ERNEST REED who will deliver the keynote address for the Career Conference at the all school conference kick-off assembly Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in Shryock auditorium. Reed is the education and personnel director of the International Harvester company in Chicago.

Spring Term Registration To Close In Two Weeks

"In just two more weeks, advance registration for spring term will be closed," said acting Registrar Dr. Robert A. McGrath this week. Dr. McGrath said that he could not anticipate the total number of registrants for spring term at this time.

Fee statements will be mailed out to those who have completed registration, starting today. This will give the students a period from two to three weeks in which to pay their registration fees.

Dr. McGrath cautioned that those students who have not completed registration by Feb. 20, or have not paid their fees by Feb. 27, will have to wait until March 16 to register or re-register. Re-registration will be required of those students who complete advance registration but do not pay their fees by the deadline.

Dr. McGrath further advised that any students who have been waiting to register in the hope that certain class sections will be reopened should not wait any longer. "In all probability," he said, "these class sections will not be reopened; therefore, to delay registration in the hope that certain sections will be reopened will only tend to complicate matters for the student."

Students May Be Excused To Attend Career Meet

Arrangements have been made so that SIU students may miss classes to attend sessions of the second bi-annual Career Conference being launched on campus this coming Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock with the keynote speech by Ernest Reed of the International Harvester company in Chicago.

In order to attend a session of the two-day conference students need not make arrangements with their instructors ahead of time but merely need to go ahead and attend the session, said Mrs. Alice Reed, faculty sponsor of the conference.

At the sessions, students will be provided with class absence explanation cards which will be signed by the usher in charge of the particular session to certify that the student actually attended the session. This card can then be presented to the student's instructor as an explanation of his absence at the next time the student attends the class he missed.

Members of the faculty feel that the information and help students will gain from the conference is important enough that next time the student attends the class he missed.

In answer to the question which has been asked about whether student teachers will be able to attend sessions of the conference, Dr. Charles D. Neal, director of teacher training, has announced that he will be most happy to excuse student teachers for the forthcoming conference.

However, Neal pointed out that the student teachers will be dismissed for the performance, which is $50 cents for students and one dollar for others may be purchased in advance at the women's gymnasium at a dancing career at an early time.

Mildred Dilling To Give Concert Here February 16

Miss Frankel began her dancing career in Harrisburg, Penn., at a local ballet school. When she was 12 years old, she spent a summer at the Metropolitan Ballet school in New York City.

SEVERAL YEARS later she received a job on "Dance Magazine," and within five months became an important member of the Charles Weidman Dance company.

Ryder started out in show business while still in his teens when he began studying dancing and acting at the Neighborhood Playhouse in New York City. His first big break came when Martha Graham saw him and included him in her company of top-flight performers.

Our Opinions

Sixty Donate Time To SIU Students

It is a well-known fact that change is the only thing which is constant in this modern age. Along with everything else, careers, too, are changing. This all brings us down to the Career Conference which is just around the corner. This conference, which will be held Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, is designed for the benefit of the students here on our own campus in hopes of helping us know just what changes are taking place in the numerous occupations now in existence throughout the country.

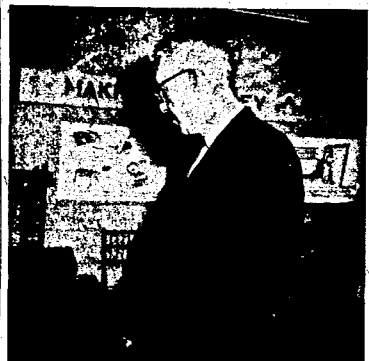

No one will benefit from this conference except SIU students as the conference sessions will get behind information from people who are presently out on the job. They will be able to meet and talk with these people and thus will be able to find out exactly what they want.

These speakers are coming to campus especially for the Career Conference and will receive no benefits from the conference themselves other than the satisfaction of serving our students. These persons are giving their time free just to help realize more about the careers to which they will also help us

Of very special interest to students will be the keynote address of the conference to be given by Ernest Reed, educational and personnel director of the International Harvesters, company in Chicago. Reed will speak in all school assembly Tuesday morning in Shively auditorium at 9 a. m. Reed, who is coming all the way from Chicago with no charge to SIU just to speak to us students. Correspondence received from Reed shows he has a very scintillating personality and keen wit. These qualities alone should make him an interesting speaker. Reed is looking forward to speaking to us, so we in turn should look forward to hearing him, to take advantage of it on the only two days it will be in session when classes are held everyday throughout the term.

Complete, attractive printed programs will be made available to all students for the conference. A program of all sessions will be printed in Tuesday's Egyptian. We urge all students to check the program carefully and to attend all sessions possible — we don't want the 60 speakers to think the gift of their time is not being appreciated.

Students who attend the various sessions of the conference will in all probability gain more information that will be of personal worth to them than they would from their regular class periods. We are not saying that attendance in class is not important, but rather that when we have a conference such as this planned entirely for students it would be a catastrophe for the students not

JOHN ALLEN

Allen Is History Authority

Collects Southern Illinois Folklore, History Data

A man who claims to know something in every nook of Southern Illinois is John Allen, curator of history in the SIU museum. It follows that Allen probably knows more about Southern Illinois history than any other person.

He has written short histories of three counties — Randolph, Jackson, and Pope — and is presently writing the story of Hardin county, and has collected most of the required data for histories of 12 additional southern counties.

ALLEN is a moving storehouse for information, and his collection of lore abounds not only in the factual but also in tall tales, legends, and even some A-1 ghost stories.

For these reasons, he has been asked to write for Southern Illinois newspapers and radio stations a series of weekly features under the general caption, "It Happened in Southern Illinois."

Hundreds of Allen's acquaintances have been made in the process of unearthing rare historical items and folklore of this area.

ALTHOUGH he has never been elected president, he qualifies in at least one respect: he was born in a log cabin near Broughton in Hamilton county. After 27 years of teaching, including administrative positions in Hannsburg, Eldorado, and Fairfield, he joined the SIU staff in 1942 and began his searching for relics and documents of interest and significance to the southern Illinois area.

Korean Vet Reminisces Over War Experiences

By Bob Pops

The crash and burn of 155 bombers is only a memory for Jim Milligan, an SIU student now. A short time ago however, it was very real and near, for Jim is many other Southern veterans' recently finished a ten month tour of Korean duty in the medium artillery. Jim's outfit, the eleventh field artillery of the twenty-fourth division, was one of the best known artillery units in Korea. The eleven was the first outfit in the U. N. forces to fire one million rounds of ammunition at the red army. A more personal achievement was the breaking of the U. S. army firing record. Jim's gun crew attained the firing rate of 9 rounds per minute. This is not an official record, but as far as it is known no other unit has broken it.

Jim, a resident of Carbondale, entered SIU the fall term of 1952. Milligan looks the part of an artilleryman. His 6 foot 3 inch frame has earned him the title of "Big Jim."

Jim arrived in Korea soon after the allied retreat and took part in the drive back to the present U. N. positions. When asked if he has any odd experiences overseas, he told this story. "One day we were all sitting around the gun eating chow. It had been pretty quiet and we weren't expecting anything to happen. One of the guys looked up and there came a Chinese soldier with a sub-machine gun in his hands. 'Or so you take a whole, no one said anything, and then the good side.' I am hungry; I wish to surrender. I would like to trade this gun for a sandwich."

After telling this story Jim said, "You know, we made that guy two sandwiches."

Sometimes, Jim, who is a business major is more worried about counting, freshman English, and other scholastic subjects than Chinese soldierly handshaking machine gun firing. "Would it be good idea, they asked, to make a regional

Instructor Applies Ingenuity Willard Describes Methods of Reaching Objective

Charles Willard, high school English teacher in the University School, apparently believes in traveling the long way around to reach any objective with his students.

In a 2000 word, prize-winning article in the February "English Journal" Willard describes his device of stirring up the enthusiasm of his eleven graders for Stephen Vincent Benet's poem, "The Mountain Whippersnapper," with a whimpering over with exaggeration, the absurd metaphor, a feeling of homesickness, and a determination to win over all obstacles.

BEFORE the students could appreciate the poem, Willard said they needed to know something about the folk heroes of regional America, and the tall tales about them.

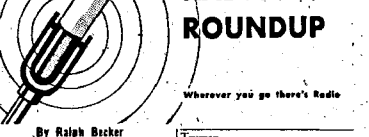

First, he spoon fed the class with "Without Schriener's 'Boone Over the Pacific,' a fast moving tale of three American soldiers trapped in a Canadian toehold who find courage by recalling stories of legendary American heroes, Daniel Boone, Paul Bunyan, and Davy Crockett.

RIGHT AWAY, not unanticipated by Willard, the class began to recall other heroes, John Henry, Pease Bill, and Johnny Appleseed. For good measure Willard tossed in Kyle Fink, Joe Magarac, and Old Sam Johnson — strange names that challenged the students to do some research.

Before long the high schoolers were eating out of Willard's pocket with their hands. "Would it be good idea, they asked, to make a regional

Representatives of the major radio and TV networks met with White House officials last week to discuss operational problems of broadcast coverage. Frank Stanton, CBS president, endorsed the idea of broadcast news conferences. He said "Radio's news coverage should go far toward sustaining the high level of political interest and participation on the part of the American people which radio and television helped to create during the past Presidential campaign."

ABC president Robert E. Kintner said: "We look upon this as a further step in keeping the country fully informed and will cooperate to draw up arrangements with all parties involved."

NBC will welcome the opportunity of having its representatives meet with those of President Eisenhower and the industry to work out special arrangements for carrying forward the plan under construction," NBC president White.

Jack Benny, CBS Radio comedian, will be master of ceremonies at the "Radio's Television Correspondents' Dinner" for President Eisenhower in Washington's Starline Hotel and will be attended by the President, his Cabinet and top Congressional, military and government leaders. The affair is held annually by the radio and television corporations covering the Capitol for the major networks.

Our sincerest compliments go to Jim Kilmann, chairman of last night's Theta Xi Variety Show, for organizing an excellent event.

ABC Radio, carries one hour of continuous comedy tonight beginning at 8 o'clock.

After politely listening to the finished literary products of his class, Willard drew forth Benet's poem. He explains all this preparation was to become all fear the students wouldn't like Benet. "What high school class wouldn't?" he asks.

"All I wanted," he says simply, "was for them to appreciate it. As one of his fellow teachers said admiringly, 'How could they help

A photographic exhibit, "The Navajos," opened this week in the museum annex, first floor Alford Hall, according to J. Charles Kelley, museum director.

The exhibition, prepared by the editors of Life magazine, will be open to visitors through Feb. 16.

Extensive photographic panels depict scenes from the daily life of a single Navajo family and from their rituals and religious customs.

A section also is devoted to some of the problems that Navajo Indians face in trying to adapt themselves to the culture of the Whites.

The photographs deal with a nation that is geographically but culturally distinct from it. Fenced in by an alien world, the 60,000 citizens struggle to exist on land that cannot support them.

In the wild highlands of northern Arizona they have hunted and farmed for 700 years, but before the coming of the white man they always could migrate when resources failed them.

Life photographer Leonard McCombe took the pictures.

First On-Campus Board Conference Held Yesterday

The first on-campus conference of school board members of six area public schools was held at Southern yesterday.

These board members are participating in a year-long project to help them give greater service to their schools.

The conference is under the sponsorship of SIU and the Midwest Administration Center of the University of Chicago.

Dr. Maurice E. Stapley, professor of education at Indiana University, spoke on "Developing and Implementing School Board Rules and Regulations," and Dr. W. W. Carpenter, professor of education, University of Missouri, spoke on "School Boards and Public Relations."

Discussion of the questions and problems of the school board members and an evaluation discussion of the project were participated in by the conference attendants.

The six boards attending the conference were: Belleville, Chester, Edwardsville, Murphysboro, New Haven, and Shawneetown.

Dr. Woodson O. Fishback, SIU consultant for the project, Jacob O. Bach, director of Southern's extension department, and James Cannon, executive assistant of the Extension division, planned the conference.

"Time" magazine recently carried a story of Dr. Fishback's efforts to improve education in areas where the economy is so low that their jobs are all lost.

Shelton Polls Local Citizens

Representative Carbondale citizens are filling out a questionnaire this week prepared by the Illinois Citizenship Program and the Citizenship Education project in Southern Illinois.

According to Dr. William Shelton, consultant for the project, the questionnaire is intended to show which basic principles in citizenship education are acceptable to members of the community as educational objectives in the local schools.

This is the first of three such inventories which will be submitted to teachers and lay citizens. The two later inventories will help schools reach agreement as to whether improvement is needed and, if so, what action should be taken.

Carbondale schools are among the 83 schools currently collaborating with the Citizenship Education project in Illinois. The project is a cooperative effort to sharpen knowledge, understanding, and appreciation of the tradition of liberty in this country," stated Dr. Shelton.

Supper will be Tuesday night, Feb. 24 from 5:00 to 7:00 in the dining room at the Hall. The public is invited to this supper.

General overall chairman for the supper is Ann Steingrub, and the members of the House Council are general committee members.

Cagers Resume Loop Play at Michigan Normal

By Shurahi Deelen
Southern defends its second-place position in the IAC this weekend with games against the league's Michigan schools.
The Salukis play Michigan Normal at Piasa tonight and move on to Mt. Pleasant tomorrow for a tilt with Central Michigan.
Normal's Hornets move into a tie with Southern with a victory tonight. The Salukis' hold second place with a 5-2 record, followed by Michigan Normal with a 4-3.
SOUTHERN BEAT both Michigan schools earlier in the season on the local court. The Salukis edged the Hornets 66-63 and downed Central 59-53.
But both teams have shown improvement since that time and both have won their last three games. The Hornets have a season's record of 6-4, the Chips have 7-8.

Normal has won two conference games each from Western and Illinois Normal and has lost to Southern, Eastern and Northern.
The Chips who are sixth in the league with a 2-5 record, lost five straight conference games to Eastern, Southern, Illinois Normal, Western and Northern before recovering to whip Illinois Normal and Western.
BOTH TEAMS have been idle three weeks since their last conference games, while Southern has played three non-conference foes.
Michigan Normal will be looking for its first victory over a Southern team. SIU has won all four of the previous games. Central Michigan has won one of five previous contests.
Gib Kurtz, sophomore forward and guard, is expected to be back in action for the Salukis tonight after a month layoff. Kurtz has not played since receiving a sprained ankle Jan. 9 against Illinois Normal.
Coach Lynn Holder said he would use his usual starters tonight. That will be Ray Rippelmeyer and Bob Nickolaus at forwards, Chuck Thate at center, Harvey Welch and John Kurtz at guards.
Others making the trip were Jack Morgan and Dan Smith.

Four SIU Cagers Average Over 10 Points Per Game

Four Southern cagers are averaging over 10 points per game with Ray Rippelmeyer leading the race for individual scoring honors.
The Vahnreyer sophomore has 245 points in 15 games for an average of 16.3 per contest.
BOB NICKOLAUS, who has increased his scoring in recent games, now has 199 points for an average of 13.3.
Third in point-making is Harvey Welch with 163 points for an average of 10.8.
Gib Kurtz is sixth in total scoring after missing the past six games with an injury but he has the third highest game average, 11 points.
CHUCK THATE has a 360 field goal percentage, the top shooting record on the team. His total is 127 points, an average of 8.4.
Fifth in scoring, behind Thate, is John Cherry with 115 points for a 7.6 average. In seventh place, behind Kurtz, is Jacques Theriot, with 74 points for an average of 4.9 points per game.
Field goal shooting percentages are as follows: Thate .360; Rippelmeyer .350; Nickolaus .330; Cherry .328; Theriot .319; Kurtz .305; and Welch .292.
As a team, the Salukis are shooting 326 with 356 baskets in 1902 shots. Their opponents have scored 357 baskets in 1098 shots for a 325 percentage.
RIPPELMEYER leads in the number of baskets and free throws scored. He has 80 field goals and 85 free shots.
Nickolaus has 74 baskets, followed by Welch with 60. Kurtz is second in number of free throws with 55, followed by Nickolaus with 51.
Kurtz's free shooting percentage .743, is tops for the team. Other free shot marks: Cherry .740; Rippelmeyer .739; Nickolaus .718; Theriot .667; Welch .632; and Thate .560.
SOUTHERN has made good on 364 of 546 free throws attempted for a .666 percentage. Their opponents have made 330 out of 512 for .644.
In winning 10 games and losing five, the Salukis have scored 1076 points for a game average of 71.7. The opposition has scored 1044 for an average of 69.6.

Coach Lynn Holder will be counting heavily on Ray Rippelmeyer (left) and Gib Kurtz (right) when the Salukis resume conference play at Michigan Normal tonight. Rippelmeyer is currently leading the team in scoring.

Wrestlers Travel North, Face NI and Great Lakes

By Don Duff
Coach Jim Wilkinson's wrestlers, who turned in their best effort of the season against Western last Friday night, will be in search of their third win at Dekalb tonight, where the Salukis will face the Northern Huskies.

After tonight's match, the crew will drive on to Great Lakes, where they will meet the Great Lakes Blue-jackets tomorrow afternoon.

LAST WINTER, Southern was runner-up to the Northern Huskies in the conference meet at Bloomington. Tonight's meet should give an indication of where the power will be in the March 7 conference meet this season. The way it looks now, the title will go to either Southern, Northern or Illinois Normal.

The Normal Redhills opened the season with a 23-3 trouncing of the Salukis. But recent performances show that Wilkinson's crew has progressed rapidly since that initial defeat.

Southern will go into tonight's meet with a record of two wins and four losses. The Salukis held 107-107 victories over Eastern (23-3) and Western Illinois (30-5). Besides the Normal defeat, they have lost to Arkansas State (19-9) and twice to Memphis Navy (19-14 and 14-12).

The Huskies' record now stands at two wins, one loss, and one tie. The Northwestern defeated Eastern 30-0, Western 31-5, and Wheaton College 12-12, and lost to Belmont 16-15.

WILKINSON AND Assistant Coach Russ Bush chose two other wrestlers for the trip. Nick Ver-

Salute Salukis

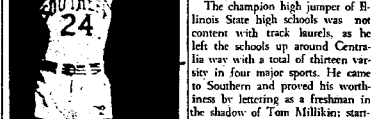

By Jay Hudson
Bob Nickolaus began his basketball career as a fourth grader, and up until now it has been quite a career. The Centralia "jumping jack" came to Southern in the fall of '50, after a rather illustrious high school career.

From what we have seen of Nick's athletic ability here at Southern, we would expect to find Nickolaus with a montage of basketball awards, but, oddly enough, all the medals on Bob's coat are memories of his track and field participation. Bob has, as for-mentions of his cinder escapades, from the high and low hurdle records from the West Frankfort relay and a two for three record in the Ozark A.A.U. high jump. His only loss was to a member of U. S. Olympic track team, Arnold Betton, a former teammate of Southern's Dick Gregor.

The champion high jumper of Illinois State high schools was not content with track laurels, as he left the schools up around Centralia way with a total of thirteen victories in four major sports. He came to Southern and proved his worthiness by lettering as a freshman in the shadow of Tom Miliikan; starting the last six games of his freshman year. Bob's average is in the vicinity of fifteen points per game, which ain't to be sneezed at. His biggest thrill came in the Southern versus Washington University of St. Louis game of the '50-'51 season, in which Bob, then a sophomore, scored the tying points. Southern went on to win 60-58.

The high point totals of Bob Nickolaus in previous games, he scored 24 at Kirkville, leads us to believe that the Centralia "jumping jack" will be the man to call on when the Salukis meet points.

Graduate Requirement Added for Spring Term

A new graduate requirement in physical education has been added for the spring term here at Southern. The course, Curriculum in Physical Education, will be taught by Dorothy Davies, chairman of the Women's Physical Education department.
Class meetings will be each Wednesday at 7 p. m. beginning March 15.
Principles and procedures of program building, the criteria for selecting activities, and the building of a curriculum at all levels of the school program will be covered in the course.

In the upper weights, Huske, Chicago junior, and Kent Werner, Belleville freshman, will do the wrestling. Werner is a heavy-weight.
WILKINSON AND Assistant Coach Russ Bush chose two other wrestlers for the trip. Nick Ver-burst junior, is the leading Northern wrestler with four straight victories, added to his unbeaten season last year.

SEVERAL challenge matches wrestled this week shuffled the Southern varsity line-up. Joe Huske, newcomer to the team, beat Art Hargis to gain the top spot in the 177 pound weight class. The position was left open after Earl Coon broke an arm last Thursday.
After his defeat in the higher weight bracket, Hargis regained a traveling berth by defeating Nick Veremis in a 167 pound challenge match.
The rest of the line-up remains unchanged. Bob Whalen, still undefeated, will be looking for his seventh and eighth victories in the week-end's activities. Whalen, a Chicago sophomore, will wrestle at 12 pounds. Marshall Rippen, Belleville freshman, will again represent Southern in the 130 pound action. Captain Jack Stoudt, Chicago senior, will wrestle at 137; Joe Fedora, Gracis, Chicago junior, will go at 147; Bob Zdenek, La Grange junior, wrestles in the 157 pound class; and Art Hargis, Granite City senior, represents the Salukis at 167.

Several of the teams will arrive

Friday night and will be housed at Anthony Hall and several of the sorority houses.
Registration for the sports day will begin at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and games will be held Saturday morning and afternoon in both the men's and women's gyms.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, the NSWA national basketball officials exam will be given in the women's gym. All those interested in taking this exam, should see Miss Lura Evans in ill. women's physical education department.
The Festival and Foyer concerning will be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Tickets can be purchased from Modern Dance club members or physical education majors. Price is 50 cents for students and one dollar for adults, tax included.

SIU Loses Two Grid Lettermen

Loss of lettermen, that old Southern set-back, trimmed two off the list of returning gridironers last week. Bill O'Brien, head football coach, allegedly hard at work in planning the 1953 campaign, will have to plan without the services of Bill Spratt and Bill Kelly.
Spratt, a Salem, freshman, left school to enter military service. Last season, the hard-biting halfback tackled his way into a permanent position as a line-backer.
Bill Kelly, another freshman letterman, transferred to University of Miami. The Upper Darby, Pa., ex-marine starred the 1952 season as a halfback. Shortly after the campaign opened, he was converted into a front-line defensive end.

To date, O'Brien has lost seven lettermen from last season's third place team.

IIAC Cage Action Starts Again Tonight

The battle for the IIAC crown is resumed this week as all teams see action.
Eastern, the league leader with five straight victories, and SIU both travel into Michigan to play two games with Michigan Normal and Central Michigan.
Western travels to Northern Illinois tonight, then goes to Illinois Normal tomorrow.

- The standings:
1. Eastern (5-0)
 2. Southern (3-2)
 3. Michigan Normal (4-3)
 4. Northern (3-3)
 5. Illinois Normal (3-4)
 6. Central Michigan (2-5)
 7. Western (1-6)
