Old Science Is a Building Possessing Many Legends

So we think it's tough when we have to stay on Southern's campus for four years. What if we had stayed here 51 years and had never gotten a degree?

It has been people like us come and go without making a comment so we decided to get next to its thoughts. And since in the opinion of most campus photographers...

Nutting some impatience, he ventured into the area saying "I'll have to do it." "I don't think I'll be going anywhere," he replied...

Her performance will be given in the Little Theatre at 8 p. m. and will be open to the public. Mrs. Starr has become widely known throughout the Middle West for her performances of the play songs, lullabies, carols and other melodies she learned from her French-Canadian grandmother and other relatives.

She appears in traditional French-Canadian costumes and sings with auto harp accompaniment. Mrs. Starr is being brought to the Southern campus by the foreign language and music departments, and will appear during the day before music and language classes, according to Dr. Vera Peaslee, director of the foreign language department.

NUMEROUS BOOKS AND PERIODICALS ARE USED IN TWELVE MONTH PERIOD There were 143,416 books used during the 12 month period at the University library ending Dec. 31. The average was 12,118 books circulated per month. This is the same monthly increase of 2,264 over the calendar year 1946.

More periodicals were circulated during the months of October, November, and December. An average of 2,017 periodicals were circulated each month. 1,120 books in the field of history were used each month and 7,053 in English and American literature.

Miss Elizabeth Opal Stone, director of University library said that more books were circulated in each field than the above figures indicate since it is impossible to keep a complete account of all reserve use due to open stacks.

Of course we are aware that the deadline for sending in applications was March 5. We hope nobody missed this opportunity for his baby to show just who in the family has the looks.

NEW GEOLOGICAL EXHIBIT IN MUSEUM

A new geological collection of the common rocks, minerals, and fossils of Illinois is now on display in the Museum. The rocks and minerals were procured by the State Geological Survey and include 35 specimens which are a typical representation of Illinois as a whole. The fossils were collected and arranged by Carroll Loomis, a student worker in the Museum. These specimens for the most part are typical representations of the marine fauna of the Mississippian period of Southern Illinois and are approximately 300 million years old. They represent a time when Illinois was repeated by submerged by oceans advancing from the Gulf of Mexico, and was during this time that most of the sedimentary deposits (i.e. limestone, sandstones, and shales) of the Mississippian period of Southern Illinois were formed.

The specific attractions for next year cannot be announced until the campaign closes, but four concerts of notable quality are assured. The average individual might get an idea of the variety and forms of fossil life occurring in a local deposit, the Museum will soon have an exhibition a complete assemblage of all the fossils from a single bed. Nearly 30 different fossils were found in this case bed which occurs in the Hard limestone and shale laid down during the Mississippian era about 2 miles east of Cobden. The fossils were identified by H. A. Lowland, paleontologist of the State Geological Survey at Urbana.

All students who are on probation are advised that they cannot carry more than 14 hours of class work during the probationary period. Probationers who are registered for more than 14 hours can drop the excess credit. Probationers who are not registered for more than 14 hours can drop the excess credit. A complete check of all probationary students will be made in the near future.

A total of 2,428 students have enrolled at Southern Illinois University for the spring term, according to the Burner's Office.

While this figure is slightly below the 2,477 enrolled for the spring term of 1947, it is expected that by the end of the week, deadline for registration without loss of credit, the current enrollment will equal that of a year ago.

Registration for the spring term was completed in one day this spring, and classes started Tuesday morning, with several hundred late comers paying fees yesterday and today. Reorganization of the registration machinery permitted well over 2,000 students to complete the enrollment process during the one day.

The University will continue its session on Good Friday, University President Chester F. Lay announced today, because (1) schools are required to hold classes for a certain number of days each school year, and (2) students and faculty have just returned from a spring recess.

Classes will meet as usual, and officers will meet. Administrative staff members and employees have been given some time off in recent months. It was pointed out, Training schools which are part of the University will also remain in operation on Good Friday, as they also observed the recent spring recess.

The current term will run through June 10, with the annual commencement on June 11.

The 1948 summer session is scheduled for June 14-Aug. 6.

Education—Its Truer Sense

Soon, the doors of opportunity will swing open, and we will march through, armed with a diploma and store of knowledge to do battle with a cruel and merciless opponent—the world.

If only the future could be foretold? Have we been successful in our work of the past four years? With our implements of battle will we be able to take advantage of our adversary?

Behind all the cramming for tests and the gripes over grades is a deeper course of education and to most of us does not exist. This is sometimes referred to as the "Basic philosophies" which every instructor hopes to instill in his students.

Take John Doe for instance. While at Southern he joined a social organization. Now John was sort of shy, and only an average college student. In fact John took Speech 101, stammered through several speeches and finally came out with a C.

To many, John's C meant that he could stand much improvement in his public speaking, but see what it meant to John. He may never address the graduating class, but now unconsciously, John is exercising his opinion in public and is taking part in some of the "bull sessions" he here-to-fore had shunned. Maybe John's transcript shows a C, but his speech teacher could not place a grade on John's personality.

Who has heard the phrase "Why do we have to take Geography, Botany, or Zoology?" Here again we are not expected to leave college trained as geographers, botanists, or zoologists, but we are to have a basic knowledge which will help us to better understand the world about us. Some time in the future Mr. Doe, instructor and coach, will have in his hands the pliable minds of young men or women. His duty is not only to instruct in his subject, but to make his students conscious of the world about them. This will have to be done with his general knowledge and personality as well as the store of knowledge he has accumulated.

Let's look at ourselves? Are we getting "basic philosophies" or worthwhile personalities or are we getting only grades on a transcript. Of course, by our yardstick now, the A student is tops, but when we leave the college gates, a different yardstick will be placed against us. Will we have the necessary qualities to "measure up" or were those grades merely letters on a piece of paper. Gladly would I be a John Doe, C student, if I could measure up to the world's yardstick.—J. D.

OUTSIDE AND INSIDE

By Bill Plater

Registration was really nice this year. I went down the gym floor faster than a basketball player with two seconds to go. Tried to score a point with the math department, but they called a foul and signified me up for chemistry. . . The instructors don't tell you the classes are filled. They just say, "where would you like to sit, on the window sill or hang from the rafters?"

I don't know what all those machine punched cards are good for, but if they're run through the same machine my test papers are, they won't be good for much. . . That machine is a boon to instructors though. When a student is dissatisfied with the grading of his paper, all the instructor has to do is point to the machine and say, "Argue with that."

SPRING VACATION: That's when you stop worrying about the grades you made last term and start worrying about the grades you are going to make the next.

There's a guy around the campus who thought he had that "man of the month" deal cinched. He figured that by buying up eight cartons in advance, he would win and have sixteen cartons of cigarettes at half price. He worked so hard to win that he looked like a chinaman with yellow jaundice. . . He was in the canteen the other day and got the place so smoked up that you had to use fog lights to find a booth. . . Someone opened the door and an Indian over on cemetery ridge sent back an answer with smoke signals. . . They don't have to pay to sweep the streets in Carbondale anymore. College students sweep them for nothing, just to find discarded cigarette packs.

Women used to wear dresses like old Mother Hubbard, But now they dress more like her cupboard.

It was nearing the end of the month and his 65 bucks was gone so he said to his buddy, "Can I borrow ten dollars for a week?"

"Sure!" the other replied as he counted out the bills.

As they parted, the second said to the first, "Remember, that's only for a week."
 "You'll get your money," the first screamed. "Stop hounding me!"
 "You've got buck teeth!"
 "None, they cost me $6.98 COD."

When I drink nobody is drinkin', When I pay they wanna get stinkin'. I must see my way clear, To stop this right here, 'Cause m'funds are not growin' but sinkin'.

It was Sunday morning. He slipped on his wife's robe and went downstairs to answer the doorbell. As he opened the door the milkman kissed him. Startled, he hurried upstairs to his wife and said, "Dear, I've just come to the conclusion that the milkman's wife has a robe just like yours."

Commutor Scenes

Commutors Form Integral Part of Southern's Enrollment

By DON GRUBB
 A common sight on Southern's campus is the "early morning parade" of commuters' cars streaming through the main gate, jockeying for parking positions on near-campus parking lots, and lining side streets, alleys, and avenues adjoining the campus grounds. . . Just how great a part this commuting traffic plays in Southern's total enrollment can be ascertained by the 510 students who "drive the road" each morning and drive from 32 towns and villages of Southern Illinois.

Reasons For Commuting
 Due to housing shortages in Carbondale, and for the combined reasons of jobs at home, family residences within economical commuting range, timely bus schedules, and organized bus runs, this large number of students prefer to live removed from the school and to make the daily tour to their classes. . . Nearly twice as many are the most popular as commuting headquarters, but records show that rates as far away as Belleville and Cairo house commuters who make the trip once or twice a week.

Spagnoli Is Chosen As Man of the Month

Joe Spagnoli of Harst was the winner of the "Man of the Month" contest which was held during the Winter term. . . The contest, sponsored by a national cigarette company, gave as a prize eight cartons of cigarettes, a dinner and an evening of dancing with transportation and all expenses paid. . . Honorable mention went to Charles Weber of Cairo and Bill Parrish of Mattoon.

SPRING FOOTBALL PRACTICE BEGINS

A meeting for all men interested in participating in spring football practice was held at 4:00 o'clock this afternoon in the Men's gym with assistant football coach Hartin Hodges in charge. . . Anyone wanting to participate in spring practice should see Mr. Hodges. . . Super planes for aircraft carriers have been perfected by U. S. Navy. Using jet propulsion to attain speeds in excess of 500 miles per hour, the new shipboard fighters are claimed to equal the performance of latest land based aircraft.

THE VETS' CORNER

By Ralph Grobmeier

MORE ABOUT SUBSISTENCE
 According to latest available information, students carrying less than 12 hours of credits will not receive an increase in subsistence under the raise which becomes effective April 1. Here is the way it is supposed to work: Students carrying 9, 10, or 11 hours will receive 75% of the old full-time rate ($50 for married vets and $45 for single men); those carrying 3, 4, or 5 hours will get 50%, and those carrying 3, 5, or 5 hours will get only 25%. Thus a married vet carrying 19 credit hours will receive monthly subsistence payments of $67.50, while a single vet under the same circumstance will get $48.75 per month.

VA Cuts Fees
 Beginning April 1, 1948, the Veterans' Administration will undergo a large cut in personnel. This will necessitate the closing of many VA facilities throughout the state. In fact, the guidance center at 1015 Thompson Street, will be the sole remaining VA office in Illinois south of East St. Louis and Carbondale.

Correction of Discharges
 Any veteran, who has detected factual or typographical errors on his discharge, may take prompt steps to have the errors corrected. Mr. Winkley, of the IVC office here on campus, invites any such veteran to visit his office for assistance in putting these mistakes corrected. Research Opportunities Available
 The board of civil service examinations has announced several research opportunities for students in chemistry, engineering, mathematics, metallurgy and physics. These vacancies exist at the Bureau of Standards, the Naval Research Laboratory, and the Naval Ordnance Laboratory all located in Washington, D. C. Appointments will be professional and are usually for employment during school vacations. The jobs are classified as SPC-1 at $2944 per year. This announcement closed March 9, 1948. If you are interested in further information on this subject you may contact Ernest Wolfe of the VA Guidance Center.

No Response
 To date the column has had no response to its efforts of attempting to determine the latest Illinois bonus check received by someone on campus. This has not caused us to give up, however. Our offer still stands. If you received your check this week or receive one before next Tuesday morning, we would be glad to have you furnish us with your order number. If you are unable to locate it, note the Egyptian office personally, perhaps you can give it to a member.

STINSON CHOSEN MOST VALUABLE FOR 1947-48

It was announced earlier by Athletic Director Glenn "Abe" Martin that Quentin Stinson of Eldorado has been named the most valuable player by his team mates for his work as captain of the champion Southern Illinois University basketball team for 47-48. . . The six feet four inch senior has his other such honors bestowed on him during his stay at Southern. As a sophomore, he was selected on the all-conference team and was selected at the National Tournament as center of the second All-American team in 1946. This season, after a great year under the baskets as a rebounder and a dangerous scoring threat, he was chosen along with Oliver Shaff on the All-Mid-Western squad of little colleges and universities, by Collegiate magazine. . . Along with the "most valuable" of his team, the most honorable came earlier this week when Illinois State Normal of Bloomington voted Stinson as center to his all-voted team for his outstanding play.

Stinson is a great rebounder, good shot, and a better defensive man. He is a member of the Sigma Beta Phi fraternity and a physical education major.

 An article appearing in the Egyptian Feb. 28 concerning the participation of the Madrigal Singers and members of the Southern bands in the annual clinic conference of the Illinois Music Educators Association held in Bloomington left some readers with the impression that the trip was not with the permission of the music department. In clarification of this misunderstanding, we wish to point out that although the students paid their own expenses, the trip was with the complete approval of the music department.

What a Record! . . . It's ART MOONEY'S hot arrangement of "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover"

(An MGM release)

"Four leaf clover" has turned into a real four leaf clover for ork-pot, Art Mooney. His record is keeping juke in clover.

An experienced hand in the music biz—Art follows that famous experience rule in the choice of a cigarette, too. "I've smoked many different brands and compared," says Art, "and Camels suit me best."

Try Camels! Diao over for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience!"

Louisville NAIB Winner To N. Y. For Olympic Playoffs

The Louisville Redbirds took the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball tournament at Kansas City. The Redbirds paced by Coleman, Combs, and Johnny Knopf went through South Dakota State, a big Emporia, Kansas team, a fast fighting Detroit, and a smart Xavier squad. In the finals, the favored Sycamores from Indiana State of Terre Haute, Ind., were beaten decisively 82 to 70.

Highlights of Prep Sports

Without the poise at their command, the Pinckneyville boys brought the state prep cage championship back to Southern Illinois last Saturday night as they swamped the East Rockford E-Rabs, 62-39. In the state finals played at Champaign.

Manhattan in their first encounter met the Arkansas State Teachers of Conway, Ark., and had a difficult time taking them down although they shot a high percentage. The big New Yorkers looked very good against Arkansas even though they slipped by them by a six point margin, were not favored to top Southern Illinois who had not fared so well even though they had beaten Oregon. The dopsters were taking Southern and five points. Evidently the Shamrocks had not read the papers and soundly spanked the Maroons 53 to 43.

In winning 33 of their 34 games the Panthers won five championships in the state meet—both in the Centralia sectional where the Berry County quintet had rallied in the last minute of play to eke out a 40-39 decision over Coach Trout's unpredictable Oregonians who had triumphed upon powerful Salem in the Regional the week before.

Not since Taylorville won 45 straight games to take the state championship in 1944 has any state high school team enjoyed such success as Pinckneyville. had this year.

Last year Pinckneyville won third place at the state meet and this year, with returning lettermen, Gladson, Johnson, Dave Adams and Rexey Clippert, along with new-comer Tom Miliken, Coach Merrill (Duster) Thomas moulded a championship team.

Thomas, who is probably the most confident coach in the state, said at the beginning of the season that his boys would win the state title. All during the season Thomas made other beautiful statements but as yet, he hasn't had a chew a single word, although he may have chewed finger nails on a few occasions.

At any rate, Thomas' crew turned out to be the best and most confident team at the state meet. With this, the Panthers combined excellent passing and ball-handling skills from the floor and free throw line, and a clear wide defense to bring fame to Pinckneyville and Southern Illinois.

Ceremonies with fire whistles, bands and police escorts were held at Pinckneyville this week. Nearly $2,000 was collected to buy Thomas a car. 17 celebrations go much further, Gladson or some other player may wrap up next year. The other Southern Illinois team entered at the state meet—Marion—was somewhat sidetracked by Pinckneyville's performance, but nevertheless the Wildcats presented some fireworks all their own the opening day when they blasted highly regarded Collinsville, 65-50. In the biggest upset in several years.

Remarkable shooting by both sides kept the fans in an uproar throughout the tilt as Collinsville, paced by sharp-shooter Jimmy Miranda, hit 44 per cent while Yeigel (Cue) Wilson's Wildcats sank 48 per cent as Billy Buckner, Floyd Hill, and other Marion regulars hit long shots with amazing

Sports Profiles

With the grand exit of a championship basketball team, the eyes and ears of the Southern sports world are now focused on the opening offerings of the many remaining events on the calendar. Golf, track, tennis, baseball are the chief games played up in spring time, but each has its own troubles.

Shoaff Lyck Holder will have no place to be played. Last season with the initial season for the sport on this campus, the fourman squad made an average showing for something that is new to a school. Oliver Shoaff of Mt. Carmel was the top-ranking golfer of the season, as the new year rolls around again, it appears that Shoaff will remain the king of the job. Another Mt. Carmel lad, Jim Johnson, was the other half of the pair that brought what little fame could be mustered from the season past.

Holder announced earlier this week that a schedule has not yet been finally fixed with the exception of the all-conference play-offs at the end of the season. Last year the golfers pulled out a fourth place rating from a field of five.

Jackson County Club Under Construction But last year they had a real place to golf. The Jackson County Country Club offered the closest and best place for dual meets and practice sessions. However, that respected field is now under various phases of construction that prohibits any such meets for a little while. After one crosses the county club fairways off the lists, he still can go to West Frankfort, Benton, or Du Quoin. If any of these three will permit college students tramping on the well-cut-off greens.

The future certainly looks none too rosy for the dopsters, but as long as there is one piece of sporting venture that comes about in an inopportune time, the going is usually rough with very little consideration taken for a worth-while sport attraction.

Name School For Track Meet The status of a university will bear out that certain name-schools are bound to come to the "lawdy" campus of a small college. Mainly through the work of the athletic department, a large school will be here for a track meet on April 17.

St. Louis University, recently noted for their all-conquering feats in national basketball, will make a mass appearance on the track field on the mentioned date for a dual meet with last year's second place winners of the HAC track crown—the Maroons.

Track Coach Leland "Doc" Ling will have another grand team, as he usually does for the rider season. Although he lost the conference title last year, it is expected that the Maroons will go all out for the crown season. And with Lingie coaching, it can be expected.

Track, spring football, boxing, and basketball are now popping up on the nearby-by prep front. Southern Illinois, who has neglected high school track and baseball are beginning to show more interest in these sports and recent dropping a few schools are sports spring football to devote more time to the other sports.

Track schedules will open during the first or second week of April. INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL TEAMS MUST POST NAMES Organizations wanting to enter a team in the intramural football league should enter the name of their team on the list posted on the bulletin board in the main corridor of the Men's gym. League play is expected to start shortly.

CORRECTION In the item of the Egyptians an error was made in reference to the number of times the Maroons have gone to the Kansas City tournament. The mistake occurred in these sports and recent trip to the tournament was the team's third one should have read that this is the fourth year they have played there.

GINGERSNAPS

Seeing superb basketball was not the only gain for us in the trip the NAIB made in Kansas City. We learned that the patrons of these meals along with sport scribes and publicity personnel have a great respect for Southern Illinois. The State has a possible dark horse and a five point favorite in the Manhattan game. Manhattan too came to the meet with a great record and had the experience of having played before vast audiences in mammoth auditoriums such as Municipal. Held that appeared in Madison Square Garden five times. Included in the plaything of the Peerdgard Machine has permanent seating facilities for 14,000 persons.

Louisville, the winner of the NAIB, will represent that organization with NCAA winners Kentucky, New York University, and Baylor; and the Brooklyn YMCA; the Philadelphia Eagles, Denver Nuggets, and Twentieth-Century Fox of the AAU tourney in Denver. The New York playoff winner will represent the United States in the Olympics in Europe this summer.

St. Louis University won the National Invitational tourney in the Garden but because of school-ast rules turned thumbs down for the Olympics playoff, the college boys' dream. Probably the most ardent Maroon fans are Bill Wilkinson and John Bristow. Both are West Frankfort lads who took upon themselves the task of hitchhiking to Kansas City for the tournament. The boys had good luck looking rides until deep into Missouri territory. Union by name, were struck. Cold, hungry, disgusted, and unable to get the last leg of the Western Missouri metropolis, it was decided that they should sleep in Union. Checking their funds, which isn't a difficult job for a veteran, they found they had better seek the hospitality of a kindly citizen or bunk up in the city hall. The latter was the alternative. At eight o'clock the next morning the good feller unlocked the cell door and let his guests continue their journey to follow their athletic idols. The comment made by Wikie and John was said in union, "It was warm, dry, and free."

Jim McQueensy, publicity director for the NAIB tourney, complimented Lorena Drummond as his most faithful college correspondent in the country. Bob Curtis, the Information Service's eye get stale in their K. C. stay. Couple of phrases picked up by our ears from Joe Hughes and Bob Colborn, "I'll close you fella," "Bob Curtis and Oilie Shoaff kept 'Faking everybody out,' all the time."

Coch Hodges wanted to get home early, so he left K.C. on the 7:30 A.M. train. In St. Louis at 6:30 P.M., as Coach Holder dashed madly from his K.C. train to his Carbondale coach, he ran into those other than "early bird Hodges."

The subs have a hard job to do. That is what was agreed upon in a discussion on the way home. Charlie Goss could go into a game absolutely cold, but got into the game quicker than anyone we've ever watched.

The cage season has been put away with the logs connected with them for another year. It has been

What a coincidental Jack Eadin and Roy Acuff appearing in the same city at the same time. The pitiful thing was that the Smoky Mountaineers were sold out for their five day appearances. Stinson, Shoaff, and "Hazy" Long still had time and nerve enough to keep up their snooker game. They are pretty shabby at the green topped table and didn't let their
