Dr. Parry Added To Education Staff; From Syracuse U.

Dr. Douglas Parry, clinical psychologist at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., has been added to the Department of Education and the Bureau of Child Guidance at Southern Illinois Normal University. Dr. Parry will assume his duties on the S.I.N.U. faculty at the beginning of the winter quarter.

Dr. Parry attended the University of Utah in Salt Lake City from 1932 to 1938, where he received his B. A. and M. degrees. In 1942 he was granted the Ph.D. degree at Syracuse University. His experience includes two years of university teaching and two years of vocational testing. In addition, he has made numerous contributions to leading educational journals.

Dr. Parry worked with the Bureau of Child Guidance at the time made of children brought in to the Child Guidance clinics. However, his work in that field will not be continued at studies made at the time of the regular quarterly clinics. He will work with the bureau in making recommendations for cases brought before the bureau during the entire year. Dr. Parry will also participate in the instruction of students enrolled in the "Procedures in Child Guidance" (Education 428), which is being offered during the winter term.

To assist in college testing in addition to his assistance in the Bureau of Child Guidance, Dr. Parry will be associated with the college testing programs. The details of this responsibility will be announced later, but his work in that capacity will include individual guidance of freshman and sophomore students on the basis of the results of the tests given to those groups.

Over 100 delegates from many parts of the United States, including Georgia, Minnesota, Kansas, New Jersey, New York, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Illinois, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Tennessee, Iowa, Alabama, and Washington, D. C., attended the Youth Section of the American Country Life Association last week. Thirty-two different groups, collegiate, and non-collegiate, home economics, Alpha Zeta, agriculture fraternity, agriculture clubs, 4-H clubs, and county rural youth groups were among the organizations represented at the conference.

Officers selected for the coming year were: President, Marjorie Lou, Ohio State University; vice president

Required P. E. For Sophomore Men

Beginning the winter term all freshmen and sophomore men will be required to take Physical Education, according to a decision of the Men's P. E. department. All freshmen are required to take P. E. 262 or any one of the following courses: P. E. 171, 174, 205, 202, 204, and 301, in lieu thereof.

All sophomores are required to take P. E. 262 in any hour in which it is offered.

NUTRITION WEEK TO BE OBSERVED ON CAMPUS; CHAPEL PROGRAM ALSO

"Nutrition Week", an all-campus project sponsored by a number of agencies, will be held at S.I.N.U. next week. The program will get under way at college assembly exercises next Tuesday morning, at which time a technicolor movie, "Fun in Foods", will be shown, and an outline of the year's nutrition plans in connection with the cafeteria will be given by Miss Coleta Knewitz of the household arts department.

Before and after assembly note-book sized colored charts showing the day's food needs will be passed out to the student body. Model meals will be on exhibit in the foyer of the auditorium.

Propaganda to be posted about the campus presenting in graphic form the nutritional values of representative meals chosen by college people; literature for casual reading; and for distribution will be available on a table in Wheeler Library. During the week the services of home economics students will be available for students living in cooperative houses or wishing light housekeeping who wish help on menu-planning. In the lower hall of the Main building will be placed a mirror between two figures demonstrating the points of faulty and sufficient nutrition, respectively.

Agencies cooperating with the nutrition program are: the household arts department and the Southern Homecomers, student home economics club who have chosen as their year's theme "Nutrition"; the health service who at present are carrying on a cold prevention treatment and a program to build up the student's hemoglobin content; the art department; the Illinois Department of Public Health who are furnishing materials; and the administration of the college.

Nutrition Week comes as the beginning of a nutrition-for-defense program which will be continued by the home economics department and the cafeteria management throughout the year.

Fall Band Concert Next Thursday Night, Well Varied Program Scheduled

Next Thursday evening, November 13, the S.I.N.U. Concert Band will present to the public its fall concert. The program will be of interest to everybody as it will consist of classical music from "Bach to Saviinsky" and for the modern maddled there will be "Andalucia", which has been popularized as "The Brezina and I", "The Ragtime", and "Stormy Weather". The program will be as follows:

Amparito Roca—Spanish March...
 "Jaimie Texidor"
 El Guarany Overture...Garcos Gomez
 Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring...Bach
 Andalusia...Lecocun
 Berceuse and Finate from "The Firebird"...Igor Stravinsky
 (Arranged by Richard F. Goldman)

INTERMISSION.

First Suite in E Flat...G. Holst
 1. Chaconne.
 2. Intermezzo.
 "Pop Goes the Weasel"—Variations on the Theme...Lucien Collier
 Begin the Beguine...Cole Porter
 Headlines—A Modern Rhapsody...Carlton Colley
 March Medley of Service Songs.

"Pop Goes the Weasel" is a novelty number which will be amusing from start to finish and "Amparito Roca", a Spanish March will be enjoyed by those who like fast catchy service songs which are so popular now and for the finale of the concert, a March Medley of Service Songs will be played.

Of course, everybody enjoys the service songs which are so popular now and for the finale of the concert, a March Medley of Service Songs will be played.

The admission will be 15c to everybody, and students will not be admitted on activity tickets as was mistakenly stated in last week's article.

This concert will furnish an evening of good music for everybody. The S.I.N.U. band is now at its fullest and best, for next quarter some of the men in the band will be inducted into the armed forces.

1942 OBELISK WINS FIRST AT COLUMBIA PRESS ASSOC. CONTEST

The 1942 Obelisk received a first place rating this week in the Eighth Annual Yearbook Critique and Contest sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, scoring 854 points out of a possible one thousand. This rating came as a surprise, since the 1942 book had previously received a third place rating from the National Scholastic Press Association, ranking forty-first out of forty-two books entered in the contest.

Both associations said that the art work in the 1942 Obelisk was of exceptional quality and both praised the book highly for its fine printing and engraving job it represented.

The Sports Section and the Organizations Section of last year's book scored low in both contests because of their poor layouts and unimaginative handling.

The Columbia Association awarded the book a gold medal for winning a first place rating.

Campaign For U. S. I. Is Progressing Rapidly At Present

The campaign for the University of Southern Illinois is now progressing very rapidly. Only recently this campaign has been endorsed by several state-wide organizations—the Illinois State Federation of Women's Clubs, the Illinois State Federation of Labor, the Progressive Mine Workers of America, and the American Legion. The idea has also been presented to the Illinois Baptist Association by the Reverend Mr. Johnson, at the convention in Decatur, Illinois.

Schneider Active
 Mr. W. B. Schneider, chairman of the campaign, has given addresses to the leading civic and social clubs of this area. Among those places and organizations are the following: Carbonate History Club; Carbonate Business Men's Association; Carbonate Chapter, American Association of University Professors; Murphyboro Rotary Club; Southern Illinois by radio Nov. 4; Delegate Assembly of Illinois Education Association; Belleville meeting of Alumni; State Board Meeting of Illinois State Federation of Women's Clubs; Illinois State Federation of Labor Convention at Peoria; and the Pro-Homestead meeting of Alumni and county representatives. Mr. Warren and Mr. McDonald have assisted by speaking in Anna-Vonshoro and Murphyshoro, respectively.

Other Arrangements
 A student committee for U.S.I. has been set up and met yesterday. The members have been asked to perform an assortment of tasks. Mr. Warren headed a committee which drew up a prospectus of the potential curriculum for U. S. I. Mr. Tenney heads a publicity staff for the campaign; and a Policy Committee, to direct the whole campaign, has been the work of the chairman of all committees, Mr. McDonald and Mr. McDaniel head the newly organized Office of Facts and Figures, which is turning out statistical support for the "Case for U. S. I."

U. S. I. Day
 "U. S. I. Day" on the campus has been arranged, when the "Case for U. S. I." will be discussed by all teachers and students in classes. Miss Kellogg, Mr. Regalade, and Mr. Schreyer will be the committee to arrange this day. A visit from Southern Illinois State legislators, with a campus tour, a special assembly, and a luncheon, is being arranged. Any student suggestions are welcome.

Mr. J. Cary Gavin heads a committee to take care of student contact during the Christmas holidays.

2000 Expected to Attend Campus Meeting of Illinois Defense Council Nov. 14

Two thousand are expected to attend the convention of the southern sixty-three counties in the Illinois Defense Council on this campus, Sunday, November 14, in Shroyck Auditorium. Many outstanding leaders in the field of civilian defense will be present to address the body. Among these will be Major General Parker and his associate Kellogg. In addition to these two Captains Waugh will make one of the principal addresses. The well known Glenn H. Sunderlin is head of this zone.

The local unit of the Civilian Defense movement will present an exhibition illustrating the operation of a central defense unit in times of an emergency. The meeting is to furnish various delegates with information about civilian defense which may not otherwise be at their disposal.

Reba Hartley Now Member Col. Bureau of Child Guidance

Miss Reba Hartley, who returned to the campus in September as a member of the college faculty in the Department of Physiology and Health has just accepted an invitation to become a member of the Bureau of Child Guidance.

Had Nurses' Training at Washburn U.
 Miss Hartley is a graduate in Nurses' Training from Washington University, 1922, and in addition to her B. Degree she also has a B. S. Degree from Washington University, received in 1941. She has also done considerable study at Southern Illinois Normal University, particularly in the departments of Physiology and Health, and Education and Psychology. This past June she received her degree, Master of Public Health, from the University of Minnesota.

HOW WE MUST WIN THE WAR AND PEACE IS TOLD BY DR. EDDY

Dr. Sherwood Eddy, noted lecturer, author, and world traveler, was brought to the campus Thursday, November 12, under the auspices of the entertainment committee and the college Y.M.C.A.

After a special breakfast Thursday morning at the Hub Cafe for President Pullman and leaders of the various religious organizations of the campus, Dr. Eddy addressed the student body in a special assembly. He was introduced by Floyd Cargill, president of the Y.M.C.A.

He began by saying that the war is very close to him, as his traveling has taken him through many countries and he has come into contact with famous leaders of the warring countries such as Gandhi, Hitler, and Stalin.

"As soon as Hitler broke his last pledge promise and attacked Russia," he said, "if Russia has the will to fight on, it will be the beginning of Hitler's defeat. Just as Napoleon was defeated by the scorched earth policy over a century ago—if we allies furnish him with munitions as we have promised. We must realize what it is all about that we are fighting for. We are fighting to build a new world worth living in and worth dying for," he stated.

"How can we win this war? I think America must pay the price of sacrifice and unite to fight Hitler. We cannot cheaply win this war by merely boasting of our industrial supremacy.

"How can we win this peace? It will be as hard to win as this war," he asserted.

He said that Hitler has four cornerstones for peace and they are: (1) super man-Hitler, (2) super race-Aryan, (3) super state-Germany, and (4) super morality in religion.

"My Master has three cornerstones for peace and they are: (1) righteousness, (2) justice, and (3) brotherhood of man." Dr. Eddy said, "if we are willing to build on those points, then we can have a lasting peace."

To have justice, he advocated, we must do away with slums, unequal taxation, and high taxes. He said that such poverty as is here among the slums of America, is actually much worse than in Russia or Germany. To have brotherhood, we must do away with race prejudice and accept all races with equal fraternity as our policy; as Communistic Russia has or as the Mohammedan countries have.

For the past three years Hamilton has been librarian of the Carbonade public library. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Hamilton of Carbonade.

Five SINU Students To Take Honor Courses

Five students from Southern Illinois Normal University, Bill Reynolds, a senior from Vienna, Caroline Colp, a junior from Carterville, Wade Robertson, a junior from Mt. Vernon, Nancy Lee Freeman, a junior from Benton, and Glenn Yarbrough, a junior from Harrisburg, were approved by the Governing Board Committee for honor work in the fields of government and English. High Scholarship in the student's respective field is the chief prerequisite for such work.

These five students will be the first to take the supervised work offered for honor work in Southern Illinois Normal University.

Hamilton to Write Reviews For Chicago Tribune

Delbert W. Hamilton, junior student at S.I.N.U., whose "Books in Review" column is a steady feature of the Egyptian editorial page, has received an appointment to write reviews for the new book section of the Chicago Sunday Tribune. This makes the second major mid-western newspaper to carry Hamilton's reviews as he has contributed to the book column of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for some time.

Hamilton, who is feature editor of the Hoytians, is a member and historian of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity. His major subject is History and his minor in English and Economics.

Students Named Are Those Outstanding On Southern Campus

Twenty students from S.I.N.U. last week were nominated by an impartial committee to be included in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. These students are: Mary Lou Hampton, Elizabeth Fairbairn, Bill Reynolds, Bill Holder, Milford Blackwell, James Clinton, Graham Crichton, John Perenchio, Jim Wilson, Hubert Dunn, Waldo McDonald, Victor Hicken, Pat Lill, Dorothy Downey, Rosemary Oshel, Robert Clendenin, Louie Macchi, Kenneth Oliver, Leroy Duckworth, and Delmar Lovell.

These students who have been chosen to be included in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges have been outstanding in campus activities.

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges was first published in 1935 for two purposes: first, to serve as an outstanding honor in which a deserving student would be given recognition; second, to establish a reference volume of authoritative information on college students—Membership in Who's Who Among College Students is the climax of a student's career, topping all other honors that he has obtained.

Selection of Candidates
 Selection of the students is made by an impartial and conscientious committee. Qualities for membership are character, scholarship, leadership in extra curricular activities and potentially for future success in business and society. Seniors and students in advanced work are eligible.

Who's Who Among College Students maintains a record of all students who were included for the student who was in Who's Who of business concerns. Thus, any Among College Students is kept before the manufacturers as the most promising candidate for employment.

Mary Lou Hampton, senior from Greenville, is the publicity director of the college, editor of the Southern Illinois and a member of Mu Tau Pi, honorary journalism fraternity. Last spring she was chosen as a member of Sphinx, also, Miss Hampton is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Elizabeth Fairbairn, senior from Harrisburg, is majoring in Economics and History. She is editor of the Egyptian, associate editor of the Obelisk, a member of Mu Tau Pi, honorary journalism fraternity, and a member of Sphinx.

Bill Reynolds, senior from Vienna, is majoring in Government. He is editor of the Obelisk, a member of the Egyptian staff, Kappa Delta Pi, and of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity.

Bill Holder, senior from Carbonade, is majoring in music. He is a member of the band, Delta Psi, and the Radio Drama Guild. He was president of the Inter Fraternity Council last year, and was chosen as most valuable Fraternity Man in 1942.

Milford Blackwell, senior from Chicago, is a Chemistry and Zoology major. He is a member of the gym team, the Little League, Zoology Society, Chemistry Semulud, Roland Hayes club, and the Dunbar Society.

James Clinton, senior from Iba, is majoring in Agriculture. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Mu, and a representative on the Inter Fraternity Council. He belongs to Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity. This year he is president of the Student Council.

Naval Air Corps school in Corpus Christi, Tex., and will now be located at the Naval Air base in Miami, Florida. Mrs. Slighton is a music instructor at the Lincoln and Franklin grade schools in West Frankfort.

NOTICE!

Nominations for a male junior member of the Student Council will be held today. Agency tickets must be presented by voters.

The final election of a junior man to fill the vacancy caused by the departure of David Kenney will be run off Friday, November 21.

THIS WORLD OF MUSIC

By BETHOVEN
Rich Wolfgang Korngold is one composer who never had to struggle for a living. He became famous at the age of 13 when his ballet, "The Snow Man," was produced at the Vienna Opera. By the time he was 24 his opera, "The Dead City," had been performed in many cities in Europe and introduced Maria Jerizta to this country at the Metropolitan. And since 1928 he has been one of the highest paid composers writing for the films in Hollywood.

The composer is now in New York preparing the New Opera company's production of Strauss' "Die Fledermaus," which he will conduct at the Broadway theatre. He is not particularly interested in conducting as a regular job, but he accepted the assignment, he candidly admits, because he hopes that next season the company in return will produce "Katherine," his fifth opera. But in all the others, though he has conducted the orchestras, the music and the action have been recorded independently.

"My main ambition," he said, "is to write music to fit the picture that will still be music without the picture." Together Mr. Korngold has scored fourteen films in eight years. Among them are "Gipsy Us This Night," "Captain Blood," "Green Pajamas," "Anthony Adverse," "Another Dawn," "The Prince and the Pauper," "Adventures of Robin Hood," "Jehovah," "Elizabeth and Essex," "The Sea Hawk," "The Spa World and King's Row." The scores for "Anthony Adverse" and "Robin Hood" received the awards of the Motion Pictures Academy of Arts and Sciences as the best original film scores of their respective years. Before coming to this country Mr. Korngold conducted a number of his own operas. He estimates that he probably conducted a hundred performances of the Strauss work, including the Reinhard productions of the work in Berlin, Paris, and Milan. Working with Mr. Reinhardt, he also conducted "La Belle Helene" for C. R. Coehron in London ten years ago. His own operas include "The Dead City" and "Katherine." He is "The Ring of the Polykrates" and "Vladimir," two one-acters he composed when he was 19, and "The Miracle of Heliane," composed in 1927. He has seen performances of all but "Katherine."

His Last Opera
This last opera, a folk opera about a Swiss girl and a French soldier, was composed before he first came to this country. Returning to Austria in the summers of 1926, 1928, and 1927, he completed its orchestration. The world premiere was set for the end of March, 1928, at the Vienna Opera. Eight weeks before the performance, Warner Brothers called to ask if he could come immediately to Hollywood. He decided to postpone the premiere and left for America.

"Six weeks later, no more Austria," he said. "This was a miracle." His opera, "Katherine," which was arranged for Stockholm for October, 1928. The composer bought his tickets for Sweden, but the war had broken out and he decided to remain in this country.

He plans to remain here permanently, for he took out his first passport for his wife and two sons in 1927 and is now waiting for his final papers. "I'm grateful that I haven't seen the swastika in Vienna," he said. "I have no bad memory. I can still dream of Vienna as it was. I am not a refugee and I am happy I had a new country before I lost my own."

COED Volunteer Corps Gives Radio Report of Work

Last Wednesday at 2 o'clock from WEBC there was a war bond and stamp program sponsored by the bond committee of S.I.N.U. Caroline O'Neal, in charge of the work of the Coed Volunteer Corps, composed of Anthony Hall, House of 806, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Keppa Phi, Pi Kappa, Girls' Rally, and Delta Sigma Epsilon. These girls have been active in the sale of war stamp cartridges and buttonholes during Homecoming and Homecoming Homecoming concert. These cartridges and buttonholes were made by the Girls' Rally committee. During Homecoming $72.50 was taken in from the sale of these stamp decorations.

Altom Reports on Varsity Sales
Betty Altom reported on the sale of stamps and bonds at the local Varsity theatre. According to Miss Altom, the sales were higher in September than in October, averaging $250 to $300 per month. Three reasons Miss Altom gave for the sale of bonds and stamps were: (1) to help finance the war program; (2) to prevent inflation; (3) to regain former purchasing power. On November 22-28 Women in the War Week, in which all women will take an active part in the sale of bonds and stamps. During this week the Coed Corps will be at work, side by side with the women aiding them in this cause.

Navy Relief Society Gets Over 50% of Quota

The Navy Relief show and dance held November 3 on the SINU campus, raised $341.00 of the $500 quota for the Carbondale branch. The committee in charge plans to raise the balance of the quota within the next three months. This effort again depends on the public's cooperation, as well as did the first attempt to raise Carbondale's quota for the Navy Relief Society.

The committee responsible for the partial success of the show and dance included: Rear Admiral John Downes, Charles D. Weiman, chairman, IHS, ed. Citizens' Committee, James F. Lardner, Jr., vice-chairman, C. E. Houghton, Carbondale chairman, and J. E. Eberhart, Carbondale treasurer.

More and more uniforms are visible on the campus these days—within the last two weeks a couple sergeants, an ensign, a lieutenant, and numerous privates have been in Carbondale. As Lt. W. Lloyd Rains, who entered the armed forces early in July, visited S. I. N. U. by virtue of his IQ and training, Lloyd was sent to a special school for control operators in Elushing, New York, last summer. He is now one of the Second Airway Communications Squadron, members of which are scattered among various air bases throughout the U. S. A. Lloyd's optional base was Scott Field, where he now operates.

Part. Rhins will be remembered as an employee in the registrar's office, a student of geography and mathematics, member of Kappa Phi Kappa and Gamma Theta Upsilon, and editor of the campus directory. Galled from the files of the Faculty Gift Club this week are letters from James Hollingsed, Herdis Move, and Cecil Garner. Hollingsed writes: "I was very happy to receive the gift box and wish to express my sincere appreciation for such a kind remembrance. The box was forwarded from Camp Robinson to the Officer Candidate School here, where I am now working for a commission which I hope to receive in the latter part of January." His address is C. "B", O.C.S. No. 2, Army Administration School, Grinnell, Iowa.

Herdis Move now a corporal, writes from 395th Base Headquarters, Air Base Squadron, Biggs Field, Texas: "In eleven days, I am in 12 different states. . . I saw more points of interest than I have ever seen before. Biggs Field is located about six miles out of El Paso. Eventually, this will be an enormous air base. However, members of the Air Force are not the only ones around here. The cavalry, anti-aircraft, air-sea, and reception center are all here together. So, you can guess how easy it is to get a date in town. At present, I am in charge of the Logistics Department. It puts quite a bit of responsibility on my shoulders but the honor is worth it. . . Eventually we hope to have one of the best departments in the country. . . Most of our time is spent training the bomb groups who fly B-17's (Flying Fortress) and B-24's (Consolidator). . . I think I may visit the campus in about two weeks. I hope to have a fifteen day furlough."

Three More SNU Men Leave For Armed Forces

To the growing list of men who have left Southern Illinois Normal University for the armed forces of the United States may be added the names of Eugene Reiman, Dee Scheerer, and Kenneth Miller. At the time of his departure, Mr. Reiman, who hails from Murphysboro, was a Junior, majoring in physics and minoring in mathematics and geography. His extra-curricular activities were headed by his membership in the Radio Club, Camp Grant, Illinois. Dee Scheerer, a junior from Marion, left Wednesday, Nov. 11, for Camp Grant also. Mr. Scheerer had, for the past two years, been an active member of the track team as a discus man. He was majoring in Commerce and minoring in Economics.

Kenneth Miller, a sophomore from Effingham, left Friday, October 30, for Fort Sheridan, Chicago, Ill. Among his extra-curricular activities may be listed Southern Knights, Alpha Gamma Mu, and the Agriculture Club. Mr. Miller was majoring in agriculture.

Former Student Hurt in South Pacific Combat

Capt. Edward Sherzer, former student of Southern Illinois Normal University (1932) who has been stationed in the Southwest Pacific, last week informed his mother, Mrs. George B. Sherzer, of Shawnee, Mo., that he has just been released from a hospital after recovering from a head wound suffered in action. Capt. Sherzer, 29 years old, has been in this area of combat since last June. A graduate of the Shawsnee State High School, Capt. Sherzer attended S.I.N.U. for two years. Then, he received an appointment to West Point Military Academy. At the military academy he was a classmate of the late Capt. Colin Kelly, hero of the Dumbarton Bridge, and engaged with him in 1927. The began flight training for the Air Corps together, also, and were roommates at Randolph Field, Tex., but later Capt. Sherzer was transferred to the Cavalry. Two of Capt. Sherzer's five brothers also are in military service. John Sherzer is an Army aviation cadet and Robert is a midshipman to the United States Navy Academy.

Bowden, Landis Attend Welfare Assoc. Meeting

Dr. R. D. Bowden, head of the Sociology department at S. I. N. U., and Dr. J. T. Landis, associate professor in the department, are in Florida this week attending a three-day meeting of the forty-seventh annual conference of the Illinois Welfare Association. The conference ends today. Dr. Landis is scheduled to speak over the conference today on "How Can the Aged Be Happy?" Dr. Bowden is general chairman of the conference committees of the association. Other S. I. N. U. representatives at the I. W. A. meeting are Miss Evelyn Parcell, a junior majoring in Sociology, and Miss Gray Garrison, graduate of S. I. N. U. who is now an assistant co-instructor of Civilian Pilot Training on the campus.
