BEALS PRESENTS LECTURE ON LATIN AMERICA

Author Speaks to Students Concerning Coming Struggle

Carlton Beals, in his lecture in Shryock Auditorium on "The Coming Struggle for Latin America," last night, asked if we knew that German economic missions determine the financial affairs of Peru.

Based upon facts which are outlined first hand, Carlton Beals said the situation, and he sought to point to the findings of his years of research and living in the South American republics. He brought the calmly analytical mind of the author, with the alertness of the newspaperman. Step by step he took his audience from point to point in this reply of his to the question, "Who will dominate in South America, democracy, or the totalitarian states?"

Mr. Beals was not content with surface observation. He was concerned with internal workings of politics in the countries. It is the result of this research which he brought to his lecture, "The Coming Struggle for Latin America." He spoke as one who has made a study of the potential economic wealth of these countries.

Mr. Beals is considered to be probably the best-informed living writer on Latin America. He has written three Mexican revolutions and three religious revolts there; he crossed the jungles of Honduras and Nicaragua to interview the rebel general, Serrano, and crossed the Andes three times to the highlanders of the Amazon. He is familiar with the life of Cuba and Mexico.

Mr. Beals has known most of the rulers of Mexico during the last fifteen years, and those of many other Latin American countries, as well as those of Europe.

Southern Illinois Incorporated Plans For Growth Of Local Industries

Just last week, the work of a group organized in 1937 by Dr. J. P. Gilbert began to take shape. Dr. Gilbert was head of the biology department of the college.

This group, called Southern Illinois Incorporated, is the outgrowth of Mr. Gilbert's original plan, and its extension due to the efforts of Southwestern, Lyette G. Herin, an alumnus of Southern. Quite recently Mr. Lyette got the idea that something ought to be done to bring industries into Southern Illinois to utilize the resources made available by the extension of the new Chicago and North Western line through the area, and the resultant lake that will form behind the dam.

The first result of this idea was a meeting last Monday night, October 26, in Havana, where representatives of several of the larger towns in this locality met to discuss the formation of an organization to bring industry into Illinois to the level of prosperity it once enjoyed. Much of the business of organization was taken care of at this meeting and it is hoped that definite results of their efforts will be soon evident in the very near future.

Group Adopts Platform.

Southern Illinois Incorporated adopted a tentative four-point platform upon which its efforts are to be based. It is as follows:

1. Preserve present industries.
2. Develop new industries.
3. MARK S. I. N. A. STATE UNIVERSITY.
4. To advertise Southern Illinois, as a unit.

McAndrew is Vice-President.

Those towns represented at the last meeting were: Havana, Havana, North, Boston, West Frankfort, Anna, Johnston City, and Carbondale. It was decided that each town should have an executive vice-president as well as be represented on the general committee. Captain William McAndrew, head of the State physical education department, was chosen vice-president for Carbondale. Also representing Carbondale on the committee are Messrs. Roscoe Toy-

CONFERENCE ON SOCIAL WELFARE CONVENES HERE

Mrs. Chandler Is Featured Speaker of Regional Meeting

The regional meeting of the Illinois Conference on Social Welfare opened here last Tuesday morning with registration of attendants in the old science building. Mrs. Augusta Johnson, who discussed "Mental Hygiene" was the first lecturer on the program. She is a psychologist at the Institute for Juvenile Research in Chicago. She has been connected with this Institute for ten years and has made special studies at Geneva school for girls as well as carrying on her work in connection with the traveling clinics.

Mrs. Henry P. Chandler, executive secretary of the Illinois Conference on Social Welfare, who was also here for the meeting, has been interested in St. Charles since 1920, when she made a study of parole violators there. This study was used by the Committee on Child Welfare legislation of 1921 in support of an amendment, adopted in 1923, which permitted boarding-house care for selected St. Charles boys. She has been, since 1932, the secretary of the St. Charles Advisory Board and since 1934, secretary of the Placement Commission advising on placement in foster homes. Her second great interest has been support of the merit system in state civil service.

Mrs. Chandler is the author of "Spots 'n' Merit in the State Department of Welfare." Since its publication, she has had the gratification of seeing many of the weaknesses pointed out in that pamphlet remedied. Mrs. Chandler has been secretary of the Illinois Conference on Social Welfare since 1933 and was in charge of the fourth annual American Student Union as a part of the organization's educational program.

Miss Julia M. Barlow, one of the faculty sponsors of the American Student Union and a member of the English department, who has had in charge of the film in the schools of Clinton, will make a four-day trip to Carbondale before the film is screened.

There will be an address in charge of fifteen cents to cover the expense. Tickets may be purchased by the campus students who are selling them, or at the door on Monday evening.

PRESIDENT TALKS TO AMERICAN STUDENT UNION

President Rascoe Pulliam spoke to the American Student Union Monday on "Some Techniques of Reform." He emphasized the fact that no student can teach him anything. He is to reform them. One of the main principles in education, he said, is to approach the individual with your problem and at the same time put a question on his toes. In other words you should not make a person angry if you want to teach him anything.

During the course of the evening the subject of whether or not the American Student Union is a Communist organization was brought up. Since most students might be misinformed about the A. S. U. let them take notice of this statement: The Local Chapter of the American Student Union is not a Communist Chapter, neither does it have any Communists in it.

Sigma Pi Rho Holds Seminar at Meeting

COLLEGE'S NEW AERONAUTICS COURSE BEGINS TO TAKE FORM

By HARRY TICHENOR.

With the arrival of the demonstration plane the college's new Civil Aeronautics course at last has taken on a tangible form.

The plane, a Curtiss attack bomber, while not new embodies practically all the most modern features for safe flying. It is a two-seated, low-wing monoplane, powered by a single Curtiss "Conquestor" V-12 motor, and located in the wings. The latter are under the control of the pilot who sits in the front seat, while the observer-bomber sitting in the rear seat is charged with the duty of defending the plane from attacks from the rear and sides and with the business of dropping the bombs for its use here, however, the plane will have none of its armament mounted and its use will not be restricted.

At the present time the plane looks as though it had met with an accident, because of the fact that its wings are not as yet mounted. There has been a delay in assembling the "Cello Gavello" Daniel, Mr. Woodell Margrove.

String Bass: Verius Casper, Gilbert Howe

Flutes: Irene Dillow, Jeannette Dillie.

Clarinets: Geraldine Osterholt, Anne Hershey.

Oboe: Harold Parks.

The commentator will be Miss Eva Jane Milligan assisted by Miss Dorothy B. Magnus.

Students will be admitted by activity tickets. The cost for others will be 25 cents.

The concert version of the opera is growing very popular throughout the country. Many Wagnerian operas have been performed in this style, which is considered the modern way.

Dr. Joseph Van Riper Does Some Notable Work at University of Michigan

By POLLY SWEET.

Dr. Joseph Van Riper, new geography instructor at the University of Michigan, has been working with graduate students at the University of Michigan this summer in geographic field projects which involved the mapping of cover, soil, and land types. The base for field operations was Wilderness State Park, eleven miles west of Maclelland City, Michigan. Most of the work was limited to Emmet county.

department, University of Michigan, and Mr. F. W. Foster, instructor in geography of Michigan State Teachers' College in East Lansing, Mich. During the summer and this term, Dr. Van Riper has been preparing his thesis dissertation for publication. The thesis is entitled "Some Geographic Aspects of the Rural Zoning Problems in Marquette County, Michigan." This involves a careful study of the effect of physical, cultural, and economic factors in limiting rural land use within Marquette county. The county is of interest mainly because of the fact that it was the first in Michigan to be zoned for rural land use.

The new geography instructor received his A. B. degree from M. T. in 1935. He did graduate work at Syracuse, where he obtained his master's. He has been instructor at Colgate University and at Maryville State Teachers' College, Maryville, Mo. He also did research work for the N. Y. State Planning Board in Albany. For the past two years Dr. Van Riper has been working on his Ph. D. at Michigan University.

Mrs. H. P. Chandler Speaks Before Regional Meeting of Social Welfare Conference

Mrs. Henry P. Chandler, executive secretary of the Illinois Conference on Social Welfare, spoke last Tuesday at the regional meeting of the Conference. Her lecture was entitled "Social Legislation."

She stated that there are three steps in any legislation: First, know the need; second, organize the need so that they are made effectively known; and last, secure a formulated plan.

At the close of her lecture, Mrs. Chandler gave what she considered the most needed social reform laws. She included a graduated income tax, illness and disability benefit laws; and, most important, aid for dependent children. She stated that, although Illinois was the first state in the United States to pass a law for aid to widowed mothers and dependent children, the state is losing seven million dollars a year; under the present social security law if a state provides a certain sum of money for dependent children, the federal government will match the sum. Illinois is one of the eight states that have not provided the money.

THEM DAYS IS GONE FOREVER

Back in the good old days when men were men and women were something else, college life was different, they tell us. Of course, they had fun—but it was the kind of fun they weren't ashamed to tell their children and grandchildren about. It was fun for to-be-men.

Great are the years upon when three or four members of the class of '99 or the class of '19 get together. Maybe they'll tell you about living a cow in the prey's office, or licking the Swish Bobcups both before and after the football game. Maybe they'll tell you about kicking Prof. Potash in the chemistry lab because he flunked a girl here, and refused to reconsider. They might tell you also about riding a particularly bad lot of strolling dramatists out of town on hickory poles.

But you never hear an old grad sit back and beam with pride as he tells about throwing a dart and hitting Sally Jones right on top her. He'd head one day when he grew impatient while waiting for a chapel program to begin.

We boys of the rural areas feel that the blame for the campus disturbance of October 31 was unjust when it was given to us alone and that it would have been more just if it had been applied to the group as a whole. The city boys are just as much to blame.

A majority of the people seem to feel that country boys are the more disorderly of the two groups, but we are of the opinion that the accusation is unjust. It is an evident fact that there were just as many or more students from the cities and towns participating in the disturbances as there were students from the country. Let's give the devil his due.

Recently freshmen have received an unusual amount of razing. Now we are used to being razed—we've come in for a lot of that. But we do think we deserve a reasonable amount of ordinary respect. Not many people care to be intentionally insulted.

We who also come from the country feel that we should receive, if not more respect, then a little less disrespect. I know I am expressing the opinion of a great many students when I say this.

We can take it, but we certainly don't like it!

A Very Indignant Freshman.

Christmas vacation this year is scheduled to start the 22nd of December. Approximately 50 percent of the Southern student body do some type of work to help defray their college expenses. It is an undesirable fact that employes of part-time labor, especially store-keepers and managers of department stores, considerably increase their number of clerks the week preceding Christmas in order to handle the inevitable last-minute rush. Following Christmas and New Year's there are very few part-time jobs available which an industrious college student might fill.

A large number of Southern students look forward to the Christmas vacation with a view to earning ten or twelve dollars. However, if school is in progress during the time when college student help is most needed by employers, they will lose the opportunity. The matter should be given serious consideration before so many students are deprived of the possibility of earning much-needed expense money.

To the majority of students it probably doesn't matter when the vacation begins, but to several it is an important matter. At any rate, in a democratic school students should, it would seem, be given a voice in such matters.

—A Working Student.

DR. C. H. CRAMER—

Some time ago a psychologist appeared before a high school class. He was also an efficiency expert and wanted to test the intelligence of the group. He said, "Dear children, I am going to make a few statements and ask you a few questions, and from your answers I can tell how intelligent you are." There was a moment of embarrassed silence and then he began, "The United States is bounded on the east by the Atlantic Ocean, on the south by the Gulf of Mexico and the Republic of Mexico, on the west by the Pacific ocean, and on the north by the Dominion of Canada; the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776; how old am I?" There was a moment of consternation and then he raised his hand: "You're 44." He said, "It was the psychologist's turn to be flustered." He said, "You have guessed my age exactly. Will you tell me what kind of reasoning you used to arrive at your answer?" Said the boy: "Well, I have an older brother at home and my grand-mother says her hairpins, and his...

DR. J. VAN RIPER—

Three men, a civil engineer, a physician and a lawyer were discussing their respective professions. Talk led around as to which of their professions was the oldest. The doctor claimed that his must have been the first, since the creation of Eve from Adam's rib indicated medical knowledge. The engineer thereupon remarked that the good Lord established the engineering profession when he created the structure of the world from chaos. "But," gleefully remarked the lawyer, rubbing his hands, "how gentlemen, was chaos produced?"

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Due to the extra daily class period it has been necessary to formulate a new final examination schedule. The following schedule has been adopted by the Council of Administration:

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 29		THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30
1st hour classes	7:30-10:30	3rd hour classes	7:30-10:30
2nd hour classes	10:30-1:30	4th hour classes	10:30-1:30
5th hour classes	1:30-4:30	7th hour classes	1:30-4:30
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 1		8th hour classes
		7:30-10:30
		9th hour classes
		10:30-1:30
		1:30-4:30

Regular classes are expected to hold examinations for only two of the three hours. In other words, a four-hour course the first period should be through at 9:30. In the case of dove-tailed courses coming the same hour, three-hour courses will get the first two hours and two-hour courses the last hour. A student taking a three-hour course the first will thus write his examination from 7:30 to 9:30 and one having a two-hour course the first hour will write from 9:30 to 10:30.

We hereby nominate Eugene Ales to succeed Julius Hubler as Joe College, upon his merits as a loud dresser. It may be acknowledged, however, that Julius wasn't a party wack.

A plaque to these disgustingly neurotic Joe Colleges who stand in the doorway to the dance floor at Carter's trying to see what girls are inside. They are too self-conscious to step out on the floor and take a good look at a real human world. It might well be noted here also that members of this same group have to have the animals of a loud, highly-rhythmic swing tune to give them courage to approach a girl and ask her for a dance.

First lassie is the heart throbs of the Student Health Service office, but he only cares for Edith Edkinton and lets the rest of the girls in the office pine away. Give them a break, Fred.
