Name Joyce Gollon ISA Sweetheart

A committee of five faculty members has chosen Joyce Gollon, freshman from Anna, to represent Southern's ISA as Independent Sweetheart. She will compete with girls from colleges and universities throughout the country at the national ISA convention at Norman, Oklahoma.

Joyce, a major in radio speech, is a resident of Anthony Hall. She is a member of the choir and madrigals and was selected according to personality, poise, and natural beauty.

The national convention will begin April 10 and will continue through April 12. There will be banquets, a dance, at which the national ISA Queen will be chosen, various meetings to discuss the betterment of the ISA, and a hog-calling contest.

NATIONAL OFFICERS will be elected also at the meeting. In 1950, SIU student, C. R. Dougherty, was national vice-president of the organization.

Southern students who have expressed their intentions of making the trip to Oklahoma are Joe Brown, George Gabor, Freda Gower, Bob Scrivner, Ita Lou Bozarth, Joyce Gollon, Dallas Talley, and Jean Davis.

In 1951, Southern student, Pat Marlow, junior from Herrin, was chosen National Independent Sweetheart at the convention in Kansas. In 1950, another SIU student, Luann Miller, was one of the top ten finalists.

Mary Ann Cagle, Eldorado; Dorothy Edmonds, Chicago; Audrey Mayer, St. Louis; and Carolyn Bernhard, West Frankfort. The queen is to be crowned on Friday night at the hall which is to be held in the Carbondale Armory at 900 W. Sycamore.

The dance is formal. Cadets and reserve officers may wear their uniforms but others must wear formal attire. Tickets will be on sale at the door or may be purchased at the ROTC office on campus. All advanced ROTC students have tickets available for sale. Captain Lunde, of the AF ROTC staff, pointed out that the ball is for ROTC cadets and officers, and Reserve officers in the area. Faculty members are invited and they may purchase tickets at any time. Others are granted entrance only by special invitation.

C. WILLIAM HORREL, director of the photographic service, announced recently that color motion pictures of the crowning of the queen will be made by his organization. Other portions of the event-packed evening will be filmed also, according to Horrel.

Music for the ball is to be furnished by Phillip Olson and his All-Stars.

Girls wishing to attend the dance may secure a special late leave from the Office of the Dean of Women. According to Dean Farr, this special late leave will not count as a regular late leave. Girls securing late leave for the ball may stay out until 2 a.m.

Photographs of the six finalists in the queen's contest appear in this issue of the Egyptian.

Captain Lunde said, "We hope to make the ROTC ball a yearly tradition here at Southern."

ODaniel Announces Student Council Sponsors Anatolia College Drive

Spring Festival committee chairmen have been selected, according to Lowell Odaniel, general chairman of the event. The chairmen of the various committees are: Dallas Talley and Don Shelton, general vice-chairmen; Jo Schrodt, general secretary; Delores Hamp and Clifford Karch, finance; Don Shelton, Fisherman's Wharf.

Eineman Abrahams, tickets; Paul Morris, Lou Steinberg, and Aileen Anderson, general decorations and theme; Paul Meuth and Lois Burke, Miss Southern contest; Mary Ann Klingenberg and Earl Cox, parade; Doree McClane, Midway; Betty Dorris and Aileen Anderson, dance; and Beverly Fox, Freda Gower, Don Duffy, and Joe Harding, publicity.

PLANNING FOR the events of Southern's sixth Spring Festival is now under way. Chairman Odaniel has announced tentative plans as follows. Spring Festival begins Thursday night, May 1, with an all-school rally and bonfire celebration. Friday night the newly formed Social Chairmen's group will sponsor "Fisherman's Wharf," a dance with floorshow entertainment.

Saturday morning, May 3, will feature the Spring Festival parade. Saturday afternoon Southern's Midway will open with acts, concessions, and sideshows sponsored by organizations on campus. In previous years the midway has always been a slump spot in the festivities. The committee is asking this year for every organization to make a special effort to enter in the midway competition.

The Spring Festival dance will be held Saturday night in the men's gymnasium. The band has been chosen and will be announced within a few days. The dance will be formal, but there will be no corages.

Duplicating Service Completes Directory

The Duplicating Service has recently completed the 1951-52 campus directory, and the directories are now being distributed throughout the campus. Students may get copies of the directories by calling for them at the Duplicating Service located at 308 West Grand.

This year's campus book contains a listing of the board of trustee members, the telephone numbers for all the administrative offices, the addresses and phones of organized houses and a listing of all the faculty members.

All SIU students enrolled fall term are included in alphabetical order. Included under each person's name is his local Carbondale address and phone number, his home town, and his home town address and phone. At the right of everyone's listing there are two numbers telling what class and

An auction will take place in an all-school assembly Thursday at 11 a.m., in Shryock auditorium, the proceeds of which will go to Anatolia college in Thessaloniki, Greece. This drive, called the "Support for a Day" plan is a new activity which replaces the World Student Service Fund, a national organization for which drives have been conducted at Southern in past years.

Sixth Hospitality Week-End Features All-School Dance

An all-school dance is being sponsored by the Social Senate for the sixth annual Hospitality Week-end to be held on Southern's campus this Friday and Saturday. All SIU students who attend the dance are to act as hosts to the senior guests.

Being scheduled for Friday, March 28, the dance is to be held in the women's gymnasium from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m. Ernie Limpus and his orchestra have been contracted to play and admission is free.

Following the dance, the high school guests will be taken to the Carbondale Armory to witness the crowning of the first AF ROTC Military Ball queen to be chosen at Southern.

APPROXIMATELY TWO high school seniors from 175 Southern Illinois high schools are expected to attend. These guests will be representative of 31 downstate counties.

The one and a half days will be event-packed for the visiting seniors. While here, the students will visit classes, have conferences with teachers in the field of study they are interested in, and meet various Southern students.

Students co-ordinating the activities for Hospitality Week-end are Barbara Von Behren, Jack Donahue, and Charles Parker. Students in charge of hospitality, registration, and tours are Mary Meyers and Chuck Wildy, representatives of the Girls Rally and A.P.O. Rosemarie Gendron is in charge of housing and meals. Program chairmen are Wyona Smith and John Loy. Jim Fecho is in charge of publicity.

Request Seniors To Order Announcements

Orders for senior class announcements and personal cards can be placed this week until Saturday, March 29, according to George Gabor, senior class president.

"There will be no further possibility to place orders," said Gabor.

Orders may be placed between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. each evening, and until noon Saturday. Sample announcements and personal cards will be shown, and orders will be taken at the Student Center.

what college that person is enrolled in.

The drive is being conducted by the Student Council. The Council felt that direct contact in giving aid to a school would be more interesting than to deal through larger organizations as we have in the past.

It has been found that Anatolia college operates at a cost of 125 dollars above its regular income each day. Southern's goal is to collect 125 dollars and thus support the school for a day.

DR. WILLIAM J. TUDOR, SIU sociology instructor, who served as a Fulbright professor of agriculture at the Agricultural College of Athens, will be the main speaker at Thursday's auction, and Pat Randall will be the auctioneer.

Articles to be auctioned will be donated by down-town merchants. A variety of services from individuals, organizations, and groups will also be auctioned. These services include five student waiters, and four student waitresses. Al Tranj and Carroll Cox will offer their baby sitting services to be auctioned, and the Pi Kappa Sigma sorority will knit argyle socks.

Southern is also sending books and gift magazine subscriptions to this college, and should the 125 dollar goal be exceeded, the remainder of the money will be used to purchase supplies to send to Greece. Containers will be located at various places on and off campus this week to receive donations.

FOUR GREEK-AMERICANS from Carbondale have already donated to the drive. They are John Kiriakos, who gave two five dollar meal tickets to be auctioned; George Mitros, who contributed 10 dollars; N. A. Masters, who gave five dollars; and John Licos, who contributed five dollars. Sobery's Bakery will donate decorated cakes to be auctioned at the assembly.

CAFETERIA REQUESTS STUDENT CO-OPERATION

Bernice Sexauer, manager of the cafeteria, has asked the co-operation of University students during the sixth annual Hospitality Week-end, scheduled for the weekend of Mar. 28-29.

Since about 350 students have been invited to the event and they will be eating four meals during this period, she asks that University students eat as early as possible, and not linger and talk if there is a shortage of table space.

On Probation?

As we all know, a term has just ended and some students are still drowning their sorrows and others (lucky stiff) are celebrating over the results of last term's work. Perhaps some of the unfortunate ones need not do so much drowning, for if they stopped and figured out their grades according to the university's probation system, maybe they would find they had not been lowered into the deep, dark depths of probation. On the other hand, the results for others may not be as cheerful.

At any rate, because so many students do not know exactly how the university probation system works, we are publishing several questions that students have asked concerning probation along with the answers below.

1. A registration how do I know what grades I made last term?

Before you register, go to the rooms where last term's classes met. You will find your grades posted there.

2. What puts me on probation?

A grade average during your last term below the established standard puts you on probation.

3. Can a poor showing in the last term alone put me on probation even if my over-all average is above the standard?

Yes.
 What is the standard?

For freshmen and sophomores (those having less than 96 credit hours) the standard is 15 grade points below a "C" average. For juniors and seniors, the standard is a "C" average.

5. How do you figure an average by points?

A grade of: A equals five points
 B equals four points
 C equals three points
 D equals two points
 E equals one point

Thus a grade of: A in a two hour course equals 10 points
 B in a one hour course equals four points
 C in a three hour course equals nine points
 D in a five hour course equals 10 points
 E in a four hour course equals four points

A "C" average for 15 credit hours as listed above equals 45 points, however the grades above only add up to 37 points. Thus the average is below a "C" average by eight points.

6. How do I get off probation?

By bringing your over-all average up to or above the standard.

7. If I do not get off probation, what happens?

If you make a "C" average, you may re-register. If you do not make a "C" average, you can not re-register, but you can make an appeal to the dean of your college.

Council Corner

At the last meeting of the Student Council held last Tuesday, Wilma Beadle and Tim Bowers were members not present. The meeting was called to order by President Doug Shepherd and the minutes were read and approved. ### To Hold Lenten Services Weekly

by Dave Stahlberg

How many times have you been asked, "What are you giving up for Lent?"

Lent . . . Just what is Lent, anyway? Why have Lenten Services? What is the significance of Lent? Lent, through the ages, has served as a period preparatory to Easter in which emphasis is placed upon the crucifying of Christ. Lent does not strictly mean giving up something—it is a time for devotion, discipline, and decision.

IT IS TOWARD this end that campus Lenten Services are being held each Wednesday until Easter at 6:45 p.m. in the University School Little Theatre. The services are being sponsored by the worship and study commission of the Student Christian Foundation, an interdenominational group of students who have felt the need for a campus Lenten program.

Each Wednesday's program consists of congregational singing presented by students, dramatic reading of the Passion story from the gospel of Mark by students, and a meditation by a member of the faculty or a local minister. The theme for the series of services is the Beatitudes of Christ.

DOROTHY BOUCHER and Bill Noel have presented solos, Marilyn Bushman serves as pianist, and Roger Turner, Don Fearheilly and Rachel Kinison have given dramatic readings. Speakers for remaining Lenten Services include Rev. W. L. Reppenhagen, March 26, First Baptist Church; Rev. E. K. Wylie, April 2, Director of SCF; and Rev. H. H. Longberry, April 9, First Methodist Church.

Chairmen of the various committees include Jean Gummer-sheimer, program; Carol Hughes, arrangements; and Martin Schradler, publicity.

"Although this is a comparatively new idea here," says Gummer-sheimer, program chairman, "we hope to make it an annual affair. We cordially invite everyone to attend the Campus Lenten Services," the corresponding secretary.

The officers comprise an executive committee which will plan programs for the group's meetings during the remainder of the year.

Where It Goes—

Investigation Reveals Activity Fee Distribution

by Helen Nance

Students sometimes wonder just where the money they pay as a student activity fee goes. This amount, although it may seem a bit too large at times, has to be stretched and stretched. The Egyptian has done some research on the student activity fee and has found the following information.

Each class is allotted appropriations to develop class funds. Both the Egyptian and the Obelisk receive money from the student activity fee. Other activities receiving appropriations from this fee are debate, freshman group activities or new student week, homecoming, the health service and hospitalization, lectures and entertainments, library specials and activities, music, social activities which are set up by the social senate, and Student Council.

IN THE SPORTS field, part of the money goes to university athletics, women's athletics, intermural athletics, a swimming fund, and pep activities.

Student handbooks, which are "Southern Style" and "Rules and Regulations," are published from money received out of this fund.

Other student activities receiving money from the fund are student publicity services, student welfare, and the contingent fund.

These student activities submit a request for allotment of the student activity fees. All of the requests are submitted to the business office where the approximate amount of money to be taken in from the student activity fee is compared to the total request.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL receives all requests, makes recommendations for the money and turns the accounts over to the director of student affairs. He in turn makes his recommendations to the University Budgetary Council. Their recommendation is made to the President of the University and he submits the accounts to the Board of Trustees for final approval.

The party was planned by the Student Center steering committee, which is composed of Freda Gower, Jim Yates, Paul Morris, and Shirley Mathis.

Other committee members who helped in planning the party are Catherine Carlson, Helen Gurley, and Rosemary Kabureck, refreshment committee; and Don Hall, Jim Yates, and Carolyn Bernhard, publicity committee. The program was planned by Mike Stein, Olivia Baker, and Freda Gower with Russ Wilson and Tony Delia in charge of decorations.

Salukis Return From South With 3-2 Record

Southern's baseball squad, recently returned from their spring training tour of the Southern states, is now engaged in stepped-up outdoor practice in preparation for their season's opener, Apr. 5, against the Arkansas State Indians at Jonesboro.

Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin's squad finished above the .500 mark on their southern jaunt, when they managed to win three out of six scheduled games, one game being rained out.

The Salukis began their play by dropping two games to Loyola of the South at New Orleans, 10-6 and 8-3. In the first game, the Martinmen jumped off to a six run lead when they scored two runs in the first inning, and four in the second. But Loyola, aided by six walks off the pitching of Reid Martin and Larry Burns, scored seven runs in the sixth inning to cinch the game.

LOYOLA CAME through with a late inning rally to win the second game of the series, also. The Salukis enjoyed a 3-1 lead until Loyola got to the pitching of starter Ronnie Hagler for five hits and six runs in the seventh inning.

From New Orleans, the Salukis traveled to Clinton, Miss. There they swept a two-game series with Mississippi College. Jim Schmulbach, who previously limited his talents to playing a fine left field, started the game for Southern. Working on the mound for five innings, Schmulbach struck out ten, walked seven, and gave up three hits and one run. Jerry Engle took over from there, limiting Mississippi to one hit the remainder of the distance. The Salukis scored in all but the first, seventh, and eighth innings for an easy 10-1 victory.

THE SALUKIS had an easy time of it the following day when they set back their Southern rivals 11-1. Reid Martin, who started for Southern, worked four innings, giving up one hit and one run. Jim Allen worked the next three innings, allowing two walks and no hits. Wehrle pitched the last two frames, retiring the Mississippians in order.

Wayne Grandcolas, a dependable southpaw from last year's pitching staff, went the distance in the final game of the trip. He allowed Louisiana State three runs and eight hits, as his team mates backed him up at the plate for a 7-3 victory.

Thies, a rookie catcher, finished second on the trip with six hits in 15 times at bat for an even .400. Not far behind him was veteran second baseman Eddie Coleman. Coleman appeared at the plate 21 times and collected eight hits for a .381 average.

In fourth spot among the players who batted more than ten times was shortstop Jerry West. West batted 18 times, got five hits, and posted an average of .277.
