LINCOLN'S ANSWER

Today marks the anniversary of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln.

His life and the road he followed from the log cabin to the White House to become the United States' sixteenth president has been perpetuated through the years and has been a source of inspiration for people of all nationalities, creeds, and races.

Lincoln had an unaltering belief in truth. This was brought out in his answer to the accusation that he employed propaganda tactics. His answer was: "You can fool some of the people all of the time; you can fool all of the people some of the time; but, you cannot fool all of the people all of the time."

Another of his answers which is especially timely now was recorded on a memorandum at the White House December 3, 1864. It reads as follows:

"On Thursday of last week, two ladies from Tennessee came before the President, asking release of their husbands held as prisoners of war at Johnsons' Island. They were put off until Friday, when they came again, and were again put off until Saturday. At each interview, one of the ladies urged that her husband was a religious man, and on Saturday the President ordered the release of the prisoners, when he said to this lady:

"You say your husband is a religious man, tell him when you meet him, that I am not much of a judge of religion, but that, in my opinion, the religion that sets men to rebel and fight against their government, because, as they think, that government does not sufficiently help some men to eat their bread in the sweat of other men's faces, is not the sort of religion upon which people get into heaven."

CORRECT THE TIME

One of the inescapable prerequisites of an efficient educational institution is its adherence to a consistent and well defined schedule. These schedules must necessarily exert their influence upon the conduct of classroom activities. These activities are to be conducted according to a schedule, with a minimum amount of confusion and disorder. This demands that some correct standard of time be employed and maintained throughout the school and its many halls of learning.

A review of the situation here on campus reveals that glaring inconsistencies exist among the various clocks which are supposed to regulate our class activities. The occasion is indeed rare when one can find the classroom clocks to be within three or four minutes of correct radio time. It is not at all uncommon to find these timepieces to be eight or ten minutes too fast or too slow. Not infrequently does it happen that two or three such clocks will register two or three different readings; all of which are incorrect.

It readily becomes apparent that such conditions can foster nothing more than confusion and inconvenience. Very often an unsuspecting student will learn that he must interrupt the lecture by his tardy entrance, merely because he is going by "Central Standard Time." This often necessitates a re-check of the class role by the professor, which is not conducive to classroom effectiveness.—R.G.

LINCOLN SETS THE PACE

"So you think you got it rough huh, Vet? Well, you have a worthy predecessor who happens to have a birthday this month. Who? Abe Lincoln.

The "rail-splitter" as he was affectionately, and sardonically known, by his friends and enemies, respectively, sets an example for many a poor G. I. struggling for an education today.

Lincoln, too, spent many a weary hour in a cold, drafty room poring over his books, all the while existing on a stipend that would barely keep him in hard-tack

Let's Ignore Your Mind

By Rod Knotts

The Ice Man Cometh—too darned often. It's not that we mind sliding out of Old Main on our left ear; it's not that we don't think it's real exhilarating the way cold waves chase each other around creating snow, sleet, and slush, but we have noticed that Southern students habitually wear shoes instead of skis and as far as we are concerned the local ice can be donated to Sweden and the olympics. Not being all wrapped up in winter sports we prefer Spring at Southern.

Speaking of Spring, this year's Spring Carnival should be one for the books. This comes from no less an authority than that showman extraordinaire—Bill Price. We quote Price's statement "This year the Spring Carnival can, and should be, bigger than Homecoming."

Speaking of prices we have heard that coffee costs 7c around the campus of a certain Champaign school. If such inflation invades Southern, it will make the cost of breakfast prohibitive for the veteran student, in addition to ruling out a lot of coffee dates.

Speaking of dates, these are some that Southern students won't want to miss. On February 12 the Student Council of Southern presents a free-all-school dance in the Men's gym featuring the music of Ernie Limpus and his orchestra. On February 11th, 13th and 16th various campus organizations present talent unlimited in the Little Theatre's annual one-act play contests.

THE CORN CRIB

Edited by Wallace Peebles

Little Willie, having just been given a new bicycle, was showing off for his mother. Riding around the block he passed in front of the house and performed his first trick. "Look, Mom," he said, "no hands." Around he went again and returned this time with both his hands and feet in the air. "Look, Mom," he shouted, "no hands, no feet." Again he rode around the block, this time taking a little longer. Presently he returned and as he rode slowly by he smiled and said, "Look, Mom, no teeth."

SOUND ADVICE: If she looks young, she's probably old; if she looks old, she's probably young; if she looks back, follow her.

"I was an old newspaper man." "Why did you quit?" "There's not much money in old newspapers."

Here's to a little doggie that met a little tree. The little tree says, "Come, pup, have one on me."

The little pup replies as gentle as a mouse. "No, thanks, little tree, I just had one on the house."

Then there was the little musical fish that grew up to be a piano tune.

"Your father has been captured by cannibals."

"So that's what's eatin' the old man."

Mary had a little lamb. A hunter shot it dead. Now it goes to school with her. Between two hunks of bread.

Modern Meanings Pink elephant: Beast of bourbon. Rebate: Putting another worm on the hook.

Old Maid: Young woman who has been looked over and then overlooked. Tomhawk: Something which if you wake up without no hair, an Indian has been there with.

and midnight oil. Abe was known, in his younger days, to have walked many miles for a book he wanted to read. Most people today wouldn't do that even for one of Thorne Smith's books.

Although Lincoln was known as a humanitarian and emancipator, he has caused many adolescents to suffer with his "Gettysburg Address." As one student said when his teacher asked him what he thought of the "Address," "Frankly teacher, I wish he had never lived here!" —J. S.

BAPTISTS TO HOLD EMPHASIS WEEK AT FOUNDATION

This week is Sunday School Emphasis Week at the Baptist Foundation emphasizing evangelism in the Sunday School. Outside speakers are Dr. Harold E. Ingram, Business Manager, Baptist Sunday School League, Chicago, Ill., and Mr. Jesse Daniel, superintendent of evangelism, Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville. These men will speak in the Foundation classes throughout the week as well as Tuesday, Thursday nights at the Foundation, and Wednesday night at Walnut Street Church. Dr. Ingram will be the Noon day chapel speaker Thursday at 12:30, and anyone may have a personal conference with him or Mr. Daniel Thursday afternoon.

FILE SURVEYS AT GUIDANCE CENTER

George Langdon, veterans' training officer, has announced that the guidance center maintains a file of surveys which have been conducted to determine job opportunities available in this part of the country.

The following excerpts from more recent surveys are typical of the vast amount of information furnished to them.

The latest survey indicated that the Austin company, 310 N. Dearborn st., Chicago, needs draftsmen with some architectural experience.

It also showed that Alden, 511 S. Paulina st., Chicago, will hire several young men with excellent grades in the mail order division. Applicants should be under 28 years of age and have college training.

This particular study also revealed that veterans who will complete courses in accounting and business administration during the first six months of 1948 may anticipate the greatest demand for their services since 1945, and possibly the best job market in Chicago's economic history. This information was obtained from employers of 22 private employment agencies, including bookkeeping and accounting personnel to Chicago business houses.

Veterans may readily have access to such information by personally contacting Langdon at his office at 1613 Thompson street.

In addition to these job opportunity surveys, the Veterans' Administration maintains a list of many technical schools which have been approved for training by the V.A. These schools are now offering training aid instruments to the one conducted by Rogers Hornsby for young baseball hopefuls.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO G. I. BILL

The proposed amendment to the G. I. Bill of Rights, if passed, will pay $75 to single veterans with $105 to married veterans with no dependents. Married veterans with dependents will receive $120.

George M. Langdon, of the Veterans' Guidance Center, advises that the school is to be given a copy of their children's birth certificate to the center to have it recorded. In this manner, considerable time may be saved if the bill is passed.

Since this column has been designated space in future issues of the Egyptian by the "Chief" (the Editor), I will be passing on to you rest any and all information which I am able to unearth in my wanderings about. . . . So I'll be saying, "So long, and I'll be seeing you next week if I don't draw K. I. or guard duty over this weekend."

PRESBYTERIAN CLUB CHANGES MEETING TIME

The Presbyterian supper club will meet this week at 5:30 p. m. instead of the usual 6:30 p. m. The speaker at the evening will be the Rev. Ernest Harbaugh, of Murphysboro, whose topic will be "The New Life Movement."

MY IMPRESSIONS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA By Jose Luis Reyes-Navarro

As recipient of the first Rotary International scholarship at Southern Illinois University, I write this article to show my attitudes in relation to the exchange of educational values between the peoples of the United States of America and Mexico.

I am sure that we can borrow desirable qualities and customs from each other's folkways and living customs.

My earlier impressions of the people of the United States (and this article to show my attitudes in relation to the exchange of educational values between the peoples of the United States of America and Mexico.)

It seems to me that cooperative and constructive processes, if we have World Peace, education for international understanding, and emotional and economic security, constructive cooperation between individuals, groups and nations are the necessary educational goals of mankind, in this atomic era.

INDUSTRIAL ED. MEMBERS ATTEND EGYPTIAN MEET

Three faculty members of the industrial education department, three students of the department, and Assistant Prof. Mary Louise Barnes of the home economics department attended a joint meeting of the Egyptian and Industrial Education departments at the West Frankfort high school.

Assistant Prof. Robert W. English of the industrial education department, who is chairman of the Round Table, reported that representatives from many surrounding high schools attended the meeting.

Bicknell Speaks Dr. W. C. Bicknell, head of the industrial education department, gave a talk on industrial arts in the modern school. Prof. J. Henry Schoeder of the industrial education department took part in the panel discussion on "Public and Private Industry, Industrial, and Industrial Arts Program."

The three students from Southern who attended were the officers of the Industrial Education Club. These were George Marston, president; Bill Hays, vice-president; and A. W. Ludwig, chairman of the program committee.

makes a good wife and excellent mother; I have learned that the American family does have strong family ties and loyalties, and I have learned this significant fact of overlapping beliefs; that all churches here at the United States have the philosophy of Jesus Christ and the best of both of man as their foundations.

This philosophical fact is important enough to keep carefully in mind, to understand the etiology and constructive processes, if we have World Peace, education for international understanding, and emotional and economic security, constructive cooperation between individuals, groups and nations are the necessary educational goals of mankind, in this atomic era.

And with increasing destructive processes in every day social interaction, it is impossible to produce enough industrial products, and to have prosperity and abundance in this world that is not yet overpopulated.

Seems to me that cooperative and constructive processes, if we have World Peace, education for international understanding, and emotional and economic security, constructive cooperation between individuals, groups and nations are the necessary educational goals of mankind, in this atomic era.

But what desirable qualities and customs, folkways and mores can we exchange from each other? From the United States of America: an open mind about the educational values of every one's religion and philosophies of education, ample opportunities for learning and growth, interest in social life, is lovely and

Two Veterans Housing Projects Furnish Homes For 469 Persons

Rose covered sorority houses and cozy brick bungalows for married veterans are a nice dream but Southern's housing problem has been solved in a more practical manner. Since 1945, progress has been made toward addressing the increased enrollment and find-desirable living conditions with high health standards.

There are 1500 students living in sororities, fraternities and semi-cooperative houses. Organized houses help students learn one of the most important parts of college life, living cooperatively. Householders help by making their rooms follow specifications set up by the school.

The set-up asks that each student have a minimum of 60 square feet of floor space and that a maximum of eight persons share one bath. The number of single beds, individual study tables, and lamps have been increased 40 percent in the last year. Girls have house rules and curfew at 10:30 each night and on week ends 12 midnight. House rules are strict and enforced in the organized houses by the house mother and a student governing group. Girls living with families in town are under the supervision of the house holder and the dean of women.

Veterans' Housing at Projects. Householders help by making their rooms follow specifications set up by the school.

Only Veterans Are Eligible. Applications for apartments are passed upon by a housing committee. Eligibility for one of these apartments requires student applicants to be a service man, veteran or the family of either. Non-veteran faculty members teaching veterans may also live in the units.

Minimum rent is $28.50 per month or one-fourth of $90. Persons earning $200 per month would not pay one-fourth. The charge would depend on the size of the unit, and vary from $32.50 up to $42.50.

To help ease the housing shortage, plans are now under consideration for constructing some self-liquidating dormitories, and a union building. Southern is now a University, with a richer curriculum and it is expected each year more and more students will apply for admission.

Maroons Defeat Northern For Little Conference Win

Maroon basketballers of Coach Lynn Holder checked off their fifth conference win against the Huskies of Northern, outplaying the visitors to win 51-39 on the SIU floor Saturday night. It was the sixteenth in overall competition for the Maroons, compared to two losses.

Slow Start
From the outset of the game, it was apparent that the Southern five was definitely off to their shooting. Maroon Coach Holder had to substitute several times as his starting lineup before he came up with a winning combination. The Huskies played slow, deliberate ball throughout the game, and to substitute several times as his starting lineup before he came up with a winning combination. Play speeded up a little in the second half with the Maroons, led by Bob Colburn and Jack Long, maintaining their 12 point half-time lead throughout the remainder of the game.

Colburn Paces Squad
Forward Bob Colburn led the Southern five in all departments as he tossed in 16 points and played a brilliant defensive game. For Northern, their 7' center, Seagrist, led in the scoring column with 12 points.

The brightest star for the Huskies was their team captain and floor general, Calceci, who played magnificent ball throughout the game.

By Dolan Gieger

The Murphysboro Regional is starting on the same night as the playoff here at Southern. We don't think that any of Southern's fans will pass up the chance to see one of the best quintets in the country in action because of it.

The Maroons have won 16 and lost two games in the present season. The Western Kentucky (17-1) now rated as the first in the nation among all polls, have been beaten by Louisville, who gave W. Kentucky their only defeat; Murray and Louisville Southern players were Murray at Paducah early in the season. Evansville beat Louisville early in the season; Southern has downed Evansville, lost to them,

Southern WAA Host In Sports Meet Last Sat.

Although Southern won only one volleyball game in their Sportsday game last Saturday, it was a success. Southern defeated Illinois. Normal's volleyball squad but lost basketball games to Washington U. and Western State College. Cape Girardeau was victor in both basketball and volleyball and Western also won their volleyball event.

Lunch was served to the coeds by the Delta Phi Kappas PE major society.

Miss Theresa Ivanuk and Jean Steh, P.E. instructors, are leading in the badminton ladder tournament, and Bette Lousdon and Ruth Shafer on the same rung.

Tuesday and Wednesday nights the Modern Dance group is working on "Caprice Vennoise."

Gertrude Lippinott, famous Modern Dancer, will visit Southern's campus on Feb. 25 and 26.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT IEA MEETING

Officers for the coming year were elected at the representative assembly of the southern division of the Illinois Education Association held in the Little Theatre Monday, Feb. 9.

The officers are: President, L. Goebel Patton, principal of the West Frankfort community high school; vice president, Miss Mural, Metropolis; secretary, H. Ellis, principal of the South Side school in Herrin; treasurer, Elbert Fulkeron, university high school professor.

WIN AT WESTERN WILL CINCH IAC TITLE TIE FOR S.I.U.

A victory over Western III, State of Macomb can provide the necessary margin to cinch a tie in the current running of the IAC. The Macomb Leathernecks will be host to the defending champions Friday on the former's court and a week later the Southern cagers will enter the playoffs in the conference race. The Eastern Panthers, a win over Eastern will give the Maroons their third straight title.

In the only other meeting this season of the two teams, Southern picked out a 70 to 58 win over the Leathernecks, after a hard fight. Western's towering six foot six inch center Miksis is the Leathernecks' big offensive gun although he did not fare so well in expectations in the last Maroon encounter. However, even if he fouls out like he did last time, the Western squad has another center, Redman that scores high. He tallied six field goals and four free throws for 16 points and did not play all the game.

Fowler, Smith, Miksis, Will and McClure will be the starting lineup for Western. Colburn, Hughes, Stinson, Shoaff, and Eadie will more than likely constitute the Maroon starting five. Colburn and Shoaff were the offensive catalysts in that game with 23 and 15 points, respectively.

In last season's conference games with Western, Southern defeated the Leathernecks twice by 182 and 58-49 scores, both well-played games.
