LA&S loses 85 in term staff cuts

By Sue Roll
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences took the majority of cuts in term appointees with 85 terminations, according to figures released Wednesday by the Affirmative Action Office.

This latest information concerning the term appointee terminations includes breakdown for schools and colleges, sex and race. The terminations are effective June, 1972.

Of the terminations in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, 36 were female and 49 male. These terminations include 31 positions for which reappointments cannot be guaranteed but which are not completely final. Of the female terminations in LA&S, 35 were white and one Oriental. Of the males, 45 were white, two Oriental and two of other minority groups.

The next largest group of cuts was in the College of Education. Of the 14 terminations there, nine were female and five male. Of the female terminations, eight were white and one black. All male terminations were white.

Seven cuts were made at the Vocational-Technical Institute (VTI). All terminations at VTI were white, with two female and five male.

The College of Communications and Fine Arts received four terminations, all white females.

The School of Business had one termination, a white female.

No cuts in term appointees were made in the School of Home Economics or the School of Agriculture.

The total number of terminations according to the data is 111, including 52 female and 59 male. Earlier reports released through the Office of Public Services and Relations had indicated

Administrative structure under review

Derge defines management task force

By Monroe Walker
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The campus management task force—to which three men from the School of Business have been named—is not to be a "witch hunt or a repressive device," President David R. Derge said Wednesday.

Speaking at a luncheon of the Nonacademic Employees Council, Derge said the task force is designed "to help us to do our jobs better and to insure that we're getting the maximum from every administrative dollar spent."

Derge told the nonacademic staff group the task force would be composed of three faculty members from the business school, but he could not disclose their names.

Later, however, it was learned that the task force members will be Gola E. Waters, assistant dean of business and associate professor in finance; Dan Laughhunn, associate professor of administrative science, and R. Stanley Tyler, assistant professor of finance.

Dan Orescanin, executive assistant to the president, confirmed the three had been appointed to the management study panel, for which Derge had announced plans Monday.

Orescanin said the task force will begin work spring quarter and will spend full-time on review and analysis of the entire University administrative structure.

Derge said that the task force will begin its work "right after final exams this quarter and will continue until the job is done." He said it may take six months.

When asked what he thought of the University Senate, Derge said that he was "not going to identify anybody on this campus from whom I'll receive advice because that excludes others." He said that he welcomes the advice of anyone wanting to give advice and "that includes the senate."

"I reserve judgment, however, as to whether I take that advice," he added.

"How do you feel about Civil Service people?" asked Hilda V. Born, member of the council. She added that Civil Service employees were "very much underpaid, but we're also a dedicated lot."

Derge said that the University is composed of "many components" and that any organization that is put together correctly needs components to function properly and if "you eliminate one of those components, you damage the organization."

Lee Hester, chairman of the council, asked the president what he thought of the campus parking situation.

"We're in trouble with parking," Derge answered. "There are 14,000 hunks of steel that we've got to find space for and we only have half that in parking facilities."

He said that the trouble is that "nobody wants to pay for parking," but that "we're struggling with the problem and I hope that the solution that we come up with is agreeable."

Another member of the council, Rosia Kerrens, asked "What would your reaction be to a student riot?"

"I wouldn't like it," Derge said. "Nothing is solved and nobody wins. I believe in trying to prevent these things rather than reacting to them after they get out of hand."

He said that he thinks "our job is to keep the universities open, not close them. I think the student has better ways of making himself heard."

Just before leaving, president Derge said that anytime the Nonacademic Employees Council wanted to meet with him that he is available. "That is," he added, "if I don't already have an appointment."

IBHE criticized

SAC loses Student Senate support

By Randy Thomas
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Student Senate voted unanimously Wednesday night to withdraw its support of the Student Advisory Committee (SAC) to the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) thus forcing the resignation of the three SAC members from SIU.

The senate took the action upon the request of SIU's three SAC members.

Gary Dickerson, a member of the committee, told the senators that nothing has come of the SAC since its beginning.

"It's time to end the charade," he said.

Dickerson said that the IBHE has never taken the opinion of the SAC seriously unless the committee agreed with the board. He said the IBHE recently withdrew all financial support of the committee, which is ironic because the committee was formed at the board's request.

Jim Peters, student body vice president, said he believes the IBHE has used the SAC as a window show piece in that all of their actions are supposedly made with student input.

The SAC is composed of students from state schools throughout Illinois. Ken Midkiff, a graduate student at SIU, is the chairman of the committee.

In other business, the senate discussed the organization of the University Senate.

Tom Busch, who works in the office of Student Relations, told the student senators that the University Senate is designed to give all factions within the University a voice in campus governance.

When asked about the veto power that the senate supposedly has over the president of SIU, Busch replied that it only exists if the current president endorses it.

He said that if the president does not endorse it, the senate becomes an advisory organization to the president.

David Derge, president of SIU, has not yet endorsed the veto.

New Jersey abortion law struck down

TRENTON N.J. (AP) — A three-judge federal panel ruled Wednesday that New Jersey's law permitting abortions only to save the mother's life is unconstitutional because it violates a woman's right to privacy.

The court also ruled that the law is "unconstitutionally vague on its face" in that it does not protect doctors from possible prosecution if they give their patients abortion advice. The ruling stemmed from two suits filed in December 1970, by the American Civil Liberties Union.

The court said that up until the fourth month of pregnancy, a mother's right to privacy, including the right to control her own body and decide whether she has a child, transcends that of the embryo.

"The state may not interfere without a compelling public necessity," the judges ruled. They said existing law "permits the state to establish reasonable standards of safety."

The 2-1 decision was made by U.S. District Court Judges Phillip Foreman, George H. Barlow and Leonard Garth. Judge Garth wrote the dissent.

On the matter of vagueness, the court said the law "chills and deters the plaintiffs' physicians in the exercise of their protected First Amendment activities and violates their rights under the 14th Amendment to freely practice the profession of their choice."

Amtrack announces time changes for Chicago-Carbondale trains

Beginning March 6, the train schedules for most Illinois towns, including Carbondale, will be changed as part of a new Amtrack effort to cut the cost of passenger train operations.

According to Vernon Paul, Amtrack district manager in charge of passenger service, the times when trains will depart Carbondale, both north and south, will remain unchanged. Departure times from other Illinois towns, however, are likely to change under the new time schedules.

Carbondale-bound trains from Chicago on the Illinois Central, which previously departed from Central Station at 8:30 a.m., will now depart from Union Station at 9 a.m. Arrival in Carbondale is scheduled for 2:50 p.m.

The south-bound Illinois Central train, which previously departed Chicago at 5 p.m. from Central Station will instead leave at 4:15 p.m. from Union Station. This train will arrive in Carbondale at its present time of 10:05 p.m.

Train schedules for other towns along the Amtrack routes may or may not be affected under the new system.

Amtrack officials advise train passengers to check the new schedules to see if they are applicable.

The switch from the Central Station to Union Station in Chicago is part of an Amtrack consolidation effort made for financial reasons.

"It will save us over $1 million a year," Paul said.

200 attend opening session of Back-to-the-Land Festival

By Daryl Stephenson
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Approximately 200 people attended the opening session of the Back-to-the-Land Festival Wednesday afternoon in the Student Center Ballrooms.

The festival, sponsored by the Student Environmental Center, is being held in order to help people who are interested in rural living as an alternative to urban living make the adjustment from one lifestyle to the other.

The festival will continue Thursday and Friday in the Student Center Ballrooms.

The opening session began with a slide show explaining the purpose of the festival.

The show stressed that if rural life is to be made a suitable alternative to the decaying social fabric of the modern American city, a fundamental revolution in American values and its social and economic institutions must occur.

For those who cannot wait for the revolution, asserted the show, the Back-to-the-Land Festival would provide the necessary knowledge and techniques for individuals to begin their own experiments with rural living in Southern Illinois.

Various informational materials were distributed while the slide show was in progress. Among these were a bibliography of important books on organic farming, a list of common garden vegetables and their antagonists and information on the use of fertilizers.

In addition to the slide show, three workshops were held in the River Rooms.

At one, dealing with organic farming and gardening, the point was made that the main difference between organic gardeners and conventional agriculturists was that of economics.

John Reeves, director of the SIU Arboretum, told the audience that it would be economically unwise for many farmers not to use pesticides. "This is not to say, he said, that these farmers enjoy using pesticides, but that in many cases they must do so in order to survive in the current American economic system.

Because there is so much labor involved, said Reeves, organic gardening can only be done with small plots of land.

The only way it could be undertaken as a national means of subsistence would be if there were a fundamental change in the values of the American economic system, Reeves said.

The other workshops dealt with "Building Domes and Other Shelters" and "Blacks and the Land."

Leon Paige of the United Front of Cairo was to have appeared at the "Blacks and the Land" workshop and address festival guests on the same topic at 7 p.m. in the Ballrooms, but he was unable to attend.

Thursday's session will feature two more workshops, both meeting at 2 p.m.

The first is "How to Buy a Farm," which will be held in the Kaskaskia and Missouri River Rooms. Leading the discussion will be Ray Lenzi, festival coordinator, and several farm owners in the Southern Illinois area.

The other workshop is "Benefits Offered by the Soil Conservation Service," which will be held in the Ballrooms. The leader of the discussion is yet to be announced.

At 7 p.m. Thursday in Ballrooms A and B, the second slide show of the festival will be presented by John Lopinot, Daily Egyptian photographer. The slide show is entitled "Southern Illinois Environmental Problems."

Following the slide show, the movie "The Year of the Communes" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in the Ballrooms. It is sponsored by the Department of Anthropology.

A symposium, entitled "Social Problems of the Commune," will conclude the day's activities at 8:30 p.m. People from the surrounding area who have had experience living on communes or who now live on communes will participate in the symposium.

Code Committee negates three violations

By Richard Lorenz
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Community Conduct Code committee Wednesday approved elimination from the code of violations dealing with possession of marijuana, possession of alcohol in residence halls and exhibitionism.

The three provisions, which had been targets of criticism during the committee's hearings in November, were removed from the proposed code without extended discussion and by voice vote.

The committee first removed a provision which made possession of cannabis and its derivatives a violation of the code and which included penalties ranging from disciplinary reprimand to involuntary withdrawal.

The second provision removed had made possession or delivery of alcoholic beverages in either on-campus or off-campus residence halls violations carrying a wide range of penalties.

The committee then struck the provision which made it a violation to exhibit or manipulate one's private sexual parts with the exception of presentations having literary, artistic or scientific value.

The committee decided to retain a provision dealing with the illegal possession of narcotic drugs, depressant or stimulant substances and hallucinogens. The argument was that if the University did not regulate this area, some outside authority would.

The committee also made some revision in the acts concerning obstruction, interference, intimidation and destruction.

Under the revised scheme, a person would be in violation of the code if he intentionally obstructs or disrupts classes, research, administration or other University activities. Turning in false fire alarms or tampering with fire extinguishers, fire alarms or any type of safety equipment or utility would be a violation.

Knowingly entering, occupying, seizing or detaining by force or the threat of force any University facility without authority will be a violation. Unauthorized possession or use of firearms, fireworks, certain chemicals and any other implement classified as weapons by state statutes would be a violation.

The committee also approved a series of proposals presented by Richard Higginson, coordinator of student discipline, concerning the proposed Community Conduct Review Board (CCRB).

The committee approved proposals which include a provision which prevents the CCRB from increasing any penalty. The CCRB will have the power to send a case back to a hearing officer or panel if the penalty is excessive or inappropriate. The CCRB is to serve as the appellate body of the new system.

Ogilvie reveals new budget; aid to schools top priority

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Proclaiming that Illinois has weathered its severe money crisis, Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie submitted to the General Assembly Wednesday a $7.456 billion budget calling for no new taxes.

In a noon address to a joint House-Senate session, Ogilvie urged the lawmakers to redress "property tax discrimination" against rural residents and plunge state dollars into new social programs. He termed aid to schools his top priority.

Republican members exploded into applause at several points. Democrats looked on with arms folded.

Democratic spokesman afterward charged that the speech focused "more on political realities than on economic realities." They, as well as numerous neutral observers, argued that the budget message was full of thinly veiled barbs at Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, a candidate in the March 21 Democratic gubernatorial primary.

In portraying the state's money situation, Ogilvie swept away the gloomy prospects of last year's message in which he warned that the "insatiable demands" of higher education and welfare had dragged Illinois to the edge of financial ruin. Ogilvie said the $967 million budget for colleges and universities posed no problem because "the response of the higher education community to our fiscal limitations in 1973 has been so positive."

Of this amount, $82.3 million was set aside for SIU at Carbondale and Edwardsville. No breakdown between campuses was given. Capital expenditures for SIU were $10.9 million, of which $7.6 million is earmarked for the new SIU medical school.

Trip changes little at home

President Nixon's trip to Communist China has ended. After a week of talks with Chinese leaders, Americans know little of what these talks covered, but strangely enough there seems to be a kind of euphoria among the American public. It is not a strong elation, but rather a warm feeling inside that somehow a state of normalcy will reach the world. What the American public must realize, though, is that national and international problems still exist. A trip to China will not likely bring us to nirvana.

In Southeast Asia, almost 100,000 United States troops still fight and die every day in a war that seems to never end. In 1968, President Nixon promised the American public that all troops would be pulled out before the end of his term. Yet, we are still there.

Again in 1968, President Nixon promised an end to the military draft and the formation of an all-volunteer army. Four years later, this nation's youth still find themselves faced with military conscription. True, the draft has wound down considerably in the past year, but we must realize that thousands are still forced to serve against their will.

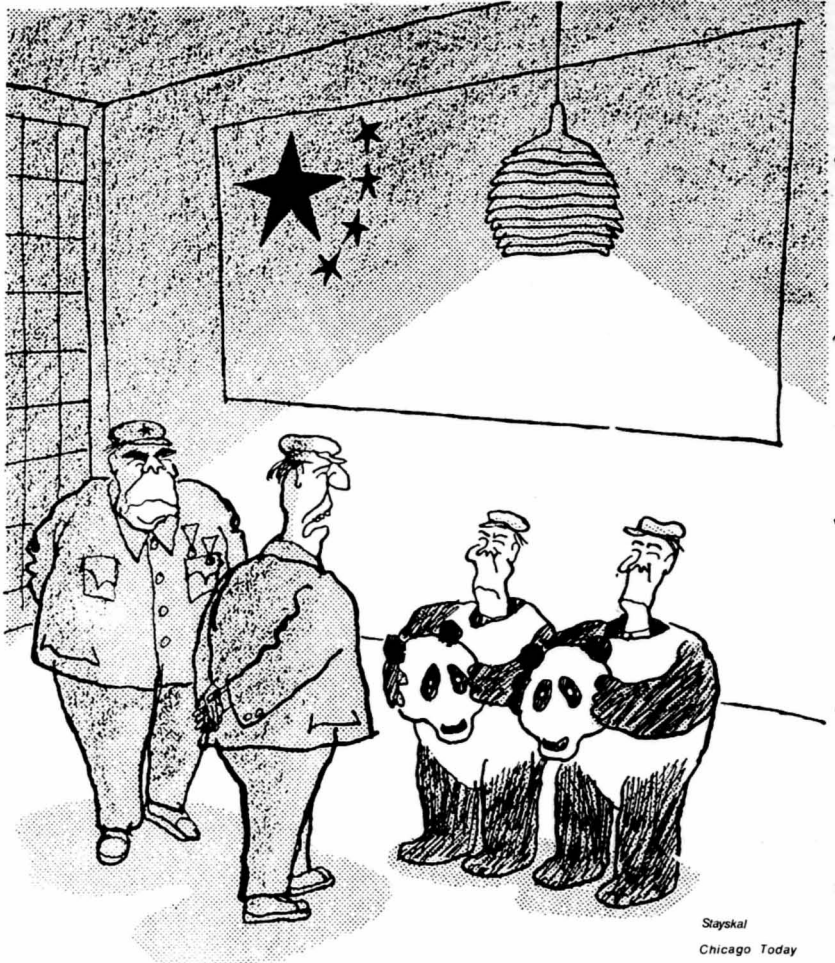

On the home front, issues and problems have changed little. The plight of our cities is a national disgrace. In 1968, President Nixon promised federal funds to revitalize the cities. This would include increased funds for housing, medical care and funds to revitalize the sagging economy. Four years later, great housing shortages still exist and many families are forced to live in crumbling, rat-infested dwellings. In the richest nation in the world, medical care still falls below that found in the Soviet Union and Sweden.

Probably our most pressing issue right now is the state of our economy. Week after week thousands of Americans no longer find themselves doing meaningful work, but rather find themselves out on the streets looking for work, any work, so that they can "just make it." As usual, the black and the poor are hardest hit in this area. It is estimated that as much as one third of the blacks in the ghettos are unemployed. In the 18- to 30-year age bracket among blacks, as much as two thirds could be unemployed. Even the favored college graduate finds himself wearing out more and more shoe leather looking for work. Indeed, this is a problem that concerns everyone.

Certainly, President Nixon's trip to China can be marked as a great historical event. Undoubtedly he deserves much credit for this undertaking. The outcome of this trip, though, is highly uncertain. It is hoped that at the least it will bring about greater understanding between the two countries. At best it may mark the beginning of a new era in all of Asia. But only a fool would assume that that new era will be free of bitter conflicts, and even warfare. The road from civility to peace is still very long and very arduous. The American public must not be lulled into the belief that with the Nixon China trip all will be well.

British anti-heroin methods may help U.S.

Heroin addiction has gone beyond the stage where it can be controlled by attempts of law enforcement agencies to stop its importation, or by heroin substitutes such as methadone. A recent estimate placed the number of U.S. addicts at 300,000, with an estimated 30,000 in Detroit alone.

But heroin addiction represents more than the personal suffering endured by the addict. Heroin addicts steal an estimated $25 million daily to support habits which may cost as much as $200 a day. In Detroit, where the per capita addiction rate is the highest in the nation, 70 per cent of the armed robberies and 90 per cent of bank holdups are said to be committed by addicts.

Meanwhile, organized crime grows rich dealing in heroin. Big-time heroin dealers can make as much as $250,000 a week, and some even flaunt their affluence by driving $17,000 Cadillacs and wearing mink coats.

Will universities end bias?

In view of the discriminatory policies employed by this nation's educational system, it is not surprising to find that the college campus has become a battleground of the women's liberation movement.

Drives are under way to secure for women more and better faculty positions and academic scholarships which for so long have been seemingly reserved for men. But the road to educational equality promises to be a very difficult one.

Although women held over one-third of the positions in colleges and universities in 1870, they now constitute a mere 18 per cent. Recent surveys have shown that only 19 per cent of the assistant professors and 8 per cent of the full professors are women. Out of the nearly 13,000 superintendents of the nation's school districts, only two are women.

Detroit authorities believe that 100 of that city's 690 homicides last year were related to underworld heroin activities.

Established crime-fighting techniques have proved quite ineffective in dealing with the heroin menace. President Nixon has offered to pay Turkey for not growing the poppies from which heroin is made, but this will not stop importations from other countries where poppies are grown.

Large caches of heroin are occasionally seized by border officials, but such seizures may only tend to cause a shortage of heroin, resulting in increased cost of the drug to the addict.

According to Washington lawyer Edward Bennett Williams, "You could take the whole Army, the whole Navy, the whole Air Force, the FBI, the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs and the Bureau of Customs and you still could not stop the importation of heroin."

The Special Committee on Crime Prevention and Control of the American Bar Association, of which Williams is chairman, recently announced that it favors the establishment, on an experimental basis, of government subsidized clinics in which addicts could receive free daily doses of heroin.

A similar program has been in effect in England since the 1920's. Under the recently revised British system addicts receive psychiatric treatment, jobs and the services of nurses and social workers in addition to heroin at government sponsored clinics. Dr. Margaret Tripp, director of London's St. Clement's Drug Unit, characterizes the English experience as successful in controlling the spread of addiction and the amount of heroin on the market, as well as heroin-related crimes.

The time has come in the United States to follow the British example and implement the suggestions of the ABA committee. If after a suitable experimental period it appears that such a program would be useful, it may be finally possible, as attorney Williams hopes, to "eliminate this horrible crime problem that is beleaguering this nation, flowing from heroin addiction at this moment."

U-Senate spends first year organizing

Editor's note: This is the third story in a four-part series by Staff Writer Richard Lorenz. It will review the work of the University Senate during its first year of operations.

By Richard Lorenz
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The University Senate is no longer an infant even though it's just a year old. But neither has it come of age—yet.

Most of the first year, since March 8, 1971, has been consumed by organizational procedures. Robert G. Laver, then chancellor and now returned to the economics department, opened the meeting that March evening. The yearling senators voted William Simeon, a representative of the graduate faculty, into the Senate's presidency. The graduate student delegate, Weston Nellius, was elected vice president, and undergraduate Billie Jean Prince was chosen secretary. Seven members of the 15-man task force which formed the original senate remained with the group.

The senate has in 12 months considered many but acted on few legislative matters.

When the 50-member senate set to work, it was to appoint an ad hoc committee, headed by John Baker of the general faculty, to formulate by-laws for the senate. An executive committee started filling committees.

The first real issue came to the senate in June of 1971 in a request for senate approval for an Illinois Public Interest Research Group at SIU.

In the months following, the senate endorsed designs to refurbish McAndrew Stadium, endorsed in principle a plan to reorganize the Daily Egyptian, assigned a task force to establish the status of women in the University and formed a controversial committee on men's intercollegiate athletics.

The senate also defeated a resolution against the Vietnam war and urged then President Laver not to submit a priority list to the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

The senate approved its first matter of concern, the I-PIRG resolution, in essence, but avoided endorsing any of the specific points in establishing the I-PIRG organization. At the same meeting the senate passed a resolution endorsing the refurbishing of McAndrew Stadium instead of building a new stadium.

In July, the senate approved the essence of Expro, a plan to reorganize the news-editorial operation of the Daily Egyptian. An Interim Board was to be formed by the senate with the help of the Journalism Advisory Committee. Also, at the July meeting, the senate approved the formation of a task force to determine the Status of Women in the University Community. The task force was assigned to gathering information over a six-month period, and then present the information to the senate.

In August, the senate defeated a resolution dealing with the Vietnam war. The resolution called for the withdrawal of American forces from Vietnam.

The Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) was the next subject dealt with by the senate. At its October meeting, the senate approved a motion which urged then President Laver not to submit a priority list of programs to the IBHE. The priority list was to total operations comprising 15 per cent of the University's operating budget.

The November senate meeting saw a turnover in senate officers. David Kenney, general faculty representative, was selected president. Tony Catanese, graduate student representative, was elected vice president. Carolyn Gandolfo, an undergraduate, was chosen secretary.

The December meeting primarily concerned approval to form a standing committee on men's intercollegiate athletics. The result has been disagreement by some as to whether the senate has the power to create such a committee.

Possibly the senate's most controversial subject arose in January. A resolution stating that SIU should withdraw from the athletic portion of the Midwestern Conference was approved.

February found the Expro issue once again on the senate agenda. The report was sent to the screening committee and is now with the campus management committee which will write proposals on the subject. (Tomorrow: The president's opinions.)

Letters to the editor

What about massacres in Africa?

To the Daily Egyptian:

Thirteen civilians were killed in Northern Ireland, and the whole world was very shaken. Bombs had been going off in different countries to protest these atrocities. Less than two weeks before the Northern Ireland killings, 14 Africans were shot dead in cold, bloody murder in Zimbabwe (Rhodesia). The world heard about this, too, but who cares? The same government responsible for the killings in Northern Ireland is responsible for the killings in Zimbabwe. The British government, that is.

The senseless killings of Africans by the Europeans has been going on for years. Remember Sharpeville in South Africa in 1960 when 69 Africans were killed protesting carrying of passes exclusively by blacks, amongst many dehumanizing treatments Africans were getting there?

Chances are that you have never heard of this: Portuguese soldiers in Africa have great fun in cutting off Africans' ears and fingers and keeping them in jars for kicks. It is a kind of "game of rivalry" amongst the Portuguese colonels to collect the largest number of black ears and fingers.

Countries in Africa (Angola, Mozambique, Guinea Bissau) under Portuguese rule experience killings of Africans everyday! Tons of bombs and corrosive chemicals are thrown upon innocent civilians, including children. It is worth knowing that Portugal is a NATO member, and gets her bombs from the USA for "internal security." Internal security, indeed!—

Nobody is shouting or protesting these. For anyone who might suggest that Africans should protest on their own behalf, may I say (1) Africans do protest these atrocities against fellow Africans but "nobody wants to listen." (2) When there was a civil war in Nigeria, hundreds of protests and demonstrations against the so-called "genocide of the Biafrans" were not by Africans. The French, the British and the Americans, etc. protested vehemently.

The bitter truth seems to be that people pretend to hear or see only what they want to. Europeans forcing Africans off their lands, claiming their wealth in the name of "civilizing the savages" and killing them deserves no comments or headline news?

All of a sudden some "history authorities" have found that blacks and whites settled South Africa at the same time. Someone wrote the following in the Chicago Tribune recently:

"The black people arrived in the eastern half of what is now the republic of South Africa about the same time that the Dutch were arriving in the western half. It is thus no question of white man's having dispossessed the black but of two strong groups contesting the same land."

Nothing could be farther from the truth. This is a plain, blatant lie; a rape on historical facts which only mischievous people would resort to for their own obvious dubious and selfish ends. Someday we may find "historians" saying that Aristotle was born and raised in China, and that he was the real first president of the USA, and not George Washington.

Trustee's conduct demands resignation

To the Daily Egyptian:

A letter to Trustee Martin Van Brown, I am writing in regards to your conduct and attitude which you displayed at the last meeting of the Board of Trustees.

I was one of those present to ask you and the other board members to reconsider your decision on the Douglas Allen tenure case. We came to you in good faith with sincerity and deep concern for an issue which we feel is of utmost importance and an issue which I thought the board felt to be of importance also. But when we stood up in complete silence when our representative read our petitions you evidently found humor in our attitude and insincerity in our concern. I was deeply hurt when you actually laughed at us.

I always thought that the members of our board were respectful and honorable men or else they would never have been appointed to such an important and prestigious position. Evidently my expectations were wrong.

I am not protesting your vote on the tenure case, though I disagree with it, this is not the intent of this letter. I am protesting the disrespect to us who were representing a large portion of the academic community and now I must question your qualifications for the position you now occupy.

I have always been told that respect for others is a mark of maturity and sincerity and that age was not the only criteria for maturity. Your conduct, sir, I found disrespectful and thus I question your mental maturity and sincerity. I further question the responsibility you evidently feel toward those involved at SIU and especially the student body. With deepest concern I respectfully request your resignation from the Board of Trustees of SIU.

Board decides on revolution

To the Daily Egyptian:

I was sitting around (stoned) the other day trying to figure out the 'reality' of the Douglas M. Allen versus Board of Trustees (read: ruling class) phenomenon.

After scraping away all the garbage, which included terms such as 'academic freedom' the 'He's a good teacher, he's a bad teacher' battle, the question of whether or not Allen can speak Indian, etc., I (in my stoned state of consciousness) figured it all out. I comes down to that one, all encompassing word: REVOLUTION!

When all the dust has cleared, the phenomenon becomes revolution. What the Board did was merely to say, 'F—— all this legal crap.' They know who their enemy is. Besides being a 'respectable scholar' Allen is also a subversive. He represents attitudes, values and beliefs that directly threaten the life style of people like the board members if carried to their logical conclusions. The board knows that. So they rolled up their sleeves and 'kicked some...'

As to the concept of academic freedom, there is, and never will be such a thing. Academic freedom is the fight to study the effects of sodium pentobarbital on learning in rats while people starve (physically, mentally and spiritually) a mile away. Academic freedom is the right to devise new and more efficient ways to exterminate our sisters and brothers in Latin America, Southeast Asia, Africa, Watts, Appalachia, etc.

The only two people who consistently have recognized what is at stake are C. Kumararatnam (Uncle Mahatma?) of higher education and Milton Altschuler of anthropology. C.K. and Altschuler can best be described as Shanda for the Goyem (loosely translated as front men for the WASP power structure.)

I'm one of those commies Altschuler dreams about every night and I'm looking forward to the day when the world doesn't have to put up with the type of thinking he represents.

SIU to get portrait of John Dewey

Author Corliss Lamont of New York City will present a portrait of famed educator John Dewey, who died in 1952, to the University during a visit Sunday through Tuesday.

Lamont will present the painting at a 4 p.m. public ceremony Monday in the Rare Book Room of Morris Library. Following the presentation he will talk about Dewey's impact on American philosophy and relate some of his personal recollections. A reception will follow.

The portrait is by Joseph Margulies, artist whose principal works are paintings of famous Americans and whose works hang in numerous large galleries and museums.

Lamont purchased the painting from the estate of the late Mrs. John Dewey and is presenting it to the University in recognition of work being done here by the Center for Dewey Studies in compiling, editing and publishing the writings of Dewey. He is a friend of George E. Axtelle, former Dewey scholar at SIU, an emeritus member of the Dewey Center Editorial Board.

Lamont's Carbondale visit will begin Sunday evening when he will be dinner guest of the Dewey Editorial Board. Activities while here will include visits to Morris Library, the Center for Dewey Studies and the University Press and participation in a philosophy department seminar at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Lamont, who was awarded the Ph.D. degree from Columbia University in 1932, has lectured and taught at Columbia College, the New School for Social Research, Cornell University, Harvard Graduate School of Education and Columbia School of General Studies.

He was recipient of the New York City Teachers Union annual award in 1955. "Dialogue on John Dewey" (1959) was among a number of works he has edited. He is co-author of the books "Introduction to Contemporary Problems in the U.S." (1929) and "Russia by the Day" (1933).

Morris Library has Derge's taped speech

A tape recording of President David Derge's speech he gave Tuesday night before the SIU chapter of the American Association of University Professors is available at the Self-instruction Center in Morris Library, according to Carol Yates, supervisor of the center.

The tape was made by the Learning Resource Center, she said. The tape includes the complete speech by Derge and the introduction to the speech by Robert Harrell, assistant professor in English.

In his speech, Derge revealed a five-part plan for review of the allocation of faculty resources to improve the teaching, research and public service functions of the University.

Married students council sponsors winter dance

The Married Students Activity Council of SIU is sponsoring a winter dance for married students of SIU Friday, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m., at Fred's Little Egypt Dance Barn in Cartersville.

Music will be provided by the Coal Kitchen band. Tickets are $1.50 per couple and may be purchased at the Married and Graduate Students Office located at building "A" of Washington Square, the SIU Student Center, or at the door. Refreshments will be provided and a trivia contest with prizes will take place during band breaks.

This portrait of John Dewey, noted philosopher who died in 1952, which will be presented to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale Monday, March 6, by author Corliss Lamont, who bought the Joseph Margulies painting from the estate of Dewey's widow.

VTI student council adviser says Board may meet there in March

By Chuck Hutchcraft
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The SIU Board of Trustees has indicated that it would prefer to hold its March meeting at the Vocational Technical Institute, Denny Corbell, faculty adviser to the VTI Student Advisory Council, said Tuesday.

Broken word results in annulment

CHICAGO (AP)—A Circuit Court judge granted a marriage annulment Wednesday to a woman who said her husband reneged on a promise made before they were married to seek repair of a vasectomy that made him sterile.

Janet Prislán, 20, filed suit, saying she was "fraudulently led into the purported marriage" with Herman H. Prislán, 35. The suit said he promised her before their marriage May 16, 1971, that he would try to take steps to have the sterilization operation reversed according to her wishes.

The woman said Prislán failed on his promise.

Judge Benjamin J. Kanter granted the annulment without comment.

Latin America to be seminar topic

"The Future of the University in Latin America" will be discussed in an informal seminar at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Morris Library Lounge.

Leading the discussion will be Risieri Frondizi, former president of the University of Buenos Aires and of the Union of Latin American Universities. Currently he is a professor in the SIU philosophy department.

A board member, whom Corbell declined to identify, told Corbell that the board "was glad" to receive the request to hold its March 17 meeting at VTI, Corbell said.

The board member said the board was pleased "that somebody would like to have them somewhere for once," Corbell said.

However, Corbell said, no final decision has been made on the matter.

This response is to a letter from the three student groups at VTI to the board requesting the board to hold its next meeting there since the board would be discussing VTI's future.

The letter was referring to the report Arden Pratt, dean of VTI, has turned into the president's office for submittal to the board.

The report contains Pratt's recommendations as to what programs he feels should be phased out of VTI.

According to Pratt, the board is expected to consider the report at its March meeting.

James Brown, chief of board staff, said Wednesday, that "there is a very strong desire on the part of the board to go along with the idea the letter represents."

However, he said, "we haven't really nailed anything down yet."

It has been anticipated, Brown said, that the board will be dealing with business concerning VTI. But, he said, the agenda has not been set.

Brown did say the board "was poised to go either way."

In other business, Corbell said that he has been informed that the price of the spring banquet tickets would have to be raised to four dollars if steak were to be served at the meal. Corbell said he was informed of this by the Red Lion restaurant in Herrin, site of the banquet.

The council voted to have the steak. The tickets were originally to be sold at $3.50, which was the price set for a steak dinner.

The council also voted to forward a request from the audio-visual department to have a pop machine installed on the department's premises.

The Pioneers' top point-getter, Tony Roman, left, gets an assist from lead pivot Ronnie Robinson in Roller Derby action. The skaters return to the SIU Arena Monday night.

Roller Derby returns to SIU Monday

By Sue Millen
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Roller Derby, the sport that has been called "more the sport of the seventies than pro-basketball," is coming for a second time to the SIU Arena at 8 p.m. Monday.

But this time ticket sales are down as compared to the November pre-game sales, William Searcy, assistant manager of the Arena, said Tuesday.

Searcy estimated "around a thousand" tickets have been sold, compared to more than 1,500 in a comparable period before the November Roller Derby.

The Pioneers, the home team for Midwest fans, will be pitted against the San Francisco Bay Bombers. The Bombers in previous years have held the league championship. However, since the league's expansion at the beginning of the Roller Derby season in mid-October, the Bombers have failed to display championship talents.

Presently, the Pioneers are in third place with the New York Chiefs in first place and the Mideast Jolters in second place. The Pioneers are expected to surge ahead, since the husband and wife team, Carol "Peanuts" Meyer and Tony Roman, have returned to the lineups. "Peanuts" had been ill and her husband also took off to be with his wife while she was recovering.

Roman, the men's top scorer, is also one of the fastest skaters in the league. His return in particular is expected to give the Pioneers a big boost.

Meanwhile, the Bombers have been progressively going down hill and are currently in last place.

Jerry Seltzer owns all of the Roller Derby teams.

Searcy commenting on the charge that one owner means no competition said, "The players are given extra bonuses for playing in the playoffs and winning the pennant. So they are out there to win. I don't think the games are fixed, given this fact."

The Pioneer stars on the women's team are Joanie Weston playing a blocking or pivoting position with Darlene Forbes as her backup. Jackie Garello, Valerie Blackard and "Peanuts" Meyer are all jammers.

The Pioneer men's team features pivot Ronnie Robinson, jammer Roman and blocker Gil Orozco. Two jammers and the pivot are the three players who are allowed to score. The pivot can play in either the jammer or the blocking position. There are two blockers who play defense.

Once a jammer or a pivot has broken through the opponents line he or she is given 60 seconds to circle the rink and pass the other teams players. For each opposing player passed, one point is given. It is therefore possible however unlikely, to get 15 points in one jam. Roller Derby game scores usually run somewhere in the neighborhood of 40 points.

Copenhagen police close porno clubs

COPENHAGEN (AP) — This Danish capital is no longer a mecca for seekers after sin. The live sex shows and the porno clubs have all but vanished.

Pornography still is unrestricted in Denmark, but the police and the tax collector have struck the seats of sin a deadly blow.

The police have closed about 60 shows and clubs since they began a drive just before Christmas.

The reason behind the campaign against sex is that the criminal underworld muscled in and was channeling the lush profits into narcotics, stolen goods and smuggling.

Today, of the few porno clubs known to exist in and around Copenhagen, one is 25 miles out of town.

The campaign was kicked off by the police license department. It found the clubs either had no license or had violated requirements for a listed member.

The license fee is only about $10 but many clubs chose not to apply since this would make them known to police. To qualify as a private club a regularly elected board is required and members must sign up at least 24 hours before attending club activities.

Then the tax collectors arrived. They demanded prompt payment of income and sales taxes.

The procedure is reminiscent of one used in the United States in the Roaring '20s against Al Capone. Unable to obtain evidence of criminal activities by Capone, the federal government nailed him on an income tax evasion charge and sent him to prison.

Heavy fines and payment of tax arrears dealt a crippling blow to many Danish clubs. Panic ensued when police began indicting club owners, taxi drivers, hotel doormen, travel agency clerks, porno shop salesmen and others.

Charges ranged from tax evasion to illegal sale of tickets to live shows and sex clubs.

To anyone venturing into Copenhagen's porno and sex club world, it was evident that it was dominated by the underworld. There were gangland-style fights between rival clubs.

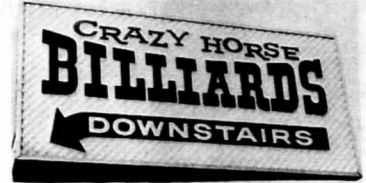

Police spokesmen said they were convinced many clubs were financed by underworld figures who used revenues to finance criminal activities.

But police sources and others, who know the porno club world, predicted that the lure of the big money to be made when the tourist season comes will bring a revival of Copenhagen's sex clubs. They foresee a wave of fly-by-night operations, but Copenhagen will hardly be the sex club mecca it was in past summers.

Trueblood holdup nets $416

SIU security police Wednesday reported the second armed robbery in two months in the University Park area, with the suspect escaping with about $416 in cash.

Ronald Sandefur, 21, Carbondale, a student clerk, told police he was counting the money at the Trueblood Hall service desk at about 8:53 p.m. Tuesday when a black male, about six feet tall, entered the room.

Sandefur said the man ordered him to put the money in a pillowcase. The man had a hand in a pocket as if he held a weapon, Sandefur told police.

Sandefur said he handed over the pillowcase and the man fled. There were no witnesses to the incident. Security Police are investigating.

Two men held up a University Park food service employe and a security officer in January outside Trueblood Hall, escaping with over $500. Investigation into that incident is continuing.

Minutes of the Meeting of the University Senate

Carbondale February 7, 1972

Agenda Item No. 1. Roll Call.

The meeting was called to order by President Kenney at 7:00 p.m. in Room 201 Lawson Hall. The roll was called by the secretary and the following Senators were present: William Atkinson, John Baker, Ralph Bedwell, Phyllis Bubnas, Robert Campbell, Tony Catanese, John Conlisk, David Derge, Gary Dickerson, Clarence Dougherty, Mark Ehlers, Ross J. Figor, Carolyn Gandolfo, C. Addison Hickman, Worthen Hunsaker (for Herbert Snyder), Rex Kames, David Kenney, Dianne Leach, William Lewis, John Lopinot, Paul Lougeay, Robert McGrath, Sidney Moss, William E. Nickell, Robert Peele, James Peters, Dan S. Rainey, William Schramm, Bill Steele, Robert Griffin (for E. Earle Stibitz), Cheryl Stoner, Jack Graham (for Dean Stuck), Don Suttner, Dave Thomas, Nicholas Vergette, George Camille (for Jack Wallin), Don Ward, Gola Waters, Roland Person (for Judy Williford), Eugene S. Wood.

The following members were absent and not represented by proxy: Nick Astone, Ed Donaldson, Vernon Eaton, Donald Gladden, Sam Rinella, William E. Simone, Raymond Yarbrough, J. W. Yates.

Agenda Item No. 2. Consideration of Minutes of the Meeting of January 10, 1972.

Mr. Lopinot moved to approve the minutes; Mr. Conlisk seconded the motion. Mr. Schramm stated he was present at the meeting and asked for a correction of the minutes. The minutes were approved.

Agenda Item No. 3. Recommendation of the Governance Committee.

Mr. Lewis moved that Article IV, Section 2 of the Senate's By Laws be amended to provide that, "Nominations for offices to be filled shall be made from the floor of the University Senate at the first regular meeting in November. Election and installation shall be made at the next subsequent meeting."

Mr. Bedwell seconded the motion. The motion carried 36 in favor, 0 against.

Agenda Item No. 4. Consideration of the Interim Board's Proposal on Expro II.

Mr. Camille moved that the report of the INTERIM Board on Expro II not be accepted until such time as there is an agreement between the Student Senate and the Interim Board. Mr. Peters seconded the motion. The motion was withdrawn. Mr. Camille then moved that the Senate send the report to the Screening Committee to decide which constituencies or joint standing committees shall take consideration of the report. Mr. McGrath seconded the motion. The vote was 33 in favor, 1 against, with 2 abstentions.

Agenda Item No. 5. Mr. Moss' Proposal that the Rental Textbook System be Abolished.

Mr. Moss moved that the rental textbook system be phased out for upper division undergraduate students before the beginning of the Fall term, 1974. Mr. Schramm seconded the motion. There was discussion of the jurisdiction of the Senate in this matter. Mr. Dickerson moved to refer it to the Screening Committee for a determination of jurisdiction. Mr. Lopinot seconded the motion. It passed with 29 in favor and 8 opposed.

Agenda Item No. 6. Reports of Committee Chairmen.

a. Mr. Dybvig reported for the Joint Standing Committee on General Studies. Mr. Dybvig stated that there was a moratorium on general studies classes and process changes being studied. The Committee is also studying a proposal for a Bachelor of Arts degree in General Studies.

b. Mr. Baker reported for the Senate Committee on External Relations. Mr. Baker reported on the progress of the Committee and the referral of the function of naming buildings to the Committee.

c. Mr. Kames reported for the Senate Standing Committee on External Relations. Mr. Kames stated that the Committee recommends that the Senate adopt the Carbondale Downtown Task Force proposal.

Agenda Item No. 7. Report of the Executive Committee.

Mr. Kenney reported the continued scheduling of Committee Chairmen for reports to the Senate, and that Mr. Campbell has been appointed Chairman of the Campus Management Committee.

Agenda Item No. 8. New Business.

Mr. Catanese moved that the Senate accept the following resolution:

"Whereas, Professor Robert G. Layer has served for seventeen months as Chancellor and President of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, and

Whereas, the University has made steady progress towards its goals during Professor Layer's leadership, and

Whereas, Professor Layer has returned to the Department of Economics to serve as its chairman;

Now therefore, be it resolved that the University Senate of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale hereby express its appreciation to Professor Robert G. Layer for his vigorous and effective leadership of the University. We are particularly appreciative of his efforts as President in helping to establish, nurture, and strengthen the University Senate as part of a system of shared governance and for actively participating in its deliberations.

And that copies of this resolution be sent to each member of the Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University and other appropriate persons."

Mr. Thomas seconded the motion and it was approved unanimously by the Senate.

After expressing concern over key control matters, the following resolution was moved by Ms. Stoner:

"Be it resolved that the University Senate of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale hereby express its concern with the procedure and substantive issues with which the Building Security Task Force is dealing. We feel that adequate attention to the full and effective use of the University's facilities should be taken strongly into account. And, given the broad reverberations that any recommendations by the Task Force will have on the University community, we are concerned with the lack of student and "full-time" faculty membership on the Task Force."

Mr. Hickman seconded the motion which carried by voice vote.

Mr. Kames moved for adoption of the Downtown Task Force proposal as follows:

"Be it, therefore, resolved, in meeting assembled, that the University Senate of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, support the purposes of the Carbondale Downtown Task Force and encourage all students, faculty and staff of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale to support and participate in this worthwhile community project."

Mr. Nickell seconded the motion. It was approved unanimously by the Senate.

Mr. Nickell suggested that the Senate send a letter of appreciation to the Interim Board. Mr. Kenney said it would be taken care of.

Agenda Item No. 8. Adjournment.

Mr. Wood moved for adjournment, which was seconded. The meeting adjourned at 9:05 p.m. The next meeting is scheduled for March 6, 1972, at 7:00 p.m. in Lawson Hall 201.

Respectfully submitted,

Carolynn Gandolfo Secretary

Sex attacks reported by two SIU coeds

Security Police said Wednesday that two separate incidents of sexual attack have been reported by SIU coeds.

An 18-year-old SIU coed told police she was raped about 12:30 a.m. Wednesday, while walking just south of the Grand Avenue intersection with the Illinois Central Railroad tracks.

The woman said she was walking south along University Avenue when she was grabbed from behind and a handkerchief was inserted in her mouth.

Her assailant warned her to remain silent, then put a wind-breaker jacket over her head and forced her to walk into the grass on the east side of the highway. He pushed her to the ground and raped her, then fled, she said.

The woman described her assailant as white, about 18-20 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall, 145-160 pounds, with blond or brown hair.

Another 18-year-old SIU coed told police she believes she was the object of an attempted rape Sunday.

The woman was hitchhiking near the Walnut Street and University Avenue intersection about 10 p.m. Sunday when she was picked up by a black male, about age 23.

She asked for a ride to her dormitory but, after stopping for gas, the man headed east on Illinois 13. The woman said she made several efforts to escape but was unable to do so because of the car's speed.

She escaped when the car was forced to stop at a stop light in Carverville, she said, and the man continued east on Illinois 13.

The woman did not report the incident until Tuesday, when she said she became aware that it might be connected with other attempted rapes in Carbondale recently.

Polish laws not accepted lawyer says

By Lynda Eichenseer
Student Writer

Polish and American attitudes toward society and law were compared in a lecture Monday by Adam Podgorecki, a University of Warsaw sociologist. The colloquium was cosponsored by the Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections and the sociology department.

Podgorecki said, "Respect for the law in Poland is hard to achieve for many reasons including loss of Polish independence and moral devastation."

Laws were made in Poland but not accepted as there was much arguing among the church, families and the state causing great moral devastation in the country, Podgorecki said.

Podgorecki said, "Appeals to motivations of the people for justice are not enough; there must be change."

Citizens should not give only lip service to their government. They should appreciate laws and be willing to obey them," he said.

About the United States Podgorecki said, "Americans place much value on success. People here are in the instrumental category, they do much work in society and are involved in social organizations."

Americans are fed up with people who follow institutional goals and social expectations. They would much rather follow their own individual goals, he said.

Podgorecki is a lawyer, sociologist and author. His numerous books deal with crime and social engineering. Presently he is teaching at the University of Pennsylvania and is speaking at American colleges.

Student health council to discuss locations of campus health clinics

By Sue Millen
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The Student Health Consumer Council (SHCC) will discuss the possibility of locating a new mini-health service in the Student Center, at its meeting Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the Mackinaw Room of the Student Center.

The proposal is aimed at getting a more centrally located health clinic on-campus. The SHCC has been working on this and transportation proposals since results from a student survey revealed that the location of the Health Service was a major gripe about health care delivery in Carbondale.

George Mace, chairman of the Health Advisory Board (HAB) for the comprehensive health service, said that the possibility of moving or building a new Central Health Service at this time is extremely poor.

During the last HAB meeting the SHCC presented a three-part proposal. The first part of the proposal was passed and the last two parts are being reviewed and studied by HAB.

The transportation proposal included using the Campus Transit to transfer patients from the Minor Care Clinic to the central Health Service; using the Campus Transit for transporting students from one University location to the Health Service for their appointment; and a more permanent plan of establishing a regular transit system through Carbondale to transport Health Service patients.

This proposal and two others made to HAB will also be discussed at the SHCC meeting. Those proposals consisted of getting support by the HAB for redefinition of the employee status of student workers and graduate teaching assistants with regard to receiving coverage under the Illinois State Employees Insurance Plan, and a restructuring of the HAB.

Plans are also being made to meet with legislators in Springfield to discuss the reclassification of state employees for insurance purposes, and the possibility of legal action to be taken. Details of this will be worked out at Thursday's meeting.

Michael Rainy, assistant director of the Department of Health Care Planning in the SIU Medical School, will present the results of a student survey concerning health care delivery in Carbondale.

Anyone interested is invited to attend the SHCC meeting.

Cancelled rally rescheduled

A memorial service for "free speech and academic freedom," scheduled for 12:50 p.m. Wednesday in front of Morris Library, was cancelled because of rainy weather.

A spokeswoman for the Doug Allen Defense Committee, which was to hold the service, said the memorial service has been rescheduled for 12:50 p.m. Friday at the same location.

The memorial service will be one of a series of actions by the committee protesting the SIU Board of Trustees' denial of tenure to Doug Allen, the controversial philosophy instructor and critic of the Center for Vietnamese Studies.

The spokeswoman, who wished to remain anonymous, said Friday's services will be held despite weather conditions.

LA&S council to elect 30 advisers for operating paper

Thirty advisers will be elected to the newly formed Liberal Arts and Sciences Council, between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Thursday, according to Dean Elbert H. Hadley.

Seven faculty members, one graduate student and two undergraduates from each of the major areas, Sciences, Humanities and Social Sciences, will be elected to advise Hadley with a new operating LAS paper. Each department in LAS may have two faculty members and one student representing it in the election.

The new paper will spell out the duties of the deans, the assistant deans and faculty members. Hadley said that duties have been very vague for the past 15 years.

Hadley said that approximately 120 candidates will be voted on in the department office of the voter's academic major. Undeclared majors may vote in the LAS administration office.

It is hoped that the new council will provide for more democracy in the decision-making within the college, Hadley said.

Security Police recover stolen vehicle

An automobile reported stolen during the Monday night basketball game in the Arena was recovered Tuesday apparently undamaged.

The car, a 1962 Chevrolet belonging to Stephen D. Penninger, 24, Carbondale, was found Tuesday evening in the Wilson Hall parking lot, Security Police said Wednesday.

It had been stolen from Campus Drive between 7:20 p.m. and 8:40 p.m. Monday.

The thief probably gained entrance to the car through one of the doors, which cannot be locked. Penninger said his license was the only thing taken from the car.

Campus briefs

Some vacancies still are left on a SIU summer charter flight to Europe, according to the Division of Continuing Education. The $290 round-trip flight leaves St. Louis on June 19 for London, then returns from Paris to St. Louis on Aug. 22. Free bus service from Carbondale to St. Louis, and returning, will be available to participants.

Only students, educational staff and other employees at SIU and their immediate families are eligible for the charter flight privileges. Extension class students may also qualify as SIU members. Interested persons may obtain more details by writing the Division of Continuing Education, SIU, Carbondale, Ill., 62901, or phoning 453-2395.

A newspaper "Workshop on Contents Packaging," presenting case histories of the latest techniques now in use by publishers across the country, will be conducted by the Mid-America Press Institute (MPI) March 17-19 at the Gateway Hotel in St. Louis.

The whole range of new ideas in newspaper design, page and section arrangement, folding and assembly will be covered, according to W. Manion Rice, MPI executive secretary and SIU associate professor of journalism. Workshop fees are $25 a person for member papers of MPI and $35 for non-member paper personnel. Reservations may be made by writing W. Manion Rice, MPI executive secretary, School of Journalism, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, 62901.

Easter contributions sought

Volunteers from Alpha Phi Omega, SIU service fraternity, will solicit contributions on the streets of Carbondale Friday and Saturday for the Easter Seal Society as part of the annual Lily Day effort to assist crippled children and adults.

Lily Day contributions, along with other donations received during the Easter Seal campaign, make a number of services possible for crippled children and adults. Herbert Koepf-Baker, professor in speech pathology, campaign chairman, said.

According to Koepf-Baker, the campaign will help provide funds for equipment for the physically handicapped; physical, speech and hearing therapy; child and parent counseling and specialized services.

The Easter Seal campaign will continue through March 1.

Almost any fact you might want to know about SIU at Carbondale is available in this pocket-size brochure published annually by the Information and Scheduling Center.

"Southern Illinois University Facts 1972" is an official, up-to-date, fact-and-figure file to use for quick reference. It includes a University calendar and information about fees, financial assistance, athletics, budget, size of the campus and other facts about SIU, including the names of the trustees.

The Information and Scheduling Center has had 35,000 of them printed for distribution to anyone and everyone who wants to know about SIU at Carbondale.

Copies of the brochure are available at the Information and Scheduling Center, located in Anthony Hall.

The tuition for somebody's cousin from Toledo? The booklet says it's $143 for five hours or less and $429 for 11 hours or more.

Library extends hours for finals

Morris Library will extend hours to midnight this Friday and Saturday and finals week, March 10-16, according to F.S. Randall, director of Morris Library. During spring break the library will close at 5 p.m. The building will be closed all day March 19, because of a power shutoff.

Meditation expert to speak here

Myron Feld, a traveling lecturer for Student's International Meditation Society, will discuss the mental and physical changes produced by transcendental meditation in a lecture to the faculty and administration of SIU at 3 p.m. Thursday, in Ballroom A at the Student Center.

A graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology in mathematics and philosophy, Feld was trained by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi to be a teacher of transcendental meditation.

Feld will also discuss the influence of meditation in relieving the drug abuse problem and in improving a student's grade point average.

Semifinals begin in I.M. cage tournament

The semifinals of the intramural basketball championship will be held at 9 p.m. Thursday in the SIU Arena. Bonapartes will play the Defectors on Court 2 while Dennis Ochs meets Athsups on Court 3 in the other semifinal contest.

The winners will advance to the finals at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. In Tuesday night quarterfinal action, Bonapartes defeated Free Schneider, 70-48; the Defectors crushed the TPRT's and RF's 55-31; Dennis Ochs edged the Executioners, 57-55 and Athsups won over Rompin Redeyes, 51-47.

At halftime of the IM championship contest on Saturday, Larry Broker and Bill Wolfe will meet in the finals of the free throw tournament.

After three rounds, Broker holds a slight edge on Wolfe, having made 72 out of a possible 75 charity attempts. Wolfe has made 70.

The final round on Saturday will give the two finalists 25 more free throws for a total of 100 tosses in the tournament.

Pitching improves

Spring looks bright for baseball team

By Ernie Schweit
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

In springtime all hopes bloom eternal, or at least that's how the saying goes.

And with warm weather in the offing, SIU baseball coach Richard 'Itchy' Jones has high hopes for making a return trip to the College World Series in Omaha and another shot at the national title.

There are two reasons for Jones' lofty aspirations: most of last year's second-place national team is returning and the pitching staff is improved.

When the Salukis open their season March 18 against Columbus College in Georgia, six of the starting nine players from last year's squad will be on the roster. Missing are outfielders Jim Dwyer and Bob Blakely and pitcher Dick Langdon (12-2), all of whom have signed to play professional ball.

As far as pitching is concerned, Jones feels with the addition of two junior college pitchers plus the year's experience from last year's crop, Southern's mound staff is in excellent shape.

"The hitters and our coaching staff feel potentially we have a better pitching staff than last year," Jones said. "They've got the arms too, and the good stuff now. They must get the most out of what they've got."

"Hinzmann has a good arm with good velocity, plus a good breaking ball," said Jones, "but he's got to work on his control. He's actually got better control than he thinks he has."

"At last week's intersquad game he was throwing away from hitters so in practice we put one man with a bat on each side of the plate."

The idea, Jones said, forced Hinzmann to concentrate more while not being able to throw away from the hitters.

Ware, meanwhile, possesses what Jones called a moving fastball; but has one big problem—he hasn't pitched for two years. While attending Chipola Junior College in Marianna, Fla., he was used as an outfielder. "It will take a while for him to get adjusted. He's got to work on his balance when he comes off the mound and releases," Jones said.

"According to Jones, Ware has another hangup—his conditioning. 'He's just got to get himself in good shape. He has yet to make the adjustment to all the running we do.'"

Apparently that adjustment to major college baseball from junior college is, at best, difficult.

"I don't mean to knock the junior colleges and say our kids are in better shape," Jones said, "but these kids have just got to realize that a sore arm usually means the legs aren't in shape."

With the addition of Ware and Hinzmann to last year's staff, minus Langdon, Jones is planning to use a four man staff on SIU's annual spring trip through the South. But that could change very easily. "We might have to go with a five-man rotation so I can get a good look at all the pitchers," Jones said.

SIU's 1977 schedule follows:
March 18: Columbus College and Austin Peay Ga.; March 19: Columbus College; March 20-25: Miami Tournament at Coral Gables, Fla. (SIU, Michigan State, Ohio State and Miami); March 29: MONMOUTH COLLEGE (2); March 31: MEMPHIS STATE.

April 1: MEMPHIS STATE (2); April 3: MOORHEAD STATE; April 5: MOORHEAD STATE; April 6: AUSTIN PEAY (2); April 11: ILLINOIS; April 15: ST. LOUIS (2); April 16: MACMURRAY (2); April 19: WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY; April 21: INDIANA STATE; April 22: INDIANA STATE; April 23: VANDERBILT (2); April 29: WESTERN KENTUCKY (2); April 30: WESTERN KENTUCKY (2).

May 2: EVANSVILLE; May 5: Illinois State; May 6: Illinois State (2); May 7: Vanderbilt (2); May 12: NORTHERN ILLINOIS; May 13: NORTHERN ILLINOIS (2); May 16: MCKENDREE COLLEGE (2); May 19: Ball State; May 20, Ball State (2).

Games in all capitals denotes home games.

All games begin at 3 p.m. during the week and at 7 p.m. Saturday. Doubleheaders start at 1 p.m.

Swimmers fight overconfidence in conference championships

(Editor's Note: The following is the second in a two part series dealing with the Midwestern Conference swimming meet.)

By Ernie Schweit
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

How do you stop Southern Illinois' swimming team from winning its second straight Midwestern Conference Championship?

That's the question league coaches have been asking themselves all season long and to be honest, the best answer is you don't.

Loop coaches haven't conceded the title yet, but the general feeling is SIU will start fast when the meet opens in Terre Haute Thursday and be out of sight following Saturday's final session.

"We are just going to go out there and do our best," said Indiana State Coach Duane Barrows. "Southern will probably blow the rest of the field out of the water Thursday and just keep going. That's probably just how Ray (SIU coach Essick) wanted it."

That might be true, but the Saluki coach is keenly aware of Barrows' own Sycamore squad coming up and giving SIU all it can handle.

"If a challenger exists," Essick said, "It has to be Indiana State. Since the meet is in their pool we also have the definite danger of walking into the pool and being overconfident."

That's just about what happened when Southern traveled up to Indiana State for a dual meet Feb. 12. It was Southern's final meet of the season and they apparently weren't ready for it.

"That meet was a joke," said SIU breaststroker Dale Korner. "We all went up there and had a hell of a good time but no one swam any good."

Several Salukis weren't in the best of health for the meet but still SIU managed a one point victory, 57-56.

"We didn't feel very excited about that meet," said Barrows. "We realized SIU had three or four of their top guys out of the lineup and Ray was messing around with his lineup. I guess we just caught them in a poor performance."

Essick is hoping the Salukis don't have any more poor performances left in their system. Especially with the glittering set of credentials Southern has going into the contest. Consider the following:

As of Feb. 16, Southern Illinois had 10 of 11 best times in the conference with only Gregg Jeffers from Northern Illinois having the top spot. His time of 22.2 in the 50-yard freestyle places him two tenths of a second in front of SIU's Rick Anderson.

Last season the Salukis took 16 of the meet's 18 events with only Tom Becker of Indiana State and the Sycamore 200-yard medley relay team being able to take other firsts.

All of those 1971 SIU champions are back for the 1972 meet except Vern Dasch, 50-yard freestyle winner, who graduated.

So it appears the only thing that could stop Southern would be, pardon the expression, confidence.

"If Southern comes into this thing not taking it seriously," said Barrows, "it could leave it wide open. But I don't think that will happen."

"Ray would probably hit them (the team) over the head with a club first."

Flu may hurt team

SIU track record at stake

By Ken Stewart
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

If Southern Illinois is to successfully defend its Midwestern Conference indoor track championship this weekend, it must defeat five foes in the Ball State field house.

Joining the four sister schools against the Salukis will be the flu bug which has affected distance men Ken Nalder, Gerry Craig, Carl McPherson and Gerald Hinton.

The worst of the flu virus has already taken its course and all four men are recovering, but coach Lew Hartzog said Tuesday the team "could lose some big points" from its after effects.

Nalder, who didn't run at all last week because of the flu, will compete in the mile and 800-yard runs; events the Salukis are counting on heavily for points.

The flu bug will also have to be licked in the 1,000 with McPherson and Hinton and in the two-mile run with Craig.

That leaves only three healthy

State coed cage tourney here

Southern Illinois women's basketball team will be seeking its third straight title this weekend when the Illinois Intercollegiate State Basketball Tournament opens at SIU 4 p.m. Friday, in the Women's and Pulliam Hall gymnasiums.

Also in the field for the annual event sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association (WRA) are Illinois State, Northern Illinois, Eastern and Western Illinois, University of Illinois; and Olivet, George Williams, Greenville and Quincy colleges.

On the basis of season's records, Northern Illinois is seeded first while Southern Illinois is fifth.

distance men—David Hill, Jack St. John and Al Stanczak.

Hill, who has all but completely recovered from a hip injury sustained four months ago, will defend his conference title in the mile.

The Canadian will be one of five returning SIU titlist when the two day conference meet begins Friday afternoon.

Other defending Saluki champs are Ivory Crockett in the 60-yard dash, Eddie Sutton in the 440-yard dash, Mike Bernard in the high jump and Terry Erickson in the 600-yard dash.

The five champions and good team depth gave Southern 87 points for first place. Northern Illinois was a distant second at 58. Illinois State, Ball State and Indiana State rounded out the meet in that order.

Despite the flu tinkering with the distance men, the Salukis will enter the meet favored in 10 of the meet's 17 events, this on the basis on best performances so far this season.

In the 60-yard dash, SIU has the top three best times with the efforts of Crockett (6.0), Eddie Sutton (6.2) and freshman Gerald Smith (6.2).

Saluki supremacy in the 60 was further enhanced when Illinois State's Billy Lewis (6.1) was ruled academically ineligible this term.

With all that, Hartzog isn't calling the 60 a shoo-in.

"Ivory will have to run well but he should take it," said Hartzog who added that Crockett could be passed by teammates Stanley Patterson and Smith or by an excellent sprinter from Indiana State, Grant Jones (6.2).

Sutton will also be "hard pressed" to retain his championship in the 440, according to Hartzog. "But I can't see anybody beating Erickson in the 600."

Sutton (49.7) will get a stiff challenge from Illinois State's Bruce Jiriglio (48.9).

Besides the sprints, SIU is strong in the high jump—Bernard (6-9), and Bill Hancock (6-10)—but Bernard may have to clear seven feet to retain his title because Indiana State has a 6-10 plus jumper named Steve Cooksey.

Hartzog expects to score good points in the 440 and 600 and is "well off" in the long and triple jump.

"I don't think there will be many events we will get shut out of with the exception of the shot put," he said.

Host Ball State and Indiana State are the top threats in the meet, Hartzog said. Ball State is most dangerous because it is most familiar with its track and is strong in the long and high jump, 880, 1,000, mile and two mile.

"The Salukis will go to Muncie 'mentally up,'" said Hartzog. "The week's rest (there was no meet last weekend) did us a lot of good." He was also very pleased with the recent spell of unseasonably warm weather which is very conducive to good outdoor practices.

Garrett keys near upset of Evansville

By Mike Klein
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

Southern Illinois delivered its third consecutive outstanding performance, but it wasn't enough Wednesday night as college division national champion Evansville University outlasted the Salukis 113-105 in the SIU Arena.

Just five nights ago, the Salukis almost topped Midwestern Conference winner Northern Illinois. Then Monday night, SIU scored 61 second half points while defeating the University of South Florida.

But this season's home finale had a little bit of both previous contests plus more—even John "Mouse" Garrett fouling out twice.

The push-and-shove rematch of Evansville's earlier win featured 61 fouls with six men leaving the game via that route. Evansville's point total was the most ever by a Saluki opponent in the Arena, and highest all-time against SIU.

"Mouse" Garrett's 31 points was his collegiate high as Greg Starrick (22) fouled out for the first time since high school. Garrett had eight field goals, 15 free throws. Starrick left the game with nine seconds remaining.

Not at all lost among the records, great individual efforts and kindergarten-quality officiating was a superb basketball game. At halftime, Evansville led 59-54, nearly equalling the total of the Purple Aces 74-67 victory over SIU six weeks ago.

Southern Illinois, now 10-14 and unable to avoid a losing season with two games remaining, trailed Evansville 101-83 with four minutes on the clock.

After a basket by visitor Don Buse and one by SIU's Eddie James, hard foul trouble enveloped the Salukis. First James, then Garrett and finally reserve forward Don Portugal departed during a two-minute span.

Garrett came within a whisker—and great many flying paper cups—of leaving midway through the second half of his greatest college game.

It was at 9:18 that "Mouse" banged into Evansville's Buse. At the time, Southern Illinois trailed 93-76 and little was going as planned.

The overhead scoreboard and official book-keeper agreed it was Garrett's fifth personal. Evansville coach Arad McCutchan didn't complain otherwise.

But Garrett, then with 20 points, was awfully slow leaving the court as most of the 5,800 onlookers shouted, "Four, four, four." Another check revealed just four miscues and Garrett returned to a standing ovation.

Asked whether officials gave SIU a fair shake at the game, Garrett said, "I don't know. It seems like we're always playing on the road." The Salukis were whistled 33 times. Evansville 28.

Garrett's 31 led all scorers, trailed by Evansville's Steve "Whale" Welmer (29) and Buse (27).

Nate Hawthorne (22) tied Starrick and led all rebounders with 17 as the Salukis enjoyed a rare boards advantage, 46-44. Eddie James (13) was the only other Saluki in double scoring figures.

The Aces, now 21-5 and inactive until the NCAA March 9-10 regional on their home court, had Rick Coffey (17) and Irvin Graves (10) in double figures.

The opening 20 minutes was foul-plagued with 30 miscues called, 16 on Southern Illinois.

James, Garrett, John Marker and Portugal had three fouls apiece before halftime. Evansville's Greg Martin, Curt John and Graves were saddled with the same problem.

Probably most destructive to the Salukis was Garrett's early trio that forced him to the bench for eight minutes.

Garrett's third foul came at 16:31 when he bumped John after bringing the ball across the mid-court. Evansville led at the time, 12-8, and upped the margin 14 seconds later when Welmer put in a short rebound effort.

Garrett left the game at 15:50. But replacement Marker was saddled with two fouls his first 70 seconds on the floor.

With both in trouble, coach Paul Lambert briefly used a one-guard offense at the 12-minute mark before halftime. James, who started his fifth Saluki game, replaced Marker as the Salukis utilized three forwards until Garrett's return about four minutes later.

Despite foul trouble, Garrett led all scorers except Welmer with 16 points during the hurry-up first half. Welmer had 17.

One of six Saluki seniors making a final Arena appearance, Garrett did his scoring work from most anywhere. His two free throws at 19:15 opened the game's prolific point production. Twenty-five seconds later, Garrett provided SIU's last lead, 4-2, with a long jumper.

After that basket, the Aces sprinted to a series of three to seven-point leads, interrupted by four Saluki ties, the last 38-38 with 7:39 before half.

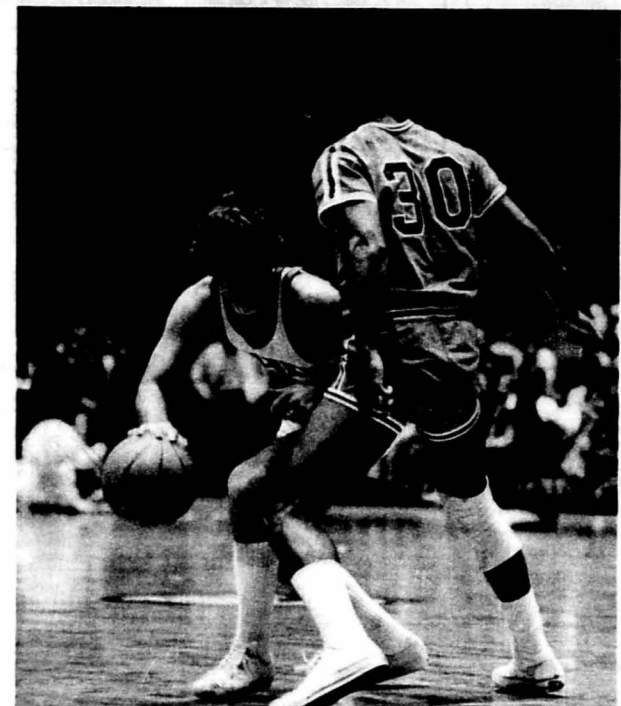

Evansville's largest margin was seven points during the first half and 18 points three times afterwards. But their first spread of any consequence was a 10-4 bulge at 17:07.

For the night, SIU shot 47.9 and Evansville 51.4. The Salukis shot 56.7 before intermission.

SIU scoring: Garrett 31, Starrick 22, Hawthorne 22, James 13, Brooks 6, Perkins 6, Marker 5.
Top rebounders: Hawthorne 17, Perkins 7.
Purple Aces scoring: Welmer 29, Buse 27, Coffey 17, Graves 10, Martin 9, Conrad 8, John 7, Skinner 4, Meyerrose 2.
Top rebounders: Welmer 8, Buse 8.

Freshmen deck Aces, 85-70

The Saluki basketball freshmen ended their season on a high note Wednesday night, defeating the Evansville Purple Aces, 85-70.

Like most SIU-Evansville games, the affair was close most of the way. The game was tied, 38-38, at halftime following a see-saw battle in the first period.

Evansville opened up a eight-point lead in the early minutes of the second half but the Salukis took advantage of key turnovers and tied the game, 53-53, on a Joe Meriweather layup with 12:54 to go.

Tim Ricci, possibly one of the best outside shooters in the Midwest, put the Salukis ahead (55-53) with a shot from the side. Evansville's Roger Duncan then tied the game again in the next play. It was never tied again as the Salukis pumped in seven straight points to lead, 62-55.

The situation for the Aces continued to deteriorate as Southern jumped to a 67-57 advantage in a quick scoring spurt then to 79-64 as the game neared its end.

The game was close on the charts as well as on the floor. The Salukis outrebounded the Aces, 41-38, and had a slightly better shooting percentage, 47 to 46 per cent.

The Salukis had three 20 point men: Meriweather (25), Rickey Boynton (21), and Ricci (20). There was one other SIU player in double figures—A.J. Willis with 10.

Duncan was the game's leading scorer, putting in 29 points for the Aces. The SIU defense put a monkey wrench in the opponents offensive drive by holding the starting five—excluding Duncan—to 11, seven, five and one points.

The Ace's bench contributed 16 points.

The Salukis finished the season at 7-6 with all the victories and just one defeat occurring on the Arena court.

SIU scoring: Meriweather 25, Boynton 20, Ricci 20, Willis 10, Gower 7, Chinn 2.
Evansville scoring: Duncan 29, Mendenhall 11, Traflet 7, Hughes 6, Donahue 5, Lavignette 4, Oliver 4, Sike 3, Helfrich 1.

NIU wins title

Northern Illinois clinched its first Midwestern Conference basketball championship and all but threw itself into the National Invitational Tournament in March by defeating Indiana State, 94-90, Wednesday night.

The Huskies finished their regular season with a 21-4 mark overall and 7-1 in the conference.

The DeKalb school had not received a NIT bid by Wednesday afternoon, an NIU official said, but one was expected on Thursday.

Marquette, St. Johns receive bids to post-season basketball tourneys

Fifth ranked Marquette, 23-1, joined eight other university division teams Wednesday in accepting at-large berths for regional playoffs in the NCAA basketball championships.

Meanwhile, four-time National Invitational Tournament champion St. John's University of New York was among five independent basketball powers to accept bids for the 21st annual NIT at Madison Square Garden.

Rounding out the nine of 25 NCAA starting spots to be filled by at-large entrants are South Carolina, 20-4 and ranked eighth in the nation; No. 9 Marshall, 23-1; No. 10 Florida State, 23-4; No. 11 Southwestern Louisiana, 23-3; No. 13 Houston, 19-6; No. 15 Hawaii, 24-2; Providence 17-5 and Villanova 18-6.

Southwestern Louisiana and Marshall will square off in the first round of the Midwest regional at New Mexico State, Las Cruces, N.M.

The only other at-large team knowing its first-round opponent is Hawaii, which meets Big Sky Conference champion Weber State in the West regional at Idaho State in Pocatello.

The first round begins March 11 with regional championships March 16-18 and finals at Los Angeles, March 23-25.

Joining the St. John's Redmen, already holders of the record for most NIT appearances and titles, were Fordham, Syracuse, Niagara and newcomer Jacksonville, Fla., Ben Carnevale, president of the NIT Selection Committee, announced.

And the field for the remaining 11 teams in the March 17-25 tourney is still wide open.

The NIT said Wednesday it hopes to get some of the following teams:

—Two from the Atlantic Coast Conference, including Maryland, Virginia and defending NIT champion North Carolina.

—Kentucky, Tennessee or Alabama from the Southeastern Conference.

—Louisville or Memphis State from the Missouri Valley Conference.

—Michigan, Minnesota or Ohio State from the Big Ten.

—Temple, St. Joseph's or Lafayette from the Mid-Atlantic Conference.

—Davidson from the Southern Conference.

—Princeton from the Ivy League.

—Oral Roberts, Duquesne and New Mexico from among the independent colleges.

St. John's led by 6-5 Mel Davis and coached by Frank Mulzoff, is 17-8 with one game remaining. The Redmen captured the NIT crown in 1943, 1944, 1959 and 1965.

Fordham is making its eighth NIT appearance. Dr. Hal Wissel's Rams, 16-6 with two games to go, are paced by 6-3 junior guard Ken Charles' 20-point average.

Roy Danforth's Orangemen from Syracuse, with five previous NIT showings, feature one of the nation's finest shooting guards, 6-1 senior Greg Kohls with a 27.2 average. The team is 19-5 with two games remaining.

Niagara, 18-6, will be making its eighth bid for an NIT title.

Jacksonville is making its debut in the NIT and is 17-6 with one game left.
