Speakers To Highlight Religious Emphasis Week Observance at Southern

Emphasis will be placed on religion at Southern during the week of March 26-30. Plans for Religious Emphasis week are being made by the Student Christian foundation, the Baptist observance, and the Newman club.

The Rev. Elbert Cole, pastor of the Memorial Methodist church at Farmington, Mo., will be the leader of the Religious Emphasis week observances of the Student Christian foundation. The foundation program, which will begin with a meeting of all committees, and a send-off supper at the foundation Sunday at 5 p.m., will include for the next four days: Morning Watch, 7:40; noonday chapel, 12:30; afternoon discussions, 4; and Bible Round-Table, 6:30. "Building a Personal Faith" will be the theme of the week. Rev. Cole will be the speaker at the Sunday supper, and afterwards there will be a brief program.

Two objectives have been outlined for the week. They are: To help students build a personal Christian faith on the university level of maturity. To reveal, for this primary objective, the resources found in the university community, in the church, and in personal religious disciplines. Rev. Cole will meet with the members of the SCF committees Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the foundation. At 5 p.m. this group will have a send-off supper, which will be held jointly with the college fellowships of Carbondale churches co-operating with the Student Christian foundation. Julia Jean Tucker is in charge of planning the supper.

Members of the executive committee will meet at 7 each morning Monday through Thursday, for breakfast at the foundation. A prayer service, Morning Watch, will be held in the foundation chapel at 7:40 for 10 minutes. Noonday chapel services will continue as usual during the week. However, they will include special programs. Services will be under their regular student supervision. At 4 p.m. Rev. Cole will meet with Southern students for a discussion period in the Little Theatre. Monday's topic will be "Faith and the University Mind"; Tuesday's, "The Search for God"; Wednesday's, "Discovery of God"; Thursday's, "Faith and Campus Life."

To Have Bible Study

The Rev. Elwood K. Wylie, director of the Student Christian foundation, will lead a Bible study, the Bible Round-Table, at the foundation each evening at 6:30. Discussions will also be held at the foundation at times directed by the students living at each house. Local pastors and professors will conduct these discussions. In addition, the houses taking part in the discussion program will be given a special invitation to attend the foundation services. Bill McIntosh and Phyllis Hug are in charge of arrangements for the house discussions.

Plan Catholic Services At Carbondale Church

Catholic students on campus have been urged by the Newman club and the Catholic Association to attend religious observance week observances at the St. Francis parish, Carbondale, from March 10 to March 30. Mass will be said at 7 a.m. daily Thursday, 7:30 p.m. a service will be conducted by the Rev. Joseph Stenger, J.C.D., pastor of St. Joseph's parish, Lebanon. Rev. Stenger is diocesan director of the St. Cans conference and presiding judge of the Matrimonial Tribunal. Lenten services are held at St. Francis parish every Wednesday and Friday at 7:30 p.m.

IT SOON WILL HAPPEN . . .

'Duke of Hot' Here In Concert-Dance

Duke Ellington, "The Duke of Hot," and his orchestra will open the weekend social calendar for spring term at Southern Friday, March 24, with a concert-dance.

This all-school event, sponsored by the Student Council, is the fifth appearance of a name band in Carbondale since Feb. 16, 1949. The concert will be presented at 8 p.m. in Shryock auditorium and the dance at 9:30 in the men's gymnasium. Price of admission is $1.15 per person, including tax, for each event. Advance tickets may be obtained from the university ticket office in the gymnasium.

Ellington's orchestra has given concerts in Carnegie Hall, the Chicago Civic Opera House, the San Francisco Symphony Hall, the Philadelphia Academy of Music, the Boston Symphony Hall, the Hollywood Bowl, etc. In the summer of 1948 his group made an extended tour of England, Scotland, France, Switzerland, and Belgium. His recordings, especially his own compositions such as "Mood Indigo" and "Sophisticated Lady," are among the nation's top-selling favorites.

Other name bands which have appeared under the sponsorship of University organizations this year have been Gene Krupa, Benny Goodman, Freddy Martin, and Tully Karpis. Episcopos-sponsored Woody Herman.

Luann Miller, freshman from Herrin, has been chosen as Independent Student association sweet heart. She was chosen from an original field of 23.

To Hold Campus Revival At Baptist Foundation

A campus revival will be held at the Baptist foundation chapel each day at 12:30 and 7 p.m. during the week of March 27-31. This is in accordance with Religious Emphasis week plan.

Warren Hultgren, student at Northwestern Baptist Seminary and student evangelist, will arrive Monday from Ft. Worth, Texas, for the revival services. He will speak twice each day. Hultgren was in Who's Who two years while in college. He was vice-president of the student council at Minnesota where he was president of the oratory and debating council and member of the university radio committee, Life Service band, and BSU council. During the past three years he has been pastor of a Baptist church and an evangelist with the department of Student work of the Baptist state convention of Texas.

The campus revival program will include the Chapel Singers in the choir each night. Bob Murphy of Herrin will be in charge of the song service. Delegations from the organized houses, including the nearby residence hall, are expected each night during the five nights of the revival.

Plan Catholic Services At Carbondale Church

Catholic students on campus have been urged by the Newman club and the Catholic Association to attend religious observance week observances at the St. Francis parish, Carbondale, from March 10 to March 30. Mass will be said at 7 a.m. daily Thursday, 7:30 p.m. a service will be conducted by the Rev. Joseph Stenger, J.C.D., pastor of St. Joseph's parish, Lebanon. Rev. Stenger is diocesan director of the St. Cans conference and presiding judge of the Matrimonial Tribunal. Lenten services are held at St. Francis parish every Wednesday and Friday at 7:30 p.m.

WSC Starts Season With Scavenger Hunt

A Scavenger Hunt will start off the Student Association's Independent Student activities for spring term. This Saturday night beginning at 7:30. The Hunt will be followed by an informal party at the Student Center featuring dancing, card-playing, etc. Free popcorn and coffee will be served and cokes will be available, said Doris Kilgus, publicity chairman. Next weekend, WSC will sponsor an old-fashioned, informal square dance with all the trimmings.

Graham Dancers To Present Concert Here Next Thursday

Martha Graham, noted modern dance artist, and her corps of dancers will be brought to Southern Illinois University Thursday evening, March 30, for a dance concert. Dr. Dorothy Davies, chairman of the women's physical education department, has announced.

MARTHA GRAHAM

Miss Graham is recognized as the country's leading exponent of the modern dance. She and her company, made up of artists in their own right, have made numerous tours and presented intricate Broadway productions.

Miss Graham, with her company, will visit Southern Illinois University on March 30, 1950, under the auspices of the women's physical education department of the university. Tickets for the presentation can be purchased at the university ticket office. The program will be in the auditorium and all the seats will be reserved. Dr. Davies said.

Alpha Phi Sets Up Three-Day Service For Fingerprinting

Any student who has never been fingerprinted should take advantage of a special service offered by Alpha Phi. The service will be held in the Student Center March 29-31 to fingerprint students. This is the second year Alpha Phi has offered this service to Southern. Two sets of the prints are taken, one going to the civilian files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D. C., and the other to the Illinois state identification service.

John Lynch, fingerprint expert from the State Department of Safety, will be on hand to assist. Last year approximately 300 students were fingerprinted. Harry Jackson, president of Alpha Phi, urged all students who have never been fingerprinted to take advantage of this special service. Freshmen are particularly urged to come in during the three-day period. There is no charge for this service.

WARN HOUSEHOLDERS

The Housing office this week urged householders to be careful not to rent an unoccupied apartment or room to an unmarried student without first consulting someone in the personnel offices. "Failure to comply with this request," the notice said, "is considered a serious violation of the housing rules."

Enrollment May Hold Its Own

"Enrollment figure is running just about the same as last spring's at this stage of registration," according to Mrs. Norma T. Melton, director of registration. The figure at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning was 2563.

"Of course" the enrollment all of days below the winter term in the spring," Mrs. Melton went on to say, "because students seem to get itchy feet and want to drop school in the spring." Enrollment for last spring was 2737. Final registration figure for the past term was 2854.

Seventeen of the 29 departments at Southern this term added new courses. The new courses, numbering 27, increase the curriculum of the university from 369 offerings to 396.

Eight of the new courses are in the graduate field. Sixteen of the new courses are in the Health Service with the other Sciences, according to Dean Dr. T. W. Abbott. Two new courses in the college of vocations and professions—one concerning the maintaining of a tractor and the other a non-credit course in photography.

No new courses are being offered by the College of Education. Late registration for this term is being permitted until this Saturday.

Health Excuse Slip Elimination On Term Trial

Excuse slips given by the Student Health Service will be eliminated for a trial period spring term. The excuse slips will continue to be issued in special instances by the dean of women and dean of men's offices.

According to Faculty Newsletter, March 8, the dean of women, Elizabeth R. Hays, said that 50,000 miles on tour of schools and colleges, and this year will make some 300 appearances in 34 states.

While on tour, the troupe received good press notices wherever they spoke the dust of ages off "Julius Caesar" and made it thrilling. "Miss Webster has said that she feels the works of Shakespeare apply" as much to the present and future as they did in the past.

Miss Webster has said that she feels the works of Shakespeare apply "as much to the present and future as they did in the past." The troupe of Shakespearean actors will be presented in the Little Theatre at the present time. Margaret Webster troupe, including 20 actors and five technicians, last year toured 30,000 miles on tour of schools and colleges, and this year will make some 300 appearances in 34 states.

Shook Off Dust

The Milwaukee Sentinel wrote, "Julius Caesar comes to life in modern dress. . . . Margaret Webster's talented young company shook the dust of ages off 'Julius Caesar' and made it thrilling."

One-Act Play Contest Date Set In April

The annual one-act play contest will be held sometime around April 12. Phyllis Johnson, president of Little Theatre, said this week. Last year the contest was won by the KDA fraternity. In recognition of their achievement all members of the cast were awarded a badge and their director received special recognition. Sororities, fraternities, and many organized independent houses already have been contacted. Anyone who has not been contacted may see Phyllis Johnson if their house is interested in competing in this contest. Little Theatre will supply the makeup, but each group will be responsible for its own properties. Purpose of the contest is to stimulate student interest in campus dramatics and to give an opportunity to those interested in theatre work to gain experience in this field.

Blind Pianist. To Present Mixed Music Program

Music ranging from the ridiculous to the sublime will be featured on the program in Shryock auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock by the noted pianist and master of improvisation, Alec Templeton, sponsored by the Carbondale Community Concerts association.

ALEC TEMPLETON

Templeton—Alec is his full first name, not an abbreviation—was born in Cardiff, Wales. He began his music studies at an early age with Margaret Humphrey and later continued them at the London Academy of Music and the Royal College of Music.

He first came to this country in 1935 with Jack Hylton, British band leader and impresario, for a series of broadcasts for the Standard Oil company. Templeton's concert career, however, dates from his debut in Chicago's Orchestra hall in 1936.

His programs are usually divided between serious, sincere renditions of Debussy, Ravel, Rachmaninoff, and his humorous and original improvisations, many of which have been recorded, such as "Mr. Bach Goes to Town."

Julius Caesar' Comes To Life In Modern Dress Here Wednesday

"Julius Caesar" in modern dress will be presented March 29, at Shryock auditorium by the Margaret Webster Shakespeare company. The production, presented under the auspices of the Little Theatre, will begin at 8 p.m.

The Shakespeare play should prove especially interesting and educational to students since it is to be presented in a modernized manner," said Phyllis Johnson, president of Little Theatre.

The Margaret Webster troupe, including 20 actors and five technicians, last year toured 50,000 miles on tour of schools and colleges, and this year will make some 300 appearances in 34 states.

KDA Variety Show To Be Staged At Mt. Vernon

All 19 acts of the KDA Variety show will be presented tonight at the Mt. Vernon high school auditorium. The re-presentation of the two-hour show is being sponsored by the Mt. Vernon Junior Chamber of Commerce. The out-of-town presentation is in keeping with the university policy of extending services of Southern throughout Southern Illinois.

The Mt. Vernon basketball team, champions of the state tournament, will be honored during intermission of the show.

The former general chairman of the show, Gene Johns, is now attending F.B.I. school in Washington. Bill Zacharias has replaced him as general chairman. Zacharias formerly held the job of chairman of talent committee. Tonight will be the final presentation of the show unless future engagements are arranged.

Bankers of This Area Hold Meeting At SIU First of a series of eight meetings for bankers of Southern Illinois was held at Southern March 13. Chairman of the local meeting was J. E. Eberhart of Carbondale. The series of conferences was sponsored by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, with the cooperation of the Illinois Bankers association.

Good As A Penny Bank

A penny saved is a penny earned. If this adage is true, then Southern students should start saving quite a few pennies beginning this week if they bought one of the student discount cards.

ISA is to be congratulated on setting up this discount system to benefit the entire student body, whether Greek or Independent.

This plan is not only money in the pockets of the students and merchants, but also the birth of a better feeling between students and townpeople and a display of true service to Southern.

Rules and Ruler

According to the Dean of Women, Helen A. Shuman, hours regulations are designed to help preserve the good name of our University, and in addition are beneficial in aiding both men and women students to regulate their study hours and sleeping hours on at least a minimum basis.

Parents value the rules highly, and, as a general rule, prefer that their girls live in houses where the rules are enforced.

It has been suggested that the rules be graduated to give the upperclassmen later hours. But Dean Shuman said this would probably mean more stringent rules for the freshman, because public opinion will not allow more liberal rules than are now in force, even for seniors.

The 10-30 deadline is really helpful at times. To the girl who wants to study, but would not otherwise suggest calling it a night, the rules are a real boon.

Report sheet, is available to each house-mother, who is expected to submit this report every week to Dean Shuman.

Only a very few colleges have no hours regulations, and most colleges have even more stringent rules than does Southern.

Since Dean Shuman has taken over, the regulations have at no point been tightened, and in some ways have been liberalized.

March 2, at 9:40 in the student center, the representatives of the organized houses and student organizations met with Dean Shuman to draw up the student code for the coming year.

Letters to Editor
Has Objection To Blackface

Dear Editor: I attended the KDA Variety Show and enjoyed it very much. However, there was one act that I think detracted from the success of the entire show.

The new policy stated at follows: 1. 'The CSA will not recommend shows or acts whose effects will be lampooning of minority groups.'

P. S.—I am not only voicing my sentiments but those of many other students on the campus.

WHY NO INSURANCE?

Why doesn't the state of Illinois carry insurance on any state buildings? The Dean's house was a tragic example of why insurance should be carried to cover loss of fire, etc.

'Why doesn't the state of Illinois carry insurance on any state buildings? The Dean's house was a tragic example of why insurance should be carried to cover loss by fire.'

On first thought we were inclined to agree with the two Southern students who wrote the letter. But let's investigate further.

A Carbondale insurance salesman told us the rate for full coverage insurance. Doing a little figuring we discovered that the insurance bill on Southern's equipment and buildings per year would be about $72,000.

This amount looks extremely large when multiplied for a period of several years and it looms even larger when considering that in Southern's 50-year history, it has had only two major fires—the burning of the original Main building in the 1880's and the destruction of the deans' building last month.—B.H.

The Philatelist
The Great Mail Postal History

'The Great Mail—A Postal History of New Orleans,' a book tracing the history of mail transportation in the deep south and particularly the development of the New Orleans postal service, has just been published by the American Philatelic Society.

First day sales of the six-cent Wright Brothers air mail stamp totaled 378,585 covers cancelled and 623,841 stamps sold.

There were 332,023 covers cancelled and 546,889 stamps sold at the Washington, D.C., post office on the first day of sale of the three cent Samuel Gompers commemorative.

Sales at the Philatelic agency for the calendar year 1949 totaled $3,743,095.72.

Persons interested in special cancellations may obtain the following by sending self-addressed prepaid envelopes to the post master at New York with the request the special cancellation be applied.

It will be placed in use about March 1 at the general post office and seven sub-stations and will be used approximately six months.

Program Potter TV Skedded For West Frankfort

Two erstwhile Southern Illinois announcers are now displaying their wares admirably in the St. Louis area.

In talking to Charles Cook, manager of WFFP, last week, we were indeed surprised, to say the least, to learn that West Frankfort, and Belleville are scheduled for television programs in the not too-distant future.

Incidentally, Gravelle W. Lyster, owner of radio station WFFP, in Herrin, and instrumental for years in Southern Illinois affairs, politically and industrially, is honored this year with inclusion in 'Who's Who in America.'

Southern Exposure Discount Cards Novel, Practical

Something new appeared just outside the registration door Monday. Students staggering unsteadily out of the doors feeling that they weren't really living this it was just a bad dream—had given more occasion to believe some of the snarbles were missing when they found that with the few cents they had left after paying their registration fees, they could buy a card that would give them discounts ranging from 5 to 20 percent at nine different Carbondale stores.

Before we leave registration, we would like to remark in passing that it was only too noticeable Monday that some departments still had some of their courses listed without the names of the professors who would be teaching them.

Something else the Student Council might look into is the suggestion that appeared in this column last time—that a regular coffee hour be scheduled for students and faculty every week or two.

The Council is to be congratulated on bringing Duke Ellington to campus tomorrow night for a concert and dance. This will make the fourth name band to appear on campus in the past year, and the fifth to play in Carbondale under auspices of campus organizations.

Speaking of music, another headline attraction is on campus tonight—Alec Templeton, the versatile pianist and musical humorist. Another musical note (no pun intended) is that the a cappella choir took its annual spring tour during spring vacation, and wound it up with a concert in Chicago's Convention hall.

One of the most interesting items of recent weeks is the fact that the Egyptian was a first place award in a national college newspaper contest recently held in New York. So, we say to all critics of the Egyptian—and especially to those who criticize Southern Exposure—nuts!

Next week is Religious Emphasis Week on campus. This year, the week's program is being sponsored by the Student Christian foundation, and the Newman club and Baptist foundation are holding corresponding services.

200 Delegates Attend IRC Meeting

Approximately 200 delegates attended the 19th annual conference of the Midwestern Regional International Relations club held here March 10-11. The delegates were from 80 universities and colleges in Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, and Illinois—the four states that make up the midwestern region.

"American Foreign Policy in 1950—Hopes and Dangers" was the theme for the conference. Object of the local IRC club was to crystallize opinion and thought on the subject by the conference said Tom Stubbs, president of the midwestern region.

Round table discussions made up the major portion of the conference. Eight general topics were chosen and three sessions were held on each topic. The topics were: Europe, Asia, America, U.S.A., Attitudes, U. N., Welfare, and Law.

Johnson Speaks
Dr. Samuel A. Johnson, news analyst for radio station KMOX, St. Louis, was the guest speaker at the conference. Dr. Johnson gave a public address. Another major speaker was Edward Kozers, who represented the American Association of IRC's and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Kozers spoke at the opening session.

Students from the conference who participated in the conference were: Tom Stubbs, Alfred Loughran, Robert Oswski, Robert King, Orvan Pfisterer, Edward Miller, John Anasapkin, Carl Jones, Joseph Farmer, Jo Ann Eblen, Jim Holland, Robert McCabe, Frank Bietto, and DeLores Williams.

Elated Officers
The final session of the conference was a business session when the 1950 officers were elected. Also delegates to the National Conference, to be held in April at the University of Michigan, were selected. Al Loughran, a student here at Southern was elected as one of delegates.

Marion Student To Get Assistantship at Purdue
Wendell Ward of Marion, senior chemistry student at Southern, has received an appointment as graduate assistant at Purdue university for next year, according to Dr. J. W. Neekers, chairman of the chemistry department.

The assistantship will carry a stipend of approximately $1,200 plus tuition and fees. "This is the first time one of our students has obtained an assistantship at Purdue, although our graduates have received them in the past in 18 other universities from Berkeley, Calif., to Boston," Dr. Neekers said.

PI Omega Initiates Members At Dinner
The Pi Omega Pi, a professional organization for business teachers, met at the cafeteria for dinner, March 1. From there the group went to the home of Miss Susie Ogden for initiation services. Students who were initiated were Imogene Beckmeyer, Mrs. Gale Emery, Dean Kessler, Gene Wylie, and Ernest Yuhat. Faculty members initiated were Miss Eleanor Caserio, instructor in the University School; and Arnold Turner, instructor in Business Administration.

Alumni members assisting in the services were Miss Eidiella Doolin, Mrs. Marge Enrietta, and Mrs. Lois Nelson. Also at the meeting officers were elected as follows: Gene Wylie, president; Dean Kessler, vice-president; and Imogene Beckmeyer, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Viola Du Fraim is sponsor of the organization.

The topic "Office Gadgets" was discussed and each member demonstrated his favorite gadget used in office work.

The home economics operated Canteen sells an estimated 2,000 cups of coffee per day, according to inventories working there. Many students consume as many as four cups per day.

Why They Leave Egypt Is Object of Survey

What's happening to Southern's students when they graduate? Where do the students now enrolled intend to live when they graduate? The answers to these and many other questions are being sought by the sociology department in the questionnaires which were distributed during registration Monday.

Object of the questionnaires is to find out why young people of Southern Illinois go to other sections of the country to find jobs after they have completed their education. This information will be used when Southern presents its budget requests to the state legislature about Sept. 1 of this year.

Also, the information will be of great value to business people, school officials, and leaders of Southern Illinois as well as to SIU in planning for the future. It will provide the Information Service and Alumni Service, for the first time, with a complete record of students who are enrolled in a particular quarter.

Dr. Charles D. Tenney requested the co-operation of all students in promptly filling out the forms and returning them to the sociology department by tomorrow at the latest. "The more students who fill out the questionnaires, the more complete the information will be," Dr. Tenney said.

Any student who did not get a copy of the questionnaire may obtain one at the sociology department office in the women's gym.

A Cappella Choir Gives 15 Shows During Vacation

Included on the choir program were works by Palestrina, Bach, Byrd, Mendelssohn, Brahms, Nizolsky, and Willen. Although the spring tour is the most impressive single list of concerts presented by the choir, the group regularly makes numerous appearances in Carbondale and neighboring communities throughout the year.

Climaxed by a concert in Chicago's Orchestra hall, the 56-voice a cappella choir returned Monday from a week's tour, including 15 performances, under the direction of Floyd V. Wakeland.

The choir received invitation to present a concert in Orchestra hall during its annual tour last year, when it also made a broadcast over WGN, Chicago. Other performances were given before high schools, civic clubs, women's clubs and alumni groups. The group left campus March 13 for the week-long trip.

John Wharton, assistant professor of music and concertmaster with the Southern Illinois symphony, accompanied the group and played violin solos, accompanied by Carter Brason, Boston, on the piano. Bill McIntosh, Carbondale, had a vocal solo in one number. To add color to the concerts were two select groups—the Madrigals, and the Phi Mu Alpha, Sinfonia, male octet. Dressed in their Elizabethan costumes, the Madrigals sang a group of numbers characteristic of that period, and the octet presented selections in close harmony.

Barnstorming Illini Play SIU Senior Cagers

The barnstorming seniors from the University of Illinois will meet the graduating class of Southern Maroons here Sunday afternoon at 8 p.m. in the Men's gym in a post-season basketball event. The Illini men have embarked on a tour of the Midwest, playing all corners, and the game Sunday should provide an interesting spectacle indeed.

This will mark the first post-season appearance of the Maroons, and one of the few times they have played together as a team.

Cage-Team Names Tom Millikin Most Valuable Player

Tom Millikin, the unheralded fifth man on the Pinckevillie state championship quiet in 1948, has been voted the "Most Valuable Player Award" by his teammates for the current basketball season. Only a sophomore at Southern, Millikin didn't begin playing basketball until his senior year at Pinckevillie High and then only because he proved satisfactory for the Panther cause, few believed that he would develop into a better-than-average college cager.

Because of his size—6'2", 190 pounds—Tom was slow in rounding into top flight form and, although he proved satisfactory for the Panther cause, few believed that he would develop into a better-than-average college cager.

His Confidence
Tom, however, was one of the few who did have confidence in his abilities, and he realized that with a lot of hard work his goal of playing college basketball might be attained.

When the rest of the boys were out on the gridiron last year, he was up in the gym trying to perfect his favorite shot, a one-hander directly from the face. When basketball practice finally got under way, he was still spending more time than anyone working out the little details that he missed by his lack of experience.

When the Southern intramural basketball program got underway, Tom began officiating the games every evening to continue his extra practice.

Pays Dividends
Soon it became evident to everyone that his efforts were beginning to pay dividends as the box scorers consistently listed Millikin as the top scorer for the Maroons. In his last four conference tilts, Tom hit the hoop for 96 points and has tallied 124 points in his last six starts.

But his coach, Lynn Holder, is undecided as to how Tom is more valuable to the team, as a scorer or as a rebounder. Even though "Big T" is one of the team's top rebounders, he very seldom scores on tip-ins. He clears the defensive board in a manner that makes the opposition think twice before trying for a rebound of any kind.

Volleyball Play In Intramurals

Intramural director James J. Wilkinson hopes to embark on a rather ambitious intramural program this spring, following the successful winter basketball play with warm-weather sports. Among the more noted of these is a school volleyball program to get underway as soon as possible.

Managers of these volleyball teams are invited to a meeting to be held in the Men's gym next Monday afternoon at 4 p.m. Here plans will be drawn up, and scheduled week-end games. Wilkinson hopes to play two or three nights per week, with the activities ending up with a tournament. Last year, the volleyball program proved highly successful, and Coach Wilkinson hopes to make this year's activities even more so.

Future plans include a ping-pong tournament, soft ball leagues, and track meet. Even under consideration is a school wrestling match, in which the champions would emerge in their respective weight classes.

The track meet in particular looms as a popular event. Last spring, there were over 100 entries in the cinder parade.

for the Maroons in a 27-game schedule. The 21-6 mark was the second best for a Souther team. The past four seasons the Maroons have been 19-10, 22-4, 13-11 and 21-6 for an overall 75-31 mark under Holder.

Benders Eke Hoodlums, 34-32 For Cage Title

In the final game of the intramural basketball competition the week before last, the PRETZEL BENDERS sided out the HOODLUMS 34-32, to take the championship crown. The Benders had to go through overtime periods to do the trick. At the end of the first two overtime periods the score was still knotted, each team having 32 points. In the last overtime period the method of "suicide death" was used and the Benders scored the first basket to take the championship honor.

Baseball Team Wins Three Over Vacation

Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin and 19 sun-tanned baseball players piled out of the bus in front of the men's gymnasium Sunday morning after a successful jaunt through Dixieland. Their travels took them through Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Louisiana, while their ball games ended with the Maroons victorious in three out of five encounters.

Both losses came at the hands of a better-than-average Loyola of the South team in New Orleans. Victories came at the expense of Millers college by a 23-5 margin, Southeastern Louisiana 9-1, and Mississippi college fell 11-5.

Captain Bill (Froggy) Bauer and Joe Jones led the team at the plate with 11 and nine hits respectively. Hitting power was not up to par, but the team did very well considering that they had had little batting practice before leaving.

Defensive play was also erratic at times, but this too can be corrected. Southern's outfielders threw out four enemy runners at the plate over the course of the five games, with Captain Bauer and center-fielder Dan Campbell cutting down two bloopers. Infielders Joe Jones, Art Menendez, and freshman Eddie Coleman turned in good performances. Milt Weisbecker, Freddie Rumpel, and converted second sacker Dick Jones handled the catching chores adequately.
