SALUKI AND DORIS WADE, 1950 Homecoming queen, as they appeared at Registration last week when the election was held to select a new nickname for Southern's teams. 'Saluki' won the election by a large majority.

Students Vote Saluki As New Team Mascot

Southern's athletic teams soon may be known as "Salukis" instead of "Maroons." Students voted the new nickname by an overwhelming majority in an election held in conjunction with registration for spring term. A highlight of registration was the actual appearance of a Saluki at the gym.

"Saluki" won over such favorites as "Rebels," "Knights," and others. The name will not be official, however, until it is approved by the faculty and alumni.

Pat Marlow Reaches ISA Contest Finals

Pat Marlow, sophomore from Herrin, has been selected as one of the top seven finalists in the National Independent Student Association Sweetheart contest, the association headquarters recently announced.

The winner has been selected but will not be announced until March 30 during the Coronation Ball of the national convention in Lawrence, Kansas.

Finalists were chosen from candidates representing colleges and universities throughout the United States. Judge for the contest was John Powers, founder of the Powers Model agency.

Miss Marlow, a brunette, is five feet four inches tall. She is majoring in elementary education.

This is the second year in succession that S. I. U. has had a finalist in the national contest. Last year, Miss Luann Miller also of Herrin, reached the finals.

HEALTH SERVICE OFFERS TETANUS IMMUNIZATION

The first of a series of tetanus toxoid immunizations will be offered at the Student Health Service tomorrow and Thursday, March 29. The hours for the students and faculty members to receive their immunizations will be 9 to 11:30, and 1:30 to 4:30.

The university libraries consist of over 100,000 volumes. These include bound documents, periodicals and books.

Virginia Miller Elected To Edit 1951-52 Egyptian

Virginia Miller was elected editor-in-chief of the 1951-52 Egyptian by the publications council in a meeting held last week, announced Tom Sloan, chairman of the council.

Barbara Ames was elected by the council to hold the position of managing editor, and Carol Henderson was named business manager.

MILLER, Ames, and Henderson will head the Egyptian staff from now until the beginning of spring term in 1952.

Virginia served as managing editor during the past year and previously as a reporter. She is enrolled in the College of Vocations and Professions and is a journalism major. She is a junior from Murphysboro.

BARBARA AMES, the new managing editor, is a junior from Mt. Vernon and is minoring in journalism. Previously she has been circulation manager of the Egyptian and a reporter. She is in the College of Education.

Carol Henderson has been an assistant to Marshall Smith, former business manager, for two terms. She is a sophomore from Jerseyville enrolled in the College of Education.

Other staff positions will be announced at a later date.

CIVIL SERVICE ANNOUNCES COMPETITIVE EXAMS

The Illinois Civil Service Commission has announced that open competitive examinations will be given soon for each of the following classifications: clerk stenographer, occupational therapy aide, and recreation aide.

Complete information may be obtained from the announcement poster at the south entrance of the auditorium.

Final date to file application is April 20. Application blanks may be obtained from the Personnel office, located on the second floor of the auditorium.

'Peter and the Wolf' To Be Featured In Concert Tonight

Featuring Prokofieff's popular "Peter and the Wolf," the Southern Illinois Symphony orchestra will present its third concert of the current school year at 8 p.m. tonight in Shryock auditorium.

The orchestra will be under the direction of Maurits Kesnar, chairman of the music department.

Narrating the adventures of Peter and his friends as they struggle with the vicious wolf will be Archibald McLeod, associate professor of speech.

Another highlight of the concert will be the presentation of "Battle Hymn of the Republic" at the close of the program. Supporting the orchestra in the performance of the selection will be a choir under the direction of Gene Howey, senior from Fairfield. Before the number is played, President Delyte W. Morris will present a tribute to men in the armed services.

Other selections on the program include: "Vorspiel to Die Meistersinger von Nurnberg" by Wagner; "L'Arlesienne," Suite 1, by Bizet; "Intermezzo" from Harry Janos, by Bodaly; and "Blossom Time" by Romberg.

The orchestra, with 68 members, is composed of University students and musicians from throughout Southern Illinois. It was converted a year ago last fall from the University orchestra to the Southern Illinois Symphony.

Following the Carbondale performance, the concert will be presented in Cairo at 4:00 p.m. in the high school auditorium on April 1.

The University Duplicating Service has increased its output to nearly double of that of 1946.

Construction of a dormitory that will house 425 girls may begin in as early as three weeks at the present location of the Student Center, according to Dr. Charles D. Tenney, administrative assistant to the president.

"The Student Center will remain open and will function until construction work makes it impossible for us to use the building," stated Miss Leah Farr, dean of women. Miss Farr added that the center could be vacated in an hour. The new student center will be located in one of the barracks now under construction, according to present plans. The music annex, child guidance and education houses will also be torn down to make room for the dormitory. The Canteen will not need to be torn down anytime in the near future.

THE DORMITORY will be in a U shape around a court open on one side. A dining room and kitchen will be attached to one section of the building. Recreation rooms are to be built on the ground floor. French doors open from the recreation rooms onto terraces. Four laundries, four pressing rooms, and storage space is also located on the ground floor.

Hairwashing rooms complete with hair dryers, lounges, lobbies, a post office, and directors living quarters are located on the first floor.

THE SECOND floor contains rooms for students. All students' rooms contain built-in metal furniture. The rooms are furnished with a wardrobe, mirror, dresser, bed, bookcase, desk, and chair for each occupant, and full-length mirrors will be built at the end of the halls in the building.

The dormitory will be ready for occupancy in approximately two or three years.

Egyptian Receives First Place Award

The Egyptian has been awarded a first place rating for the second straight year in the 27th annual contest of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

The Egyptian was classified in the division for four year, senior college printed newspapers. More than 1300 student newspapers and 800 yearbooks from every state and U. S. military occupation areas abroad competed in the contest.

Editor of the Egyptian was Bill Hollada, Benton, who resigned the position to begin off-campus practice teaching. Business manager, Marshall Smith, Lawrenceville, also resigned recently to devote more time to his position with the SIU Alumni Service.

Faculty sponsor of the newspaper is Robert Steffes, acting chairman of the journalism department.

Room Service Please!

A recent survey conducted by the Dean of Women's office found that in the fall of 1950, Southern was able to house less than four percent of its students in University-owned dormitories. While during this same period other colleges and universities throughout the nation were able to house between 40 and 50 per cent of their students.

"No college should accept students unless it is prepared to offer them adequate, sanitary and reasonably convenient toilets and bathing facilities, and sufficient hot and cold water for basic household needs, also equipment for laundering. Anything less than these must be considered sub-standard on a health basis alone," reports the National Association of Deans of Women.

Another report by the same association declares, "Living accommodations provided for students should be considered an integral part of the educational offering of the institution and should be administered with as much care as classroom instruction receives."

When these facts are brought out, the razing of the present student center to make way for construction of a girls' dormitory does not seem much of a hardship. The Student Center will be re-established in one of the barracks now under construction.

Humor Helps . . .

"At one time or another, millions of Americans have tried to cut themselves a slice of cake as potent as a wedding cake. For most everyone in the United States old enough or tall enough to reach the keys of a typewriter seems to have an urge to cut himself in on the fabulous writing dollar. A public opinion poll in 1949 showed that 2,777,000 Americans wanted to write, and the pollsters took samples only among people between the ages of 21 and 50," declares Walter Steigleman in his book, "Writing the Feature Article."

Time and events seem to have substantiated the above quotation, for the textbook from which the statement is taken was recently sixth on the non-fiction, bestseller list in New York.

One reason for the popularity of Steigleman's book is the manner in which he presents his material.

A little girl assigned to write a school composition, took her pencil and paper and began querying her mother.

"Where did I come from, Mother?" she asked. The mother recovered her aplomb long enough to answer: "The stork brought you, dear."

Queries about the origin of the mother and grandmother brought the same replies, and the puzzled girl wrote:

"There have been no natural births in our family for three generations."

The author used this anecdote to show that articles are the product of a natural development. His book is full of such stories and his style might well be copied by other writers of textbooks.

Publicity Help for SIU

Among the many things that Southern lacks is publicity. Aside from the immediate area Southern Illinois University is not a widely known school. Several ideas have been presented to advertise the school but at least one of the most obvious has been overlooked.

There are several cars in the SIU motor pool and these vehicles are driven many miles each month. Many trips are made out of state to various types of meetings and conferences. To paint the name of the school on the doors of these cars would be one simple and fairly economical way of increasing the publicity of Southern. It would at least plant the question in the minds of the unknowing public--Where is Southern Illinois University? B.P.

How Much?

Students Estimate Educational Costs

Despite inflated living costs, 20 percent of SIU students estimate their total expenses at $75 to $125 per 12-week term; while only eight percent say quarterly expenses exceed $300.

OTHER ESTIMATED costs per term, including room, board, tuition, clothing, laundry, and incidentals are: $125-$175, 23 percent; $175-$225, 22 per cent; $225-$250, 11 per cent; and $250-$300, 9 per cent. Nine percent of students queried in a study by Wayne Mann, alumni director, made no estimates on expenses.

OUT OF 1,488 students who completed questionnaires for alumni office, 346 said they are completely self-supporting; 165, 75 percent self supporting, and 170, 50 percent self-supporting.

Although 65 percent of SIU students work part-time, only 13 percent say they chose to attend Southern for financial reasons.

Extremely low expenses for many SIU students may be attributed, in part, to the fact that 11 percent live at home, and 35 percent go home on week-ends. Ninety-five percent of the student body lives within 90 miles of the campus.

Eighty-six said they travel to and from home by train, 318 by bus, 915 by auto, 45 by "hitch-hiking," and 4 by air.

AMONG THE commuters, 83 students say they drive to and from their homes daily for financial reasons, 97 because of home chores or jobs, 8 because of "inadequate social life at the university."

Clint Clay Tilton Library Presents Lincoln Portrait in Assembly

Unveiling of a portrait of Abraham Lincoln was the climax of the assembly held Thursday entitled, "Abe Lincoln in Southern Illinois," which was presented by the Clint Clay Tilton library in cooperation with the Student Council, and the speech and music departments.

Scene four of the program was called "Top Mystery at Southern," and it was then that the portrait was unveiled. Tom Sloan, narrator of the program, explained that the portrait had been found in an attic here at Southern and that it was of great value; however there were no explanations of who gave it to Southern or of how long Southern has had the picture which was painted in 1865.

The program itself was a tableau with four scenes, the script of which was written by Roy V. Jordan, curator of the Clint Clay Tilton library.

Students from the speech department portrayed characters in the scenes. Students participating were Jack Jungers, Frank Barr, Rose Owen, William J. Burns, Michael Morris, and Tom Berry.

Lincoln and Allen Gentry, the Lincoln-Douglas Debate, the Lincoln family in the White House, and the unveiling of the portrait made up the four scenes of the assembly program.

HOME EC SPONSORS SPRING STYLE SHOW

"Symphony of Spring Fashions," a style show sponsored by the home economics department will be given tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Models for the show have been selected from the home economics department and will model costumes for every occasion. Each costume will be accompanied by a musical name.

Admission for the style show will be 25 cents per person.

Pre-Student-Teaching Day To Be Held Friday

A pre-student-teaching day will be held March 30, according to Dr. Charles D. Neal, director of teacher training. This is the first program of its kind to be held at SIU.

Every student teacher at SIU will have opportunity to learn what is expected of him as a student teacher and to ask questions about the kind of work he is about to undertake as a teacher in training.

The students also will learn from Roye Bryant, Director of SIU Placement Service, the techniques of job interviewing. Also, each student will confer with advisers about the special problems occurring in his major and minor fields of study.

PICTURE OF OLD MAIN ON MEMBERSHIP CARDS

"Old Main," classroom building and Civil War landmark, is pictured on the 1951 membership cards of Southern Illinois Incorporated; Egypt's regional chamber of commerce. These cards certify members as a part of the program to "build a better Southern Illinois."

According to H. A. Whittenberg, vice president for membership, it is fitting that SIU be remembered on the 1951 membership card, since Southern Illinois Incorporated was responsible for the drive to develop a full-fledged university program at Southern, and since the improvement of all the educational resources in Southern Illinois is one of the four major programs of the organization.

OBELISK APPLICATIONS

Students who are interested in applying for the editorship of next year's OBELISK, or associate editorship, may pick up application forms at the Journalism office in the Journalism building on South Thompson street. The deadline for return of applications will be at noon on Tuesday, April 2. Applicants need not be Journalism majors to qualify for the position. Experience on previous publications in high school and experience in organization are the main qualifications.

Choir, Madrigals Give Tour Concert

Madrigal singers, the A cappella choir, and a clarinet quartet presented the concert they gave during their recent spring concert tour here at Southern last night.

An estimated 15,000 persons attended the concerts in 13 cities of Illinois and Missouri during the choir's tour, according to Floyd V. Wakeland, director of the choir.

Nineteen concerts were given this year on the fifth consecutive extended concert tour made by the chorus. The tour ended in Chicago with performances in Thorne Hall, Kenwood Church, and Kelly high school. The Thorne Hall concert was sponsored by the Illinois Federation of Music Clubs.

University students making the trip included 54 members of the a cappella choir and the personnel of the clarinet quartet who played two numbers at each concert. Selections by Southern's madrigal singers were featured on the programs.

Towns where concerts were given included Belleville, East Alton, Troy, Edwardsville, Staunton, Lincoln, Petersburg, Springfield, Lincoln, Lexington, Pontiac, Chicago, and Jennings, Mo.

Two Sophs to Attend Student Union Meet

Two delegates, to be chosen from the sophomore class, will represent Southern at a convention of the National Association of College Unions, Tom Sloan, Student Council president, has announced.

Purpose of the convention is to discuss problems concerning the operation of student union buildings on college campuses. It is hoped, Sloan said, that the delegates may bring back information in planning the SIU union building when it is set in operation.

The convention will be held April 25-28 at East Lansing, Mich.

Sophomores interested in representing the university at this meeting should contact Bob Coover, sophomore class proxy, immediately. At a meeting of the Student Council in Main 213 April 3 at 4 p. m., the delegates will be chosen. Expenses of the delegates will be paid by the university.

Administrators Meeting Held Here Saturday

College of Education sponsored a School Administrators' Conference held here at Southern Saturday. The conference was for administrators and board members and it dealt with problems of building construction in relation to child health.

Dr. N. E. Viles, a specialist in school plant management from the U. S. Office of Education, spoke on "The School Plant and Pupil Welfare" in the afternoon session of the conference. A panel discussion was also held in the afternoon session.

Various conference groups were organized for discussion during the one day meeting.

Old Log School House To Be Restored Here

The only known remaining log school house in the State of Illinois has been purchased by Southern and is to be moved to the campus and restored with original furnishings.

Known as the Cherry Valley school, existing record books show that it was in use as early as 1848, but SIU historians have failed to find in just what year it was erected. Since 1889 the school has stood a few miles southwest of Lebanon, in St. Clair county.

After being in use for several years and serving people in a large

Geographer Lectures On World Problems

Dr. Charles C. Colby, visiting lecturer in geography will give two public lectures in the field of international relations on successive Wednesday nights, March 28 and April 4, at 7:30 p. m. in Shryock auditorium.

Colby's theme will be "Crisis in the World Order." The first lecture will be on "Foundations of the Crisis in Central Europe" and the second on "Crisis in American Foreign Relations."

In his lecture tomorrow night, Dr. Colby will deal with the resources of land and men in central Europe and their significance in Europe and the world at large.

Both lectures will be free to the public.

Instructor Publishes Newspaper Directory

Detailed information on Southern Illinois newspapers is made available in a directory compiled by Donald R. Grubb, instructor in journalism. The new book is being distributed by the journalism department.

Requiring more than a year of research, the directory contains information on 124 weekly and daily papers in the southern 31 counties of Illinois. It describes editorial, business and mechanical characteristics of each publication.

Data concerning each newspaper's plant equipment, names of staff members and mailing information are included in the directory and are not available in any other directory.

"It is designed to serve not only newspaper publishers and editors in this area," Grubb says, "but also students of journalism, librarians, advertisers, civic enterprises, educators, and governmental agencies."

Copies of the directory may be obtained free of charge from Donald R. Grubb, at the journalism office.

district, the school was found to be too far away from the most thickly populated part of the township. It was then that, by petition, Cherry Valley district was divided into two parts.

A short time later, a new school was built to serve the increasing number of students and the original log school building ceased to be used.

In February of 1889, the building and contents were put up for public auction. Cherry Valley school went to the highest bidder for $6.25. It cannot be said that age and depreciation lowered the value of this building because the University paid $350 for it.

It is a typical one room school of the early days. According to John W. Allen, curator of the SIU museum, its original timbers are in good condition and very little replacing will have to be done. Allen will have charge of the moving and restoration.

At present its outside walls are covered with weather-boarding put on for extra insulation in 1856. However, in restoring the building it is planned to remove the weather-boarding so the timbers will show.

The inside walls are plastered with mud and straw. Rafters are hand fashioned and the floor and ceiling are covered with random width, tongue grooved boards. A withered flower was found in the faded holder which had been there since the school closed 60 years ago.

Allen states that plans are to move the building immediately. It will be rebuilt in authentic setting on a part of the campus. Refurbishing will follow as closely as possible the pattern of the original contents. The building will be open to the public within a few months.

Famous Track Coach To Speak at Clinic

George Thomas Bresnahan, one of the nation's, all time great track coaches, will be the guest speaker for the third Annual Spring Sports Clinic to be held here March 30.

Coleman Captains SIU Track Team

The outlook on the oncoming track season is very dismal, according to Leland "Doc" Lingle, Southern track coach. Lingle stated that the prospects can be compared with the 1943 season, when many men were called to the service, and many others were ineligible.

Lingle says that eight of his most valuable men are ineligible for the approaching season. He also said that this would mean a loss of 50 or 60 points per meet. Phil Coleman has been elected captain of the squad. Coleman is one of Lingle's more valuable distance men. The other two men who run with Coleman are Joe McLafferty and Ray Palmer.

Other prospects for the Southern cinder team are Bill Chapman, 100 and 220 yard dash, Lawrence Talliana, the half mile, Gene McFarland will jump the high hurdles along with Jim Alexander. Alexander will also be one of the top notch broadjumpers. Harry Clark is the lone pole vaulter. Bunker Kutcosky will be the main discus and shot man, along with Bob East. Bill Wangelin will throw the javelin, and Bill Winning will return to the track after two years of absence in the high jump.

As yet Lingle has no 440 man. The 440 yard dash is the backbone of the track squad, and Lingle says that he needs at least six men.

Lingle has requested men who are interested to appear this afternoon for track.

The tentative schedule states the Western cindermen to appear in the first meet on April 7.

Southern follows the policy recommended by the American Council of Education relative to credit for military experience and for experience in civilian activities related to the war.

Tom Millikin Named Most Valuable Player

Tom Millikin was named the most valuable player along with the selection of an all-opponent team in a meeting of the Southern Illinois University basketball team held earlier this month.

Millikin's great all-around play was by far the most impressive thing about the Maroons this year. Not only did he break the all-time Southern scoring record, but he also established himself as a great team man and one of the finest rebounders in this area.

Not including his total for the game at Illinois Wesleyan Saturday night (March 3) Tom has 461 points including 225 in Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference play this season.

There was some difficulty in naming the all-opponent team. The Maroons could not decide who they wanted at the center post, but Tom Katsimopolis, Eastern State, finally won out over Washington University's Gus Miller.

Scotty Steagall was the only unanimous choice. The entire squad thought the Millikin University whirlwind should be at one forward spot.

Bob Barnett of Evansville College was named to the other forward post with Don Gurvey, Eastern State, and Jack Purcell, Murray State, at the guards.

At least half of the credits counting toward the Master's degree must be earned in courses for graduates only ("500" courses); the remaining may be taken in courses for graduates and advanced undergraduates ("400" courses).

Martinmen Win 4 of 6 On Southern Road Trip

Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin said today that he is "highly pleased" with his Southern Illinois University baseball team that just completed a successful six game tour of the south. Southern captured four of the six games.

Martin says the fine showing was largely the result of hard work done in preparation for the trip. He said that the conditioning program was left up to the boys and that they were expected to be in shape when the tour opened. Six games in six days was a true test of physical condition, and the Maroons responded well.

Southern opened the tour by splitting with Southeastern Louisiana, dropping the first contest 2-1 and winning the second 4-2. Then they edged favored Loyola University in New Orleans, 9-8, but lost the second game, 6-2. The Martinmen climaxed the tour with two wins over Northwestern Louisiana, 4-3, and 3-0.

Most impressive among hitters was veteran Captain Joe Jones, who collected 11 hits including three home runs, in 23 tries.

The team received a severe jolt when they returned, waiting for four regulars were notices to report to the Air Force Reserves.
