SPARKS TAKES GAME FROM NORMAL, 26-12

After playing a brilliant game throughout the first half against the Sparks College cagers on the Normal court Wednesday night, the Maroons slowed their pace in the second half and Sparks began a scoring orgy that netted them a total of fourteen points and a 26-12 victory.

The Maroons played a steady game the first half and about proved a match for their opponents. During this period the score was tied at three times. The termination of the period found Sparks leading with a small margin, the score for the first period standing 12-10.

Inability to make their shots good in the second half visibly slowed the Maroons. Only one field goal was made in the second period, even though the Whizzes took practically as many shots as they did in the first period. Hard luck on shooting and inability to score sapped the Normal players of their speed and pep and Sparks began netting with fair regularity. Numerous substitutions made by the Maroons failed to alter conditions.

Sparks presented a fast and accurate shooting aggregation. Hudson was the outstanding scoring star of the contest, netting almost half of his team's point with six field goals, four of which were netted in the first half of the game. Beem was next high in point of scores with three field goals and two free tosses, all netted in the final half. McLain, Blakely and Eads netted a field goal each.

Sparks derived their baskets from alternating long and short shots. Hudson netted practically all of his shots from the 17-foot line. Beem netted two dummies when he recovered fumbled passes behind the Maroon guards.

Brimm, Hickey and Lawder vied for scoring honors on the Maroon quint with two field goals each.

The game was remarkably free from fouling, but two being called during the entire game. Both were inflicted on the Normal five.

Box score:

Sparks	FG.	FT.	F.	TP.
Beem	3	2	0	8
McLain	1	0	0	2
Hudson	6	0	0	12
Blakely	1	0	0	2

DATE OF THE PRESENTATION OF "THE MIKADO" NEARLY HERE—RECORD ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

Only Two Days Until the Master of Comic Operas Is to Be Presented by the Music Department of the Southern Illinois Normal University.

Only two more days remain until the music department of the S. I. N. U. will present the famed comic opera in the auditorium. Nearly 100 people, selected from the student body, the faculty and the alumni, will comprise a highly competent cast.

The presentation of "The Mikado" Thursday night, March 13, will be the culmination of several weeks diligent training and faithful practice. A cast that in the beginning represented the best talent of the school has rounded out with practice and is polished with intensive training. The Mikado promises to be the most successful theatrical undertaking of the S. I. N. U.

The Setting

The setting of a clever and unique lot is laid in the gardens of Japan. Costumes, actions and music bring before the spectator a clear and fresh view of the fascinating and comparatively obscure Orient.

The Plot

The plot grows out of the love trials of a young romantic Jap. Naturally he objects to the elderly lady, whom his father, the Mikado, has arranged that he shall marry. The complications that arise out of his attempts to evade this unhappy marriage and the finding of the real girl, make an interesting and absorbing story, which is interspersed with racy bits of humor.

STRUT AND FRET ENTERTAIN WOMEN OF THE FACULTY

Last Thursday night Strut and Fret staged the playlet, "Her First Assignment" in honor of the women of the S. I. N. U. faculty. The coach of the play was Miss Harriet Marvin and the all-girl cast did themselves in their respective roles. Immediately after the play in the Zetetic Hall the guests and hosts and hostesses adjourned to the "drawing room"—the Association Hall—where tea and wafers were served. The favors were tiny bon bon holders, imitations of those used in the play around which the plot of the comedy was woven.

WHEN THE PAPER DON'T COME

My father he says the paper he reads
ain't put up right.
He finds a lot of fault, he does, perusin' it all night.
He says there ain't a single thing in
it worth while to read,
And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need.
He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum—
But you ought to hear him holler
when the paper doesn't come.
He reads about the weddin's and he
snorts like all get out;
He reads the social doin's with a most derisive shout.
He says they make the papers for the women folks alone.
He'll read about the parties and he'll
fume and fret and groan;
He says of information it doesn't contain a crumb—
But you ought to hear him holler
when the paper doesn't come.
He's always first to grab it and he reads it plumb clean through,
He doesn't miss an item or a want ad—that is true.
He says they don't know what we want, the darn newspaper guys.

I'm going to take a day's time
an' go and put 'em wise;
Some times it seems as tho they must be deaf, blind and dumb—
But you ought to hear him holler
when the paper doesn't come.

POEMS WORTH REMEMBERING*The Choir Invisible

Oh, may I join the choir invisible
Of whose immortal dead who live again
In minds made better by their presence; live
In pulses stirred to generosity,
In deeds of daring rectitude in scorn
For miserable aims that end with self,
In thoughts sublime that pierce the night like stars,
And with their mild persistence urge men's search
To vaster issues. So to live is heaven:
To make undying music in the world,
Breathing a beauteous order that controls
With growing sway the growing life of man.
Some inherit that sweet purity
For which we struggled, failed, and agonized
With widening retrospect that bred despair.
Rebellious flesh that would not be subdued,
A vicious parent shaming still its child,
Poor anxious penitence, is quick dissolved;
Its discords, quenched by meeting harmonies,
Die in the large and charitable air.
And all our rarer better, truer self,
That sobbed religiously in yearning song,
That watched to ease the burden of the world,
Laboriously tracing what must be,
And what may yet be better,—saw within
A worthier image for the sanctuary,
And shaped it forth before the multitude,
Divinely human, raising worship so
To higher reverence more mixed with love,—
That better self shall live till human Time
Shall fold its eyelids, and the human sky
Be gathered like a scroll within the tomb
Unread forever. This is life to come,—
Which martyred men have made more glorious
For us who strive to follow. May I reach
That purest heaven—be to other souls
The cup of strength in some great agony,
Enkindle generous ardor, feed pure love,
Beget the smiles that have no cruelty,
Be the sweet presence of a good diffused,
And in diffusion ever more intense!
So shall I join the choir invisible
Whose music is the gladness of the world.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL TOUR.
NAMENT TO BE HELD HERE

Seventeen Southern Illinois Teams to Compete in Annual Contest on March 14 and 15

Arrangements have been completed for the fourth annual Junior High school basketball tournament to be held in the Normal Gym Friday and Saturday next.

Prof. Cisne, of the Carbondale Junior High, held the first tournament here in 1921 in the form of an invitation affair. The results were so successful that it was decided to make it an annual meet. A regular association is now formed and is conducted under certain rules. Trophies will be given for the first, second and third places—a shield for first and cups for second and third.

A number of teams have entered the tourney.

While Carbondale Junior High isn't represented this year by as strong a team as it has had in some of the past years, it is nevertheless to be noted that they have won a larger percentage of the games than the case in the past. Coach Fishel has been putting the squad through some excellent workouts during the past two weeks and they all hold bright hopes.

Come out and see these future High school stars of Southern Illinois perform. You will be amazed at the type of ball played.

Manager of music store: "If customers come for pianos, flutes, mandolins, or anything else, you know what to show them?"

Bob McCoy: "You bet I do, sir."

Manager: "And if one should wish to see a lyre—"

Bob: "That's when I'll call for you, sir."

ART CLUB PARTY

The Art Appreciation Club met Wednesday, February 27, and enjoyed an unusually good program. Lois Pavey gave a reading taken from "Seventeen" which required considerable talent. The illustrated lecture on the Congressional Library at Washington by Marion Taylor was very interesting.

After the meeting the club entertained friends with a party in the Association Hall. The decorations were yellow and white. Upon entering each was given the name of some literary character. John Ridd then began his search for Lorna Doone and Richard Carvel for Dorothy Manners.

A seven-girl program was carried out. The evening's entertainment lasted through seven days in which all girls were rushed for dates. There were the Literary Club and the Races where each had an opportunity to show his ability. Attempts were made by the boys to get their ladies souvenir balloons in the Balloon Rush, many of them proving successful. At the Music Festival the party enjoyed a piano solo by Celeste White. Miss Lucille Coulter gave a clever reading, "A Modern Magazine Romance."

In the Initiation several boys distinguished themselves by singing solos, others proved their dramatic ability. Jack-Jump-Over-The-Candlestick was very nimble and Little Jack Horner cleverly found the plum. One group imitated frogs by a game of leap frog. Good representations were given of well known advertisements. The group which was judged to be the best was the one which made proposals to the wittiest girl and the cleverest girls. We hope none of the boys are suffering as

STRUT AND FRET

Friday, March 6.

Dear Sis:—

We went to Strut and Fret last night, and saw the play, "Her First Assignment." The cast was: Mrs. Alice Gordon Sterling—a very young matron .....Pauline Organ Wilberta Gordon, "Billy," her sister.....Roberta McCracken Frances Kidder.....Eleanor Reagan Mrs. Craig-Winter.Neva Fullenwider Mrs. Stephens.....Vera Adams Mrs. Folinsbee.....Ada Cherry Mary Stockard.....Arline Winthrop Madge Hastings .....Nannie Mathis Jacinth Carlyle.....Edith Halter Jesse, Mrs. Sterling's maid.....

Alma Fullenwider
Coach—Harriett Marvin,

It was very entertaining, at least I thought so. It seems that Miss Kidder had given a luncheon, and all the guests had mistaken her gold tonbon holders for souvenirs. In fact, Alice had three! The one at her own place, the one at the place next to hers, she thought the young lady didn't want, and one she found on the stairs. They decided that it was useless to try to explain to Frances, who had even hired a detective to trace them. Alice gave hers to Jessie, telling her to take them away to her room immediately. Mary gave hers to Jessie. Jacinth promised to send hers to Jessie, and Madge gave Jessie a dollar to keep her from telling she had heard Madge call her brother and tell him to throw her tonbon holder in the river at once.

Then to make more fun, Billy, who had been trying for weeks to get an assignment from a newspaper, finally gets one, on account of illness it was to interview Mrs. Folinsbee at a Mrs. Ferncroft's. Mrs. Folinsbee was to have been at Alice's, too but she had to leave town, so Billy was without an assignment.

Suddenly conceiving the idea of impersonating her at Alice's "At Home" and "making" the news for her editor, she brought all sorts of trouble on herself. Mrs. Folinsbee was a great writer, but Billy had never read anything she wrote. Mrs. Folinsbee was also a critic on Bernard Shaw. Billy had never read one of Shaw's plays!

She bluffed until an unknown woman arrived. Then she began to learn things about Shaw that she had never heard of before. No one seemed to know who the stranger was.

Some thought she was Frances' private detective.

Finally all the guests had departed but the stranger. It turned out that she was the real Mrs. Folinsbee. You can imagine Alice and Billy's consternation upon learning this.

She promised to forgive everything if Billy would let her put her in a story, to which Billy consented if she would only give her, her opinion of Bernard Shaw. It was a bargain—and Billy made a hit with her editor and was put on the regular staff.

After this, there was a social hour. Refreshments of tea and wafers, with real tonbon holders for souvenirs and tiny mints.

If you are a victim of race prejudice you should hear him.

Dr. Alexander is coming in the interest of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s ly's consternation upon learning this. She promised to forgive everything if Billy would let her put her in a story, to which Billy consented if she would only give her, her opinion of Bernard Shaw. It was a bargain—and Billy made a hit with her editor and was put on the regular staff.

PICTURESQUE FRAGMENTS

There are some expressions that have a tendency to attract the attention of people and after the attention is caught various meanings may be read into them. You might not in the first place be impressed by the subject of this article and if you are it is not to be supposed that you would gather the same impression from it nor seek for the same illustration to clarify it. But surely if there are bits or particles of anything that would suggest to you a picture, those things can be garnered from the field of literature. We list a few picturesque fragments and ask that as you read you remember that "He who would seek for pearls must dive below."

He cometh unto you with a tale that holdeth children from their play, and old men from the chimney corner.

ZETETIC BAND

The Zetets have an orchestra. The students know that but they were surprised on Wednesday night at the game to see that the society had a band. All of the Zetetic members of the Normal band got together and furnished music for the Society game.

The band was stationed on the west side of the gym in the balcony. During periods when the band was not playing or when either side was not yelling, some on the east side of the balcony entertained with "coffee mills."

There was a lot of pep which caused the players to do their best. A lot of credit will have to be given to the Zetetic band for putting more pep into us. It also helped to console the Socrats in their hour of bereavement.

Wm. McAndrew went to Harrisburg last week to referee in the tournament there.

Prof. Wham addressed the Hancock Company Institute at Carthage February, 28 and 29.

Were the Sorority girls all sick Thursday? No, it was rougeless and lip stickless day and they all kept their resolution to appear one day without any drug store coloring.

Miss Frances Waldschmidt of Cairo, a former student, spent the week end with Carbondale friends and visited school Friday.

Alice Barrow is out of school while they are under quarantine for diphtheria.

Prof. E. G. Lentz addressed the Cairo Woman's Club Wednesday.

The training school quartette sang in chapel last Wednesday. This is another of the fine things the training school has been showing us it could do. Those in the quartette were: Jane Warren, Alice Thompson, Kathryn Lentz and Betty Furr.

Among those from Carbondale attending the concert given by the Illinois University band at Centralia Monday night were: Misses Helen Smith, Della Winter, Mary Entsminger and Julia Chastaine; William McAndrews of the Normal faculty. Homer Laney and Clyde Brooks. Among the Carbondale musicians in the band were: Prof. G. C. Bainum, former head of the S. I. N. U. music department, Harold Pritchard, Deneen Watson, Paul Foster and John Paige Wham.

STRUT AND FRET PURCHASES NEW FURNITURE

Strut and Fret, the peppy dramatic club, doesn't let grass grow under its feet.

It has the reputation for the most enterprising club on the campus; and now they have the name of being the first club to purchase furniture for plays and other stage entertainments. A committee of loyal members closed a deal with the Huffman Furniture Company last Thursday in which a suite was purchased for the sole use of Strut and Fret plays. The club initiated its furniture in the play given for the women of the faculty last Thursday night.

Mrs. Newlywed: "Why did you tell the neighbors that you married because I was such a good cook, when you know I can't cook a thing."

Mr. Newlywed: "I had to make some excuse, my dear."

He—"What do you say to a honeymoon in Europe?"

She—"But, dearest, you know how afraid I am of seasickness."

He—"Yes, but you ought to know that love is the best remedy for that."

She—"Perhaps—but think of the return trip!"

Mrs. Tattle: "I'm rather hard to please. Have you had much experience as a maid?"

Applicant: "I worked for Mrs. Brown for six months before she and her husband separated."

Mrs. Tattle: "I'll employ you. Now tell me all about it."

Prof.: "What is a spark gap?"

Answer: "Why, that's when a girl yawns just as you start to kiss her."

Orval McDowell: "Say, that's a nice looking mouth you've got there, Gathel. It ought to be on a girl's face instead."

Gathel Pence: "Well, I never miss an opportunity."

Helen Deeslie: "Did I ever show you where my thigh was skinned?"

Dewey Brush: "N-N.No.o."

Helen: "Well, we'll walk over there then."

"You're such a versatile hunter, Mr. Blake. Tell me, did you ever hunt bear?"

MARK TWAIN TO WM.
DEAN HOWELLS

This letter, addressed to William Dean Howells, speaks for itself. The loss of his wife was the heaviest blow that was dealt to Mark Twain, and came upon him when bowed with years. All too soon he "was with Livy."

Villa Di Quarto, Florence,
June 6, '04.

Dear Howells:—

Last night at 9:30 I entered Mrs. Clemens' room to say the usual good-night—and she was dead—tho' no one knew it. She had been cheerfully talking, a moment before. She was sitting up in bed—she had not lain down for months—and Kate and the nurse were supporting her. They supposed she had fainted, and they were holding the oxygen pipe to her mouth, expecting to revive her. I bent over her and looked in her face and I think I spoke—I was surprised and troubled that she did not notice me. Then we understood, and our hearts broke. How poor we are to-day!

But how thankful I am that her persecutions are ended. I would not call her back if I could.

Today, treasured in her worn old Testament, I found a dear and gentle letter from you, dated Far Rockaway, Sept. 13, 1890, about our poor Sasy's death.

I am tired and old; I wish I were with Livy.

I send my love—and hers—to you all.

advertise, just as we advertise, running water in every room."

Etheleen Stormont: "Don't you find Elbert rather rough?"

Norma Jay: "Yes, and yet he says he shaves every day."

Eleanor: "I don't like Bob, Helen; he always smiles when I say anything foolish."

Helene: "Oh yes, I know—a regular perpetual grin."

Mary Kenchloe: "Come, come, Ransom—try to talk a little common sense."

Ransom S.: "But, Mary, I would not take such an unfair advantage of you."

Frank Watson: "Went out to Agnes' to study last night."

Gathel Pence: "Did you get much done?"

Frank Watson: "Why, of course."

Gathel Pence: "I mean in the line of study."

Why some of the S. I. N. U. boys are so bashful?

How Geneva Arensman likes her bobbed hair?

If Norie Hall likes bees?

If Bob Buzbee likes candy to the degree that he believes in the old saying: "Sweets for the sweet"?

Why some folks are being joked for sending comic valentines?

Why Ransom Sherretz was so happy on Monday the 3rd and furthermore why he has remained more so than he had been for several weeks before?

What your suggestions are for a letter Egyptian?

If Mildred Barter's feet hurt her shoes?

If we will funk this term?

Why we don't see the "birdie" when we have our pictures taken?

If you are going to the "Mikado" Thursday evening?

Who is this fellow called "chicken"?

Who put the pretty streamers on Glenn Ayre during the "Society" basketball game?

What is the idea of tapping a Chinese gong at the end of every class-hour?

What song Berna Miller sang to Cilla Hall last Thursday at the noon-hour?

What Irvin Yates did that made Myra McClellan say, "Oh! let's don't be silly?"

If Glenn Ayre thought he was "dressed up" after the game last Wednesday night?

What and how you wonder?

If you saw the U. S. dirigible last week?

Why so many folks were looking toward the sky last Wednesday at the 4th hour?

Also, why Lester Buford and Henry Markus ran about with a little black box, pointing it at the "big airship?"

What gave Mr. Shryock such a sudden inspiration to run around about the campus when the dirigible flew over last week?
