Revue in Blue, Military Ball hit Southern

Shryock Show At 8 Tonight

Kicking off the AFROTC week-end tonight will be a "Revue in Blue" at 8 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium. The revue will include group numbers by the Singing Squadron, cadet dance combo, Angelaires and Angeletes, in addition to individual numbers.

The Shryock Auditorium show will be composed of and directed by cadets. It is the first such show staged at Southern since the beginning of the local AFROTC unit.

"Holiday in Blue," as the weekend is themed, will be climaxed tomorrow night with the annual Military Ball and crowning of AFROTC queen.

Bobby Christian and his Chicago orchestra will be on the Carbondale National Guard Armory tomorrow evening to provide music for the formal dance.

Thirteen acts have been tabbed for the revue tonight. Individual and small group performances will be given by Jane Cruss, Sandra Mathews and Larry Jarvis. Song and dance sequences include "Sunday," "Blue Skies," "My Funny Valentine," "This Can't Be Love," "Air Force Song" and "Serenade in Blue." The curtain will close to the show-stopping "Wabash Cannonball" with the entire contingent of performers joining talents.

Tickets are on sale at the Student Union and Wheeler Hall for the show at 50-cents per person. Tickets may also be purchased at the door tonight.

Co-chairmen for the weekend are Barbara Gill and Don Spalt. The production staff for the revue includes Glen Dunn, Marvin Howell, Jerry Kay Howell, Nancy Stevenson, Horst Marshall, Fred Sloan, Warren MacMillen, D. O. Canedy, Capt. George M. Carter and Maj. Joseph N. Goodman.

Late Leaves Given For Formal Dance

Girls attending the Military Ball Saturday evening will be granted automatic late leaves to 2 a.m. Sunday. The leaves will not be considered one of the regular five allowed per quarter.

However, the late leaves are ONLY for those girls attending the Ball. Those girls not attending the dance will not receive automatic late leaves, according to Dean Loreta Ott.

C. Dale Fjerstad and Lloyd Binkley, both from the band department of SIU's Alton branch, and William Tarwater of Carbondale campus band department, will attend the North Central Division convention of College Band Directors National Assn. Feb. 11-13 at Indiana University.

Charge Reduced

Hayes, Koopman Suspended, Pay $941 In Damages, Costs

Two SIU students were given a suspended six-month penal farm sentence, fined and recommended for dismissal from college Wednesday on a charge of malicious mischief.

John J. Hayes and William C. Koopman pled guilty to the charge after it had been reduced from a charge of breaking and entering. They were given the six-month sentence to Vandalia, but it was suspended on the condition that they make restitution of 1964 to Smith Appliance Store in Carterville, plus $71 in court costs.

Asst. Dean of Men Joseph F. Zaleski said he had recommended that the two be suspended from Southern for the remainder of the academic year.

Hayes was arrested Jan. 9 on suspicion of breaking into an appliance store and taking two television sets, two portable radios, a steam iron and an electric can opener.

He was charged with breaking and entering, but was released on a $3,500 bond, posted by the University.

Mathis Cancels

Johnny Mathis has cancelled his Midwest tour of the Big Ten Schools and his Feb. 12 concert at Southern.

Mathis' agent called Southern Wednesday afternoon and said Mathis was cancelling the entire tour. He had been signed for two one-hour concerts at Shryock Auditorium a week from tonight, Alpha Phi Omega, who was sponsoring the show, will be refunding money for the tickets to take at noon at the Student Union Ticket Office.

No reason was given for the cancellations.

Every student-owned or operated motor vehicle must be registered with the University.

on the wall, which is the fairest of them all? The five girls surrounding the picture of Barbara Larkin receiving 1961 year's AFROTC crown from Joanne Pratt constitute the queen's court for coronation ceremonies tomorrow night. Miss Larkin will crown the new queen, who will be revealed at the Military Ball at the Carbondale National Guard

Formal Dance, Crowning Of Queen Tomorrow Evening

Southern will be sparking in all its finery tomorrow evening as tuxedo and formal brush together began a five-year tour with the house band at WABC, New York. He began working the NBC Symphony of the Air in 1955 under the direction of the late Arturo Toscanini. The versatile performer toured the Orient with Toscanini and then returned to Chicago to form his dance band.

Christian, a Chicago native, is 37 years old and is the father of six children. He has written each arrangement which his band play.

While Christian was serving as a staff man for ABC, CBS and NBC, he was working under such men as Percy Faith, Paul Whiteman and Meredith Wilson. Bobby manufactured his own library of music before launching his band career. Some of the higher Christian hits have been "My Theme," "Grass-hopper Jump," "Yesterday," "Always," "Caravan" and "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles."

Formal attire for the dance for cadets will be either dress cadet uniform or tuxedo; for veterans, either dress service uniform or tuxedo; and for all other men, tuxedo.

The production staff for the dance is headed by co-chairmen Barbara Gill and Don Spalt. Committee chairmen are: decorations—Al Kelley and Beverly Bessingwer; finance—John Demming and Rochelle Gerlach; tickets—Frank Renaldi and Sue Ellen Slack; physical facilities—John Causey and Judy Bramlett; entertainments—Tom Norris and Mary Demmon; coronation and programs—Ed Payne and Gerri Kay Howell; publicity—Jerry Natterstad and Mary Phillips; transportation—Gary Smith.

and Iris Martin. On the right, top to bottom, are Alberta Bausein, Sue Wolfe, Ernestine Smith, Carol Magee and Jackie Graham.

Finalists were chosen from 35 entrants, all members of the SIU Dames Club and wives of SIU students. Some of the entrants are also students.

Siren Sounds Noon Warning

SIU's storm warning will be sounded at noon today, as it will each Friday through February, as a practice alert. The purpose of the warning is to help students and others to recognize the new ALERT and TAKE COVER signals.

National emergency signals have been changed since the installation of the SIU system. To conform to the new national and area recommendations, the warning signals at Southern have been changed, with the new system going into effect Jan. 29.

The ALERT signal—a steady blast of some three to five minutes duration—means the public should gain access to radio and television to listen for specific instructions, which will be broadcast immediately.

The new TAKE COVER signal, a series of short blasts of three minutes duration, means the public should immediately take cover in the best available shelter.

Southern Offers TV Beauty Class

Mrs. Southern Dance Set Tomorrow Night At Herrin

Ten finalists were chosen Tuesday night in the 1960 "Mrs. Southern" competition. The 10 will be judged tomorrow night in the Dames Club dance and coronation at the Gold Room of Herrin's Lyomar Hotel, with crowning of the winner at midnight.

Comedies Top Movie Hour This Weekend

Tonight's showing of "Operation Mad Ball" begins this weekend's Movie Hour program on campus. Saturday's showing will be "The Affairs of Dobbie Gillis."

"Operation Mad Ball," starring Jack Lemmon, Ernie Kovacs and Kathryn Grant, will run at 8, 9, and 10 p. m. in Furr Auditorium. With the war's end, Jack Leemon, playing the role of an Army private, falls in love with an army nurse, involving others in an increasingly complicated arrangement for an off-limits Mad Ball.

"The Affairs of Dobbie Gillis" is as bright, happy comedy with music, featuring sheer eye-glamour, goodwill, and a bundle of young talent including Debbie Reynolds and Bobby Van. The movie will be shown at 6:30 and 8:30 p. m., also in Furr Auditorium.

Admission to both Movie Hour showings is 25-cents for students with activity cards and 40-cents for adults.

26 Delegations Plan For Model United Nations Next Weekend

When flags are hung and microphones set for SIU's second Model United Nations general Assembly next week, 26 student delegations will have completed hasty but extensive preparations of a different sort.

Next Friday and Saturday they will attempt to duplicate in detail actual United Nations procedure. They will also attempt to understand the basic political concepts behind the "nation's" position in the United Nations and in the world today. Finally, delegations for the Feb. 12-13 sessions will attempt to learn the pros and cons of four vital issues which are currently before the United Nations.

Dr. Frank L. Klingberg, government department, said that resolutions will be drawn up by committees and presented to the assembly on the seating of Red China, plans for disarmament establishment of a United Nations police force, economic development to include "atoms for peace," and resettlement or aid to refugees in Palestine, Hong Kong, Algeria and Europe.

The 26 delegations will represent Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, Cuba, France, Ghana, India, Indonesia, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Netherlands, Pakistan, Philippines, Poland, Saudi Arabia, Spain, Sweden, Turkey, United Arab Republic, United Soviet Socialist Republics, United Kingdom, United States, Venezuela and Yugoslavia.

Copies of Charter

Delegations have been given copies of the United Nations Charter, Rules of Procedure, a pamphlet that analyzes issues that went before the General Assembly at the past session, a list of proposed committee resolutions and suggested sources of information to supplement research.

Klingberg said delegations participating in the model sessions will represent Woody Hall (five groups), Thompson Point (two groups), organized houses (four groups), classes (twelve groups) and individual students (three groups).

The Model Assembly will be held in Muckley auditorium and arena in the Agriculture Building. The arena will be arranged with individual tables for the delegates. The assembly platform will be behind the delegations, against a backdrop of flags. Each table will be provided with an elevated marker designating the nation represented.

Conings will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday, and at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 12-13.

Plenary sessions will be at 6 p. m. Friday and at 2 p.m. Saturday. All plenary sessions will be open to students, faculty and the general public.

Clark Eichelberger, executive director of the American Assn. for the United Nations, will speak at the 8 p.m. plenary session. Eichelberger has been active in world peace organization since 1928. He served as corporal in the United States Army and AEF, 1917-1919. He was awarded the Chevalier Legion of Honor, a French medal, in 1924. Eichelberger has written numerous articles and books dealing with the United Nations, and is considered one of the foremost authorities on world peace organizations.

In a Parents Magazine editorial, Eichelberger expressed his belief that while the United Nations is subject to criticism on many counts, "the fact that the UN furnishes the one and only common meeting place for . . . nations . . . may be its most important achievement to date."

The topic of Eichelberger's talk will be announced later, Klingberg said, but it is expected that it will appraise the position of the United Nations as an instrument of peace in the world today.

The main event of the model sessions will be the 2 p.m. Saturday General Assembly. Mimeographed copies of the resolutions will be made available to the audience at this time.

Debate by the four committees, followed by a roll-call vote on final resolutions as presented by the committees, will be featured.

Recalling last year's Model Assembly, which had 20 nations represented, Klingberg said the final plenary session especially intended to leave audience and participants alike with a "stronger sense of reality" about the United Nations.

The Model Assembly is co-sponsored by the Student Government and International Relations Club.

Graduate students Carl Uchtmann, Anthony Lowe, John McAtee and Robert Stitt will serve as chairmen for the four committees. In some cases foreign students on campus will serve as advisors to delegations representing their native countries.

Arthur Miller, president of the International Relations Club, will serve as assembly president. Mercedes Baliga and Dr. Klingberg will serve as secretary general and assistant secretary general, respectively.

Two Students Escape Injury In Accident

Two students escaped injury at 11:55 p. m. Sunday when car hit a soft shoulder and skidded into a ditch.

The auto, driven by Robert Cleveland, freshman from Alton, sustained about $225 damage in the accident. A passenger, Carol Stone, freshman education major from Glenn Ely, and Cleveland were taken to Doctor's Hospital and treated for minor injuries. They were released following treatment.

Editors' Opinions Send Them Home!

The busy state-supported university presidents have taken time from their rushed schedules to write letters to the EGYPTIAN to point out the benefits and needs of the proposed bond issue. What can each individual student do to aid in the campaign to get positive voters for the issue Nov. 8, 1960?

One important thing which each student can do is send clippings of the presidents' letters to their parents and alert them to see what can be achieved by the passage of the bond issue and what will be lost if the issue fails at the polls. In fact, many parents would probably be delighted to receive the entire copy of the campus newspaper to see what else is going on which concerns their children.

Bond Issue Eastern President Points Out Charleston's Building Needs

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of letters from the various state-supported university presidents with their comments on the bond issue, which will appear before the Illinois voters Nov. 8, 1960. The following letter is from President Quincy Doudna, Eastern Illinois University, Charleston.)

"Eastern Illinois University has the smallest enrollment of the six state-supported and state-controlled universities. It is located only forty-eight miles south of the University of Illinois, and is not in an area of heavy population. In spite of these facts, it is anticipated that Eastern will enjoy a double in size during the 10-year period between 1957 and 1967.

"The administration at Eastern is determined that the growth here shall be orderly and solid. To accomplish this objective, it is completely vital that funds be available to provide for building enough buildings, building them of high quality, and building them at the time that they are needed. To do this, we shall need at least $10 million for capital improvements during the above mentioned period. While priority order is subject to change as time passes, the following are among our urgent needs: a life science building, a general classroom building, a practical arts building, a clinical services building, a field house or women's gymnasium, a physical plant building, air-conditioning and modernization of certain existing buildings.

"There are various ways that the state could meet the pressing need for university build-

Graduate Aid Accepted In Business School

Applications for graduate assistantships and fellowships in the School of Business are now being accepted for the 1960-61 school year at SIU.

Qualifications for assistants, who will receive $10 per month for the academic year, include an overall undergraduate average of 'B' and an indication of professional promise. Candidates for graduate fellowships, $100 per month, must have maintained a 'B' average.

Assistants will be given half-time assignments in the Departments of Accounting, Economics, Management, Marketing and Secretarial and Business Education and allowed to carry an academic load of 12 quarter hours, while fellows will be required to work only 10 hours a week in the department and be allowed to carry a full academic load.

Students should apply to the chairman of the individual departments or to the dean of the School of Business. Deadline for applications is April 15.

The wearing of bathing suits in public areas other than swimming areas and sunbathing areas is prohibited by the University.

Voice Box

Dear Editor: Why was an event such as a fight during an inter-greek basketball game omitted from front page coverage? Fights take place during many of the intramural athletic events but they are never mentioned by the Egyptian. Fights have taken place among rival Greek letter organizations, but nothing has ever been printed about them.

The article in question maintained that a Kappa Alpha Psi player hit Phil Wolf in the nose, breaking it. No effort was made to tell the readers why Phil Wolf was hit. For instance, you might have suggested or printed the fact that Wolf had been pushing, hitting and elbowing Jim Thompson in the game; that the officials in charge simply ignored the actions of Wolf. Also, you could have told the readers that after the game, Phil Wolf apologized and shook the hand of Jim Thompson.

The readers of the Egyptian would never know that the members of Kappa Alpha Psi usually engage in other activities. Usually when Kappa Alpha Psi does a news worthy event it is printed in the paper's back page (if it is printed at all). As a matter of fact, the B-team has finished the season with a record of four wins and no losses. The A-team has won five with no losses. Why make an issue of the fight when no issue was made of our recent accomplishments?

During the Fall term 1959-60, Kappa Alpha Psi was awarded the I.P.C. Scholarship Trophy for the second term in succession for the seventh out of eight terms. This story was printed in the Egyptian in the following heading: "Alpha Kappa Psi Wins Again." A letter was written to you reminding you of the mistake; however, no correction was ever printed.

Last year Kappa Alpha Psi won the fraternity division of the Intramural Volleyball League. No special attention was given to this. So why make an issue of a fight?

Kappa Alpha Psi has entered teams in every intramural competitive sports with the exception of a few. These teams are usually good but you would never know it by reading the Egyptian. In recent years Kappa Alpha Psi has won three all-intramural track trophies. This looks like a good record of facts, but on the other hand, the Egyptian didn't see any particular need for printing these facts. So, why should an issue be made of the fight?

Members of Kappa Alpha Psi take part in all phases of campus life. We have members who hold office in campus organizations. We have put members up as Student Government candidates. We do almost everything as well as or better than other groups on campus. Why, low rate us by printing that type of event on the front page of the Egyptian newspaper?

I have attended Southern Illinois University for the past three years. I have watched the teams of Kappa Alpha Psi for three years. Of course the team members have had arguments just as everyone has had arguments. This is the first time that a fist fight occurred during a minor disagreement. Thus, I see no need for this incident to be made an issue of.

It is my considered opinion that an article of this type should not have been printed at all. However, if the editor saw fit to print this type of thing it should have been printed on the sports page where it belonged.

Thank you,
Edgar Moore, President of Kappa Alpha Psi

COMMITTEES: AN AGONIZING REAPPRAISAL

To those of you who stay out of your student government because you believe the committee system is just an excuse for inaction, let me cite an example to prove that a committee, properly led and directed, can be a great force for good.

Last week the Student Council met at the Duluth College of Veterinary Medicine and Belles-Lettres to discuss purchasing a new dorm for the students union. It was, I assure you, a desperate problem because Sherwin K. Sigafos, janitor of the students union, threatened to quit unless a new dorm was installed immediately. "I'm sick and tired of mopping that dirty old floor," said Mr. Sigafos, sobbing convulsively. (Mr. Sigafos, once a joyful outgoing sort, has been crying almost steadily since the recent death of his pet wart hog who had been his constant companion for 22 years. Actually, Mr. Sigafos is much better off without the wart hog, who tucked him viciously at least once a day, but a compensation of 20 years is, I suppose, not lightly relinquished. The college tried to give Mr. Sigafos a new wart hog—a frisky little fellow with floppy ears and a waggy tail—but Mr. Sigafos only turned his back and cried the harder.)

But I digress. The Student Council met, discussed the dorm for eight or ten hours, and then referred it to a committee. There were some who scoffed then and said nothing would ever be heard of the dorm project again, but they redoubled without Inivictus Millstone.

Inivictus Millstone, chairman of the dorm committee, was a man of action—bills and ken and ken and, naturally, a smoker of Marlboro Cigarettes. Why do I say "naturally"? Because, dear friends, active men and active women don't have time to fuss and fumble and experiment with cigarettes. They need to be sure their cigarettes will never fall them—that the flavor will always be mild and mellow—that the filter will always filter—that the pack will always be soft or flip-top. In short, they need to be sure it's Marlboro—dependable, constant, tried and true Marlboro. Smoke one. You'll see.

Well sir, Inivictus Millstone chaired his dorm committee with such vigor and dispatch that, when the Student Council met only one week later, he was able to rise and deliver the following recommendations:

1. That the college build new schools of botany, hydraulics engineering, tropical medicine, Indo-Germanic languages, and military.
2. That the college drop football, put a roof on the stadium, and turn it into a low-cost housing project for married students.
3. That the college raise faculty salaries by $8000 per year across the board.
4. That the college secede from the United States.
5. That the question of a dorm for the students union be referred to a subcommittee.

So let us hear no more defeatist talk about the committee system. It can be made to work!

You don't need a committee to tell you how good Marlboro are. You just need yourself, a Marlboro, and a match... Or if you like mildness but you don't like filters, try Marlboro's filter cigarettes—Philip Morris.

GUEST SPEAKER FOR GERMAN CLUB
 Frederick Voigt of the speech department was guest speaker at the Jan. 27 meeting of the German Club which met in the lounge of the Home Economics Building. After a brief business session, members and guests heard Voigt speak on "Political Problems in Berlin."

Voigt has been engaged in research in Berlin's renowned Ernst Reuter, who was Lord Mayor of the city during the Soviet imposed blockade in 1948.

Besides describing the life of the city as it endured the blockade, Voigt emphasized the very complex structure of the Berlin city government and the unique problems it has had to face which defy the normal categories of analysis.

The speech was complemented by a showing of color slides of Berlin taken by Dr. Helmu Liefloff last summer. Dr. Liefloff made extensive excursions into both sectors of the city and he discussed aspects of each picture.

One feature of the program was the text in Dr. Liefloff's slides the extent to which Berlin has been rebuilt as a follow-up on the fact cited by Voigt that Berlin had suffered damages amounting to one-sixth of that in all Germany.

The primary purpose of the University Health Service is to cultivate in students both physical and emotional health.

Saluki Grapplers Clobber Central Michigan

By Larry Mayr

Captain Jim Bledsoe and Ed Frankenger scored pin in successive matches Wednesday night to lead the Saluki grapplers to an easy 31-4 triumph over Eastern Michigan.

Bledsoe pinned Dennis Laurain with 2:10 gone in the second period of their bout in the 130-pound division. Frankenger put a quick finish on his match with the Hurons' Ron Brooks. He made three takedowns, scored a near fall, and pinned Brooks in 2:27 of the first period. Eastern Michigan's Bart Kruse and Mel Rasmussen tallied draws in respective matches with Izzy Ramos and Houston Antwine to account for the Hurons' only scoring.

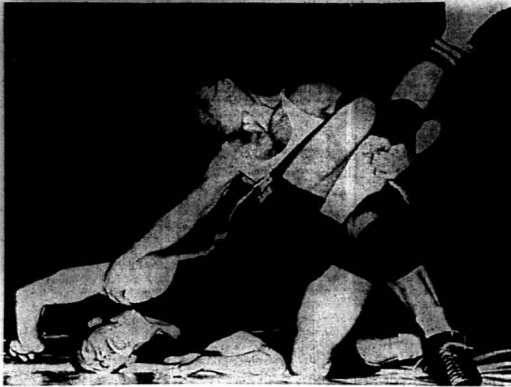

Kruse collected a point by means of riding time to end his battle with Ramos in a 3-3 deadlock. Rasmussen and Antwine each made an escape for the only scoring in the heavyweight match.

The Salukis' Stan Bergmeier and Ken Houston blanked their opponents by respective margins of 5-0 and 6-0. Jack Crider and Roger Plapp each racked up wins for Southern. Crider by a 7-1 count and Plapp, 10-1. Frank K. Coniglio won over Eastern Michigan by forfeit. The bout in the 151-pound class was cancelled.

SU Coach Jim Wilkinson seemed concerned about the Saluki matmen's lack of aggressiveness. "We have capable boys in every weight, but we weren't aggressive enough," he noted.

Russell Bush, Eastern Michigan's wrestling boss, looks for the Hurons to leave the IAC Conference. "They try to make Eastern Michigan and Ivy League school," Bush pointed out in an unappreciative tone. "The loss to Southern was our sixth without a victory, and about every conference team runs over us about the same way in football and basketball. I doubt if we stay in the conference much longer."

The Saluki grapplers will take a 3-1 season record to Charleston Saturday to expose Eastern's Panthers in an IAC dual meet.

UGGH! Stan Bergmeier, white Jersey, Saluki 157-pound wrestler, attempts to pin Eastern Michigan's Bob Sutch. He never pinned him, but won the match on a decision, 6-0.

Saluki Cagers At Eastern And Ky. Wesleyan

After two weeks of rest, books and practice, the Saluki basketball squad hits the road this week as it prepares to make a move for Southern's first IAC basketball title in 12 years.

Tonight, Harry Gallatin's run-in quietest is at Charleston for a conference tilt against peak Eastern Illinois. Tomorrow night, the Dogs will try to overcome the tremendous shooting of "King" Kelly Coleman and his Kentucky Wesleyan contingent.

Southern defeated the Panthers in the first meeting between the two clubs this season, 102-74—but this means nothing when Eastern plays at the "snake pit" in Charleston.

It doesn't matter whether Southern has a good ball club or not, it always has trouble against Eastern at Charleston. Former Saluki head coach, Lynn Holder, stated this week that "it has been at tempts to pin Eastern Michigan's Bob Sutch. He never pinned him, but won the match on a decision, 6-0.

least five years since we've beaten Eastern at home."

Western 72-70. Last year Eastern killed Southern's chances of a share of a conference title with a big 72-70 win over Southern.

Charlie Vaughn pulled Southern to a 70-67 lead with only 36-sec seconds remaining in the game. Roger Beals made two free throws and Jerry Hise, senior Eastern forward, tipped in a rebound to win the game for Eastern.

Eastern's leading scorer is Laney Howard Long. The Panther center is currently hitting at a 19.4 game average with 279 points in 14 games.

As a team, Eastern doesn't seem to have the scoring punch they have had in recent years, but are still scoring a respectable 77 points per game.

The Panthers are currently

He Feels He's Arrived

'It Took Time To Learn The Tricks,' Comments McClary

By Tom McNamara

"I am playing better basketball now because it took time to learn the tricks of the game," commented Randy McClary, 6-5 Saluki forward. "I had to learn the tricks of the game the other boys already knew, and which I didn't know since I came from a small high school."

"I feel that I've finally arrived as a college ball player and not a sandlot player because of the best experience I gained last year in reserve roles," stated Randy.

Randy could not have picked a better time for arriving as a basketball performer for the Salukis. With the Western Illinois and Illinois State Normal wins safely tucked under their belts, the Salukis are tied for first place in the IAC standings with Northern Illinois.

Saluki Coach Harry Gallatin is quick to agree that with Randy playing steady ball the Salukis are going to be tough in their stretch drive for the IAC title.

"The opposition's defense has been sagging back on our big boys," (Vaughn, Hepler and McClary) "I've fallen off during one game who could hit from out front to loosen up the defense of the opposition," commented Gallatin.

"I decided to move Charlie Vaughn out front and Randy underneath, and the move worked. We scored 116 points and beat two former league champions."

Made Debut McClary made his college debut as a starter against Western Illinois State Normal. He scored 27 points on 10-18 shooting and hauled 21 rebounds off the backboards in the two IAC wins.

Many fans thought starting McClary was a "mistake," but all doubt was removed after five minutes had elapsed in the Illinois State game.

Randy McClary, 6-5 forward from Milltown, Indiana, gives Golf Coach Lynn Holder credit for bringing him to SIU. Holder was head basketball coach of the Salukis when Randy was a senior in high school and asked him to come to SIU for a week-end.

Randy liked what he saw, especially liked the work program, which gives him his room and board. "The only scholarship I received was from Southern," commented Randy. "Purdue and Indiana looked at me but never offered me a scholarship."

What is his favorite shot? Well, the hook is my favorite when I am hitting it, but the hook is a dangerous shot because of you make it you look good. If you miss it the fans jump all over you. When my hook isn't working, I will switch to my jump shot.

"I like Gallatin very much and I am sure anyone else on the team feels the same way," stated Randy. "I also like the run-and-shoot style of offense that Gallatin uses."

"Playing Better" "The team is playing better ball now because our shooting has picked up; however, I am worried about our free throw shooting. It has fallen off during our wins over the Leathernecks and the Redbirds, and I don't know the reason for this," commented the slim 170 pound junior.

"Milltown has a population of 300, and the high school has only 100 students," stated McClary. "In my graduating class there were 16 seniors, eight girls and eight boys," mused Randy.

Randy holds the school record with over 1,000 points—the most highest point total for a single game is 34 tallies. His high school coach was Herman Miller, Jr., a graduate of Indiana State University.

"I have not decided what my major will be, but in all probability it will either be chemistry or zoology," stated McClary.

"I like Southern's friendly atmosphere and its smallness because the students can get better acquainted with the instructors and professors," commented Randy. "I dislike changing weather conditions but you can't have everything that you want."

"I want the team to get as much credit for the victories as myself because the team is better than any individual."

Tankmen Meet Loyola Here

The Saluki swimming team returns this weekend after an excellent performance last weekend capturing the Midwest AAU title in Chicago.

The SIU tankmen met Loyola today at 4:30 in the University Pool. Tomorrow afternoon the Salukis tangle with the Panthers of Eastern Illinois University.

Captain Norbert Rumpel and Paul Wachendorfer were double winners for the Salukis. Rumpel took the 100 and 200-yard breaststroke events, and Wachendorfer won the 200-yard butterfly, a 100-yard individual medley.

Ray Padovan, SIU freshman from North Miami, knocked Tarzan out of the records books, winning a qualifying heat of the 100-yard freestyle in :51.2. The effort cracked Johnny Weismuller's :51.4 set in 1928.

Hensen Stars As Frosh Cagers Move

By Tom McNamara

The Saluki freshmen advanced to the semi-finals of the First Annual Kiwanis College Invitational Basketball Tournament by defeating Lincoln Junior College of Jefferson City, Mo. 36-24 Wednesday night at Farmington, Mo.

Dave Hensen, 6-3 freshman transfer from Texas, scored 35 points in his debut on 15 field goals and five free throws. He scored 20 of his 35 points in the first half.

Lincoln jumped out to an early lead of 8-2 as George Pruitt fired four jump shots from 20 feet. Pruitt scored 34 points for Lincoln in the losing cause. Pruitt was also the coach of Lincoln.

Southern led at halftime 42-41 as Hensen hit 12 of 12 field goal attempts and Frank Lenter pulled the rebounds off the boards to pace SIU to this lead.

Lincoln came roaring back the second half and led 72-63 as Southern missed 12 free throws and Lenter scored six straight points on sweeping hook shots and Hensen scored eight and Hensen led 61-80.

Leroy Newton led the game for Southern with two free throws and 25 seconds left in the game after Ed Spila put the Salukis' ahead 92-90 on free throws with 43 seconds showing on the clock.

Southern hit 42 of 81 field goal attempts and Lincoln hit 42 of 98 bucket attempts but the Saluki freshmen hit 12 free throws and Lincoln only managed 10 charity points from the bonus line. Hensen hit 15 of 25 field goal attempts and Lenter hit 12 of 20 attempts.

Southern meets Hannibal-LaGrange Mo. tonight at 7:30 at Farmington.

Union Tourney Starts Monday

The 1960 Student Union Tourney Week will begin Monday with first place trophies and possible national recognition as bait for winners.

The tournament will be held Feb. 8-18 in the respective living quarters of students. Preliminary action will be held in basketball, table tennis and bridge at Thompson Point, Dowdell, Woody Hall, the VTI Student Center and the campus Union. Persons unsure of their location should contact their social chairman or call the Student Union.

Area winners will meet in the local playoffs at the Student Union and winners will be awarded trophies. The final three winners will be eligible to participate in the national competition and if average scores are high enough, they will be invited to attend the Face-

Judy Sirles

Performed For Most Groups

Judy Sirles, 20-year-old business major from Alto Pass, has probably performed acrobatics at least once for most of the organizations on Southern's campus.

Judy has been demonstrating her acrobatic skill ever since she first began taking lessons. Judy explains that she began tap lessons when she was 11 years old, but felt that everyone took tap, and that she would have to be different to become an expert at it.

So, she started with acrobatic lessons and worked for a half-hour every day, all through grade and high school. Hard work proved valuable to Judy, and she won second place in acrobatics competition in the Illinois State Fair as a high school junior. The national competition and if average scores are high enough, they will be invited to attend the Face-

When Judy first came to Southern, her new student week leader urged her to enter the Freshman Variety Show. Judy says she was scared to fill out the application, "But I'm glad that I did."

"You have to do something to get started on campus," she explained, and dancing was my biggest help."

After the variety show, Judy was asked to perform for many campus organizations, including such programs as New Student Week and High School Guest Day. She won first place for her individual act in the Theta Xi Variety Show as a freshman. The same year, she was a finalist in Miss Southern competition.

"My biggest moment at Southern," Judy recalls, "was the night we chosen Delta Chi Sweetheart."

APA Gives Award To Winter Pledge

The outstanding fraternity pledge of the Winter quarter will be the recipient of the Howard Branch scholarship award.

Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity will sponsor the award, to be based on scholarship, character and usefulness to his fraternity. The award is made in honor of the late Howard Branch, who was killed last year while in the U. S. Army. He was a graduate of Southern and a member of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

Each fraternity will submit the name of its outstanding pledge for this quarter to Alpha Phi Alpha. The fraternity will then vote on the contestants.

Money for the award will be accumulated by a door-to-door candy sale in Carbondale tomorrow. Recipient of the award last year was Tom Stewart, named outstanding pledge of Theta Xi fraternity.

Paper, Obelisk Positions Open For 1960-61

Applications for positions on the 1960-61 staffs of the Obelisk and Egyptian will be available today at the Student Government Office in the Student Union.

The new staff of the Egyptian will take over for the first issue of the Spring quarter.

Positions open on the Obelisk are editor, and three associate editors. For the Egyptian, positions are editor-in-chief, managing editor, news editor, sports editor, business manager and society editor.

Positions on both publications are salaried jobs.

All applicants for paid positions must be regularly enrolled students in a University degree program and must have an over-all academic average of 2.2.

The paid positions will not be given a candidate who has not had some experience on a yearbook or news paper, and for succeeding years only candidates who have had previous experience on the Obelisk and Egyptian, respectively, will be considered.

All applicants must submit a 200-word essay on "My role as (position applying for)."

Candidates may apply and be considered for more than one position, but will be hired for one position only.

Egyptian candidates for editor-in-chief, managing editor and news editor must have a 2.5 over-all academic average, unless the applicant has already demonstrated unusual ability in the area in which he is applying. The Journalism Council — who interviews applicants and chooses the editors — will consider the policy of promotion from news editor to managing editor, to editor-in-chief.

It is recommended that Business manager applicants have had some training in business with emphasis on accounting and/or bookkeeping.

Applicants for editor of the Obelisk must have a 2.5 overall academic average, unless the applicant has demonstrated unusual ability in the area in which he is applying.

All students regularly enrolled in a University degree program are eligible for the positions, and do not have to be journalism majors.

Candidates will be interviewed by the Journalism Council sometime during the week Feb. 21-27 and selections of the new staffs will be announced at that time.

Through the SIU Extension Division, University faculty members bring college credit courses to off-campus persons.

Specialist Says

'Campus Marriages Favorable'

"My opinion toward campus marriages is very favorable. College marriages are not artificial because they are sure and tensions just as any other marriage, and they are a success because of what the people are."

Darkest Of Failures
Naming the causes of student marriage failure, Dr. Moss mentioned marrying "because it's the thing to do," taking on a large load of pressures, marrying on the rebound and on impulse, marrying to get away from something or marrying for adventure. Marriages based on these reasons could be avoided if friends of the couple were willing to give advice and if the couple were willing to listen to the advice, he said.

Concerning wives completing college education, Dr. Moss said, "I would encourage the girl to continue in school if it is possible for her to do so without creating a struggle for the couple."

It is important since a major element of college marriage is the sense of joint efforts toward mutual goals; Dr. Moss said. Dr. Moss said the dowry system supplied by parents of both husband and wife is successful if financial trouble arises. "If we are going to stress education and allow college marriages, parents may need to enter a new cooperative enterprise in which they endow the couple with aid—not for fun and pleasure—but for completion of education," Dr. Moss stated.

P.H.T. Degree
No longer should a wife quit college to get her P.H.T. (put husband through) degree. For the wife may get certain feelings of being short-changed and no longer a sense of immediate accomplishment will exist after her husband finishes school. Other important reasons for the wife to finish school are job insurance and the need for a woman to be able to talk with her husband and understand his world.

The SIU Museum now has collections of more than 12,000 items in natural science. Headquarters of a regional library of over 50,000 volumes is located in the second floor of Morris Library.

YMCA Drives For Members

SIU students and faculty have been invited to join the Carbondale YMCA during the organization's membership drive, which opens Monday.

Plans call for a "family type" group, with both men and women from the faculty and student body as well as townspeople. Activities are planned for all interests, including athletics, recreation, social and cultural functions.

Manson Floss, SIU journalism professor who is publicity chairman, said many people on campus are unaware that there is a YMCA in Carbondale. The organization does not have a building of its own yet, Rice said, but has high hopes of being able to get one after the drive is completed.

Cost of one year's membership for a participating member is $10, while cost for a sustaining member is $5. Membership goal is 1,150, which would mean about $10,000 dollars, Rice said.

Ticket Holders Exchange For Play Tickets

HOLDERS of season coupon books for the 1959-60 Southern Players' productions are reminded to exchange coupons for tickets for "Lady From the Sea." Coupons may be exchanged beginning today, but regular box office tickets will not be available until Feb. 12.

Coupons must be exchanged for a reserved seat for each play. Fill out the coupon and send it to Southern Players, SIU, Carbondale, or exchange it when the box office opens. The box office is open from 10-11 and 3-4 each weekday. "Lady From the Sea" opens on Feb. 12.

Sculptor Talk Tuesday

New York sculptor and art critic Sidney Geist will present a lecture on American sculpture Tuesday at 3 p. m. in Studio 302, Allyn Building. The lecture is a Fine Arts Festival program.

Geist, visiting professor at SIU this term, works in wood, stone, plaster and terra cotta. He has had one-man shows in Paris, New York and San Francisco. He has exhibited in many group shows in galleries and museums in the U. S., as well as in Paris and Mexico City. In 1958 his work was represented in the Carnegie International at Pittsburgh.

Born in Patterson, N. J., Geist has since 1933 gained a reputation as an art critic. In that year he wrote regularly for Art Digest and "Craft Horizons."

VTI Fire Department Pushing Button Routs 18 Boys From Bed

By Roger Maserang Staff Reporter

Eighteen boys, students at SIU's Vocational-Technical Institute near Crab Orchard Lake, may be routed out of their beds by pushing a button.

They are fire fighters, student members of VTI's volunteer fire department. The button, which someone is always on duty to press, triggers a network of fire warning horns placed in and out of buildings in the VTI area.

It is a thankless job, for the most part, without fanfare or pay. They are modest about it.

Student Fire Chief Dave Steinmann, Junior from Carlyle, said "We have a fine crew, a real fire crew. In fact, we have two crews—a day crew, and a night crew."

During the day, Steinmann explained, most of the volunteers are Civil Service and faculty members. But at night, he said, the available crew is largely made up of resident students.

The fire engine, a red 1942 model with a 300-gallon booster tank, is the main piece of equipment. It is equipped with aluminum ladders, hoses, fire extinguishers, axes and other standard paraphernalia.

Checked Daily

Each day the truck is started and given a routine check, Steinmann said. Then once each week it is given a thorough going over by the volunteers.

Fire Chief Steinmann said that volunteers hold "ground practice" every Saturday, if possible.

"Weather is the big criteria in this," he explained. "If the ground is wet, we can't have it because the outside of the hose must be kept dry."

"A firehose is more delicate than a lot of people realize. They should be kept dry on the outside or they may mildew and rot. But the rubber inside should be kept moist so that it won't dry out and crack."

Two sizes of hose are owned by the volunteer department, he said—700 feet of two-and-one-half inch hose, and around 200 feet of one-and-one-half inch hose.

"We hope someday to double the length we now have so that we can rotate the hoses. In the long

Grand Jury Indicts Garms On Drug Act

A Williamson County Grand Jury Wednesday indicted Louis W. Garms, 22-year-old SIU sophomore from Knoxville, on a charge of violation of the uniform drug device and cosmetic act.

Garms is charged with possession of a dangerous drug—without having an order from a doctor, and with possession of a drug obtained by a forged prescription.

He was arrested with Clifford Boyd, Johnston City, Jan. 24 with 18 tablets of benzadrine in his possession. Boyd was also indicted Wednesday, charged with stealing a book of prescriptions from the office of Dr. Herbert V. Fine in Cartersville on Jan. 20.

The two men obtained 60 tablets of the drug from a Herrin drug store on Jan. 21, after apparently copying a prescription the doctor had written earlier.

Garms had admitted using the forged prescription.

Benzadrine is described as a vasoconstrictor, causing constriction of blood vessels when used locally, shrinking mucus membrane of nasal passages and it produces a stimulating effect on the brain similar to that of caffeine when used systemically. When used to combat drowsiness, initial stimulation is sometimes followed by collapse. The drug is habit forming if used regularly.

Joe Huang, graduate student in journalism department, translated the indictment into English. "China Newsweek," a magazine of Long and Southern, reports journalism students, along with a picture of the SIU Agriculture Building, were included in the magazine.

presented in Browne Auditorium. Along with the De Vega play will be a new one-act play, "The Stallion," written by Oliver and featuring a cast of faculty and staff members under the direction of Dr. Christian Moe. Both sessions are free.

"The telephone company really helps you grow with your job"

John T. Bell majored in History and Economics at the University of Georgia. On graduating in June, 1957, he joined the Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Today—less than three years later—he is a Public Office Manager for the company at Orlando, Florida. His office serves 50,000 telephone accounts and handles more than a million dollars' worth of revenue every month.

John says: "I chose a telephone career over a number of others because I was impressed by the company's Management Training Program and the opportunities offered for rapid advancement. It was the best decision I ever made."

John got his initial training at Jacksonville and Daytona Beach, where rotational assignments familiarized him with overall company operations. Then he transferred to Orlando, where he trained as a business office representative, attended an instructor's school, and then taught classes himself for several months.

Dealing with people—his "first love"—is John's main job as Public Office Manager. Besides handling personnel and other administrative duties in his office, he makes many customer contacts in and out of the office. "I'm kept busy giving talks about the company at meetings of business and civic groups," he says. "Also, I work closely with leading citizens on various civic projects. It's mighty satisfying, and I feel it's making a better manager of me. The telephone company really helps you grow with your job."

Why not look into career opportunities for you in the Bell Telephone Companies? See the Bell interviewer when he visits your campus—and read the Bell Telephone booklet filed in your Placement Office.

run, a duplicate hose would save money and would be better than the depending on a single hose," he said.

Steinmann, an ex-Marine lieutenant, is majoring in industry personnel management.

Training Necessary

Karl Malzahn, supervisor of buildings and grounds at VTI, pointed out that no one is allowed to operate the fire fighting equipment without previous training. Those who have not been trained to operate the equipment are valuable in their own way, he explained, because their main responsibility is helping out in evacuation of buildings and in traffic control.

Altogether, he said, the fire department protects 29 major VTI buildings. Of these, 14 are campus buildings and 15 are housing units. Most of the buildings are Army-type wooden barracks.

Malzahn added that fire equipment of various types is kept in all buildings. In some cases, he said, permanent hoses are kept in the buildings. Also, all buildings have fire extinguishers of suitable types for the location.

Some of the same have water, some have carbon dioxide, and some have combination-type extinguishers.

Perfect Record

So far, the volunteer fire department has a perfect record. All fires have been discovered and put out before they had time to spread.

Once a year, Malzahn said, volunteers receive technical training in fire fighting. Other times, some of the volunteers train with the nearby Crab Orchard Refuge Fire Department, which has three pieces of mobile equipment.

In the event of a fire at VTI, this is what would happen, according to Steinmann:

- Someone discovers the fire and phones its location in to the fire house.
- Immediately a coded alarm would be sent out on the fire warning horns. The code would indicate the exact location of the fire.
- Trained drivers and nozzlemen would go at once to the fire station to man the engine. At the same time, other volunteers would be at work helping to evacuate all buildings.
- As soon as a driver and at least two nozzlemen would arrive at the station, they would drive as quickly as possible to the fire.

Alarms Tested

Incidentally, Steinmann said, even the alarm horns are given a convenient daily test. Each day at noon they signal the hour.

"We were called out on one big fire," the supervisor said. "It was out at the Dura-Crate factory in Crab Orchard Refuge, one night in December. It was the last call we worked—to back the Crab Orchard Refuge Fire Department."

As a result of their efforts, a letter of commendation was sent to the volunteers.

The printed letterhead read: "United States Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service Crab Orchard, Route 2, Cartersville, Ill."

Dated Dec. 23, 1959, the text went:

Compositions by two of SIU's faculty members will be presented on campus the next two Sundays as features of the Fine Arts Festival.

The two are Will Gay Bottje and Robert Mueller, music department faculty members equally talented as performers as composers. Bottje's "What is a Man," a 35-minute choral cycle will be performed for the first time Sunday at 4 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium. At the same time and place the following Sunday, Feb. 14, Mueller will perform his own "Concert Piece for Piano and Orchestra" on a program with the Southern Illinois Symposium, an all-day program Saturday, Feb. 13, of performances of new work by some 30 Illinois musicians.

Bottje's composition, completed last summer under a creative research grant from SIU, is based on "extractions" from several Whitman poems. Its six movements portray the stages of man's existence from birth through death. Performing it with the SIU choir will be the Faculty Woodwind quintet, the University Brass Ensemble, two pianists, a percussion group and Narrator William Taylor, SIU voice instructor.

Two Faculty Members Give Concerts Next Two Sundays

Mueller's concerto, some three years in the making, is his first attempt at a piano-orchestra composition although he has written numerous works for piano, chamber groups and various wind ensembles. His "Nocturne a and e" for piano and orchestra was performed at the 1959 Midwest Composers Assn. He also played his "Three Studies for Piano" at the 1958 meeting of the assn.

Boettje, a flutist, has been composing seriously since his undergraduate days at Juniper School of Music. He later received the first Doctor of Music Arts degree awarded by the famed Eastman School of Music and in 1955 won the annual Thor Johnson Brass Composition prize.

Since coming to SIU in 1957, Bottje has seen his music performed in some 20 major concerts across the nation, from a Texas composers' conference to Carnegie Hall. On the 13th of this month, the Indiana University Concert Band will play his "Symphony No. 4 for Band" premiered earlier by the Eastman Wind Ensemble under Frederick Fennell.

Both Mueller and Bottje studied in France under the legendary "grande dame" of modern composition, Nadia Boulanger. Although they went to France so much evidence of apprenticeship under Mlle. Boulanger, it is distinctly "American," a trademark of SIU's 1960 Festival program.

Contest For Book Owners

A contest is being conducted by Morris Library, University Store and Student Activities Development Center to determine the best student-owned library of paperback books.

Prizes are to be given in two categories—General Collection and Specific Collection. In the General Collection division, 25 titles in a variety of fields are to be submitted. Fifteen titles in one subject area constitute an entry in the Specific Collection division.

In each division, first prize will be $25 in books, the second prize will be $15 in books, and third prize will be $10 in books. All books to be selected by the winner from the book department of the University Store.

Assistant Library Director Elizabeth O. Stone said it is hoped the contest will become an annual event. "We believe it is highly important that students own books, as such ownership is conducive to making lifetime readers of our students," she said.

All undergraduate students currently enrolled at SIU are eligible to enter the contest. Students wishing to compete should submit the list, along with a typewritten statement of the objective of the collection and reasons for inclusion of the books selected, to Miss O. Stone, Student Activities Coordinator Elizabeth Mullins, or University Store Manager J. C. Trobaugh.

Entries must be in no later than March 11. Books must be owned by the student. Quality and variety will be the criteria in judging the lists, as well as their permanent value as a practical working library, as a nucleus for a permanent personal library, as an indication of discriminating judgment in collecting books and of a growing interest in books through the college years.

First prize winners will be asked to bring their collections to Morris Library for display. No prize is to be awarded if no collection is considered worthy.
