$6,000 Let For New Student Union Plans

Majority Of Student Leaders Favor Athletic Aid Contract To Be Signed Soon

(This is the second in a series of the Athletic Situation at Southern.)

By Dan Holleran
Egyptian Staff Writer

A majority of SIU student leaders and many alumni favor athletic subsidization in one form or another, according to the Egyptian survey.

But interviewees could not entirely agree on the nature and scope of such a program, or decide what should be awarded on athletic ability alone; others feel academic potential should also be considered.

The job question bothers a few persons. They feel a student who spends three to four hours a day on the playing field should not be asked to worry about extra work—in other words, scholarship work.

There are, of course, those like Juan Jimenez, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, who oppose subsidization. They ask, "Where does it stop—tennis, ping-pong, baseball, track?"

For the remainder, it is only a question of extent.

"Tuition, room, board and a job," are the most common suggestions. Most students feel they should be awarded on athletic ability alone; others feel academic potential should also be considered.

should be sufficient to make extra work unnecessary.

These also feel that eliminating job considerations it may be possible to avoid fictional "door-knob polishing" jobs.

Jerry McGovern, has suggested athletics be provided rooms and meals as a group. Such a provision could allow coaches to supervise classes at a training table. Such group living might also lower costs of the program for the university.

About a third of the students interviewed were concerned with the possibility of faked grades for subsidized athletes. Bob Scrivener, president of the men's co-op housing project and ISA vice-president, while in favor of "administrated" subsidization says, "I would not be in favor of altered grades."

THESE boys were "real gone" as Ralph Marterie blows away on his trumpet at the concert in Shryock Auditorium Thursday night.

McGovern also suggested the financial burden of subsidization be borne by the athletic department through increased university budget. In addition, he feels supplementary aid from independent scholarships by fraternities, societies, and other groups should be developed.

Besides subsidization, several of those interviewed suggested a stepped-up university promotion program to attract potentially good athletes to Southern without scholarships.

As for athletics after subsidization, some feel Southern, growing as it is, should move from IAC competition to something bigger. One of the most ambitious such expressions comes from Alton Ray Edwards, who feels it would be appropriate to embark on a program of athletic building that would permit Southern to compete on equal terms with members of such conferences as the Big Ten, Big Seven, or Missouri Valley.

Interfraternity Council Holds First Workshop

The Interfraternity Council held its first workshop, banquet and dance Saturday.

John S. Rendleman, legal adviser to the President, gave the "kick-off" speech. Following the speech, the open assembly was divided into five discussion groups. The purpose of each group was to discuss and report to the final open assembly recommendations to be adopted by the Interfraternity Council.

Some of the proposals were: house owners and an interfraternity committee should meet to discuss problems, rushing should be started at the high school level; smokers should be held between fraternities; pledges from all fraternities to work together on a community project as a part of "help week"; eliminate term "Greek Party" and find a more suitable name; have a longer pledge program.

Each group was headed by a student chairman and a faculty adviser.

A contract has been let for $6,000 to the architectural firm of Burnham and Hammond of Chicago for a "Preliminary Study and Programming of a University Student Union Building," Charles Pulley, SIU architect, has announced.

The contract, expected to be signed this week, is being executed for the basis of fundraising, legislative appeal and for general development of the new Student Union Building.

Mrs. Joseph F. Boon, a representative of Burnham and Hammond will be on campus today for a tour of the present Student Union facilities in connection with the final negotiation of the contract.

Pulley has arranged the tour to cover Student Union facilities on the Carbondale and Southern Woods campus, Cab Orchard Lake, recreational facilities in Vandy Hall and barracks residence halls.

A meeting at the Conference Room of the President's Office is to discuss the general objectives of the new Student Union program. Points to be covered in the discussion are:

Space Authority To Speak Here Thursday

"Willy Ley, authority on rockets, space ships, man-made satellites and interplanetary travel, will speak at the freshman assembly Thursday.

His topic "The Conquest of Space" is also the title of one of his books on space travel.

Ley born in Berlin in 1906, studied at the University there and at Koeningberg in East Prussia. He concentrated on paleontology, astrophysics and physics. He was one of founders and later vice president of the German Rocket Society.

He left Germany and lived several years in England before making his home in America. He is science editor of a New York newspaper, research engineer for the Washington Institute of Technology, consultant to the Office of Technical Services of the Department of Commerce and Technical adviser to a television series.

Cook County Club Has Coffee Hour For Chicago Guests Today

Cook County Club members, their families and other students who line in the greater Cook County area will attend a free coffee and dessert hour in the University cafeteria at 12:30 p. m. today, according to Dr. Paul Hunsinger, club sponsor.

The meeting has been called to give Chicago students an opportunity to meet campus visitors from the Chicago area.

Chicago, Dr. Hunsinger said, "Photographers will be on hand to take pictures for Chicago newspapers."

Home Economics students enrolled in Foods and Cookers 206, under the supervision of Mrs. Agnes Ridley, instructor, are making cookies for the meeting. They plan to have about 400 deep, roll and pressed cookies available.

Theta Xi President Bob Edgell asks, "Why be behind in athletics?" He suggests we "Play schools our size." Others favor moving to a larger conference, or if this is impossible, "going independent."

In view of Southern's immediate athletic history, however, most of those interviewed stress to feel the IAC will answer Southern's sports competition needs.

Solcns Have Biennial Visit Here Today

The Legislative Commission to Visit and Examine Educational Institutions is making its "regular biennial" visit to SIU today.

The group, headed by Sen. Elbert S. Smith, Democrat, includes members of the legislature on its findings. Other members are Sens. Fred J. Hart of Streator and Frank P. Johnson of Keokaw and Reps. August C. Grebe of Peoria, Lillian Piotrowski of Chicago and William Robison of Carbondale.

The legislators' visit is scheduled every two years, the last before today was on March 8, 1951.

This morning's schedule included a tour, led by President Mertrie, of the various campus buildings and review by the visitors of the AFROIC. At a noon luncheon in the cafeteria, Dr. Morris will report on Southern's recent progress and analyze the budget increases sought for the 1955-57 biennium.

Letter Campaign Part Of Budget Request Program

A "write to my legislator" campaign is to be part of the student support of a budgetary request project being directed by a committee appointed by Bob Edgell, Student Council president.

Lou Ann Hart, ISA representative, will be directing the campaign. Present plans are to set up a letter-writing booth in the Student Union which will supply names and addresses of Illinois Legislators and their districts.

Other phases of student support planned at the committee meeting Thursday afternoon are a special edition of the Egyptian, Student speakers bureau to give talks to area organizations and a trip to Springfield by the committee.

Jack Faulkner, president of the Men's Organized House Council, and Bob Scrivener, Men's Residence Halls president, are going to write area civic groups to see if they are interested in having an SIU student speak to them at one of their meetings.

Committee members attending the Thursday meeting were: Lou Ann Hart, Bob Scrivener, Bob Edgell, Jim Alken, Lou Ann Hart and Jack Faulkner, John Rendleman is committee adviser.

Line-O-Dimes Begins Tomorrow

The annual APO sponsored Line-O-Dimes will begin in front of Old Main and the Student Union. All proceeds will go to the march of dimes.

A blanket will be carried around the floor at the basketball games Thursday and Saturday nights. Donations may be thrown into it.

Space Authority To Speak Here Thursday

"Willy Ley, authority on rockets, space ships, man-made satellites and interplanetary travel, will speak at the freshman assembly Thursday.

His topic "The Conquest of Space" is also the title of one of his books on space travel.

Ley born in Berlin in 1906, studied at the University there and at Koeningberg in East Prussia. He concentrated on paleontology, astrophysics and physics. He was one of founders and later vice president of the German Rocket Society.

He is science editor of a New York newspaper, research engineer for the Washington Institute of Technology, consultant to the Office of Technical Services of the Department of Commerce and Technical adviser to a television series.

Wesley, IFC To Host Foreign Students

Members of Wesley Foundation and the International Relations Club have invited foreign students on campus to be their guests at a dinner at 8:30 p. m. Thursday in the First Methodist Church.

The purpose of the event is to promote interest in foreign affairs and further fellowship with foreign students, according to Dr. Frank Klingberg, IFC sponsor.

Fred Taylor, a former British diplomat in Sweden, Iran, Germany, Iraq and Arabia who most recently was vice-counsel of the British Consulate in St. Louis, will speak. He is now director of admissions at Monticello College and is associated with the Foreign Policy Association in St. Louis.

The dinner meeting is open to the public.

Faculty To Hear Pension Plan Talk

Edward S. Gibala, secretary of the Illinois University Retirement System, will discuss proposed changes in the Retirement Act and a plan of pension reform with the faculty at a faculty staff meeting Jan. 13 in the U. School Auditorium.

Gibala will also discuss social security and retirement problems with individuals. Dr. Max A. Sippel, president of the Personnel Office, will make the individual appointments.

The University Retirement System Board is presenting new retirement and social security proposals to the current session of the General Assembly.

Marterie Plays To Big Crowd

A near-capacity crowd heard Ralph Marterie's 17-piece orchestra give a two-hour concert in Shryock Auditorium Thursday night.

"It's good to be back," Marterie said as he opened his show. He and his band played for the Homecoming Dance here two years ago.

When he asked for requests from the audience, Marterie was greeted with cries of "Play 'Skokiaan,' 'Caravan' and old favorites like 'Tenderly' and 'Dr. Marterie' were among many other requests.

Souvenir seekers were rewarded with autographed pictures of Marterie and miniature trumpets after the show.

Write A Few Lines

The student "write to your legislator" campaign beginning this week may be one of the most effective means of attracting the legislator's interest in SIU students and how they feel about the University.

Several hundred letters pouring into a legislator from students in his home district, many of them voters, could create a terrific impact on how he feels about the SIU budget appropriation.

The student committee which is working to obtain mass student support of the president's budget request is sponsoring this campaign and will need plenty of help.

Twisting of arms and walling appeals will not be the method used to get students to write these letters. However, the committee will furnish names, addresses and districts of Illinois legislators and provide paper and pen in a convenient place to write a short note. Mailing of these letters will also be the committee's responsibility.

Nudes Not Needed

It seems there has been a change in pin-up procedure. According to a recent issue of Newsweek, many campus public relations have been censured recently for running pictures of nude or semi-nude women.

The girls of the Women's College of the University of North Carolina have pulled a switcheroo, however. It seems that "Corradini," the literary magazine, ran a nude, line drawing of a MALE figure.

Chancellor Edward K. Graham censured the girls of "malicious intent" but said they had "bad taste."

Bewildered artist, Lee Hall, said, "I simply wanted to draw a beautiful figure in the classical style."

(This editorial is by no means to be construed to indicate that the Egyptian wants pictures of naked men. B.P.)

Don't Be A Killer

Only one of 4500 students was killed in an automobile accident over the holidays. Only one. But that is one thousand percent too many. That mere one brought tragedy to an entire family and many friends.

As long as there is one fatality in any holiday or weekend it will be one too many. You who drive must remember this. In the case of the one SIU death it was a passenger and not a driver who was killed. If you drive, remember—it may be worse to be the killer than the killed. B.P.

Over Again

The APO Line-O-Dimes went over its quota last year because of the generosity of the faculty, students and administrative employees.

The 1955 drive begins tomorrow. Let's beat the quota again this year. J.A.

Romeo Feature Of English Department Trip

A trip to St. Louis today for students to see the movie version of Romeo and Juliet at the Shady Oak Theatre. Jan. 11, has been arranged by the English Department, according to Dr. J. C. Camp.

A bus will leave the campus at 5 p. m. today.

CLAUDETTE CERAR and Jim McKinstry receive autographed souvenirs from Ralph Martier after his concert here Thursday night. This was Martier's second appearance on campus. He played at the 1952 Homecoming Dance.

"We'll have to have a heart to heart talk with him some night about what he intends to do when he graduates."

Quiet Kids Are Wrong Kind

'Silent Type Is Mistif' Says Speech Teacher

Critical of parents and teachers who adhere to the old-fashioned theory that children should be seen and not heard, an SIU speech specialist claims, "The silent type, young or old, is a misfit in today's world."

Dr. John Pruis, who conducts SIU's teacher training program in speech, says a child with a large vocabulary usually leads his grammar, while a child who talks without expression or has a limited word knowledge is seldom popular with other youngsters.

"Free expression helps clarify thinking," says the professor who also teaches dramatics and speech to pupils in the University School. "Children often say, 'I know what I mean but I can't say it. If they think it, they can say it. But not without a chance to experiment in putting their thoughts into words. Talking shows up weaknesses and, under sympathetic supervision, leads to word organization."

The professor warns teachers and parents, "Don't be a culture vulture waiting to pounce on a grammatical error. Let a youngster get his point across, then tackle the grammar errors."

Dr. Pruis points out that a young child has his own system for learning language. "He asks incessant questions. Not so much for information as to hear his parents talk so he can copy them."

"This method, annoying as it may be, should be encouraged, not curbed," he says. "It helps a child master the basic tool of communication—the spoken word. If he can't use this tool by the time he enters school he is slated for a rough time in learning to read, write, and listen."

The speech specialist goes on to explain that a child who can speak many words by the time he enters school is reading will have a tremendous lead in typing the printed symbol to the word in his mind.

"But if he doesn't have certain words already in his mind, he'll possibly learn first grade symbols for them until he first goes through the slow process of absorbing the spoken words."

Dr. Pruis feels that most of children's difficulties come from not enough experience in talking, not story sense, or speech devices—theirs or the adults to whom they listen and strive to copy.

Declaring that children should be given plenty of opportunity to read aloud at all age levels, Dr. Pruis says, "An adolescent may be a fine silent reader, but when he opens his mouth to speak he opens his mouth to speak with poor diction and unpleasant voice, why he is a poor speller and writer—he's had too little supervised practice in reading and speaking to people."

"Have you listened to the talking of Dr. Pruis asks, "They say, 'I bet, yessssss, gessssss, 'now, now', and you are supposed to know they are asking, 'Did you eat? Are you going to get some chow now...'"

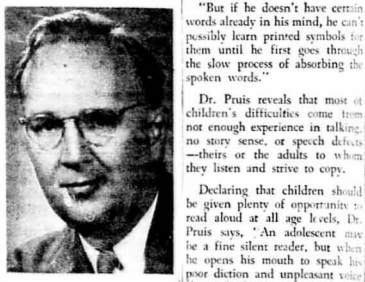

The professor has an answer, a regular, systematic program to help children at all grade levels to use language effectively and to speech improvement for all and special help for the five to ten percent who have clinical troubles.

"Train not only in speech activities," adds the professor, "but teach them to listen intelligently, to radio, public and TV speech, and to distinguish between fact and opinion. Our goal is to produce articulate persons who will be able to participate in school work and in the community as adults."

Willard Elected Head Of English Teachers' Group

Dr. Charles Willard, supervisor of English in University school is the newly-elected president of the Illinois Association of Teachers of English, an organization that includes teachers of English at all grade levels.

Immediate past vice-president of the association, Dr. Willard also served as program chairman during 1951-53. His executive positions in the Illinois association automatically place him on the board of directors of the National Council of Teachers of English.

AG CLUB ELECTS COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

Results of the Dec. 16 election of committee chairmen were announced by the Agriculture Club yesterday.

Winners were Don Cates, senior, recognition; Bill McKeen, junior, special projects; Ed Fleckenstein, sophomore, membership and notification; Dale Childers, freshman, recreation; and Edgar Reed, freshman, refreshments.

Voting was by classes, with each filing posts allotted to it in advance.

Bids For Air Academy Positions Being Received

Nominations are now open for the first class of Air Force Cadets in the Air Force Academy at its temporary location, Lowery Air Force Base, Denver, Colo., which will open in July, 1955.

The cadets will receive a Bachelor of Science degree and be commissioned Second Lieutenants in the U.S. Air Force.

A graduate will get an Aircraft Observer's wings and be a qualified aerial navigator. If he meets pilot training requirements he will be sent to flight school.

The Academy will be constructed at the foot of the Rocky Mountains, east of Pike National Forest, Colo.

Congress has authorized $126,000,000 for land acquisition, planning, design and construction of the Academy.

An Air Force Academy catalogue, soon to be released, will give details about requirements and procedures for admission.

The academic curriculum covers two broad areas of learning: Social Humanities and Scientific fields. Emphasis will be placed on the study of English so graduates will be able to deal in writer and oral communication.

Of the initial class of 300 cadets, nominations for 255 vacancies have been allotted to Congressmen, divided among the states.

The additional 45 cadets will be chosen from other sources such as sons of deceased vets of the last three wars, sons of Medal of Honor winners, Presidential appointments and Vice Presidential nominations.

Final selection of the 300 cadets for the first class will be made by the Air Force Academy Admissions Board.

Soil Saving Service, Farm Advisers To Have Meet Here

The Soil Conservation Service and Farm Advisers of the Agricultural Extension Division will meet in the Studio Theatre at 9:30 a. m. Jan. 12.

The University of Illinois Agricultural Extension will furnish the staff and research for the meeting and conduct it.

Smith-Hughes Vocational Agriculture teachers of this area will be among those attending.

MATH TEST FOR NEWCOMERS FRIDAY

The mathematics training test, part of the General Education Development battery, will be given in the University School auditorium at 10 a. m. Friday.

The reading exam will be given Jan. 21 and the English test Jan. 28.

The tests are required of all new students and freshmen who have not previously taken them.

MAIL BOX

Dear Sir:

One of the reasons that I picked SIU was the fact that it was known as a school where you could get individual help from instructors. I understand that in the past classes were smaller and there were more opportunities to have conferences with each instructor.

I am now a second term freshman. I thought things were crowded the first term, but if anything, it is worse now. In one class there are about forty students. Where is the individual help there?

I understand that SIU is in a transitional period now and that it is difficult to find space. I certainly hope, however, that things don't get out of hand and totally ruin Southern's reputation, as being a medium-sized, friendly school.

It's alright for a school to grow but I hope things don't get out of hand. It seems to some degree that we already have. If these problems will be solved by the new legislation, appropriate enough money from SIU and if letters to the senators and representatives will help, for one, am going to write.

Girardoux, also a diplomat and government official, died during the German occupation in his country, in 1944, at the age of sixty-two. Theater-goers of Broadway have awarded acclaim to four of his plays: "Amphitruon 38" (with the Lunas), "The Madwoman of Chantal," "Online" (with Audrey Hepburn), and "The Enchanted."

Small Business Class To Be Established

Organization of the new Small Business Institute is under way at SIU directed by Ralph Bedwell, former manager of the education department of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.

The Institute was established to simulate training of students interested in going into business for themselves in Southern Illinois, to provide technical advice on small business operations, and to establish effective contacts between the businessman and the professional staff of SIU.

The director was formerly assistant dean of the College of Commerce at DePaul University, Chicago. He served with the state chamber the past three years working with Illinois businessmen to promote sound educational programs in schools. He joined Southern's staff Dec. 1.

Bedwell explained that three committees would be made part of the organizational setup of the new SIU Agency.

1. The Council of Small Business will be composed of representatives of business, industry, banking, labor, law, agriculture and education who will cooperate with regional, civic and community groups in aiding development and financing of small business operations. This committee will have Dr. George H. Hand, SIU vice president in charge of business affairs as chairman.

2. A technical advisory committee consisting of area specialists whose services might be sought to advise businessmen in such fields as production, sales and advertising, tax structures, and personnel. Members of this committee would serve as adjunct professors or research associates of the University, without pay.

3. An informal faculty committee will be expected to contribute to the instructional research or educational service programs of the Institute.

Named to this body were: Harry B. Bedwell, agriculture; dean of Technical and Adult Education at Southern; Oliver W. Beinfuhr, geography and geology department; Roye R. Bryant, Placement Service; Van A. Baboltz, business administration; Milton Edleman, economics; Lee Kolover, agriculture; Donald K. Talbot, industrial education; W. J. Tudor, Area Service Office; and William C. Westberg, psychology.

The Institute will carry out a program of research, instruction and educational service, the director pointed out. Among the most important research will be studies of the factors responsible for the success or failure of business firms in Southern Illinois, and surveys of opportunities for manufacturing, marketing and service in terms of the need of the overabundance of certain types of enterprises.

Through the Institute's Council of Small Business, students working toward careers in business and industry would be given instruction in the area firms as part of their schooling. The Council would also seek loans and scholarships for deserving students.

After graduation, Bedwell said, students starting into business on their own would be given free consulting services through the Institute. University specialists in economics, business law, accountancy and other fields also will be called upon to counsel other concerns seeking help.

The Area Services Office of the University will help integrate the educational program of the Institute with other SIU services to business, Bedwell explained.

A native of Evansville, Ind., Bedwell was graduated from Evansville College and took a master's degree at Syracuse University. He taught mathematics at Franklin, N. Y., before entering the Navy for three years as a meteorologist in the Aleutians and the Alaskan Theater.

Before the war, Bedwell also had been a process engineer for the Sunbeam Company.

Voigt Plans Forest Booklet

A booklet designed to promote interest in the recreational potential of Southern Illinois forests is scheduled as the product of a Graduate School grant awarded Dr. John W. Voigt, assistant botany professor.

A scenic highway called the Shawnee Trail is planned for the area in the future.

In gathering material, Dr. Voigt has so far studied trees in 20 places, tabulating the different kinds and the percentage of each and seeking to determine the factors affecting reproduction and growth.

Just completed by Dr. Voigt is a study of the distribution in this area of the French shooting star. Never named after a former member of the Southern forestry department who discontinued it, Dr. Voigt has found it growing in 20 spots in a four-county strip about 10 miles wide and 60 miles long.

Salukis Drop Two Straight

Eastern Walks Past Salukis 84-60

An undefeated Eastern Illinois five remained that way by handing the Salukis an 84-60 defeat Friday night at Charleston.

The loss gave Southern a 1-1 record in the IAC.

A tight defense and good rebounding spelled defeat for the SIU hoopers as the Panthers controlled both boards and forced Southern to shoot from far out.

Capt. Gib Kurtz led the Salukis scoring attack with 14 while "Goose" Connell topped Eastern's efforts with 18 points.

Southern strived close the first ten minutes with Steve Zebos showing traces of his capabilities for the first time this season. But the Panthers caught fire to move into a 42-22 half-time lead.

This set the Salukis back too far to overcome the defending champions of the IAC, and the Panthers coasted to their fifth win.

Swimmers Set For Southern's First Meet

The first swimming team in the history of Southern Illinois University will make its home debut Friday against Illinois Normal.

The freshman-studded Saluki squad, 53-31 losers to Missouri Mines in the season opener, will rely on Roger Counsel, Wood River sophomore, who won the team's initial first place award in the diving events at Rolla; and rookie Bob Montgomery, Grafton, diving events workhorse who won second in the 440 and 220 yard free style events against the Miners.

Coach Ed Shea has been working his team at top pace in preparation for the Redbirds. Normal has five returning lettermen this season, including Roger Hufford last year's captain and individual medley specialist.

Probable Southern participants are:

- 300-yd. medley relay: Allan Cline, Randy Hand, Vic Carr and Charles Stratton.
- 220-yd. free style: Bob Montgomery and David Burkstaller.

Jackson Heads Huskie Scoring

Bobby Jackson, sensational freshman from Chicago's DuSable High School, is the leading scorer on the Northern Illinois State Teachers College basketball team in six games played to date. The sharp-shooting yearling has hooped 101 points for a 16.8 average, as the Huskies have built a 4-2 record.

Bill Healey's balanced offense is center Norm Goldman, a senior from Chicago Sullivan, with 97 points for a 16.2 average. Another Chicagoan, John Olson, sophomore from Hyde Park High, has a 15.2 average on the strength of a 91-point total.

Healey's outstanding floorman, Dennis Bill Egan of Mt. Morris, and Ray DeWane of Belvidere, are fourth and fifth in scoring, respectively. Egan has hit for 75 points and a 12.5 average, while DeWane has netted 39 points for a 6.5 mark.

Wesleyan Hands 82-67 Loss To Dead Salukis

Still looking for a winning combination, the Salukis again fell to defeat, this time to Illinois Wesleyan, 82-67.

Steve Zebos led the attack against his former teammates as he was dropped through 14 points, high for the Salukis. Wesleyan center Glen Newton had the range though as he poured through 27 markers.

Southern was behind from the opening seconds and remained that way throughout the game, trailing 46-24 at halftime.

Southern's bright spot was the showing of Zebos as he led the Salukis in scoring two nights in a row. He formerly attended Illinois Wesleyan before entering the army.

The showing was very disheartening as the tallest team in Coach Holder's reign at Southern went further toward the worst record yet to be compiled by a Holder team. It was the eighth loss in ten starts for the Salukis.

Phi Taus Take Over First In Greek Bowl

Phi Kappa Tau forged into the SIU Hellenic bowling league lead last Wednesday by rapping Theta Xi for all four. Will Cooney's 504 paced the new leaders.

Sigma Tau Gamma welded together the highest team figure in the melee with a 2,527 total, good for four victories against Delta Zeta on the strength of Tom Holbovski's 516 which was backed up by Paige Stagner's 490 and Jim Carlyle's 484.

Pi Kappa Sigma, stimulated by Juanita Peradotto's 441 set down Sigma Sigma Sigma for the full 100. Helen Ogonoski's 400 was another fine contribution. On the losing end was Barbara Peterson punching a 400 series.

Eldon Klein's 566 paced Sigma Pi to a triple conquest of Delta Sigma Epsilon to round out the session. Harold Schwehr's 486 and Don Mueller's 477 added in the conquest.

Southern's hopes lay in Bill 111 Sport, recently returned from the army and who was outweighed by 45 pounds as he met Ed Riesewer. The chances were slim and five minutes passed with both men still on their feet before Spratt saw his chance. He took his man down and when his opponent was still off guard pin him to give Southern five points and a tie 14-14.

Southern came back as Steingurg by beat Bill Norris in the 177-pound class. The score was then 14-9 with Southern needing a pin to tie the score.

Indee Bowling Loop Tied At Halfway Mark

After an exciting 36-game race, the first half schedule of the SIU Independent students bowling league ended with a deadlock for first place between La Coterie and Chattanooga, each club gaining a 3 to 1 decision from their respective opponents.

Thus, a special roll off for the championship of the first round was set up for Monday.

John Schneider did the pacing for La Coterie with 520 while Glen Schmitz had 503 for the victimized Anthony Hall crews.

Rip Stokes and Darrell Thompson collaborated their respective efforts of 488 and 487 to set the fireworks for Chattanooga. Ken Davis' 513 was in vain for the Stags.

Other three game winners were H.O.H.N. over the Bloopers and the Five Aces over Brown Jug.
