Assault case to be tried

WAIVED RIGHTS: Former student's case starts Wednesday.

> WILLIAM HATFIELD DAILY EGYPTIAN REPORTER

A former SIUC student accused of sexually assaulting a local woman, who was dri-ving her Saluki Express bus route last spring, waived his right to trial by jury and will face trial Wednesday.

In a hearing at Murphysboro Courthouse on Monday, Carbondale resident Marshall R. Wheaton, who was an undecided freshman during spring 1996, waived his right to a trial by jury. Judge David W. Watt Jr. said the waiver will allow the court, rather than a jury. to make a determination of guilt or inno-

Wheaton declined to comment on why he waived his trial by jury, and his attorney was unavailable for comment

William Schroeder, SIUC professor of law, said it is fairly common for the accused to waive his trial by jury in cases like sexual assault or child molestation. "Certain crimes are so inflammatory or emotional that people feel a jury can't handle them fairly," Schroeder said, "Many jurors cannot be fair when they hear about a crime of that nature.

The trial for Wheaton will be 9 a.m. Wednesday at Murphysboro Courthouse.

As many students waded through the tedious on-campus housing contract renewal process last week, some students said they found an unexpected fee increase waiting for them at the end of the line.

Grey Wilcox, a freshman in accounting from Decatur, said he was caught off guard by next fall's increased price of living in the dorms.

A few weeks ago Jennifer Shemonic woke up knowing her day would be unlike any other. What she did not know is that there would be three more victims of sexual assault who needed her help.

Shemonic, a graduate student in educational psychology from Chester, is one of 70 students and teer their time and support to the Women's Center's Rape Action Committee.

Last week members of the RAC began training a new group of 38 volunteers who will help educate the community, answer the 24-hour RAC hotline and eventually go on call-outs (in which the volunteers go to the emergency room or the police station to help sexual assault victims one-on-one). RAC volunteers are required to complete 40 hours of intensive training and fulfill a oneyear commitment, during which a volunteer is on call for one 24hour period a month.

Anyone who wants to be a vol-unteer goes through a screening process of interviews to determine if the prospective volunteer is a good match for the program.

Of those victims who are helped by the RAC, 25 percent are college students, Prinz said. Shemonic said she has had

"When they paged me and said, 'Chester has a rape,' I thought my God, that's very unusual for a small town," Shemonic said, "I was scared it was someone I knew or a family member."

This is one reason why Jennifer Cerulli, a senior in social work from Warrenville, decided to take action and become a volunteer this Because rapists do not come with a warning label, community education is part of prevention.

Terry Lilley, a Carbondale man and first-time volunteer, said, "I think preventative education is one of the most important facets." Once Lilley completes his training, he said he will help inform the community about sexu al assault by speaking to campus and community groups.

"As a man I think it's important to say, 'This cannot be, It has to stop,' he said. When speaking from one man to another, Lilley said it is easier for men to identify with sexual assault.

"It's not a woman's issue," he said. "It's a human issue.

As a part of being there for sex-ual assault victims, volunteers give information enabling victims to make medical and legal choices, as well as give emotional support. The 40 hours of training prepares volunteers to fulfill the roles of

First chair of psychology dies

DAILY EGYPTIAN

INNOVATOR: Father of SIUC's psychology department dies at age 95.

> JASON K. FREUND DAILY EGYPTIAN REPORTER

Noble H. Kelley, 95, the first professor of psychology at SIUC, died Jan. 28 in Louisville, Ky.

Kelley was the first instructor and chairman of the SIUC Psychology Department, from its inception in 1951 until 1960.

He then became a research professor at SIUC until his retirement in 1969

"He was the one who basically put the Department of Psychology together," said Thomas Schill, an SIUC psychology profes-

Schill said students would have positive comments about Kelley and his class.

Mary Walker, the first ombudsman at SIUC, was Kelley's administrative assistant. She said Kelley enjoyed his work and was dedicated to his family.

Walker said Kelley brought his black cocker spamel, Cindy, to work every day. When he walked across campus to get his mail, h-took Cindy with him. At the post office, Kelley would hand Cindy a small amount of mail, and she would carry it back to his office in her mouth, Walker said.

From 1951 until his retirement from SIUC. Kelley was executive officer of the American Board of Examiners in Professional Psychology, Before he became executive officer, the board was based from the University of Minnesota, When Kelley took office, the board's office was relocated to SIUC for the duration of Kelley's term.

Kelley was born in Thamesville, Ontario, on Aug. 10, 1901. He graduated from the State University of Iowa with a doctorate in clinical psychology in 1936.

Before he came to SIUC, Kelley was head of the psychology department and Psychological Services Center at the University of Louisville for 14 years. Kelley was a member of the American Psychological Association; the Midwest Psychological Association; the Illinois Psychological Association; the Illinois Psychological Association; the American Association of University Professors and the Sigma Xi fraternity.

He also was a member of the Psychiatric and Research Authority of the Illinois Department of Mental Health when it was formed in 1957.

Kelley and his wife. Ethel, fived in Florida after he retired before relocating to Louisville. Kelley is survived by a daughter-in-law, Yvonne, and three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife in 1988, and his son, Alan D. Kelley, in 1996.

A memorial service took place Saturday at Treyton Oaks Towers in Louisville.

Contempt of court hearing against SIU canceled

Today's contempt of court hearing in a Belleville Court against the SIU Board of Trustees for allegedly dis-obeying a preliminary injunction has been canceled, said Tom Peters, Stan Lieber's attorney. Lieber, owner of Stevenson Arms,

"I don't know why the cost went up, although I suppose they had their reasons," Wilcox said. "I didn't even know the fee had gone up until after I actually had signed the contract. It's like a sucker nunch."

contract. It's like a sucker punch."

The contract for 1997-98 shows a 4.61-percent increase in the semester rate for dorm rooms. SIUC records show that students who live in double rooms can expect to pay about $160 more for 1997-98 than they did in 199697

Students living in family housing like Evergreen Terrace or Southern Hills can expect about a 4.5-percent increase in their rates, amounting to as much as $14 a month or $126 more for the nine-month school year.

Ed Jones, director of University Housing, said the increase will cover the estimated inflation of housing costs and money used for special projects, such as the ongoing renovation of the fire alarm system or replacement of furniture in dorms.

"We are trying to keep pace with inflation," Jones said. "At the same time, we are trying to keep our maintenance down by repairing

Rick Schablowsky, assistant director of Rick Schablowsky, assistant director of Rick Schablowsky, assistant director of expenses like salaries, food prices, utilities, cable television and phone rates.

"The inflation is based on our estimates, as well as the estimates we receive from our supliers," Schablowsky said. "On any rate increases, the dollars all go back into the facilities, the food and the programs. You get what you nay for:

One supplier of off-campus housing said his rates have not gone up, but said students living on campus are kept unaware of offcampus housing opportunities.

Stan Lieber, owner of Stevenson Arms, 600 W. Mill St., said that students are being forced to pay high rates for housing because they have not been made aware of all their housing options.

"My overall impression is that SIUC is sticking it to the students and not letting them know about alternatives to on-campus housing," he said. "I think that somebody is deciding that since they have a monopoly on housing, they're going to make students pay through the nose.

"I think many students would rather save the money SIUC is asking for and use it to buy books or go someplace on spring break." Lieber said Stevenson Arms charges

$1,550 per semester for a double room, as opposed to the $1,816 rate for a double room at SIUC next fall. The Stevenson Arms rate will not increase next semester, amounting a $542 difference per year.

S542 difference per year.
Lieber is suing SIUC under the Freedom of Information Act for the right to obtain potential SIUC students' names and addresses so he can send them information about off-campus housing.

Wilcox said he plans to look for off-campus housing sometime next year.

"It is putting strain on my budget to stay in the dorms," Wilcox said. "I think it is best for academics to stay here, though.

"I knew there were places that offered offcampus services, but I didn't understand their setup.

"I'll be looking at them a lot more next year, though."

Celebration through education

STORY BY MIKAL J. HARRIS

Black History Month. SIUC is celebrating Black History Month by sponsoring a number of programs on campus through Multicultural Programs and Services, several African-American Registered Student Organizations and other groups.

Informative and entertaining films, lectures, performances and other programs showcasing some of the history of Africans as well as African Americans will be featured throughout February.

Ladysmith Black Mambazo, a South-African group, brought their harmony to Shryock Auditorium Sunday night. The group has performed at the inaugurations of South-African President Nelson Mandela and President Clinton.

Kelly Throw, SPC concerts director, said Ladysmith Black Mambazo brought an important tradition from South Africa to the SIUC campus.

Their songs were born in the mines of South Africa." she said. "What they're singing about represents culture, and they brought it here, so it's like they brought a tradition It's a real beautiful thing."

Ladysmith Black Mambazo sings a traditional a capella music called "Isicathamiya." The music was created by poor, South-African black miners who were taken by rail to mines far away from their homes and families,

The workers would entertain themselves after a six-day work week by singing songs and dancing on tiptoe so they would not disturb the mining camp security guards. When the poorly housed and fed workers returned to their homelands, the singing tradition went with them.

Nancy Dawson, an assistant professor in Black American Studies, also is celebrating tradition by giving an encore lecture of "Our Hair-itage" at 7 p.m. Feb. 18 in the University Museum Auditorium.

Dawson's exhibit, "Our Hairitage: A Historic Artifact Exhibit" in the University Museum, features a lock of her great-grandmother's hair that was passed down to her. The exhibit also has examples of styling tools historically used by Africans and African Americans.

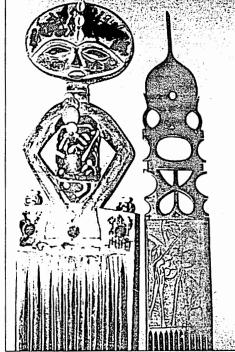

Dawson gave the lecture in November to a standing-roomonly audience in the Student Center.

She said the tradition of inheriting locks of hair from ancestors is part of many African-American families. She said her presentations on African-American hair recognize an important aspect of African-American history.

The time to celebrate African-American history is one in which people can look at African-American history in many different ways," she said. "Although personal, African-American hair is public because it has so much social, political and componic sherifferance."

and economic significance."
Also during February, the achievements of an SIUC alumnus who broke some negative traditions in America for African Americans also are noted by WSIU-TV.

One on One: William Norwood," showing at 9:30 p.m. Feb. 18, highlights the accomplishments of Norwood, who was SIUC's first African-American quarterback who later became the first African-American pilot of United Airlines. Norwood is a member of the SIUC Hall of Fame.

Norwool, an SIUC Trustee, rpoke to "One on One" producer and interviewer Jack Tichenor at the time of his retirement from United Airlines last year.

Tichenor said the interview with Norwood is one that deserves recognition during Black History Month.

It's a good program to show any time of the year, but certainly when we re celebrating the accomplishments of African Americans," he said, "He's a trailblazer and a role model. He's opened so many doors for so many people in so many ways. He's full of great stories, and he's a fascinating man."

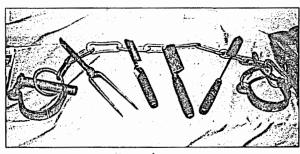

But stories such as Norwood's, Dawson's and Ladysmith Black Mambazo were not always celebrated on a monthly basis. Dawson said the celebration

Dawson said the celebration of African-American history and achievements began as Black History Week and was created by African-American Carter B. Woodson in 1926.

She said the formal recognition of African Americans, as well as their traditions and history, originally was celebrated in February because the birthdays of many significant African Americans, like Frederick Douglas, were in that month.

But Dawson said celebrating African Americans' history and contributions to the world should not be limited to just one month.

It should be much more," she said. "America should celebrate the accomplishments and achievements of African Americans every month of the year."

Dawson also donated slave shackles and hair styling tools to the exhibit.

NFL prepared to move Superbowl to L.A.

ON THE MOVE:

Future home of Chargers and Superbowl shaky.

LOS ANGELES TIMES

SAN DIEGO-If San Diego falters in its drive to expand its stadi-um, the National Football League is ready to shift the 1998 Super Bowl to the Rose Bowl, NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue told civic boosters here Monday.
"We are talking to the Rose Bowl on a contingency basis as we speak," Tagliabue said at a luncheon meeting of business and political leaders. "I hope this stays a contin-gency plan. We want to play the game here. (But) we do not want to play the game in a construction site, which is what it would be if construction stops.

Tagliabue said the NFL could have a signed contingency agree-

The venerable stadium has been host to five Super Bowls, and offi-cials from Pasadena and the Los Angeles Sports Council say they are ready and eager to make it six should the NFL need a new site for the 1998 game. Rick Welch, chairman of the Los Angeles Sports and Entertainment Commission, said a Super Bowl at the Rose Bowl would be "a good of Los Angeles" and would include involvement by the entertainment industry and the Convention Center. Los Angeles also offers "great sites for parties and evenis," he said.

Tagliabue's comments are a sharp indication that what might have been dismissed as an unrealistic civic nightmare only a few weeks ago is now a distinct possibility: loss of the Super Bowl and the Chargers football team.

Shaq questionable for Chicago game

SUPRISE INJURY:

Shaq's sprained knee could keep him out of Bulls game Wednesday.

LOS ANGELES TIMES

INGLEWOOD, Calif.-The knee injury that Shaquille O'Neal passed off Sunday night as nothing more than a minor annoyance will instead keep him out of Tuesday night's game against the Los Angeles Clippers at the Pond of Anaheim and has his availability for the Los Angeles Lakers' Wednesday showdown with the Chicago Bulls in doubt.

An MRI exam Monday determined that O'Neal had suffered a mild sprain of the right knee in collision

Washington Bullets' Gheorghe Muresan near the end of the third quarter Sunday at the Forum.

The all-star center then sat out the final period while the Lakers completed an easy 129-99 victo-

Afterward, he indicated it was a minor problem—"I'll take a Tylenol, I'll be all right"—and when asked if he would be ready Tuesday for the Clipper game responded, "Of course." But Monday, with a visit to team physician Steve Lombardo already scheduled, O'Neal awoke with pain, and the sprain was later diagnosed.

"We've just got to wait and hope for the best." Coach Del Harris said after the Lakers went through a practice without O'Neal. "It's one of those things. You hope it's OK soon."

The Salukis took a 3-0 lead to

SIUC made some defensive

SIUC made some defensive adjustments at halfirm and held Cruse to just 11 second-half points. The Salukis opened the second half on a bucket by Hudson, but Indiana State kept the game close, and stayed within ten points until midway through the half.
Following a media timeout, the Salukis opened up a 13-point lead on three-point field goals by Hudson and Hawkins, Indiana State could eet no closer than 12 points as could get no closer than 12 points as sophomore James Jackson grabbed two rebounds that led to five straight points by Hudson, wrap-ping up SIUC's win.

Herrin said the Salukis' poise down the stretch was the difference in the ballgame.

"We really played well down the stretch," Herrin said. "We took care of the ball and did the things we needed to do to win."

Wednesday, the Salukis battle Wichita State University, who currently holds sixth place in the Valley with a 5-5 conference mark, at SIU Arena at 7:05 p.m.

Carroll tops list of coaches shuffled around league

The New England Patriots named San Francisco 49er's defensive coordinator Pete Carroll Monday as their new head coach. The 45-year-old Carroll replaces Bill Parcells, who stepped down Friday after leading the Patriots to their first Super Bowl appearance in 11 years, which resulted in a 35-21 loss to the Green Bay Packers.

Carroll agreed to a five-year contract at undisclosed terms. "To have the opportunity to become head coach of a team which just competed in the Super Bowl is exciting, and I couldn't be more pleased than I am about joining the Patriots," Carroll said.

Patriots," Carroll said.
Elsewhere in the NFL, former Los Angeles Raiders head coach Art Shell has joined the Atlanta Falcons as offensive line coach.

Thais love their Tiger

Thailand has a case of "Tiger Fever" as golf sensation Tiger Woods heads to Bangkok this week for the Asian Honda Classic. Woods' mother, Kultida, is from Thailand, and her son's success has made her a celebrity in her homeland. She won lots of fans by saying she hopes her son marries a Thai woman like his father did.

Many Thais know nothing about golf, but still can spout details of Woods' golf successes, his nearly non-existent Thai vocabulary and his dislike for Bangkok traffic. Woods is expected to be given honorary Thai citizenship during his brief stay.

Salukis brace for Vanderbilt

BIG TIME: Salukis head to Tennessee to take on the No. 7 Commodores.

DONNA COLTER DAILY EGYPTIAN REPORTER

The SIUC women's basketball team is in no way intimidated by tonight's non-conference game against Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., despite the fact the Commodores are ranked No. 7 in the nation.

ranked No. 7 in the nation.
Coach Cin-ly Scott said the team is up to the challenge of playing Vanderbilt because the Salukis, 9-9 overall and 5-6 in the Missouri Valley Conference, know what the game means to the program.

"If you want a program that is nationally respected, then you have to play teams that are nationally ranked," she said. "But I think we are excited."

The Southeastern Conference member is 14-6 on the season and 5-3 in conference play.

The Salukis are coming off two hard-fought conference losses Thursday against Indiana State University and Saturday against Illinois State University. Scott said the Salukis need to build their confidence level up when they play the Commodores.

play the Commodores.
"It is a tough time to play them, coming off of a two-game Josing trip," she said.
"But if you want to play teams like Vanderbilt, then you have to play them when you can play them."

Despite the two losses, junior guard and co-captain Beth Hasheider said the Salukis know what they need to accomplish to make a good showing at Vanderbilt. "We lost a few in a row, but

"We lost a few in a row, but we are not bad off," she said. "Our shooting percentage has been low, but that can change at any time.

"We can compete if the shots fall and if we do the simple things, like rebound and play good defense." Sophomore forward

Sophomore forward O'Desha Proctor said the team is due for a win, and Vanderbilt may be the team to beat.

"We can come away with a victory," she said, "We can't keep shooting like we are. The ball has to go in sometime.

"They are a tough team, but I feel if we play our brand of basketball and the ball goes in the hole, we might win the game."

The Salukis are being led by senior guard Kasia McClendon and junior center Theia Hudson.

McClendon is the MVC all-time steals leader and is averaging 14.6 points and 4.8 steals per game. Hudson is the Salukis'

Hudson is the Salukis' main threat on the inside. At Illinois State, Hudson had her best game while at SIUC, putting up 21 points and bringing down 15 boards. The 6-foot-2-inch center is averaging 15.1 points and 6.9 rebounds for SIUC.

Even with the Commodores' wealth of talent, Scott believes the team has a chance to win tonight.

"They are a beatable team this year," she said. "I would like to win, and as silly as it may sound, we are capable of beating this team."

Tip-off between SIUC and

Dawgs unstoppable at Indiana State

WINNERS AGAIN:

Salukis dominate Sycamores to improve record to 11-10.

> RYAN KEITH DAILY EGYPTIAN REPORTER

The Saluki men's basketball team is finally starting to gel offensively, and its timing could not be better.

SIUC put five players in double figures in scoring, and received another standout performance from sophomore forward Monte Jenkins as the Salukis beat Indiana State University convincingly 91-77 in Terre Haute, Ind., Monday night, night.

With the win, the Salukis picked up their second straight victory in a crucial four-game stretch and improved to 11-10 overall and 4-6 in the Missouri Valley Conference. Indiana State fell below the Salukis in the conference standings to 4-7 and 9-10 overall with the loss.

Saluki coach Rich Herrin said the win was a very important one for SIUC.

"It was a great victory for us," Herrin said, "Down the stretch, we really took care of the basketball and prevented them from getting back in the ballgame."

The Salukis' offensive output was their most balanced attack of the season, as Jenkins led the squad with 23 points on 10-of-16 shooting from the field. Jenkins put the exclamation point on the win with a resounding windmill dunk late in the second half to put the Salukis ahead for good.

Joining Jenkins in double figures were junior guard Troy Hudson with 22, sophomore center James Watts with 16, junior forward Rashad Tucker with 16 and junior guard Shane Hawkins with 10.

The Salukis shot 53 percent from the field Monday, including a 60-peracest shooting performance in the second half that saw them outscore the Sycamores 46-37.

On the other hand, ISU could not get on track offensively. The Sycamores shot just 44 percent from the field, and made just 11 of 27 field goal attempts in the second half for 41 percent.

Herrin said the offensive balance and Jenkins' play was a key to Monday's victory. "Everybody really got into the ballgame tonight," Herrin said. "Monte really got us off to
