Noted Music Conductor To Give Recital Tuesday

Dr. Stanley Chapple, noted symphony and opera conductor, concert pianist and lecturer, will give a piano lecture-concert in Shryock auditorium, Tuesday, June 26 at 8 p.m. The event is under the auspices of Phi Sigma Mu, National Honorary Music Education fraternity.

Dr. Chapple, born and educated in England, made his debut as a conductor of professional opera at the age of sixteen when he was called upon to substitute for the regular conductor of an opera company in London. Subsequently he became assistant conductor for the British National Opera company, a post which he held for three years. He then founded the Modern Chamber Orchestra of London specializing in contemporary music. He made his debut as conductor of the London Symphony orchestra in Queens Hall in 1927. Since then he has conducted major symphony orchestras throughout Europe, Canada, and the United States.

Dr. Chapple will speak on "The Theme and Variations Form as Treated by Mozart, Beethoven, and Mendelssohn," and as examples he will play the first movement of Mozart's Piano Sonata in A Major, the Thirty-two Variations on a Theme in C Minor by Beethoven, and the Mendelssohn Variations Serieuses in D Minor.

From 1930 to 1934, Dr. Chapple was head of the London Academy of Music. He is now head of the music department at the University of Washington in Seattle and director of the Seattle Symphony orchestra, a post previously held by Sir Thomas Beecham.

DR. CHAPPLE took up permanent residence in the United States in 1939 when he accepted the position of assistant to Dr. Serge Koussevitzky at the Berkshire Music center where he remained until 1947. Since that time he has conducted the St. Louis Philharmonic orchestra and has been regular summertime conductor of the St. Louis Little Symphony.

In addition to his other accomplishments, Dr. Chapple is the author of three well-known books on theory of music and class piano teaching. Dr. Chapple has made numerous radio and television appearances and is currently appearing on a fifteen minute television broadcast on station KSD-TV, Wednesdays at 8:45 a.m.

STUDENTS WILL be admitted to the lecture-recital in Shryock auditorium Tuesday night upon presentation of their activity tickets. There will be a one dollar admission charge to all others. Proceeds from the event will be used toward the establishment of a scholarship fund for worthy music students of this area.

'Family Portrait', Story of Christ's Relatives, Chosen for Summer Play

"Family Portrait,"—a three-act story of Christ's family—has been chosen as the summer play to be presented here the latter part of July.

Dr. Georgia Winn, associate professor of English, who is doing graduate work here this term, has been chosen for the lead part—Mary, the mother of Jesus.

TAKING FOR its theme Christ's words, "A prophet is not without honor, but in his own country, and among his own kin and in his own house," "Family Portrait" elaborates in the terms of an ordinary family which acts and speaks as people do today. It is a simple and reverent picture of the family of Jesus.

It begins in Nazareth which Jesus has just left upon His life work, and where His remaining brothers understand only that in the height of the building season He has left them and depleted the working force.

It continues in Capernaum where tavern keepers and promot-

TO CUT OR NOT TO CUT

After many arguments, discussions, and experiments, the faculty at Southern seems to be satisfied with the arrangement concerning "cuts," namely, that of allowing the instructor to decide for himself how many cuts a student should take in any one course. Quite differently, many students feel that the present system is all wrong.

Most instructors state some opinion on cuts near the first of the term. Some say that the number of cuts does not concern them as long as it does not affect the student's grade. Then, later in the term, before the instructor has even given a test, he may fill out a report for the Dean's office stating that the number of cuts are affecting the grades of the student.

Others decide that you may have no cuts at all, that you may have as many as the quarter hours credit you receive in that course, or that a student may take as many cuts as he desires.

There seem to be three glaring faults with the system now in use: the complete lack of agreement among instructors; lack of consideration for the fact that the student is now on a college level and allowed to make all other decisions for himself; and an "A" student is required to be in class just as much as an "E" student if he expects to get the grade he has made.

One solution might be to install a system in which a student with a grade better than a "B" average in any particular course be allowed to have unlimited cuts in that course as long as his course average remains a "B". This would give the student more time to study on subjects more difficult for him and would allow the instructor more time to help students truly in need of assistance. To be effective the system should be used by all instructors, and should be fairly used by instructor and student alike. Finally, the system would also give the student a goal to strive for and would probably bring up the school average somewhat.

Progress . . .

It's hard to believe, but it's true. The training school site is being rushed to completion; work is well on its way to clear the site for a new girls dormitory; the heating tunnels for the proposed library and proposed life science buildings are almost finished.

Work on the new building projects does not add to the beauty of the campus this summer and the noise from this work sometimes is very distracting to classes, but the work does represent progress—progress on a building program which Southern has needed for many years.

Building—especially under present war-time conditions—is difficult and takes considerable time, money, and effort. We really appreciate the work that is being done.

We think that it is unfortunate that the State highway department and the city of Carbondale are not cooperating fully with Southern in backing the proposed new highway (Route 51) on the east side of the campus near the Illinois Central Railroad, but perhaps before too long, this cooperation can be achieved and work also can begin on that project. B. H.

Essays and Sallies . . .

The army is to be congratulated on selecting Southern as a training site. We suggest, though, that someone move the big ditch back of the cafeteria in front of the Canteen. That way more people will have to jump over it and it'll be better training for future obstacle courses. And too, more books could be stacked in the library so the possibility of the roof falling in will be increased, thereby stimulating battle conditions. Our chow lines seem to conform to all army regulations.

The biggest fault some people have is that they tell the truth . . . about US!

The bust is to be placed in the university's Alumni service offices as a tribute to Vandevere's work for the association and the university. Mrs. Mills, a former resident of Carbondale who has had a studio in Washington for the past 10 years, was present for the unveiling, speaking briefly on the history and preparation of the bust.

MRS MABEL PULLIAM, Carbondale, was elected to the board of directors of the association, replacing Dr. Percival Bailey, Chicago, whose term expired. Two other directors, Troy Hawkins, Mt. Vernon, and Guy Karraker, Dongola,

Interviews

SIU Makes Study Of Coal Miners

Interviews with Southern Illinois coal miners who are 50 or older reveal that the men entered the mines at the average age of 16 and have been working an average of 43 years.

Other findings disclosed in a Southern Illinois University study of the coal miners' work experiences and attitudes are: more than one-half of the miners interviewed are the sons of farmers; one-third, the sons of miners; one-half were born in Southern Illinois and have lived here all their lives.

This study of work experience and attitudes is being conducted in five Southern Illinois counties—Perry, Jackson, Franklin, Williamson, and Saline—in a cooperative research program between Southern Illinois University and the University of Chicago.

The work was initiated in the fall of 1950 and is now half completed. The study is being made with the approval of both the United Mine Workers of America and the four cooperating mine companies. When completed the findings will be available to these groups and any other interested parties.

Coal miners are one of several occupational groups being examined in the research project program between the sociology departments of the two universities. It is the only study being made of a non-urban, non-factory group. The University of Chicago has already completed studies of the work experience and attitudes of workers in a highly skilled craft union and a large department store. The interviews are conducted by sociology students as a part of their class work.

Armstrong, State Selective Service director, has announced. It is the individual student's responsibility to see that his board receives the certificate.

Forms are available at all local boards. Since they must be prepared in triplicate each student should obtain three copies and deliver them to his college to be filled out. The certificate, known as SSS Form No 109, is the only document local boards will accept as evidence of scholastic standing. In the Chicago area, the forms are available at many colleges and universities as well as through local boards. Downstate, an institution may ask the nearest local board for enough forms to take care of its own students.

The completed certificate will be mailed by the college direct to the student's local board. The board's decision on granting a deferment may be based either upon scholastic standing or the score made on the Selective Service College Qualification test. When such information is received, the board will classify the student, but in no case may action be delayed after August 10.

Students transferring from one institution to another must have the certificate filled out by both institutions.

Warren Littleford Goes On Missionary Tour To Hawaiian Islands

One of Southern's football stars, Warren Littleford, Vandalia, is now on a nine-week summer evangelistic tour of Hawaii.

Littleford, who made the trip to Hawaii by airplane from Chicago, will do evangelistic work and will help conduct vacation Bible schools in various churches.

In going, Littleford became Illinois' first Southern Baptist summer missionary. Money for Littleford's transportation expense was contributed by Illinois students, mostly by SIU students.

His expense while there is being paid by the Southern Baptist Home Mission board.

Littleford will return here in time to enroll the fall term. He is taking color pictures while he is in Hawaii, and he plans to show these pictures upon his return.

No Faculty Newsletter Printed During Summer

Because of the current shortage of funds and the prospective general curtailment of budgets for next year, the Faculty Newsletter will not be distributed during the summer months. As an added economy measure, copies of news releases no longer will be distributed to such persons as deans, administrators, and members of the Board of Trustees.

FITZPATRICK HAS MANUSCRIPTS PUBLISHED

Two field studies made in partial fulfillment for a doctorate of education by Dr. Eugene D. Fitzpatrick, assistant professor of guidance and special education at Southern Illinois university, recently have been published by University Microfilm, Ann Arbor, Mich.

The study, "Analysis and Evaluation of the Distribution of Marks," was made in the Colorado State college of Education graduate school, where Fitzpatrick is taking his doctorate degree.

A study of the statistics needed by the classroom teacher was also conducted by Fitzpatrick. He recommended that a full-year course in educational statistics be required on the undergraduate level.

Copies of the complete manuscripts of the two studies are available from University Microfilms.
