New Student Union Depends On Election

Will students of Southern Illinois University have a new Student Union?
The answer to this question will be half-determined Tuesday, May 15, when SIU students go to the polls to decide on the issue. Should the referendum be passed, the Board of Trustees for final approval.

At least three voting booths will be set up on campus. They will probably be located in front of Old Main, at the "present" Student Union and behind the new library.

Ceramists Win In 3 Exhibits

Ceramicist F. C. Ball, associate professor of art, and three SIU graduate students have recently won prizes and received impressive recognition at three of the country's leading decorative arts and ceramics exhibits.

Ball and the SIU potters placed 23 entries at the Fourth Annual Miami National Ceramics Exhibition and the Decorative Arts and Ceramics Exhibit at Wichita, Kan. They also are displaying pottery at the Midwest Designer-Craftsmen's Third Annual Exhibition held at the Latin School of Art Gallery in Milwaukee, Wis.

Juniors May Order Rings

According to Mrs. Estelle Dunham, book order clerk, juniors can begin ordering their class rings today.

The oval-shaped rings are available in three different stones: ruby, black onyx or blue sapphire. The stones are set in yellow gold with the words Southern Illinois University-1869 engraved around the stones.

Kwanis Clubs Sponsor Clinic

There will be a "Be a Teacher" clinic in Shrock Auditorium for high school students at 10 a. m. May 14, according to Mary E. Entminger, associate professor of education.

The meeting will be a symposium of students," said Miss Entminger, who has been selected because of her interest in various fields and levels.

Inter-Greek Council Plans Rally To Name Candidates

The Inter-Greek Council is planning to have a rally Monday evening to push a candidate for the coming elections.
At Tuesday night's meeting Dale Furwengler, president, suggested that the council have a political rally with all the students from the houses present at Shry Auditorium at 6:30 p. m.

He suggested that the nominations from the various groups be made from the floor.

Librarians Book Inventory

Librarians' staff members have completed an inventory of the entire book collection using the catalog, purchase, and charge records. The lists of missing books are now being checked to see what books will be reordered.

After checking all the lists, the cards will be withdrawn on books that can't be replaced or are not needed.

High School Musicians Enter State Contest At U. School

High school musicians, over 1,000 of them, will do the SIU cup today and tomorrow for the class "B" state music contest finals.

University High School will host this two-day contest, which will feature musicians and band groups from 60 high schools in the 226-590 enrollment bracket ranging from Bantout to the southern tip of Illinois. Contest finals will be held in the North Hall at 4 p. m. Sunday or leave word at the Foundation," the Rev. Don Johnson, director, said.

Acacia Colony Has First Formal Function

The newly formed Acacia fraternity celebrated its first major social function Friday with a banquet and formal dance at the Gold Room in Herrin.

Professor Kent Hawley, assistant dean of men, was the speaker for the evening. Immediately following the banquet, the members and their dates were introduced.

ISA Decides To Reorganize

A new re-organization plan, containing the proposed platform of ISA for 1956-57, has been accepted unanimously by the members of the organization.

This plan was presented by ISA President Gene Flore at a meeting last Monday evening in the Life Science Auditorium. The new plan will now be presented to the Office of Student Affairs for approval before any further action will be taken by the ISA.

Weekend Activities Are Underway For Campus 'Parisian Holiday'

"Club Moulin Rouge" tomorrow night will play some songs from the musical, some fast, some "rock 'n' roll" or "just the way you like them."
The big formal dance of the Parisian Holiday will be held in the Carbondale Armory from 9:30 p. m. to 12:30 a. m. Tickets are now on sale in Old Main and the Student Union for $2 per couple. They will hang above the steps of the Armory. Couples entering the dance will be greeted by cardboard waiters holding blue champagne, flower cards, and a host of cheerful attendants.

Proceeding the dance, Hal and his band will give a concert, "Symphonie du Printemps" (Symphony of Spring), in Shrock Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Tickets are $6.00 per person and may be purchased at the door or at any ticket booth.

Featured with his band, he has vocalists Jeanne McManus and the vocal group the McIntosts.

Hal started his band in 1941 on the advice of Glenn Miller for whom he played for three years. His first hit record, "Commando Serenade" led up to "Sentimental Journey" which became the nation's number one tune during the war.

Copies of the original sheet music recordings are "Lover Come Back to Me," "Funny Valentine" and "One Morning in May."

McIntyre has the distinction of playing for the late Pres. Franklin D. Roosevelt's Birthday Ball, being the first person hired by Glenn Miller, playing for troops overseas at the front, doing engagements in large libraries because of the time and expense involved, but in an open shell collection such as SIU's.

He is a voracious reader. In reading the shelves, the library staff members check the position of books by number to make sure they are in the right place.

Dance Decorations Are All French

A canopy designed by Stuart Orterle, copied from a picture of the original Moulin Rouge, will hang above the steps of the Armory. Couples entering the dance will be greeted by cardboard waiters holding blue champagne, flower cards, and a host of cheerful attendants.

The presence of a 30-foot Eiffel Tower promises to provide the ideal atmosphere for the dance. A red spotlight, attached to this tower which was built by Jerry Nolls, will circle the entire dance floor.

When the "Le Coc" (the red cock) crows, it will be time for all night-buffers to get together for a hot breakfast in the "Cafe de Paris."
The cock, a French symbol of early morning life, will crow at midnight and stop crowing at 1:30 a. m. as all the tired French night owls call it a day.

Each table in the University Cafeteria will be covered with a red and white checkered tablecloth and have a candle on it. Soft music by the Egyptian Melody Men will add to the air of ease and refreshment.

French waiters, attired in white coats and dark trousers, will pick up their little white towels and put them over their arms when they take your orders.

Reservations for groups may be arranged at one of the ticket booths in Old Main, Student Union or at the dance. Tickets are on sale now for 75 cents each.

What's In It?

You're not to be blamed for not wanting to approve the proposed student union fee increase without first having some idea of what's to be in the new building.

The present union offers only facilities because of an obvious reason. They have only limited space. The new building will have space equal to five times that in Parkinson Laboratory.

Facilities to be provided for, among other things, are: bowling alley, banquet areas, snack bar for dining and dancing, ballroom (which can be divided to hold several parties at the same time), book store, lounge areas, recreation areas, and conference areas for all organizations.

Of course, all these things are cafeteria makes the whole thing worthwhile. The present eating establishment is crowded and unattractive. The new union would provide a decent place to eat a meal.

And space. Wouldn't it be nice to walk into the union at 10 in the morning and find a place to sit down.

For a comparison between the new union and the present building take a peak at the accompanying pictures.

Again the question is raised, don't you think it's worth a "yes" vote May 15.

Night Classes vs. Students

What did you come to college for? An education is the usual answer. What kind of an education? Purely academic or academic and social? Did you come here to become a brain or to become an educated, well-rounded personality?

Most students came here to learn about both books and people. I'm learning. But what about what's here comes the pitch? What about the poor student who has all his classes at night and on Saturday.

Social life is an important part of school to a lot of us, but with the new sectioning center, many students are finding their fall schedules clogged with night classes and Saturday classes. How do these students get to attend any social functions on campus.

This is brought up because several students have bitterly said to this editor, they resented the rule-book-like style they are put into sections of classes at time they don't want in.

The new system gives students either A, B or C schedules. The majority of students fit into the C category and because of this are subject to classes anywhere from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday thru Saturday.

It is realized that this move is necessary because of the growing pains of the University and the over-worked faculty. But to stick students in both night classes and Saturday classes seems to be infringing on their rights, especially when they have nothing to say about when they would rather have their classes.

How about a happy medium over there at the Sectioning Center? How about giving students a break somewhere during the week? And how about being a little nicer about it?

—J. I. Thatcher

Debaters Win 178, Lose 78

The 1955-56 debate season marked the best season in SIU's history. Under debate coach Walter Murrish, the entire SIU debate squad posted 178 wins against 78 losses for a 71 per cent winning mark.

This season the debaters participated in 17 tournaments. Last year the debate squad posted 113 wins and 53 defeats.

Three of the debaters went undefeated three times. They were John Schumann, Dorothy Beck and Pat Dwyer. Miss Beck won 42 debates, and dropped only 13. Joe Selement and Richard Rieck captured three apiece. Dickel was also top speaker three times.

During the season SIU took part in tournaments at championships at Illinois Normal, Greenville College, the University of Denver, and the Pi Kappa Delta Provincial Tournament. Second place trophies were taken at Purdue University, the University of Arkansas, and the women's division of the state tournament.

Southern placed third at the Northwest Tournament at St. Paul, Minn., and in the national AFROTC meet at the University of Pittsburg.

TV Survey Tabulates Listener Appeal

The SIU Radio-TV Department has completed a listening survey conducted throughout the 31 most southern counties. The survey began during the spring vacation and was under the direction of Burt C. Robbins, supervisor of the Radio-TV service.

Some 78 students participated in the survey. Interviewing was done by the students who lived in the particular counties. Students gave the people a booklet containing various programs. The interview consisted of two days of radio and television listening. The interviewers would mark what programs they liked the most.

Results are now being tabulated by the SIU Statistical Service. Final results will not be completed until the first of June. The results will be used by the department in programing shows that the people want and like. They will also be used by Area Services to air the types of programs that people enjoy.

Britisher Talks Monday On American Politics

"A British View of American Politics"—that's the title of a talk being given at 8 p.m. Monday in the Library Auditorium. Dr. D. W. Brogan, the speaker, is a historian, and a visiting professor at the University of Illinois.

This is the annual lecture sponsored by Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science fraternity.

Washington, the U. S. capital, has five million visitors a year.

It is 2,300 miles from Gibraltar to the Suez canal.

Students From 24 Countries Attend SIU

By Gary Heape
It's a big, wide, wonderful world here at SIU.
Students from 24 States (excluding Illinois) and 24 foreign countries are in attendance here at Southern.

The out-of-staters have many different reasons for coming here. Many of them come because of the economic standpoint and others because of the academic standing.
But, the people who really deserve a pat on the back are the foreign students.

Did you ever think of what it would be like to go to a strange country where the mores and customs were completely different from your usual environment?

The 64 foreign students who attend SIU come from 24 different countries. Twenty-four environments thrown together into one completely "different" environment can present problems.

One of the most common problems the foreign students face is language.

"Yes, we have many problems," said Rolf Hoegel graduate Full-bright student from Germany. "My biggest problem was pronunciation."

"I think all foreign students are having here though," said Hoegel.

have problems with the slang expressions," said Eugenio Araya, from Chile. "Even the instructors are guilty of using terms we do not understand."

"I think the instructors should realize that when there are foreign students in the class they deserve some consideration," says Araya.

"My main trouble was the heat," said Gabriel Savignan, Full-bright student from France. "I had to get up two or three times a night to take a cold shower so I could sleep."

The foreign students also had some trouble getting to know the native students.

"The American students don't try to comprehend the position of the foreign student," said Savignan. "We get an aloofness from them. They give us no feeling of belonging."

"But sometimes I meet the helpful kind," said Douglas Yuan, from Formosa. "This is really a great help. It makes me feel at home."

The foreign students had various reasons for coming to SIU, some had no choice and some had a choice.

"We certainly don't regret coming here though," said Hoegel.

Farming Jobs Offered Students For Summer

How would you like to become a farmer for the summer? A representative from the Oconomowoc Canning Company will be on campus May 24 to talk to all individuals or groups interested in working on a Wisconsin farm this summer.

The Oconomowoc Canning Company will be able to use SIU students from the middle of June to September.

General vegetable farming is the type of work students are needed for. Work will be provided in one of the several Oconomowoc Canning Company farms in Wisconsin. They will pay for the transportation of the worker to and from the farm.

Workers will live in barracks and eat in a cafeteria similar to those used by the Army.

All workers must be 18 years of age or older. If under 21, they must submit a certificate of age.

If you are interested in farm work for this summer contact the Student Employment Service as soon as possible.

Rusty Gun Guards Student Union

Each Phi Tau pledge took his turn this week standing at attention with an original rusty Davy Crockett gun in front of the Student Union.

The pledges are guarding the Student Union from raids of some sort this week—perhaps bubble gum raids—but wherever it is they won't let up on the guard.

George Horvat, freshman from East St. Louis, on guard in his ROTC uniform Tuesday noon said, "I'm not supposed to smile or talk. Just stand here at attention." "When you gonna start fighting? Where's the war?" asked Maj. Russell Oakes, assistant professor of air science, as he kiddingly said. "We should give him 60 demerits for having a rusty gun."

Maj. Melvin Self, instructor of air science, asked George, "Where's the red ribbon for the gun?"

The British Cold Cream despite the distractions offered by "Sugar" Beninati. The Guards had nothing on Gene Palisch Phi Kappa Tau pledge, as hesteadfastly kept his post admitted, eh.

Southern Acres Open House To Be Sunday

The men's Residence Hall at Southern Acres will be open to the public Sunday from 4-6 p. m. Refreshments will be served in the picnic area to the north of the hall from 6-7 p. m.

The decorative theme for the open house will be the four corners of the United States with each of the four floors being decorated to represent one of the sections of the country.

Bus service will be provided from main campus with buses leaving Anthony Hall Parking lot at 3:30, 4:30 and 5:30 in the afternoon.

If weather permits, refreshments will be prepared on the barbecue pit which was just completed this week. Bob Dimmitt and Dick Lutz have been working to have the pit completed in time for the open house. Lutz is chairman of the open house committee.

Handling arrangements for the refreshments is Harry Rubin.

A plaque will be awarded to the shell with the best and most original decorations.

This open house is the final schedule event of Spring Festival.

Chemistry Majors Tour Industries

Twenty-one chemistry majors went on an industrial field trip to the East St. Louis industrial area April 27 and 28.

The purpose of the trip was to show the students the practical workings of chemistry in the industrial field.

Alcoa Chemical works, Granite City Steel Co., American Zinc, Monsanto industrial plant and Dowell Chemical works were the places visited by the group.

The student affiliation of the American Chemical Society sponsored the trip.

Noaman Owens, senior and president of the student chapter of the American Chemical Society, was in charge of arrangements for the trip.

Student Conducts Poll On Polio Vaccine

One hundred Carbondale families were polled by telephone recently to find their opinions of the safety and value of the Salk polio vaccine.

The poll was conducted by student, Lindell Martie, as a part of a health education course. Martie is an Elkhaville sophomore, is a business and industry student.

Of the families questioned, 55 had children and 45 did not. All of those families with children agreed that the vaccine was worthwhile, and only two of the childless families were doubtful of the vaccine's value.

Ignorance Shows Up In Health Service Poll

What is the average student's knowledge of the public health facilities available for a community?

An interview poll conducted among a small number of SIU students by Roger McClain in connection with a health education program revealed that although 90 per cent of the students interviewed said they knew what a health department was, only 50 per cent knew whether or not their county had such a department.

About half of those interviewed said they had used some of the services such as immunization and X-ray provided by a health department.

Mammoth Cave Trip Changed to May 12 and 14

The Geography Mammoth Cave field trip will be taken on May 13-14, instead of May 11-12 as was originally announced.

It has been changed, according to Dr. Dallas A. Price, associate professor of geography, because bus transportation could not be secured for the 11th and 12th.

Anyone interested in making the trip should contact Dr. Price.

20 Coeds To Try For 'Miss Southern'

On the head of one of these Southern Bibles will be placed a rhinestone crown bearing the lifelong title of "Miss Southern" of 1956 by Mrs. Gene Richards (formerly Nancy Bowers), last year's Miss Southern.

Mrs. Richards, now residing in Columbus, Ohio where her husband is working on his master's degree, will present the 1956 Miss Southern with a dozen and a half red roses, "sponsored" by Phi Kappa Tau, was at the time a senior and a registered nurse majoring in health education.

The "Miss Southern" contest will be held on the Wood Hall patio Saturday at 1:30 p. m. Chairs for the audience will be set up on the grass facing Woody Hall.

During intermission, Jo Ann McIntire and Phil Falcon will sing. The Egyptian Melody Men will furnish the musical background for the parading "Maid-moiselles de Paris."

At the formal dance, Miss Southern will walk the floor, the dance floor, under the 30-foot tall Eiffel Tower and onto the stage where President Delye W. Morris will hand her a gold loving cup. The four other finalists will then follow her to the stage.

Which one of these 20 ladies picture it will be depends on the Tired Feet! Baggy Eyes!

Ad Students Enjoy Full Week In St. Louis

Tired feet and baggy eyes that saw plenty could describe the three people from S.I.U. that attended the eleventh annual Advertising Club's "College Awards Week" meeting held in St. Louis.

Attending the meeting from April 23-27 were Kathy Hooker, Don Hargus and Dr. Donald Hileman, associate professor of journalism. They spent a full week hobnobbing with advertising brass.

Fourteen outstanding advertising majors from seven midwestern colleges were guests of the Advertising Club. "This was a fine opportunity for these students to meet the top talent and management people in advertising in St. Louis," said Hileman. "Approximately one hundred of these men were met by the students."

Loaded with things to do, the schedule was worked out to the minute. All students got a chance to see advertising in action.

Tour Radio Stations

Condensed and compact, the week was a short course in advertising. The places visited gave a view of the wide range in advertising. Tours of radio and television stations, such as KNOK and KWKV-TV, were also taken. The group made several appearances on radio and television.

Modern Dance Club Stages Variety Show

A one-hour concert featuring dances from America and United States origin will be given by the Modern Dance Club Thursday, May 17, in Shroyck Auditorium. Jean Stehr, women's physical education instructor, is director of the program.

Religious and cowboy dances, solos, duets and group numbers will also be included in the concert. The public is invited to attend and there will be no admission charge.
