834-1919," before the recent meeting of the Southern Illinois Historical Society in Eldorado. This paper was written for the History Seminar last winter.

old and feeble and were unable to hire others to take their places."
Miss Smith, concluded her paper by stating that the Creal Springs Seminary served the region well in its day when limited transportation facilities prevented students from traveling far from home for an education. Small denominational schools with little endowment, such as this, were unable to meet the state requirements in many departments.
The Seminary was in the vanguard in the vision of its founders was to take the lead in the scholastic field of Southern Illinois. But circumstances, economic and otherwise, changed the trend of history and here is an institution that was caught in that trend to meet its fate."

B. S. U. Caroling Party Planned For Tuesday

Members of the Baptist Student Union and their friends will leave for the West and Grand Canyon church at 8:45 next Tuesday morning, December 15, to Carol for the various homes of Carbondale.
"Adding the caroling at 8:30 the group has planned to return to the church for the regular meeting of the Y. W. A. (at which the men will be guests) and a song program as the climax of the evening." It has been estimated that about one hundred students will sing in this group.

Education Sorority Holds Luncheon

The regular meeting of the Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, national educational society, was held Saturday, December 7, at the Broadview hotel in East St. Louis.
The meeting, which was conducted in the form of a luncheon, was presided over by the following: Co-president members: Dr. Mary Stegall, Miss Charlotte Zimmerman, Miss Maude Mayhew, Miss Jewell Trulove and Miss Mary Entsminger.
Plans are now being made to hold the annual banquet of Delta Kappa Gamma at the Statler hotel in St. Louis. Guest speakers for the occasion will be the national president, Dr. Emma Rinehart, of Charleston, Illinois, and Dr. Jesse Barker of Normal, Illinois.

LARGE TURN-OUT AT STUDENT COUNCIL DANCE DESPITE RAIN

In spite of a constant downpour Friday night a large crowd turned out for the first Student Council dance of the year. With an enormous decorated Christmas tree, a huge Santa Claus, and the singing of Christmas carols, the proper yuletide spirit was lent.
The unexpected crowd that turned out in the rain for the Christmas dance was unanimously agreed upon to the success of the Student Council dance. Vernon Peak and his well known orchestra furnished the music for the evening, and a great many were glad to hear their friends and former "Sponees" cheer Mrs. Kempf, sing the leading solo number after the Christmas holidays.

Miss Smith traced the history of this school from its founding in 1834. In the one-time resort city to its conclusion in 1919 when it was forced to close because it could not compete with state supported schools. Gertrude Brown Murrah, the only woman in Southern Illinois who held a degree at that time, was the unanimous choice of the people of Creal Springs to be the principal of this seminary. Her husband, Henry Gay Murrah, general manager of the building, and teacher of history and civil government, was the contractor who built the large four-story school and dormitory building. "A wooden fence enclosed the five acre tract of land. Besides the main building, there was a barn, a chicken house, and a potato house. There were still three other structures on the premises. . . . They were the same sort of buildings the immortal Chas. Sale wrote about in his book, 'The Specialist.'"

Entrance requirements then were somewhat different than they are now. "One of the prerequisites for entering Creal Springs Seminary was a letter of introduction from some responsible person to the principal. . . . In the early days, the principal was the only one in charge of admission and would promise to keep all the rules and regulations of the institution for Creal Springs was recommended to only those active, energetic young men and women of good character who were getting a good thorough education at small cost."
At first the seminary offered four years of academic work and two years of college course. "Year by year the school enjoyed increasing prosperity and became firmly established as one of the best institutions of learning in Southern Illinois."

"Examinations were held in the various classes at the end of each term. Since these exams were given, they were among the most important exercises of the school. The pupils' fathers and mothers as well as their other relatives and friends would come to witness each pupil take his exams. Nobody was excused unless he was ill."
Baptists Buy School.
On January 5, 1834, the school was sold to the Baptists' denomination because the Methodist church felt the cause of education would be strengthened under such Christian influence. The charter secured from the state related the school to the rank of a college, and the old name Creal Springs Seminary was thus changed to Creal Springs College and Conservatory of Music.
Only six persons presented themselves for admission the opening day of school on September 22, 1834, but during the year 1839-10, the attendance was 104, the largest enrollment in the history of the school."

The school closed on December 24, 1919, because of the lack of finances. The Baptists had contributed no money; the only advantage that they had given to the school was publicity through the association. They also obtained attention for the school. The Murrahs had group

Christmas Morning

'Twas the morning of Christmas, And all through the house, Everything was stirring, Including the mouse.
The beautiful Christmas tree, whose base had been covered with beautifully wrapped gifts, now is a tangled mass of wrappings. To and from cards litter the floor; strigs, ribbons, and boxes make the place look like a fire sale.
Dad, wearing his new smoking jacket and smoking his new pipe, has completely forgotten his complaints about his muddled shirts. He has turned his attention to Junior's electric train. His mechanical weakness has already doomed him, and the transformer of Junior's train lies in a scattered array.
Mother, who is sure in dismay because of the mess, house is trying out her new waffle iron. By the time the house is settled down, she will have enough good (all except the first two which were burnt) waffles to feed an army.
Bud, from college, dressed in a combination of new, sport coat and suit, is having the time of his life with his new record player, "Sugar Blues", "Rum Boogie", and "Beat Me Daddy Eight to the Bar" can be heard above the running of the electric train, and the shot of a German gas pump high school beam, is in a rage. Her Arcadia sweater a make-up kit with raspberry lipstick, when he knew perfectly well that she used deep purple. Father's comment—"she's too young to wear lipstick" may say."

Armed Junior is a beehive of activity. A gun on each hip and a drum at his disposal promises no after-dinner nap for anyone. He seems to have forgotten his electric train, because daily wanted to play with it.
The mouse? He's happy as can be; he heard May call Bud a "big punk" of cheese.

Little Egypt's Monastery

Near the present site of the Egyptian Night Club at Wetung, Illinois, stands a huge shell of a building, dilapidated, run-down, and starkly empty that it is now, once this building housed "The Canonical Priory at Cluay." This vacant structure was once a monastery.
As early as 1820 the Benedictine Fathers of St. Vincent's Abbey at Latrobe, Pennsylvania, considered the establishment of a monastery in Little Egypt. A father was sent to investigate the possibilities and he managed to secure a donation of some property. Four fathers and two lay brothers set up residence in an old building standing on the property.
It was not until 1832, however, that a new monastery was begun, and on Easter Sunday in 1833 the Priory was completely occupied. It was an imposing two-story affair containing a large dining room with a kitchen, a classroom with a library, two dormitories, ten small rooms, and a large chapel. It was constructed of native timber.
Father Oswald, the one and only active priest at Cluay, was the real driving power behind the enterprise. He was distinguished both for his holiness and his scholarship, as he had once been rector of the seminary at St. Vincent and was an authority on church history. He was extremely pious, and regarded that the liturgy of the church be carried out in exactitude. On the day of his death he was carried into the chapel so that he could sing the divine office with his brothers. The chief source of in-

Kappa Delta Alpha Gives Annual Winter Formal

The annual Kappa Delta Alpha winter formal was held last Saturday night in the Little Theatre.
The room was decorated with holly and cedar. In the center of the floor was a large Christmas tree illuminated with blue lights. Favours were combination dance programs and address books made of white leather with the fraternity crest on the cover.
Music was furnished by Owen Zick and his orchestra.

come of the priory was his monthly publication, Die Legende, which he edited for seven years.
This remarkable man died in 1901 with his death came the dissolution of the monastery. The new Prior suggested his removal to a more suitable location. The chapter transferred its holdings to Muenster, Saskatchewan, and the last priests and lay brothers left the building in the summer of 1902. The building rapidly fell into disrepair.
The chief reason for the abandonment of the enterprise was the unfavorable sanitary conditions of the site. Of the 964 acres belonging to the Benedictines, the greater portion was in the swamps along the Grand river. During the hot, humid summer days, clouds of mosquitoes and flies, created intolerable torment, as well as causing considerable disease. The monastery was doomed from the beginning.
It is hard to picture monks working in the fields, praying to God in their chapel, singing their solemn Latin hymns, here in Southern Illinois. Monasteries in Italy, Spain, Austria—yes; but not here. It seems almost impossible in our prosaic, matter-of-fact setting.
And yet, the Canonical Priory of the Benedictine Order at Cluay is an actual historical fact.

SHORTAGE OF TRAINED MEN IN AIR SERVICE, SAYS BAILEY A. WRIGHT, CIVILIAN PILOT TRAINING EXPERT

By LORRAINE DITZLER.
There is a shortage of trained men in the air service today, according to Bailey A. Wright, supervisor of civilian pilot training in the Beoria district, in his address at the college assembly exercise last Thursday morning. Aeronautics factories and aeronautics schools will be able to use all the pilots trained by the C. P. T. in the next few years.
The civilian pilot training program is a division of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, under the United States Department of Commerce. Mr. Wright stated that his work has become purely a preparatory program, not strictly military but to have men partially trained for military service in case of war. "The only requirement," he told the students, "is that you sign a clause that in case you are needed, you will accept military service with the air force."
The "coordinator for the C. P. T. program at S. I. N. U. is Dr. O. B. Young, head of the physics department. Two courses are offered: the primary or private training course; and the restricted, commercial course.
Credit Toward Graduation.
Six quarter hours of credit toward graduation are given for the primary training, which involves 72 hours of class work, and 35 hours of flying taken at Marietta. To enter, a student must be of sophomore standing and must pay a total fee of about $25.00. A student entering the restricted commercial course must have finished his sophomore year by the end of the period, must pay a fee of approximately $36.00, does 35 hours of flying, and receives 12 hours credit.
Students finishing both courses may become "apprentice-instructors" in some schools and finish their

Rushing is Guest of Honor at Hall Christmas Dance

Harwood Hall celebrated its annual Christmas dance last night with Maxine Rushing, newly elected honorary member of the Hall, as guest of honor.
Mr. and Mrs. Francis Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heinz, Mr. Robert Bulla, and Miss Katie Ross acted as chaperones.
The Hall was decorated in the Christmas spirit, with a Christmas tree, a roaring fireplace, and sprigs of mistletoe.
After an evening of dancing, Christmas carols were sung around the fireplace.
The Hall's annual Christmas banquet was also observed this week. The same guests were present, with the addition of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Lentz.
After the banquet, Mr. Lentz spoke briefly to the Hall members.

NEW ACTIVITY TICKETS EMERGE AS RESULT OF HARD WORK OF S. I. N. U. PHOTOGRAPHIC SERVICE

Almost every student has by this time a new activity ticket with the picture on the left side and the words: "Southern Illinois Normal University Activity Ticket 1940-41. Non-transferable" beside the picture. Although these small tickets may not appear to be so hard to make, when one considers that more than 2000 of them were made, he realizes it may develop into a huge task.

Out of a discarded music stand, a piece of lumber and some wire the members of the photographic department made a stand into which a board bearing each student's name, major subject and classification were put and photographed along with the student.

A copy of the ticket was pasted on a large piece of cardboard and photographed, leaving vacant the place where the picture should be. A small negative the size of the tickets was made of the copy and the negative of each student's picture placed over the vacant place in

NEW BUILDING PLANS REVEAL SIZE MUST BE REDUCED AGAIN

State architects working on the next addition to Southern's campus, the new training school, have revealed that at least six feet will have to come off the plans for the building. This necessity arose upon a recalculation of the estimated costs as compared with the $500,000 budget allowed for the building.

This considerable cut in the space will be divided among a great many departments, but will probably be evidenced rather strongly in the home economics suite.

Sketches of the building as it will appear when completed have been received by Dr. Bruce W. Murwin, director of training appointments, who is in charge of the plans.

TWO OF EVERY FIVE STUDENTS READ EDITORIAL MATTER OF SCHOOL PAPER, POLL FINDS

Do college students read the editorials in their campus newspapers? The college editor often feels what may be the apparent utility of composing and publishing editorial comment, but statistics on college readership habits just produced by Student Opinion Surveys of America bring a new note of encouragement and furnish one measurement of the power of the undergraduate press.

Nearly two out of every five students in a national sampling declared that they had read the editorial matter in the current issues of their respective school papers published within the past year, being conducted.

Interviewers over a cross section of representative colleges and universities stopped students on their campuses, and placing before them the editorial page of their own newspapers, asked, "Have you read any of the editorials on this page?" Those who answered yes were further queried, "Completely or only partly?" Here is the national tabulation:

Had read editorials—
Completely.....	39%
Only partly.....	35
Had not read editorials.....	26
Only 2 per cent of the students contacted declared they did not remember.

It is not possible to assume that those who said they had read the articles only in part may be included with the regular editorial-reading public college newspapers enjoy. Some of the "part readers" may have gathered the gist of the articles, while others may have read just a few lines. What is sure, however, is that only one-fourth of the national enrollment during this typical week selected for the survey had not as much as skimmed the editorial columns.

The following sectional tabulations reveal that although reading practice is quite uniform over the country, students in Western schools are the most avid readers:

Read: All Part None
New England.....	34% 33% 33%
Middle Atlantic.....	36 46 16
East Central.....	38 35 28
West Central.....	45 34 21
South.....	23 26 41
Far West.....	51 26 21

Barton, Krause, and Van Riper Will Attend Geography Meetings

Dr. Thomas Barton, Dr. Joseph Van Riper, and Miss Annamaria Krause will represent S. I. N. U. at the National Council of Geography Teachers at the University of Louisiana, Baton Rouge, La., December 27 to 31.

Dr. Barton is serving as chairman of the national nominating committee.

The first two days will be devoted to reading of papers prepared on different phases of geography. The other three days will be devoted to field trips through Louisiana.

The American Association of Geographers will also meet at the University of Louisiana at the same time. Dr. Barton, Dr. Van Riper and Miss Krause will attend this meeting also.
