Greek Housing Discussion Today

DR. J. CHARLES Kelly, SIU museum director, holds a valuable artifact found during excavations this summer near Durango, Mexico. The vase, dated about 1,200 AD was probably imported inland from the coast of Mexico.

The vase is among the 2,500 pounds of archaeological artifacts that arrived at SIU over the weekend after a long legal battle to get them into the country.

Assembly Speaker To Make Predictions

Flight Cooke, correspondent, public affairs analyst and chairman of discussion programs for the CBS Radio Network, will make and explain some predictions for 1958 as Freshman Assembly speaker Monday, according to Dr. C. Hinton Talley of the Speech Department.

Some of the predictions:
I hope will not be unified by anything less than direct Russian aggression.
The Labor Party will regain control of the British government.
The Communist parties of France and Italy will gain strength.

The Communists will win the election in South Vietnam and lead on and go on to take over the rest of the immense treasure house of southeast Asia. Communist China will gain strength and power every month.

In spite of every effort by the Republican administration, the national economy will start slowly declining. Taxes will be cut again. High government deficits will continue. The net result: The Democrats have far more than an even chance of regaining the White House in 1956.

Coke's previous predictions have included "successful creation of hydrogen bombs" (1950); "Human will not turn, Taft cannot be nominated, Stevenson is the only logical Democratic candidate and Eisenhower will be the next president of the United States" (1951); and "Formosa cannot successfully invade mainland China and a truce in Korea will leave Indochina to the Communists" (1952).

None of his talk here will be 100 percent accurate.

Shahn Art Work On Exhibition In Allyn Now

An exhibition of more than a score of work by Ben Shahn, known as the Carl Sandburg of American painting, has been opened in Allyn Art Gallery and will continue through Nov. 24.

Shahn himself will be on the campus Nov. 19 to lecture at the weekly Freshman assembly on "Social Commentary in Art" and to hold informal sessions with art students.

The artist, whose work recently was featured in Life magazine, combines the techniques of abstractionist painters with the directness of the cartoonist, barrowing heavily from his art forms of other societies and cultures. On display here are 21 watercolor, gouache, drawings, and silkscreens.

Born in Russia, Shahn won his first laurels as a muralist. His paintings are now in permanent collections of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, Whitney Museum of American Art, St. Louis City Art Museum, Walden Atheneum of Hartford and other leading galleries throughout the world.

'Harvest Moon' Theme For Senate Dance

"Shine On Harvest Moon" will be the theme of the Social Senate sponsored dance, Nov. 12 in the Carbondale Armory.

Statement Of Policy

From time to time there comes criticism of the editorials in the Egyptian that they fail to represent the opinion of the entire student body or even the opinion of a group of students. This criticism is totally true. These editorials appearing in these columns are not written in the student body or by groups of students. They are written by members of the Egyptian staff. The person who writes the editorial is expressing no other opinion than his own, unless he indicates otherwise. It is the privilege of a newspaper editor to express his personal opinion on any issue. He does not try to please anyone or attempt to win friends and influence people through the editorial columns. He is merely expressing his viewpoint. The editor of a newspaper is supposed to have a somewhat more enlightened viewpoint than the average reader. This must be taken into consideration when the reader reads the editorial. However, the editor is subject to mistakes in fact and mistakes in judgement. Whenever these mistakes are made, it is the privilege of the reader to write a letter to the editor expressing his view on the topic. It does not necessarily have to be uncompromising or of the nature to make the editorial writer feel particularly happy. All letters to the editor will be printed if they are signed, deal with pertinent topics and in the editor-in-chief's mind, be long in the paper. The Egyptian belongs to the SIU students. Their money finances its production. But the editor-in-chief and faculty adviser are in full charge of the management of this newspaper. The editor delegates some of his responsibility to qualified people, but he is still responsible to the students to see that they get a good newspaper. The aim of the staff is to print all pertinent news, provide interpretive articles on important issues, be of service to the students and entertain with feature stories. If we step on someone's toes in carrying out our functions we are sorry — at least most of the time. J. A.

A Sound Approach

Editor's Note: Every day our mail opening ordeal consists of glancing at and throwing away of highly pertinent and useless letters from various parties and pressure groups trying to influence newspapers. Seldom is any of it worth printing, but this non-partisan excerpt from a very pertinent release offers some good advice:

"We are shocked by the results of a recent poll taken in a large Midwestern industrial city with a high per capita income which shows that only 6 percent of those asked were able to identify their congressman without hints, and only 15 percent recognized his name. More appalling is the fact that merely 13 percent could comment specifically on developments under the Eisenhower Administration. Few of this active, home-owning group were aware of actions which directly and critically afected them. This unfortunate situation is partially due to the people's inertia, yet in a large part is the result of ineffective presentation of the facts. We believe that a reasoned political opinion is a right and duty of every citizen, and that it can be achieved through a study of organized factual information. In the analysis and assessment of political ideas, a sound approach could consist of two main steps: first, a consideration of the basic principles that motivate and guide a particular administration; and second, an examination of the concrete accomplishments of that administration to ascertain how effectively it realizes its aims. We must decide whether we endorse its fundamental goals, and we must judge its actual success in bringing them about."

Lecture Scores

SIU is to be complimented on the quality of its last freshmen assembly. It is not often that college students are able to obtain educational value of this scope either in or out of the classroom. It is odd, but according to the representative of Life and Time corporations, the sponsors of this lecture, the toughest places to gain admission for their program is in colleges and Universities. SIU was the second institution of higher education there have performed better this year. In this writer's opinion the "World We Live In" series in Life was of inestimable value as was the lecture here. That other schools have failed to recognize this value, I think, is a black mark on educational process in general. Southern can take a bow for this excellent presentations to its student body. B. Business Professor Will Be On ISCPA Program
 Miss Mary Noel Barron, assistant professor of business administration at SIU, will appear on the program of the southern chapter of the Illinois Society of Certified Public Accountants in Herbin, tomorrow. Miss Barron will moderate a panel discussion of the new Federal Tax Law.

"I better help that new student stretch his canvas — he seems pretty anxious to get started."

Shortage Of Teachers Critical, Says Bureau

Madison, Wis. — (IP)—The future for U. S. teachers is bright as the educational outlook for U. S. youth is dark, according to the latest report prepared by the University of Wisconsin Teacher Placement Bureau. The teacher shortage, which has forced up salaries to their highest point in history, is a crisis with no apparent solution for some time, director R. A. Walker and his associate, R. A. Sigglew, report. On the bright side of the picture are the beginning salaries now being paid teachers, with prospects of still higher pay to come. The average income of the beginning woman teacher at present is $3,800, with very few drawing less than $3,000. Beginning men average from $100 to $200 higher. Moreover, the authors point out, a recent study of job placement and counseling for women students revealed that today's girl graduate entering the teaching profession averaged $15 per month more than her classmates who took jobs in other fields. For men, the most promising teaching opportunities in the immediate future are in business education, instrumental music, mathematics, physical education, science with a broad background rather than strong emphasis on one particular science) and speech, especially speech with a strong English minor. The most difficult placement areas for men during the past several years have been art, the social studies and the languages. "However, during the past year, very few men remained unemployed in these fields," the directors add. History majors who are trained only for the social sciences and who do not have a strong minor outside their major — such as physical education or English — face limited job opportunities, but can find jobs. Baby Sitters Like Little Dolls Best

By Don Phillips
Egyptian Staff Writer
Little girls are favorites with most of the 100 baby-sitters on the recently released Office of Student Affairs student employment list.

Joanne Marie Beckmann put it: "Girls are just easier to handle." The majority of sitters prefer children from 2 to 8. Boys are "troubling," they generally agree.

Pay for baby-sitting in Carbondale ranges from 50 to 75 cents an hour. The girls average four hours an evening with most of their work scheduled for Friday and Saturdays.

Television is an easy way to entertain most children. To keep children out of mischief several of the baby-sitters have found it necessary to imitate the TV shows — performances ranging from renditions of the ballet to cowboys and Indians.

A lot of children insist on staying up past bed-time to watch television. "The only way to get some youngsters away is to turn off the set," said Paula Davidson.

The old reliable method of "story telling" is still the favorite of the more experienced baby-sitters.

A youngster labeled a "problem child" can have one of a number of undesirable traits. Some children are selfish. Some disobey and keep getting out of bed. Some hide the baby-sitter's books. Some throw toys at the baby-sitter.

All in all, sitting is enjoyable, the sitters agree. "It gives a student experience in dealing with children," one siter explained. "That can be valuable in school teaching or married life."

Consultant On Nurse Work Visits Campus

Miss Margaret Bridgman, New York consultant in the department of baccalaureate and higher degree programs of the National League for Nursing, visited here Monday and Tuesday for a conference with President Morris and to advise on nursing program authorized last by the board of trustees.

Miss Bridgman was dean of Skidmore College 20 years and helped develop its nursing department. From 1949 to 1952 she conducted a project on college nursing education for the Russell Sage Foundation.

"The nurse book 'Collegiate Education for Nursing,'" she said, "There are more nurses than ever before," she says, "but the demand for them surpasses the number that existing educational systems are able to supply."

Henry J. Behn, dean of the College of Vocations and Professions, says that through conferences with Miss Bridgman the University expects to accelerate its work in the nursing education program and obtain a director.

BSU Members Attend Fairfield Convention

Sixty-five Baptist Student Union members traveled to Fairfield last weekend to attend the annual Baptist Student Convention which had as its theme the challenge "Toward 20th Century Discipleship."

Convention choir was the Chapel Singers from the SIU. The Chapel Singers attended the convention in a charter bus stopping on the way Friday afternoon to sing before the annual assemblies of the Illinois Baptist State Association at Mt. Vernon.

Johnny Welch served as state music director at the convention, and Gary Mahon was organist. Betty Morgan, state BSU social vice president, was in charge of fellowship hours. Mrs. Marjorie Dabney, sophomore, was elected state devotional vice-president to replace Sarahy Dennis.

Miss Ernestine Walfer presented a devotional "Discipleship Means Consecration" Friday evening. Betty Mitchell, sent by the state BSU last year as a summa in Alaska, at the Saturday night slides and spoke on "My Summer mission to Alaska, showed session.

Dr. Gabe Payne, Christian lawyer and physician in Hopkinsville, Ky., conducted a seminar on "Young Women and a Doctor Look at Marriage" for young students Saturday and a similar discussion for men students in the afternoon. Dr. J. M. Price, director, School of Religious Education, New Orleans Baptist Seminary, led a seminar on "Young Men Prepare for Discipleship" and "Young Women Prepare for Discipleship."

of course baby-sitting can be trying. For example, Phyllis Maxton recently cared for the children of two families at the same house. All nine were asleep when she arrived.

After the babies had departed, one of the parents had to cry. This had a chain reaction effect. Miss Maxton found herself alone in a house with nine wailing children.

She had persuaded them all back to sleep by 1 a. m. The house was quiet again — but not for long. The silence was broken by the jangling of a telephone bell.

One of the parents had called to ask how things were going.

Miss Maxton clenched her teeth, wiped her brow and whispered, "Fine!"

Placement Service Says

Jobs have been placed for the following SIU graduates, according to the Placement Service:

George Allen Carleton, a history major graduating in 1952, has accepted a position as salesman for Miller's Mutual Insurance Association of Alton. John Paul DeLap, a guidance and counseling major at SIU graduating in August 1952, has accepted a position as claims adjuster for the Universal Accident Corporation in Cairo, C. Wayne

King, a geography major graduating in June 1952, has accepted a position as guidance director in the Edwards County High School in Alton.

Nov. 15 three administrators will be on campus at the Placement Office to interview candidates for teaching positions in Alton and St. Louis.

Gridders Prepare To Meet Miners

Southern Illinois University limping Salukis invade Missouri School of Mines Saturday (Nov. 6) for a non-league battle with the Miners.

Coach Bill O'Brien's Salukis, who won their first game of the season last week 20-6 over Eastern Illinois, will enter the contest with two starters definitely out of the lineup with injuries. Fullback Bob Ems re-injured a leg in the Eastern game and Marion Rushing, end, severely sprained an ankle in Tuesday's scrimmage. O'Brien will move Capt. Jack Schneider to fullback and start Joe Yusko at the left half post. John Celch will open at end in Rushing's place.

The Salukis own a 1-5 mark while the Miners stand at 4-3 for the year. In the first meeting of two schools last season, Coach Gale Bullman's squad rolled over Southern 28-7 to gain a one game edge in the infrequent series.

Southern Quarterback Gene Tabacchi found his passing eye in the Eastern clash, giving O'Brien's offensive strategy a much needed lift, and may compensate for the loss of the two starters.

Tabacchi leads in the passing department with 17 completions in 41 attempts for 154 yards. Schneider leads the ground attack with 244 yards on 62 carries for a 3.94 average per try.

Southern's revised starting lineup will include: Wayne Williams and Gelch at ends; Ed Hayes and Dave Stroup at tackles; Joe Kalla and Cliff Johnson at guards; Kent Werner at center; Tabacchi at quarterback; Yusko and Roy McClanahan at fullbacks; and Schneider at full.

The Salukis finish their road season at Rolla but will have two remaining games in McAndrew Stadium, Nov. 13 against Washington University of St. Louis, and Nov. 20 against Western Illinois.

Marion Rushing, freshman end from Pinckneyville, will be out of the starting lineup Saturday against the Miners from Rolla because of an injured ankle suffered in the Eastern tussle.

Intramurals

Corkball: Tau Kappa Epsilon defeated the Chiefs 2-0 on a home base to win the corkball championship tournament. The Teles were eighth 5 to 2 but pushed across the markers that won the game and tournament.

Ladder Tournaments: Bill Prince of the Independent League won an outstanding performance by winning the championship in two separate tournaments.

Ping-pong: Bill Prince defeated Larry Riggs of the Organized House League for the championship.

Tennis doubles: The Fraternity League team of Holobovskiy and Anderson will play Penkerton and Draper of the Men's Residence Hall League for the crown.

Horsehoes: Bill Prince of the Independent League won the championship.

Badminton: Gib Kurtz of the Fraternity League won the all school championship in badminton.

Basketball: December 6 has been announced as the closing date for entering basketball teams for winter team competition. The date, originally scheduled for Dec. 8, was moved up so that more games could be played before Christmas vacation. The managers meeting will be held on Dec. 7. Basketball entries are being accepted now.

Huskie Hoopers Report, Goldman Only Regular

A youthful basketball squad greeted Bill Healer, new head basketball coach at Northern Illinois State Teachers College, as he held his first cage session Monday afternoon.

Of the seven returning lettermen only one is a senior. He is center Norm Goldman, 6-3 Chicagoan (Sullivan H. S.), who was most valuable player for the Huskies last year. A quarter of junior lettermen are: Carl Olson, 6-0 Chicagoan (South Shore H. S.); Bill Egan, 6-0 guard from Mt. Morris; John Graham, 6-2 Chicagoan (Parker H. S.); and Al Freeman, 6-0 from Calumet City. Sophomores are John Olson, 6-3 Chicagoan (Hyde Park H. S.) who was a regular along with Goldman last year, and Jim Scheiner, 6-1, from Beecher.

Headline list of junior varsity veterans who are up for a shot at the varsity are: Ray DeWane, a 5-11 junior from Belleville, and four sophomores—Charles Fas, 5-7 Chicagoan (Vander Steuben H. S.); Jack Fager, 6-2 1/2, and Paul Froland, 6-2, of Morris; and Perry Glawie, 5-11, of Kirkland.

Some of the top prospects among a group of freshmen are: Karl Dennis, 6-2, and Bob Jackson, 6-1, of Chicago's DuSable High; Lloyd Hodges, 6-3, of Madison, Ill.; Howard Silas, 6-5, of Venice; Bill Grenell, 5-9, of Fox Lake (Grant Twp. H. S.); Bob Klant, 6-2 1/2, of Enville (Paw Paw H. S.); Charles Flick, 5-7, of Melrose Park (Leyden Twp. H. S.); Jerry Maltz, 6-3, of Chicago (Rosevelt H. S.); and Dick Piscotta, 6-2, DeKalb.

O'Brien's boys will really have something to work for. Washington U. will bring a rugged crew to McAndrew Stadium but they should find the going a bit tough.

Salukis Runners Pass MSC For 21-35 Victory

Southern's cross country squad won its second meet of the season Wednesday, Nov. 3, whipping Memphis State College 21-35.

Howard Branch of Southern covered the chilly 3 1/4 mile course in 18:05. Don Hecke and Larry Terneus finished second and third for Coach "Doc" Lingle's crew. The win gave the Salukis a 2-2 record for the season.

The unbeaten Hurons maintained their IAC lead last week by humbling Western Illinois 33-19, and should they push past SIU Normal, only rival Central Michigan remains.

A loss to Central on November 16—on the supposition that Central conquers Northern this Saturday—would send the two Wolverine machines into a title tie. In other games Saturday, Eastern Illinois will be at Western, while Southern Illinois plays Missouri Mines in a non-league encounter at Rolla, Mo.

The Redbirds of Illinois Normal will be concentrating on pass defense in their attempt to halt the Hurons' Bob Middlekauff, the top passer in the conference. They also face two pass-nibbling flankers—Nick Many and Dick Moseley.

Middlekauff demonstrated his prowess against Western last week by connecting on 10 of 19 tries for 158 yards and four touchdowns. In four league contests he has 28 to 47 for 511 yards and eight scores.

Coach Fred Trsko also has a capable ground game in the rushes of Virgil Windom and Doug Wilkins, who are consistent gainers.

The Illinois eleven, battling to remain among the top four teams, will attempt to counter with the passing of Wes Bair and Bob Fiegenbach's running.

Only one team—Western Illinois—has been able to hobble Central's Jim Podoley, but if the Northern Huskies could duplicate the feat Saturday, their chances against Central Michigan would improve.

Virtually eliminated from the title picture by last week's loss to Michigan Normal, the Leathernecks of Western will have to ship invading Eastern Illinois to stay in the runner-up bracket.

There's a possibility that the Panthers, who haven't copped a loop game so far, could be fired up enough to upset Western, especially if the host's morale has dropped because of last week's defeat.

The past encounter was physically rough on Western, and Tom Owens, end, Bob DeVries, fullback, Dale Paulay, guard, and Pete Brongre, reserve center, are doubtful starters.

Eastern is expected to throw a stiff pass defense against Bill Vanquernmet, who was decidedly ineffective last week. The Western quarterback gained only 82 yards on 22 attempts, and four of his bolts were intercepted.

The Southern Salukis broke into the conference victory column at Eastern's expense, and this week they face out-of-conference opposition. While host Missouri Mines has not fared too well this year either, it's expected the miners will prove a tough foe for the Illinois aggregation.

Michigan Teams Top IAC; Hurons Hold Slight Lead

Macomb, Ill., Nov. 4, 1954—Michigan Normal will try to remove one of its offensive barriers to its first Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title Saturday, when it plays at Illinois Normal.

The unbeaten Hurons maintained their IAC lead last week by humbling Western Illinois 33-19, and should they push past SIU Normal, only rival Central Michigan remains.

Hunters Invited To Use 900 Acre Mine Land Area

Hunters are being cordially welcomed on a 900-acre tract of strip mine land south of Pinckneyville where Southern Illinois University is conducting a cooperating research program. It was announced today.

With the opening of the waterfowl season Friday, sportsmen can hunt their favorite quarry in season activity tracts at the door and wear on the strip mine property one mile west of Pratt. The research project underway there seeks to determine how effective the land can be for use of wildlife.

Jim Lyne, assistant professor of zoology at Southern, requested that hunters cooperate with Bob Vets, an SIU student and research assistant from Shelby, Mo. He distributes posters to hunters with questions about hills and ask that the cards be returned to SIU.

Hunting regulations will be the same as those enforced elsewhere. Vets has been studying regulations in the area and making population counts of animal as part of a long-range reclamation project the University is undertaking on the land formerly owned by Trax-Traer Coal Co. and put at the disposal of Southern last spring. Cooperating in the study with Southern's Wildlife Research Laboratory and Trax-Traer are the

Gym Opens On Weekends

The Men's gymnasium will be open from 9 to 12 and from 1 to 4 on Saturdays and from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. on Sundays. All university students are cordially invited to participate in the program. It will be necessary to present your activity ticket at the door and wear your rubber solid shoes when on the gymnasium floors.

The following games may be played: Badminton, basketball, ping pong, shuffleboard, volleyball, and volleyball-tennis.

The gymnasium will be open each weekend from November 6th through the winter term with the exception of the Christmas holidays.

Illinois Coal Stripper's Association and the Wildlife Management Institute.

Vets reported ducks had been spotted on some of the 18 bodies of water in the area which ranges from one-half acre to over 15 acres in size. Most of the 60 acres of water are near roads, he said.

Cottontails have been found in abundance in some areas, he said, and some quail have been reported. The season on rabbits and quail opens Nov. 11.

Time Out

Bill O'Brien and his boys were finally rewarded for their efforts last Saturday not only with a victory but by the fact that some of the breaks finally went their way. Injuries hurt them more than one bright spot was the uncovering of one Roy McClanahan. The young freshman might be what Coach O'Brien needs to round out a balanced backfield. Dark spots in the picture are injuries to Fullback Bob Ems and End Marion Rushing.

With their return to the lineup in the near future and the hope that no one else has to go on the healing list, the Salukis should finish the season giving the best of them trouble. If the gods are smiling maybe this full strength team will be ready for the Nov. 13 tussle with Washington University of St. Louis.

The Nov. 13 game will also bring out in full strength the ROTC. Trying to stimulate backing for the team, Colonel Alexander MacMillan, new PAS, will have the SIU ROTC Wing attend the contest en masse. This touches on the subject of student attendance and backing which has been considerably better this year than in the past. Perhaps the move by Col. MacMillan will inspire students to attend the game. Perhaps the day will come when visitors to SIU will see only filled seats at every game, and Coach
