TORN-UP CAMPUS IS SIGN OF PROGRESS

Southern's campus will go through a partial renovation during the summer months with emphasis on building and general improvements, according to Dr. William Neal Phelps of the physical plant.

Already in this process is the laying of a new 8-inch water main from a new power house, across the campus, to Grand avenue. This enlarged main will increase the water supply for all present buildings on the campus, improve fire fighting facilities and will also serve as an adequate supply for new buildings under contract for work.

Lonc Parking Area

The Lone Star cafe is to become part of the physical plant, possibly to be used as the paint department.

Complete overhauling of the boiler plant has begun with the installation of new boilers and steam pressure pump which is capable of forcing steam through water or heater pipe to sufficiently heat all campus buildings. Surfacing of the area just west of the cafeteria for a parking lot and remodeling of the Palmer Lab are projects just getting under way.

Four hundred individual letters of invitation have been sent to general administrators. Students are urged to attend, and some professors will take their class as a job.

Southern Illinois' public school educators and school board members will have the opportunity to learn first-hand how one state-wide school reorganization system works, when they attend a three-day conference at Southern June 22-23.

Olin C. Nutter, superintendent of the Huntington city and Cabell County schools in West Virginia, will serve as consultant for the conference, according to Dr. Marshall S. Hickey, acting dean of the College of Education.

Bosley is coordinator of the county-wide unit system of schools, embracing five senior high schools, six junior high schools and numerous elementary schools, all coordinated in a few administrative units. A school administrator of 24 years' experience, he has headed the reorganized Cabell County and Huntington schools since 1938.

OLIN C. NUTTER

Members of the conference will be Dr. Howard E. Dosty, associate professor of education and chairman of Southern's Committee on School Reorganization.

County superintendents, city superintendents, principals, and school board members are being invited to attend the three-day session.

Training School Building Bids To Be Received June 30

Bids have been called for on construction of the new training school building at Southern. University officials were notified by Frank G. Thompson, chairman of the State Teachers College Board.

Mr. Thompson, director of the state department of registration and education, informed President Lay that C. Herrick Hammond, supervising architect of the division of architecture and engineering, is advertising for bids on the new two and a quarter million dollar building.

Bids are to be received June 30, and it is hoped that the division of architecture and engineering and the Teachers College Board will be able to award the contract immediately.

Award of the contract is contingent upon whether bids are within the appropriation available for the building.

The board is said to be jubilant over the fact that this new building, so badly needed at the university, is soon to be built.

The new training school will be the first educational building to be constructed at Southern in nearly 20 years, and is the first in a series which are necessary to the expansion of this growing university, he added.

This is the greatest news we have had at Southern in a long time," University President Chester F. Lay declared.

Faculty, administration and friends of Southern have looked forward to the construction of the training school for many years. We sincerely hope that it will be followed in the next biennium by several other structures on our campus list of urgently needed buildings.

A similar workshop, running eight weeks, June 14-Aug. 6, will be carried on here at the university for resident students.

THE CORN CRIB Edited by Wallace Peebles

If you're a license plate watcher, on your summer vacation you might notice that states no longer are content to casually imprint some red paint, a number, and the state's name.

This year's crop of self-advertising included the formation that Arkansas is "Opportunity Land"; Arizona is still the "Grand Canyon State"; and Georgia is content to strag along with its "Peach State" motto.

Maine still is "Vacationland," New Mexico still insists it's "The Land of Enchantment," and Wisconsin remains "America's Dairyland." The other 39 states, including California and Texas, evidently assume all the world knows what they are famous for.

The three ages of man are school tablet, aspirin tablet, and stone tablet.

One thing in favor of death over taxes—death doesn't get worse every time congress meets.

ATTENTION COERS: Did you hear about the gal who sent a desperate letter home to her mother saying she needed some new lingerie? The following week she received a package from home saying, "if you'll use this, you have all you need." The box contained soap chips.

A proud parent on meeting the new first grade teacher remarked: "I'm very happy to know you, Miss Smith. I am the father of the twins you are going to have next September."

A man rushed into the drugstore and asked the pharmacist how to stop hiccoughs. His answer was a slap in the face. Shaken and angry, the man demanded an explanation. "Well," the druggist grinned, "you haven't hiccoughs now, have you?" "No, but my wife, out in the car, still has them!"

Infamous last words: Are these the FINAL grades?

FRANKLIN TO BE HEAD OF MEN'S P. E. DEPARTMENT

A new head of the department of physical education for men at Southern has been appointed, to assume his duties next fall.

Cecil Franklin from Indiana University, who by fall will hold one of the comparatively few doctoral degrees in physical education, has been named to the position which had been filled on a permanent basis since the death in 1948 of the late William McAndrew.

Aided Handicapped Group

Mr. Franklin is completing his doctor's degree at Indiana University this summer. He has been holding a graduate's assistantship there, where his wife, also a physical education teacher, has been working full-time in the University school.

Holder of both the bachelor's and master's degrees from Indiana University, he served in that university's physical fitness program before he went into the air corps, has had experience in the Bureau of Service and Research, and has had almost full responsibility for the physical education classes for handicapped men students. He also has served as assistant director of campus recreation. As a student athlete, he was captain of the Indiana intercollegiate swimming-team, and has had experience in several minor sports.

Surplus of Rooms For Boys Reported

Information from housing directors, Mrs. Mabel Pfuller revealed a surplus of approximately 200 boys' room vacancies. However, there is a scarcity of rooms for girls and to date fewer than 50 rooms. In spite of the two housing projects there is an even greater scarcity of rooms for couples.

There is a probability of a scarcity of rooms for some students this fall as many are already taken.

Dominic's New Shorthand Plays Tricks On Him

Dominic Manfredro, 80, retired and living alone in the hill country east of Makanda is still having trouble with his shorthand and English language and the children who occasionally pass his cottage are secretly hoping that he never improves.

Dominic having no car nor mule relies on letters to the city proper for supplies which come in by mail. The clerks had so much trouble with his Italian writing that finally long and painfully he spelled out an order in English which they have done already but his spelling being a little better, but he saw no need for a "C" in matches, got a little kick in the tail of the "C" and his "C" was making it spell matches. This made it easy for the clerk who promptly sent him—2 boxes of mackerel. Instead of noodles he got noodles.

Dominic gave up and for the next few weeks managed to get into the village but when his supply of long, black Italian cigars ran low and none could be had in the local stores, he tried Chicago illustrating his order this time with a drawing and received by return mail—2 boxes of stick candy.

Dominic is now at a loss what to do next but somewhat comforted by the knowledge that he is not the first Makanda citizen to have such troubles as older villagers told him of a dear old lady who once owned a shop there. Being unable to write she used drawings in her occasional mail orders sometimes causing mix-ups, the most talked-of perhaps being the time she forgot to put the little square hole in the grindstone she was ordering for a customer and they sent her a hoop of cheese.

DR. LARSON WILL ATTEND MEETING AT CHAMPAIGN

Dr. P. Merville Larson, chairman of the speech department, will leave Thursday to attend a meeting at Champaign under the direction of Neil Garry extension division. Designs In Music

Southern's band, under direction of Harold C. Hines, adds to the crowd spirit at athletic events with marching and formation antics.

Hughes Is Voted Outstanding Athlete

Joe Hughes of West Frankfort, sophomore, was voted by his fellow letter-winners as the outstanding athlete of the 1947-48 school year recently and received the Henry Hinkley Memorial award at a banquet given for Southern athletes by the Carbondale Businessmen's association.

Hughes earned awards in three sports, football, basketball and tennis, as well as in the 100 and 200 yard sprints, and in football, a regular/former in basketball and as a hurdler and pole vaulter he was one of the track team's high scorers.

Elect Captains

Last year Quentin Sinton of Eldorado was the recipient of the Hinkley award, which is given each year to Southern's outstanding athlete star by Nu Epsilon Alpha fraternity in memory of the late Henry Hinkley of Alma, a fraternity member and Southern star in football and basketball who was killed at Bask Island on June 7, 1944.

Hughes received his award four years to the day after Hinkley's death.

Jack Mawdsley of Granite City, who will be a junior, will serve as tennis captain. He was elected several weeks ago. Mawdsley won the second division singles championship of the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Tennis meet on May 22.

T. Houghton, Carbondale, program chairman, concluded the evening by taking note of Southern's championships earned this year. The Maroons won the I. L. C. title in football and basketball, and won the Corn Bowl football game from North Central.

Review Record

G.E.D. TESTS ARE TO BE GIVEN ON JULY 2 AND 3

General Educational Development tests will be given to those individuals who do not hold a high school diploma, but who wish to clear up their high school records. Tests are given on the first Friday and Saturday of each month, the next testing dates being July 2 and 3, beginning at 8 a. m., according to Dr. Marshall S. Hickey, acting dean of the College of Education.

Upon successful completion of the tests, a high school diploma is granted the individual either from his home high school, or from the University High school.

Dr. Hinkley stated that state regulations require that each applicant present a letter from his high school principal, stating that he is entitled to grant the diploma, dependent upon the success of the G. E. D. tests. The applicant's signature should appear on this letter.

If there are any adults or veterans on campus who are interested in these tests, they should contact Mrs. Alice Rector in the dean of men's office prior to the testing date.

Health Education Workshop Gets Under Way Here

Southern Illinois University's health education workshop for inservice teachers is getting underway for its fourth consecutive year under the direction of Ralph Houghton, University health coordinator and instructor of physiology.

The State Department of Public Health and the Kellogg Foundation are cooperating with Southern's physiology and health education department in carrying on the program for this term.

Campus consultants who are specialists in fields related to health education and a large number of off-campus consultants from the various state departments will lecture and serve as advisors for student projects.

Individual problems are entirely different this year, according to Dr. Marie A. Hirsch, chairman of the physiology and health education department. She says that the inservice teacher is more concerned with ways and means of promoting attitudes toward health teaching and health behavior than in the usual subject matter.

"They want to make the health program function," Dr. Hirsch declared.

Speakers who appeared before the group during the first week of the session included Kathleen Bellay, Carbondale School Nurse; Roy O. Duncan, State Director of Health, Physical Education and Safety; and Hazel O'Neal, Health Coordinator, Office of Public Instruction.

All SIU Students Mav Swim Free at Crab Orchard Lake

Main feature of Southern's recreational program for the summer is free swimming for all students.

Free transportation and free admission to Crab Orchard lake is provided by the men's and women physical education department. A bus leaves from Harwood street near the football field at 2:50 p. m. every Monday through Thursday, and returns from the lake at 5 p. m. Any student is welcome.

A picnic in honor of new and visiting faculty members is planned for June 30 at 5:30 p. m. east of the library, according to Miss Lucy K. Woody, chairman of the university social committee.

"In case of rain, the group will move to the old gymnasium."

"Smoking pleasure means Chesterfield to me every time"

Anne Baxter

STARRING IN "THE WALLS OF BERICHIO" A 24-CIGARETTE FOX PICTURE

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield

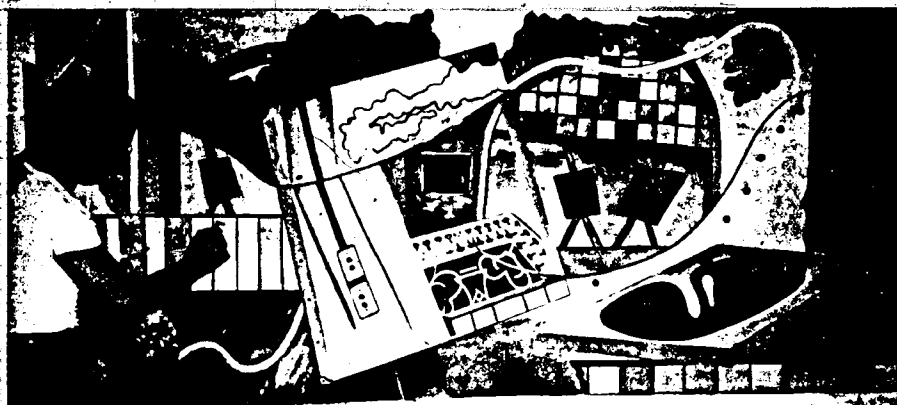

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT WOMEN) Chesterfield brings the best smelted ripe, sweet tobacco. They consistently pay the best prices to get the kind of tobacco they want.

For one smoking Chesterfield more than 25 years. It's a good, mild cigarette with more real tobacco taste.

James L. Nettleton, Fairfield, who graduated from Southern this month with a major in art, is shown above working on a mural in the art room on the second floor of Old Main. The mural, which covers a portion of the west wall, is an impressionistic design depicting ideas found in the art room in which it appears. For instance, it cleverly incorporates electric light switches, a ventilator, the stained glass windows, and cascades into a pleasing maze of color. The individual project was under the direction of Miss Emily Farnham, instructor in art.

27 Apartments Are Ready for Tenants at Ordnance Plant

Twenty-seven apartments are ready for immediate occupancy at the Ordnance Plant veterans housing project according to Ernest Wolfe, vet housing director at Southern.

This announcement was made Wednesday following repeated delays in formal opening of the three buildings, each of which has been converted into nine apartments.

"All of the apartments have been spoken for," Mr. Wolfe said, but he added a note of optimism for veteran apartment hunters by indicating that "three or four units likely will be available" because of cancellations when the prospective tenants are notified.

Single Story Buildings
These 27 units are in addition to the 68 units of the large administration building at the Ordnance plant. The new apartments differ from the 68-unit group mainly in the fact that they are single story affairs. The housing project is about 10 1/2 miles from Carbondale.

Veterans interested in an apartment should see Mr. Wolfe in his temporary office in Main 104.

At Least We Snapped Part of the Act

Decapitation of the magician in this case is a photographer's error and not part of the act. But Delmer Porter, a junior pre-med student, might be expected to do the impossible in any other performance. An amateur magician by avocation, Porter often is called upon to perform for campus socials. He is an honor student, a feat he performs without strings.

ASSAILS POSTURE, SLOPPY JOES AND COKE FOR COEDS

Lack of sleep, "sloppy Joe" shoes, bad posture and coke and coffee diets were listed as common health problems of college women by Dr. Evelyn Rude, student infirmary physician, in a recent speech at Dallas before the American Student Health Association of the Southwest.

She said coeds hold too many nocturnal "gab" sessions, stay up too late studying or put their washing (clothes) off until the wee hours of the morning. She recommended 11 p. m. as the very latest for college girls to stay up.

She assailed "sloppy Joe" shoes, also known as loafers, as being without adequate support for the ankle or the foot, having to be lifted too short in order to keep them on. Interior arches slowly drop with long use of this type of shoe, she said.

Coke and coffee diets displace an appetite for more nourishing foods. She also pointed out that coeds have as much caffeine in coffee, too many calories and too few vitamins.
