53 Students Get $50 Fines

Some 53 students have been issued $50 parking tickets since the beginning of school in September, according to the record in the Office of Student Affairs. The total amount of the fines is $2,650.

A spokesman at the OSA said some of the tickets might have been voided.

According to the motor vehicle regulations, illegal possession of an automobile calls for a $50 fine for the first offense and suspension from the University for the second offense.

The only students now allowed to have automobiles in Carbondale are juniors, seniors, graduate students, commuters, married students, those physically handicapped, student employees and students over 21 years of age, with a clear title to the motor vehicle.

Regulations passed last quarter make it illegal for Carbondale residents to use the family car for other than "necessary" family duties during regular school time.

Almost $4,000 was assessed during the Fall and Winter quarter for parking violations.

Prof. Donald R. Taft has joined the SIU faculty as distinguished visiting professor in sociology and will teach the course during the fall term, according to J. K. Johnson, sociology department chairman.

Taft, who retired from the University of Illinois faculty in 1955, taught the following year in the law school of Istanbul (Turkey) University under a state department assignment. During the 1956-57 school year he taught courses in race relations at Dillard University, New Orleans, under a grant from the John Hay Whitney Foundation.

He is the author of two books: "Human Migration" and "International Migrations."

His SIU course will be concerned with numbers, quality, and movements of people. It is one of the foundation courses in sociology and is related to other courses and social problems, he says. The population question is of major importance at home and internationally, whether it involves problems of too many people, the wrong kind of people, or people on the move.

With a continuing baby boom and an increasing proportion of aged persons, the United States population is growing at both ends. Paradoxically, there are what surprises and hangs in the world at the same time, he says. Population pressure in Japan helps explain Pearl Harbor, and such countries as India and Egypt are raising large generations that they can provide for properly.

Last Chance For Sophomore Test Saturday

Sophomore make-up tests will be given for the last time this year Saturday at 1 p. m. in Bowens Auditorium, Parkington Building, according to the University Counseling and Testing Service, which is the last opportunity for sophomores who have not taken the tests to erase this deficiency from their records.

Attendance at these sessions is checked and all sophomores are required to take the tests. Any student with more than 48 quarter hours credit and less than 96 quarter hours is classified as a sophomore.

Purpose of the tests is to help students with their vocational and educational plans. Results of the tests will be sent to the student, and a copy will be placed in his folder at the Academic Advisement Center.

Aquatic School Set At Grassy Next Week

SIU's Little Grassy Campus will be the scene of the Red Cross National Aquatic School next week. The school will be conducted by water safety and first aid experts from all over the nation.

Swimming, lifesaving, first aid, canoeing, boating, sailing, leadership training in community organization, camp, water-fun, and swimming pool organization are all included in the curriculum.

Taft Course Offers 30 Years Of Experience

A retired University of Illinois sociologist will bring the experiences of 30 years on the U of I faculty as well as his study and teaching abroad to students in an SIU course in population and migration next fall.

Prof. Donald R. Taft has joined the SIU faculty as distinguished visiting professor in sociology and will teach the course during the fall term, according to J. K. Johnson, sociology department chairman.

Taft, who retired from the University of Illinois faculty in 1955, taught the following year in the law school of Istanbul (Turkey) University under a state department assignment. During the 1956-57 school year he taught courses in race relations at Dillard University, New Orleans, under a grant from the John Hay Whitney Foundation.

2 SIU Instructors Resign; Accept New Teaching Posts

Richard H. Morton, co-ordinator of the commercial art curriculum at VTI, has resigned to accept a position as assistant dean of the Columbus Art School, an affiliate of the Columbus Art Museum, Columbus, Ohio.

Morton's new assignment and consequential termination of duties at Southern will be effective at the completion of the present academic year.

Dr. Donald R. Grubb, assistant professor of journalism at SIU, has resigned to accept the position of chairman of the Department of Journalism at Northern Illinois University, effective Sept. 14.

Grubb first came to Southern in 1949, the first year Journalism was offered as a major at SIU. He was faculty advisor to the SIU chapter of the National College of Journalism and Public Relations, Inc., and has been faculty advisor to the Obelisk for eight years.

He is also director of the Southern Illinois High School Press Assn., president of Kappa Tau Alpha, corresponding secretary of Phi Kappa Phi, and is serving as vice chairman of the National Council of College Publications Advisors.

A native of Vergennes, Grubb received his B.S. from SIU in 1948. He was conferred his master's degree from the University of Minnesota in 1949. In 1956, he received a doctorate from the University of Utah, where he taught from 1954 to 1956.

Brooks Gets Senator Post

Joe Brooks, sophomore business major from Park Forest, was elected the 'second' Thompson Point senator at a special election Tuesday.

Brooks defeated four other candidates in the election, the closest competitor being Gary Bengston. Brooks chalked up 118 votes, to defeat by 15 Bengston's 103.

Other candidates were Marvin Howell, with 100 votes; David Kacisz, 69 and Ron Rathberger, 67. There were seven write-ins, and 20 invalid votes, for a total of 485 votes cast.

The special election came about as a result of the number of votes cast in the all-campus election May 12. The Constitution authorizes a second senator for those areas who cast more than 500 votes.

Bulletins For Departments Now Ready

Bulletins for the School of Communications and the School of Home Economics may now be obtained at the General Publications office, 113 East Grand.

Faculty of the respective schools may obtain their copy from the dean of their school. University offices will receive a copy for office use through campus mail.

All other staff members may request a copy by contacting the General Publications Office.

Obelisks Still Available At Falling House

1959 Obelisks are still being distributed at the house across from University Drug's on Illinois avenue. Students who have attended Southern a full year need only pick up the yearbook at the dilapidated house.

Plastic protective covers are being sold by the Journalism Students Assn. for 25 cents additional charge.

The 1959 book has a unique cover, with "Obelisk" printed in gold lettering near the bottom. A figurine depicting the steeple of Old Main is located on the right lower corner of the cover, and "Obelisk, SIU" is situated on the binding with another figurine of the Old Main steeple placed below the lettering, and above "1959".

Girl Dismissed From Southern For 'Strip'

The SIU co-ed who attracted a large crowd of male spectators for an impromptu strip-tease was dismissed from the University.

A crowd of men on-lookers were amped across from an apartment house on West College Street Monday, May 18, when the girl began disrobing in front of an upstairs window.

The crowd gathered for the next three nights at the house, but no further exhibition occurred. About 500 men congregated at the house on Thursday night, then proceeded to visit Woody Hall, the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority house and the two women's dorms at Thompson Point before Campus Police finally dispersed the throng.

Monday evening was the only night of the so-called "strip". The girl was clad in pajamas and underclothing, and removed the pajamas only behind a drawn, though thin, window blind.

Never Too Young

"You're never too old to learn," goes the old saying.

In the SIU foreign language department, however, the saying might be changed to "You're never too young to learn."

This summer, area children will have the chance to study a foreign language as "little university scholars" during the sixth annual summer workshop on the teaching of foreign languages in the elementary schools.

Under the direction of Professor Hellmut A. Harwig, the workshop will provide actual teaching experience to participants by setting by pilot classes for children in German, French and Spanish.

Harwig reports that first graders will be given courses in German, while fourth graders will study French and fifth grade students will be offered classes in Spanish.

The little German Scholars must be accompanied by at least one of their parents, who will be treated as regular members of the class. No more than 10 non-plus their parents will be accepted.

French and Spanish classes will be limited to 20 students. Parents will be welcomed to visit these classes any time as observer, Harwig said.

The pilot classes will be organized June 22 from 8 a. m. to noon. Regular sessions will begin June 23 and last through July 17. Classes will meet on the second floor of Wheeler Hall from 10:15 to 10:45 a. m., Monday through Friday.

There will be no charge for the instruction, Harwig said.

Russia Lauds SIU Scientist

Dr. Carl C. Lindgren of SIU is called "one of the colorful representatives of modern genetics" in a new book by a Russian scientist, titled "With Friends Abroad."

The author, I. E. Glushchenko, a member of the Russian Academy, sent Lindgren a copy of the book in which his theories are treated in some detail. Glushchenko also has asked Lindgren to contribute an article on Darwinism to a Russian scientific journal he edits.

The book is a compendium of author's exchanges with foreign scientists on his world travels between 1940 and 1946.

Lindgren, who has challenged the widely-held concept of genetic stability is quoted as saying that the chronological sequence in which scientific discoveries are made has a direct bearing on how they are interpreted. Glushchenko discusses an article in "Science" magazine in which the head of SIU's Biological Re-

Accepts Directorial Position With University Of Buffalo

William Rogge has resigned as SIU director of housing to accept a position at the University of Buffalo, Buffalo, N. Y., as director of housing and food services.

The resignation becomes effective Aug. 31, and Rogge will assume his new position Sept. 1.

The 38-year-old staff member received his master's degree in guidance and special education at the University of Wisconsin. He spent 1957, 1956 and part of 1957 at the University of Illinois working on his doctorate degree, and was a member of the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School for five months before returning to SIU to accept the director of housing in 1957.

A native of Wisconsin, Rogge was born and reared in Superior, as he says "right on Lake Superior." He was graduated from high school in Superior in 1940, and received his bachelor's degree in Sociology and biology at the U or W in 1950.

He met his wife, the former Elizabeth Warburton at the University of Wisconsin in 1947, and they were married in 1950. They now have a three daughters, Paula, 6; Catherine, 5; and Janet 2.

"The difficult part of the decision was not to go to Buffalo," the amiable director said. "I present a wonderful opportunity for me, but whether to leave Southern."

"I have become very closely identified with the students and staff and have a loyalty to SIU that far surpasses my own Alma Mater."

"I hope sometime in the future that if the opportunity were offered to me to come back in any of several areas of responsibility, to return."

Rogge, who was born on a farm, said he has the opportunity at Buffalo provides the setting for experiences quite different from those at Southern. The enrollment at Buffalo is 12,000.

"A large, privately endowed school with a student body drawn largely from large metropolitan areas and representing an immediate personal advance is what actually helped in making my decision," he stated seriously.

"I hope it will provide a background for some writing I soon wish to do in the area of housing programs for institutions in the United States."

Gazing wistfully out the window, the likable, down-to-earth Rogge said, "my feelings are much like the son

Eric Walker Speaks At Graduation

Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University, will speak to SIU's largest graduating class June 17.

Southern's 84th class of June graduates is expected to number 950 degree candidates, an increase of 100 over the 1958 class. The exercises will begin at 7 p. m. in McAndrew Stadium.

Born in Long Eaton, England, the 49-year old Walker is a three-degree graduate of Harvard University. He received a doctoral degree in engineering in 1935. Before being named Penn State president in 1956, he served 11 years as head of the University's department of electrical engineering and director of its Ordnance Research Laboratory; dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture, and vice president.

Southern In Cycles

Having walked and cycled through most of Europe, Hans Landauer of Oberwieser, Austria, is now traveling throughout the U. S. as a guest of American Youth Hostels, Inc. He is visiting Southern as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fassel, Fassel works with the University Press, and he and his wife have traveled over most of Europe.

Landauer is multi-lingual. He speaks English, French and Spanish fluently, in addition to his native tongue. After his tour of this country, he will take a 101 day leadership training course offered by AYH and then lead an AYH group touring Europe.

American Youth Hostels, the organization sponsoring the visit, enables young people to travel inexpensively to interesting places. AYH members travel by bicycle, foot, horseback, canoe, on skis or by combinations. They stay at hostels—simple, overnight accommodations. A hostler may travel independently or may join an organized trip; he may travel in either the U. S. or abroad.

The four Europeans visiting the U. S. now are guests of local AYH councils when they are in large cities. Councils located in this area are in St. Louis and Chicago. In towns where there is no council, AYH has arranged for some of their group leaders to be hosts to the men.

The Fassels have led cycling groups for AYH both at home and abroad. Last year they were hosts to a hostler from Italy, and three years ago a hostler from Northern Ireland was their guest.

The Editors' Opinions

Letters Welcome--If Signed

Letters from readers arrive at the EGYPTIAN office from time to time. We are delighted to receive these comments...

But it is an established policy that we do not print an unsigned letter. This is to offer freedom of speech to the person who writes the letter...

If the author of a letter gives a valid reason why his name should be withheld from publication, then we are glad to cooperate with him. But this, too, is not really to be advised...

It is difficult to understand why a person goes to the trouble of putting his thoughts down in a letter, and then does not have the strength of his convictions and ideas to sign his name to them.

Please feel free to write us your opinions. It is only through your comments that we know what you think of the paper and the campus events. But please, attach your name to the letter. If you still feel, however, that you would prefer to have your name withheld then indicate this fact on your letter.

And please don't try to fool us by putting a fictitious name on the letter. We don't try to fool you, but you might be.

Enjoy Life? Go Rural

Have you ever taken a weekend out to just enjoy life? Yes, you say? In what way did you do it--by going to Miami, or to a friend's house, or just goofing around on campus?

Life in college is in many ways equal to life in a big city. The rush of going to class, the weekend days, the assignment terms and research papers; fighting math and chemistry and physics; worrying about that "D" that will make Dad awfully furore...

College is certainly not an easy life--even though a majority of people think so. College is a time of growing up for most people, a time of decision, a time of awakening.

The next time you can afford--scholarship--to take a weekend away from campus, why not depart for the country? The resting place of domestic tranquility. A weekend away from the normal happenings of everyday campus activity, away from the familiar surroundings of your home town, will surely awaken some form of exuberance in you.

A simple farm manned by a family of hard-working, yet satisfied people brings out the best in everybody. The neat farmhouse situated midst seas of billowing wheat and rye; the dusty road bounding millions of cars, trucks, wagon and tractor wheels; the majestic, hangy, symbolic air, the sowing in the fiery sun and wintry blasts; and the flowing acreage of man-made and God-made bread of the earth...

There are those who are enthusiastic optimists, and those who are philosophic pessimists for both, an awakening is due if they will take a weekend end tour to a country home. The solitude mingles with the closeness as the tired sun dips slowly into the west...

Try the other side of life, the side that shows the majestic elegance of a world in its own right. Enter a realm of quiet activity and cover the experience of breathing a pure, unadulterated breath of life that comes to us so few.

Summer--Swimming--Drowning

It's almost summer. And what is a student's idea of a heavenly summer? One of the major aims of a student is to go to the beach as frequently as possible to swim and tan.

Now is the time for each person who lives to go swimming or boating to begin thinking about staying out of the clutches of that tragic and useless killer... summer drownings.

For instance, remember it is easy to overestimate your swimming ability. It's tempting to jump into the lake and start swimming straight out from shore. But don't forget that you have to swim BACK, too.

of water swings if you are not ready for deep water. Panic can cause failure of your body to function properly. If you do swim out too far and can't make it back to shore, don't get too keyed up. You can usually float and rest if you are tiring dangerously.

Rescuing swimmers in trouble is not as easy as it looks... and often the rescuer gets into trouble, too. It is better to use a life preserver or a rope, or a boat to aid another swimmer in distress.

Have fun at the beach this summer. Learn how to swim if you don't know how. Employ good safety habits when boating. But be sure you know how NOT to drown!

National ADS Fraternity Set In Advertising

A chapter of Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity, was installed at SIU Monday night.

SIU's chapter is called the Charles H. Sandage Chapter, named after Dr. Charles H. Sandage, head of the division of advertising in the College of Journalism and Communications at the University of Illinois.

Milton Gross, professor of journalism at the University of Missouri, installed the chapter. Gross is national secretary of Alpha Delta Sigma. Ten undergraduates and seven professional members and seven professional members were initiated into the chapter.

Alpha Delta Sigma was formed in 1913 at the University of Missouri. SIU's chapter was the 67th. To belong, a person must be majoring in marketing, journalism or radio-television and pledge that he is going into the field of advertising.

Sandage also spoke at a meeting of the Journalism Students on Monday morning. He talked on "Advertising and the Mass Media."

Sandage said many people charge that advertisers control the editorial policy of mass media newspapers, radio and television stations and magazines.

"Throughout history," Sandage said, "the press has not been able to be self-supporting. The various means of communication have to be subsidized by some group."

"The government and political parties have ideologies, and if they were to finance newspapers or radio stations they would want to finance their own people. Advertisers are of diverse opinions in political matters and they don't want to push their beliefs onto a customer by the media. They only want the media to assemble a large audience for them."

Sandage said advertising is also news. It is used by customer as a buying guide and for obtaining information about new products and services, he said.

TOWER HALL OFFICERS ELECTED

Ramona Lemmon was elected president of Tower Hall in recent election. Other officers of the off-campus house are Agnes Insanto, vice president; Evelyn Mae Yardley, social chairman and Betty Bledsaw, reporter.

Miss Insanto is a graduate student from the Philippine Islands.

INSTALLATION AT THETA XI

Recent elections held at the Theta Xi house have filled the fraternity's offices for the coming year. Sam Meyer will lead the group as president. Other officers are Tom Stewart, vice president; Dave Bondreau, corresponding secretary; Ray Stockton, treasurer; Rex Anderson, social chairman; Dick Pratic, pledge-master; Russ Belker, house manager and Dick Schally, steward.

Initiation ceremonies held June 1 brought two new members to the fraternity. The initiates are Walt Rodgers from Landover Hills, Md., and Fred Davis of Malakanda.

Participation in Memorial Day activities was high as the members of the local chapter spent the day at the beach. Food prepared on an open grill and refreshing beverages were second only to athletic endeavors.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA FORMAL HELD

Judy McDonnell, Sigma Sigma Sigma, was crowned at the recent fraternity formal. In Miss McDonnell's court were Lou Chaffield, Sigma Kappa; Marilyn Tipton, Delta Zeta; Nell Helms, Sigma Kappa and Carol Middleton, Woody Hall.

Special guests at the formal were Dr. Randall Nelson, the fraternity advisor, and his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Graziano.

Several alumni visited with the Phi Sig's during Memorial weekend. They were Larry Stricker, founding president of Alpha Sigma; Ron Goldsmith, second president; Roger Bush, charter president and Jim Whit-Cornet, Bush of Tri Sigma, are leaving for a three-year tour in Germany with the air force.

Receiving the fraternity's award for high scholastic average and activities was freshman James Seppenfeldt, Spenfeldt, who received his trophy on Activities Honors Day, is a member of the honorary freshmen fraternity.

Individual awards and honors have been bestowed on several of the brothers of late. Jerry Feetzl was tapped for Sphinx Club Kach, secretary treasurer; Ada Mae Yardley, social chairman and Betty Bledsaw, reporter.

Miss Insanto is a graduate student from the Philippine Islands.

DELTA CHI'S INITIATE THREE

Bill Fels, Ray Horcher and Ron Vaskie were initiated into the bond of Delta Chi fraternity over the Memorial Day weekend.

Judy Stiles of Alpha Gamma Delta was crowned Delta Chi sweetheart at the annual White Cornation formal held recently at Giant City. John Cowwell, president, made the presentation in behalf of the chapter to Miss Stiles in a highlighted coronation ceremony.

On Thursday evening, May 28, the Alpha Gam's and Delta Chi's held an exchange dinner, with members going to both houses. Mike Lopez, housemaster of Alpha Gamma Delta, Mr. and Mrs. William Bleyer and Mr. Dwan Martin served as guests for the event.

Jerry Maxwell is a member of the New Student Week steering committee. Other Delta Chi student leaders are Howard Hood, Alan Swails, Ron Meyer, Herrn Gerbig and Ron Wilson.

A serenade was held last week during the pinning of John Williams, Larry Zink and Alan Kelly.

Those Delta Chi's honored at Activities Honors Day were Ron Meyer, John Crowell and Doug Baker. Ray Gimney, Dan Bode and Jack Baker will be graduated in the Class of '59 this June, and Bill Saud will finish up in August.

Aside from officiating at the University Center cornerstone ceremony, brother Gov. W. C. Strasser visited the chapter house during his brief stay at Southern.

TRU SIENNA HAS SENIOR PICNIC

Phi Sigma sorority honored its graduating seniors with a picnic at the chapter house last week. Those graduating are Susan Knupp, Linda Adams, Wilma Alexander, Karen Asselmier, Carol Callisen, Kathleen Campbell, Bobbie Jones, Martha Johnson, Myrna Kuhn, Pat Telford, Mary Thompson and Lois Welch.

Mary Kay Sharkey, Mary Alice Carnigh and Rosalie Stein were tapped for Sphinx club recently, and Miss Carnigh and Miss Stein are new members of Cap and Tassel.

Donna Schuchard and Sharon Rushing were also honored at the Activities Recognition Day Convocation. Miss Schuchard was a co-winner of the most valuable sophomore girl award, and Bowyer Hall awarded Miss Rushing as their outstanding student.

Male Summer Fashions; Style Yet Comfort

By Marilyn Tipton Egyptian Style Editor

Pink may be the color for the feminine set this year, but blues have it for the men. Blues are popping up in suits and other formal attire plus such casual clothes as Bermuda shorts and swimming trunks.

The password for this summer in men's colors seems to be always dressed, but always comfortable. Another fad which certainly has a practical basis are the many, many wash and wear styles which can be found in almost any type of clothing.

Let's start with something cool—swimming ensembles. The Hawaiian length is impressive in swimming trunks this summer. This length is one that is short but has a definite leg for a covered-up feeling. The knitted-to-fit look in trunks is also evident in this year's styles.

Matching shirts and swimming trunks are back again this year after a popular past summer. The shirt may be an exact matching, may contrast in color or pick up the design of trunks to trim a white shirt or knit shirt.

Speaking of knit shirts, they have really climbed to the top in popularity with men and women this year. Some of the shirts, which are usually made of a cotton knit, are made as stylish as any sports shirt. Variety is offered in design; material, such as eyelet-weave, mated shirts for him and her; or cord stitching.

Many of the shirts have some emblem on the left-front area. The men's styles are gradually being made with longer tails so they don't slip out from trousers

Woody Honors At Banquet

Woody Hall honored its outstanding residents at a scholastic dinner Wednesday evening. Besides the special award, a key and dressing dinner was provided for all dorm women.

Highlighting the event was the announcement of the winner of the Woody Hall scholarship. Martha Bankson, freshman from Palauki, was awarded the yearly scholarship. Last year's winner was Donna Blasick.

Acting as mistress of ceremonies was president of the dorm, Carolyn Carson. Vice president Carole Fanizzo read off the 110 names of the Woody Hall residents who presently have over 4.0 academic averages. One fourth or more of the above, according to Miss Fanizzo.

"Forty-eight per cent of the freshmen who graduate with the highest of their high scholastic averages live at Woody," she added proudly.

Pat Cruse, freshman from O'Fallon and secretary of the largest women's dorm on campus, recognized those who graduated at the recent Activities Honors Day program, Mary Alice Carnigh and Lynda Love were recognized for being tapped into Sphinx Club, and five residents were tapped for Cap and Tassel. They are Sally Fotech, Mary Jo Cozad, Mary Alice Carnigh, Lynda Love and Donna Blasick.

Head counselor Mrs. Mabel Pulliam spoke a few minutes to her "Woody Hall family." Mrs. Pulliam, who will leave the dorm after this year, was formerly in the off-campus housing office.

Other visitors at the banquet were Dean of Women Loreta Ott, Mr. Ott, Miss Elizabeth Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. James Berry, Miss Woody (for whom the dorm was named) William Rogge, and Mrs. D. W. Morris.

Also recognized was B-1 South of Woody Hall, which made the highest average in the dorm and in the University, 3.9. Running a close second was C-2, which averaged a 3.8.

run-down even if everything else is neat.

You can take your pick from white buck, mesh or perforated topped shoes. Two-color shoes are coming back this summer, but the brown tones seem to be leading in the color parade. Perforations are indeed the style this summer, which add a bit of air-conditioning to your shoes.

Another unusual twist to the shoes are the square toes which are popping up here and there. If you insist on going out in the noonday sun you're mad, of course, but at least wear something lightweight and cool. If it has a lot of color, especially blue tones, you get extra points.

DAME'S CLUB PICNIC PLANNED

Dame's Club, the group made up of students' wives on campus, is holding a picnic Sunday at the Reserveville. The picnic, which begins at 2 p. m., is open to dames, their families, and anyone interested in belonging to Dame's Club.

Everyone is to bring their own food and table service, accord' to Fern Bee, corresponding secretary for the group. Softball, horseshoes and other organized games are planned.

In case of rain, the affair will be cancelled.

COMMITTEE INVITES CHAUTAUQUA TEACHER

Mrs. Lee Phelps, teacher of the Chautauqua Pre-school, has been invited by the Assn. for Childhood Education International to serve a two year term on their Committee on Nursery Education.

A member of the research staff of the Cooperative Personality Research Project since 1955, Mrs. Phelps will receive her master's degree in kindergarten and primary education from SIU in recognition that she has taught in the Chautauqua nursery at Southern since 1952.

Club Notes

New officers were elected at the last Journalism Students Assembly Monday morning. Joe Dill, managing editor of the Egyptian will act as president for the oncoming school year. Mike Nixon is vice president, and Kathleen O'Dell is secretary treasurer.

Dill, a sophomore community journalism major, is also a member of Sigma Delta Chi and was formerly the news editor of the paper.

Vice President Nixon, a junior, is majoring in advertising. Both Nixon and Dill are from Carmi.

The secretary treasurer is Kathleen O'Dell, freshman from Kinmundy. She is in the school of education with a major in journalism.

Tucker Tosses Five-Hit Shutout In Tourney

SIU Wins 5-0 After Losing Opener 3-2 In 10 Innings; Dillinger Hurt

Larry Tucker, brilliant freshman lefthander, tossed a sparkling five-hit, 5-0 shutout over Sul Ross college Wednesday to keep SIU's hopes alive in the double baseball tournament at Alpine, Texas.

The Saluki dropped the opener to Western Washington Tuesday, by a 3-2 count in 10 innings. Washington's starting pitcher, Roger Repoz singled in the winning run in the bottom of the 10th off Jim Woods who relieved Harry Gurley in the ninth.

Southern played the winner of the Omaha-Rollins game last night at 8 p. m. If they win, they play today at 8 p. m.

Duke Sutton, playing right-field for the first time, provided the big blow as he smashed out a three-run inside the park home run in the fourth. Sutton replaced...

especially in Wednesday's game. Three double plays, in the third, fifth and eighth, pulled Larry Tucker out of a mild jam.

If Southern won last night, they will play the winner of the Omaha-Rollins game at 6 p. m.

"Abie" Martin seated after Wednesday's game that he was undecided as to his pitchers for the rest of the tourney.

Duke Sutton was also high on the list.

In the big fourth, Bob Hardcastle opened up the frame with a single. Rocky Bridges sacrificed him to second. J. W. Sanders followed with a single that moved Bridges to third. Sutton then unleashed his big smash to give the dogs a 3-0 lead.

The game was completed in a hail storm and only one other game was played during the day. Arkansas State eliminated Patterson College, 12-4. All the night games were rained out.

In Tuesday's game with Western Washington, Harry Gurley pitched a heartbreaker. Harry had a one-hitter going for the first six innings of the game.

Hardcastle Singlet Bob Hardcastle opened the ninth inning with a single. Duke Sutton, pinching for Gurley, sacrificed Hardcastle to second and scored on singles by Ken Munschlein and Roger Bryan.

Washington loaded the bases with two out in the bottom of the tenth off Saluki relief pitcher, Jim Woods. Fitcher Repoz then hit a smash through the middle. The ball was knocked down by second-baseman Ickey Jones, who dove for the ball, but no play could be made.

In other first round action, Rollins College (Fla.) bombed Arkansas State, 16-5, and Omaha ran its string of 19 straight without a defeat as they pounded Patterson State (New Jersey), 15-5.

Sanders Hurt Wednesday's game was tough on catchers, J. W. Sanders, Saluki backstop, was hit in the head with a bat.

I Might Get Hit But... By Ron Jacober Sports Editor

THE GREATEST YEAR IN HISTORY AT SIU Southern has emerged from the masses... broke a five year homecoming jinx with a decisive victory over Washington & Lee.

Applications from more than 50 participants have been received by Rex V. Darling, Eastern Illinois tennis coach and chairman of the national tournament committee.

FOOTBALL — Having their best season in more than a decade, the Salukis gridders finished, after a closing day loss to Northern Illinois, with a 7-2 record.

One of the highlights of the three-day meet will be a clinic conducted by Earl Buchholz nationally known tennis professional from St. Louis, Mo.

One added feature will be the crowning of Miss NAIA.
